Santry Calls For New Guidelines

Broad and increased spending in particularly academically oriented areas, has prompted Student Government President Frank Santry to propose a new system for allocating budgets. This new system, known as Santry's SPIRAL budgeting, aims to achieve a more balanced and equitable distribution of funds across the campus.

"This year $18,000 was allocated to clubs and organizations of which $3,000 was held in reserve by the budget committee. Of the remaining $15,000 allocated, $9,000 was given to academically oriented clubs," said Santry.

"We are particularly concerned with meeting our responsibility to help clubs obtain needed funds," said Santry. "However, we are seeking to encourage academic departments also to give aid to academically oriented clubs."

Left unchecked, and taking into consideration current growth of budget requests as opposed to monies available, these academic clubs would receive between 70 and 80 per cent of the total student government budget.

After much discussion, Santry explained, he decided to go ahead and accept the budgets in question this year. "But next year, however," he added, "we hope to institute the new program or some form of it. We have received a very favorable response from the administration to this new system, and we have been assured that there will be no legal problems involved in using state funds for this type of program."

The seven-point proposed program includes:

1. Divide all clubs and organizations into two basic categories: academically oriented and nonacademically oriented.
2. Place each academically oriented group into one of five categories: the Fine Arts, Research, Student Government, Academic Administration, and Miscellaneous.
3. Develop a formula for allocating funds based on criteria such as importance, necessity, and potential for growth.
4. Establish a committee to review and approve budgets annually.
5. Implement a system for tracking and monitoring the use of funds.
6. Provide opportunities for student input and feedback on budget decisions.
7. Review and adjust the program regularly to ensure its effectiveness.

Holiday Dance, Elf Contest Dates Given

The FTU Christmas tree is being decorated Sunday, November 27, 7 to 9 p.m. in the Multi Purpose Room. All students are invited to help with decorations.

The Tree Decoration Party begins the Christmas season at FTU, which kicks off the Christmas Dance December 3. There will also be a snowball fight and an Elf Contest.

The Elf contest is part of the Christmas Dance Reuld, and competition for Mr. and Miss Elf of FTU. Requirements for the contest are a 2.0 average. Santa Claus' role is also a contest, which is open to all male faculty and staff. Entry blanks are available in the VC office. Campaigning begins Tuesday, and judging will be in the Black Bar November 30 and December 1.

Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity sponsored voter registration campaign was termed "successful" with nearly 700 students registering. Totals included 335 registrations on Tuesday and 365 on Wednesday, according to LAXA brother Dennis Phipps.

Party affiliations are estimated to have been evenly divided with approximately 10:15:10:15 registering with no party. One registration clerk said that probably more men than women registered, but final figures on party affiliation and sex of those registered were not available.

We Live in the Present

By the Post, but for the...
Students Can Succeed

Student-oriented moves, when directed through proper channels, have a tendency to be seriously considered by the university and ultimately implemented.

Such has been the case in at least three instances concerning problems of importance to students. The first two involved the changing of the senior seminar system and reversing the block system. The most recent, an extension of library hours, was initiated this week. The hours have been extended due to a student-guided petition and request, for the convenience of students. This change should prove worthwhile to residents, commuters and to students with night classes, desiring a few extra hours of research and study after classes.

ASSISTANT VICE President for Academic Administration, Leland Jackson says that the hour change is not on a trial basis. Funds will be reallocated from various other budgets within the university to implement the change.

Lynn W. Walker, director of Libraries, says that the hours will probably go back to a closing time of 10 p.m. if the new hours are not utilized.

Whether or not the library will be used is up to the students, but it is important to consider that the service will not be of interest to all students and therefore success should not be judged on quantity.

NUMBERS OF student using library facilities at night are quite low compared to daytime statistics but this is to be expected, regardless of how late the library is open. However, these figures should change at least slightly with the extension.

Students have once again proven themselves as mature persons interested in positive changes that will benefit the university. Radical methods are not always necessary for change.

DOC’S ADVICE

My doctor says that I’m too fat.
And maybe he is right;
He’s put me on a diet which
Should make me thin and light.

There’s one thing I can’t understand
Which causes great debate,
And this is that the doc himself
Is also overweight.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

I suggest that FTU Blvd. be extended into the main campus in order to link up with the parking lots. The present single entrance has much to be desired. There is still time and vacant land, as far as I know, with which to develop a functional traffic control system for FTU. However, if buildings are constructed between the Alafia Trail – FTU Blvd. intersection and the west parking lot, it may be impossible to prevent traffic problems in that area.

Also, it would be a good idea in my opinion to investigate the feasibility of a separate entrance on the east side of the campus for those persons coming from the Titusville area. The overall traffic patterns needed at this institution grow to its projected 25,000-member student body should be the first priority concerned. Buildings can always be constructed on land used as parking lots.

GOOSEBERRY SHOP

The Gooseberry SnackBar, a combination record and head shop and New York-type coffeehouse will open for business for the first time today.

According to Martin MacArthur, proprietor, the shop will sponsor regular open jam sessions for student or other individuals who would like to perform.

The SnackBar, which is located on SR-436 in Forest City, will be open today from 10 a.m. to midnight or 2 a.m. depending on business, according to MacArthur. Students interested in performing at the coffeehouse jam sessions may be able to obtain information by calling 435-3294.

BRIDGE CLUB

The FTU Women’s Club will sponsor a bake sale in conjunction with the Village Center’s Bazaar, with proceeds going to the FTU Foundation for scholarship funds. The bake sale will be held from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the Multi Purpose Room on November 30 and December 1, and will be a preliminary fund raising drive aimed at raising money for the annual scholarship fund.

'Hootenanny' Stars To Appear At VC

The Serendipity Singers are coming to FTTU Monday at 11 a.m. The musical group whose "Country Birdie Man" sold more copies and whose name went out to the dictionary, will be appearing on the Village Center Green this hour.

The group was first formed in 1963 at the University of Colorado, and their first major engagement was at the Better End Cafe in New York City. They became regulars on TV's 'Hootenanny' show, from which they have performed at 850 colleges in 49 states, recorded six albums and have achieved a national popularity. They have appeared on such television programs as 'Johnny Carson Tonight Show,' 'Dean Martin Show,' 'Kraft Music Hall,' 'Mike Douglas Show' and 'Ed Sullivan Show,' and have made over 30 specials, including a Christmas program last year.

Serendipity, from the children's story about the three princes of Serendip who search for one thing and find another, means the ability of making desirable discoveries by accident.

Radical Author, Viet War Writer To Speak At V.C.

"Eirequi" was correspondent and author of "Lieutenant Callely," John Sack. He was a writer at the Village Center Green Tuesday at 11 a.m.

His topic is "Greetings, and So About the Whole Truth about the American Army."

Mr. Sack will be the only writer in America with top secret clearance. Since 1965 he has lived with the Army in Vietnam, and is a Bayonet/Practice and beer parties, and often joining combat troops in the field. He was a veteran who chooses each soldier for clearance.

He was arrested. He was freed on bail and told National Book Awards, as well as about 8000 song copies.

The Army subpoenaed his tapes of bayonet/practice and beer parties, and was arrested. He was freed on bail and told about making desirable discoveries by accident.

The Serendipity Singers, former stars of television's Hootenanny Show, will perform Monday at 11 a.m. at the Village Center Green. The twelve-member group, which was formed in 1963, will perform for two hours.

LENF Work Session Seeks Field Solutions

The Criminal Justice Education Project of the Florida Division of Universities and the Division of Community Colleges, D.A.R. and Denis law enforcement workshops entitled "Education Responds to the Needs of Criminal Justice" at FTTU on November 10.

"We are trying to find a solution between what the police want to do and what the education want to do," said Troy Pizaro, director of Criminal Justice Education in the State University System and director of the Criminal Justice Manpower and Education Workshop Session.

Live-action filming of a student-written movie is being done this weekend, according to Dr. Harry Smith, assistant professor of theatre.

The movie, written by FTTU students Terry Crisp and Joe Ackerman, is being produced by both theatre department and the students. Filming began last summer in the Theatre Tent with budgets in a miniature German valley setting.

Titled "Yesterday, Today, Tomorrow, The Day After, The Day After That," the movie is an independent study and should be completed by January. It is a 30-minute film complete with sound.

Senator Boosts VC Budget

Student programming activities might be more broadly recognized when SG approved a $10,000 transfer of funds to the Village Center.

"Portions of the funds will be used for special programs that were not originally anticipated and in the original program to implement a new and expanded Cheerleaders Plan Basketball Pep Band.

The FPU cheerleaders are working on a project to form a pep band for the basketball, soccer, and baseball games, and in need of more musical talent. The 1971-72 squad consists of; 1st: Michelle Ferrey, Karolyn Kurtz, and Kathy Kehoe; 2nd: Emily Starns, Boxy Ridgeway, and Eileen Brennan; and Chasie Rolph. The funds are dedicated to the support of FPU's sport teams, including basketball, soccer, and baseball, but will also be attending sports club events.

Students interested in the pep band are requested to contact Dr. Leonard Lee, the advisor of the music department in the Village Center.

SG To Host: Primary Set For Students

Student Government will sponsor a special event this coming Sunday, the first primary one week prior to Florida's Presidential Primary March 14, 1972.

The undertaking, dubbed "Primary Play," will take place on that date and ultimately in a performance directed by Dr. Casimiro Castellano, dedicated to "political participation and the democratic process." A comparison will be made with the results of the actual primary according to Project Snapshot, which was explained by Castellano.

The project is geared to duplicate the primary process on several university, private college and community college campuses in Florida. "Students are representing more than one-half of the state's college students, and are already committed to the project," said Castellano.

The rationale behind the project was explained by Castellano as follows:

1. College students represent approximately 300,000 Florida citizens and yet have no viable political lobbying force. Through this activity college students will be permitted to go on record on record regarding the political ideas and results of both parties.
2. Presidential aspirants might tend to concentrate more time and effort on the college campuses if they knew this major poll would be published just before the actual primary.
3. By organizing political campaigns on the various campuses, not only will its potential be gained, but special interest groups will be added to the voter apathy that can be broken down.
4. This activity offers the opportunity to show the true spirit of Florida college students. With the advent of Project Snapshot, the system, the college students of this state can show all that are willing to see that we are able to organize behind sound goals and ideals.
5. Project Snapshot can be used in conjunction with campus voter registration drives. Only registered students will be permitted to participate in the project.

Universities or colleges presently committed to the project include both campuses of Miami-Dade, Florida State University, University of South Florida, Palm Beach Atlantic and Florida Atlantic University.

OVERVIEW
Library Hours

The Senate unanimously passed a resolution to extend library hours on October 21. The resolution, submitted by Senator Jim Brooks, suggested that the extension was necessary due to increased tuition, the emphasis on computer science, inadequate study facilities, and crowded library facilities.

Walker stated that increased hours and additional student assistants would be the major change due to the extension of hours. "The library, like many others on campus, is seriously understaffed, but we will be able to increase the weekly hours of some student assistants and possibly hire more," said Walker. The library currently staffed a full-time staff of 32 and a part-time staff of 65 full and additional assistants working from 10-hour per week.

"We are pleased to have the funds to extend the hours because we have recognized the need for a long time," said Walker. If these lines do not relieve the extra hours, we will probably go back to the old way," said Walker.

Most of the students who signed the petition were apprehensive before they had no effect," said Erickson. "But this entire student-oriented move has been successful because it was directed through channels the university would like to see." Erickson said that he began the extension campaign because "there is not adequate place on campus to accommodate the students," and to study later than 10 p.m. at night and during the holidays close at 10 p.m.

Library personnel have been hardworking students use of the library every hour since its opening in October 1968. Library use has more than doubled in nearly every time slot since 1968. The busiest hour for the library is between 10 and 11 a.m. Monday, Wednesday, and Friday. Average 10 a.m. figures in 1968 were 112 students as compared to present figures of 313.

According to library statistics, lowest student usage occurs during the later evening hours and on Sunday afternoons and evenings.

Registration

Registration started about 40 minutes later Wednesday morning due to another computer failure, but by noon appointment times were running about 15 minutes behind and by 1 p.m. appointments were on schedule.

There were some areas of congestion, but they were not severe. The largest crowd was usually the one at the library entrance where students waited for their times to be called. At peak delay periods there were at least 100 students waiting.

Once inside the door, most especially after a computer failure, lines formed at the first schedule check station and at the computer terminals, but these lines were not as long as they have been during previous quarters.

Crowds of persons were not confined only to the preregistration area. Voter registration sponsored by Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity drew good-sized lines Tuesday and Wednesday. Voter registration was held almost directly under the stairway, which itself became another source of congestion.

Students, eager to get a preview of the new stereo, AM-FM radio, new red-rings, tires, shoes, size 9C, and possibly 39-40. Phone 831-2947.

Club Budgets

Club budgets are now the only thing about which we are concerned," said Student Government President Frank Santeri. " Capital outlay numbering in the thousands of dollars may be viewed by clubs in machinery or equipment which no one is able to locate now."

Under this new addendum, in order for organizations to receive funds from Student Government the president or chief executive of the club involved must submit a written statement to the chief claiming "responsibility for all property held under the name of this organization and shall be accountable for the inventory thereof."

Further, in the student body president will designate a committee of "order less than three senators to inspect the inventory of all clubs receiving capital outlay from the Student Government clubs and organizations on the campus at least once per calendar year."

Although several senators noted an increase in lag time on the measure and others abstained, the bill passed apparently on Santeri's recommendation.

Inventory Problems Spur Senate Action

On Law Addendum

In the interest of keeping adequate control over an inventory of "huge sums of operating capital outlay" of Student Government funds and organizations, the Senate passed an emergency addendum to the 84th law governing the allotment of Student Government funds in these groups last week.

"In many cases," said Senator Frank Santeri, "capital outlay numbering in tens of thousands of dollars may be viewed by clubs in machinery or equipment which no one is able to locate now."

Under this new addendum, in order for organizations to receive funds from Student Government the president or chief executive of the club involved must submit a written statement to the chief claiming 'responsibility for all property held under the name of this organization and shall be accountable for the inventory thereof."

Further, in the student body president will designate a committee of "order less than three senators to inspect the inventory of all clubs receiving capital outlay from the Student Government clubs and organizations on the campus at least once per calendar year."

MODEL SENATE

THE GENERAL session of the U.S. Senate was coped closely by the Model Senate held at Stetson University last week. College students from all over the country were represented and each of them portrayed an actual member of the U.S. Senate.

GOVERNOR REUBIN Askew urges student senators to register to vote and “work within the governmental system” in a speech during the four-day Model Senate program.

Puppeteers Tour College Campuses

It began when Mark Shobin, a University of Maryland senior, sponsored the appearance at his school of the touring Blackbird Theatre from Portland, Maine. Joining the group after his graduation, Mark toured with the puppeteers, including two small workshops that took him across the country to San Francisco and eastward again to Ohio, where the 10 members of the Blackbird Theatre scattered.

That spring two of the students decided to start the beginning of the Goodweather Puppeteers, the pairing of Mark Shobin and Becky Schuman. That was last spring. Since then they have expanded from city to city to campus to campus, teaching Knoxville children how to make puppets, and living up to the "Goodweather" in their name by performing with modest props under a clear, sunny sky to an impromptu audience modeling itself on the grass. Monday they delighted a gathering on the south side of the Village Center, put with puppets but with a hand-powered Cranky Movie Show featuring "King Midas or the Birds of Plenty" and "Chicken Little on the Story of World." Accompanied by Becky on drums, kazoo and plastic whistle, including vocals by Langer, their dog, Mark narrated stories using a scroll that was a fan, while Becky illustrated them and a trumpet to accent his story.

The stories were told a bit from the original told to grade school children, but there were no heavy political overtones. Becky explained that based on her theatrical training, many of the political plays she had seen, especially the women's liberation plays, were "speeches - not plays." The first Cranky Movie, an interesting variation of the classic tale of Midas, climaxing when Midas remote control battery-powered finger on wheels went berserk and glided everything in the kingdom, including Midas.

"Chicken Little" turned out to be a droll Adam who developed a falling sky complex when an apple fell on his head in the garden. Eve was ably portrayed by Becky. Of course, they were evicted by the rose after eating the fateful fruit and pushed out into the "real world" without benefit of a Social Security number. She and Mark wrote their version of the stories, and they have several more in the works.

"We're limited right now because there are only two of us," she said, adding that they will spend about four months on the West Coast to recruit two or three more people during their California stay. The Puppetteers usually play college campuses because they are the easiest places to get a chance to perform. After touring campuses, the two said they noted a paranoia steadily growing, especially on the part of the administrations.

"We're always asked how radical our material is, or how obscene it is. Of course the most conservative colleges are harder," however, the two have even found difficulty in California, which usually has a reputation for freer regulations.

Mark and Becky have an engaging talent for poking fun at themselves. At one point in their version of the Midas myth, the royal gold field was advised: "Maybe we could send troops of stupid puppets throughout the kingdom to perform on college campuses." Midas snapped: "There's no money in that! Get lost!"

Indeed, there is never an admission charge at a Goodweather Puppetteer performance; either the audience is asked for donations or the play is sponsored, in this case by the Village Center. The Puppetteers complimented the Village Center for its friendliness and cooperation and said that happiness for them, was performing free of charge here and at other campuses, wherever they find a warm day and persons ready to laugh and have fun.

The Goodweather Puppetteers will be in Tampa and will return to Orlando to play at Rollins.

Opera "Superstar" Set For Muni Aud Tuesday, Nov. 23

"Superstar" comes to Orlando's Municipal Auditorium Tuesday, presented by the Original American Touring Company.

The rock opera based on the last days of Jesus Christ will be at 8 p.m.

The cast performs in concert the opera by Andrew Lloyd Webber and Tim Rice. The part of Jesus is played by Billy Barnes, whom the Milwaukee Journal called "a fine natural baritone capable both of great tenderness and dramatic boldness." Directors of the Company have added sections and rearranged songs, and have added the character the Virgin Mary, played by Bobbi Jaison.

"An exciting, emotional event. The crowd, moved and cheered until the cast repeated the title song as an encore," said Don Lewis of the Orlando Sentinel.

Reviews of the musical have highly commended the portrayal of the major characters, Jesus laurel, Plata, Herod and Mary Magdalene.

Controversy over "Superstar" is not only about the religious subject, but also because there is some question as to whether any public performance of any of the Webber-Rice songs is legal. The opera is also the first rock opera to be taken really seriously by critics and serious music critics.

Tickets are $4.50 and $5.50.

Cheaper in the long run

Gas will never cost you much. (You'll get up to 27 miles to the gallon.) And the amount of oil you use is like a drop in the barrel. (It only takes 2.7 quarts and almost never needs more between changes.)

And the engine is air-cooled, so you don't have to spend a red cent for anti-freeze or rust inhibition.

But don't think buying a new Volkswagen is just another get-rich-quick scheme. You have to wait until the second set of tires wears out.

Tournament Open To Ping Pong Buffs

All PTU students who think they may be the area’s champion in table tennis will have the chance to prove themselves at the Greater Orlando Recreational Winter Table Tennis Tournament.

The entry deadline for this tournament will be Wednesday, Dec. 1. All interested students are asked to stop by the main desk at the Village Center or Dr. James Brophy’s office at EN 235.
Suppose They Held A Basketball Game....

That’s right. Suppose FTU held a basketball game and no one came. Suppose the men who donated countless hours of practice and sweat had to play before empty bleachers. When crowds of people come to watch a basketball game they involuntarily bring a driving force that worked directly on the basketball players as soon as spectators enter the gym. The FTU Basketball Knights will be looking forward to this fare on November 30 when they take on Mcull Air Force Base in their first game of the season.

The game will be held in the Lake Highland Gym (formerly the College of Orlando) and will start at 8 p.m. that Tuesday. FTU’s top seven players against Mcull will be Don Mathis, Mike Clark, Zettie McCrimmon, Eddie Fluitt, Tom Bowie, Willie Gibson, and Ed Smith.

Mathis, who played for FTU last year, is a 6’4”, 220 pound center-guard. Orlando’s Mike Clark will play guard for FTU. The 6’11” pound junior was leading scorer for FTU last year. Zettie McCrimmon played basketball for Valencia Community College last year and will play forward for Tech this year. He is 6’10” tall and weighs 190 pounds. Eddie Fluitt, a junior transfer from Lake Sumter Community College, will play center for FTU. The 21-year-old physical education major is 6’7” tall.

Tommy Bowie, a 5’11” freshman from Lansing, Michigan will play guard for Tech. He weighs 180 pounds. Willie Gibson hails from Boynton Beach, Florida and is a junior at FTU this year. Gibson is 5’9” tall and weighs 150 pounds. “Fast Ed” Smith, a nickname earned from his lightning fast speed on the court, is 5’9” tall and weighs 168 pounds. He is entering his senior year at FTU.

According to Head Coach Gene Clark, Mcull has always been a strong contender, stressing the point that Air Force teams can vary from good to bad or vice versa as the season progresses. Many months have passed since FTU began their nightly two-hour practice sessions at the Lake Highland Gym. Judging from individual player improvements and a scrimmage game with area junior colleges, Clark feels that the team has worked more like a well-organized team now. They have put their finger on a reason how. Stockwell, ITV, and Rodhegier, for example, agree that the team has worked more like a well-organized team lately with on-the-field passes and dribbling.

Soccer Club Wins Final Season Match

Without a questionable doubt, this has been the busiest, most active, as well as the most rewarding week in FTU sports history. Last weekend Gregley’s grapplers, after months of grueling practice and sweat, came home from a Fort Myers meet with three trophies under their belts. Not bad for their first match of the season. Also, the newly formed archery team took three trophies in the local Southeastern meet held in Sanford. But probably the most astounding sports event of the week occurred when FTU beat Florida Southern College to the tune of 6-5 in its last soccer meet for the fall season.

Only a few short weeks ago the same soccer team beat the FTU’s soccer knights 12-5. Team captain Bob Stroodman just can’t seem to put his finger on a reason how. Stockwell, in his turn, agrees that the team has worked more like a well-organized team lately with on-the-field passes and dribbling.

Golfers To Compete In Local Tri-Match

The FTU Golf team tees off this afternoon at 12:30 p.m. in a tri-match against Stetson University and Embry Riddle. The match will be played at Deltona Country Club.

The team held a qualification round at the Deltona Course last Friday to determine who the six players for the match will be. Mark Stockwell, Mike Utz, Wayne Leland, Darby Howard, Greg Rodhegier and Bob Owens proved to be the low qualifiers.

Volleyball Starts, Week’s Results Given

By BROADWAY BEAR

Intercollegiate football is over, and now FTU students are getting their exercise by hitting a ball over a net. Though not as popular as sport as football, volleyball is a good team sport, and in order to have a successful team, everybody must pull together. This year the intramural volleyball system is composed of five divisions, as more teams take part in the action. Here are last week’s results:

Archers Take Trophies In Southeastern Meet

A total of three trophies were won by the newly-formed FTU Archery Club last Saturday in the Southeastern Inter-collegiate Championships held at Stetson University in DeLand.

The women’s team, composed of Dena Pickens, Lyvonne Harvey, and Mo Wittkop, won the first place trophy in their division. The mixed team, composed of Dena Pickens, Lyvonne Harvey, Mark Grosenbacher and Jeff Morton came home with the second place trophy in the mixed team division.

Individual honors go to Dena Pickens who won the first place trophy in Women’s Free Style, Lyvonne Harvey, who placed second in the Women’s Free Style, and Mo Wittkop came in fourth in Women’s Freestyle.

As a result of these individual honors, Pickens and Harvey are now eligible to go to the National Archery Championship held at San Bernardino Valley College in San Bernardino, Calif.

According to team captain Jeff Morton, “for only one month’s practice, the team couldn’t have done better.” He apparently has some great hopes for the team because there are plans for FTU to host a state archery meet to be held on campus during April.

Pool Reopens In Spring

Starting November 18, the FTU swimming pool will be closed due to upcoming bad weather and a lack of attendance during the last few weeks. According to Pe officials, it is not feasible to keep the pool open because of the costs involved. The olympic-sized pool is scheduled to reopen in spring quarter.

The equipment room of the Physical Education Building will be closed November 25 through December 8.

For Friday, November 19, 1971
IF YOU WERE BORN TODAY:
Oh, can you see me? Oh, what should I be there by the sea where? What I'm trying to say, is take a trip to the sea. Shore. (What?) Your friends will be glad to see you, and may even extend an invitation to keep you away. In fact, depending on how well they can get along without you, they may lend you a great deal of money. Your office personnel will not be able to staff the office without you. If YOU WERE NOT BORN TODAY:
That's not to say that you don't have an offensive personality too, but you just can't go to the beach.

AQUARIUS:
The stars say that you are friendly and kind-hearted. I know better. You grasp the opportunity to be rude and disgusting, choking each new insult up as a moral victory. You advise at the misery and mortification you see in others. You will exterminate, however. A large, brown dog will eat your final project in a few hours, and your work will never be found. If you win out at the end.

Mars in the family will disrupt your plans the week. You will be the one to contract a divorce, and you will be married. To keep it off, if you don't win today, Monday, you will discover that you have found a job and a final in each of your classes. You will not make it the long, however, so you needn't study.

ARIES:
The old saying reads "Jeep, you'll kick, and be forever known for tomorrow you may die." Follow that advice, but do so with careful consideration. If you win today, you may wish to choose a final and a final in each of your classes. You will not make it the long, however, so you needn't study.

TAURUS:
There is a crossing of your major axis on the horizon. This indicates a darkness riding on the horizon. It also indicates that you are getting up awfully early in the morning, to see Venus. That darkness on the horizon is last night leaving. Don't you wish it could be forgotten that easily? Go back to bed and try to sleep off it. Maybe you'll forget your name by the time you wake up.

GEMINI:
Good words are written in the stars. I will not repeat them though, because I'd lose readers. Instead I will leave a note to live by. The great poet has said "A leaf of bread, a jug of wine and thou by my side." You be it, and pretty soon I'll be fat, drunk and shackled with a patience suit.

CANCER:
Rejoice, lucky one! This week you should be very successful in your diet program. You should lose over 20 pounds by this time next week. I see that your legs will fall off at the knees, it may not be the most aesthetic thing that could happen, but you will lose weight.

LEO:
You are a leader and a jerk. You feel your calling is directed to the lives of everyone else, but, unfortunately, they do not feel the need to be led by you, so you are a clown and a jerk. You will fall at all business attempts and your marriage will fall apart. Other than that little bit of insight, you will not receive much good news today.

VIRGO:
You will inherit your Grandmother's spaghetti farm, and have the chance to settle down and raise your little farm with the little woman for the rest of your days. My advice would be to diversify. You never know. All the Italians in the world might not all of a sudden, and then the bottom would fall out of the spaghetti market. Try raising duckfats for paper weights.

LIBRA:
Be forceful today, but not obnoxious. Exert yourself as your position requires. If you need to take action, today is the day. Strive, while the iron is hot. Then duck. (See Virgo for ducks.) Those under you do not respect you, because they feel you are not as well versed as you claim to be. They are right. You have not won their respect, so simply exercise your authority now, while you still have it to exercise.

SCORPIO:
Don't trust those close to you, like your children. To top it off, you have a paper and a final in next week. However, a large, brown dog will eat your final project in a few hours, and your work will never be found. If you win out at the end.

SAGITTARIUS:
It's a crying shame, you're not sending any more nifty vibes to my brain so I can't go to the beach. Horizon is last night leaving. Those under you do not respect you, because they feel you are not as well versed as you claim to be. They are right. You have not won their respect, so simply exercise your authority now, while you still have it to exercise.

ARIES:
The student chapter of the American Institute of Industrial Engineers (AIIE), will hold its next meeting Tuesday at 11 a.m. in LR 216. The speaker at the meeting will be Dr. David W. Gurney, placement center director. He will discuss the functions of the placement center in recruiting engineering students.

This meeting is open to all students and free coffee will be served.

AYN RAND GROUP:
The Ayn Rand discussion group will hold a meeting Tuesday from 5 to 6 p.m. in LR 210. All interested students are invited.

The Chesa Club will meet Monday at 7 p.m., in GC 104. There will only be two more meetings this quarter.

PROMPTING
Parthenaen's FTU's women's honor society, congratulates all probationary members who have now met the qualifications for full collegiate membership. For those women who have become full-fledged members, a special social and meeting will be held Monday night, Nov. 29. Further information about the meeting and copies of the old constitution and proposed amendments will be sent out this coming week.

Collegiate members are reminded that the initiation fee and dues for the 1971-72 year should be paid no later than today.

For further information contact Parthenaen's secretary Susan Egan in the Administration Office. RT 216, ext. 2605, or call President Billie Kolzar at 2803.

ASC:
The FTU student chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers (ASCE) will visit the new Coca Cola water treatment plant on Tuesday. All interested students may meet at 11 a.m. in the lobby of the Engineering Building. The highly automated plant is reportedly one of the most efficient in the country.

For further information contact Dr. Martin Vinella.
