Security Tips
Room B10 in the basement of the Library Building is home for some of the most potent people at FTU. Any student will tell you the Security Force on campus are not just cops. They are the nice guys doing a big job of protecting you and the university.

Security Superintendent John Smith offered some helpful hints for new and returning students.

Parking stickers must be placed on the left front side of your vehicle. No parking stickers will be sold in the registration lines, but can be obtained earlier and easier in the security offices. Students will purchase their decals at a cost of $1 for the first vehicle and $1 for every other vehicle registered. The decals are good for one year, and only be used in the parking areas marked with similar letters.

Smith said that the greatest decals for students living in the dorms, for motorcycles, student instructors and administrators. Bicycle decals may also obtain decals, but they are free.

Each vehicle must be registered no later than the first week of classes. Citations for improper parking and driving will be issued by the security offices. Read your traffic manual for a list of fines.

In an effort to help students adjust during the first hectic week, FTU’s security corps will probably tell you to keep up with your classes. Even in phases other than studying.

Mandatory is an understanding of your class schedule and what your professors expect. You need to know that class has limited time possibilities. You will find it is easier to work classes with several sections around those few with whom you have a nucleus and join in studying.

2. Go to registration prepared with several alternate classes or sections for every class on your final schedule. This way if you do already have alternates chosen for any closed classes, instead of being caught for the second time trying to decide what to substitute.

3. Full schedules should take into account all classes that run in a series, such as Spanish 101, 102, and 103. Often such of these classes are scheduled as first quarter and who only need to be taken in the fall, but they are filled up in the spring.

4. Everyone will be trying for such standard classes as English 101, 102, Psychology 201, etc. If you have these classes from the basic program for your student schedule, be sure to have several less-sought alternates chosen for them.

5. A first-quarter freshman would be wise to take a language course and a math class, such as 10-14 hours, and certainly no more than 15 to 16. Too many students drop out because they are not registered for enough classes.

6. Bring only your catalogue, class schedule sheet, trial and admission schedule, registration appointment slip, a pencil (not a pen) for crossing your schedule, your driver’s license (if you have not already registered your car), and your money. Also bring a slip of paper with your signature, and this is what you are going to write on it. These are a few which will be on the jobs, so have them in the past, we will be on the street.

We urge you to take advantage of the various organizations available to you. Become involved in a number of things, according to your capacity and the interests you. Naturally, you are at college to learn and get an education but a service, and friendship and add these to your basic ideals of education.

Along with people and becoming involved with phases of college life to you. Become involved in a number of things, according to your other than studying.

It has been said that the concept of the universal man is dying out. This day of specialization, the well-rounded person is rapidly slipping from our grasp. People nowadays are more and more limiting their talents to a one goal and are narrowing their horizons. At this point we, as college students, feel that a freshman, you should survey your ideals and goals and come to the realization that the next four years of college should include more than just studying and "getting an education". These important years will serve to prepare you for the "real world" and might become a meaningful member of society.

In learning the characteristics of a truly well-rounded person, you must take into consideration factors of involvement, awareness, knowledge, diversity, and freedom. In learning the characteristics of a truly well-rounded person, you will never run very far ahead.

For those of you who do not know Smith, he is the new security superintendent of the FTU campus. Mr. Smith is a graduate of the University of Florida. He brings with him a wealth of experience in police work and has been a security officer at other campuses.

5. There is no point in coming before your appointment time.

6. You can become involved by attending lectures, seeing fine films, listening to music, attending plays and exhibits, and numerous other entertainment opportunities available to you.

Be sure to take care of your car. If you are new to college, you will be impressed by the large number of students who enter this institution every year. It is important to remember that college is not just for learning and getting an education, but also for the social experiences that are available.

7. There is no point in coming before your appointment time.

8. Don’t panic. Everyone is as confused as you are.

9. Don’t get discouraged if you don’t find a job immediately after you graduate. Many students find work after graduation.

10. Make sure you have enough money to pay for your college tuition and living expenses. If you don’t, talk to your financial aid counselor. They can help you find scholarships and grants.

11. Don’t be afraid to ask for help. There are many resources available to you on campus, such as the counseling center and the student health center.

12. Don’t be afraid to make mistakes. Everyone makes mistakes, and it’s okay to learn from them.

13. Don’t plan on buying your books right before going to class.

14. Keep your student ID and any other important documents safe. You might need them to get into college buildings or to take tests.

15. To get a full refund for an unneeded book, make sure there is a little writing in the book. This will help you determine if the book is new or used. If the book is new, you will not be able to get a refund.

Dear Mom, I'm Alive and... Well, I'm Lost AT FTU

By Tim Tumlin

It was wrong and he blurted out, "I'm lost! What's wrong with me?"

I replied, "You're fine. Remember, you're on campus."

He turned to me and said, "But I don't know where I am!"

I asked, "Are you looking for your dorm or the library?"

He replied, "I don't know. I just need to find my way back home."

I continued, "Well, you're at the Village Center. You can follow me back to your dorm."

He thanked me and we began walking towards his dorm. As we walked, I noticed that his mood had improved.

"Thanks," he said. "I'm glad I met you."

I smiled, "It's my pleasure."

As we approached his dorm, he turned to me and said, "I really appreciate you helping me."

I replied, "It's nothing. Just wanted to make sure you didn't get lost."

He nodded and entered his dorm, and I continued my walk back to the Village Center. As I walked, I couldn't help but think about how grateful I was for the help I received.

I realized that helping others can make such a difference in their lives. I feel blessed to have helped him today, and I know that I will continue to do so in the future.
