SG’s Stringer Calls For Apology

Millican Calls Actions Routine

Reactions to the manner in which a 12 per cent hike in room and meal costs was handled and approved by the Board of Regents last week were summed up in this week by President Charles Millican and former SG president, B. Burke Kibler, SG president. The increase is effective September 1.

"The whole thing was handled very poorly. The approval was rushed through easily quiet," stated Jim Stringer, SG president.

Stringer continued, "I think President Millican owes an apology to many people. He is not only responsible to the Board of Regents but to the students, parents, and community."

Stringer was told by the Board that he would be given a spot on the agenda to speak in reference to the proposed hike. He was not given an opportunity to speak. B. Burke Kibler, Regent chairman, publicly apologized for omitting Stringer from the agenda stating that he had misunderstood Stringer’s request.

"I have checked over the figures and the funds are most definitely needed. However, there has been no student-parent input. No one knew about the increase besides University officials," said Stringer.

The rationale behind the hike was presented to the Board by J. P. Goree, Vice President for Business Affairs. The housing hike was part of a step-by-step package unanimously approved by the Board. It was the only one of the points discussed.

The official agenda was not handed out but there had been a discussion of the ignorance of the spectators. The motion was approved immediately.

"Those in private room will continue to pay $180. Goree explained that the private room cost was not raised because the rate is high already. The $10 meal will remain the same."

Goree explained that a $30,000 deficit was incurred by housing and food services in the 1969-70 academic year with housing responsible for $18,000 of the deficit. A deficit of $18,000 has been projected for 1970-71. According to J. P. Goree, the original roof was not designed to have water standing on it for long periods of time and has deteriorated to a point where it started leaking. The old roof will have to be replaced in a few years and there are old roof over it.

"Four FTU Requests

The Florida Board of Regents gave unanimous approval to four FTU requests as its February meeting in the Regents Conference Room. The apparent change to FTU was the approval of a 12 per cent hike in food and housing costs for residents.

Also approved were a proposed undergraduate degree program in law enforcement, senior grants to 19 faculty members, and the promotion of Dr. William R. Gray to Chairman of the Communications Department.

The increase will be effective in September and will add $40 per quarter to the housing cost. It is the first hike in room and meal cost since the opening of FTU in 1968.

J. P. Goree, Vice President for Business Affairs, when giving reasons to the Board for the proposed increase, said that the hike was necessary and that it evaluated the problem from all sides as well as it could.

At Monday's meeting of the Board of Regents, as most of you know, an increase in room rent and food plan charges for FTU was approved by a 9-2 vote with 1 abstention. It was expected that some 100 faculty members. Both of these actions are significant to the student body.

"Tenure has been a rather controversial subject at other universities because it puts the professor in the post. How long a professor has been in the department. But in some situations, a professor can be removed for just cause without the department's knowledge. In other words, the professor can be removed for cause without the department's knowledge. In other words, the professor can be removed for cause without the department's knowledge. In other words, the professor can be removed for cause without the department's knowledge."
Mackey Named USF President

Dr. Cecil M. Mackey was named President of the University of South Florida on February 11. The Board of Regents at FTU, Mackey, 42, currently Executive Vice President of Florida State University, will be the second president of the 11-year-old university. Mackey was one of 27 applicants and will succeed Dr. Harris Dean, acting president of USF.

The Board also appointed Dr. Charles Cornelius as Dean of the $21 million College of Veterinary Medicine at the University of Florida, slated to open in 1974. In other Board action, it was decided to make an attempt to get the additional needed funds for the expansion of the J. Hillis Miller Health Center at the University of Florida. The proposed expansion is for a school of dentistry. The necessary funds amount to approximately $8 million dollars, which would raise the available funds for the project to the level of the lowest bid.

Major conflict in the acquisition of the funds was centered around the establishment of two new state universities - University of North Florida and Florida International University. Dr. Edmund A. Askell, Provost of the UF Health Center argued that the state of Florida is in critical need of a dental school to provide for the needs of Florida's dentistry students. He stated that the Board approved the most desirable expansion two years ago. Regent Charles H. Ferguson told Askell that he was in favor of dental facilities that can be afforded by the state but "we can't forget the growing need for education of students in non-professional areas."

Askell replied that the expansion plans had been cut as much as possible and that if the University of Florida were forced to change the plans any more, it would have to start all over with new plans and a new bid. He suggested that the State Legislature be requested to provide the necessary $6 million.

Regents Louis Murray and Elizabeth Korchakovich moved that the Board rule against minor student involvement in weekend privileges in residence halls without parental permission. The motion was withdrawn after Ferguson suggested that the individual universities should operate their dormitories in a manner acceptable with social standards.

Remaining Board action:

- Request by Florida State University for land on Tennessee Street in Tallahassee for an extension of the Fine Arts Building was approved. Total cost is $477,167 plus five per cent for state costs.
- Request by Florida State University for rental of office space in the Art Building was approved. The space is for the Educational Systems Support for Latin American Projects. Cost is $371.83 per month.
- Request of an amendment to the Operating Budget request for the State University System for 1971-72 to provide $200,000 in general revenue funds to plan the Interom Campus of Florida International University was approved.

A fire, that apparently started from a cigarette, blazed briskly out of control along Dean Road this week, but thanks to the University Fire Dept. and some FTU students who stopped and got involved, the fire was contained.

Frisco Drug Expert Key Program Speaker

Dr. Jod Fort, Director of the Center for Solving Social and Health Problems, San Francisco, is the principal speaker for the February 11 "Day of Awareness" program sponsored by Valencia Junior College.

"Day of Awareness" is a project to educate area citizens about drug use and abuse. A college program will begin at 11 a.m. in the Orlando Municipal Auditorium.

Dr. Fort received his M.D. degree from Ohio State University, and has specialized in public health, drug abuse and social reform. He authored "Pot: A Rational Approach" and served as a defense witness in the trials of drug advocate Dr. Timothy Leary and the late social comedian Lenny Bruce.

Although he served as defense witness for Dr. Leary, he does not support his "mystical" drug arguments, and said he would rather teach everyone how to live without drugs. Failing that, he said he would hope to make people aware of the risks of drug abuse. He does support competent medical research and humane therapeutic treatment for drug users.

"Awareness Day" has been proclaimed on a state level by Gov. Richard A.僧, on a county level by Thomas Mofett, Deputy Superintendent for Education, and endorsed by FTU SG president Jim Stronger. The concept originated with several Valencia students added to the idea by Valencia's Superintendant Marion Jackson. A steering committee comprised of student government representatives from the University of Orlando, Rollins College, Seminole Junior College, Valencia Junior College, and FTU has been formed, and is being led by Marvin Graen, VJC's Student Government vice president.

In addition to the 11 am presentation, a high school-oriented program with Dr. Fort and the Student Body President, will be held in the Municipal Auditorium. Civic leaders will be addressed at noon during the February meeting of the Drug Abuse Council, and a 4 pm program for concerned adults will be held at Boone High School Auditorium.

The following is endorsement by Jim Stronger:

Dear Students:

"Day of Awareness" is coming to Central Florida, Thursday, February 3. On that day Dr. Jod Fort, a nationally known authority on drugs and social problems, will discuss the use and abuse of drugs in a day-long series of presentations.

The student body of all five area universities and junior colleges are participating in this important community event to bring to the attention of all levels of our local community the great social problem we face.

As Student Body President, I encourage you to take interest in this project and invite you to attend the program planned for that day. Special interest groups from each campus and the College Student Senate slated for the Municipal Auditorium at 11 a.m.

Again, I look forward to seeing you there February 11.

And the Children Wrote In Chalk

By Grace Kehrer

Once upon a time in a land far from the dark cities a concerned monarch began to build a special kingdom just for the boys. This government built a castle for the youth to play in while it awaited their coming of age. It was the way of the monarchy that the children would be happy and grew strong in this special place, free from the cares of soldiers and violence.

After the building was well under way and the family of the children settled in the kingdom, the resident magnates looked about and saw the children were unhappy. The children said sad, the officials reassured, because they were isolated and therefore ignorant of the delightful shimmering visions alive in the world beyond the kingdom's borders. After each discussion, the magnates decided they would make the children smile by bringing the dreams of the outside world to the children. To achieve these ends, a proclamation was published calling for men of vision to come and amuse the children. Royal representatives were commissioned to carry the message to lands beyond the horizon. Jugglers, minstrels, poets, priests and prophets were invited to come to the children's kingdom and display their singular wares and talents. In this grand fashion, the children would be happy. The children smiled, they would be entertained by the dreamers from the outside world.

In short order, priests, prophets, magicians and artists et al., came to perform for the children. And very soon the children began to laugh. A new world was established in the kingdom. The magnates were happy because the monarchy was happy because the children were happy.

But one day a strange program was presented to the children. It was a show composed of two distinct yet related parts. The first part was dedicated to the struggle against evil. It was manufactured from the dreams and memories of the not-so -young. Unobtrusive comment upon the more banal, more unevolved memories of the present that G.I. Joe frustration they returned banalities of childhood, betrayed their confusion and pain. Their comments, written in the display, were sought, and comments were exactly what the children were what the less than complimentary.

Comments on the Charlie Brown exhibit were sought, and comments were exactly what the children would laugh. They would achieve these ends, a proclamation was published calling for men of vision to come and amuse the children. Thinking and feeling can be painful.

Possibly it was the emotional force of the exhibit that so upset some children; no one knows. Was it, clear, to the most casual observer, was this show caused a kind of adolescent frenzy to manifest itself in some of the children. Maybe because this exhibit caused them to think and to feel some became agitated. Thinking and feeling can be painful. Pain doesn't cause confusion and bewilderment - this is true. The children's comments, written in the display. In this half of the exhibit, the play grew so quickly from the present that G.I. Joe frustration they returned banalities of childhood and purpose in his labor. A quiet churl, betrayed their confusion and bewilderment. In their pain and frustration they returned banalities of originality and hope.

Possibly it is not wise to think of the children. Thinking and feeling may be so new an experience for them that it is emotionally upsetting. Hopefully, the young children's naive, this type of exhibit will prove to be atypical. This will be a small price to pay for the happiness that will return to the kingdom.

Delta Sigma Pi is again supporting the letter writing campaign on campus to secure the release of the names of all POWs held in North Viet Nam.

Your Signature and support is urgently needed ... Please sign:

The Office of the President
Democratic Republic of Vietnam
Hanoi, North Vietnam

Sir:
The purpose of this letter is to express my concern over our American Prisoners of War and Men Missing in Action in Southeast Asia. You, the North Vietnamese, Pathet Lao and Viet Cong, have refused to release a complete list of prisoners or any assurance that the men receive humane treatment.

On one hand, we are not concerned about the plight of these men. We do care and are appealing to you to honor basic codes of decency by releasing all POWs-MIAs held in North Viet Nam.

One of the factors that helped precipitate this letter was the fact that the American people are not aware of the suffering and privation the men receive in the hands of the North Vietnamese. The other half of the exhibit was challenge the children. Thinking and feeling can be painful.

Playing your film is an invitation to consider the issues we have raised in the series. We believe the film 'That Kinetic Art' is a provocative work which questions the role of film in modern society.

PAE remains the only undefeated (9-0) team on the FTU campus. They defeated KS Monday, 35-26. In a hard-fighting, close, low-scoring battle, the PAs and the Gold Bombers respectively, sought the only perfect records in the Independent ranks.

PAE’s victory over KS wasn’t in keeping with their high-scoring past performances. The game turned out to be one of the 1971 Super Bowl. Both teams were tied at 0-0 as they had the height advantage over KS.

Quick KS.

Like the 1971 Super Bowl, the favored team won but it was a poor game, perhaps due to the cold and the pressure on both teams. PAE was of the top-ranked teams, scoring an average of 59.5 points per game while allowing 29.3. KS, offensively, was scoring 30.67 and defensively allowing 35.6 points per game.

Staff 'n Such is a column designed for FTU club news. Any campus club is welcome to submit articles by noon on the Tuesday before the desired publication date. These articles may include the announcement of a new club's formation, meeting times, officer elections, and any activities the club has participated in or is planning.

Also, occasional pictures of selected club activities will be taken to be used with the column. If a club is planning an activity that they feel merits a picture, they may submit their own photographs to 'Staff 'n Such columnist, Paul Whitaker, AD 111.

Picture requests should be made in advance to insure that they will get into the issue immediately following the event.

The 'Staff 'n Such column, including copies of pictures which can be purchased from the Futures, can be of great value to club historians. Any and every campus organization is invited to make use of the column.

MEGA!

Tired of the present vestibule restrictions of the dormitories? Want to set up your own rules? Now is the time to do something about it! The Men's Residence Association is planning to subdivide the dormitory government so as to allow each half of the dormitory to make its own rules. But, students must demonstrate cooperation and an active interest! Contact Terry Green, D-dorm, suite 116, room B, ext. 4203 about dorm rejuvenation. Let's get our own rules.

Tentative plans for other features in the exhibit include a "boutique" to FTU, on which persons desiring information about the university can obtain it by picking up the phone and asking. The committee planning the exhibit also hopes to retilt the cooperation of various staff and faculty members to act as representatives at the exhibit in the evenings. The committee would also like to play tapes of some WFTU broadcasts. A photo booth and tables containing maps and other information about FTU are also planned as part of the exhibit.

The exhibit committee members are Bill Warden, tour guide; Chris Schwartz, Jack Rabon, and Anne Edrington; Diet Connell and Dennis Edrington; Media, and Linda Eastman and Wanda Russell of the Village Center.

Millican said that the increase was "a routine business matter needing to be brought to the attention of the Board." He explained that although it appeared that the request was "pushed" through, it was handled with what he considered normal dispatch.

The increase was originally scheduled for approval at the January Board of Regents meeting in Tampa. Millican said that the request had been placed before the Board months ago.

He said that although the increase will not go into effect until September, he did not want it to be delayed in order to allow ample time to let students and parents know that it would be in effect in the fall. Additionally, next month the present dorm residents will be asked to decide whether or not they wish to live on campus next fall.

Dr. William K. Grantly, new communications chairman, has been in the communications department at FTU since classes began in 1968 and has served as acting chairman for the department since August 1970.

The law enforcement degree program received endorsement largely based upon wide support for the proposal from Lawmen throughout central Florida. Objectives of the program are to train professionals in law enforcement at various levels and to provide training for officers who display potential as administrators.

The Ashlocks and Eisenman are now seeking federal court relief from the ban, and also ask that the public nuisance law, under which the ban was made, be declared unconstitutional.

Named in the counter狀suit was County Solicitor Rom Powell, State Attorney Robert Eagan, Sheriff Dave Starr and Vice Squad Lt. Bob Tanner.

The plaintiffs ask $20,000 damages for alleged loss of revenue from cancelled bookings of rock groups.

They claim they have been forced to become "self-censors" of musical groups and "have been forced to determine not only what they believe the term 'hard rock' to mean, but in addition to determine what the defendants define as 'hard rock'".

Powell and Eagan, the suit alleges, have tried to suppress free expression and assembly by obtaining the ban and the sheriff's office failed to provide adequate law enforcement officers to keep the peace at the stadium.

The suit also cites "continuous harassment and intimidation by local newspapers."

A hearing has been set today before U.S. Judge George C. Young for the purpose of seeking the temporary restraining order to lifting the concert ban.
