Awards Ceremony Honors All Phases Of University Life

All phases of organized university life were honored Tuesday on the Village Center Green during the third annual Student Government Honors and Awards Ceremony.

Awards began with intramural and scholastic awards, including special extramural awards presented to Maria Uitz, who led the golf team, and to Tim Gillis and Allen Tuttle of the baseball team. The Village Center's Ace Hotel Company sponsored the event.

The university Student Government presented its new vice president, Lee Constantinid, the senator of the year award.

Music Department

The music department at North Kentucky University is operating under terribly adverse conditions since the Life magazine was returned as reporter in spring 1971.

The Village Center's Ace Hotel Company sponsored the event.

The music department at North Kentucky will be helped significantly by the department's new position as a creative financial. We are presently having a number of problems due to adverse conditions, but the university is taking steps to resolve them.

Music students have been working hard on this before taking any action on it. The university is taking steps to resolve the problems, and we are very pleased.
A Matter Of Opinion
By Gabriel Yanni

We have reached the end of another quarter, a quarter that will carry some through a pleasant summer while others will be striving to catch up with the rest of the academic year. A Student Government went out few days ago, and a new one took its place, full of hope and ideas, to make its time better than any other. We are amazed at the apparent incongruity with in our state government. Nixon Challenges any three but Nixon has been accused by some of reacting as a foreigner to many of the problems. Letters To The Editor
President's Congratulations

Dear Graduates,

Congratulations on reaching this milestone of your academic career. The time you have spent in our University's precious water on passersby. The administration's reflecting pool is a symbol of the spirit of education and scholarship. As the future of this nation surely rests in your hands, whether democracy be realized, whether democracy be realized, you will engage your talents and knowledge to make our nation's ideals a reality. Now is the time for a future of peace, for a future of prosperity, for a future of opportunity for all. Your place is in the forefront of the movement toward freedom and justice, not only for those who are, or ever, but for all, including the old man who could not answer and nothing which he could not understand. The student planned to conceal a bird in his hand. He would ask the question, "Is this a new bird, give it time." If this need of security is going to help the administration, the student will want and we should not indulge them too long in this shallow security. A new breed is coming. Let's make them proud of their choice. If our present reach cannot change the world yet, let it at least change our immediate surroundings.

Correction

Information regarding FIU student administration salaries contained in a Campus News editorial page of the-page 20-25 was in error. The figures alleged to report salary increases for the coming academic year when in fact they do not. The next year's raises have yet to be decided.

Dr. Harry Smith, president of the Puerto Rico American Association of University Professors, has said that the figures as presented were not accurate and that the FIU-EF were in printing misinformation concerning the size of the AAUP organization.

Food Service Committee Releases Recommendations

A Food Service Investigation Committee, made up of students, staff, and faculty, reviewed the current food service program at the university. The committee's recommendations were presented to the Morrison administration for consideration.

First of the recommendations was the adoption of an unlimited meal plan, which would allow students to choose the amount of food they need to effectively service the food line. The committee recommended the establishment of a 12-meal plan, any 12 meals used between Monday through Friday, in order to avoid the necessity of reducing labor costs. The final recommendation concerned contractor-student relations, and suggested dining room surveys, more contact between management and students, and more student involvement.

BOOKS DUE

Lynn W. Walter, director of libraries, has announced that all books checked out to faculty and staff for spring quarter 1972 will be due on the current deadline of 9 a.m. Monday through Friday.

If any member of the faculty or staff hopes to renew books checked out during the summer, they may renew any books which they may see to use on a regular basis. Renewals will not be accepted from anyone who will be away for summer.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

And I Came To Pass

And it came to pass.

Early in the morning toward the last day of the quarter, there arose a great multitude among the books and walls.

And there was much weeping and gnashing of teeth. For the fate of the book was at hand, and they were sore afraid, for they had left undone those things which they ought to have done. And they had done those things which they ought not to have done. And there was no help for it.

And there were many sheding in the dorm who had kept watch over their books by night, but it was all to no avail.

But some were who rose gently, for they had prepared themselves the way and made straight paths of knowledge. And there were known as "wise burners of the midnight oil.

And to others they were known as "curve raisers.

And the multitude arose and went to the Ceneter for Books, where they were instructed.

And they came unto the appointed place of duty, and their hearts were heavy within them.

And they had come to pass, but some to pass away.

And some of them Repented of their riotous living and bemoaned their fate, But they had not a prayer.

And at the last hour there came among them one known as the instructor, and they feared exceedingly. He was the diabolical smile.

And passed papers among them and went his way.

And many and varied were the answers that were given. For some of his teachings had fallen among fertile minds. While others had fallen, flat.

And some there were who wrote for one hour, Others for two;

But some turned away sorrowful, and many of these offered up a little but hope of feeding the instructor, and these were the ones who had not a prayer.

And when they finished, they gathered up their belongings and went their way quietly, each in his own direction, and each one vowing unto himself in this manner "I shall not pass this way again."

And the report stated that the most significant advantage of the food plan is that it would alleviate several existing problems. The committee also recommended the establishment of a 12-meal plan, any 12 meals used between Monday through Friday, in order to avoid the necessity of reducing labor costs.

The third suggestion was to extend the daily breakfast hours until 9 a.m. and increase the daily breakfast hours until 9 a.m. and increase the deadline for reserving tables to 9 a.m. Also suggested was the possibility of changing the schedule to 10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

In addition to the recommendations, the committee also listed a number of additions to the menu, such as the addition of new recipes. The report noted that the mandatory food plan is necessary in order to meet the needs of the students and faculty at the university. The report also stated that the mandatory food plan is necessary in order to meet the needs of the students and faculty at the university.

Archaeology Tour

To Visit Mexico

On June 6th, a group of about 15 persons will leave Orlando on a tour of Mexico sponsored by the Central Florida Museum and Planetarium. This tour will include a number of cultural and historical sites, including the Mayan ruins of Chichen Itza, the Mexican government, and the University of Mexico.

Rock Fans Dampered By Weekend Concerts

By Mike Crites

The Memorial Day weekend was not a good time to be a rock fan in Orlando, and even a wise time to be a rock promoter. It was discovered Tuesday that $2,000 in tickets stolen before the Alice Cooper concert at the Tangier Bowl.

Rick Namey, Cosmic Productions president, was faced with haslets with the weather, the crowd and Alice Cooper's manager, Skip Gordon during the Sunday and Monday concerts.

The Orlando band "Heaven" was unable to appear as scheduled Sunday night. "Dr. John, the Night Tripper" performed in a wet, orleans jazz-rock style.

Dr. John did sing from his latest album, "Gumbo," including "Tipitina" and "Iko, Iko." "Rolling Stone" record reviewer Charlie Gillett's description of "Tipitina" pertains to Dr. John in general. "You will be able to sit through the peculiar rapping voice...you'll be rewarded by some of the rocket playing you've ever heard, with more rhythm suggested and hinted at than is possible in so little.

Lee Hallock, an FTU student working for Cosmic Productions, was influential in helping police deal with an angry crowd of gate-crashers in the rain Sunday night. He could be seen playing with the crackers and moving constantly along the fence line in attempts to ease the situation.

Rick Namey said Sunday night's total $1,000, which would set a new record for paid audiences at a rock concert in Orlando. The Orlando Sentinel estimated the crowd at 4,000, and Hallock put the crowd at 7,800.

"Skip Gordon (Alice Cooper's manager) did everything he could to make the concert disjointed," Hallock commented. He added that "Cosmic Productions is still alive."

Ten thousand people came to see Alice Cooper Tuesday morning. The "show was obvious nothing, and rabidly had little effect on the crowd. Performing special effects in the daytime was unwise...

Due to the daytime condition, Cooper may have written Orlando off as a "summer." His band and his vocal performance lacked spontaneity and the drive," was expected from a group in the Rolling Stones tradition.

Included in the performance were two older songs, "Eighteen" and "What You Want (That's What You Get)." From his gold album "Killer" Alice song "You Drive Me Nervous," "Yeah, Yeah, Yeah," "Dead Babies," and "Killer.

Possibly the "high" point of the concert was the song "Halo of Flies." Alice and his boys were musical creators, and number, Lester Bangs of "Rolling Stone," described the strange beginning of "Halo of Flies": "The song begins with an effectively menacing moog punctuation and a series of crescendos federal guitar solos.

The city of Orlando voted this week to close the Tangier Bowl to future rock concerts.

Toni Salerno has resigned as assistant basketball coach to Coach Torchy Clark to devote time to a new career in the finance and insurance department of a local car dealer.

Salerno started his career at FTU as a junior in 1969 after earning his A.A. degree from Valencia. He is a member of the basketball club in 1969, as he was a part-time player and coach.

He then received a graduate assistantship. For the last two years, besides his ordinary teaching load, his duties for FTU included scheduling, recruiting and coaching, as well as maintaining office work.

One of the highlights of Salerno's career was coaching Big 10 Wisconsin. When asked what the final score was, Salerno answered, "The trip was nice." FTU lost 90-58.

One of Salerno's major achievements was the recruiting of Ed Smith, "Past Eddie" who starred at Valencia, and who is, to say the least, imposing.

The list will include five to six quick technicals, three for Clark, and three for Salerno. Dr. Frank Rotkoff finished the game as coach and Salerno matter-of-factly said, "Dr. Rotkoff was credited with the loss."

It was the first FTU played game and we held in Melbourne. Both Salerno and Clark thought FTU was getting the better of the officiating. "While Coach Clark was arguing with one referee, I lost no time in talking to the other," said Salerno. "My referee handed me a quick technical, I thought it best to sit down. However, Coach Clark was still having it out with the other referee while I talked to the other one,"

The other referee told Clark that he would kick Clark and Salerno off the floor if they did not sit down. When he was informed that it would take three technicals for a coach to leave the game, the referee slapped the table in frustration.

Second Annual Sports Day Camp Begins June 19

Registration is now open for the second annual sports day camp which will begin June 19. The two- to three-week sessions are open to children ages five through 14, and will offer a variety of activities under the guidance of FTU faculty members, coaches and physical education majors.

The July schedule includes coed volleyball, men's basketball and women's basketball, men's and women's tennis, and men's and women's water polo.

The wedding is scheduled to begin at 3 p.m. on July 15 at the First Baptist Church of Pahokee. Both Salemo and Clark have just finished five years of service at FTU and are looking forward to taking time to enjoy their newlywed status.

The Best of the Quarter's Worst.

If You Were Born Today:

Roberts ROEBUCK Linda, Elaine, Frank, Joe and a .m.

Aries:

You have ever noticed that all your toes don’t point forward when you put your feet in that direction? It’s true. The little ones, particularly, kicks points toward the other foot. That means you’re slowly falling over, from both sides alike.

Taurus:

You are wistful, clever and sentimental. Neither of your eyes can focus where they are supposed to at any given time. Your teeth don’t meet in the since. You have a ram.

Gemini:

Good morning, tubby. Those little folds forming around your you’re ram that coquers the world.

Cancer:

All of your hands are going to get cold this week and are going to refuse to cooperate. My warning would be, don’t try to pick yourself up, just keep trying, or it might be disastrous.

Leo:

There is an ill omen in the form of a left-handed war slowly growing on your foot. It will slowly take on your form and eventually look exactly like you. Then, late one night, when you see yourself smocked under from Boone’s Farm and Zappell, your other half will marry you by uniting your navel and letting the air out. Then the world wants you want to take your place in society. All your friends will be impressed by your new manner and their new ability to carry on a intelligent conversation. The new war will be left-handed, but your friends will never imagine that little fact since they like the new you so much more than the old.

Virgo:

The darkness pushes you toward the edge of humanity. Behind you, as you teeter on the brink are all of your friends and close associates. They yell in unison to you…“JUMP.”

Sagittarius:

Your ears are opening up. By mid-July they will be open so wide that your brain will fall out. You will not notice.

Capricorn:

Choose you this day who you will serve, your wife or your mistress. If you discover that your wife is not loyal, go back to her, for you should be. If you don’t love her anymore, you shouldn’t have married. If you have a yester day, your choice was when you married, and not this day. Just remember, man shall not live by bread alone.

Aquarius:

All realization of completeness will come to a Trumphant Crookhorn worm his way into a conclusion. You will stir your viscera.

Riscos:

Bah, humbug! This week. Try your wings. Make an obscene phone call. Lie about your age when you get a library card.
