So you wish to be Student Body President of Florida Technological University? Executive elections are coming up May 21 and 22 and if you haven't really considered the possibility of running for an executive position, let me give you some interesting, and hopefully apathy-doling, facts.

If you think university politics is "child's play," here's something to consider: did you know that control of $400,000 in student activity fees? Of this amount, $15,000 goes toward the operation of Student Government. The President receives a $350 per quarter scholarship plus $2,000 in travel expenses, $255 for public relations, $150 for publications and library. But money isn't everything! In fact, it's a mere compensation.

The President's power as outlined in the Student Body Constitution is virtually unlimited: to administer and enforce all statues, to write or sign acts of the Senate, to preside at all SG meetings, to appoint his cabinet and numerous other positions, to co-sign all financial expenditures, and those are only a few of his powers. If the proposed institutional amendments are ratified, the President's power and responsibilities will greatly increase.

Florida Technological University's Student Body President is also in the best position between the student body and the administration. His position also places him and FSU in statewideight as he represents the university at various state-wide conferences and meetings, as well as the Student Body Presidents' Board of Regents Meetings. As he attends local public and social functions he becomes recognized and, second only to President Millican, comes to represent FSU.

FTU Yardmen Do Their Bit

For Charity and Campus

Orlando Attorney H. James Brett Lane home is crammed with cow bells, old pistols, statues and other items he purchased in a moment of passion.

That's why Brett was the high bidder on one item at the recent FESCO charity auction. He'll never purchase a university president before, so this was his chance.

What he bought, for about $80 (Brett really doesn't recall how much he bid) was the PTU President Charles Millican and his three vice presidents for a morning's yardwork.

Proof that Brett is an impulsive buyer was that the attorney is known for his perfectly kept lawn (which includes an orchid greenhouse). So why would he need a special yard service?

"It was for charity," Brett explained, "and I really didn't want the president to feel he had to work in the yard.

Maybe so, but President Millican, an avid gardener, insisted. In fact he said he'd bring along members of the administration to help out.

Brett countered by announcing he would "work" his crew for a couple of hours last Saturday morning, then turn the men over to a group of students on campus who were involved in an ecology clean up campus campaign.

Dr. Millican, Vice President W. Ross Brown, Dean Robert Kersten and Administrative Planning Director John Williams all arrived at 8 a.m. Saturday with rakes and bush axes in hand, ready to labor in the fields.

Instead, Brett had a lavish breakfast prepared, complete with Bloody Mary's for those who wanted a morning waker upper. After a tour of the grounds, a second cup of coffee and several group shots for local press photographers, time had slipped away and Dr. Millican noted that the students were waiting at FTU.

To satisfy the FESCO purchase, a few of Brett's hedges were given some vigorous clipping, then the crew drove to the campus, where a pickup truck filled with trash awaited. The junk had already been collected earlier in the morning by Dr. Henry O. Whittier, Associate Professor of Natural Sciences and Millican's ecology students.

There were no more fancy breakfasts, no stalls along busy swimming pools, but Millican and the others were still ready to go.

Out they went to the edge of Lake Crane. Boxes were distributed to everyone, administrators, students spread out to police the underbrush surrounding the lake.

Dr. Millican, Dr. Brown, Dr. Kersten and Williams pitched in, ignoring the hot sun and hard work. They and the students removed old station and one of the interior of an 18th century house.

Both the MPR and the snack bar will be used. The snack bar will remain on the campus in which it is being entered and tables for couples. The permanent season will be shut out by royal blue curtains, and the general decorations will have an interior setting. Along the glassed (Continued on Page 11)

Letters To The Editor

Mascot Coverage Question

Dear Editor:

Isn’t it the obligation of the University newspaper to report objectively on Mascot coverage questions of the University community at large? Many members of the community are voicing the question in “yes,” then why does the student newspaper preach the negative side of any story? Each issue is not written by a single reporter, so why now, retailing the FTU is causing ripples in the history of journalistic purity.

Clear in print is the FTU's treatment of the Mascot. They have had over a year to stimulate interest in Mascot treatment by the student. They have had over a year to be creative. When they do not use Little except the name of the Mascot, they have selected. Why should the FTU have the right to alone so the University Mascot for the rest of the year?

The Mascot Committee has worked hard to sort, study, and consider every aspect of Mascot treatment by the University community. We feel that their conclusions are a good job and would like to hold the editors of this issue to the charge of the Committee to the end to the University.

It’s not that the FTU staff made the Cox creative talents to present the good points on each Mascot and give us a good picture of mascots, except Cartoons are a cute idea—but why don’t cartoonists? If the FTU continues to knock the Mascot, we will not have a Mascot, and we hope that both Mascot will not be a Newman dubs us with one that we do not live with just choosing.

Mascot Coverage Question

Deer Editor,

For background, I am on the Lake Claire Committee for student activities, which is a group that meets weekly. When the lake was developed, the state department was going to use Lake Claire as a water recreation project. Then the department had a plan to put a boat dock at the end of the dam. That would have increased boat traffic and lake recreation purposes. Then the state department was going to use Lake Claire for recreation purposes.

The Orange County Pollution Control Board said that the boat dock should be moved because it would increase pollution in the lake. The board said that the water quality would be contaminated if the boat dock was built. That was the reason that the state department stopped its plans to build the boat dock.

Our committee began checking out the pollution problem. "Execution" stopped all we can do. The committee has talked to organizations who by their "out parking" or execution, they could do, but they could not help us.

These organizations, like the state legislature and the Orange County Pollution Control Board, did not do anything. But in the long run, they could not stop waste from flowing into the lake. They did not have the power to stop pollution. They only had the power to pass legislation to help control pollution. The pollution board, however, did not pass the pollution control legislation.

Another example of "hot air" pollution was the earth day program. Even though there were three days on earth day, we heard enough about what the problems were for a long time. At the end of the day, a person made a positive statement dealing with the health of the earth. Dr. Vickers said that he would like to see HOT pollution completely from the market today, now. The rest of the speakers told us a lot about the health of the earth. We have not had solutions for years, but no solutions.

I have been giving money on useless things as war and spend it on pollution. Let the state thermal pollution of the air by advertising. We are talking about the health of the earth. We are only talking about the health of the earth. We are talking only about the health of the earth.

Senator, College of Education

Only A Handful

Dear Editor:

Before the Earth Day Step I felt that the subhead, "Only a Handful of students have been concerned," was very unfair and inappropriate. You might have mentioned that the administration apparently did not care enough to cancel classes during Earth Day. I don’t expect to skip.

L.W. Ed. Note: The Teach-In began at 11 a.m. on April 21, and continued until 3 p.m. in a University open hour and a half. Approximately 125 students signed up for the teach-in. Approximately 125 students signed up for the teach-in. The teach-in was only a handfull of activities were concerned.

Village Day Scenes

Mass Attendance

A Village Day was an interesting day for many residents at FTU. With an attendance of approximately 60 students, the events were overcrowded. Although there were more concerns than expected for the events, one judge stated, "My job is harder with the masses, but it’s nice to see a lot of active and concerned students at Tech."

After one hour of letting out the string, a winner appeared at the Kite Flying Contest. All of the contestants had either lost their kites or didn’t have as much string as the winner. The winning team was composed of Dave Jackson and Dave Sebastian, and they set a new school record of 4800 feet. A silver trophy was presented to the winners.

The completion was close in the Frisbee Contest. The first place winners were Don Dobbs and Dave Sebastian. They won with an 82 feet, 8 inch string of the field. One of the players missed the 12 inches, and were Fred Carter and Dave Jackson. The day’s activities ended with a co-ed dance at the Student Center-Patio. The barbeque chicken was the highlight of the event.

Parent’s Day Scheduled for May 5

Parents’ Day is scheduled for May 5. The purpose of the day is to get all parents together to discuss the formation of a regular organization.

Plans for Parents’ Day have been developed by the committee of interested parents, and activities will begin with the business meeting to discuss goals and organization of the Parents’ Association. A meeting will be held at 11 a.m. by participation in Greek Week. Greek Week will be a fun, fun, and style show at noon, and campus tours at 1:15.

All parents of FTU students, or anyone interested, are welcome, but it is requested that people planning to attend contact the Office of the Dean of Women at 275-2824, so that an accurate count of the expected guests may be kept.

"Time of Your Life"
Set for Six Curtains

The performance dates for MOTHA's production of William Saroyan's "Time of Your Life" have been set at May 21-23 and May 25-27. Dr. David Mays said that the rehearsals have been "very encouraging, very beautiful," "gentle," "unexpected," and the abrupt shifts from one of the characters to another makes the play difficult. Dr. Mays stated that the cast is being required to perform in a different style from one set to another, and that they are working very hard. The play is removed in time and era-the 1930's—this is unfamiliar to most of the students who are acting in it, but it is perfectly realistic for that era.

The cast of 22 is primarily composed of students who have been in the earlier plays. The major roles are as follows:

Joe, a young man who "drinks only when he’s awake..." Jim Fay. Tom, a younger man, an errand boy for Joe. Rick. Kitty, a "whore with a heart of gold..." Marie Black.

Nick, the bartender. Ray. Astrid. Curt. Kiki, who may be the original. Mike. Hair. Wally, the pinch will, Jim Ganter.

Other members of the cast include Ron Ferrie, Tim Clements. Bill Dumas, Art Lobelmann. Russ Bearden.=

Among the diverse types of characters in the play are a piano player, an Arab whose one line throughout the play is "No foundation," a "typical American law," and a type of man who is one of whom is definitely fascist.

Dr. Mays found it hard to express the potential of the play. He said that he thinks Saroyan is trying to show that America was like in 1939, through images of lovable dissidents. Saroyan creates an ideal American "set-up"—a bar—where the characters go to "drink and loaf around." As one of the characters says, "Twenty-three and a half out of the 24 hours are spent waiting." The characters' life of relative harmony is threatened by an authoritarian policeman, who must be destroyed, but it is the story of the past in the person of Kiki Caon that finally accomplishes the act of destruction.

Dr. Mays explained that "The Time of Your Life" is like music—it doesn't have to mean anything, but it achieves an emotional response. The immediate response is one of good will; another is one of concentrating on all that is beautiful and good, and killing whatever threatens those qualities.

The theme of "The Time of Your Life," like the theme of the other plays of the same period, is concerned with essentially peace-loving persons who are forced to become violent. The play is neither pro-war nor anti-war; it simply accepts the "necessity" of violence.

Bio. Club Sets Poster Contest

The Biology Club is sponsoring a "Best Poster—Best Picture" contest on pollution. The idea of the contest is to present your view "coming pretty well" and to carry along the idea of Earth Day.

To enter a poster, draw, paint, or use any technique. Posters on poster board no larger than 22x28 inches. For a picture, take a color or black and white picture being no larger than 8x10 inches.

Deadline for entries is Monday, May 18. Posters and pictures may be turned in at the Village Center Desk. Judging will take place Thursday, May 19 with the winners announced in the Pu'Tuev, May 22.

A $10 prize will be given for the first place in each category with three honorable mentions given for second place. All winners and honorable mention winners will be displayed in the Library Lobby from May 27 to June 1.

Mattson: Research, Rockets, Chemistry

Mattson has gathered together a superior staff of dedicated faculty-teachers from diverse walks of life, business, industry publishing and other universities, and many areas of the United States. For the most part, these teachers are dedicated to their profession--interested in the founding and propagation of a superior university--and in the aspect on the individual which FTU has accepted for its motto. Such a man is Dr. Guy C. Mattson, who teaches freshman organic chemistry, to freshmen, sophomores, juniors and seniors.

Dr. Mattson was born in New Jersey, World War II was declared while he was in school, and upon graduation he enlisted in the Navy where he spent the next three years on a ship patrolling the Atlantic Ocean. After his discharge, Dr. Mattson enrolled in Union College at Schenectady New York under the GI bill where he received his BS. After working for a few years in industry, Dr. Mattson returned to the University of Florida, where he was awarded his doctorate in Organic Chemistry. For his doctoral thesis he worked on the development of drugs that would have the pain-killing properties of morphine but would not be addictive. Dr. Mattson has developed and studied thirty different chemical compounds. Although none of them were addictive and although all of them produced some analgesic effects, they were all commercially profitable.

Cheerleaders Selected for 1970-71

They will, jump, scream, cry, run, pray, and clap. The overused word “apathy” is one they’ll never hear. Their main goal is providing that much needed background noise to make just a little harder.

If the team wins, they’re happy and they show it with praise and tears. And if the team loses, they always feel a little better when they hear, “that’s okay, next time we’ll mame ‘em”.

They’re cheerleaders and FTU selected 10 new ones for 1970-71. The squad for next year will consist of the following girls: Lorraine Denapo, Sherry Fried, Chris Hard, Susan Hoolick, Marsha Holbrook, Donna Johnson, Kathy Lauten, Wendy Martin, Dawn Thornton, and Sandy Worden, six of which were members of this year’s squad. Trina Frasier will remain as advisor.

Because of a lack of school funds being available, the new squad plans to work this summer to raise money for traveling expenses in the fall, when they hope to follow the basketball team to New York City.

Tomorrow at 10:30 a.m. at the Rollins field, the four new cheerleaders will be stepping up this year’s squad as they cheer for the soccer team. The Cheerleaders would like to urge all students, faculty, and staff members to come out and support the team. Clubs and organizations are being challenged for the highest attendance at the Pep Rally scheduled to be held between the doors of 11 noon today.

MRA Favors FM Frequency

The Men’s Residence Association Monday announced that it was in favor of a campus radio station broadcasting to all of Orlando on an FM frequency. A resolution, co-sponsored by MRA President Ed Wightman and Representative Paul Gospodem, proposed that MRA put a unanimous vote to Monday.

Representative Dave Jackson questioned whether campus radio station WPFT could broadcast on an FM frequency. According to station sources, to broadcast city wide, WPFT would have to obtain a Federal Communications Commission license. Such a license is usually granted for a campus radio to favor the campus.

Gospodem stated he was in favor of such move to FM so all FTU students could enjoy a station that has “added a lot to the FTU campus.” He further stated that WPFT was the most valuable teaching aid to serious radio broadcast majors, MRA President Wightman and that he felt the station provided one of the most valuable assets to residents and communication majors.

YR’s Push For FCC License

The Young Republicans voted Thursday to push for a FCC license to broadcast to Orlando Young Republicans have been pushing for such a license to provide responsible programs to benefit the students of the campus. The vote was 13 to 1 at the voting age to 18, and other programs are part of this program.

A program was initiated that the YR’s will broadcast to benefit the campus. One is the FuturEke program that is the other is WPFT radio.” according to club Chairman Paul Gospodem.

Director, YR, historian, said he agreed with Gospodem, but went one step further. Cohen proposed that WPFT become a real radio station and broadcast with an FCC license. "Many other major universities have a station with a FCC license. Why can’t we?" Cohen retorted. "The Young Republicans can be a need for a campus radio station in Orlando. As a result the YR’s passed a resolution to support b oth students and the Administration.

Shannon Speaks Out!

By Barbara R. Pietrzak

Last week in the Science Auditorium, there was held a highly stimulating lecture by Dr. Robert Shannon, a traveling lecturer and professor from the University of South Florida who believes a well attended group of occasion was at 4 p.m. on Thursday and a part of one of the many offerings open to the university at large by the College of Education. The subject was, “Are the schools doing enough with the materials, resources, and physical plants at hand within the continental United States? Perhaps to be more specific, the subject should be identified as school architecture.

The subject and the overall theme of this stimulating talk by an accomplished and well-traveled professor was the relevancy of school architecture to the present and to the past. The contention was that even though we have “progressed” to the point where we have well furnished classrooms, brightly lit, spacious, and thoroughly up-to-date in many areas there is something very basic lacking.

Dr. Shannon pointed this out through the medium of slides that the successful school does not have to be necessarily bright and well stocked with the latest innovations to achieve the goal of educating each and every child. Indeed some of the schools pictured in the slides were “way out in the country” he referred to as “anything other than the way you’ve always done it.” In other words, if one considers that they were located “within” the community instead of outside (the schools cited are neighbors or in Washington, D.C., and Philadelphia, Pa.), and instead of the children, they were needed. Also, they were innovations in the formulas of how to educate the child in that they stressed the cultural, the artistic, the moral, and the elementary scientific aspects. These did and have proven to be better trained at effective in reaching deprived children than were the schools considered a lost cause.

The message Shannon as a dramatic visionary and as an equally mesmerizing speaker, forces the

The Villagers and Martenson won the 1970 Intergalactic Music Festival Midwestern Pop and Folk Competition on April 18 and 19 at Southern Illinois University in Edwardsville for their folk and pop acts from midwestern colleges gathered to compete for regional titles.

Vocalist Christine Raro of Southwest Minnesota State College and Rick Martenson from the University of Illinois provided strong competition for the Midland Villagers in the pop category, while Martenson edged David and Christopher, a folk duo from the University of Missouri at Kansas City, and Jefferson College’s Kirk Jackson in the final round of the competition.

The Edwardsville winners join eight other acts selected and the winners of the San Diego University competition, which will be held on May 1-2, in the national finals of the Intergalactic Music Festival. The Festival finals will be held on August 1-2 in the Great Mississippi River Festival site on the banks of the Mississippi River, by Southern Illinois University.

Everyone talks about it. In JL, do something about it with a sleeveless sheath in shape, keeping boned rayon and foe. Stay in fashion with contrast stitching, top and pint scarlet, White/yellow, yellow/red, red/grey, brown/orange. 3 to 15.

The TAU won the golf tournament held last weekend by defeating Florida's Florida State. The team was only a fraction of a stroke, but enough to put them in the TAUS third place running for the overall sports trophy.

They Clean Up at FTU

By Nancy Smith

If ever there was a happy group at FTU, it has to be the crew made up of the Building Service Department. Seen bustling about with cleaner and rags swishing, polishing, dusting, and performing the multitudinous tasks involved with daily maintenance of a building, these maid are known by many, from names aloud about their teasing and humor.

For example, one student laughed that he "being upstairs he was a paper bag for putting his feet on the wall," and another maid was seen speaking pairs of people who tramped over her floor. Another was cleaning the library entrance.

"We're like a big family," says Margaret Tanner, superintendent, referring to the 13-day maid. This is apparent to anyone seeing the maids on a coffee break together, teasing, laughing, and serving as a collective "Dear Abby" to any maid with a problem. But don't be fooled. Those maids put in a long, difficult day. Work goes from 7 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., with only 15 minutes for a short break. Work means dusting, polishing doors and desks, emptying waste baskets and ash trays, spot cleaning, cleaning woodwork and, for one maid, making President Milliken's coffee. All this involves making several circuits of every floor and building during the day and numerous trips to the supply rooms in the basement.

Work may be hard now, but it was even harder when the university first opened. The original three maids came here to find a job at the 10-cent-a-job rate and even a can of cleaner. Everything was brought from home, and no cleaning was done in coffee cups or on elevators. Uniforms were in short supply, and polishes were Nicholas and were for sale at a higher price. Now, the maids have one of the best houses." Indeed, Lloyd F. Preston, head of the physical plant, says they have everything they need: basic supplies, such as polish, and uniforms, and contributed to making a young, low-salary cap, and anything else that was needed.

Now, however, the maids have "one of the best houses," Lloyd F. Preston, head of the physical plant, says they have everything they need: basic supplies, such as polish, and uniforms, and contributed to making a young, low-salary cap, and anything else that was needed.

Dr. William E. Taylor, Professor of English at Stetson University, was guest lecturer April 29, for the Contemporary American Culture class offered by the Humanities Department.

He is currently Professor of English at Stetson University and has published numerous poems, articles and three plays.

The Contemporary American Culture Series is conducted by Dr. Stephen B. Levenson of FTU's Humanities Department Wednesday evening during Spring Quarter from 7:00 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. The class is open to the public and is held in the General Classroom Building Room 115.

Dr. Taylor spoke on American poetry. His tab was entitled "Bravery and the Beast, or American Poetry Since 1945."

Soccer Team To Meet Toughest Foe

Rollins to Provide Opposition for FTU

The FTU Soccer Team will meet Rollins College tomorrow in the biggest and most spirited game of the season. The game will begin at 2:30 p.m. and will be played on the Rollins field. The Rollins team is presently ranked sixth in the nation and has an existence since 1955. The FTU team has only been practicing for eleven weeks and is still planning on a big battle. The Tech squad is confident of a win and urges all students, faculty and staff to come out Monday afternoon to support the team.

Inter Fraternity Council has agreed to get all fraternity to support the team.

A car caravan in honor of the squad was held yesterday and a peal will be held at noon today. The rally will be sponsored by the cheerleaders who will also cheer at the game tomorrow.

FTU Baseball Coach

In There Pitching

By Tom Gert

The FTU Baseball Club's team will be under the leadership of Coach Jack Pianello. Coach Pianello came to FTU with an outstanding record of coaching as well as participating in Tech. Coach Pianello was born in Brooklyn, New York and lived there until he reached the eighth grade. From there he moved to Washington, D.C. and that is where his sports career began. At Eastern High School, Coach Pianello earned seven varsity letters playing baseball and football. His position was pitcher on the baseball team. From high school he went on to play pro baseball for 3 years.

Three years of the Navy brought Coach Pianello to Central Florida where he had lived for the past 13 years. It was either college or pro ball after the Navy; and Coach Pianello chose college. He attended Orlando Junior College for a year and then went on to University of Florida for four years. At Gainesville Coach Pianello made the varsity team and was ineligible because of his pro status.

In the Fall of 1969 Coach Pianello came to FTU to finish his education.

For the past 13 years, Coach Pianello has been involved in some kind of coaching. He has coached American League ball, Little League, Pony League and senior boys at his church, First Presbyterian of Orlando. All of his teams have had excellent records.

Besides being a student at FTU Coach Pianello works part time for the minor league, the V.M.C.A., and umpires Orlando city league games. He is the Director of the Gainesville Senior Softball during the summer.

Coach Pianello currently resides in Orlando. His hobbies are fishing, reading, building models, and working with young people. He likes to spend as much time as possible with his wife Susan and two daughters, Niki (3 yrs. old) and Charmise (3 yrs. old).

When asked why he chose baseball above all other sports Coach Pianello explains simply, "I was at it all." He adds: "I liked to watch baseball but I was no good; I was good in football, but I cheated out because of my size".

As far as the future goes, Coach Pianello has no definite plans. He says he may move to Florida State University to receive his masters degree. His ultimate ambition is to get back into coaching for a varsity college team.

Men Play in Men's Football Competition

The football season for in bowling competition is the week of May 10. A total of 10 individuals will comprise team. The first meet only deadline is May 20 with competition beginning May 21.

Admin. Glass Now Arriving

Although another shipment of the golden thermal glass for the Administration Building arrived this morning, Physical Plant still does not know when the building will be heated. The glass, which is directly from the Kinney Glass Company in New Jersey, is necessary before the contractor can finish the floor of the third floor.

Ralph D. Penne, Assistant Director of Physical Plant, stated it would be hard to say when the reflecting pool will be finished. At this time, the FTU staff is pumping the water from the pool so that the bottom may be cleaned and the water from the Florida weather may affect the completion of the pool; if it should rain, there would be a delay in the pumping and the pouring of the concrete.

FTU Golfers To Meet USF

The new FTU golf team defeated the First Baptist Church at Pine Hills team April 28, 17-3. The outstanding players were Ron Cordell, Charlie Thomas, Walter Shain, and Steve Barnes. The smoothest performance was given by Willis Perkins, the picker who buzzed the Baptists with his vertical drop ball.

CAMPUS GLANCES
Deans of Women from nearly all of Florida's state universities met at FTU last Monday for the first of what is to become regular quarterly meetings. The deans gathered to discuss common problems, such as drug, legal status of women, and abortions. It is hoped that the meetings will lead to greater understanding between universities and greater cohesion in action on common problems and measures.

Gwen Sarchet, FTU's Dean of Women, commented that this meeting was mainly organizational in nature, although the deans did discuss several current troubles and topics. There will also be meetings of the Deans of Men, perhaps in conjunction with the other meetings. This first meeting was also attended by Dr. William Proctor, FTU's Dean of Men, and the Dean of Men from the University of Florida.

In preparation for the upcoming executive elections, several Student Constitutional Amendments have been proposed. The proposed amendments are reprinted below and will be brought up for ratification at the next meeting.

If you have strong convictions, pro or con, concerning these proposed amendments, you are urged to write to your Senator in care of the Student government office before the May 12th meeting.

On April 11, a new fraternity was recognized on campus by the Inter-fraternity Council subject to the usual approval process. Delta Tau Fraternity voltes their ideals as a chance to enrich their lives and have a meaningful relationship and an opportunity to learn from other men in a unique living situation.

The members of Delta Tau have adopted the ideals of their prospective national fraternity, Delta Tau Delta, and show this in their anti-hazing pledge. The hazing problem on campus is not solved by Delta Tau Fraternity.

After placing first in the fraternity division in inter-sigal tennis, P.E.'s tennis team has advanced to the finals in the Inter-Fraternity Council Tennis Championships.

This group, supported by the American Flag and the Jolly Roger was stationed at Colonial Plaza Mall. The collective drive was a success.

Leann Pendley, The ceremony took place at St. John Vianney Chapel followed by a reception at the Randam Inn South.

Brothers of T.F. would like to congratulate their newest brother, Roger Smith, for completing a successful pledge period.

T.A.U. Fraternity now faces the coming business of the quarter after a weekend of social activity and service. Last Friday the T.A.U.S enjoyed the sounds of a band and the comforts of Nok Hill during the party held on that night. Saturday saw the successful project of the Petite diner completed, as the brothers worked during the day managing various collections stations throughout the county.

The T.A.U.S are anxiously practicing for the upcoming season which is about to begin. The outstanding players for the T.A.U.S from last year are all back and ready for another victorious season. T.A.U.S also continue in competition for the tennis title, with matches to be played Sunday.

The past informal Spring Rush sees five new men joining the ranks of the full T.A.U. Pledge Class. The fraternity is proud to announce that the members of this new class are Jim Hurkeh, Tom Poppell, Jerry Town, John Wilson and Mike Holloway.

The sisters and new pledges of Tri K ended the past weekend. They practiced at the beach. Football, surfing and food kept the day full of fun.

After a rush party at the Davis's on the sand in the Frances community, Dancing as the sun set, Debbie Rice, Debbie Tennant, Charlie Rice, Nina Fink, Arabella Town, Connie Evans, Cheryl Fox, and Peggy Ochs. Monday night these girls will become initiated as pledges and the sisters look forward to a new class pledge.

Last Saturday Tri K worked with T.A.U.S at the Patricio Centers stationed in sight shopping centers around Orlando.

Student From Lebanon Tells All

This is the first of a two-part feature on Lebanon.

Fadi Ibarra, a Lebanon student at FTU, is the first of his kind to be featured in the Student Life section. Lebanon is a small country, but its people are proud of their heritage.

Beginning...Here

Situated at the eastern end of the Mediterranean, the Republic of Lebanon measures only 156 miles long by 31 miles wide.

Lebanon, a country of rocks, cedars, trees, surrounded by mountains, is cut off from its neighbors by the sea.

The country is divided into four parallel zones:

A. Coastal Plain, squeezed between the Mountain and the low sandy shores of Mount Lebanon.

Mount Lebanon, the mountain itself, and the ancient and magnificent cedars, are the holy ground of the Lebanese people. It gives the country its name.

C. The Bekaa This area is a fertile valley between the mountains and the cultivated terraces of Mount Lebanon. It is the farming region of Lebanon.

D. The Anti-Lebanon and Mount Harman - Beyond the Bekaa and the mountains, the Lebanon region extends further East, placed geographically between the Caspian Sea and the Gulf of Aden. Lebanon is the Golden Milestone of the Lebanon region.

These five zones are:

2. Sidon: Where the Phoenician seafarers, after founding trading colonies, began to trade with the British Isles, sailed around Asia, and discovered the New World. This is the birthplace of modern marine theory, discovered, perhaps, by the Phoenicians.

These five towns are:

1. Byblos (Tyre): The oldest town in the country, established 4,500 years ago. It was the capital of the Phoenician seafarers. Byblos was an important center of trade, and its influence extended far beyond its borders.

2. Sidon (Sid), where the Phoenicians sailed to the Western Hemisphere, and led the way to modern civilization.

3. Tyr: The town which, for seven months, stood against Alexander the Great. Tyr was founded by Tyrians, and is located on rocky land close to the shore.

4. Tripoli (Tyr): Ancient town modern capital. Here are the walls, the monumental gateway, and the inner courtyard of the castle of St. Gilles, which was built by the Franks. Here are also the remains of the great mosque.

5. Beirut (Beirut): One of the oldest settlements of man. Sinbad, who is believed to be the hero of the famous Arabian Nights, was born in Beirut. Beirut is the capital of Lebanon, and the center of its culture and economy.

Studnt From Lebanon Tells All

It's located in Beirut, the capital, which is noted for its nightlife. Most of the bars and restaurants are located in the downtown area.

In addition, Beirut is the center of the country's banking and financial sector, and its bustling port area is an important trade hub.

Prehistoric flint tools and weapons to Greek-Roman Antiquities, by way of Phoenician tombs, the museum displays a rich collection. Here will be found a famous sculpture of Ahiram (King of Byblos in the thirteenth century B.C.) and a sarcophagus which carries a Phoenician inscription written with that alphabet which is the ancestor of all alphabets.

The city, the emblem of Lebanon will be found at the center of the national flag. From this crown of cedars, Lebanon got the for its temple and palace. From its wood, the pharaohs carved their sarcophagi and their "unsleeping".

Holidays Always

You can swim in the sea (in summer as well as in summer) and half an hour later, ski in the mountains. More than 30 mountain resorts, equipped with all the comforts of home, plus tennis courts, swimming pools and nightclubs stand one above the other from 2,500 to 6,500 feet among forests of pine trees, the way up to the famous cedars of Lebanon.

Delight - Contrast

Beirut, the capital, is noted for its nightlife to which 150 night clubs and 300 restaurants contribute. Casino at Maelmatt (boulevard) is one of the largest and most up-to-date in the world.

Lebanon is the only winter sports center in the Middle East. The coastline makes room for a series of luxurious inlets where you can swim and relax from currents and crowds.

FTU Yardmen (Continued From Page 1) refrigerator, hundreds of beer cans, portions of rusted fences and even part of a rotted dock at the lake's edge. Administrators and students strained side-by-side to lug tubs of broken tile to the trucks. The piece of roofing was lifted from the ground to reveal a large hill of very large red ants living beneath it. When someone mentioned that the ants' ecology had just been saved, someone else chimed in that in fact it had been temporarily destroyed. "Sometimes you have to tear down so that you can build back up," Dr. Millican commented, as he wiped sweat from his brow. Pat Dolan, one of the student leaders for last week's Environmental Teach-in said as the morning drew to a close that FTU has many unique varieties of wild life on the acreage unique to this area. "We have seen types of fish in these waters uncommon to this part of Florida, and there is a particular bird that is just not seen in this part of the state. I hope we can preserve these things as we grow," she said.

STUDENTS lend a hand with soggy, submerged dock at the Lake Claire waterfront during an Earth Day clean-up project last weekend.

In the academic field, he may hold office with a 2.0 GPA and is permitted to carry only 7 hours. If all this seems the life, the Florida stereotype, the basking in the sun, or political-socialite, remember also the responsibilities of the office. With the $60,000 comes an equal amount of responsibility. If the proposed Constitutional amendments (21-22) are passed, the President will be directly responsible for all financial affairs. Also, the name of the game is "POLITICS" and this can mean shifts, favors, always being on the defensive. Husbands with the administrative offices are not unusual either. So! Take a deep breath, picture yourself between two beauty queens, or cramping down a steak, or going the weekend in Miami or Tallahassee on "business". Then take a hard yard, deep breath, and ask yourself! If you have the INTEREST, ABILITY, TEMPERAMENT, and TIME, sign up for the campaign for an executive position.

You may file your declaration of candidacy May 4-8 in the Student Government or Student Affairs Office and start campaigning on May 11. Remember, in the midst of all this, in the center of progress, ABILITY COUNTS and DESIRE COUNTS. So never before!

Many falls occur in the house each year as the result of rugs not being properly secured. This is especially important in homes where there are small children.

Carbon monoxide, the subtle yet potent poison, is produced by many sources other than carbon. Never run a power lawn mower or chain saw in an enclosed area such as a garage or garage. Doing so could prove to be an overwhelming experience.

You can't go over anymore and say, "Here I am."
