The crowds that attended the FOLK Festival last week wasn't huge, but they were constant and very receptive to the music, poems and good fun.

FOLK Festival’s Variety Enjoyable

By Beth Weilenman

There were songs of parodies—a recurring song for the Xu-Khu Khan and satire on country-gospel ditty jokes. There were old folk songs, including the classic "Greensleeves." There were songs sung formerly by the Beatles and Peggy Lee, and some instrumental movie melodies. There were new songs written and sung by Bill McLear on the rich Florida legacy.

For hundreds of yards the only color seen in the previously impenetrable broken brush was black. The bushes were charcoal skeletons and the ground was sand and ash. Wreathgrass showed a thin work's growth; everyone looked to the tops of the brown pine trees for the green signs that would reveal which might live and which would be dry. "Fire is like a lot of other things," said the President. In summer fire is neutral. It is only when well it is controlled that it determines how much damage it can do. It could be an advantage if it can be created and used advantage it can be. A man's temper can be a great asset at times, but it can also destroy him, as well as others around him. It all depends on how he controls it.

"In six weeks we'll be able to tell which trees have survived," said Hicks. "Most of the palmate made it, and in about three or four years the brush will be as thick once again," he said. "But the trees will take 10 to 20 years to grow back. Around 500 acres of FTU land, about one-third of the entire campus, was destroyed by the fires." Hicks estimated that each acre carries about 100 trees. That's 50,000 pine trees.

Millican Tours Ashes, Pledges Restoration

By Tim Tumlin

"The whole thing makes me sick all over," President Millican said while standing in the ashes of the forest surrounding the FTU campus. Last Tuesday Dr. Millican toured the area consumed by a sweeping fire which came within yards of Student Union building. The tour was conducted by C. Hicks, FTU grounds superintendent.

For hundreds of yards the only color seen in the previously impenetrable broken brush was black. The bushes were charcoal skeletons and the ground was sand and ash. Wreathgrass showed a thin work's growth; everyone looked to the tops of the brown pine trees for the green signs that would reveal which might live and which would be dry. Judge Calley Objectively

Public opinion and its power to influence has been no more clearly shown than when many Americans are changing their minds about the verdict of the Calley trial. It started with letters, wire, and telegrams to President Nixon and state legislatures. It has gotten a bit carried away in the past few days. The American people have not only opposed the verdict of the trial, let alone what actually happened in My Lai. A fair trial would have indicated that four out of five Americans are in favor of seeing Calley released for good. That's the way it is now, but the real impact of public opinion has yet to be felt.

The public has made Calley a hero. He is obviously a scapegoat, but he is far from a hero. The people who really deserve the honours, the penny, car stickers, placards and a touching song about Calley. The song, to any intelligent human being, must be seen as one of the greatest farces in the history of the United States. The real crime is that some people really are touched and saddened by the song. For the nation to determine Calley's innocence or guilt is as great an injustice as a completely military based courtroom trial deciding the issue. We should not attempt to determine Calley's guilt or innocence but the justice or injustice in bringing the case to trial. Should Calley be prosecuted for murder in time of war? We must express an opinion, but that opinion must be based on facts after the point. We should remember that there is a war going on. He should be seen as one of the greatest farces in the history of the United States. The real hero is the man whoainless.

First Unites FTU Poll

A near-tragedy has a strange way of bringing people of all kinds together, people who have never shown concern for a problem that might erase something that is dear to them. The tragedy of fire came to the numerous fire departments coming from yards from the Library Building last Wednesday and saw diverse groups of the FTU community coming together in putting out the fire. It damaged a great deal of land, but because it was a few and because it was a success, the following statement was released that at times Campus Security had to push the crowds back behind a line.

A note of thanks to the many people involved in extinguishing the fire, to the numerous fire departments coming from campus and to the Campus Security and to students and faculty members.

Visitor Injustices?

Dear Editor: On Monday, April 12, 1971, the Black Student Union of FTU was surprised by an unexpected visitor from Jamaica. Her name was Vanda Richards, and she carries the title of Press Secretary for the Minister of Trade and Industry of Jamaica. A former journalist, Vanda came to Florida to visit her uncle and decided to drop in on the Black Student Union. Nondescript to see, those who met her were quite impressed by her unique dress, elegant bearing, and intelligence. To accompany her timely expressions in an emphonic musical style which voice is truly characteristic of her Jamaican environment.

From Africa to Europe and England, Vanda has traveled abroad, spreading her ideas of brotherhood and love. When asked how she is successful in communicating with others, Vanda replied, "Can't trust a smile" and never judge a person by the color of their skin. She went on to say that the Americans are too timid and too hung up with the racial structure and will never be able to grasp the ideas of love and brotherhood. To elaborate on her beliefs, she related a disappointing experience which she happened to her on this campus. When she went to the bookstore to look round while she waited on a friend. Not noticing the "NO IMPROPER" sign she asked a cashier if she was OK to smoke, if the cashier replied it was if she was near the Library Building. As she proceeded to smoke her cigarette, she was approached in a very rude and perjurdified manner and told to put out the cigarette. Vanda then move her chair. "Tryin' to live up to her philosophy." Vanda left the bookstore and continued her tour through the rest of the Library Building.

We had a chance to interview her later and when I learned of the incident, we inquired with the bookstore and apology was made by the officials of the bookstore. Maybe the incident was considered minor and insignificant to many, but there are some who can relate this incident to the American Social Classes and can see the tremendous injustices which they have done to each other.

Unfortunately, there aren't many people like Vanda Richards, but if we're to prosper as a university we have to change some of our ideas and convictions and ask ourselves, "does color really matter?" Department of Public Affairs

- Jesus Christ really didn't have long hair and didn't represent the Black Panthers, the Klu Klux Klan, the American Nazi Party, or the few people who deem themselves a national soul. And what of Lieutenant Calley? He is guilty.

- Effective repression. When did we last hear of a successful experiment in repression.

- He is guilty. In the history of the United States, the real hero is the man whorellas.

If you don't think FTU's Inter-Disciplinary activities are going to be expressive, just take a look at what the Art Department has in store for the occasion.

Spontaneous Generation Theme Of Birth March

When artists create their works before the public they call it a happening. When interested persons march for something they believe in they call it a demonstration. Combine the two and you have the Birth March.

The Inter-Disciplinary Program is a united effort of all the colleges toward creative expression. Creative expression by such groups as the Chemistry Club or perhaps the Pop Art Pilots might appear to be unique and interesting. But when members of the art department are given a license to express, they don't feel bound.

"The March will be strictly pro-birth!" said Byrd Brownell, the student coordinator for the April 16 happening "so what could be more controversial than being for birth, life, and love?" Brownell is also an SD senator and introduced the bill to the senate which would provide for the $500 cost of the materials. The same day the bill was introduced it was approved unanimously.

With all due respect to the SDS, it will be a tough march to beat. So far Dr. Walter Gauld, a professor in the FTU art department, has painted and constructed some of his work which will be mounted on baby carriages and wheeled along in the march. Brownell has planned to weld a full-size swing set to two bicycles and make a traveling playground for those who wish to imbibe.

Spontaneously is the key word for the hour long demonstration starting at 11 am. Besides the prepared art, anyone who wishes to join may do so by painting a sign while marching or just step in at any time just because it's there. At the end of the march a pro-birth manifesto will be read out in front of the Administration Building.

If painting picture signs are out of style, the marchers will be able to paint moving baby carriages mounted with plywood boards. Brownell has said that some hammer will do paper suits and allow themselves to be painted while walking, and hopes some of these people will be FTU officials. If all goes as planned then students from the department of instructional media will film the proceedings and will show the results on the night of April 25.

William W. Young has been approved as chairman of the political science department by the Florida Board of Regents. Young joined the FTU faculty in 1949, as associate professor of political science and has served as acting chairman of the department since its creation.

Student Government elections will remain on a non-ticket format, according to a decision made by the Student Government the night of April 25 in the form of an amendment submitted to the senate by Senator Paul Gianopoulos, College of Fine Arts.

Action was heavy at the SG meeting as it closed the week before with a bill enumerating election procedure still being debated and not acted upon, but with two amendments, and one amendment to the amendment still awaiting a decision. Consequently, when the meeting was reopened, the bill was once again on the floor.

The first floor action was to have the bill, no. 384, tabled until the end of the session on the agenda. Action was taken on the bill when the procedure was completed, with some dissent, and the general business of the day was taken care of.

When the bill was removed from the table, the order of business required that the amendment to the amendment to the bill be discussed and acted upon.

The original amendment, submitted by Senator Charles Simpson, (Business) made a few clarifications, and added the stipulation that the presidential and vice-presidential candidates would be forced to run on a straight ticket, having to vote for both, or neither.

When some dissension arose, Senator Gianopoulos submitted his amendment to Simpson's amendment. The Gianopoulos amendment changed the Simpson amendment so the elections would be as they have always been at Tech, to wit: no ticket. The Gianopoulos amendment passed, 15 yes, five no, and one abstention. The Simpson amendment then passed, with the changes, 18 yes, one no, and two abstentions.

The actual bill was discussed briefly, and Senator Simpson, who introduced the bill the week before, stood for a wave of praise, to keep him from having to read the entire bill. The senate printed him the advantage, and the bill was discussed, but action was not taken, as the floor moved to business before the question was called.

There were brief requests for the meeting to be closed from the floor, but four of the requests were turned down by a vote. The meeting adjourned about 1 and half hours over time.

Printed but not acted upon, were bills to grant an extra $800 to the Miss FTU Pageant, to convey a statement of support for the senate, to create a desired executive, to allow tax for the senate, to govern the allocation of SC funds to student clubs, and to appropriate $100 for the Florida Presidents Annual Meeting which bills underwent their first reading, and administration of $500 for the SG meeting before they can be voted upon. Anyone interested in any of the above can follow the proceedings at the meeting at 1 pm in GC 103.

Students Voice Opinions On William Calley Verdict

A poll of some FTU students showed that considerable favoritism towards Lt. William Calley in his recent court-marital is present on campus.

Campus opinion followed the nation-wide trend of eight-to-one in favor of Calley. Most of the statements attributed innocence of murder to the belief that Calley was "doing his duty." Hay Epperson, a senior in the College of Humanities and Fine Arts, felt, "the trial is a farce. Calley was sent over there to do a job, and did it. If he was then persecuted for doing it."

Ron Offenhauser, a junior in the College of Humanities and Fine Arts, said to the American people and thinks Calley should have been excused from the stand. "People think that just because he is an American that he's exempted from his actions. America is a great nation for rallying behind the underdog, his guilt or innocence being almost irrelevant.

Probably the best summary of student sentiment of the Calley trial comes from Dave Malo, a freshman in natural sciences, who simply said, "Bab, humbug."

The Staff 'n Such column, including copies of pictures which can be purchased from the FTU, can be of great value to club patrons. All campus organizations are invited to make use of the column.

Stu 'n Such is a column designed for FTU club news. Any campus club is welcome to submit copies of pictures which can be purchased from the FTU.

Articles may include the announcement of a club's formation, meeting times, officer elections, and any activities the club has participated in or is planning.

Also, occasional pictures of selected club activities will be taken to be used in the column. A club planning an activity that they feel merits a picture may ask us to send them a magazine.

Stu 'n Such will be taught by Barry Willis, a member of the FTU journalism staff.

Discussion at the last meeting covered tentative plans for a diving trip to Bimini during the quarter break and numerous other trips, including a trip to Cape Canaveral, are in the works.

All students are invited to attend the first diving season meeting.

NEWMAN CENTER

ATTENTION - All students are required to stop talking about the pollution problem and to start doing something about it. This week, April 19-25 has been designated as National Earth Week in place of last year's Earth Day. The Newman Student Center is in the midst of planning and coordinating an ACTION type program to be held April 22.

This project will hopefully involve all campus residents, sororities, clubs, organizations and individuals at FTU. Any organization that is not contacted by April 9 concerning what they can do, please call John Geiger (381-4597) or Susan Thistle (273-3603), or leave your name, organization, and phone number.

Since this is a Newman-organized project, it will be an ACTION program. Newman is not going to talk about pollution or the conservation of energy, but is instead planning an ACTION type program to be held April 22.

The Newman Student Center will consist of officially going out, on Thursday, April 19, and opening up the entire FTU from 9:30 to 11:30.

This week in advance to ensure that they will get into the issue immediately following.

EDGEO WOOD

The Men's Residence Association (MRA) will be holding elections for president Wednesday, April 22. Any male resident who would like to run for this position may see David Andrews in C-36 or Arthur Slack in C-19.

If a student has an MRA pole and has not paid the rental fee for the spring quarter, the pole must be returned to the Newman Center.

MRA meetings are open to all residents. They are held in C-138 at 10 pm Monday nights.

AQUA KNIGHTS

The constitution of the Aqua Knights was officially approved by Student Government last Tuesday. At the last meeting of the team and scuba diving club the following officers were elected: Bob Ford, president; Bruce Gardner, vice president; Gordon Lighthed, secretary; and Jeff down, treasurer.

The scuba diving classes will begin scuba diving classes on campus tomorrow probably at 6 pm. Classes will be taught by Barry Willis, a member of the FTU.

Watch for details of the project to be given in next week's FTU.

SG Cancels Voting Rights of Students

BULLETIN - FTU - Orlando - The Student Government of Florida Technological University announced today the elimination of sections in the constituting document that guarantee the right to vote in student elections. By a 7-2 decision, the Senate decided there was no evidence of the remaining in Student Government. All powers of the process, judicial action, allocation of funds, and watchdog activities will be turned over the administrative as the present Student Government leaders are phased out. The present of the new defunct Student Body, in all exclusive, is unknown.

FTU tennis player revisits favorite forehand action in match against Stetson University.

The winning streak now stands at three for the FTU Tennis Knights. A contest of Stetson University on the home court last Tuesday was a walkover for the FTU record to 3-3. FTU pulled off a complete sweep of the tournament with 6-1 and 6-0 victories over Rick Beckwith and Dorne, 8-1. Don Hodgkins and Wood are now setup for the tournament. The person who designed court this was someone who's really been sweeping of the tournament.

By LARRY MCMORE

The FTU "Iron Men" finished in second place at the Florida AAU Weightlifting Championships hosted by FTU in the Winter. The 116-pound class was won by the Florida Tech (FTU) lifter. FTU gained revenge on the Florida Tech with a loss to their teammate by one point.

Those fans that made it out to the YMCA were treated to a weightlifting performance in weightlifting. Using all his 320 pounds of muscle, Debe's 1,795-pound total was too much for the FTU lifter. Debe's 245-pound lift in the clean and jerk was the high point of his performance. Debe has a total of 320 pounds, which is the best total for any Florida State University lifter.

Summer Camp Is Planned

Summer Sports Camp Offered To Youngsters

Through the sponsorship of the College of Education and the Continuing Education Departments, FTU will conduct its First Annual Sports Day Camp for children ranging in age from five to 12 years old.

Under the directionship of Associate Professor Richard Hunter, the summer sports program will offer professional instruction in swimming and diving, basketball, football, soccer, tennis, wrestling, golf, and baseball. Assisting Hunter on the instruction phase will be Intramural Director Kenneth Henner, Bowling Coach Gerald Gregorley, Basketball Coach Eugene Clark, and Dr. Troy Ordahl and John Powell from the Department of Education.

The summer camp will start June 21 and will run through July 30. It will be divided into three sessions. The first session begins July 6 and runs through July 19. The second session begins July 20 and runs through July 30. The third session begins August 1 and runs through August 21.

The sessions run from 9 am to 3 pm each day. All sports equipment and facilities will be available on campus. The cost per child is $100 for the first session, $150 for the second session, and $100 for the third session. A deposit of $25 is required to reserve a place.

The camp will be oriented on campus and will include a tour of the Physical Education Building. All sports are required to bring their own tennis shoes, shorts, T-shirts, baseball gloves, swimming trunks, and lunch money, should they decide to eat at the Village Dining Hall.

Any boy or girl students between the ages of 5 and 12 who are interested in attending the F TU camp this summer can pick up applications in Mr. Hunter's office in room 102 in the Physical Education Building. The application deadline is May 19. For further information on the camp, contact Mr. Hunter at 375-2579.

Determining Sports Camp

Swimming Pool Hours

- Monday: 3-6 pm
- Tuesday: 12-3 pm
- Wednesday: 3-6 pm
- Thursday: 3-6 pm
- Friday: 12-3 pm
- Saturday: 12-5 pm
- Sunday: 12-5 pm

The children attending the camp will be divided into three groups according to age. The Juniors will be five, six, and seven year olds, the Intermediates will include the eight and nine-year-olds, and the Senior group will be the ten, eleven, and twelve year olds.

Fees will be determined by the number of students per family and by the session in which the student attends. For one student attending the first session, the cost is $80. The reason the prices are divided this way is that each week is separate. The Juniors will be oriented on campus and will be divided into three groups: the football and soccer playing fields, the Olympic-sized pool, and the air conditioned Physical Education Building.

CANCER: A close friend will offer you some good advice today. You will listen, and although you break out in a hot rash in a very embarrassing place.

LEO: If you wear glasses, expect your frame to pull out of the frame by 8:30. If you don't wear glasses, you won't open your eyes wide until late afternoon.

TSC: You will find yourself gently foaming at the mouth by lunch, though you have tasty food. They will probably shoot you through break.

LIBRA: Whatever that joke you pulled on your boyfriend, he did not like it. Don't worry, though. The wreck was just a prank, so they said it made him sterile. Wouldn't that be great?

SCORPIO: A natural disaster will befal you. It will strike very close to you, but you will be blunted. You, in fact, will be protected. You will not be convulsed, you are too clever.

SAGITTARIUS: Last week's date is not a true blunder. You can check this by either waiting until the roots begin to show, or by ripping the clothes right off when you are not in the Administration Building. Don't let your conscience get you. You will not be convicted, you are too clever.

ARIES: Your animal lust will be the death of you, yet dog. Only you and I know what I'm talking about, and I can't print it. You're disgusting. How can you sleep at night? Imagine, how did you get to keep quiet for that long?

AQUARIUS: Your neighbors will be the death of you, yet dog. Only you and I know what I'm talking about, and I can't print it. You're disgusting. How can you sleep at night? Imagine, how did you get to keep quiet for that long?

PIECES: Allah be praised! Today you discover that she's only putting on your flesh, let alone picking it to the bone.

GEMINI: Stay away from palm trees today. There is a crown of witches which has been placed on top of the old "Bonnet Plague" to spell on you. If it works, don't worry, they are really only palm tree bugs, and can't really eat your brain, but leave pick to the bonus.

The play opens Saturday, 8 pm.

The Business College display begins Tuesday, 10 am. Donna Leonidas Barnett, chairman of the music department, will present creative piano works at 1 pm by using notes and chords drawn by the author.

William O'Conner, academic vice president of Lake City Junior College and editor of the "Creative Notebook," will discuss and demonstrate the relationship to creativity at 1 pm on Thursday, April 21, at Ichabod. Experimental models will be shown at 7:30 pm.

An art auction at 11 am will offer sculpture, paintings, and other art forms for sale to benefit the FTU Foundation. This will receive a percentage of the sale. Richard Cornell of instructional media will be the auctioneer of the artwork. After the auction, from 3:30 to 4:30 pm, a workshop for elementary school students will be presented featuring local elementary students and the media specialist in the use of art materials. Real Bower, of the Village Center, has been selected to lead this three-hour workshop. The winner will be announced at 3:30 pm at the Science Auditorium.

A summary of the creative writing program may be in the form of an art show at 8:15 pm in the Science Auditorium, where the theme of the show is "Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid." If completed, the film will be a student-produced review of the program.

BULLETIN
The investigation of the origin of the fires which swept through much of the FTU campus is still being carried out by arson investigators of the Union Park Fire Department and a detective with the Orange Co. Sheriff's Office. Mr. Brown, the Union Park Fire investigator who has been supervising the case, is still unable to admit that it is being purposely being withheld until a future date.

No Pet Policies, Says SA Official

The patio area in front of the Administration Building has been eliminated as a location for student entertainment such as concerts, speakers and festivals.

The idea of pet entertainment has been proposed by faculty and students alike. According to W. Rex Gibney, president for student affairs, the patio is part of the area to be maintained for academic purposes.

Brown cited the area around the library and the Administration Building as academic areas.

The current location of student entertainment sponsored by the Village Center is the grassy area north of the Village Center. According to Wanda Russell, program director of the Village Center, the patio would be an ideal location for top seasons and speakers.

It is occasionally located, a natural gathering place and is an artistically beautiful area. Mrs. Russell is satisfied with the location of festivals and concerts, however.

"The location is the best we have and the music can be heard over the campus.
