Winter Enrollment Figures Top 2,000

Offering courses only to juniors and freshmen, Florida Tech managed an "official" fall enrollment of 2,046 students. The figures were released on the 23rd.

The number of FTU students enrolled for the winter quarter is expected to exceed 2,046 by the fall at this time. The fall enrollment was released for the fall at the above date. Records show that the fall enrollment of 2,046 students on fall quarter AP did not make a 2.0 average and were dropped from Florida Tech.

The previous enrollment numbers based on the count of individual students. To gain operating funds from the students, FTU must use a different basis for a student count. The state allows each student to earn a certain amount for each quarter hour hour count. Through the system of Full Time Equivalent of F.T.E. the state counts each student as a whole and divided by 15 to get a "quar" figure. Under this count, the 2,046 fall enrollment equaled 145 full time students. The FTU officials say that the F.T.E.'s count of on-campus FTU students for the winter quarter is 1,322.

By the beginning of the fall quarter on November 3 national election. The student members are: entry blank located in the Student Affairs Committee was held in the Village Center, Room 155.

The first meeting of the Social Affairs Committee was held Tuesday, January 14 at 11:00 a.m. in the Village Center, Room 155.

The committee is made up of student representatives from each of the governing groups and a chairman from the Office of Student Affairs.

The temporary Social Affairs Committee consists of Larry Smith and Chuck Schmidt from Student Entrance Board, from Chi Alpha; Mary Lou Rajchel, from Alpha Delta; Steve Clements, from Kappa, who was unable to attend the meeting; and Terry Tash and Tom Nouft, from the Village Center Student Activities Board, from the Future.

A petition recently passed around the Tech campus was held by the Miami Bradkey's speech class; curious students showed the petition that was represented on the petition that was assembled.

The need in 15-20 foot strip of pavement to extend the sidewalk to the utilities plant to the roadway, it was noted that all the money was used for the roads and parking lots on campus comes from the state of Florida, and therefore difficult to obtain.

And finally, the parking situation was discussed. It was suggested that the students want to use a "zip" parking lot. There is a possibility in the future of a high rise parking garage and basement and first floor level parking in the classroom and office buildings. It was emphasized that the students that take up residence parking lots were represented on the petition that was assembled.

S.A.C.S. to Evaluate FTU

A committee from the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools will visit the FTU campus on March 26-29 to evaluate all facets of the university on the basis of the standards of the College Delegate Assembly.

The committee's report will be considered for the next meeting of the S.A.C.S. committee. The committee is following the plan as was voted on by the student body during the first quarter.

ATOMIC TURNS TAUS

Taus is the new official name for the former ATO organization at Florida Tech. Taus will be used until the group can gain national ATO affiliation after FTU requires accreditation by graduating a senior membership class of officers at the end of the fall quarter.

President of Taus is Jim Fay. Other Taus officers are Randy Shadbourn, vice-president; Tom Nouft, secretary, and Skip Fisby, sweeper.

Taus, then under the ATO name, gained campus recognition by winning the FTU Intramural Bowling Championship last quarter. In addition, Taus staged a Christmas party for the undergraduates children at Oriole Elementary School. Future plans of the club include a deep sea fishing trip and a service project which is understood to be undertaken at the present time.

FTU Women Of The Week

Blanche M. Stewart

The Corner Cupboard News, a weekly Orlando newspaper, recently honored these three members of the staff and faculty at Florida Technological University as "the Women of the Week."

Mildred Kennedy

Mildred "Millie" Kennedy is serving as the private secretary to Dr. Charles W. Hardacre, FTU's new president. She has been principal of an elementary school, where she also taught one-man classes. Mrs. Kennedy is also continuing her education while working and hopes to earn a degree someday at FTU. She graduated from Orlando Junior College. Future courses continue for Mrs. Kennedy at FTU. She is a member of the Orlando Chapter of National Secretaries in which she hopes to take the state secretarial examination. She is also a member of First Presbyterian Church in Maitland.

V.C. Extends Services

There are now three ping pong tables in the patio area. Students can check out paddles by leaving their ID card at the main desk in the Village Center. The balls may be purchased for fifteen cents each. Cheese, checkers, dominoes, cards and many other games are available at the main desk of the Village Center.

Charisma to Play Sadie Hawkins Dance

With the ratio of males to females so distorted, Sadie Hawkins Dance spots should have little trouble attracting candidates. The Sadie Hawkins Dance January 24 at 8:30 PM will be held in the large barn of the Village Center. Music will be provided by the Charismas. Refreshments will be served and prizes will be awarded for the best costume. Marrying Sam will be on hand to perform his duties, and for those girls (or guys) who want to eliminate the competition, the Constable will be available to throw offenders into the Pokey (for a small fee of course).

As an added feature, there will be hay rides periodically leaving and returning to the Village Center. Admission is free for person.

BILL WARDEN, Director of Public Information, recently adopted the Sisterhood of the Congregation of Liberal Judaism. He also spoke to the Winter Park Rotary Club at their luncheon meeting on January 6.

I should imagine that at some point in everyone’s life there comes a time when he stops and asks himself with stupid questions as “Why am I here”, “Who am I”, and “Why do I have enough to eat while there are millions in the world starving?” I refer to them as stupid because they are generally answerless, and therefore logically unfounded. But logical or not, the questions are posed. It just so happens (as if you couldn’t guess) that I am in one of those pensive moods, and I find myself thinking about the Richard Cory and the Eleanor Rigby and the millions who die without ever living. And somewhere from the back of my mind comes a picture of a not too pretty middle-aged woman who is sitting in a window watching the rain fall in the streets, and in her hand she is clutching a small handful of rice which she hopes with, and a small futile tear is running down her cheek. I can also hear an old man talking about her, and I am sure was a sincere effort, was a universal work that will certainly endure.

On Movies

By ROBERT E. HOLINGER

This is a new column and in it I will be giving my critical opinion on movies. Readers having had had no opportunity to be exposed to my taste will have this chance to appraise it wide eyed, for what it is worth. To do this I would like to start off on an optimistic note, having selected what I feel was an exceptional film picture. In essence this allows the reader to review the reviewer. I chose "Cool Hand Luke" because of its relative popularity and also due to the fact that its theme has not been over-worked.

The commercial success of the picture was largely due to the drawing power of Paul Newman. However, the content of the film can not be set aside; it caused quite a stir in the intellectual community.

Existential in nature, the theme was the compressed documentation of an individual's struggle to find his authenticity. Superficially, the detached viewer might have thought the film was a presentation demonstrating the need for prison reform. A closer look showed the viewer it was a story of the human spirit, the random motivation of human action that is apparent in all of us as essentially irrational creatures. The picture was one of the greatest caricatures of human irony that has ever been launched from a single tragic/comic incident. The picture also took stock at several related themes: the conceptual nature of justice, morality, humanity, and anthropomorphic God were all touched upon significantly through Luke's subjective experience. The film, which ends on a melancholy note salvages a great deal by a rare positive statement of existential doctrine. In its finality what is suggested is that... no matter how insignificant one's life might appear, it is impossible to predict the paramount influences it could have upon other individuals.

Here I have dissected the face of the picture at a cost of being tedious. The film managed to carry this burden and still remain entertaining. The integration of these properties lifted the picture from the mundane efforts so often endured by a movie audience. The result, from what I am sure was a sincere effort, was a universal work that will certainly endure.
