Millican Tours Ashes, Pledges Reforestation

By Tim Tunlin

The whole thing makes me sick all over," President Millican said while standing in the shade of the forest surrounding the FTU campus. Last Tuesday Dr. Millican toured the area consumed by a sweeping fire which came within yards of the Engineering Building. The tour was conducted by C. Hicks, FTU grounds superintendent.

For hundreds of yards the only color seen in the previously impassable brush was black. On one hilltop bushes were charcoal skeletons and the ground was sand and ash. In another area, weeds were scorched and some of the tops of the brown pine trees for the green signs that would reveal which might live and which would die.

"Fire is like a lot of other things," said the President. "In summer fire is neutral. It is only when too well controlled that it can do more harm than it is good for." In this case the advantage it can be. A man's temper can be a great asset at times, but it can also destroy him, as well as others around him. It all depends on how he controls it."

"In six weeks we'll be able to tell how the trees remaining after the fire will do," said Hicks. "Most of the palmettos were killed, and in about three or four years the brush will be as thick as a thick, ever. He said that the trees will take 15 to 20 years to grow back. In 500 acres of FTU land, almost one-third of the entire campus, was destroyed by the fire. Hicks estimated that each acre carries about 100 trees. That's 50,000 pine trees."

Folk Festival's Variety "Endless"

By Beth Weilenman

There were songs of parodies — a recurring song for the Knox Kahn and a line on country-gospel disc jockeys. There were old folk songs, including the classic "Greenfield." There were songs written formally by the Beatles and Peggy Lee, and some instrumental movie themes. There were new songs written and sung by Will McLean about the rich Florida Folk Festival April 2 on the campus north of the Village.

Judge Calley Objectively

Public opinion and its power to influence has been so strong lately that many Americans are changing their minds about the verdict of the Calley trial.

It started with letters, wires, and telegrams to President Nixon and state legislatures. It has gone on for months. The American people have not accepted the verdict of the trial, let alone what actually happened in My Lai.

A large majority of the American people believe that four out of five Americans are in favor of seeing Calley released for good. That's the way it is now, but the real impact of public opinion has yet to be felt.

The public has made Calley a hero. He is obviously a scapegoat, but he is far from a hero. The public's desire to see Calley released is based on the impression that he is innocent, or that the justice or injustice in bringing the case to trial.

We should not attempt to determine Calley's guilt or innocence, but the justice or injustice in bringing the case to trial. Should Calley be pursued for murder in time of war?

An intelligent human being, must be seen as one of the greatest farces in American procedure. Right to know our high schools aren't teaching or even have classes on revolutionary ideas as the few people who deem this article worth reading.

We should remember that there is a war going on. He should alone what actually happened in My Lai.

It seems these educators, representing such groups as the Klan, the American Nazi Party, the Black Student Union, the American Nazi Party, are interested in denominating young adults.

Calley Objectively

The American people are interested in determining the right to vote in student elections, a cleansing of the physical plant. That's the word from the campus radio station.

All letters must be withheld on request. Address must have done to their environment. That's the word from the campus radio station.

Visitor Injust?

Dear Editor:

On Monday, April 5, 1971, the Black Student Union of FTU was surprised by an unexpected visitor from Jamaica. Her name was Vanda Richards, and she carries the title of Press Secretary for the Minister of Trade and Industry of Jamaica.

A former journalist, Vanda came to Florida to visit her cousins and decided to drop in on the Black Student Union. Nondescripts to say, those who met her were quite impressed by her unique dress, easy smile, and philosophies. To accompany her, Vanda left the bookstore and continued her tour through the rest of the Library Building.

We had a chance to interview her later and when I learned of the incident, we inquired about the bookstore, C&A Printing. Maybe this incident was considered happen and insignificant to many, but there are some who can relate this incident to the American Social Classes and can see the tremendous injustices which they have done to each other.

Undoubtedly, there aren't many people like Vanda Richards, but if we're to prosper as as a university we have to change all of our ideas and philosophies, and get ourselves, "do something really matter." Department of Public Safety

The Simpson amendment then passed, with the changes, 18 yes, one no, and two abstentions.

The actual bill was discussed briefly, and Senator Simpson, who introduced the bill the work before, asked for a waiver of rules, to keep him from having to read the entire bill. The Senate printed him the advantage, and the bill was discussed; but action was not taken, as the floor moved to discuss before the question was called.

There were few requests for the meeting to be closed from the floor, but four of the requests were turned down by a vote. The meeting went around one and a half hours overtime.

The meeting was not acted upon, new bills to grant an extra $800 to the Miss FTU Pageant, to revise a students' amendment for the senate, to create aedited...student for the senate, to govern the allotment of...students fund to student clubs, and to appropriate $100 for the Florida Gators. With all due respect to the SDS, it will be a tough march to beat. So far Dr. Walter Gauld, a professor in the FTU art department, has painted and constructed some of his work which will be mounted on baby carriages and wheeled along in the march. Brownell has planned to weld a full-size swing set to two bicycles and make a traveling playground for those who wish to listen.

Canceled is the key word for the hour-long demonstration starting at 11 am. Besides the prepared art, anyone who wishes to join may do so by painting a sign while marching or just step in at any time just because it's there. At the end of the march a pro-birth manifesto will be read out in front of the Administration Building. If painting picture signs are out of style, the marchers will be able to paint moving baby carriages mounted with plywood boards. Brownell has said that some...Blames the...sentiments will don paper suits and allow themselves to be painted while walking, and hopes some of...FTU officials. If all goes as planned then students from the department of instructional media will film the proceedings and will show the events on the night of April 25.

Students Voice Opinions On William Calley Verdict

A poll of some FTU students showed that considerable favoritism towards Lt. William Calley in his recent court-martial is present on campus. Campus opinion followed the nation-wide trend of eight-to-one in favor of Calley. Most of the statements attributed innocence of murder to the belief that Calley was "doing his duty.

Ray Hopper, a senior in the College of Humanities and Fine Arts, felt, "the trial is a farce. Calley was sent over there to do a job, and did it, and then was persecuted for doing it."

Ron Oliver, a senior in social sciences, said, "The trial should never have taken place. I was stationed in Vietnam at the same time as Calley and I can tell you, My Lai wasn't an isolated incident. It is absurd to hand one man for the blunder of a nation."

Patrice Stover, a senior in visual arts education, also echoed Hand's, a sophomore in education: "If Calley is prosecuted, then they would have to prosecute all the...every soldier that was ever there..." Who should take the blame for the Calley trial? My Lai. "Somebody has to stand at fault," said Richard Van Dyne, "and I think that the Army should take the blame."

A jeans, a natural science major, blames the "system": "According to the American people and thinks Calley should have been prosecuted. "People think that just because he is an American that he's excused from his actions. America is a great nation for running behind the underdog, his guilt or innocence being almost irrelevant."

Probably the best summary of student sentiment of the Calley trial comes from David Holt, a freshman in natural sciences, who said simply, "Bah, humbug."

No Party Terrors, Says SA Official
The patio area in front of the Administration Building has been eliminated as a location for student entertainment such as concerts, speakers and festivals.

The idea of party entertainment has been proposed by faculty and students alike. According to W. Rex Brown, acting president for student affairs, the patio is part of the area that will be maintained for academic purposes.
Brown cited the area around the library and the Administration Building as academic areas.

The current location of student entertainment sponsored by the Village is the ground north of the Village Center. According to Wanda Russell, program director of the Village Center, the patio would be an ideal location for top seasons and speakers. It is centrally located, a natural gathering place and "an architecturally beautiful area." Mrs. Russell is satisfied with the location of festivals and concerts, however.

"The location is the best we have and the music can be heard over the campus.
