Rohter Conducts Rheology Research

The search for ways to make good athletes into super athletes has gone on for years. The dream of 30-year-old Bill Rohter, who knocked off the world's record for the mile run, or a 15-year-old who won't stoop to 15 rounds has become more than athletic science fiction.

Special diets have been devised, exercise regimens prescribed, all geared to improve the athlete's ability to make the best of his natural skills.

Here at Tech, a new and exciting experiment is beginning. Its program is being conducted by Dr. Frank D. Rohter, researcher, teacher, and athletic director for FTU.

"Rohter is working with rheology, the study of blood flow. His project is the flow of blood through muscular portions of the body when the body is at rest and when it is doing certain types of exercises."

"If we can develop the optimum exercise training program that enables a person to perform to the maximum of his skills, it would be a tremendous asset to an athlete," Dr. Rohter said.

"The government has awarded Dr. Rohter's federal grant so he can conduct this research in full.

At the present time, Rohter and his assistant, Byron Wilson, are conducting limited experiments with forearm muscles, using a variety of FTU students and highly sensitive instruments that measure blood flow when the subject squashes a hand grip.

"From this we may be able to determine what type of exercise will produce the greatest flow through this portion of the body," the doctor said.

Jobs Planned For Graduates

For students completing graduating work this spring, 1969, the Office of Student Affairs is handling a student registration program.

Students who are graduating should contact William Loving, Director of Student Financial Aid and Placement.

Along with the placement of graduates in career opportunities, the service will try to place students in both on and off campus work for a regular term or summer employment.

The assistance of the faculty and staff in advising students concerning the placement service will be necessary to make the program effective.

A Director of Placement has been requested, and approval may be forthcoming in time to fill the position by July 1.

Questions or information should be addressed to William Loving, Director of Student Financial Aid and Placement.

Any student who feels that he is within one term of graduation should check with W. D. Chapman in the Registration Office for information and clarification of his status.

Sororities End Week of Pledging

Florida Tech's sororities, Tyes and Fideles, held their first week of pledging for the Spring Quarter, April 14-18.

Tyes members and pledges had dinner at the FTU cafeteria Monday night, April 14. After dinner the pledges had their first meeting where they received ropes tied to knots which they wear as pins and represent the bond between pledges and their sponsors.

The pledges are now officially "Knots," which is the name for Tyes pledges. The Knots met their pledge trainers, Melissa Hardman and Connie Graham, who will guide them through pledging.

At a meeting of Tyes members, Marilyn Stadel, a Tyes member, was selected to represent Tyes in the Spring Queen contest.

Tyes also started Friendship Week at the Monday night meeting. Each pledge was given a member to get to know better for one week.

Members of the sorority recently received gold lavaliers with the letters T-Y-E-S running vertically on a gold chain. They also plan to get jerseys with the sorority name on them.

Tyes members and pledges meet every other Monday night. Members are asked to bring dues for $10 to the next meeting, to be held April 21.

Fideles members and pledges held their first joint meeting Thursday, April 10 in room 358 of the LLB. Pledges were told to wear a dress to school Monday, April 14, that they normally wouldn't wear. At the end of the day, Monday, the pledges were told to wear that same dress for the rest of the week. Fideles pledges are told to wear a gold spindle around their neck. The purpose of the spindles is to indicate which girls are Fideles pledges.

Florida Tech's sorority, Fideles, will be holding a first pledge banquet April 16 at 7:00 p.m. in the cafeteria, in recognition of the men and women who have pledged for the Fideles sorority.

Board Chosen For VC

The Village Center Board for 1969-70, a group of 11 students chosen by the governing board of the Village Center, were recently named. They are representatives of the following organizations:

International Relations: Andrea Carver, sophomore in history; Don Lilly, junior.

Typical Education: Dan Tretiaker, freshman in chemistry. History and Communication: Sue gender, sophomore in English and history.

Psychology: Tom Nool, junior in Finance; Melissa Hardman, freshman in Psychology; Sociology: Torrae Newson, Freshman in Social Sciences.

Committee on Literature, Art, and Cultural Affairs: Maria Adamo, sophomore in English, and Steve Polen, freshman in Engineering.

The Village Center Board, a student organization of the student body and eventually alumni board, acts in an advisory capacity to the Director of the Village Center Program for the entire University community. The fact of the Board is that the Board are Dr. Richard Adicks, Assistant Professor, College of Humanities and Social Sciences; Professor Steven Loz, Assistant Professor, College of Humanities and Social Sciences.

The staff members on the Board are:

Program Director of the Village Center and Mr. Ken Lawson, Director of the Village Center.

Starting this week, petitioning for Major Chair, applicants will be open for the following programs: Exhibit Committee, Music Committee, Fine Films Committee, Speaker's Program Committee, Concert Series Committee, Publicity Committee, and others.

The Village Center Board will hold its first annual Installation and Awards Banquet tonight at the Statler Hotel. Voting on Board members will be awarded and newly selected members will be installed into office.

Anyone interested in these programs may petition. In addition, the above programs and activities may contact the Village Center Board for more information.

As of April 6, 1969, there will be no nurse coverage in the Student Health Service over the weekend hours of Saturday, 7:00 p.m. to Sunday, 11:00 a.m. and Sunday, 11:00 a.m. to Tuesday, 9:00 a.m.

In case of emergency, residential students are to contact the Student Resident Instructor or the Resident Advisor.

Classroom Building A Dream?

The way it looks now, there is a good chance that some students at FTU will find themselves attending classes from 8 in the morning until 10 at night during the fall quarter.

The reason? The new classroom building, or the lack of it.

Although the idea that the classroom building will be ready for school in October is still given lip service, it is pretty well conceded among faculty and administration that there is little likelihood of this coming about.

It is hoped now that the classroom building will be ready for the winter quarter which begins in January.

But that won't help for next fall. The enrollment is expected to double then, and so are the number of courses that will be offered.

Still, there will be no additional classroom space available for these new classes.

That means classes will have to be extended over a longer period of time, and night classes will not be uncommon. Thus it would be possible for a student to find himself attending classes from early morning until late evening.

Departmental Chairmen have been asked to draw up two class schedules for the fall quarter. One would take into account that the classroom building will (or may) have been completed, and classes will be held at times similar to those FTU has now.

But the chairmen have also been asked to fill out an alternate schedule for the fall, which would take into account that the building might not be open, and the class day would run from 8 a.m. until 11 p.m.

Dr. John Botte, College of Natural Sciences and Academic Affairs, said that the January date was very disappointing, and that he would be very surprised if the building was delayed that long. It may also be possible in some of the classrooms even though the entire building is not yet completed. The date of October 24 that was given for a completion date was just an estimation. This estimation date change almost daily.

Fall classes will begin Monday, October 6, 1969. But no one knows where.

Unappreciated Bill

Whereas the FTU is the official University Student publication, and whereas the aforementioned publication and all official University student communication organs have a firm responsibility to express the opinions of the Student Body of Florida Technological University, be it hereby resolved that there shall be established a University Communication Board with the express authority to assure that this responsibility is carried into action.

That it be:
1) The student editor-in-chief of each of the various official student publications.
2) The student representative from each of the various official organs of mass student communication.
3) The student editor of the University student newspaper.
4) One member of the university English Department and one member from the university Business Department (appointed by the university president to serve as executive directors).
5) The president of the student body.

Two additional student government delegates, (appointed by the student body president)

Letters to the Editor

Student Answer Letter

Prophet Column

The following is in answer to the frequent requests for the Prophet to print letters from the Florida Technological University officially.

Prophet is not fiction. A VC patrol consisted of a small Montagnard band and assembled the people in the center of the village. Then follow the local language against those who supported GVN military forces. This often resulted in the VC being treated with the same respect as those who had opposed the Vietnamese government. This often caused the VC to act in a brutal manner against the local population. It is typical, and I often find myself wondering if Americans are fully aware of the torture and humiliation that the VC use to obtain what they consider to be police-like objectives.

"Generally speaking, the only population under VC control in the province are those that have been isolated away from effective GVN protection. Time and time again, whole families have fled their VC-controlled area when the, 'guerrillas' began burning US or GVN military forces. This often means that these families have to leave all of their worldly possessions behind, but they do so with dignity.

CONSTANT ABUSE

The VC patrol that had come to Montagnards, constantly, and man of the refugees describe their VC 'control' as a slave-like existence. Women, children, and other civilians are used as porters to carry food, weapons and ammo supplies. They are often forced to travel far outside of their own provinces and sometimes never return.

This VC patrol, like the others I have seen, was running off the Ba Mout mountain to Montagnards to the north. The patrol had been at work for three weeks. And then there's the young ex-Marine, just forty. "He, too, was afraid to sleep at nights because of the nightmares. He believed in what he was doing, and believed that it had to be done. But enjoy it? God help him now. He's paying for a job he had to do well."

The same civilian advisor whose letter was quoted above writes that there will be a blood bath hopping Hitler's if the US pulls out of its commitment or a coalition government is formed. There are almost three million Vietnamese who left North Vietnam before Ho Chi Minh closed the border. They found nothing out what it is like to live under Communist. Many of them had to leave their families behind to join the fight against the spread of Communism. These millions have sworn never to quit fighting the Communists, no matter what. For our own sake, our own interests, can we afford not to go the same? Vietnam might as well be Mexico for all that distance counts today.

SO LITTLE TRUTH

With so many believing in what they are doing, suffering physically, mentally and emotionally in order to do their job in this war, why is it so hard to get as much from us to make some of the truth that we know so little about the truth? The truth, the truth in its entirety cannot be found in the newspaper, on the radio or TV. But if you really care, the truth is not hard to learn if you will only talk to people who have been there or have friends and loved ones over there. There are lots of us around.

And isn't it important for you to know as many facts as possible? Writing, satirical or otherwise, is only destructive if it displays a lack of knowledge on the subject one wishes to speak out about.

Day of The "Theatre"

By RUSSELL T. BENTLEY

April 18, 1969

If you have $4.00 that you can’t possibly spend in a practical way, then I would advise you to see “The Time of The Cockatoo” at the Central Florida Civic Theatre. I’m not saying that the play was bad. I just probably coughed during the good spot.

Orlando is the host to Claire Luce while she is starring in the play. Unlike previous performances from which she received solid acclaim from American and British theatres and also from the Ziffeld folkies after this performance she may have to open a fruit stand. After a few years of inactivity or retirement, Mrs. Charles R. Luce, a former Soviet Union Ambassador, an American secretary on vacation in Venice. Leonia, past middle age and suffering from a love-less life, seeks and finds a partner but is astounded by the morals of all the inhabitants of Venice. After much ado, she fights off her puritanical conscience and proceeds with her original plan to really fire it up; but alas it is now too late. Renato Di Rossi, portrayed by Ed Mills who also the director, refuses to accept her affection and goes back to his wife and “10,000” children.

Tom Halliday, a typical American husband and a somewhat American artist. His best performance in the play was when he pouted the beverages. He actually filled the glasses. Carol Murphy played his wife who was a divorcee. Her brash attitude and seductive movements were quite appropriate and were executed with an air of realism.

Millicent Clarke played Signora Floria who was a “woman of the world” and performed her talents for the unsuspecting young artist. She had a difficult role to fill and did it very successfully. Her humorous mode and seductive movements were quite appropriate and were executed with an air of realism.

Ed Schultz, an ex-student from FTU, played Vito, the son of Don Corleone and was the captain and crew of a gondola. He performed quite well considering the emotional tempos he had to get rolling. Typical of a star-struck student of the theatre, he was a little too “hammy” with his dialogue.

The entire play was performed in one set which was the court yard of a cheap hotel. The set was very good but some poor soul wasted a lot of time and materials on it. What I am saying is that compared to the theme and the general performance, the set was very extravagant.

Speaking of the theme, you may have gathered that the entire play was an attack on the present state of American morality. This went on so long, with little dig here and there, that I really got tired of it. But as you know, the truth always hurts.

On the whole, I felt that with much age and practice, some day the play will be tolerable. If you have something to do like watching wind-blown oranges drop, then I would recommend you do it.

Ellis Appointed Dir. of Research

Dr. Leslie Lee Ellis, Jr., has been appointed Director of Research and Graduate Studies. Dr. Ellis has been chairman of the Department of Biological Sciences, College of Natural Sciences, since July 1, 1968, and will continue as Professor of Biological Sciences. Dr. Ellis, a native of Norfolk, Virginia, received the B.S. and M.S. Degrees from Tulane University and the Ph.D Degree from the University of Oklahoma. Dr. Ellis has also served as Head of the Department of Zoology at Mississippi State University from 1962 to 1968. Among his honors are Sigma Xi, Phi Sigma, and Alpha Epsilon Delta. He is a member of the American Institute of Biological Sciences, the Entomological Society of America, the Florida Academy of Sciences, the Florida Academy of Sciences, the American Association for the Advancement of Science, and has served as Editor of the Journal of the Mississippi Academy of Sciences.

O'Mara Named Board Chairman

Final appointments to the Student Government General Judiciary Board were made at Tuesday's SG meeting. Composition of the board is as follows: Mike O'Mara, chairman; Melina Hardman; Sherry Roedman; Phil Aralis, and Dan Scott. Chris Mitchell and Linda Singer were appointed as alternates.

The General Judiciary Board will operate under the rules and procedures specified in the Student Handbook. Its function is to hear disciplinary cases involving students in university situations and to recommend action to the administrative authorities.

The Budget Committee presented its recommendations to the Student Senate Tuesday with a vote taken on Thursday. Included were appropriations for the Junior and Senior classes.

Business Frat. To Be Organized

An organizational meeting of a National Professional Business Fraternity will be held today at 1:00 p.m. in room 356 in the library. The election of temporary officers will be held at this meeting. All business majors are eligible to join this fraternity.

There are two possibilities for the national organization that the group can be affiliated with, they are Delta Sigma Pi or Alpha Kappa Psi.

The purpose of this group is to further the individual welfare of its members; to foster scientific research in the fields of commerce, accounts, and finance; to educate the public to appreciate and demand higher ideals therein; and to promote and advance in institutions of collegiate rank courses leading to degrees in Business Administration.

The advisor of this group will be Jim Wilson, FTU Management Professor.

Unkovic Discusses New Textbook

In recognition of National Library Week, Dr. Charles M. Unkovic will conduct a panel review of his new textbook, Psychology and Sociology, at 7:30 p.m. Monday at the Orlando Public Library. Co-authored with Dr. George Kaluger, Professor of Psychology and Education, Shippensburg State College, Pa., it will be published by the C. W. Mosby Company this month. The book is an integrated approach to human behavior and helps students understand how physiologic, psychologic, and sociologic factors combine to make each individual the type of person he is as well as help the student effectively develop a frame of reference for understanding the total person.

The panelists will be Carl T. Cannon, Mrs. Barbara Linder, and Mrs. Mary Jane Bolatto. Cannon and Mrs. Linder are students at FTU, and Mrs. Bolatto is a registered nurse specializing in psychiatric nursing and is participating in the Continuing Education Program at FTU.
On Movies
Critic Says
"No Nut Mail"
by ROBERT F. HOLLSINGER

Three adolescent boys trip through this film in search of "well-let's just say we get 1 some. It is almost a motion picture adaptation of Bill Cosby's short story, "The Regular Way." The time setting is that period in most boy's life when they start talking about girls. Maybe then; dreaming; then glassy.

The three boys in "FTP" fit the form nicely. They are at the stage when some of us start to exaggerate. Head on head confrontations take the form of "Ya, I did it Lil but you don't know; she moved." In this flick, as in real life, the three are inexperienced... They pretend that they are old hand's, because that's just the way you play the game.

Our trio is composed of all aggressive and slick "Eddie Haskell type, (the only true characterization come out of a half hour "TV show" - a little guy, who scares easy, and the typical kid in the block who is pushed around by selfish parents. In this case, Kenny's widower father wants the boy out of the way to make room for his fiancé secretary.

The threesome take a day trip across the border to Canada to get lost with Jacqueline Hidalgo. They think she is a "Hooker".

The boys from Anna's entrance into the US. She is an English citizen who left her passport somewhere... Righting. Having done her a favor the boys expect reciprocity. In actuality, the misunderstood girl, is in the process of being betrayed by her lover, a married man.

Kenny enters as Anna receives the proverbial phone call from, whom I expect must be the dumbest man in the world. "Anna" pout his naive heart out. Both feel sorry for one another. In the seconds that pictures grow into... The other two boys, having recalled idyllic moments with Anna, can't understand why Kenny is taking so long. Conclusion "I guess they just talked.

Made with a budget of thirty thousand dollars, footage is supplied with the co-operation of that natural scene wonder, Niagara Falls.

Homogenization is the key word, from title to end. The movie is absolutely predictable. The plot by some fancy footwork manages to offer a national explanation for all the circumstances to the point of becoming apologize. Still, Anna's actions can only be acknowledged with one thousand reasons. Having been turned off by the general chairman is LeRoy Dickson, American Library Association.

In Florida, the state-wide committee is headed by Fred O. (But) Dickinson, State Controller. The Florida Executive Director is Mrs. Virginia Grigg, Florida State Library, Tallahassee.

Each county or major city presents a citizen committee of volunteers who work on the local level. The Orange and Osceola chairmen is LeRoy Dickson, Orlando realtor and insurance agent. Miss Nicki Jackson and Gary Hallman are the FTU Youth Section representatives on this local NLW Committee. These two students appeared on the Tom Hallock Show, Channel 9, Thursday, April 17, and discussed the FTU Library and its services to students and faculty.

Dr. Combs, Head of the English Department, will present a series of book reviews sponsored by the library. Dr. Combs will review Jacques Barzun's latest book "The American University, How It Runs, Where It Is Going" on Tuesday, April 22, at 11:30 a.m. in the Library Auditorium. All students and faculty are cordially invited to attend.

Library Week
To Be Observed

"Be all you can be — read!" is the theme of National Library Week which will be observed by the FTU Library and the staff the week of April 20-26. The Orange and Osceola Committee in cooperation with the American Library Association.

In Florida, the state-wide committee is headed by Fred O. (But) Dickinson, State Controller. The Florida Executive Director is Mrs. Virginia Grigg, Florida State Library, Tallahassee.

Subversion Still Haunts Airways

The Columbia Broadcasting System recently scored a point for decency and Mom's apple pie by canceling the Brothers' show. CBS claimed that the Brothers' show continued to exhibit poor taste with controversial, offensive and downright truthful material. If CBS is going to follow a policy of purging shows of this nature from the airwaves, I feel that it is only my duty to advocate the demise of Captain Kangaroo."

At first glance, one might classify this show as an innocuous kiddie hour. A closer inspection will reveal that Captain Kangaroo is dangerously high in mind-warping potential. When you consider that a child of tender pre-school age watches the Captain for at least three years, that's a lot of time for them to become brainwashed by the program's controversial views. Some adults even watch the show, so there's a double danger!

Captain Kangaroo himself parallels the Brothers. Brothers personality-wise he is a seemingly gentle man intent on producing an hour of entertainment. But, like the Brothers, Kangaroo is in reality subversive. For one thing, his hair is long! That alone should get him canceled, but it hasn't. Representing the affluence of America, his pockets are always loaded with goodies, which he gives out freely. This teaches the children that material objects are easy to come by and thus, their sense of values is distorted. His always cheery demeanor, which may lead children to think that the world is also as carefree, coupled with his uniform instills a belief that a military state would be a "swell" government to have.

Mr. Green Jeans is a racial symbol. The "green" stands for the colors of other races. He might as well be called "Mr. Red, Brown, Yellow or Black Jeans" since the cover name of "Green Jeans" is so transparent. And he's always second to the caucasian Captain. What else can this be but outright bigotry? The less obtrusive but real villain of the show is none other than Bunny Rabbit. He is Communist through and through. This is evidenced by the trouble he is constantly stirring up. His tricks always fool the American Captain.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

Bunny Rabbit's tricks never turn into violence, but those of Mr. Moose do. The Moose is forever intent on goading Captain Kangaroo into saying a word that will cause ping pong balls, obviously bombs, to be dropped on the unsuspecting Captain. Yes, good folks, we must unite now to prevent controversial programs of this nature from continuing to subvert our children and society as well. Total censorship is our only salvation! This is Portable, the Prophet. Peace.

Junior Class Gets President

After a month of existing in limbo, the Junior Class has a president. The Student Senate recently confirmed the nomination of Brenden Voss, of the College of Humanities and Social Sciences as chief executive for the University's approximately 700 juniors.

Voss was active in student government in high school and college in New York. At present he is busy organizing the Junior Class government contingent into an effective legislative unit. Student Government is also taking to the woods, literally. Through their efforts a path has been cleared to the shore of Lake Clark and work on clearing the lakefront and dredging a beach area is progressing ahead of schedule. Student Body President Walt Katanuki calls the Lake Clark project "an example of Student Government initiative, cooperation, and tangible work for the students of Fla. Tech."

Project Chairman Richard Staley (Junior Senator, Humanities and Social Sciences) stated "that plans call for a picnic area, pavilion and sand beach, all within easy walking access of campus. It is estimated that the area will be ready for students this summer.

Panhellenic Members To Attend NPCC
Helen Commander and Mary Lou Racel will represent FTU Panhellenic Association, the governing body of sororities, at the National Panhellenic Council Conference at Stetson University in DeLand this weekend, April 18-20. They will bring back ideas from the convention to FTU to aid in the foundation of the Panhellenic Association at Tech.

Panhellenic is composed of four representatives from each sorority on campus. Members are: Helen Commander, chairman (Fideles); Mary Lou Racel, vice-chairman (Tyes); Diana Prevatt, recording and corresponding secretary (Tyes); Georgianne Mollison, treasurer (Fideles); Kathy Lawton, historian (Tyes); Connie Graham, publicity chairman (Tyes); Cheryl Wilmouth (Fideles); and Millie Polley (Fideles).

The Panhellenic Association set up rulings covering Rush Week for the Spring Quarter Rush of March 21 through April 25. They are presently in the process of writing their Constitution. The main duties of Panhellenic are to arbitrate any sorority disputes and to set up rules governing sororities.

Meetings are held every Thursday afternoon at 4 p.m. in room 115 of the Village Center.

Program Set
The Reading and Study Skills Service of the Developmental Center will demonstrate reading machines and programs and various study skills programs in room 341 of the Library Building, Thursday, April 24, at 11 a.m. All students and faculty are invited.

WTRA Turns ‘Good Elves’
The "good elves" will be at work next week as the Women's Residence Association participates in friendship week.

During the last house meeting each girl wishing to do so placed her name in a hat, then drew the name of another female resident. All names are secret, with the purpose being the doing of clandestine good deeds.

All girls who took part in the project will meet in the Dorm 'A' Lounge Thursday night to reveal their identities.
