Visitation Busing

The controversial issues of visitation and busing were brought to the public by the Universities and Community Colleges Committee of the Florida State Senate at its August 30 meeting at FTU. The committee, which meets monthly, has lately adopted a "bring it to the people" approach and schedules meetings at all state institutions to solicit the opinions of local officials, university administration, students and taxpayers.

Morrison's daughter, Lynn, previously attending the University of Kentucky, enrolled at USF in 1968 and resided in the privately-owned residential dormitory, Postana Hall.

Describing the visitation policy which was in effect at the time as "the right of cohabitation, not visitation" and describing the general deterioration of dorm life, Morrison stated that his daughter had "been disfranchised of the opportunity to attend a Florida university."

REGENTS CALLED 'INFIRM'

In a debate against the Board of Regent's recently approved visitation policy, Morrison called the Regents an "infirmary, no longer the champion of morality," and defended Regent Elizabeth Kovachevitch as being a "woman of great courage" for her stand against the new policy.

In summary, the Vero Beach citrus grover urged other fathers to "stand up and be counted" and stressed that one of two steps must be taken to stop the "debilitation on University campuses": first, to disband the Board of Regents, a board in its trinos which ponders over minor things rather than setting basic policies; and second, the residence halls will also house students who by individual request or group vote decide to reside in a dorm without a visitation program.

Budgets Approved
For $161.3 Million

A proposal to limit the term of the corporate officers of the Board of Regents to one year and the approval of the 1971-72 State University System budget, amounting to $161.3 million, were major topics of the September 17 meeting of the BOG at FTU.

Regent Chester A. Ferguson introduced the limitation of term proposal as part of a four-point package. Also included was a defense of the recently approved university visitation policy, which he said would provide students with a "democracy of choice."

The debate over the new policy was punctuated by the announcement of a recommendation to refer the matter to the Council of University Presidents. Ferguson upheld freedom of speech but qualified his statement saying that convicted felons lose their constitutional rights, and therefore should not be allowed to speak on university campuses.

The last point was the "growing use of university facilities for noncredit courses." Ferguson made a recommendation to curtail these "revolutionary" courses, such as "Sex Prevention" and "How To Make a Revolution." Florida State University president Stanley Marshall spoke to the Regents about the FSU Program forParticipation Education (CPE) and said that the CPE program will be delayed because some of the proposed discussion groups had not been approved by the university.

REGENTS DEFENDED

In an emotional moment, Ferguson recounted his years on the Board of Regents and lamented the recent attacks on the Board's policy moves as being "unfair, un warranted and unjustified." He lauded the Board as being the best of its kind in the nation "for accomplishing more with less than any other state in the union."

Dorm Supervisors Reduced By Two

The residence hall supervision program has undergone some major changes with a reduction in the number of supervisors and advisors. There are now two resident supervisors and two assistants. Lynn Schoenberg is women's RS's assistant. The men's RS will be assisted by Wayne Linfield, Miss Schoenberg and the two assistants.

According to R. W. Reiner, director of housing, the number of supervisors was reduced because "students didn't know who to see when they had a problem. Now they can go to the person in charge of their dorm or on duty that day."

Each of the four supervisors will have one duty night per week and one weekend duty per month. Reiner added he hoped the new system would "start competition between dorms and floors" for various things.

Allow Youth Vote To Improve Politics

This is not your typical "Welcome to campus - get involved" editorial. Everywhere you go for the next month or so people will be urging you to join a club or run for an office. We'll bypass the repetition.

We want you to get involved - but in something a little more important. It's been called the 18-year-old vote (and a lot of other things, for that matter) and it deserves attention and consideration. It isn't particularly popular in this area - which, in our opinion, is all the more reason to consider it.

The near future will present the final opportunity in history for 18-20-year-olds to vote in national, state, and local elections. A popular attitude among college students now is "why bother? Politics is corrupt and I can't even begin to change it." Perhaps, you as an individual can't change it. But you, as a whole, can.

The 18-20-year-old vote is not a popular issue. The general attitude appears to be that this age group is not mature, intelligent or concerned enough even to register. We are not attempting to persuade you to "show them" but rather to do something for yourself and your country. To use your right to vote. We cannot "prove" maturity, intelligence or concern - only you who are truly down on the subject. But maybe its time to prove something to ourselves.

Some of the more active citizens of Orlando are on the bandwagon to bring registration to the new voters or to get the voters to register. Citizens like Gene Burns of WKNR Radio who has received permission from the city of Orlando to sponsor a mobile registration unit. And local students who are sponsoring drives to get students to register.

If you are one of those who feel that politics is corrupt, remember, it took more than one person to make it that way. And by the same token, it will take more than one to straighten government out. Granted, it could be obtained by setting the "convenience" token, it will take more than one to straighten government out.

Not all have shown confidence in youth but enough have to make a difference. Let all voters be heard now that the doors have been opened.

Don't Stop Rotation

A recommendation was made at last Friday's Board of Regents meeting to discontinue the practice of rotating BOR meetings from campus to campus. This move would serve two immediate purposes - of University Presidents to truly know the needs of each campus.

...meeting to discontinue the practice of rotating meetings should be seen as an opportunity to offer the Regents a see the Board in action and ideally, to get on the agenda, if desired.

Some of the more active citizens of Orlando are on the bandwagon to bring registration to the new voters or to get the voters to register. Citizens like Gene Burns of WKNR Radio who has received permission from the city of Orlando to sponsor a mobile registration unit.

...meetings from...could be obtained by setting the "convenience" token, it will take more than one to straighten government out.

Regent Chester Ferguson expressed his doubts, saying that he is looking forward to meeting with the Student Government and the student body and faculty upon his return.

Circle K Labeled 'Gentle Protest'

To all students of FTU:

During the course of these first few weeks, many clubs and fraternities will confront you with membership into their organization, if they haven't already. This difficulty of trying to establish an effective program that involves the student and impairs both the school and the community is a problem that haunts many advisors and new officers. This problem, however, has been under study during the summer months, and will evolve into progressive activities to begin a very short period of time.

Circle K has often been considered "a gentle form of protest." Gentle in the form of not to change it. Join Circle K!

Together to form a better world,

R. J. Brown, President

McGovern To Visit Central Florida

An Open Letter to the Student Body:

The morning of Tuesday, Sept. 28, Senator George McGovern will be visiting both Rollins College and Valencia Community College during a brief swing through Central Florida. His stay is so short during this visit that it has been impossible to find time for the Senator to make the lengthy drive to the FTU campus and still make his departure deadlines.

We regret very much that he will not be on campus during this visit.

However, we want to personally invite all members of the Florida Technological University community to join us either at Valencia (9 am) or at Rollins (11 am) and to discuss the current issues with Senator McGovern including his recent trip to Salgon and Tokyo.

Let us also emphasize that Senator McGovern will be returning to Orlando later this fall and a visit to FTU will be a top priority item at that time. The Senator has stated that he is looking forward to meeting with the Student Government and the student body and faculty upon his return.

Divergent Opinions Voiced At Stadium Riot Hearing

FUThE reporter Oeder John attended the September 15 inquiry into the rock concert riot that erupted at the Orlando Sports Stadium September 10. The following is an account of the proceedings.

Confused sheriff’s deputies sprayed tear gas on the crowd at the John Sebastian concert at the Orlando Sports Stadium while other officers locked the exit gates; eye-witnesses testified before a board of public inquiry September 15. The inquiry was called by the sheriff’s department and held at the Orange County school board auditorium.

Panel members who listened to the testimony included Russell Troutman, chairman, and past president of the Orange County Bar Association; Pete Ashlock, owner of the sports stadium; Dick Batchelor, president of the Young Democrats and a Senior at FTU; Lt. Bob Tanner of the sheriff’s department; Capt. Marvin Perle of the sheriff’s department; John Fraser, president of the Orange County Young Republicans; Paul Pelle, chairman of the Orange County Student Association and a student at Valencia Junior College.

At the beginning of the session approximately 400 people demanded that a representative of the New Party be placed on the board. When the chairman overruled him, Rogers stood up and stated to walk out. He changed his mind and sat down when nobody objected.

ASHLOCK RESIGNS

Next Ashlock stood up and said: “I have some known enemies on this panel, so I am going to resign and ask that a parent be placed on the board in my place.”

Bradley Odham took Ashlock’s place on the panel. Odham is the owner of a local construction firm, and a father of an 18-year-old girl who was at the sports stadium on the night of the riot. He is also a twice-defeated candidate for governor of Florida.

Odham said, “People want to know a whole lot more about what happened; except for the grace of God, it could have been my daughter with her head split open.”

WITNESSES TESTIFY

The first witness to testify was FTU student Rick Namey, who represented the Student Mobilization Committee and the Orange County Student Association.

Under questioning by the panel members, Namey admitted that he was not a direct witness to any violence, but he said that he heard people running away from the stadium who had been “gassed.”

As Bove talked, the atmosphere became similar to an old-fashioned Baptist revival meeting except that individuals in the room would call out “righteous” rather than “amen.”

Bove asked, “I’d like to know why people were ‘gassed’ inside the stadium when we were trying to watch the show and the fight was outside.”

Bove said that the first of several young people to testify that the doors were locked to keep people from drifting outside while the gas was still being sprayed inside the building.

Robert Fuller, a graduate of FTU, with degrees in both sociology and law enforcement asked the sheriff’s department to answer the following questions.

1) What formation of riot control was used?
2) How many men were on detail to the sports stadium?
3) How many full-time deputies were on duty rather than part-time reserve?
4) How many officers have riot control experience?
5) What was the purpose of using tear gas?
6) Who gave the actual order to use gas?
7) How much training with gas did your people have?
8) Why didn’t you control the rioting by consolidating the rioters rather than dispersing them?

85 Young Voters Register At Rally

The Orange County Student Association sponsored a voter registration rally at Eola Park last Tuesday to promote a massive voter registration campaign.

Rick Namey, an FTU student, told the approximately 450 young people in the audience, “We want 5,000 young people to turn out at the supervisor of registration’s office — let’s make Dixie Barber’s office the biggest happening around.”

Tuesday, Dixie Barber reported that 85 young people between 18 and 21 had registered to vote last Monday, while 77 people over 21 were registered. Mrs. Barber described the turnout as “slightly higher than on a normal Monday.”

More than 2,500 young people between 16 and 21 have been registered in the last six months, according to Mrs. Barber.

Visitation was a positive influence when it exists under controlled conditions," said Mautz in defense of the Board's policies.

KOVACHEVICH SPEAKS

Regent Elizabeth Kovachevich testified briefly, restating what she had voted against the new policy and would maintain her negative stand.

In keeping with the committee's desire to hear all opinions, the Board recognized a group of USF students who gave opinions on the credibility of the new policy.

The issue of university level being temporarily passed over, pending further research, Senator Charles H. Weber, who sponsored the original short form bill (SB 932) commented on the appropriateness of his bill saying, "If the recent Supreme Court ruling includes all public education, then indeed, this would apply to Florida universities. If not, the Supreme Court ruling would have to be considered discriminatory and in violation of the United States Constitution."

Weber stressed that his introduction of the bill was serious in nature (this remark in reference to an Orlando Sentinel report that he had introduced the bill "jokingly").

The education of Florida's underdeveloped human resources was considered by the committee in the form of a resolution which received support from the president of Florida A & M University, Benjamin L. Perry, and several other state university officials. The committee passed over the resolution temporarily in favor of converting it to a bill.

A bill which would strengthen the tenure process for Florida teachers (SB 129) was temporarily passed by the committee until its next meeting. Regent Louis Murray, Orlando, championed the proposal saying, "Tenure is a very important aspect of academic life and the education system needs to increase productivity and the effectiveness of the public." SB 50, a bill which would extend to 60 days the period of paying registration fees by veterans, was passed by a unanimous vote.

The separation of the Finance and Personnel committee into two committees and approval of an additional area for speakers on the University of Florida campus.

RENTS DISCUSSED

Amendments to the FSU and UF constitutions were approved by the Board but no action was taken on initial approval of the proposed constitutions of FTU and Florida Atlantic University.

Bay Gross of FSU and Robert Hightower of USF. Gross, commenting on the tuition increase, questioned the legality of the hike in view of the recent price freeze. Hightower advanced a four-part proposal on drug education, stressing the importance of educating all people on and off the university campus, in the business world, and the community.

Cafeteria Crowding Forces New Rules
New rules aimed at coping with overcrowding in FTU's cafeteria and snack bar facility were announced by Food Service Director James Eller recently.

According to Eller, the present facility, which was "built three years ago to accommodate a student body of 1,500," will now have to accommodate more than 6,000 people (anticipated fall enrollment).

Ground was broken recently for an addition to the facility which will become operable by August 1972. "Until then," said Eller, "we will need a lot of cooperation from everyone concerned." In particular, students will be asked to bus their own trays and keep the tables clean. "We don't have the personnel to do this properly," explained Eller, "and this will help the traffic problem greatly."

A second new rule will require male students to wear "the proper active" in the dining area. "This applies to shoes and shirts in particular," remarked Eller, "signs will be posted to this effect and students who fail to comply will be asked to leave."

Third, Eller said, food cards or the food purchased with them will "absolutely not be transferable."

Finally, Eller said the cafeteria will be open from 10:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. "We are starting service one-half hour earlier to help cope with the additional traffic," said Eller.

$2.00 FTU STUDENTS, $4.00 GENERAL ADMISSION
'Untouchables' Not Distant

By Linda Merrill

The Untouchables — those administrators that the average student rarely sees. And when he does get an opportunity to meet them, they sometimes come across as business-like as their titles. Sometimes their personalities are never released from behind the desk.

This is obviously not the case, as candid interviews with the new deans of men and women and the assistant to the vice president for student affairs proved. All three came across as personable, opinionated, and frank.

Dr. Bill Brown, assistant to Dr. W. Rex Brown, plans to relate to student in terms of contact "by building the kind of positive relationship which I think needs to exist."

"Communication is like an old bromide - it is overworked and yet a critical problem. FTU, in its critical stage of development and rapid growth, manifests communication problems. Man hasn’t yet learned very well to anticipate those problems," he added.

Brown said he considers himself available to students. "At a certain point, my time probably should not be taken with individuals if I can anticipate these problems."

Dean Carol Wilson is deepl interested in the residence halls and the fraternity system. "This has been an active and volatile area in the last 10 years and impossible to keep up with," he admitted.

"Availability" will be the key to Dean Carol Wilson’s approach to students. "I can best help students by making myself available and by removing any hesitancy on their part to take advantage of the services offered by this office," she said.

She said she is still trying to determine the percentage of time she can devote to students but plans to utilize "as much time as possible."

Dean Wilson hopes to relate to students by making them aware of her open-door policy, "I want to work with students in as many areas as possible. Although I am here to help with problems, I’d also like to work with accomplishments," she said.

She spoke of FTU, describing it as a university "at a critical stage of development and experiencing rapid growth. FTU is much farther ahead than other universities in accomplishing this and it all goes back to accent on the individual."

The new dean of women is interested in students and the academic realm. She also enjoys football but admits to being a novice. Prior to her appointment as dean, she was an instructor in the College of Business Administration and "would be teaching or working with students through the classroom" if she were not a dean.

Mrs. Wilson spoke candidly on the subjects of residence halls and the Greek system. "Because of the continual growth, we will see an increase in commuters and we are all faced with the commuter problem. Student Government has been working positively for the commuter. The private sector will take care of housing around the university," she said.

The dean will be working with the Panhellenic Board and the sorority system. "The Greek system has a very good future at FTU. As we are in the initial stages of bringing nationals on campus, there is an increasing interest on the part of other nationals to colonize," she said.

She added that the Greeks are doing an "outstanding job of establishing a very solid foundation on which the system can grow."

Dr. Paul R. McQuilkin’s major challenge is changing the image of the university. "Dean of Men." He plans to be available to students and hopes to have at least half of his work day to devote to students. "I feel I can help students by being available, concerned and interested."

McQuilkin hopes to relate to students with an open-door policy, "I want to be out there 'where the action is' and I won't beat around the bush," he stated.

The new dean is concerned about the residence halls and would like to see a different type of residence hall program. "The halls should be more than dormitories and we hope to have additional programming this year," he said.

Dean McQuilkin’s duties are working directly with students, providing input to various areas of the university administration and working with the fraternity system. He is interested in political strategy and determining why things are as they are.

When a student wants to change something, I want to help him to look at all the variables he has to deal with. As students become more involved in university governing, they should be able to understand the changing of behavior and attitudes," said McQuilkin.

Prior to coming to FTU, McQuilkin was associate dean of students at DePauw University. He feels that his major communication tool is "being where the students are," they know who he is. "I have to allow myself to be a person - to be human," he said.

There should be more emphasis on the individual than on the mass. I want to be actively involved to improve that individual."

McQuilkin spoke of the past and future of the Greek system. "The Greek system is involved in a national resurgence although there was a decline." He added that he feels the roles of the system will change and it will delve into issues rather than placing major emphasis on social life because "basically, everyone has a need for grouping, socially and culturally."

All three administrators were interviewed by student teams. Dr. Brown spoke of the procedure as a possible "positive or negative force."

"I was pleased to have them (the students) involved because of the position in student personnel. I was impressed by the student interviewing committee but there are potential problems in screening students that are involved, such as how do you determine prejudices?"
6,150 Students Win Computer Roulette

Despite difficulties with the computer at Gainesville that resulted in a final shutdown Friday afternoon, full quarter registration proceeded approximately on schedule. Preliminary estimates for enrollment were set at 6,150 by Registrar W. Dan Chapman, down from the projected 6,500.

The regular delays in registration were caused due to problems with the Gainesville computer. FTU had been notified that the computer would be unable to operate on the University of Florida’s power, but a portable airplane power unit would be brought in so that registration could be conducted.

However, approximately every four hours the power unit had to be shut off in order to add oil to it. Chapman explained that each time the power went off, the computer automatically went down with it, necessitating a 20-minute recharge period.

Friday, however, the Gainesville computer gave up completely. It shut off about noon, and after an hour’s delay, FTU registration officials were told it would take three more hours to fix the machine. Rather than wait, registration shifted to the backup system of pulling cards and running them through the FTU computer.

Delays also plagued add-drop this quarter, because a process to merge preregistration and registration class rolls resulted in an error. The computer failed to record the last class on each schedule of all persons who preregistered. Consequently, when the error was discovered Monday, Chapman decided to postpone add-drop in order to record the correct number of persons in each class.

The entire program was rekeyed Monday night, and the rolls were corrected and ready to be used Tuesday morning. By the time add-drop opened, the Administration Building lobby, normally crowded by long lines, was even more congested with lines of students paying their fees at the cashiers’ window. Deadline for fees is October 1.

Although official figures for enrollment have not yet been tabulated due to late registration and add-drop, the registrar predicts an enrollment of approximately 200 persons below the expected 6,500.

FTU Receives Slashed Budget

FTU has received an operating budget of $10,145 million for the current fiscal year. According to Vice President for Business Affairs John Corre, the original request for the budget was approximately $14.5 million.

Goree said that the cutback has caused a number of problems, particularly in the area of equipment. "Many departments have nowhere near the necessary equipment, and this is an area in which we feel we have a serious problem," said Goree. He added this is true for academic areas as well as physical plant and that there are no funds to replace or to add new equipment.

Goree also said there is always a need for more supplies in the classroom and that the funds to provide these supplies are not "generous." Florida’s six other state universities have also received their budget allocations. The University of Florida has received $47.4 million; Florida State University, $42.3 million; and the University of South Florida, $29.9 million.

Florida A&M University will get $19.4 million; Florida Atlantic University, $12.5 million; and the University of West Florida, $7.7 million.

CREATIVE ARTS --- "I AM'

By Grace Kohrer

Attempting to review or to comment upon the creative efforts of another is at best a hopeless task. Reviews, critiques, no matter how well or poorly understood must be exercised in foolishness. In its simplest form a review is a whole manufactured from separate singular objects as perceived by a reviewer. However, these objectified entities are, paradoxically, once and forever in the eyes of their original creation, i.e., the artists, Whos in themselves. In another way, for the artist -- the creation is a finished statement, a flash of reality by alien senses. But through the eye of another these unique wholes are reduced to fragmented parts and reformed into another whole, i.e., the review.

In its totality a review is composed of impressions gathered by the reviewer from complete wholes he sees as parts and, consequently, the artist's message, in hieroglyphic form, is gathered. More poetically stated: the artistic expression is greatly modified in translation.

The phrase that at least adequately describes this process is convolutions within involutions that create a continual unending metamorphosis, an emotional kaleidoscopic effect, in a boundless becoming.

In the ease of the show now on display in the Library Building lobby, any review is doomed to complete failure because this exhibit is a composite of works by five different artists. Artists whose aesthetic perceptions and philosophies, although similar, are not, could not be, the same. The individual artist stands alone and so does each creation. Coincidentally, in the review a forced marriage or union of opposites is attempted to form a new reality. By analogy, the review is a juggling act set against the reviewer, a juggler, simultaneously manipulates fruit, plates, balls and knives. By sleight of hand he keeps the盘es, plates, balls and knives. By sleight of hand he keeps objects on velvet exposed huge peacock feathers or possibly the irises of giant eyes. He lets his eye wanders, caressed with the eye, and given the hand. Paraphrasing Nadine Richard, it is possible to say: "I seek .... It is a quest for the ineffable."

The phrase that at least adequately describes this process is convolutions within involutions that create a continual unending metamorphosis, an emotional kaleidoscopic effect, in a boundless becoming.

"I seek .... It is a quest for the ineffable."

Riot

Captain Peele, who later testified, said that he "didn't have time to answer the questions."

All of the witnesses said that no announcement was made from the stage that the place would be tear gassed.

POLICE DESCRIbe SCENE

Sgt. Delbert Fisher, appearing before the panel in civilian dress, said that when he administered the tear gas, he thought that the warning had been given to the crowd.

Delbert said, "No one was in the crowd was trying to exit the stadium." Odham asked Delbert, "Isn't it interesting that the gates were locked to keep people from leaving?"

Delbert replied, "There was every opportunity to escape, the gates were not locked at the north side."

Odham retorted that Delbert was the north side spraying his tear gas fogger.

When Lt. Sam Bush, the information officer for the sheriff's department testified, a panel member asked why the department had given the owner of the stadium 20 minutes to clear the building but instead started spraying tear gas 5 minutes later?

Bush said that the official reason was inside no way of judging how much time had gone by -- "you know time goes by at different speeds depending on which side of the bathroom door you are on."

Spontaneous outbursts from the crowd demanded that Capt. Peele come before the panel to answer questions.

Peele came forward and said that he ordered the gas because "inside the stadium the damage was so heavy that I thought someone might be killed."

When he was asked if he would handle the situation the same way he answered, "Yes, the same way."

Peele was asked what he thinks would be the answer to the rock concert problem in Orlando? He said, "I am in favor of letting any person of any age listening to any kind of music that suits his fancy. There is a need for a place for young people to go and enjoy their music."

"I seek .... It is a quest for the ineffable."

FIRST TEACHING Demanded By Florida Legislature

Members of the FTU faculty were told this week that the Florida legislature is demanding more and better teaching and less emphasis on faculty research. Board of Regents Vice Chancellor Dr. Allan Tucker Tuesday addressed the faculty assembly and explained the legislature's shift in attitude toward universities.

Tucker pointed out that the legislature also feels that research has been overemphasized as a criterion for employment, promotion, and tenure.

"The many criticisms that we hear today about research in the universities are a result of what a large portion of the public sincerely feels to be an overemphasis upon this functions of universities at the expense of the teaching function."

Dr. Tucker stated.

"No one is proposing that universities abandon their research function."

Tucker said, "but the public feels that we have overdone this aspect of university activities."

The view chancellor went on say that "the legislature not only wishes to see more quality teaching for each dollar spent in higher education; it is also demanding that the quality of teaching be measured and that there be a reward system which will discriminate effectively in terms of teaching effectiveness."

"Those teachers who teach more effectively than others should be identified and rewarded accordingly."

The legislature insists that criteria be developed which will enable us to measure the quality of teacher performance."

The FTU Interfraternity Council Presents ....

Fall Rush 1971

To: All Incoming Men!

From: FTU Interfraternity Council

Welcome to Florida Technological University! In the next few weeks you will have your hands full just getting adjusted to your new environment. This can be a most enjoyable experience, particularly if you organize your activities well.

The IFC invites you to join with hundreds of fraternity men and prospective fraternity men in Fall Rush. Fraternity rush is probably the most organized and most enjoyable activity available to the new student. Rush is not only the system by which a guy investigates and is observed by fraternities. It's also a chance to attend parties, make friends and meet influential people. It is still the most exciting way to join a fraternity.

The IFC would like to encourage you to look over the Greek organizations at FTU. There are nine fraternities on campus; nine groups of men each with its own characteristics but each being a vital force composed of many individual personalities. At FTU, fraternities are not out-dated... they're new as the school itself. The entire fraternity concept is new, dynamic and ever-changing. For a firsthand look, sign up and get involved in the fall rush activities. You can't go wrong!

The FTU Interfraternity Council:

Fall rush is very short and to the point. We begin at 8:00 pm on Friday, October 1, with a party for all rushers and fraternity members. Activities continue Saturday starting at 11:00 am and ending at 6:00 pm. At this time you are invited to visit with the individual chapters in an open Smoker atmosphere. This will be the time for you to ask questions about each chapter and for the chapters to ask questions about yourself. Then at 8:00 pm individual fraternity parties will begin. Your bids may be picked up either on Sunday evening at 7:00 pm (we would prefer this or on Monday or Tuesday from 10:00 am to 3:00 pm. Between October 6 and October 17, you will not be able to pledge any chapter if you did not do so between October 3 and October 5. Then starting October 18 and continuing until the end of the quarter an open rush period will be in effect. This means that you may be rushed and pledged at any time in this period.

Rules for Rushing:
Why Rush?

You have a limited time which to decide whether or not to enter rush. Many men have positive reasons why they should rush. Among them is need to belong to a close organization and to make eternal bonds with men of character.

If you have no positive reasons for entering rush, try it from another angle. What have you got to lose? It only costs a dollar to sign up and see what fraternities at FTU are all about.

That small fee and a little card entitle you to attend all functions and to see for yourself the greek system.

Just sign up with an inquisitive mind. We’re willing to bet you’ll find some reasons to stick with the greek system for life.

A Word About Nationals

There are several national fraternities represented at FTU. Every chapter at FTU is affiliated in some way with a national organization. Some are called chapters, some are called colonies, some are called candidates for affiliation and some don’t even have a real classification.

One thing is sure, thought—every fraternity has ties with a national and the effects are strong. Each chapter has its own assets and peculiarities but there is a little national in every one.

AKT

ALPHA KAPPA PI FRATERNITY ASPIRING COLONIZATION WITH THE PI KAPPA ALPHA FRATERNITY

Alpha Kappa Pi Fraternity was founded in the winter of 1971 by men who thought that the Tech campus had room for a different and new fraternity. The Pikes, as they are known around campus, seek young men who are leaders among their fellow students. Among these leaders AKIT is proud to have two student senators, varsity athletes, Village Center members, Editor of the 1970 and 1971 Pegasus yearbook, staff members of the FuTure newspaper and Pegasus yearbook, and every member is in at least one other outside club or organization on the FTU campus. Being a leader doesn’t stop with just the brothers; our Pikettes (little sisters) have the same qualities.

Miss Winter Park for 1971, the business editor of the Pegasus yearbook, officers of their sorority pledge classes, and not to mention that they are a group of some of the best looking young ladies on campus.

All male students are invited to come by the Pike’s Rush Smokers, meet the brothers and Pikettes and view the 15-minute Pi Kappa Rush film “Going Places with Pika.” Look for notices around campus concerning time and place or ask any brother or Pikette wearing a garnet and gold jersey.

If you are the type of student that is fired-up on getting involved, then jump on the Pike Fire Engine; we promise not to put your fire out. The Pikes have it and they want to share it with you!

In the past 150 years, thousands of young men have faced this question. Of these thousands, I doubt if you would find many who ever regretted their decisions.

In the spring of 1969 and has served as the apex for all the TAU’s activities since that time. A little sister organization was formed in the winter of 1969 to help the brothers in feminine ways.

On December 19, 1969, Dean of Men William Proctor and the administration announced that local fraternities could colonize with national fraternities. That same day at 12:00 TAU became a colony of ATO. The TAU’s were officially installed at impressive ceremonies at the Ramada Inn East.

Service has been a byword for ATO. The pet service project has been the annual “Blood For Peace” drive held in the fall. In scholastics, ATO finished third in overall GPA among fraternities this last year. In intramurals, ATO has never been far away from the IFC trophy, finishing second and third respectively the past two years.

In social life, ATO takes a back seat to no one. The annual Hells Angel party has become a noted affair on the FTU campus. Brothers and their dates dress appropriately in motor cycle garb and have a blast.

Afternoon keg parties and get-togethers with the alumni have become regular occurrences. ATO seeks to enhance your academic and social life while you are a student here at FTU. THINK ALPHA TAU OMEGA

ATΩ

Alpha Tau Omega

Alpha Tau Omega was founded as a local in 1968 by two individuals who was Jim Fay an initiate from the University of Florida. The Group called itself TAU and set out to colonize with Alpha Tau Omega. There were seventeen originals in the group, seventeen men dedicated to the ideals of ATO.

Basic communications began to be exchanged between ATO and the TAU's almost immediately. The present fraternity house was obtained in the spring of 1969 and has served as the apex for all the TAU's activities since that time. A little sister organization was formed in the winter of 1969 to help the brothers in feminine ways.

Delta Tau Fraternity

To the new students, Delta Tau welcomes you to the Greek system. The advantages of a fraternity are available to new and returning students. The purpose of the Delta Tau Fraternity is to “serve as a constructive adjunct to the system of higher education, contributing to moral, spiritual, and social development of its members. To instill the qualities of brotherhood maturity, truth, self-respect, and service to our country and our God.” (Delta Tau Constitution)

Delta Tau has many principles upon which it is founded. Two of the most important ideals of Deltism are brotherhood and service. In the past, Delta Tau has participated in many service projects including helping the Red Cross, and the Mainland J.C.’s with their 4th of July celebration. These projects as well as others have served to bring the brotherhood closer together. This closeness comes only from a willingness to work, both for the fraternity and for the brotherhood. The Delta brotherhood is proud of its high scholastic average. The Interfraternity Council's Scholastic Award went to Delta Tau for the 1970-71 school year.

We, the Deltas, would like to invite all the prospective rushers to the Greek smoker on October 2. We would like to tell you about Delta Tau Delta, the national fraternity we are planning to affiliate with this year, and how we are striving among ourselves for high standards, both scholastic and social.

The Philosophy of the Lambda Epsilon Chapter of Kappa Sigma

An important part of the philosophy of this fraternity is the conviction that men are endowed with what they can receive. However, the prospective pledge has every right to ask what benefits he will receive after accepting an invitation to join a fraternity. Kappa Sigma offers many.

First, membership in a well-organized, well-governed, financially sound, homogeneous fraternal society.

Second, intimate association with young men of the highest calibre, is offered through Kappa Sigma. No man ever receives an invitation to join us merely because he is a great athlete, or an eloquent speaker, or gifted writer. This is not to say we are indifferent to campus honors; we are deeply interested in them, but we are far more interested in the personality and character of the man who holds or seeks those honors. We are composed, therefore, of members who have undergone the most rigid scrutiny and who have been adjudged to possess these qualities of leadership which we demand. We have men of leadership in our organization; two past presidents of the IFC, and the current Vice President; members of the IFC Judicial Board; and members of Student Government.

Third, we offer wholesome social life—which we consider the most active and diverse of the FTU campus.

Fourth, the privilege of being a brother among many notable and distinguished people.
Finally, every fraternity embodies certain tenets- we seek to make a permanent contribution to strong, clean, useful mankind by inculcating in young men those gifts and graces and virtues that are in the tradition of Kappa Sigma.

Kappa Sigma—The First National Fraternity On The Florida Tech Campus.

Fifth, the Initiatory observances. We pledge to remove ourselves from thysteretyped fraternity "initiation". Our ceremony is serious, impressive, and beautiful--and has been shared by over 100,000 Kappa Sigmans throughout the world.

Lambda Chi Alpha

Lambda Chi was one of the original fraternities on the FTU campus. From inception during Winter quarter, 1969 to the present, the chapter has evolved from a local called Chi Alpha to an affiliate of Lambda Chi Alpha national.

Lambda Chi has always been one of the strong, active fraternities on campus. Social life is stressed, but there are many other facets to the Lambda Chi personality. The chapter has always been active in intramural sports and community service projects.

One of the annual service projects has been a Christmas party for the Orange County Parental Home.

Lambda Chi also has a strong little sister program which stress a close relationship between the chapter and the little sisters.

"The FTU chapter has worked long and hard to build within itself a strong feeling Lambda Chi tradition. As a new member you would not be a pledge. We prefer to think of you as an "associate member."

TEP

Aspiring to affiliate with Tau Epsilon Phi national, our colony was formed in October 1969. Correspondence has been maintained with our national Headquarters in New York City, and through the assistance of our local alumni, we shall soon gain National status.

Tau Epsilon Rho is a true brotherhood with its ideals based in giving each man an equal opportunity to live and relax in a homogeneous group which adds strength to his convictions, and character to his life. We are individuals, broadening our perspective of life.

Through interaction in a highly organized, yet relaxed social atmosphere, our members become leaders. We endeavor to respect each other and to promote pride in our relationships. Supporting each other, we become unique in understanding the meaning of life.

Because we exemplify our ideals in Service, Chivalery, and Friendship, our brotherhood becomes active in every aspect of campus life.

Congratulations on choosing TEP. The brothers of TEP offer you a place to find friendship. TEP is responsive to its brothers' needs.

Sigma Sigma Chi

Sigma Sigma Chi was founded on the FTU campus in the spring of 1969. It was and is a fraternity of many temperaments, talents, and convictions. Having this type of personality we seek to make a permanent contribution to the FTU campus.

There is a fraternity for every man. Phi Alpha will issue bids on the basis of that belief. Every man will know if he is Phi Alpha material.

The Greek system at FTU is strong. Keep it that way. Investigate all the chapters. Phi Alpha Epsilon seeks men who will carry on the "Phi Alpha Tradition" in service, athletics, social life, and campus politics. Bids will be issued to those who have the ability and the desire to carry on these traditions and the creed of SAE...

To become the True Gentleman.

Tau Kappa Epsilon

Brotherhood...

Only as a fraternity man can you know the satisfaction of belonging to a tight group of men who feel each other's pain and joy.

Service...

The best way to stick together is to work together.

Academics...

Belonging to a fraternity is to share the knowledge and receive the help of those who "have been there".

Social Life...

The basic benefit of belonging to a fraternity. To see what we mean, enter rush and find out for yourself.
The men of Tau Kappa Epsilon got off to an early start before the beginning of school, helping together for fellowship and an all-round good time at the Summit Apartments on September 11. The guys had a great time, and the little sisters were there to help with the fun and refreshments.

The brothers have received good news from national. It looks as though the Tekes will be chartered by the end of November, and will become a member of the largest social fraternity in the world. Plans are already being made for the festivities.

The brothers would like to congratulate Dean McBaliith, the new dean of men. They feel that the administration has made a good choice and look forward to working with him.

Tri Deltas have been active with alumnae and collegiate members these past weeks. To begin planning for the fall quarter, an ice cream social was held in conjunction with a business meeting at the home of Mrs. Dunlap. All Central Florida collegiate members also participated in this social. The following week the alumnae provided a spaghetti dinner for the chapter at the home of Peg Harrison, alumnae advisor. The next few days were spent training officers for the new positions. Picture traditions was the main topic discussed for the new Beta Lambda chapter.

To follow up the chapter’s raising of $3,300 for the Florida Symphony this summer, the girls will be distributing posters throughout the Orlando area. These posters will further the efforts of the Symphony Committee to inform the public of coming activities.

Along with the business meetings held on Monday nights, the members will participate in pledge training directed by the alumnae.

The Brothers of Sigma Sigma Chi would like to welcome all new and returning students to FTU and hope they all have a rewarding and fun-filled school year.

Sigma Sigma Chi remained active during the summer quarter, holding weekly meetings, fund raising projects, and working on the new house the brothers acquired last month. The new fraternity house is located about 3 miles from school, just off HWY 50. Prospective Rush candidates are invited to drop by and see the house at any time.

The Sisters of Zeta Tau Alpha spent a busy summer working with alumnae and in meetings preparing for official pledging. The pledging will last approximately one quarter and initiation and installation are planned for December.

Plans are also in the making for the sisterhood’s formal dinner in January. Summer activities included a window wash, bi-monthly meetings and numerous committee meetings.

Recently held was a Tupperware party with proceeds going to the cost of nationalization. The sisters held a party in early September at the Summit Apartments Recreation Room and sold over $500 of Tupperware.

The Orlando Zeta alumnae hosted its FTU chapter at an Italian dinner where the Zeta Pikens Jug Band provided entertainment and led a sing-along for alumnae, husbands and dates.

The Zetas will hold a coffee to welcome and get to know Dean of Women Carol Wilson on October 2. October 15 is Zeta Tau Alpha Founder’s Day and plans are in the making for a Founder’s Day activity with area alumnae. The pot luck supper will be held on October 19 and the FTU Zetas will be introduced to their big sisters from the alumnae group.

During the first two weeks of classes the Pikens will be carrying the traditional canes which is the national symbol for the Pikens around the nation. It is being done in conjunction with the Fall Rush. Once rush is over all new members will be carrying them on. On Wednesday the Brothers will be giving a banquet in honor of their little sisters, the Piketters.

The Pike district president attended recent meetings of AMPI and assures the brothers of nationalization as soon as the petition is enterred to the Supreme Council. This was also confirmed when three members met with the council in Memphis this last August.

The Pikens have been practicing for intramural football which they will debut for the first time this fall. They would like to thank all of themselves as “Dark Horse” candidates for league championship.
Around The Clubs

LAMBDA EPSILON

LAMBDA Alpha Epsilon is the internal organization devoted to the furtherance of professionalism in the area of criminal justice activities.

Membership is restricted to people who are actively engaged in the criminal justice field or in a college level social science program.

For further information contact William A. Bopp in AD 351.

KAPPA TAU

Every member of the journalistic honor society Kappa Tau is requested to bring his warm body to a meeting of that organization Tuesday in AD 149 at 11 am. For further information contact Bill Koler at 275-2801.

PEGASUS PR CLUB

The Pegasus Public Relations Club will host a meeting of the Central Florida Public Relations Association chapter October 22. The meeting will begin at 5:30 pm with student guided tours furnished by the PTU PR Club for members of the Florida chapter.

Following the tours the meeting will continue at the Ramada Inn for an "attitude adjustment hour" to be followed by dinner at which Bill Wetherell, director of public relations will speak on PTU's internal and community relations program.

The PR Club will have its first meeting of the quarter 6:30 pm Wednesday, Sept. 29, at 140 Magnolia, Orlando. The meeting will include a dinner, and members must notify Sigma Delta president Mary Anna Jackson or Sigma Delta advisor James B. Couch by Monday if they plan to attend.

It is important that as many members as possible come since the first order of business will be to elect a new secretary and a new treasurer. Also to be discussed are plans for future meetings and formation of by-laws.

YOUNG DEMOCRATS

The Young Democrats will host an organizational meeting of the PTU Young Democrats on Tuesday, Oct. 5 at 11 am. The place of the meeting will be announced later.

The purpose of the first meeting will be to solicit new members to orient for club purposes, to review activities currently underway, to give a prospectus of future political involvement and to present the club's purpose relative to participation in local politics.

The Young Democrats is a strictly activist organization which is soliciting persons who wish to involve themselves directly in political affairs. You can now vote—let us participate. All questions may be referred to P. O. Box 369, Orlando, 32802.

ACTIVITY DAY

The faculty member is quite sure happening. If there were a banner hung upon the sky proclaiming what took place, no doubt it would have said "Happening Here." Politically, the name of "Orientation and Advisement," a happening, almost academic, occurred. Perhaps it would best be remembered for the smiles that happened too.

Confusion at its worst is chaos, and may be recognized at its best by the smiles worn by those in its midst. Those most deeply enmeshed in the years of confusion were most clearly recognized by the smile that grew until its bearer strongly resembled a phenomenon known as the "smiling idiot."

The student, focus of all the activity, cause of all the bustle, was smiled at, talked to and generally oriented until confusion had reached its saturation point.

The faculty member is quite sure and most confident that he does not know what is going on. The student is still in such shock he feels he may not know what is happening. Still, there was that feeling, the intangible aura, that the faculty truly wanted to help.

Now to return to the student who in rapid succession considered and discarded such ideas as joining the Army, digging ditches, getting married, or any number of situations that would remove him from his present one.

It was a happening, happy, confusing, but definitively a happening. "Orientation and Advisement!" if you could smile you were already oriented to PTU.

ORIENTATION ORDEAL LIKE 'HAPPENING'

Wrestlers Set Season

Matmen To Tackle Tougher Fall Roster

Last year a small, financially depressed group of men calling themselves the FTU Wrestling Club represented Florida Tech last year's Collegiate State Wrestling Championship in Miami. They placed third in that meet, a feat considered by the pros as being "a hard thing to do for even a large, experienced team, much less a club."

No brag, just fact. This year the wrestlers have swapped their "club" title for that of "team." Although this means a much larger and tougher schedule for the FTU grapplees, Head Coach Jerry Gergley and Assistant Coach John Ellis feel certain that after the practice sessions are over, they will have molded a team that will prove "hard to beat."

OSCPAS Offers Aid To Ecologists

Budding conservationists and those interested in conservation are eligible to receive financial assistance through the Merlin Mitchell Scholarship established by the Florida Tech Orange County Wrestling Club. The money is made available through the Merlin Mitchell Scholarship Fund, granted in memory of one of the founders of the Sportmen's Club of Orange County. The fund, according to Gergley, "long before the word became popular," was deeply involved during his life in conservation projects, and was instrumental in drafting many Florida game laws while a member of the Fresh Water Fish and Game Commission.

The Sportmen's Club to date has presented $1,250 to the FTU Foundation at a rate of $250 per quarter. Gary Randall, chairman of the club's scholarship committee, pointed out the funds are to be used expressly to aid a student enrolled in a program directed toward conservation, or one who wishes to make conservation his life's work.

According to Gergley, a University of Buffalo graduate, wrestling with a more experienced team early in the season will give the FTU wrestlers a chance to see official will give them a chance to see officials more clearly and correct their mistakes early in the season.

Throughout last year's wrestling season and during the summer, Gergley and Ellis conducted a mission. The mission, according to Gergley, was pointing out the funds are to be used expressly to aid a student enrolled in a program directed toward conservation, or one who wishes to make conservation his life's work.

The Sportmen's Club was founded in the late 1930s and has long been engaged in conservation projects throughout the Central Florida area.

The West Coast Power Meet was was the first meet that FTU competed in, in that meet the University of Tampa placed first, FTU took second place honor, and the University of Florida finished third.
In Winston-Salem, FTU once again placed second in the Olympic Meet.
The Olympic Meet consists of the press, snatch, and clean and jerk competitions while in the Power Lift Meet, the bench press, squat, and deadlift competitions are judged.
During the summer, the weightlifters have added four new members to the club, Mike Richards, who comes to FTU from the University of Maryland, will lift in the 198 pound class.
Bobby Lenz weighs in at 232 pounds and lives in Orlando.
Jim Weaver, a Boone High School graduate, lifts in the 165 pound class.
Bill Hoffman is classified in the unlimited weight class, which is a weight class of 240 pounds or more.
Both Hoffman and Weaver are on the wrestling team as well as in the Weightlifting Club.
The next weightlifting meet will be held October 9 in Orlando. It will be an All-Southeastern Power Meet in which all the major weightlifting clubs in the southeast will be invited to attend.

BULL!!!
The only thing that really counts is what comes out of your radio speaker when you punch the WLOF button. If you like it, you listen. If you don't, you don't. So if the others want to take their time composing goofy ads, so be it. We will spend our preparing for that moment you decide to try US. With the amount of crap on radio today, that moment won't be long in coming.

Weightlifters 2nd In 2 Summer Meets

SOCCER CLUB
The FTU Soccer Club will begin its second year with its first organizational meeting today in front of the Library Building at 5 pm.
With a more intense schedule this year, which includes scrimmages with Valencia Junior College, the University of Florida, Rollins College, Embry Riddle University and the Orlando Clagers, the Soccer Club will be looking forward to seeing many new faces to play for FTU.
According to president Bob Steedman, the soccer club is looking for all male students interested in competing in this fall's lineup of games. No experience is necessary. For information contact Steedman at this week's soccer Club meeting.

CREW CLUB
All students interested in starting a Crew Club for FTU are invited to attend its first meeting today at 4 pm in the Student Government Office on the second floor of the Library Building.
Club advisor will be Dennis Kamrad, who in 1969 led Edgewater High School's crew to a highly successful season.
Both experienced oarsmen and nonexperienced students are urged to attend the Friday meeting.
Intramurals:
Something For Everyone

Now you too can be the remarkable Jim Plunkett, "Earl the Pear" Monroe, or the great Pele. How? Intramurals has made it possible for you to be your own hero in any sport you choose. The FTU intramural program has an activity personally suited to fit your tastes and ambitions. This program consists of a carefully planned activity for every season of the year. Each academic quarter is divided into two phases, with every phase producing a major sport. For you women athletes, major events will also be offered twice a quarter except during the first half of the winter quarter. The following calendar will show why FTU has one of the best intramural programs in the nation:

MEN
- Flag Football
- Handball
- C. Country
- Volleyball
- Volleyball
- Basketball
- Table Tennis
- Wrestling
- Tennis (S)
- Soccer
- Team Tennis
- Golf
- Water Polo
- Track
- Swimming

WOMEN
- PF Football
- Table Tennis
- Tennis (S)
- Basketball
- Team Tennis
- Golf
- Softball
- Track
- Swimming
- Water Polo

COED
- Volleyball
- Bowling
- Fishing
- Football
- Frisbee

Boredom and apathy are unknown to those who participate in an intramural activity. The intramural program has expanded sufficiently to handle the 15 percent increase in students as you can see from the list of activities offered.

Each year many students fail to participate—not because they didn't want to—but because they thought they didn't have the ability or the size. Don't let this happen to you! Our program was developed to provide an opportunity for EVERY student to express himself other than in the classroom. The program is one of the nation's best, only you can prevent it from being THE BEST.

Don't forget to keep an eye on the Kiosk for schedules and results of intramural play. Deadlines for each sport will always come on a Monday at 4 pm with a captain's meeting the next day. Don't miss out on all the fun; get involved in the sports of your choice.

IF YOU WERE BORN TODAY:

You are particularly disinclined and pay no attention to details in your work. You will realize by this afternoon that your full potential was extended three years ago, and while you have been going downhill ever since. You should travel this month, like to Arizona, where they don't practice rapists. Sheep herding would agree with your talents, anyway. Prepare yourself for a financial loss due to your lack of self-discipline. Claud.

AQUARIUS:

You will be given the chance to cast the first stone, and you will. You will not be without sin, but you will cast, nevertheless. Try to cultivate Capricorn friends with glasses. One will come in handy soon. You will contract a mysterious. Obstructive disease by noon which will affect your vision. Vitamin D will be of no help, but it will help your bones. You will pass on before Christmas from the mysterious disease. Two days later they will find a cure. Tough break.

PIECES:

A friend in need is a pest. When you go home this evening, lock your front door and turn all the lights off in the front of the house, lest you be found by a friend in need. Seek out the truth, wherever it may be found, even in the classroom. The class you cut today may be your own (wha tever that means). Remember: He who knows not and knows not be known is not a fool, just your type.

ARIES:

Today you should set long-range goals extending over the rest of your college career. Notice I said set, because before you graduate you will have changed your major six times and thrown away your plans out the windows. If you work very hard right now, you may be able to change that, and switch your major seven times instead. Gird your loins for the task that lies ahead.

"push on regardless." Don't trust anyone shorter than you are. You never know what they are thinking about.

TAURUS:

Mars will intersect the Virgo triangle of Sun-Moon-Venus tonight, which is a sign directed to the bull. The skies scream danger tonight for you. Stay home. Stay inside. Stay in bed. Whatever else you do, don't, by any means speak to any human race to the point of doing it to you. One has been sent to do you ill. It is written in the stars. You should have watched where you were walking last February.

GEMINI:

One who has claimed your affection in the past is due to return today. Don't pay. The photographs are faked and wouldn't stand up in any court in the land. Just take it easy from now on. Next time you may not be so lucy. Didn't you notice the flashbulbs?"

CANCER:

Financial stress will enter the picture today. Avoid borrowing or loaning money. Money is a weapon. You must know you have, worth millions of dollars, dies today, and you are the sole heir. The only sweet is she didn't know she had you, either, and left all the money to the Foundation for the Preservation of Green Milk, her favorite charity.

LEO:

Polacks and swimming pools figure heavily in your immediate future. The two don't mix, unless the pool is filled with tequila. Avoid feeding friends any spicy food until the end of the month. The mouth you burn may be your own. Incidentally, there is a confusing segment at the back of your head, resembling a mushroom, with your name on it. Heed that warning, mothers of little الإيراني, lest you be smitten with a dreaded, fatal disease, which could even cause your family to tip, stumble and fall.

VIRGO:

You used to be the type who begins projects but never completes them. That is no longer the case. Now you don't even bother to begin them. The stars do not shine favorably on you today, and I feel called to tell you that things look gloomy in the near future. I foresee that everything will start going wrong right after you get your finger caught in a spigot.

LIBRA:

That valiant effort you thought you thought was doomed last week will fall today. The reason it fell is you are a chump of the first order. You may have thought you should have been fined $30,000 for having you. That's the average price for a public nuisance. You will be tried and found innocent of all wrongs. The stars do not shine favorably on you today, and I feel called to tell you that things look gloomy in the near future. I foresee that everything will start going wrong right after you get your finger caught in a spigot.

SCORPIO:

It was 200 years ago today that your ancestors witnessed giant loads invading the town hall in Zighurt, Pa., turning it into a huge war. Take your hat off to commemorate the occasion.

SAGITTARIUS:

The stars say you should be creative today, but you, once again, will ignore the stars. Seek out another Sagittarian for help and money. He can provide neither, but mischievous loves company. Put your trust only in people with the initials J.Z., (James Zirkoff). Avoid people with long fingernails. Also avoid top-heavy turbans.

CAPRICORN:

The man who watches the sky all the time is likely to fall into an open manhole. Keep your eyes straight ahead, and stay out of trouble for a week more. Your parole is up after this, and then you are free. Count your toes every morning. There is a toe that always looses in the area, and yours are particularly susceptible.
