Rohrer Conducts Rheology Research

The search for ways to make good athletes into super athletes has gone on for years. The dream of 30 years ago, that knocked off the world's record for the mile run, or a world's record for the 440-yard dash, was to improve the athlete's ability to make the best of his natural ability.

Here at Tech, a new and exciting experiment in athletics is being conducted by Dr. Frank D. Rohrer, researcher, teacher, and student director for FTU's athletics program.

Dr. Rohrer is working with rheology, the study of blood flow. His project is the study of the flow of blood through the circulation of the body when the body is at rest and when it is doing certain types of exercises.

"If we can develop the optimum exercise training program that enable the person to perform to the maximum of his skills, it would be a tremendous asset to an athlete," Dr. Rohrer said.

The government has awarded Dr. Rohrer's federal grant so he can continue his research.

At the present time, Rohrer and his assistant, Byron Daniel, are conducting limited experiments with forearm muscles, using a variety of FTU students and highly sensitive instruments that measure blood flow when the subject squeezes a hand grip.

"From this we may be able to determine exactly what kind of exercises will produce the greatest flow through this portion of the body," the Doctor said.

Jobs Planned For Graduates

For students completing graduation requirements before May 21, 1969, the Office of Student Affairs is handling a student placement and employment program.

Students who will be graduating should contact William Loving and register their names and qualifications along with the date of graduation. Inquiries about potential employment are welcomed.

Along with the placement of graduates in career opportunities, the service will try to place students in both on and off campus work for a regular term or summer employment.

The assistance of the faculty and staff in advising students concerning the placement service will be necessary to make the program a complete one.

A Director of Placement has been requested. Approval may be forthcoming in time to fill the position by July 1.

Questions or information should be addressed to William Loving, Director of Student Financial Aid and Placement.

Any student who feels that he is within one term of graduation check with W. D. Chapman in the Registrar's Office for graduation requirements and classification of his status.

Florida Tech's sororities, Tyes and Fideles, held their first week of pledging for the Spring Quarter, April 14-18.

Tyes members and pledges had dinner at the FTU cafeteria Monday night, April 14. After dinner the pledges had their first meeting where they received ropes tied into knots which they wear as pins around their necks.

The knots are now officially "Knots," which is the name for Tyes pledges. The Knots met their pledge trainers, Melissa Hardman and Connie Graham, who will guide them through pledging.

At a meeting, Tyes members, Marilyn Slade, a Tyes member, was selected to represent Tyes in the Spring Queen contest.

Tyes also started Friendship Week at the Monday night meeting. Each pledge was given a member to get to know better for one week. Members of the sorority recently received gold hollowers with the letters T-Y-E-S running vertically on a gold chain. They also plan to get jerseys with the sorority name on them.

Tyes members and pledges meet every other Monday night. Members are asked to bring dues of $10 to the next meeting, to be held April 21.

Fideles members and pledges had their first joint meeting Thursday, April 10 in room 358 of the LHR. Pledges were told to wear a dress to school Monday, April 14, that they normally wouldn't wear. At the end of the day Monday, the pledges were told to wear that same dress for the rest of the week. Fideles pledges were told to wear a gold spaulder around their neck. The purpose of the spaulders is to indicate which girls are Fideles pledges.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUSS

Is this the image the Student Senate is trying to give to the student of FTU? If so, they have just succeeded very well. If Student Government intends on functioning under a cloak of secrecy for the rest of their extinction period to see little good coming forth. The bill before, giving 66 total control over everything and anything that goes into the Future, the soon to be yearbook, a literary magazine, and WFTU, the club sponsored radio station, was introduced to the Senate last Tuesday afternoon, debated some time, and voted in the law the same day, pending Dean Brown's signature, before the student body even realized that the bill was under discussion. If the readers will recall, this is exactly what the Future Board forced would happen unless some legal action was made to have any bill under discussion not voted on for at least one week. This would give the senators a chance to find out how the body they are representing feels. But instead, this bill was railroaded through the Senate and put on Dean Brown's desk waiting for his signature before the student body even realized that the indistinct Senator from Hinsp Frank Santry had introduced the bill.

The bill itself, as can be seen, lacks the thought and planning that a bill of its importance should have. First of all, the bill gives the President of the student body total control over the committees. I say this because the committee will be composed of the student body president and two members of the senate, which we assume will be appointed by the president of the student body. This means that the president will have the power to control three votes on any issue which comes before the board, while the only other two votes will be coming from the Editor of the Future and the Future's adviser, which gives the student body president total control over anything that goes in the Future with a vote of 3 to 2. (It is true that with the bill set up the way it is, as more publications are set up there will be more students on the board representing one vote from each medium. But still the Senate, or should I say the President, will have the block vote of at least three votes against what other publications can or cannot do.) Also the thought is that as the University grows, so will the desire of the President to appoint new members to the growing publications board.

The Future recognizes the need for a publication board. In fact, the Editor of the Future, and Mr. boltie, President Pelican, have been working to obtain a fair publications board made up of students and faculty. Such a board will very quickly become a necessity at FTU and steps are being taken through proper channels to form one, and had Mr. Santry taken the time to ask any member of the Future Editorial Board, he would have found this out and perhaps even benefited from our past knowledge of the President's feelings and the stand the Board has taken.

If we of the Future staff realize the importance of the formation of a publications board but would not like to see the total power in the hands of the President of the Student Body, According to the Board of Regents this can not be so. A board of any type to regulate publications appointed by the President of the Student Body will be non-functional, and according to the Board of Regents, will have no more control over the Future than the Food Committee does.

So we can assure you, fellow students, when a publications board is appointed by President Millican we will strive to help the President decide on a fair, just, and unbiased board, in the interest of freedom of the press he is paying for a job he intends on functioning under a cloak of secrecy for the rest of their 35 year old female VC cadre.

Student Answer Letter to Prophet Column

The following is in answer to our weekly Prophet, "The Voice" student newspaper, dead with big game hunting in Vietnam.

Fact, not fiction. A VC platoon entered a small Montagnard hamlet and assembled the people in the middle of the center of the village. Then follow this typical sequence: any and all those who supported Government of Vietnam, according to the Board of Regents, will have no nights because of the next "next" line, "They proceed to exact and mutilate these atrocities on their victims." From their front, of his 25 year old wife, eldest year old daughter and the rest, the captives hungry and defenseless. In the next attack, the VC platoon was led by 35 year old female VC. ThisOften is the torture and an illustration that the VC were to be submitted to their present objective.

"Generally speaking the only population under VC control is those that have been displaced by the fighting and are isolated away from effective GVN protection. Time and time again whole families have fled their controlled area when the VC 'grabs' that area. They feel it is as if they have left all of their worldly possessions behind, but they do so ever so much more than the Food Committee does.

"The VC are to be feared to sleep at night because of the nightmares. It is believed in what they were doing, and believed that it had to be done. But enjoy it? God help him now to be paying for a job he had to do well.

Classroom Building A Dream?

The way it looks now, there is a good chance that some students at FTU will find themselves attending classes from 8 in the morning until 10 at night during the fall quarter.

The reason? The new classroom building will be ready for the winter quarter which begins in January.

But that won't help for next fall. The enrollment is expected to increase further, so that classes will have to be extended over a longer period of time before the start of the fall quarter.

That will mean classes will have to be extended over a longer period of time, and night classes will not be uncommon. Thus it would be possible for a student to find himself attending classes from early morning until late evening.

Departmental Chairs have been asked to draw up two class schedules for the fall quarter. One would take into account that the classroom building will (or may) have been completed, and classes will be held at times similar to those FTU has now. The chairmen have also been asked to fill out an alternate schedule for the fall, which would take into account that the building is not yet completed.

The date of October 24 that was given before as a completion date was just an estimation. This estimation date change almost daily.

Fall classes will begin Monday, October 6, 1969. But no one knows exactly.
The same civilian advisors whose letter was quoted above write that there will be a blood bath topping Hitler's if the US pulls out of its commitment or a coalition government is formed. There are almost three million Vietnamese who left North Vietnam before Ho Chi Minh closed the border. They had found out what it is like to live under Communism. Many of them had to leave their families behind to join the fight against the spread of Communism.

These millions have sworn never to fight the Communists, no icecu~These sys y~iund, These sys y~iund..." · - y putting .: - y. A student variety show will be held at 6:30 p.m., Brian Sadowsky is in charge of this show.

Unkovic Discusses New Textbook

In recognition of National Library Week, Dr. Charles M. Unkovic will conduct a panel review of his new textbook, Psychology and Sociology, at 7:30 p.m. Monday at the Orlando Public Library. Co-authored with Dr. George Kaluger, Professor of Psychology and Education, Shippensburg State College, Pa., it will be published by the C. W. Mosby Company this month. The book is an integrated approach to human behavior and helps students understand how physiologic, psychological, and sociologic factors combine to make each individual unique. It is as relevant from a frame of reference for her nursing career as a psychiatric nurse specializing in human behavior and helps understand how she is as well as from her perspective as a student at Florida Tech.

Mrs. Bolatto, a native of Minneapolis, Minnesota, graduated from St. Mary's School of Nursing, Rochester, Minnesota. She began her nursing career as a psychiatric nurse in Milwaukee and has been active in psychiatric nursing in Orlando since 1967. She and her husband, Frank, are parents of two children, Anne Marie and Frank.

Has Beens Take Tourney Title

The Has Beens won the Intramural Invitational Tournament last week, winning out over a strong Tau Blue squad 53-48 in the finals held at the Oviedo High School gymnasium.

Since the Has Beens and the Taus had defeated each other previously in the double elimination tournament, it was a case of do-or-die. But the Has Beens, who gave themselves that name because of their older ages, had too much experience and poise for the younger though talented fraternity team.

Both teams used tight zone defenses and the game was close all the way. The Taus gained possession of the ball with one minute left and trailing 49-48.

Gambling on one shot, Tau captain Earl Stoeker' jumper with 20 seconds to go missed its mark and the Has Beens gained possession and put the game on ice with two quick baskets. Russ Salerno's 10 points in the first half and Mike Maynard's 11 point second half were the sparks needed for the victory. Both wound up with 15 points. Hank Taylor and Don Lilly had 14 points each for Tau Blue.

In the Secondary Tournament held on the FTU courts, Chi Alpha II built up a 21-14 halftime lead and held on for a 34-28 victory over PKE in the finals to win the event. Ed Schenick led Chi Alpha with 10 points while Gary Halverson was tops for PKE with 12 markers.

Critic Says ‘No Nut Mail’

By ROBERT E. HOLLSINGER

Three adolescent boys trip through this film in search of — well — let’s just say “get some.” It is almost a motion picture adaptation of Bill Cosby’s short story, The Regular Way. The time setting is that period in most boy’s life when they start talking about girls. Maybe then dreaming; then lying.

The three boys in “FTI” fit the form nicely. They are at the stage where none of us start to exaggerate. Head on head confrontations take the form of “Ya, I did it Liz but you don’t know her; she moved.” In this flick, as in real life, the three are inexperienced ... They pretend that they are old hand’s, because that’s just the way you play the game.

Our trio is composed of all aggressive and slick “Eddie Haskell” type, (the only true characterization to come out of a half hour TV show) a little guy, who scares easy, and the typical kid in the block who is pushed around by selfish parents. In this case, Kenny’s widower father wants the boy out of the way to make room for his fiancé secretary.

The threesome take a day trip across the border to Canada and end up meet with Jacqueline Bisset. They think she is a “Hooker”.

The boys front Anna’s entrance been established to provide ground attend.

... The movie is a complete mess. The time American Library Association.

On April 21 the official Miss FTU Pageant will be held Tuesday night at April 22. The girl chosen Miss FTU will go directly to the Miss Florida Pageant and if she wins there she will go to the Miss America Pageant. This pageant should not be confused with the Spring Queen Contest. All entrants in the Miss FTU Pageant are expected to enter on their own initiative and should attend the meeting Tuesday night at 7:30 in LLRB 341.

No Nut Mail

Kenny enters as Anna arrives. He makes the proverbial phone call from, whom I expect must be the dumbest man in the world. sorrow. Kenny pouts his naive heart out. Both feel sorry for one another. In 10 seconds. the pictures grew into ... The other two boys, having liked driven idle moments with Anna, can’t understand why Kenny is talking so long. Conclusion “I guess they just talked.”

Made with a budget of thirty thousand, footage is supplied with the co-operation of that natural scene wonder, Niagara Falls.

Homologization is the key word, from title to end. The movie is absolutely predictable. The plot by some fancy footwork manages to offer a national explanation for all the circumstances to the point of becoming apocalyptic. Still, Anna’s actions can only be acknowledged with an orchestration of two thousand “why’s.”

Being turned off by the general quality of the film does not allow me to discard the moral directives offered by the heavyweight home movie. I guess they are play unfussily, don’t over dramatize your own situation, and have a good time.

Please, no nut mail form the grades.

What do foreign visitors say about us when they go home? It depends upon the people they meet. One foreign visitor’s warmest American memory might easily be you.
Junior Class Gets President

After a month of existing in limbo, the Junior Class has a president. The Student Senate recently confirmed the nomination of Brenda Voss, of the College of Humanities and Social Sciences as chief executive for the University's approximately 700 juniors.

Voss was active in student government in high school and college and is also involved in the arts. At present he is busy organizing the Junior Class government contingent into an effective legislative unit.

Students Government is also taking up the woods, literally. Through their efforts a path has been cleared to the shore of Lake Clair and work on clearing the lakefront and dredging a beach area is progressing ahead of schedule. Student Body President Walt Kostanski calls the Lake Clair project "an example of Student Government initiative, cooperation, and tangible work for the students of Fla Tech."

Project Chairman Richard Staley (Junior Senator, Humanities and Social Sciences) stated "that plans call for a picturesque area, pavilion and sand beach, all within easy walking access of campus. It is estimated that the area will be ready for students this summer.

The Columbia Broadcast System recently scored a point for decency and Mom's apple pie by cancelling the Smothers Brothers Show. CBS claimed that the Smothers' show continued to exhibit poor taste with controversial, offensive and downright truthful material. If CBS is going to follow a policy of purging shows of this nature from the airwaves, I feel that it is only my duty to advocate the demise of Captain Kangaroo."

At first glance, one might classify this show as an innocuous kiddie hour. A closer inspection will reveal that Captain Kangaroo is dangerously high in mind-warping potential. When you consider that a child of tender preschool age watches the Captain for at least three years, that's a lot of time for them to become brainwashed by the program's controversial views. Some adults even watch the show, so there's a double danger!

Captain Kangaroo himself parodies the Smothers Brothers' personality-wise life is a seemingly gentle man intent on producing an hour of entertainment. But, like the Brothers, Kangaroo is in reality subversive. For one thing, his hair is long! That alone should get him canceled, but it hasn't Representative the affluence of America, his pockets are always loaded with goodies, which he gives out freely. This teaches the children that material objects are easy to come by and thus, their sense of values is distorted, his always cheery demeanor, which may lead children to think that the world is also as carefree, coupled with his uniform instills a belief that a military state would be a "swell" government to have.

Mr. Green Jeans is a racial symbol. The "green" stands for the colors of other races. He might as well be called "Mr. Red, Brown, Yellow or Black Jeans" since the cover name of "Green Jeans" is so transparent. And he's always second to the caucasian Captain. What else can this be but outright bigotry?

The less obtrusive but real villain of the show is none other than Bunny Rabbit. His tricks never turn into violence, but those of Mr. Moose do. The Moose is forever intent on goading Captain Kangaroo into saying a word that will cause ping pong balls, obviously bombs, to be dropped on the unsuspecting Captain.

Yes, good folks, we must unite now to prevent controversial programs of this nature from continuing to subvert our children and society as well. Total censorship is our only salvation.

This is Portable, the Prophet.
