Drugs Being Peddled Close to Tech Campus

By Tim Tumlin

The open peddling of marijuana, LSD, and other hard drugs is the latest development in a series of problems the people of Union Park have faced while under siege by a number of young people who come from other areas to gather there nightly. Yes, there has been no action taken by any police authorities who have jurisdiction in that area.

The problem has been concentrated around the location of the Royal Castle drive-in restaurant on U.S. 50. At least two girls have been hospitalized due to their use of drugs on the premises; but girls have been hospitalized due to their use of drugs were torn down, and someone his life has been threatened. The restaurant on U.S. 50 is until he came out into the parking lot last week and saw it

Rush Charge Hearing Set

An Inter-fraternity Council (IFC) hearing will be held Sunday to determine whether or not an FTU fraternity which has been charged with "violations of rush procedures" is guilty.

Kevin Wadsworth, a TKE brother and appointed presider for the IFC judicial board, refused to comment on the details of the case. "I think personally that the charges will be dropped after the hearing," he said. When further questioned about the case, Wadsworth said, "I personally think there is no basis for the allegation."

The seven-member judicial board of the IFC, four of whom are elected and the others appointed, will hold a closed hearing to determine the validity of the charges. There are six rush rules, violation of which can change from a simple reprimand to a year's suspension.

Last year the fraternity was convicted of violating one of the rush rules and placed on probation for a quarter. Wadsworth was also asked if his fraternity will appeal any hearing on his case. He replied, "Mine won't."

Voter Turnout Is Low, Poll Placement Blamed

The results of the Student Government elections for the office of Freshman Senator in General Studies is being contested. Allon "Bill" Note has contested the results of the voting, charging that his defeat was due to the use of his proper name (Allon Note) on the ballot, rather than his more familiar name (Jeff Note). Note believes that the results may have been different if his familiar name had been used. Jim Stringer, SG president, will certify election results next week.

In the Student Government (SG) elections only 860 to 900 students voted, considered less than 20 per cent. Last year 22.2 per cent cast their ballots.

SG officials partially attribute the results to lack of publicity and the fact that many students did not know where the elections were being held. Previously, voting has been held in the library. Since the campus has grown, there is no central location now, and the VC Patio was used for the balloting.

Two errors were made in the reporting of the election results. First, the Freshman Class President in Dan J. Hodges. James Brooks won the Sophomore Senate seat from the Chico of Business.

Students also voted for an organization. Phi Alpha Epsilon won the $25 prize for getting out the most voters.

In the Senate categories where no official candidate ran, write-in candidates were elected. The Freshman Senator seat for Personnel Administration were won by Fred Martin and Bill Rock. Each received one vote. Gregory Martin won the Freshman seat in Natural Sciences. There were a four-way tie for the second seat. However, one of the three qualified for the runoff, these three will face each other in a runoff election. Each of the candidates received only one vote.

The Not-So-Gentle Night

It was a great relief to find that FTU officials were so seriously concerned over the molestation of an FTU coed at knife-point a few weeks ago. On the evening after the attempt, the dorms residents were called together and debriefed. University Housing officials were questioned by a resident of the lack of proper lighting fixtures in the parking lots. In reply the residents were told that a requisition for Physical Plant would be filed immediately.

We ask that FTU officials tell housing officials that the lighting is a concern of the Housing Division. After further investigation to Physical Plant, we were told that there was no evidence for the resident's concerns during the day and therefore lighting was nothing to do with the problem.

It could be attacked in the parking lot during the day, what could happen at night is a totally dark lot.

The bank of officials' concern was noted. Therefore, we offer some suggestions which we hope will last longer than this year's.

When he isn't preparing electronic experiments for physics and engineering classes at Florida Technological University, M. W. Poston can be found much of the time at the Orlando Flying Club, which is an unincorporated, non-profit Orlando housewife who is suffering from a very serious ailment.

Each Tuesday, members of the Club take flying Donna to Gainesville for experimental treatment at the University of Florida's Shands Clinic.

An attractive 25-year-old housewife has a liver disease that reportedly affects less than one per cent of the population, and normally is restricted to young women.

Poston, an electronics technician in FTU's Engineering Research and Development shop, and a Naval Aviator, joined with fellow flyers in volunteering for the weekly flights from Orlando after an appeal for transportation appeared in a local newspaper.

Donna is unable to drive, due to her condition, and her husband must work the days she is treated.

"The best part is news that Donna is responding exceptionally well to her treatment. That makes all us happy," Poston, of 7220 Boca St., Orlando, says.

Art Faculty Display In LRIB

Problems, who has problems? This is just normal procedure. When asking Miss Dorothy Cannon, of the Graphics Dept., about the rumored problems arising from the faculty art exhibits, she replied that there really wasn’t any problem at all. Not many anyway. The Art Faculty has been planning to exhibit its work since the beginning of this quarter. The first problem was just when to put the show, the new Administration building was first suggested but permission and space seemed unavailable. Then the library was suggested but for large pieces like what Mr. Eyells special exhibiting equipment was needed, which the library doesn’t have. Now it’s settled. The library is the place to watch. And right now, for Hans Krenn is exhibiting there until November 13, and the library has ordered the equipment necessary for larger displays. The remaining members of the art faculty will be exhibiting at later dates. We will keep you posted. For now don’t miss Mr. Krenn’s work showing now on the main floor of the Library.

Co-op’s Progress Report: Helping Handy Hands

Off to a slow start with nine participants last year, the FTU Co-operative Education program and coordinator T. P. Rajbhel, who took over his job three months ago, is optimistic. He forecasts 20 to 30 participants by spring.

Under Co-op ground rules, a student must attend at least two quarters of on-campus classes. He usually spends one quarter as a Co-op job. In that three months, most FTU students have been earning between $1,400 and $1,500. "And that goes a long way toward helping out the rough spots," Rajbhel noted. By alternating work and study this past quarter, many Co-op students spend three to six quarters on the job before receiving their degrees. None is permitted to spend more than five years in undergraduate study.

"Unfortunately, the term On-Coop has the wrong connotation among a great many potential students," Rajbhel pointed out. He explained that many seem to relate it to other institution work-study programs at lower levels in education.

"If the doubters had an opportunity to see all the FTU-Coop’s, they’d have a change of heart," he added. The effectiveness of Co-op can be accentuated at FTU by a look at the waiting list. At last count, nearly 600 students had applied and were waiting for assignments.

What is the law regarding faculty members of a Florida college participating in political activities? A Punkishly Mindful Student

The law states that a faculty member may run for political office and participate in the political process, but he cannot use the classroom as a "speakbox" for the endorsement or ridicule of a political candidate or for giving his own political philosophy in the class. The only exception to this rule is in the case of a public science class.

Temporary parking lot 100 is in poor repair, it has gullies and large rocks in the gullies. Because of the conditions of the lot, I had to pay $25.00 worth of repairs done on my car. Who is responsible for the maintenance of the parking lot?

Apparently unknown to you, the dirt parking lots are repaired regularly. The repairs consist of spreading gravel in the bad spots. Your next question is "Why don’t they pave the lot" but then forget it. The next day the street cleaner will go in during the evening and put in the gravel that was put down. If you see that far into the future will be the same as last week and the dirt parking lots will be there — gullies, potholes, and sand, and screaming bedheads on camels and all.

During the recent United Appeal campaign in our area major employers were listed almost daily in the local papers sharing the percentage and dollars contributed by individual employees. How can one explain this list? Why were FTU employees not contacted until one week before the end of the campaign and then asked to respond no later than three days following to not FTU’s part of the Orlando community?

Mrs. Keegan, Administrative Assistant to the Director of Personnel, says that FTU was not represented by the major employers of the area. You may have missed though, because FTU was thrown in with a number of organizations and businesses in the area into the grand category of "Pace-makers." Please don’t write in next week and ask what a "Pace-maker" is supposed to be because no one around here knows. She also said that when the selecting area directors at FTU were briefed on October 5 no one said anything about a time limit so that might have been an irregularity in your area.

CANDIDATE - HOUSE OF REP. DIST. 39

In our own way, we do.

As a candidate for the Florida House, Dist. 39 (Orange-Seminole Delegation) I represent a personal protest; a protest against dogsma. I see the youth of Florida frustrated in their attempts to work into society; frustrated by closed minded people who seem to forget that they too are individuals. I see parents stuck with increasing college bills, taxes, and expenses. I also see our Senior Citizens ignored.

I protest.

My first action of protest was to file for candidacy. My second was to enlist one of your students as my campaign manager. Though young, he exerts himself as a part of society; a society he too wants to work with and change.

Many of you probably know him. He works with Student Government and is your Resident Adviser. He is also president of the fall TKE Pledge Class.

There are many more of you like him. Express yourself.

The System DOES Work!

"The Responsible Man, A Responsible Party"
On Halloween night, the entire pledge class will be at the house celebrating with Fred Daniel's (no relation to Jack) Kappa Sigma Alpha. President John Smith, who competed at the DelRay Raceway. In his first time out with his dirt track racer, John had the best thirty-six cars and was only beaten by six other cars. In the feature race, John won the pole position because of his performance qualifying.

On Oct. 30th, 1970 the Kappa Sigma Alpha Fraternity of Florida Tech. University will hold a student forum at attendance Center in Sanford, at 7:00 p.m. The purpose of this forum is to get the residents of this area involved in vital issues of the student body. The principle speaker will be Congressman Bill Chapman (Demb., 4th Congressional District).

Everyone is invited Free dress, afterward Free refreshments.

A welcome party was given in honor of Tys’ pledges, Monday night at a house party held at the home of Jim and Beverly Carver. The home is located on a very nice street and is yellow rose and their knot (which we could not figure out whether they like it or not.) Tys was proud to announce two new pledges; Susan Alspaugh, Barbara Arbor, Belinda Briston, Helen Brandstetter, Chris Johnsen; Chris learned the problems in thefilledonduring the stop of a party and prizes will also be awarded to those with the most clever costumes.

The pledges will later have a weekly party Friday evening at Spring Garden Above.

Future plans call for an outing of brothers and alumnae at Coldshad National Park, and a skiing expedition to upstate New York, last to Buttermilk Falls and later to White Face Mountain.

Executive Comm. OK’s Mascot Council
By Paul Stene

Last Friday the FTU Executive Committee met and gave final approval to the plans submitted to them by the mascot committee. The General Duty of the mascot committee as proposed by the executive committee is to use a mascot for the university by establishing procedures for and promoting interest in the selection of the mascot. The mascot committee recommended the following methods to be implemented to achieve the objectives:

1. Survey the campus for mascot suggestions by means of suggestion boxes placed at strategic locations. This plan to be known as Mascot Suggestion Week, October 26 through November 6th. A screening committee by adding four students to the present Mascot Committee. One student to be chosen from JFC, Pathological Board, dormitory residents, and one “at large.”

2. To screen (with screening committee) suggestions and choose ten of the suggested mascots as semi-finalists, to be voted on by faculty, staff, and students in general assembly.

3. To exhibit drawings and names for the ten semi-finalists in the library lobby and other appropriate places, to encourage campaigning for the mascots by fraternities, sororities, clubs, and other interested groups or individuals. The actual screening of the suggested names will take place on Monday, November 9.

The ten semi-finalists mascot selections will be announced in the FTU Fair on Friday, November 5th.

The Campaign week by the mascot committee. Votes for a selected mascot will take place from Monday, November 9 through Friday, November 13. General election to choose two finalists from among the ten mascots for a final vote on Friday, November 20.

The winning mascot will be announced in the FTU Fair on Monday, November 30 when classes resume after Thanksgiving holiday. Mascot Day will be some time in December.

There are times when writing a witty, thought-provoking, deep-thinking, intelligent column is pretty tough. This usually happens once a week when deadline time begins to roll around, and the eyes, mind and sheet of paper are totally, unmercifully blank. It is at times like these that burning issues seem only lukewarm, and great humanitarian causes pale into a rather insignificant Gabrielle. Sometimes, like flashes in the brain, and a great idea is born. The heart races, the pulse quickens and the words tumble out. The result is a witty, thought-provoking, deep-thinking, intelligent column. Sometimes, like flashes in the brain, and a great idea is born. Chi Alpha Beats TAU

By Bart Barnes

and

Bob Hazelwood

How can you highlight the question? Answer: You tell it like it is — and that's how this reporter plans to tell the story of the game of the year.

Monday, at about 4:19 both teams came on the field to practice. Tau, dressed in many blue jerseys and white shorts, ran their warm-up patterns as their fans gathered on the east side of field one. Meanwhile, Chi Alpha, dressed in khaki green jerseys and gold shorts, ran through their warm-ups while their fans gathered on the west side. About 100 others gathered on the sidelines of the field to watch what was to ensue during the following 45 minutes of football.

Tau won the toss and elected to receive — the call of the wheels Chris Wilson kicked off for Chi Alpha, and the game was on! At the beginning of last year, Tau received the kick and ran it back to the Tau 25-yard line.

Chi Alpha, anticipating an air bombment from Tau, moved middle linebacker Bob Hazelwood back, changing the defense from their standard 2-5-2 to 2-3-5. On the first play of the game Jerry Whalen of Tau threw an illegal block and Tau was moved back to the 10-yard line. Noticing how open many of the Taus were, Chi Alpha moved to unusual 2-5-1 defense.

Both sidelines were alive with excitement. From the Tau side you could hear things like "go, blue machine" and "let's go, AFO!" On the other side, Chi Alpha fans were cheering their guys on with "Let's go!"

On the next play, Chi Alpha insets Ed Wrightman and Hugh Atkinson, forced Tau quarterback Dennis Dukin to throw quickly. That was the hookdown of a Raider's hand and after a little juggling, was

Gergley's Grapplers Groaning, Growing

"After two informal practice sessions, I feel that the new FTU Wrestling Team (Gergley) has overcome its lack of wrestling experience and quickly developed a championship program with student cooperation, effort, and heightened enthusiasm," said Coach Gergley in a FutUre interview on Thursday, October 22.

He disclosed the start of official practice sessions at Lawson Elementary School Monday through Friday from 4:30 to 6 p.m. Interested men need no previous experience to join the team. Coaches Gergley and Ellis will begin instruction with basic techniques.

The scheduling of intercollegiate "home" contests waits on the arrival of an official practice schedule. The first practice totally uniformed men; however, Gergley has decided on a tentative "away" schedule. FTU's wrestlers may attend the Georgia Tech Invitational, Miami State, and Sunshine Open tournaments.

The last one mentioned takes place around Christmas and will probably feature five former members of the team as well as other teams from around the nation. Gergley also plans dual meets with Miami Dade Junior College and Brevard University.

Hazelwood and Leland battled down three consecutive Durkin passes - but he managed to hit Gavel for a first down at the Tau 35. Tau held, however, and XA pointed - the only one of the game. Gavel gathered it in but was stopped at his own 25 yard line by D'Amato.

Chi Alpha was later victorious, defeating Tau.

Then Durkin threw to Hanley but the play was null by XA's Wilson and the play was stopped. Durkin's pass to Gavel was blocked by Wolfe. On the next play, D'Amato intercepted Durkin's pass and ran it back to the Tau 13. Tau had found Bundy for 11 yards and then found Tim Batchelor for a first down at the Tau 30. Tau held, however, and XA pointed - the only one of the game. Gavel gathered it in but was stopped at his own 25 yard line by D'Amato.

"FTU students interested in archery can now join one of two Country Meet clubs," Tom at 5:15 p.m. Entry forms were due October 26. There have been few teams and several interested participants. Students interested in target shooting should phone John Ziuhlke at 273-0472. The meeting was attended evenly by both faculty and students. Topics discussed ranged from karate, table tennis, wrestling (by the FTU wrestling team) and gymnastics, radio broadcast of games; dances, bands and music, as well as rally banners and spirit sticks. Russ Salerno, former student-coach of the basketball team, has a superstar in the making. He was described as a "fantastic distance shooter, mid-court accuracy." Pep Club membership is limited to holders of FTU identification cards; meeting any student, full or part-time, may join.

Pep Club Plans

By Duncan Marks

The Pep Club met Tuesday morning to continue discussion on the serious problem facing the athletic department: school spirit. The meeting was attended evenly by both faculty and students. Ideas reiterated at Tuesday's meeting concerned block seating of special interest groups such as fraternities and sororities; closed circuit TV video taping of games; half-time demonstrations including karate, table tennis, wrestling (by the FTU wrestling team) and gymnastics; radio broadcast of games; dances, bands and music, as well as rally banners and spirit sticks. Russ Salerno, former student-coach of the basketball team, has a superstar in the making. He was described as a "fantastic distance shooter, mid-court accuracy."

FTU Booters Get Tarred

The FTU soccer team gave up its second loss of the season when Rollins took FTU 0-2 in a hard-fought game that was decided in the final quarter.

"We were tied until the fourth period when we put in our second string — and then some basic mistakes were made, enabling Rollins to score and win," sophomore team captain Robert Steadman, explained.

In the first half, the teams were junior Richard Schmidt, defensive midfielder, he sprained his ankle when a Rollins player missed the ball in a close action play, and kicked him. Steadman, stopping a Rollins shot from the goal, broke his big toe. Schmidt will be out for the season and Steadman will "play anyway."

Next on the schedule for FTU is a scrimmage with Winter Park High Saturday, November 7. A previously scheduled game with Florida Institute of Technology was canceled. Steadman had earlier remarked about the FTU-FIT game: "We'll handle the game, but no one on the team has seen the FIT boys at work. We have had no scouting reports on the team."

Steadman indicated that the cancellation would give the team time to scout the opposition.

Is this FTU's answer to Pete Maravich? Can one of these hands belong to the "fantastic distance shooter, mid-court accurate?" Can FTU beat Rollins? (Cont'd next week)
Hello once again, sports fans. Having survived the last three weeks, traveling hopefully, here I am once again bringing you the weekly Fantastic Fearless Freddy Forecast.

WOW! Who would have ever thought that such a small column could have stirred as much attention as this one has. Everybody wants to be number 1 — and in a league like this that’s quite an accomplishment.

Did you know that in the Midwest most every college has a football team — most all of them with less student body population than FTU? So just imagine with this student body and the caliber of players you’re likely to see out on our field.

If you’ve been out to a game lately, I hope you’ve noticed the increase in spectators at the games. Interest is high at Tech for football this year and, interesting today, the Orange Bowl tomorrow. This week the column features KSA and Teke fraternities in the football spotlight. Faculty Staff is in the Indie spotlight this week.

FTU students, be on the lookout for the legendary Arnie Ray, ever be the world’s worst?!! However, we want everyone to know that we will be on the football field... in heart... if not in brutal physical competition.

Mike Brockman, a former FTU student turned professional race car driver, sits dejectedly in his Lola as his pit crew desperately tries to cure ignition trouble that caused Brockman to start 30 seconds behind the pack at the beginning of last weekend’s L&M Grand Prix of Sebring.

Women’s Lib Class Told

(4) Linda Merri

"It is in the interest of men to get women out of the nest and get them to stop laying eggs." A quote from Betty Friedan, Women’s Liberation Movement leader. Not quite.

The statement was made by a woman who decided that she wanted more out of her life than childish housekeeping. The statement was made by Mrs. Sharp, who is mentioned in the above quote.

Her name is Mrs. Joel (Winifred) Sharp and she is an Orlando attorney. She spoke during an informal class meeting of Sociology 202, Contemporary Woman and Society.

Mrs. Sharp, the daughter of former Florida Senator Beth Johnson, studied herself, as an example of what a woman can do if she sets her mind to it. In emphasizing the getting through law school, finding a job, and making a living without practice while having children wasn’t easy, but on the same token, impossible.

She discussed the problems that a professional woman comes across citting lack of acceptance on high. She said that she had been able to form better relationships with men through the arts than with women. Women tend to restrict the possibilities, according to Mrs. Sharp.

Mrs. Sharp cited education as one of the most difficult, yet important factors for today’s women.

The physical plant announces safety rules

Physical Plant wishes to remind students that there are rules and regulations concerning the care of rooms and buildings. These are as follows:

1. No smoking in the classrooms.
2. No food or drink in the classroom.
3. No animals or pets in the buildings.
4. No posting of signs or notices is allowed on exterior walls of new buildings. Use bulletin and tack boards provided for this purpose.
5. Chairmen of departments may post grades on the exterior of their office doors by using masking tape.
6. Always deposit trash in containers located throughout the buildings.
7. Please always use sand trays to dispose of cigarette or cigar butts.
8. Do not stamp them into the ground.

Apathy, of course, is the most formidable foe in any such endeavor, according to Mrs. Sharp. She is an active participant in the Men’s Rights movement and she is an active participant in the Women’s Rights movement.

The ideal man is educated rather than instructed. A doctor is apparently highly trained, but he may not be an educated man, for his education has been directed towards the practice of medicine. An educated man should draw strength from within himself and this strength should be instilled in the individual as a yardstick of his progress.

Dr. Charles N. Fick, Dean of the College of Humanities and Fine Arts, stated that students at UF are being the same concept of the educated man. The idea of education rather than instruction is being taught here. The idea of education is the core of the liberal arts education.

MRA-WRA Combine

The bill to unite the Men's Residents Association (MRA) and the Women's Residents Association (WRA) into the Residents' Hall Association (RHA) was passed by the Student Body on November 11, 1970. The bill was not appropriate at this time, and that many students living in dormitories are concerned about the proposed changes. Yearbook Printing Suit Could Stop State Presses

In the latest court action taken by the American Yearbook Company against FTU, an affidavit filed by the counsel for the plaintiff, which was intended to retain the printing of the FTU yearbook until a court decision could be made on the original suit, could possibly prevent printing in this case.

The Honorable George C. Young, presiding over the U.S. District Court, said that if he did not enforce the application it could stop all printing in the state of Florida until the Supreme Court could decide upon the issue. The court also agreed when the bid by the American Yearbook Company (AYC) was rejected for the sole reason that it was an out-of-state firm and if FTU had awarded the contract, then the company would have been violating the "Front-five-Florida" state statute. Representatives of the AYC are arguing that the statute is unconstitutional.

The counsel for the plaintiff, upon hearing the judge's interpretation of the affidavit, said that if the affidavit were referred to a three-judge federal panel for consideration as compared with the application for the restraining order against FTU, would be withdrawn. The attorney also stated that it never had the intent of his clients, the AYC, to discontinue the publication or distribution of the FTU yearbook, but only to challenge the Florida statute in question.

The attorney representing the state of Florida and FTU, meanwhile, said that since federal courts have jurisdiction only in matters where they involve more than $10,000.

Laws of Lotz To Like

By Colleen Lee

It is quite an honor for anyone to be invited to exhibit in a museum. Throughout this month and during the first week of next month, Lotz, head of the art department here at FTU, is conducting a one-man show at the Jacksonville Art Museum. He is showing twenty-three pieces, fifty per cent of which are new works produced this year. Most of Lotz's works are large in scale. The work pictured here is part of the exhibit which is called "God Tails." It is pencil on paper and is four feet by eight feet.

I talked to Lotz last week after he returned from the reception given in his honor at the opening of the exhibit. When asked what he wished to express in his work, he said, "I'm concerned with documenting personal emotions and interior visions. I am not interested in documenting data from the external environment, from the same mind, as might a news camera man. I find most of the visual forms produced by our society to be repulsive, wasteful, and inept. I doubt their moral and my spirit. What I want to produce are images that are beautiful, joyful, sensual, and rich, hopefully, alive to some aspect of the Holy."

Russell A. Hicken, Director of the Jacksonville Art Museum, says this of Lotz, "Steve Lotz, after all, is master of his own expression in this work, tending to conform the strength with which he brings forth the imagery and the virtuosity with which he controls it... Though Lotz's work is spectacular in a technical sense, it is not facile in the perceptive sense. His technique is completely at the service of a powerful imagery."

It is this powerful imagery Lotz has that is projected in everything he does, from casual conversation to class lectures. He is one of the most interesting faculty members here at FTU.

Please, For Your Sake: Don't Park In The Dirt

By Chris Van Orman

Commuters to FTU have been getting stuck in the dirt parking areas on campus throughout the week. Signs are posted on the road for drivers to park at their own risk because that is exactly the situation. When you commute or park in the dirt, you are doing no one a favor, since there are over 1200 paved parking spaces in all the further. Instead back out slowly. If you become ensnared any how, the Campus Security Department will notify the Maintenance Dept. to send out a wrecker for a fee. The wrecker does not have the funds to pay for a tow. It is a very expensive service.

On October 22, John Gregory, President of the International Student Christian Fellowship, spoke at the Holiday House in Orlando.

Gregory, who is President of Thiel College, a Christian liberal arts college, in Pennsylvania, and the International Fraternity of Delta Sigma Phi at the University of Florida, says he came to talk about the university and the business world, and how the student body, primarily about the cooperation between business and the university, and the students, and the cooperation between the international Christian fraternities and the students.

Gregory also spoke about the experiences of the job opportunities at FTU and the student image of FTU students.

First FTU Book Goes To Press

The first book, printed by the University of Florida Press to be used by FTU sociology students will be on the subject of alcohol and drugs.

The book, a written as a direct result of a symposium held on the University of Florida campus in 1969, three hundred specialists in the fields of medicine, criminology, and sociology will be researched for this book. The book, a compilation of approximately 200 pages in length, will contain 21 articles written by 12 specialists who researched alcohol and drug rehabilitation.

Dr. Charles Unkovic, Chairman of the Department of Social Work and Professor of Social Work, and Dr. George Clark, Director of the Bureau of Alcohol and Drug Rehabilitation Services, both of Florida, wrote the book which will be used in the Sociology of Alcoholism class.

Y.B.

This writer was fortunate enough last week to talk with the Republican chain of command and experience their "Strategy of Insults and Evasion." No "Strategy" so far... I approached the Orange County president of the Young Republicans, attempting to have him jointly endorse the 18-year-old vote along with me. This was met with a refusal to let his county party give it as a non-partisan issue, but I was met with a refusal to let his county membership or any of this group participate in the whole process and was informed they were taking no stands. This was echoed throughout my discussions.

I talked with the Republican State chairman, who would only state that "a strong two-party system is needed.

Now is that evasion, or what faced with questions? I attempted to ask Mr. Kirk and Mr. Cramer good luck in their attempts to beat two good Democrats, but only received that familiar look of arrogant "courage" and from Mr. Cramer there was a portrayal of "Thee and Mine." My most rewarding candidate to question was Thom Rumbarger, Republican candidate who is opposing Senator Robert Shevin for Attorney General. Upon questioning him why he was running, he said, "I’m running because I’m true!" I couldn’t figure it out either, but that is about the most dynamic statement he made in the entire 5 minutes of discussion. Well, we now see the strategy behind the Republican campaign, but now let’s view a few facts.

Mr. Rumbarger has not attacked Senator Shevin’s immediate crime-fighting legislation and drug programs, but has only attacked what he is and where he lives. He probably feels it would embolden information as: "Mr. Rumbarger was Brevard County Prosecutor for three months in which 164 felony informations were filed and he last 60%", and this shows no experience in crime fighting. Shevin will not evade the question but will call for speedy trials and swift and sure punishment in order to deter crime in Florida. Shevin has called for a drug education-rehabilitation program in order to assist, not just to punish, and Rumbarger continues to run because he’s tired. The Republican Party brought in the vice-president to slander Floridaans and simultaneously call for a return to state government. Strom Thurmond is now on the cost — good advice from successful South Carolina or to how to run our state? Mr. Agnew marked Lawton Chiles for walking and going to the people, learning the problems and discontent of his future constituency. He claims he wants a man who "stands" for something. Bill Cramer does stand for something and so did an average of 60% of the Republicans when in 1968 they stood against: Medicare, Social Security, and poverty minimum wage, civil rights, housing, education and other requirements of a better America. I agree with Mr. Agnew that Kirk is a little on the "colorful" side and so are more of his party members. Is that why Mr. Mooney running in district 38 won’t take a stand and debate issues with his black opponent Jim Reed? There is nothing for him to fear but facts, but we again see evasion at work.

There is one plain simple fact. Florida’s requires the money to meet its budget in order that we may grow with pride and proficiency. A vote for Kirk and Cramer assures you that corporations will begin to relieve the burdens.

By the way, at the airport, the V.P. did shake my hand and smiled as I quickly read two buttons supporting "Akwes" and "Shevin," but treated it well with some good old "beguine neglect" Dick Balfour.

Camelot - Repulsion

Fine Flicks At SCAUD

By Joe Aertman

Camelot is a long (3 1/2 hrs.) film by Joshua Logan based on the English King Arthur myth. The music and adaptation was done by Lerner and Loewe.

The best single thing about the film is the acting. It is indeed difficult for the actor or actress to make his role believable and take this into account, the performances of the cast in general and Richard Harris, Vanessa Redgrave, Franco Nero, and David Hemmings in particular are commendable.

The story itself is sentimental, but not to the point of being maudlin. This is probably the special appeal the film has for most people. The fairy tale sort of story set deep in our racial history makes it easy for us to laugh off or cry along with the characters and this helps the film achieve its level of catharsis.

Repulsion Preview

REPTULION, written and directed by Roman Polanski (who also did Rosemary's Baby) is a well-executed, suspenseful film about the evolution and development of psychosis in a young woman from the early stages of madness to virtually total separation from reality. The woman, Carol, is masterfully portrayed by Catherine Deneuve. It is one of her first major film roles and, since there is very little dialogue, the music has to rely on movements and facial expression to show the inner conflict of insanity.

The excellent use of deep shadows and strong contrasts in the black and white photography combined with the skillful utilization of music and sound effects heighten the mood, increase the dramatic impact of the visual imagery and build the suspense by giving the viewer a sense of deep foreboding and dread.

Although there are some rather brutal murder scenes in the film, Polanski tastefully uses the blood and gore.

Overall, the film is a very skillful and perceptive treatment of the actual psychological symptoms of delusions, guilt and repulsion which, when in strong conflict, can divide the mind and drive it to insanity.

Repulsion will be shown along with the Pit and the Pendulum Monday and Tuesday in the Science Auditorium. Admission 50 cents.)
