Guest Editorial

There is a much needed missing link in the administration of FTU. This property can be called a “Dean of Men”. This year the responsibilities of this office was placed on top of the already pressing responsibilities of Dr. Brown, V.P. of Student Affairs. To say the least this caused an overload resulting in inadequate handling of the duties for a dean of men.

The purpose of this editorial, therefore, is to present my official opinion as Governor of the College of Humanities regarding the role of the students of FTU in the hiring of a Dean of Men.

First, it has come to my attention that a prospective Dean is coming to our campus today to be interviewed, evaluated, etc. by the administration. It was also brought forth that at no time during this day is there scheduled any form of formal or informal meeting for student representatives to meet and talk with this man. This in itself is appalling and a prime example of irresponsibility as far as "Accent on the Individual" and the individual role of each student is concerned. On one point I am disgusted with the person or persons who set up this schedule for not involving the students, considering that he will be our Dean of Men.

I brought this situation up while talking to Walt Komanski, President of the Student Body, and immediately he called the office of Dr. Brown to make an appointment with him and find out exactly why this was done and to do whatever he thought necessary to set up some type of informal meeting with this man. After some lengthy discussion a meeting time was set. Hopefully something productive will result. You may develop your own attitude toward this. I have mine.

Second and last of the points that I wish to present, is the need for students to play a part in the official evaluation and acceptance of a Dean of Men. This is a common practice at many universities and colleges across the country today and considering there are certain requirements that Dean of Men, as well as any other office of this caliber is required to work in more close contact situations with students than any other offices, there are certain requirements that students feel should be met. These opinions should be allowed to be voiced and listened to by the administration. And I don’t mean it to fall on deaf ears, but to be considered as a valid and important voice in the hiring of an administrator of this type. We cannot afford to let a bunch of super conservatory, anti-liberal, anti-Creek, or anti-anything to achieve a position that requires a high degree of open mindedness, sensitivity, and common sense.

Therefore, I propose the formation of a group of students that represent all facets of student life at FTU for the specific purpose of officially meeting and questioning prospective administrators that would fill office of this type. (Deans, etc.) The consensus of this group of students will then be submitted for review to the person that possesses the final say in the hiring of this type. This evaluation should be taken as the opinion of the students of FTU towards the hiring of this man, and should not be passed over as unimportant, invalid, new that is interpreted as the current feel of the students. If a group of this type had been in existence before this school opened, I feel that these few of our present administrators that would not be here at this time.

In conclusion I would like to officially and publicly request that student representatives be allowed to meet with prospective administrators of this caliber, and that their opinion be accepted and somehow guided by the administration before hiring takes place.

Message From Millican

For quite some time now, Mrs. Millican and I have been wanting to make a change in the dormitory, but it has taken many months’ effort to get even the minimum of serving facilities in the dining rooms. Now, it has been proposed by the President and his wife in the official entertaining they have to do on behalf of the University.

This effort is now sufficiently complete to enable us to do this, and you are cordially invited for coffee at eleven o’clock on Thursday, May fifteenth, in the President’s Dining Room, Village Center.

Comments On Newswriting

Dear Editor:

As secretary of Sigma Alpha Fraternity, I am submitting a news article to the Future last week describing a working activity between my fraternity and the Tri Kappa Fraternity.

The purpose of the article was not to focus on the scores but to bring light to the coordination, fraternality and goodwill among the brothers of these two fraternities.

The article, as I submitted it, was drastically reduced by the news staff to a two paragraph article. Considering the article seriously hurt the pride of the active members of the fraternities, I would like to have the article returned to me so I can bring light to the coordination, fraternality and goodwill among the brothers of these fraternities.

I feel the news staff should not be so biased as to deprive its readers of all the facts submitted to them for print. The news staff should realize that they have considerable influence upon the students in shaping their views of the future.

Sincerely,

Blanche Spear, Jr.,
Secretary of Sigma Alpha

SA Fraternity Comments On Newswriting

Dear Editor:

As a member of Sigma Alpha Fraternity, I would like to bring to your attention the situation regarding the recent publication of our news article in the Future.

The article was submitted to the Future’s editorial board in a timely manner and was subsequently printed in the paper. However, the article was later removed from the paper due to space constraints.

I would like to express my concern regarding this decision. As a member of the fraternity, I feel that our article was an important contribution to the future of the campus and its residents.

In conclusion, I urge the Future’s editorial board to reconsider its decision and allow our article to be published in its entirety.

Sincerely,

Blanche Spear, Jr.
Secretary of Sigma Alpha

Fire Season

Now Underway

Dear Editor:

We have been asked by the Campus Security Department to pass on a warning to all organizations or individuals that are planning to hold any event that will involve the use of fireworks for temporary office operations.

These events, which are not authorized by the university, are considered to be a violation of university policy and can result in disciplinary action.

It is important for all organizations or individuals to be aware of the university’s policy on the use of fireworks and to ensure that they comply with all regulations.

Thank you for your cooperation.

Best regards,

Blanche Spear, Jr.

West Side Balcony Open

The west side of the balcony surrounding the upper level of the Class of 1945 Center on the fourth floor will be open for student use on a temporary basis, depending on the weather conditions. It is the actual quote from President Millican in his “Future” article was “Only the west side balcony will be open during the use of the center for temporary office operations. Depending on the response and the overall conditions, this interim period, consideration will be given to the use of additional balcony areas at a later time.”

The balcony will be open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on the 5th.

Communication Channel Presented

The chart below has been approved by a special committee to be included in the next university handbook. The idea was first advanced to Dean Gwen Sarchet around October of 1968 and she has been submitting drafts of the chart to the committee since that time. According to Dean Sarchet the chief holdup was in attempting to show everything the committee wanted it to without appearing too complex.

The correct term for the chart is the "Channel of Communication for Students" and actually is trying to show who a student should turn to if he has a problem.

For instance, if a female residence student wishes to do something about curfew the logical first place to go is to the Resident Female Assistant. But if for some reason the student does not wish to take this course she can go to WRA and gain some support for her case and then WRA can take it to the Resident Female Instructor. Or, if she feels that WRA would not present a good enough case, or WRA would not help her she could go to her sorority (!) or student government, or any one of the various clubs and organizations on campus, or, in the other direction, someone in the Development Center. These lines would be open to her for her use. It would stand logical that such a question would not concern someone like the Supervisor Nurse or the Director of Health Services. Of course if she deemed it necessary she could go straight to the Dean of Women, or the Director of Housing, or the Vice President for Student Affairs, or, even the president himself.

Any students interested in working on the FutUre staff during the spring quarter are asked to stop by the Editors Office, room 152 in the Village Center, and leave their name.

CLASSES FOR THE SUMMER QUARTER BEGIN FRIDAY JUNE 6 AT 8:00 AM

Florida Technological University reserves the right to change the class schedule as needed to properly meet the needs of students and the university.
Geisler Captures 'Queen' Title

Approximately 200 students attended V.C.S.A.'s Spring Fling at the Granada Room of the Park Plaza Hotel on Saturday, May 3. The dance, originally conceived of as a formal affair, was changed to a semi-formal a week prior to the dance due to the expense involved in renting and buying formal wear. However, it is estimated that well over 50% of the students attended the function in formal wear.

The affair which cost approximately $900.00 to present was highly successful in all aspects except attendance. Andrea Hillyer, Chairman of the dance, indicated that V.C.S.A. had hoped that close to 300 couples would attend. As indicated above it is obvious that V.C.S.A.'s estimate of interest in the affair was highly inaccurate.

The Spanish decorated "Granada Room" was highlighted by Miss Hillyer's decoration committee. Attached to each chandelier in the room were eight gold balloons bunched together with red roses in the center of the bunch. The refreshments served at the dance ranged from punch to roast beef slice to caviar.

"Covington Tower" local rock group provided the music which consisted of a varied program of up-to-date popular standards and rock music.

At 11:00 p.m., the Queen candidates were introduced by Steve Foley and at 12:00 midnight the Queen and her court were announced. Sue Geisler sponsored by Tau fraternity was crowned queen and will reign as FTU's Spring Queen until next spring. Cynthia Smith, sponsored by Chi Alpha, was announced as first runner up and Paula Shell, sponsored by W.R.A. was announced as second runner up. Over 500 students had participated in the voting for Spring Queen.

A total re-evaluation of formal, semi-formal and informal dances will be discussed at the upcoming Village Center Board meetings.

"Alright guys, when the gun goes off the first one around the palm tree and back with his date wins"

"I know what it tastes like, Jim, but you're not supposed to let anyone know."

"I don't care if he is President Nixon! One more flash bulb and I'll kill him..."
The Tau fraternity, both active members and their little sisters, devoted their last Saturday in a clean-up project in the Zellwood slums. Sixty members of the fraternity collected eight tons of trash that had accumulated in the slum area.

A truck was donated by an interested citizen to the Tau slum area. It was delivered to the dorm, and the dorm improvement committee, a member of the judicial board, and The Psychology Club plan to use it for the dorm, for the pledges. Cost per car is 99 cents.

Following the car wash, a splash party for members and pledges will be held at the home of Susan Hardin. Entertainment will be provided by pledges in the form of three to five minute speeches. Pledges are presently making pillows and paddles for the sisters and collecting tin cans for Helene Commander, pledge trainer. Pledges and their "big sisters" held an informal coffee hour for the pledges.

The new program is broad in nature and non-specialized. The courses provide advanced work in the major subject areas of business study and seek to develop executive attitudes and capabilities as well as to familiarize students with research methods and recent analytical techniques. Graduate courses will be available in the evening for the convenience of men and women who are actively engaged in business.

Everyone is invited to participate in the activities. The club will leave the Winter Park Mall on the Ivey's side at 10:00 a.m. Saturday morning.

FUTURE

Allied Health Sciences Offered

FTU announced today the establishment of a new program in the area of the Allied Health Sciences. The program was granted Monday by the Board of Regents for implementation during the Fall quarter.

The development of this program was aided through the efforts of many local institutions, including Florida Sanitarium and Hospital, Holiday Hospital, Mercy Hospital, Orange Memorial Hospital, Winter Park Memorial Hospital, and the Florida Hospital Association. The University worked closely with representatives of these organizations in developing the academic and clinical courses constituting the final program.

Program will continue to work in close cooperation with those local teaching hospitals where the clinical training will be provided for the various options available in the Allied Health Sciences. Options presently authorized and leading to a B.S. degree will be: Inhalation Therapy, Medical Record Service, and Medical Technology.

These options were selected on the basis of regional, state, and national needs. Inhalation Therapy, for example, is one approved four-year program in the United States, and for Florida the Department of Education has gone on record that, statewide, the need for additional trained personnel is critical.

The program to be offered at FTU will be unique in several respects. All students in the Allied Health Sciences will complete a basic two year curriculum before they select the option of their choice. In the third year, they will begin their clinical training, which will be integrated with additional academic courses.

The students will continue to spend part of their time on the FTU campus during the third year but will travel to the teaching hospital for their clinical work. The fourth year will be spent largely in the clinical areas, and the students will spend the majority of their time in the hospital.

They will, though, continue their academic studies on the FTU campus. Additional information can be obtained from Dr. Leslie L. Ellis, Acting Chairman of the Department of Allied Health Sciences.

Strip Tease Story

Basis of 'Minsky's'

By ROBERT E. HOLINSINGER

"The Night They Raided Minsky's" by means of a light hearted, heavy characterization and authentic settings manages to give the viewer an insight into the nature and birth of the strip tease. The old burlesque routines act as the mortar for this package. Hard nose burlesque addicts will probably complain that not enough emphasis was placed on the old dirt. Most will realize that the film had a larger goal than to merely catalog the old burlesque classics. One can only say that what is there works well; it is blended efficiently with sincerity and usefulness.

The camera work offers a great deal of variety. Cinema verto documentary footage, and contemporary camera work are all delegated to three areas; plot-time movement, atmosphere and characterization, respectively. Transitions in incorporating the three mentioned techniques will offer the viewer a few pleasant surprises.

The setting is New York City, 1929. The surroundings are the downtown and the outside shots sort of reinforce the old movie feeling. We see facies: Jason Robards, Britt Eckland, Norman Wisdom, Bert Lake. Fisher, Tucker and many others stumbling emerge from the ever present wave of humanity.

The plot is simple, a small town Jew girls comes to New York. She wants to do interpretive dance based on Bible stories. The owner of Minsky's thinks it would be a good idea to have her on stage as a joke; it would humble the local burlesque "do-gooders" who are putting on the heat. Well, guess what happens.

The film will have a great deal of appeal to those urban souls who can still remember the sights, sounds, and smells of a street market. There is consolation for the war on crab grass, tubs of chicken puree; it is an enjoyable film. It does not have any arty big-time overtones; it does accomplish the real intended. This, I imagine, to supply a lot of gits.
