Wanielista Named Institute Director

Dr. Martin Wanielista, assistant professor in civil engineering, has been named director of the newly-formed Institute for Environmental Systems Engineering at Florida Tech. Announcement of the institute was made April 20 on campus during an Earth Day ceremony presided over by President Charles N. Millican. The institute is a joint project of FTU and several county agencies which have been charged with the responsibility of improving the quality of the environment through research, education, public service and the promotion of cooperation.

"The solutions for pollution problems have been around for quite a while, but the scientists have been trying to figure out how to use them," Wanielista said. "This institute brings together engineers and scientists to work on problems which affect the environment."

Wanielista is a member of the ASCE, and has worked in three different states on pollution problems.

"Mark Twain Tonight!" is the theme of a student conference on April 28. The event is sponsored by the Student Government Association in conjunction with the Student Activities Board.

The annual student-organized event will feature guest speakers, panels, and an awards ceremony. The event will begin at 7 p.m. in the Student Center.

Two FTU dormitory students were suspended from school for three quarters after they were charged with a major violation.

The two students were charged with violation of the visiting policy of the university. The two students were not necessarily handled as cases, but rather as separate cases.

Business Frat Wins State Honors

The year's activities for Phi Beta Sigma have culminated recently when an 18-member delegation represented FTU at the 22nd annual state leadership conference held in Oviedo.

First, second, and third place Miss Future Business Teacher trophies were won by Ruth Pace, Mrs. Thomas and Mrs. Smith, respectively.

New Curriculum Cuts Total Hours

By Linda Mertel

A new, revised environmental studies program, calling for an end to required senior seminars and a decrease of three hours in the minimum major requirements has been approved and will be implemented this fall.

The announcement was made this week by Dr. C. B. Gambrell, vice president for academic affairs.

The program will affect students who will be enrolled in the FTU Environmental Systems Engineering program at or beyond the junior level and who choose to come under the 1972-73 catalog. Students who reside in an older catalog will fill requirements of the catalog.

Senior seminars, as part of the advanced junior and senior programs, have been deleted as requirements although they may still be listed on the class schedule as elective courses.

The new program calls for several advanced courses, and a major one being the implementation of a three-year accelerated curriculum as part of the advanced program.

This addition represents the introduction of education into the basic curriculum. Courses from the five other colleges are treated either in the basic or advanced program of environmental studies. Education will join business and engineering as a course of study where the student may choose one of a group of courses for the credit.

Dr. Robert Cowgill, assistant dean of the College of Education, said that a committee is presently working on the third addition, an attempt to determine which education courses would be most beneficial to students. He noted that the course would probably not be offered through horticulture courses.

Regents To Consider New Visitation Policy

A new dormitory visitation policy formulated by Board of Regents (BOR) President Frank Santry will be considered by the BOR Monday at its regular monthly meeting.

The new proposal provides visitation for 2 p.m. to 11 p.m. seven days a week, with parental consent required for courses under 21 years of age. The request for parental consent must include an explanation of the physical facilities provided in the residence hall.

This new program will leave visitation in the hands of the university president, the students and parents rather than the BOR.

The present policy, adopted by the BOR in August 20, allows no visitation for freshmen under 21, and non-freshmen under 21 to have parental consent. Under this program, visitation hours were set from 2 p.m. Monday through Thursday, and from 2-11 p.m. on Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

The program was originally labeled by FTU housing director T. K. Weitzel as being "unfair to supervise and hard to enforce."

In speaking of the new program, BOR President Frank Santry commented, "I am glad to see at least that the freshmen students are being initiated to the level of human society."

This program is definitely an improvement over the present system. I am sure that the FTU students will love the hours for hours.

The only problem is that the BOR should consider legalizing the student's rights to voting."

Dr. C. B. Gambrell, the undergraduate studies committee, "Most students will be eliminated.

SERENITY—The time of the year is spring. The name of the illness is fever. Who's not suffering as the first warmth of summer dispels the chill of the evening? The majority of us are still in bed, some for reasons of rest, but many, as this individual, seek solitude. The trees, the grass and the shade, coupled with a Coke and a thought, seem to have transported this gentleman to some distant region, far from books, classes and professors. (Photo by Jon Findell.)
Punishment Should Fit The Crime

Two students were suspended from FTU for one year after being apprehended during the commission of a major visitation violation.

It is indeed difficult for us to understand the justification behind expelling a student for any "first" violation, unless it also breaks a law. This "SENTENCE" has to be unprecedented - how can a person with a clear record be expected to at all make such a misguided punishment? The efforts of the students to attempt to receive a fair trial and to appeal the matter after the punishment given was felt to be too severe, are laudable.

The punishment should fit the crime. It was pointed out at an SG Senate meeting that the violation was a social, not an academic offense and therefore should be punished as such. Suspension from the university should be reserved for only the most drastic offenses. This denominator should not violate any federal, state, county or city law and therefore there is no question of the students having to be refused food, sleep and recreation.

And how is anyone going to benefit from the absence of these students?

The residence halls are not externally overcrowded, so we gain two empty beds. The student offense is not only extraneous but also one quarter's credit hours.

The real benefit of this action is that students practicing such "immoral" behavior are banished from the university and therefore are not permitted to influence other students. Let's quit kidding ourselves, our-set is of critics. But隈er's for one person's opinion is no better than another's. Who can say he is fit to judge what is immoral?

We must also consider the right (or lack of right) to privacy that members of this university see fit to disregard. It is a fact that a student's who are housing concerns are nearly all privacy loving and when even though the FTU residence halls were obviously designed to offer a great deal of privacy. Selected administrative officials must locked or unlocked rooms and search the premises with not much as the presence of the student required. What a way to encourage on-campus crime.

All other arguments aside, the fact remains that two students were caught more than once. It was the first offense for both students and the punishment could severely jeopardize their attempts to re-enter this or any university.

We ASK one final question: Is the means of punishment chosen really the most fair and effective that could have been implemented?

A Matter Of Opinion

Gabriel Yanni

For all those who fought for what they believed in a piece of land or their own cause, for those who died believing in dreams of a better earth, and those who died meaninglessly, for all those left behind, for the poor, the crippled and the misfit, thank you. Thank you for your care, the time you shared, lending a part of your spirit to _ok.

There is in the eyes of the beholder and one quarter's credit hours.

Immorality is in the eyes of the beholder and one quarter's credit hours.

One quarter's credit hours.

Patients

Richard Good promised to bring our boys home and end our participation in the Vietnamese civil war. Now he is Richard the First - just as we all knew before and he is sending thousands of our boys back out in the rice fields to die.

Many students feel that our student Government does nothing. Although Student Government is not as effective at FTU as at other schools, the fact that this is commuter school and relatively new contribute heavily to this problem. Things are looking up, but student involvement in meets and Students who do not see any major branch in other programs offered regularly blame it on Student Government when entertainment and programming are the basic function of the Village Center at FTU.

When a student has an idea for something to be done, he should bring it to the attention of his senator. This should be a continuous idea generation.

There is at least one senator from each class in each college, so the students are well represented. An example of the ignorance of many students can be seen in Gabriel Yanni's column on April 21, when he said that Student Government should enact a suspension box. There has been a suggestion box by the circulation desk in the library for almost three years.

When students decide to take the necessary steps and become involved and support their Student Government, only then will Student Government be truly effective at FTU.

Ideals For Office

Dear Editor:

"War is Hell!" as we all have heard from our history books. The man who said these often quoted words was a general. He was willing then to face and fight hell. Yet he knew his limit and beyond hell he wouldn't go, thus when approached by manipulation or intimidation or fear he stepped down for president. General William T. Sherman declined rather adamantly.

Could it be because a war has controlled campaigns, whereas in an election you are controlled by your campaign? On his way in Atlanta, Sherman could see the life span of any unwhorid who against orders, put a poster of Sherman upon a tree or degraded a wall and all his viewers with not less than 14 poster of him. On the way to the White House, this same subordinate would have to be made Postmaster General.

Yes, an attempt is being made to get across the disgusting manner in which all the candidates have been seen fit to take up every inch of wall, window space and finally to tire in order to rape my mind into being "ready for change," stepping in the right direction, "wanting a t plan," "having an open mind" or just plain wanting.

These same men and women would have us believe they are part (active) of the groved generation and yet they discard all consciousness, including "Consciousness III," for the sake of winning a "Consciousness II" position tied up in "Consciousness I" goals and interests.

Student Support

Dear Editor:

For the first time all year, students have expressed interest in Student Government during the past few weeks of elections. Many new ideas have come out, some of which are quite good. Some of the other ideas have already been locked into.

Many students feel that our Student Government does nothing. Although Student Government is not as effective at FTU as at some other schools, the fact that this is
Adamick's Margin Is Record

Steven Adamick took the office of president of the student body of FTU in the student body election last week by the widest margin ever in a presidential election here.

Adamick, presently executive assistant to SG President Frank Santry, polled 897 votes for a total of 45.2 percent of the vote.

In all, 1,630 students eligible to vote, 1,540 students cast ballots for a total of 30.8 percent.

The position of vice president was taken by Lee Constantine, Deland, a junior male in engineering, who polled 274 percent of the vote, beating out his closest opponent, JoAnne Puglisi by only 90 votes.

Adamick was never active in student government until he came to FTU after his August graduation from Valencia Community College. He, however, had an active interest in SG and when he asked SG President Santry for a job, Santy offered him the post of executive assistant.

He has held this job for a year and a half and credits the office for what he believes will be a smooth transition in the administration.

Adamick, who received political endowment from Santry, has been so active in SG for the past year that he has gained any other social or service organization since coming to FTU. Rather, he has been involved with the student judicial advisory board, the SG book exchange, and the Lake Club project.

"SG is in a transition stage by the three previous administrations," says Adamick, "growing from its infancy to organization and streamlined. SG has now evolved with the experiences of three years. It is ready to flex its muscles and take an active interest in student rights."

Adamick feels there is a right way and a wrong way to do things. "The wrong approach is to make demands that are totally unfeasible and irrational," he said, "but he also stresses the need for student, faculty, and administration cooperation, these three facets can work together to fulfill needs in a manner acceptable to everyone.

"I really am happy about my election," said Adamick's running mate Lee Constantine, Constantine graduated from Lyman High where he first acquired an interest in SG. At FTU, he has been chairman of the budget committee and has sponsored numerous bills, including those dealing with alcohol business student body.

"We want to give the students a voice in the program," said Burridge, "and innovations, and will set up an office and a wrong way to do this."

He is trying to promote SG incorporation, which he says will make it easier for SG to accomplish such things as its student-run grocery store, legal aid and the publishing of pamphlets.

Vandy Jackson, senior senator from natural sciences was Adamick's closest competitor with 19.3 percent of the vote (296 votes).

Other presidential candidates included Bob Brown (18.5 percent, 280 votes), Debbie Hudak (17.1 percent, 100 votes), Paul Woodson (6.8 percent, 109 votes) and Marvin Tucker (2.5 percent, 41 votes).

The third place vice presidential candidate was Terry Jude (20.6 percent, 318 votes) and fourth was Thomas McGurn (9.4 percent, 1,484 votes).

Campaign activities were heavy during this last week of the campaign, with posters, cards and pamphlets being distributed by the ten candidates.

The last day of the campaign saw most of their campaign hours spent walking the halls of the university before they had to be counted by hand.

Santry was pleased with the results of the election but not the voter turnout. Perhaps students saw too many faces too many times and just decided to turn it off.

Santry extended his thanks to members of the elections board and volunteer poll workers for "doing an excellent job at the polls. The processing and counting of the ballots was also impeccably done.

Elections Commissioner Fred Daniels released campaign expenditures this Friday stating that Steve Adamick and Lee Constantine had exceeded their spending limit by eight cents and nine cents, respectively.

For this over-spending, Adamick and Constantine will be required to pay fines of twice the amount by which they exceeded the limit (that is 18 cents and 16 cents, respectively).

The ceiling on campaign expenditures was $176.02. Total expenditures of each candidate were as follows: Steve Adamick, $176.11; Lee Constantine, $176.11; Bob Brown, $162.44; JoAnne Puglisi, $170.43; Debbie Hudak, $81.37. Tom McLaughlin reported that he had no expenditures. The student body candidates have as yet filed no reports of campaign expenditures.

Total expenditures thus far reported total $767.05.

Candidates who did not fail the reports earlier this week may be disqualified from holding SG office in the future, according to Daniels.

Civic Heads Praise In Malinich Speech

President Charles N. Millican addressed a meeting of East Orange County civic leaders Friday at the Bank of America Building in Orlando. He praised the county leaders and pledged FTU's continued cooperation in the growth of the area.

The meeting was the first Annual Appreciation and Awards Banquet of the East Orange Chamber of Commerce. Millican said he feels that East Orange County and Florida Tech's growth is integrated. Millican stated that FTU "will definitely continue its commitment to the principles of educational excellence, community service, and the full development of the individual." To further support this stand, he vowed that, like the rest of East Orange County, "The future growth of the area has been part of the county in the colleges, he cited the donation of 133 acres to the university by the Mackey family. He also thanked members of the Chamber of Commerce for their "friendship and wonderful spirit of good neighborliness."

Millican related to the group the FTU student and faculty involvement in the Lake Claire recreation area: "Project 71 of March" which originated at FTU and gained statewide adoption on other campuses; FTU involvement in ecological research and environmental cleanup campaigns.

Jail Admin. Seminar To Feature Unkovic

Dr. Charles M. Unkovic, chairman of the department of sociology at FTU, is scheduled to speak at a Jail Administration Seminar at St. Petersburg Junior College, The May 14-17 conference is sponsored by the Florida Institute for Law Enforcement.

"Overview of the Florida Jail System" will be the topic of Dr. Unkovic's speech. Discussion will focus on new trends and developments in jail administration.

In researching his speech, Dr. Unkovic found out that "No one can tell you how many people are in county jails. No one can tell you how many counties each jail has," he told the unwillingness of officials to say what, if any, rehabilitation programs exist in the county jails. (No one can tell how many people have died in county jails.) Unkovic is accumulating the answers to the above mysteries and will present them to the Institute at the seminar.

Unkovic co-directed with Milo C. Sawtel, executive director of the National Council on Alcoholism, a production of the Institute of Scientific Studies for the Prevention of Alcoholism and Drug Abuse. "They've been vice president for student affairs at FTU, given the welcome speech for the April 17-18 conference. "The program served the purpose of bringing in speakers from all over the country and having them relate the existing problems with those of the United States." Unkovic remarked that the audience had also come from around the country.

Dr. Frank D. Rohrer, chairman of the department of physical education at FTU, spoke on the "Relevant Research Concerning Marijuana and Related Drugs." The "Juno" Slated For Opening On Thursday

Opening performance of the theatre department's production of Sean O'Casey's "Juno and the Paycock" will be 8:30 p.m. Thursday at the O.C. Wang Theatre Science Auditorium. The play will continue Friday and Saturday, May 5 and 6.

"Juno," first performed in 1924, continues to illuminate contemporary scenes with nearly unbearable poignance to create a portrait of the Irish people during the stress of the Irish Revolution. The play is particularly significant today in light of the present conflict in Northern Ireland, director David D. Mays has pointed out.

Students, faculty and staff members were plan to attend any of the three performances will be admitted without charge upon presentation of their ID cards, but are urged to make reservations in advance by calling 275-2000. Reservations are encouraged in order to eliminate confusion on the nights of the performances.

'Crypt Tales' More 'Fidget Frolics' Than 'Fright Follies'
Fran Elliott

"Whatever Happened To Baby "Dracula"? Moreover, whatever scary movies that made their theatre? "Tales from the Crypt" is Jane! or "Sweet Charlotte" or happened to all those marvelous audiences afraid to walk out of the billed as one of those good old spook shows, but don't be alarmed, since the most frightening scene in the whole movie is a hand darting out to grab a woman who is locking her door to keep out a maniac. That's about the extent of the frightening moments.

It seems horror movies have gone so "mod" that they've lost all their horror. To be perfectly honest, they're not even slightly horrible! If this new show, now playing at the Rocking Chair Theatre, is an example of today's "fright follies," then they are more like "fidget frolics."

The coloring in the film is perfectly clear and beautiful, not even a suggestion of the dreariness and gloom in "ye olde honorable" grave cinemas. The crypt is shown mainly in the opening and closing scenes to try to hold together the stories of five people reliving their personal involvement with such pastimes as murder, cruelty, selfishness, cheating and other expensive self-indulgences. Each tells his own story in retrospect, and unfortunately, except in one story including a narrow tunnel of razor blades, the climaxes are not even chilling.

But, would you believe, the main actors are good ones, such as Joan Collins, Peter Cushing, Nigel Patrick. Considering all factors, they even do a fairly good job of acting.

Probably the best touch of the melodrama which helped to make the old style horror films successful was exhibited in one story when one character found his son dead with this bloody valentine beside him:

You were mean and cruel from the start, Now you REALLY have no heart.

And guess what prop was fiercely pumping at the bottom of the note? Now THAT bit has a lot of heart!
Extra $6,000 Allocated To SG Spring Picnic

The SG Senate recently allocated an additional $6,000 for the annual spring picnic scheduled to be held in May.

According to SG President Frank Santucci, the purpose of the new allocation is to cover the cost of hiring a "national name group" to perform the evening of the picnic. The original allocation of $3,000 was intended to cover the cost of food and entertainment, but did not take into consideration the cost of a "name" band.

Senior Senator Puglisi explained to the senate the possibility of hiring either Melanie, Rod Stewart or Elton John. According to Miss Puglisi, the cost of bringing Melanie or Rod Stewart would be $7,000.

Additional funds for the venture will be made available by the Village Center.

Bill 4:194, a resolution concerning the senior seminar was amended to call for a questionnaire to be distributed to determine to what extent the students feel the seminar was intended to cover the cost of.

Goldsox Lose Two More Games, Errors Costly In Rollins Defeat

The FTU Knights ran up against a couple of hot college baseball teams and felt the result in the loss.

The last Saturday night at Tinker Field, the Knights lost 11-6 to South Florida, whom they had beaten earlier in the season. Bill Laren, pitcher for FTU, but was ineffective against the visitors from Tampa. Laren pitched seven innings, giving up 11 runs on 11 hits.

Allen Tuttle and pitcher-turned-third baseman Mark Denno provided the offense for FTU with two hits. Denno drove in two runs, Mort Denno at the number 2 slot and catcher Owen Moore at the number 3 position. Bill Barnes stroked and Alson Pacha as a replacement.

The team was forced to borrow a four-man shell from Rollins College for the race, held last weekend at Stone Mountain, Georgia. The eight-man shell and the oars will not fit in a four-man shell.

The FTU team won the 3,000 meter race with a time of 6:23. Their neighbor and name mate, Florida Institute of Technology finished second at 6:24. Alabama was third and Eastern Carolina University fourth. In all, 20 colleges were entered in the competition.

The team that won the race had Craig Rich at bow, Greg Cordner and Harry Merriw at the number 2 and 3 positions. Bill Barnes stroked and Alson Pacha as a replacement.

The victory was particularly sweet for the team. A few days earlier, while trying to get accustomed to the four-man shell, the team flipped the boat over, knocking everyone into the water.

At the time, most of the other teams were watching.

“I was so embarrassed to everyone, but I think we got the most laughs out of it,” team manager Ted Daniels commented.

Dr. Frank Rohrer, athletic director for FTU, has announced that Doug Holmquist, former baseball coach at Vermont Union, has agreed to take over coaching chores for the FTU Goldsax for the rest of the season. For the past 12 games, the team has been coached by players Tim Gillis and Allen Tuttle.

“We are glad to have the services of Doug Holmquist whose experience will relieve the heavy burden carried by Tim and Allen,” Rohrer commented.

Team Prepares For Nationals

Using a shell borrowed from one school, and oars from another, an FTU crew this past weekend took the Southeastern collegiate victory in what has to be termed a major upset.

The team was forced to borrow a four-man shell from the University of Alabama at Huntsville and oars from Rollins College for the race, held last weekend at Stone Mountain, Georgia. The eight-man shell and the oars were not fit in a four-man shell.

Presbyterian’s Nick Johnson with a Mike Utes paced the way to victory. The match was much more competitive than the score indicated.

FTU completed their season yesterday against Florida State University. Results for that match and Wednesday’s contest with Florida Institute of Technology in Melbourne were not available at press time. Following the Rollins match, FTU’s record stood at 8-7. Contrary to the schedule, there will be no Sunday match against FSU.

In the number one game of the Rollins match, FTU’s Coach Alexander Wood said that there was not much difference in ability between Mike DeZeeiuw and Rollins’ Robert Beerman. “He lost one or two careless points. He did not play a careless game. It was good tennis.”

Beerman played under a lot of pressure than DeZeeiuw, and won on sets of 7-6 and 6-4. In the second set, Beerman made a slow start on what DeZeeiuw thought had been an ace serve. DeZeeiuw then double-faulted on the tie-breaking point.

Brad Smith, of Rollins College, went into the match with Craig Linton undefeated for the season. Linton seemed to be bothered by a number of factors, including his own nerves, the pressure of playing an ace server, and trouble occasionally. Smith took the final two sets, 6-0 and 6-2.

Coach R. D. Hunter’s team also beat Rollins comfortably by 1 7 strokes. Against Florida Presbyterian, the Knights here, April 19, and Linton seemed to be bothered by a number of factors, including his own nerves, the pressure of playing an ace server, and trouble occasionally. Smith took the final two sets, 6-0 and 6-2.

There is a tendency to be psychologically defeated when you play a powerhouse...we were the definite underdogs,” Dr. Wood said. “But everybody came with a positive attitude. Despite the odds, everybody went out fighting.”

They (FTU Knights) showed the most competitive and sporting attitude.

Mike DeZeeiuw commented, “We really went out and tried.” Craig Linton added, “We gave them a respectable match.”
