Music Head Announced

The promotion of Dr. Leonidas N. Constantine to the position of FTU’s Department of Music, College of Liberal Arts, was announced at the Florida Board of Regents meeting in Jacksonville.

Dr. Sarakatsanis has served as acting chairman of the department since the opening of classes in 1964. A native of Newport, Kentucky, he studied at the Conservatory of Music of Cincinnati, the University of Michigan, and the University of Cincinnati where he received the Doctor of Musical Arts Degree in 1964. Sarakatsanis’s teaching experience includes Southern Conservatory of Music, Gulfport, Mississippi; College-Conservatory of Music at the University of Cincinnati; and the University of Florida, where he was Chairman of the Piano Department; Southern Illinois University, where he was also Chairman of the Piano Department and the University of Cincinnati.

Dr. Sarakatsanis has appeared as piano soloist with the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra, the Cincinnati Community Orchestra, and the College Conservatory of Music. Since joining FTU, Dr. Sarakatsanis has had two engagements in the national Festival, Jacksonville, and two solo performances with the Florida Symphony Orchestra. Dr. Sarakatsanis is an outstanding pianist and musician, and his strong interest in composition has won him awards and extensive critical acclaim.

Lee Barrett, Vice-President of the First National Bank in Maitland, presents President Charles N. Millican with an official Florida Technological University commencement program. The Maitland Bank is offering identical checkbooks to cover any FTU student, faculty and staff member free of charge.

Suggestions Requested
For Mascot Selection

“The purpose of selecting a mascot through student election was disbanded recently.”

President Millican stated that the committee had set up criteria for the selection of a mascot and that the criteria requiring a majority vote for selection was not met. The selection resulted in the committee, headed by Wayne Letardi, asking to be disbanded.

The request was put before the Executive Committee, composed of President Millican, and Vice-Presidents Garner, Connell and Brow. Their vote was favorable that the committee members be thanked for their efforts and that the committee be disbanded.

In the early days of the University, President Millican pointed out, it was suggested that the mascot be selected much in the same way that the seal design was selected, and that the design be selected through the actions of a few. He went on to explain that the design of the seal took 25 months to complete.

Placing the responsibility for the selection on a mascot directly on the students, he indicated, “I don’t want the students to think that I am trying to diet a mascot.”

He pointed to a situation at the university in California where during an election to select a mascot, there was very little campus response, with the result that two students got together to promote the outcome for campus mascot. The asterisk was added.

Indicating the future importance of the selection of a mascot President Millican said, “The students degree the significance in a mascot in the years ahead will be what we make it.”

President Millican requested that all ideas for the methods whereby the students of FTOU could elect a mascot be directed to Mascot Office, room 118 in the Administration Building.

Rajchel Joins Tech
As Coop. Educ. Head

Ted Rajchel, whose daughter has been a prominent member of the FTOU student body for two years, is now the university staff in this new cooperative education program. A former regional representative with the Division of Retardation under the Department of Health and Rehabilitation Services, Mr. Rajchel came to FTOU July 1.

The position was started by Richard Rusin, an instructor in Cooperative Education, and had previously been serving in that capacity as a part-time position. Rajchel called the job a “satisfaction job,” as it involves a cooperative triangle involving the student, the university, and the employer.

Rachel was born in Milwaukee and attended Marquette University. He holds the Ph.B. degree in Philosophy and the LL.B. in Law.

Loving Brings Total
Resignations To Five

Five out of a staff of eleven, not including the Student Health Service and Developmental Center, have quit the Department of Student Affairs in recent weeks for, so far, none of the five have been replaced.

One of the first to leave was Beth Engert, former Director of Housing. She moved to the Department of Continuing Education to fill the newly-created position of Coordinator of Educational Conferences. She gave her main reason as the end of plans for housing expansion in the next several years, it at all. This meant the end of personal advancement for, him, and Engert.

The next two to go were Jan Summer and Hank Hill, both Resident Instructors. Hill left to take virtually the same position with the same title at the University of South Florida, and Miss Summer is now staying in North Carolina, and left FTOU with no other job opportunity lined up.

V.C. To Highlight
Bands, Speakers

Village Center personnel have announced the names of a list of speakers, bands, and concerts for the upcoming academic year.

Beginning the list of speakers will be Stewart Udal, former Secretary of the Interior under Presidents Kennedy and Johnson. He is a moderate Democrat, and the author of several books on ecology, and will be speaking at "Ecology in Our Environment.”

Winter’s speaker will probably be Betty Friedan, although her contract has not received final approval yet. She is a well-known leader of the women’s movement, one of the National Organization of Women, and is the author of the "Feminine Mystique,” and will probably speak on the "War Between the Sexes.”

Spring quarter students will hear Best Below, a well-known literary figure and author. He is the recipient of various awards and achievements, and is a most sought-after speaker.

Bands for the next year are the Tropics for the Trojan for the Swing Dance in the fall quarter, the Box Tops for the Christmas Dance, and the Swing Medallions for the Spring Formal.

Concerts for the coming year have been lined up, but final contracts have not yet been approved, so band names cannot be announced. But look for some good ones.
Questions!

Five out of a staff of eleven, not including the Student Health Service and the Developmental Center, have quit the Department of Student Affairs in recent weeks.

What has prompted this sudden resignation-itis in the Student Affairs office? Do those who have resigned feel that the management or the atmospheres behind their decisions, or does each case really have individual factors?

Why did Miss Susan Burrell resign and why did she come back after another job in mind? And why did Hank Hall, also a resident instructor leave to virtually the same job elsewhere? Why did the Dean of Men insist that he continues to comment on his reasons for leaving?

Many of the faculty and staff members applied for employment at Florida Atlantic University, or decided to be a forward-moving institution. Have these people been disillusioned to the point of resignation? If so, why?

Do the heads of Student Affairs see this as a problem? Is there any possibility of initiating some sort of reconciliation within the Department before any more individuals resign?

And what is Student Affairs doing to replace the ones who have already left? Maybe these positions will be open for some time, and maybe for a while secretaries can do their jobs for them, but what about in the fall when student numbers increase and there is an influx of returning students? Is this the time for the Department to reassess the website, cabinet and board meetings enough time to fill all these positions with the right type of people?

SG President Speaks

The following is a speech given by Student Government President Jim Strainger yesterday at the 5G meeting. It outlines Stringer's plans and intentions for his term.

This Senate, the executive, and all concerned have inherited from the previous administration a set of problems, ideas, and programs which are always present and need to be addressed and improved upon.

The foremost of these is communications.

Throughout the past five and one-half months, we have often encountered gaps between the Senate and the Executive in addition to other areas. Unfortunately, a great deal of this failure may be attributed to myself. However, this has not been purposeful. Since having assumed office, I have tried to improve the present situation, but the budget for the Senate only allows one half hour of unbroken student government meetings. I sincerely doubt that any student could make the claims.

In addition, only three Senators have ever bothered to find out what is actually occurring, what issues are being raised, to investigate the feeling of the people, or to question the validity of rumors which often circulate through the halls. Though these three Senators and I may have tried our best to meet the first five and one-half months as effectively as possible, we have not made improvements communications between the two branches of government.

In order to establish and maintain a more effective line of communication, Stringer and Peri Branch announced a weekly executive report in outline form will accompany the agenda distributed at Senate meetings. This will allow members, concerned Executive meetings (2) planned policy relations with the administration, and (3) a senate-member meeting, which regular address the Senate on a monthly basis in order to facilitate your understanding of the work of the Executive.

Secondly, external communications are to be improved by (1) a weekly column in the Future, (2) a bi-monthly newsletter beginning in mid-September, and (3) by press releases.

Some old areas of concern now being investigated and worked upon are:

- The Duke Lake project - where we have plans, a cost estimate and a push on for a definite first phase program to begin in early spring.
- A strong commission working on registration procedures.
- A severe and negative previous ticket tax. Panther football games for all students.
- A new major in outdoor recreation at the University of Florida. (It will be offered in the fall.

Some items we hope are necessary but, from within, the criticism often heard from students are not a problem. And that Future is nearly always the same as our own criticisms of each other.

I do not care to whose fault it is. I am sure each one of us and all others are wrong with someone else.

But again, I do not care to do this as yet. My own home will be brought to order before I criticize another. I hope by the time I have my department in complete operational order that you shall also have brought order to your!!!

Of specific criticisms leveled at myself, none have been as uncalled or for issue as complaints of my not chairing Senate meetings. I feel, as do many in positions of leadership, that the Student Body President must be often more effective when he does not chair Senate meetings. By delegating this authority to the Vice President, it allows me to submit legislation as the Executive and to testify on behalf.

As Student Body President, I have a responsibility to lead, to submit, and support my colleagues in whatever is to be the best interest of the student body.

I could not remain an impartial observer to the legislative process and still feel that I have done all that I could to have an effective educational experience of the students on campus. Thus, by having the Vice President as Chairman of the Senate meetings, there is still sufficient contact between the President and the Senate by ensuring an association with the Senate to maintain a position in line of similar body.

Even though there are time limitations it is impossible to attend the meetings, I plan to attend as many as possible in order that I may answer questions directed by yourselves and thus create a meaningful dialogue.

In the future, a future which actually began before this Senate meeting, there will be no new issues of the future coming from this Student body. Student Government will press on, work for the students, and seek an answer to the major problems of the Student body. And, as we agree, we are all working towards the same goal so let us strive to work together and accomplish these objectives.

Clayton Speaks Frankly On Saigon, Riots, VC

Fred Clayton, Director of Physical Plant, described his recent visit to Vietnam as one marked by student uprising and terrorist activities in the Saigon area, during an interview Tuesday in his Administration Building office.

Mr. Clayton was in Saigon to assist with the designing of various portions of the university in that city, and while there he noted a vast overpopulation of the city.

The 35-year professional engineer indicated that classes in the university system and the high schools were closed for three months as a result of rising student unrest. The riots were, according to Mr. Clayton, broken up by the South Vietnamese Army with tear gas after the Saigon police could not handle the situation.

The riots were brought about by veterans demanding more money in terms of pensions for support while attending classes. Other student rioting at this time was trying to achieve changes in their examination dates.

The educational system in Saigon is such that all students from elementary and kindergarten education through the university system are under the jurisdiction of the minister of education. Mr. Clayton went on to say that the city is designed in a way to accommodate one million people.

He pointed out that, "You roll a blanket and plop out three or four family living in it." Most of the three million people now living in Saigon, he added, are refugees.

Terrorist activities were Clayton indicated, extensive enough that he estimated there were five to six large buildings that hadn't been completely destroyed.
