Hernandez Made Chairman Of Tech Faculty Senate

Dr. David E. Hernandez, Associate Professor of Education, was elected chairman of the PTU Faculty Senate at a meeting held July 24. Prof. W. K. Grasty was elected vice-chairman and Prof. S. E. Oman was elected secretary-treasurer.

Previously each college had elected two-year term senators, for the College of Business, and two-year term senators for the College of Administration are Dr. John W. Saltsman, Mr. Robert R. Bledsoe, Dr. B. C. Kissel, Mr. S. D. Lott, Dr. C. M. Unkovic, and Mr. W. K. Grasty.

In the College of Humanities and Social Sciences, one-year term senators are Mr. Robert L. Bledsoe, Dr. B. C. Kissel, Mr. S. D. Lott, Dr. C. M. Unkovic, and Mr. W. K. Grasty.

In the College of Natural Sciences, two-year term senators are Dr. D. W. Abbott, Dr. L. H. Jackson, Dr. D. S. Arnold, Dr. D. Mays, and Mr. S. E. Oman.

The faculty senate was established at FTU during the 1968-69 academic year. It is comprised of representatives from each college that act together as an advisory group to the administration on matters pertaining to the University. Before the election of Hernandez as chairman, Vice President B. B. Gambrill presided as chairman.

Dr. Robert Humphrey, Director of Continuing Education, recently announced that the Florida School for Alcoholic Studies will be held at FTU August 17-22 and that the Florida L.P. Gas Association will hold a school at Tech to upgrade the knowledge of their members from September 17-22. Members of the L.P. Gas Association will assemble at Tech for lectures and discussion sessions.

The Florida School for Alcoholic Studies is designed to provide training on alcoholism problems for a road category of professional persons and community leaders. The purpose of the course is to provide training in the techniques of working with the alcoholic and his family.

The director of the Alcoholic Studies program is Dr. Charles M. Unkovic, chairman of the department of sociology at FTU, associate professor of education, and head panel discussion and workshops. A former Tech faculty member, Dr. Richard Neel, will also participate in the workshops. Neel is the associate dean of the college of business administration at Georgia State College in Atlanta, Georgia.

Those participating in both of the continuing education programs will live on campus in the residence halls during the sessions.

Chris Schmidt, Summer Senator from College of Humanities and Social Sciences, was elected President Pro Temp for two meetings while Walt Komanski, SG President was away on active duty. Later Schmidt used his presidential prerogative and vetoed Resolution 1-5, dealing with the tuition payment for executive student government positions.

Regents Fail To Confirm Tenure

At a recent Board of Regents meeting the Regents failed to confirm the tenure of professors in the State University System. The tenure was not denied the professors but the motion to grant the tenure was not brought before the board so the matter was heard by the board several members of the board thought it would. State University Chancellor Bledsoe announced that the action was not a sensitive area. It’s essential that academic people have a sense of job security when they’re proven they deserve it.

According to George King, assistant to the president at Tech, it has been “blasted” the at the meeting, evidently giving some people the impression that the Regents have no intention of granting any more tenure at the present. Mauz said it was “extremely unfortunate” that the nine-member board “didn’t have sufficient confidence in the selection process of the university chancellor, in the university presidents, and the chairman.”

Allen, Rollins Appointed

Deans Charles N. Mancini, College of Humanities and Social Sciences at Florida Technological University, and Dr. C. E. Allen of Ohio State University have announced the appointment of Dr. William D. Allen as professor of sociology and Dr. Robert K. Rollins, Jr. as associate professor of psychology.

Allen, a native of Evansville, Indiana, received the A.A. Degree in 1945 from Evansville College, B.S. Degree in 1946, the M.S.W. in 1949 and the Ph.D. in 1963, all from Ohio State University.

Allen has been the recipient of several scholarships and awards and has authored publications and reports. His current professional memberships include the Academy of Certified Social Workers, the American Sociological Association, Council on Social Work Education, and National Association of Social Workers.

Other specifications call for two study-lounges, each 20 by 30 feet and several meeting rooms.

According to the proposal submitted by Lawson, the purpose of the addition is to provide a school of public health education.

In relation to possible interaction of the faculty senate to student government, Hernandez said, "We hope to have a positive role in building this better community. It takes top students, faculty, and administration."
At last we are able to see some results of the weeks of waiting for the landscaping. Daily new palm trees are popping up, planted plants are becoming planted plants, and sod is becoming grass. What may sound like not much is going to make our campus one of the most beautiful in the state.

Only a few years ago the campus of another fairly new State institution, University of South Florida, to be specific, was a barren wasteland which was broken only by the buildings. And beautiful though the buildings were they still looked as if the ground had been scraped clean and the buildings air-lifted in. No one expects a brand new campus to have the stately look of a campus the age of the University of Florida or Florida State, the ivy-on-red-brick look is hard to duplicate. (This beauty, I might add is often marred once you step inside to see the ceiling covering in or find the building burning to the ground from age, as was the case with the historic Wescot Building at Florida State last year). The wise architect does not try to duplicate this look but to find another, one equally stately without depending on age for the stateliness.

It all began when I faced the Director of the Village Center (who seems to be aging quite rapidly, and I am beginning to find out why) around the first of July to ask; "When are we getting our keys back, which were supposedly taken up for inventory?" The poor man suddenly waxed a pale white as a strange look entered his eyes. I could tell I had just gouged a rather deep cut on his scalp. "Keys?" he whispered, "Keys, Keys, Keys?" "Ah yes, Keys!" He sat silent for a moment, like I had just awakened him from a pleasant dream. "I no longer have charge of the..." a silence again filled the office, finally, I heard him mumble "Keys." He then seemed to muster all the courage he could and slowly explained to me that he could give me a form which he would have to sign which I was to take to the security office. He handed the signed form to me (there were four or five copies, starting with a white one, going to a pink, then a blue, then green, and so forth) and patted me on the back as he ushered me out of the office as he said, "Good luck, John, I sincerely hope you make it all right." I found out later that one member of XBA was sent on a similar mission and has not been heard from since.

I arrived at security the same day (is the key in the office? from the VC.) and with my head held high I panned in, totally unexpecting what I was about to encounter. I was greeted by a rather satanic man, who explained to me that he was not certain but he thought I needed to take the form up to the Director of the Physical Plant. (Since I was in the basement, of course, the Director of the Physical Plants office was on the fourth floor.) I went up to the office but found that the director and his secretary had left for the day. I was about to give up as I could remember it was close to 3:30 p.m. I took a quick vote by a show of hands and decided to wait until later to put the matter further.

"Wait I did, in fact until last Tuesday did I wait. I was finally remediated after being locked out of the Fallure office with no one having a master key available for about the twentieth time. I crossed up to the Director of Physical Plants' office, (actually I sent one of the associate officers any thought perhaps the first time was only a delusion which he would not suffer. Delusion it was not, however, for word reached again I found out that it seems the director also needed the signature of the Vice President of Student Affairs. (There was no space for this signature but it must have seemed like the thing to say at the time) I was then supposed to take the signed form back down to security.

Upon reaching the Vice Presidents' office I found he would be back sometime next month and if I wanted to wait I could have a seat over by the wall. Then one of the secretaries (whom I have found are often far more logical than their superiors) suggested that I have it signed by the Dean of Men, which seemed like a good idea and the Dean most cordially did. When I got back down to security (Continued on Page 4)

Pearson Stands Behind Column

He went on to say that Pearson and his colleague Jack Anderson have been worried about this sort of thing time and again.

In a reply to this Sentinel article, during an interview last week, Drew Pearson replied, "Kramer is a man who has long indulged in bull dozing tactics. He likes to threaten. He doesn't think he should be told what to do, regardless of what Mr. Kramer may say," he concluded.

In a recent article appearing in the Orlando Sentinel, Jack McCaslin of Sentinel Washington Bureau, replied to a column by Drew Pearson, an article which dealt with Representative Kramer and a hit and run accident and a dry cleaning business that Kramer has a share in.

Kramer was quoted in the McDonald article as saying that "as usual Pearson has said only what he wants to. He has always been down on conservatives, then he takes tips from his Liberal friends and won't dozing tactics. He likes to threaten."

Bids Coming On Food Plan

By SHULTZ

Pre-bidding of FTU's proposed food plan for next year was held Wednesday. According to Bill Bryants, representative for Morrison's cafeterias and head of the campus cafeteria staff, seven companies, including Morrison's, were to bid for FTU's food contract.

"Morrison's terminated their contract with FTU due to a deficit in profits," said Bryant. "We (Morrison's) were just losing too much money. Too many students were missing meals."

While interviewing some FTU students, the Pittube heard these remarks: "The service is good, but there just wasn't enough food for the money they were charging," said Pete Stone, a commuting senior.

According to Debby Kerben, a sophomore from the UofF, "The food is an 'epicurean delight.' It may not be kosher but the prices are unbelievably economical and it's always enough to keep me full and satisfied."

Said Dave Harding, a 'Touch today' junior, "The food may be bad here, but it's a lot better than my wife's."

15E will mark the announcement for the holder of the new food plan contract. "I like it here," said Bill Bryants.

"I hope Morrison's takes the services."

Could the end be near?

I must have walked around in a daze for a few minutes because the next thing I remember was finding myself in the office of the Director of Physical Plant. The secretary informed me that the Director was not here and that I could leave the application with her and she would see that he signed it. She then told me that they would call me as soon as the keys were ready. I started to ask her how long I was supposed to be in the office to receive the call when I didn't have a key but decided instead to stay outside the door all day and when the phone rang I went to security and see if the key was ready yet.

That is where I am now, sitting in the hall in the VIC, wondering why the heck after all that I still have no key.

Oh well, I guess it keeps my mind off Student Government.

It was once said, "If at first you don't succeed, don't take any more chances."

WFTU To Begin Testing Monday

WFTU, Florida Tech's radio station, will begin testing Monday. The all-campus station will transmit three days a week from 9 to 10 AM the AM dial.

"We want you to try on as many styles as you can and we are all for it," said Bill Bryants. "I hope Morrison's takes the services."
