Housing Filled for Fall Quarter

University officials announced that campus housing is completely filled for the Fall Quarter, 1969, at Florida Technological University. C. Barth Engert, FTU Director of Housing, said that, last Friday, that 4.5% of the available accommodations in the four residence halls have already been filled by returning students. The remaining spaces have been filled by early applicants for admission.

Engert noted that his office in the past several days has sent letters out to over 350 housing applicants advising them that all campus housing for the fall 1969 quarter is filled and that other arrangements should be made immediately if they require housing to attend the University during the 1969-70 academic year.

He indicated that for the 230 apartments units which have already been completed in the student area of the University with additional facilities anticipated for mid-September, there are no plans or construction projects for additional on-campus housing facilities which would be ready by this coming September, Engert emphasized. He pledged continued full cooperation in the Office of Housing in the efforts of students to locate suitable housing close to the University for the Fall quarter.

Letters to the Editor

STUDENT GOVERNMENT
"ON THE MOVE"

Dear Editor:

How is it that we here at FTU were lucky enough to get started with the young people of this country? So big deal, may we have a constitution but what good is it if we have no government? A perfect example is N.P.A.S.M. There is a bit of practicality in this amendment but only in that it is something that is used against the student government at your own discretion. Therefore, if you can't do something that is practical, then why hide it with works of stupidity such as that?

Another example is allowing our illustrious PADAD president and vice-president to take over seven hours of class credit and still hold office. NOW tell me, is that feather-bedding? I feel that if the dummies can't make the grades then put out and find the dummy that is qualified in and do the job. It is a good thing that the president does not have to worry about the draft.

By the way Pres., how is it that you get to have a stove and refrigerator in your apartment?

We have in the government do something to actually help the students. Like making jobs and loans more available would be of great help but that must be too complicated for their troubled minds. I was told in order for you to get any kind of a loan you must be married, etc.

Here is a bit of advice for you Student Government. You have a better pass at an act, in your typical cabinet member can't even be a member of a political party.

We are sure all students living in the dormitories are aware of the numerous "false fire alarms" that have occurred. Again, this is very dangerous. May we have a discussion about the fellow who cried "wolf" falsely once too often so that when the wolf did actually appear no one paid attention to his cry so we let this occur to us by pulling the fire alarms falsely.

With the help of our fine student body and staff, we can all enjoy our campus experiences as we learn and work together. Thank you for your good understanding and assistance, for it is really needed and appreciated.

Bill Hunter

Editor's note:

The price quoted in the FTU was listed as the starting price, and as generally the case, was the highest price the student would be charged for that particular course. We are sure all students living in the dormitories are aware of the numerous "false fire alarms" that have occurred.

Physical Plant Supports Safety

The Physical Plant Division, with the good assistance afforded the Physical Plant, would like to note the help of all students in the various departments in maintaining the campus. Briefly, please:

One letter to the Editor:

"To the Editor:

The future is composed of the sum total of all the decisions that we make now. If we make a decision that is the wrong decision, then we are doing something that is not in the best interest of the future. Hence, it is important that we make decisions that are in the best interest of the future."

By JOHN CRUTCH

A Be-In was held at Tampa's Howlett Park Sunday, and despite certain weather worries for most of the afternoon, between 500 and 1000 people showed up for the festivities.

The Be-In got under way at a little after noon as the first of five bands started doing their thing until about 7 p.m. There were flowery booths, face painting, and lots of other things. It was a fine and fristomatic day.

At first many people seemed to be just a little nervous and unsure of what was going on, but after a while everybody just settled down and started doing their thing. A longhair baseball game was organized. People made crooked signs and walked around smiling wistfully at one another. A couple of kids whose thing was red mud found plenty of it to wallow in. Some motorcyclists did their thing, which was mostly just driving through the crowd in first gear, or sitting and talking quietly among themselves. Other people spread blankets and lay down, and listened to the bands, whose repertoire ranged from the Velvet Underground. Cop activity was minimal.

There was a few entertaining diversions. Two Baptist preachers showed up and harangued some souls, but were unsuccessful. Everyone now and then would begin to rain and pick up any trash they saw lying around them. This precursor has held for both Be-Ins that has gone down since then, and the Howlett Park festival was no exception. As the last band played Its last number, people went around picking up refuse and stuff it into the trashcans. But that after the "silent majority" was entertained with its last hit by the latest, the Tangerine Bowl looked like the Orlando City Dump. As it was, the "noisy minority" left Howlett Park spotless.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Fortas Case Falls In Borderline Area

After the Orlando Sentinel stopped publishing the column "Merry-Go-Round", the daily column by Drew Pearson and Joe Anderson, Tuesday, May 23, 1969, Pearson, who had visited The in the previous evening, called the office, and gave us permission to reprint the column in this edition of the FutuRe.

The FutuRe staff would like to thank the staff for this opportunity and say, even though all our staff members may not agree with the facts in this column, we feel our readers should be able to read Pearson's views; and agree or disagree.

WASHINGTON—In fact it is that Chief Justice Earl Warren for six years has been quietly supervising a "Merry-Go-Round" of ethical conduct for the federal judiciary. If this had been adopted then there would have been no Fortas case, for all judges would have been required to file for public inspection their outside income.

A similar code has now been adopted by the House of Representatives following the Thomas Dodd and Adalberto Powell investigation, and is the healthiest development on Capitol Hill for honest living in the congressional history.

Unfortunately, the Senate, despite public indignation overdue over a judicial code of ethics stems from the fact that there is a borderlines area, not clearly defined, railroads. This is what led to the Fortas case.

The Senate, despite public indignation over Sen. Tom Dodd's behavior, did not go far enough. The Senate has required to list such outside income as book royalties, magazine and newspaper royalties, fees for speaking, requiring to publish their much bigger and more vital income: retainers, stock and bond investments.

Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois is not required, for instance, to list the income from his Peoria law firm Great Northern case. He was joined sometimes to go for his clients' railroad cases.

JUDICIAL MISCONDUCT

Chief Justice Warren's concern over a judicial code of ethics stems from the fact that there is a borderline area, not clearly defined, where judges may receive fees. Fortas was in this borderline area.

Such a case was that of Judge Harold Medina of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit. During most of his judicial career was vice president of the L. M.度假村 Company. Judge and Mrs. Medina were also featured in a paid Palm Beach magazine called by Time magazine in January, 1964, promoting travel on Pan Am. That same week an antitrust suit was filed by the Justice Department against the railroads in the Southern District of New York, the jurisdiction in which Judge Medina sat.

DURING THE ROOSEVELT ADMINISTRATION

In his remarks at the late Sen. E. K. Snow of Tennessee to introduce a code for federal judicial conduct. It failed to pass. No one seemed much concerned about ethical conduct in those days. Sen. Joseph D. Tydings of Maryland has now revitalized the old referee code and made it possible even little help from Sen. Dirksen it would now become law.

The Fortas affair comes at a time when the ethics of the executive branch of government are the highest in history and the ethics of Congress considerably improved. This highlights the little-known fact that President Johnson did more to improve ethics in the executive branch than perhaps any other President by requiring every top official to file a financial statement, with the Civil Service Commission.

President Truman had tried to require all Cabinet members to file financial statements, but his Attorney General, Howard McGrath, indignantly resigned. And ethical improvement then stopped. It even retrogressed under Eisenhower. There was the whole spectre of Nixon's $18,000 personal expense fund in 1962, which may have helped set the tone for the Eisenhower administration.

Now was followed by the forced resignations of Harold Talbott, secretary of the Air Force, Sherman Adams, assistant to Eisenhower; Peter Strobel of the Department of Labor; Richard Mack of the Federal Communications Commission; Carl O. Hansen of the Farm Home Administration, all because of questionable ethics.

There was also the case of the House at the Allen, S.C., golf course especially built for Eisenhower by his big business friends, the equipping and refurbishing of the Gettysburg farm by wealthy contribution and the scheduling of all farm expenses by W. Alton Jones of Cities Service.

Bill Byars and George E. Allen. Today, however, ethical standards in the executive branch of government are high:

Text of Pearson's Talk

Washington columnist Drew Pearson was on the Florida Tech campus Monday night as part of the Village Center's Speakers Program. Pearson took the opportunity to charge that four members of Congress' delegation had accepted money from an organization described by Pearson as "neo nazi". According to Pearson the money was contributed in last year's political campaign, from an organization known as Liberty Lobby. Pearson said Sen. Edward Kennedy received more than two thousand dollars from the organization. The three Congressmen received one thousand dollars each from the Liberty Lobby Organization, Pearson said. The three law makers are Winter Republican Lyle Frey, Sen. James E. Haley, Democrat from Sarasota and G.O.P. lawmaker J. Herbert Burke of Ft. Lauderdale. Pearson suggested that the"Congressmen "accept campaign contributions from questionable sources."

Turning to foreign affairs, the Washington reporter predicted an end to the Korean conflict within fifteen years. Pearson said a real peace would not be achieved, but that a peace similar to the one achieved in Korea would be the end result. Pearson said he based his predictions on the close cooperation that has developed between Washington and the Kremlin.

The syndicated columnist, who predicted replacement of the Supreme Court Chief Justice Earl Warren, who's slated for retirement in June and for the rediges associate Justice Abe Fortas, who moved to the Senate in March. Pelosi said he was "incorrect". He said he was "inaccurate. Juarez described the United American Bar Association, "not to be held the high court. He predicted that the Fortas affair would come at a time when the ethics of the executive branch of government are the highest in history and the ethics of Congress considerably improved. This highlights the little-known fact that President Johnson did more to improve ethics in the executive branch than perhaps any other President by requiring every top official to file a financial statement with the Civil Service Commission."

Fre7Y Says 'Incorrect'

By CHIEF SCHMIDT

Oscar Juarez, administrative assistant to Congressman Lou Frey, called charges by Drew Pearson that Frey had accepted money from a "neo nazi" organization as "inaccurate". Juarez, who was contacted in Washington by the FutuRe, said that Liberty Lobby, the organization described by Pearson as "Neo Nazi", contributed money to the United Congressional Appeal. Juarez said the United Congressional Appeal in turn contributed money to the Frey campaign.

In his remarks at FTU Monday night, Pearson suggested that the Florida Solos do not accept campaign contributions from "questionable sources. Juarez replied saying that "The United Congressional Appeal was made up of loyal and dedicated Americans, chief among them, Congressman Alger."

Channel Two Ichabod is here! Gives Slides

What does a television station do with thousands of black and white slides when it converts to a color system? Channel two is the end up in a dead file or, even worse, they are thrown away. Not so with channel two in Orlando!

News director, Nick Pifoff, called Florida Technological University, and asked if they would like over ten thousand slides, most of them current state, national and international figures. In addition, many of the slides picture recent news events and sports personalities. In short, even though they are black and white, they are as up to date as today.

In receiving the slide collection, Richard A. Cornell, Director of Instructional Media at FTU, indicated that the slides were indeed a welcome gift and that they would be used by students in communications, teacher education, and general instructional areas. The instructional media department is frequently asked to develop presentations, with the advice of a subject matter specialist, which involves the use of many different types of media. The slides will serve to greatly increase the breadth of content which is now available to professors and students at FTU.

During the week of May 25-29, books may be checked out or renewed by those students who will be enrolled in the summer quarter and have received a valid appointment to register. Registration appointment and student ID card must be presented at the library circulation desk when renewing or checking out books for the interesting period.

Under the present FTU Biology Club Constitution the election of officers for the 1969-1970 academic year will be held in October, 1969. Following the provisions of the Club Constitution, those officers duly elected in the 1969 Fall Quarter will remain in office until the new election, and the election results previously announced in Future are accordingly considered null and void.

If you'll get engaged this Spring...
Here is a little help

DIAMOND PRICE FACTS:
Don't spend more than you can afford. A good rule to follow: Spend about a month of your salary on the engagement ring. But make sure you get the most for your money. Decide on the ring style that pleases her most.

DIAMOND BUYING FACTS:
About half of all engagement rings are chosen by boy and girl together. But in many cases the young man buys the diamond alone. Or he talks it over with us first and then brings his girl in for final selection. It's up to you!

DIAMOND STYLING FACTS:
Modern girls are individualists. Some want an absolutely perfect diamond even if it is smaller. Others want the largest stone possible even if it has slight flaws. Some like modern, others traditional styling. These are the things to talk over with us.

COME IN! AS SOON AS POSSIBLE!
We have helped so many young couples. We can help you to come to the right decision. Let your wishes and our experience be the guide. For a lifetime of happiness with your diamond.

FTU Campus May Dodge Usual Summer Doldrums

UNLESS A radical change takes place in Board of Regents' thinking, Orlando will for the first time be brought face to face with waste that results when university facilities are only partially used during the summer quarter.

Enrollment at FTU will be less than half what it currently is, if the usual pattern is followed. At Gainesville the campus is barren, except around Evant Village where married students, most of them in graduate school, and their families are much in evidence during the summer quarter.

Gov. Kirk wants some sort of compulsion tried to increase summer use of classrooms and laboratories. As chairman of the Budget Commission, he has declared summer is the most costly quarter to taxpayers.

"What would happen if fourth quarter attendance was made mandatory," the governor asked Chancellor Robert Mantis.
"If it must be done it could be done," Mantis replied, "but it would take time. Summer vacations are a longstanding cultural pattern. And there would be objections from parents."
