Film Cutting Talk Was Hot This Week

A controversy over two films scheduled to be shown this year on campus heated up last week.

The future of "The Fox" and "Wild Strawberries" remained somewhat clouded after several meetings were held to discuss the portions of the films that some university officials felt were inappropriate for viewing by the student body.

Both films are award winners and were scheduled to be shown as part of the Village Center's regular calendar of film events. Both films are graphic in their descriptions and both include scenes in their footage.

Several other films, including "Blow Up" and "Rosemary's Baby" had nude scenes in them, but were either shown or scheduled to be shown without comment.

Why "The Fox" and "Wild Strawberries" were singled out for review cannot be explained.

Some behind-the-scenes efforts made this week reached an agreement between the administration who wanted the films cut and the several staff and faculty members who opposed the censorship.

One faculty member was scheduled to appear before the University Events Committee meeting Wednesday in order to appeal the proposed film cutting, but the films were not brought up as part of the agenda.

After some of the smoke had cleared Wednesday, the film boards had reportedly resolved itself thus far; the films would be shown as they were scheduled in the events calendar, and the decision of whether or not the sexy portions would be cut would be up to the Village Center officials.

The bying this week was that the films would be shown in their entirety. (See Editorial on Page 2)

Student Loans Cut To $100

Short term loans from Financial Aid will be limited to a maximum of $100, due to the large number of applications for short term loans, exceeding the amount of money available for loans. Also, due to the increased number of students required by the Financial Aid Office, all applications must be made no later than five days prior to the first day of registration.

Any questions about loan status or information about deferment should also be directed to the Registrar's office. In the words of the Assistant Registrar, "In this case particularly, it's better to be safe than sorry."

Attention 1-As

The Film Review was informed last week that unless over 60 students move quickly they will receive "1-A" draft status for the year.

The students in this situation, according to the registrar's office, are the males who did not have a draft number when they first applied for admission to the University.

These students have since received a draft number, but have not been given the registrar's office that number.

Despite the fact that the office does not have the number, it cannot notify respective boards that these students are now in college.

Any student holding this number, it cannot notify respective boards that these students are now in college.

SG Meeting Far from Dull

Although sparsely ruled the election, it did not rule the meeting. Tuesday's Student Government meeting was anything but dull as many new senators freely joined in the name's discussion.

In old business, the senate approved activity period for movies to be shown and that organizational meetings will be set for 11:00-12:00 Tuesdays and 4:00-5:00 Thursdays.

After going over several points of protocol, the Student Body Constitution and other business, SG president Ron Turner opened up discussion of the problem of the tie for junior senator from Business Administration. It was finally decided that the candidates, Bruce Dowlen and Robert Stevens, would be permitted a two-day campaign with elections the third day. The SG senators from Bus. Ad. and their college governor are in charge of the run-off election procedure.

The SG. senate's support for the Biafra movement according to the registrar's office, was voted on, but without comment. The SG. senate cleared at the end of the meeting several staff and faculty members. According to State Fire Marshal, Orlando, fire laws approved activity period hours for rows of chairs that can legally be placed in the Science Auditorium. Since the office does not have the number, it cannot notify respective boards that these students are now in college.

Why Censorship?

An attempt has been made to censor portions of the movie "The Fox" at Florida Tech. This is a harboured debate about showing movies in the art show on campus a few weeks ago and art, why was it done?

Who, in a university system, supposedly knowing "young America"; would want to see what happens in another country and not let the students who live there? Film, as it were, international awards for excellence and art exhibitions which are shown in leading universities of the world.

What are they afraid of? Why do they think they are going to corrupt? To slam an old cliché in the ground, nobody is forcing anyone this is not the "Fox" movie the he last "Fox" had, but in the first place most FTU students are over 17 and to top that the FTU students are the young people of the county says the students are old enough, why doesn't the university?

Is it a genuine attempt to project the FTU students as a plan to maintain the standards of liberty? Or is it the latter more, nor was anything said about the film "Dulcinea", which is showing tonight.

Most of the opposition is dammed by showing "The Fox". This mess only has damaged the thoughts and respect the students have for the administrative staff who tried to ban the film. It appears to many students that some administrators are trying to run a university where loyalty and friendship are all that is matters, it is few who give the young people a bad name, there are only a few administrative staffs who stifle the ways of their fine fathers.

But how can a student rationalize that he has been banned from seeing part of a movie because just a few administrators decided he couldn't. There are several administrators who are deeply concerned with this situation. These administrators are the ones with the gauges on the pulse of the student body. Be ye, therefore, not discouraged. All is not lost but neither is it saved.

Insurance Info

For FTU Students

Brochures outlining coverage under the Student's Accident and Sickness Insurance Plan may now be picked up in several locations on campus, including the library of the Unions building.

Full-time students are automatically covered under the group policy for the quarter entered. This includes communting students.

Part-time students enrolled in less than seven hours may purchase the insurance. An enrollment form is attached to every brochure.

Off-campus illness and injury are for resident parking.

Any student having a special insurance problem may contact Dr. W. Rex Brown, Dean of Student Affairs.

Resident's Parking

It has come to the attention of the Men's Residence Association that resident students are finding it extremely difficult to park their cars in the resident parking lot. The problem stems from the fact that commuting students, the majority of whom are unaware that the "soft" parking area located between the west of the tennis courts is reserved for resident parking. Would you please make this fact known to your readers so they may make an effort in the future to park in this designated area?

Thank you for your assistance.

Vincent Meets Gas Man-Mazda

Vincent the Vulture

It is officially filed under the "Open but Stamped" section of the "Florida Technological Review" on Nov, 3, 1969.

The "Vulture" (LLRB) is a mass of sticks, branches, bits of old copiers of the FTU, and such stuff. It comprises the happy split level happiness of the various paper villans. Vincent the Vulture, also "The Judge" and "Black Bird of Brochos".

I think this fits the bill of being lecherous that the gruesome

Steady words had drifted to Vulture ears, seared of their punch, a travesty, and all around birds bited by none other than the "Gekko Oracle" "Gas Man" himself. Interested by the beared remarks of the "Alafaya Apparition," Vincent vowed a war vengeance against all that is gaseous and promptly proceeded to search the campus for the den of "Gas Man" leaving behind a trail of destruction and debris. The Purple Mazda, meanwhile, was busy rating his Kelbywald sandwich when he heard the rumble of the crowd "Gas Man". "Curse you, Vincent the Vulture!" the last time he had seen him.

Is this the end of Gas Man? Vincent of the Vulture of the law, order, baseball, apple pie and 2 Wellington Blunts Who knows?

Student Government President

Attention Commuter Students! We will have an activity period for you next quarter. This means that 11:00 a.m. to noon Wednesdays and 4:00-5:00 p.m. on Thursdays will be open for you to participate in clubs, organizations, recreational activities, and the general campus life.

The Student Government Officers have already started this drive and will assist in two ways. First it will help collect food in the community, and secondly it allocated fifty dollars for the purchase of turkeys, foodstuffs, and condiments that make up Thanksgiving dinners. Any student wishing to work on this project can contact the Student Government office in the Village Center.

Ask The Future

Is there ever going to be any kind of daycare center on campus for parents who are attending FTU?

ANSWER: According to Wanda Fierro, Program Director of the Student Center, and Ken Lawson, Director of the Village Center, the student center has been starting a child daycare center on campus here. Parents and of children would be space is reserved for them. At present, even if there was space for a center and parents volunteered for something like this, there would still be an aspect to consider. Ms. Ladys Fanagan of the Welfare Department stated that the state of the State of the State is:

1. Must be closed.
2. Must have liability insurance.
3. Must have competent personnel.

One cut child per day period.

2. Creative activities inside and outside the building.

3. Staff member ten per

6. Must have toilet and lavatories for every 15 children.

7. Must have 48 square feet per child under tents and play areas

Tokes Tweaked

Bob Haseldrew's dazzling 70 yard pass interception return with 1:47 remaining in the game gave Chi Alpha a 19-12 victory over a determined TERE squad. TERE quarterback Steve Denmon had his team ahead 12-0 early in the game with a TD pass to Mike Utz and a 2-point conversion. Chi Alpha then stormed back with a 60 yard bomb from Jim Shaw to Chris Wilson to set up the first Chi Alpha TD. Grady Skrka ran it in for the TD and Jim Carver made the extra point to make the score 19-12 at the half.

The second half was all Chi Alpha as Jim Shaw again unloaded another bomb to Chris Wilson to set up a TD. The first drive stalled but a stubborn XA defense forced TERE to kick from their 1-yard line. Grady Skrka ran it in for the second TD of the half and Jim Carver made the extra point to make the score 26-12.

Library Offers Unique Service

A biweekly digest of higher education news is now at the disposal of every faculty and administrative staff member. Imaginatively titled, "Current Awareness List," the bulletin is unique among colleges and university library services. It may be that no other institution of higher education has ever boated a similar one.

The publication was devised early this year by Bernard L. Foy, chief librarian for the Tennessee Technological University. FtU students on their campus lawn in preparation for the Wendy Martin, Susan Hootke, Kathy Hall and Donna Johnson, co-captain, Marsha Holbrook, Lynn W. Walker, instructor, Elaine Smith, Debbie Dane, Berta Wiggins, and Kathy Hall. Selected as alternates were Wenda Martin and Kathy Lauton.

The girls participated in two weeks of cheerleading clinic prior to try-outs and plan to cheer at FtU's first basketball game at Massay Institute in Jacksonville. The game will be played at Lee High School. Judges of the try-outs were Dean Miller, Sister Wanda Russell, Ken Lawson, Connie Grahan, Larry Snyder, Wally Koonz and unashe Roberts. The cheerleading outfits are gold jumpers with FtU in black letters across the front, black turtleneck tops, and saddle oxford. Sponsor of the cheerleaders is Terje Frazier. The girls plan to form a pep club of which they will be honorary members. All students are encouraged to join and support FtU, said Sandy Wotz, captain. No Scholarships to Be Given for Athletics

By TOM GOFY

Sports Editor

According to Dr. Frank D. Rohrer, College of Education, Florida Technological University will grant no basketball scholarships this year or in the near future.

Some of the reasons for this, given by Dr. Rohrer at a press conference Tuesday, were that scholarships tend to cause athletic disharmony. School exploitation of athletes, NCAA student-athlete recruitment, coaching career, Coach Clark and recent cases of undue pressure on compiled 178 wins and 14 losses. Under Clark's tutelage, Xavier High School football was 78 wins and 14 losses, Under Clark's instruction, Xavier High School was State Tournament Consolation Champions three times. Because of his outstanding performances and record, Clark was honored as Coach of the Year six times.

Coach Clark graduated from Mississippi University where he majored in Social Studies and Physical Education. While in college, Clark played three years of basketball. Clark said he was looking forward to a most successful year at FtU, there are 17 games on the schedule. The first to be played on Nov. 21 at Massay Institute in Jacksonville.

Tech Talk

Room B-3 in the General Classroom Building has been designated as a Study Lounge for students, equipped with tables and approximately 45 chairs. Food and drinks may not be taken into the room and smoking is not permitted.

The room was not originally designed as a lounge and the first priority for the use of the room is for academic purposes. In the event that class schedule conflicts arise, the room will temporarily be used as a classroom.

CHEERLEADERS ARE SELECTED

Eight varsity cheerleaders were selected November 5 to represent FtU at athletic events. They are Sandy Wotz, captain, Donna Johnson, co-captain, Marsha Holbrook, Lynn W. Walker, instructor, Elaine Smith, Debbie Dane, Berta Wiggins, and Kathy Hall. Selected as alternates were Wenda Martin and Kathy Lauton.

Cornell Calls For Relevant Education

Richard A. Cornell, dynamic director of Instructional Media at FTU, recently emphasized the importance of:

is a channel of media," he firmly regards morality, I think, of "Playboy" as a barometer of what is going on in the contemporary world of the student body. The magazine is on reserve behind the main counter "not because the centerfolds have a way of disappearing." He expects to replace the missing centerfolds from his own collection when the time comes to bind the incomplete issues.

This incident reflects Cornell's deep conviction of the urgent necessity to relate campus life to the life the student is actually living. At one time, the liberal 35-year-old educator prescribed for his students Rowan and Martin's television show, "Laugh In." He says, "I think of the show as one of the greatest Satanic formulations of today. Some things in it are satire, but you are seeing very relevant statements being made."

The dashing Cornell, joined the FTU staff in March, 1968. His youthful verve and flamboyant dress belie the retreating hair and a balding head. Radiating energy and affability, he conveys a clear message. He is convinced many problems at college campuses stem from lack of interrelationships between the campus and the new world of the student. He has a solution for bridging the communications gap and getting the classrooms out of the debacles. His solution is the suspend and excitement of the non-book media. These include tape-slide presentations, films, recordings, and a host of advanced methods provided by modern technology. Cornell is committed to the proposition that "The Medium Is the Message." And his office is literally filled with the messages of media.

One day a photographer on Cornell's staff brought him a cluster-sized stereo XA0-Delux tablet which he keeps on the floor near his desk. What does it symbolize? "I believe in working hard and playing hard," he said. He has obviously been a success at both. His desk is a work desk, piled with papers competing for attention. Posters, pictures, conveniences and doges pace each other in colorful profusion on the walls and floor. Among them is an orange and white parachute tied in a bundle. When did he take the parachute? "Just call it unofficial," he grinned, his eyes sparkling.

Black Student To Aid Needy

FTU's Black Student Union (BSU) is sponsoring a Thanksgiving Food Drive, all proceeds of which will go to area needy families. The union plans to contact the Orlando Welfare Department to get names of families for this project. Basket donations are being accepted, and a food area is located in the lobby of the library building.

BSU has initiated a plan to FTU efficient and also to join the drive and at this time Psychology Club, Panhellenic, Inter-fraternity Council, and Student Government plan to participate. The purpose of this is to get the students to contribute food.

For those students who are interested in the project but cannot give canned food, donations may be made. Contributions may be taken to Dan Slater, president of BSU, and the money will be used to buy food.

"We are appealing for cooperation from the students, faculty, and staff in this new and important need community project," said Slater.

SOMETIMES the headaches for Richard Cornell, director of Instructional Media get big enough for this kind of relief, but Cornell is the type of guy who can stand back, look at the problem and snap back with a solution.

The Mascot Committee has been appointed, and the following persons will serve as representatives of the students, faculty, and staff: Wayne Leland, chairman; Susan Austrey, Charles Stevens, Tony Wawrzycki, Dr. James S. Dyer, Mr. Henry Hill.

That this purpose of this committee will be to implement the selection of a mascot for FTU.

The mascot will be a representation of American Indians and the title "Mascot" will be adopted. Other local schools interested in the selection of a mascot for FTU.

"Students have an obligation to themselves and to society to be informed of the problems concerning mascots. We urge all students to concern themselves and come out to hear Father Kibride, a dynamic speaker, who has a film recommended at the time."

Fire Laws

Laws demanding the building be fireproof, and besides, the Union Park Fire Department is only five minutes away," said one safety official.

In less than five minutes, a smoke-filled auditorium could create a dangerous panic, state fire officers said. A spokesman for the local office of the state fire marshal told the Future he would come on campus immediately and inspect the auditorium.

President Charles Millican, when asked about the auditorium, said, "We will see to it that the fire marshal inspects the auditorium, and if changes are needed they will be immediately made. The safety of the students comes first."

A local office of the state fire marshal finds that the auditorium is in violation, several seats in each row will be removed to create a center aisle.

Rollins Prof. In One-Man Show

By BARBARA R. Pietrzak

By courtesy of the Library floor, a projected show of art by Professor Thomas Peterson of Rollins College, who has created a work in woodcuts, etchings, acrylics, and serigraphs, is on display from November 15 to 20.

Professor Peterson, the chairman of the art department at Rollins has not only given the public the opportunity to observe his work but also has exhibited it in a medium that is new to this college.

Mr. Peterson does have talent and is undoubtedly gifted. This is the crux of the problem. Why should one habitually resort to borrowing in order to create? Mr. Peterson does not have to and this is justified by observance of three prints titled: "Departure I," "Moon Studies," and "Departure II." These three works plus an unusual acrylic in a perspective are not only well executed but fascinating to view.

Overall it might be said that this is an attractive show that is handsomely hung and displays good taste on the part of the artist but also reveals a vacuum. And that is essentially this-a vacuum will not be present if the artist has instilled something of himself that is expressive of the individual self and not a fabrication of the work of others.

IFC Recognizes Two Frats

The Central Florida Chapter of the American Red Cross was making an imporant three-week campaign to help open channels of communication between the U. S. and the more than 1,000 American servicemen known or suspected to be captivity in the North Vietnam government. The Red Cross has been attempting to coordinate a drive to raise interest among U. S. citizens in this cause, and has sought out the group of citizens most concerned about the war and about our men—the college student.

Class for POWs

The glass windows on the dormitory buildings approved by Board of Trustees have been estimated at a cost of 11 to 12 thousand dollars. The Lowest tender was submitted by Donald, of Tallahassee, and the labor arrangement were made by Fred Church.

There will be no changes in the building plans of the FTU and the more effort when the state architect in Tallahassee approves the plans. The Central Florida Chapter of the American Red Cross was making an imporant three-week campaign to help open channels of communication between the U. S. and the more than 1,000 American servicemen known or suspected to be captivity in the North Vietnam government. The Red Cross has been attempting to coordinate a drive to raise interest among U. S. citizens in this cause, and has sought out the group of citizens most concerned about the war and about our men—the college student.

The Fearless Toad is Challenged

Toad Told Off

Behind the veil of anonymity lurks an average member of the mass student body, commonly known as "The Toad." Not desiring to have his average body molded by the average FTU female bodies, he remains "The Toad," a personality who claims to appreciate the finer points of the average member of the mass FTU female bodies.

Appropriately, itself, is the key. That all is a woman requires. For a mass student to be able to appreciate, he must have soul, a characteristic which "The Toad" claims is easily obtained. Many unfortunate women must substitute material forms of expression for the thing: true appreciation. There is no way to substitute with a woman. She prefers accumulating "things" to mimicking a man.

Some great men, Howard Hughes, for example, have found ways to have it all. Mr. Hughes appreciated the finer points of the female to the extent that he and invested in cantilevered brassieres, thereby bringing them back on form. Everyone cleaned up. The living glee of the average man is complained of this. Many women who formerly could not explain a bad right situation are now STARs and owe it all to Mr. Hughes. They are grateful to have a man who appreciates and remember him nightly in their prayers.

and singing in a burlesque house. Cornell was also recognized for his contributions to significant achievements. Two of his ideas had been entered for a chance to win an entry in two film festivals to be held within the next few months in Hollywood, Calif., and New York City.

The strips were made from stills obtained by Cornell's trip through East Africa during the summer of 1967 for the American Association of Collegiate Women Educators (AACTE). He titled the initial film, "A Contemporary Local of the East Africa."

Among Cornell's numerous publications is an article which appeared in the March, 1967 issue of Audventional Instruction entitled, "Can Industry Educate the Educator?"

Cornell emphasized his belief that classroom instruction must be relevant to the actual life of the student. He pointed out that the student is bombarded by messages from the time he gets up in the morning until he is known for the student assistants, he observed, "We have to do a sale job, not a con job," he said. It is more concerned that not enough people are really aware of the student, and that he should be involved in the course work. If you are going to claim "Assent on the Individual," then do it!

On the other hand, "FTI faculty must understand that students move, percentage-wise, and use it more effectively than any other part of the student universe," he observed. His division, which serves all colleges at FTI, is sucked away at the foot of the ramp leading around such technology as the seven member staff rubs elbows with Security, Finance, Counselor, etc. How to practice what he preaches. This past summer, Dr. Richard S. Grove, his wife Clarissa, and their five children, Allison, Jeffrey, Eric, Amy and Stephen, headed their Volkswagen bus south out of Columbia, Missouri-destination, Orlando. And they brought along Shane, a Shetland sheep dog who, Grove says, "Vaguely resembles Alan Ladd and periodically runs away, Brian, 'Come back Shane!"

Since September, Dr. Grove, a Victorian Literature major with a minor in 19th Century British history, has been associated with the FTU English Department. A graduate of San Juan Rey College, the University of Notre Dame, and the University of Missouri, he accepted a position at FTU because he liked the "idea of being a part of a new university" and he is interested in seeing "if it can maintain a small university atmosphere as it grows larger and larger."

Dr. Grove spent four years in the U.S. Navy. When asked if he had ever considered a career in the USN he replied, "I found the Navy not so bad as many of my friends said but not as good as the recruitment promised." While stationed in Okinawa, Grove created a sensation by falling off the ship, Dared by another seaman to ascend the side of the ship by the Jacob's ladder he said, "Yes, why not?" But halfway up his arm gave out, so there he hung, in full battle dress (complete with helmet). "Like a fools bear on an eucalyptus tree. They called out the entire ship," he said, "the English, my boat and almost every Marine. And thinking to myself that probably was the better part of valor, I fell into Borken Bay. When they fished me out a big cheer went up. This was, perhaps, the height of my naval career."

At one time Grove wanted to be a musician (he plays the piano) and at another time, an artist. He prefers the medium of pen and ink and one of his masterpieces is the drawing of a stapler. He likes to make dry goods of the common thereby bringing out aspects that are generally overlooked.

Among his varied interests Dr. Grove included baseball, golf, walking and TV commercial watching. He says, "Many TV commercials are more advanced and more interesting than the programs now on. The techniques are better for the cast."

The definite dates for MOTHAs production of "Titus Andronicus" have been set for December 3-7. The play has not been delayed or postponed, since November 15 was only the tentative date for the opening performance.

Dr. David Mays said the extension of time will provide for a better production, and the cut in rehearsals from five nights a week to four nights is better for the cast. He added that some of the actors objected to having fewer rehearsals, but he felt that they did not need such extensive practice weekly.

The rehearsals are going on schedule, and Dr. Mays is very pleased with the actors, who are adapting well to the problems posed by the Shakespearean play. Rehearsals are closed to the public because Mays feels that a visitor who does not know what to expect from a rehearsal will be disappointed with what he sees.

Dr. Mays emphasized that although admission to "Titus Andronicus" is free to FTU students upon the presentation of their student IDs, those who wish to attend must call 276-3961 for reservations. Admission for adults will be $1.50 and non-FTU students will be 75 cents.
