A Matter Of Opinion

By Gabriel Yanni

We have reached the end of another quarter, a quarter that will carry some through a pleasant summer while others will still be wrangling their way to classes under Florida's heat. It is the time to look back at what was accomplished throughout the whole year, besides the academic life.

A Student Government went out few days ago, and a new one took its place, full of hope and ideas, to make it's time better than any there has been before. We also saw the injustice of some of our leaders take shape, and we wrought changes to alter some of the rules that guide us.

Come to think of it, besides the academic fields, what do we have to show for this year? I do not want to sound greedy and expect more than this campus can give, but it seems to want to implement the system, without the necessary structural changes, however.

The universities did not seem to be providing finances for maximum utilization, or else the individual students are not planning their schedules to take advantage of the situation.

During summer quarters the student population drops drastically. The faculty population is not far behind in desertions in the face of vacations. Worst of all, the students who wish to take summer courses are reading, cannot be effectively implemented. Dear Graduates, him with his job.

Finally, after repeated gestures to come please over and explain, he lowered himself to speak to us, the responsive student body who kept him waiting. More instructors will be needed, so their vacation times could be staggered, without affecting the faculty's income. It was over. I asked, "But I thought it was impossible?"

He looked at his watch, which was 10 minutes until four, and said, "It is four." He then went along. Nobody would surely recognize the name of the player. I was never so appalled in my life. I only needed to talk to a professor, but my friend had taken off from a job early to meet her friend. She was dressing down, and was just told, "Sorry, come back tomorrow." I later talked with one of the professors in my college and was told registration is over at 4 p.m., but they close the doors at 3:30 p.m.

For nine quarter hours I have heard that "The University is famous for its fast track on graduation procedures being made available to graduating seniors, but due to the lack of faculty manpower, classes are not being offered in the traditional way to classes under Florida's heat."

I am hoping that you will use your talents and knowledge to make your nation's ideals a reality. Nowadays is the time for a future of peace, for more responsive government, for equal opportunity for all. I congratulate you on what you have finished and look forward with hope toward what you can now begin to accomplish.

Food Service Committee Releases Recommendations

A Food Service Investigation Committee, formed of five members, has recommended the establishment of new breakfast hours. This recommendation was made following an investigation into the basic needs of students, conducted by the committee.

The committee suggested extending the daily breakfast hours until 10 a.m. The current breakfast hours are 7:30 to 9 a.m. The committee believes extending the hours will better accommodate the needs of students who may not have a 7 a.m. class and need breakfast before attending their first class.

In addition to the breakfast recommendation, the committee also recommended a change to the cafeteria's menu. Students have expressed a desire for more breakfast options, and the committee suggested adding more breakfast items to the menu.

The committee also recommended changing the price of meals. The price of meals has been a point of contention among students, with many feeling that the prices are too high. The committee suggested a decrease in the price of meals to make them more affordable for students.

The committee's recommendations will be presented to the FTU administration for consideration. The administration will review the recommendations and make a decision on whether to implement them.

And I Came To Pass

And it came to pass.

Early in the morning toward the last day of the quarter,

There arose a great multitude smiting the books and wailing.

And there was much weeping and gnashing of teeth.

For the day of judgment was at hand.

And they were sore afraid, for they had left undone those things which they ought to have done.

And they had done.

Those things which they ought not to have done.

And there was no help for it.

And there were many shifting in the dross who had kept watch over their books by night, but it was sealed them nought.

But some were who rose peacefully,

For they had prepared themselves the way and made straight paths of knowledge.

And these were known as wise burners of the midnight oil.

And to others they were known as "curve raisers."

And the multitude arose to hate a heavy burden.

And they came unto the appointed place and their hearts were heavy within them.

And they had come to pass, but some to pass away.

And some of them

Repented of their riotous living and bemoaned their fate.

He was the diabolical smile.

And passed papers among them and went his way.

And many and varied.

Were the anews that were given.

For some of his teachings had fallen among fertile minds.

While others had fallen, flat.

And at the last hour there came among them

One known as the instructor, and they feared exceedingly.

He was the diabolical smile.

And past papers among them and went his way.

And some there who were for one hour,

Dined for two;

But some turned away sorrowful, and many of these

Because they had not prepared themselves the way.

And each one vowing unto himself in this manner

"I shall not pass this way again."

Rock Fans Dampered By Weekend Concerts

By Mike Crites

The Memorial Day weekend was not a good time to be a rock fan in Orlando, and even a worse time to be a rock promoter. It was discovered Tuesday that $2,000 in tickets for the Alice Cooper concert were stolen before the Alice Cooper show Sunday night.

Rick Namey, Cosmic Productions president, was faced with hordes with the weather, the crowd and Alice Cooper's manager Roger Gordon during the Sunday and Monday concerts.

The Orlando band "Heaven" was unable to appear as scheduled Sunday night. "Dr. John, the Night Tripper" performed in a rain Orlando jazz-rock style.

Dr. John did sing from his latest album "Gumbo," including "Tipitina" and "Iko, Iko," "Rolling Stone" record reviewer Charlie Gillet's description of "Tipitina" pertains to Dr. John in general: "You will be able to sit through the peculiar napping voice... you'll be rewarded by some of the richly piano playing you've ever heard, with more rhythm suggested and hinted at than is possible in so little"

Lee Hallock, an FTU student working for Cosmic Productions, was influential in helping police deal with an angry crowd of gate-crashers in the rain Sunday night. He could be seen pleading with the crashers and moving constantly along the fence-line in attempts to ease the situation.

Rick Namey said Sunday night's attendance of 11,000, which would set a new record for paid audiences at a rock concert in Orlando. The Orlando Sentinel estimated the crowd at 9,000 and Hallock put the crowd at 7,800.

"Step Gordon (Alice Cooper's manager) did everything he could to make the concert disorganized," Hallock commented. He added that "Cosmic Productions is still alive."

Ten thousand fans came to see Alice Cooper on Monday afternoon. The "sore show" was obviously nothing and nobody had little effect on the crowd. Performing special effects in the daytime was impossible.

Due to the daytime condition, Cooper may have written "I'm off as a "summer." His band and his vocal performance lacked spark and the dress," which was expected from a group in the Rolling Stones tradition.

Included in the performance were two older songs, "Eighteen" and "What Was I Gonna Do?" from his latest gold album "Killer." Alice song "You Drive Me Nervous," "Yeah, Yeah, Yeah," "Dead Babies" and "Killer."

"It might be the "high" point of the concert was the song "Halo of Flies," Alice and his boys were musical from time to time that number. Lester Bangs of "Rolling Stone" described the strange beginning of "Halo of Flies..." The song begins with an effectively monochromatic mood fluctuation and a series of circumstantial guitar solos."

The city of Orlando voted this week to close the Tangerine Bowl to future rock concerts.

Carlin To Appear At Stadium Show

George Carlin will be master of ceremonies for tonight's performances of the Mahavishnu Orchestra and Todd Rungren at the Orlando Sports Stadium. Tickets are available for the Sunshine Productions concert at Infinite Mushroom, Obsession IV, Steppin's Ticket Office and the Sports Stadium box office, for $4.

John McLaughlin, lead performer for the Mahavishnu Orchestra, is a young jazz veteran who has played with Miles Davis and Tony Williams. Mahavishnu received a standing ovation in their Carnegie Hall engagement. "Next week" titled as a "musical milestone."

At a recent concert, performance "Variety" observed: "McLaughlin was a standout on bottle-neck electric guitar with his usual abashed work coming on the G-string sections." The group is composed of violinist Jerry Goodman, drummer Bobby Cobham Jr., Jan Hammer on the electric guitar and bass guitarist Rick Laird.

Todd Rungren is the author of the easy rock song on the radio, "Me Saw the Light," "Rolling Stone" rock music reviewer Joe Landau did not think that Rungren lived up to his potential in his latest album "Something/Anything." "Like his lyrics, his music always reflects something very immediate about the author's emotional state and attempts to conceal it in this case, behind a maze of production Intricacies." George Carlin has appeared on the Flip Wilson Show and the Johnny Carson late-night television programs. He employs in this performance offbeat slant and a free-wheeling vocabulary. George Carlin's catchphrases on his album "FM & AM" are drugs, birth control, sex in commercial, disc jockeys and the "Conversation Game."

Cosmic Productions will attempt another concert Sunday at the Tangerine Bowl if the city allows. Two groups have little appeal to Brown's opinion that approval of Student Senate Bill 4-48 would require us to abrogate certain responsibilities for the Mahavishnu held accountable, and this would constitute a breach of the responsibilities of my office."

A new amendment was introduced in the bill 4-134 and may pass the state Senate 18 with this change: "If said legislation is not acted on by the vice president for student affairs within three weeks after passage, the bill shall be considered vetoed," Brown signed it last week.

"All we did was reverse the wording," said President Steve Abraham. It was the only vote and few notes and, added: "I have been asked by the administration to accomplish what we wanted to do. At least now there is a chance that a bill will sit for weeks and weeks without action."

For the second year in a row, Mr. Salemo, one of the nation's best in the unlimited division of the Olympic trials, will travel to Minnesota this summer to earn the opportunity to compete for the ATO Drubs TIE In Water Polo

Alpha Tau Omega captured the men's water polo intramural championship Tuesday, defeating Tau Kappa Epsilon 4-2 in the campus swimming pool.

Paul Heindricks pushed over the three goals to lead the winners in the victory.

In the women's finals in water polo, the Intramortals tangled with the Tutes for the title. However, because of deadlines, the results were not available at press time.

There are still plenty of intramural sports coming up this summer. On June 26 final entries for the coed softball will be taken. Play will begin three days later. On the same date (June 28 and 29) men and women's tennis singles tournaments will begin.

The July schedule includes coed volleyball, men's handball men and women's three-man basketball leagues.

FTU students will be eligible to play coed water polo (inner tubes will be used), men's racquetball and men's and women's golf.

Tim Gillis To Be Wed On July 15

Tim Gillis, infielder for the FTU baseball team this past season, has always felt very close to sports and those who play sports. So physical attraction, he has invited all FTU students to his wedding, and to join in the festivities.

Gillis will be married July 15 at the First Baptist Church of Pahokee.

The wedding is scheduled to begin at 3 p.m.
