Tenenses poet and creative writing teacher Malcolm Glass recently read some of his works to English and education classes and talked about increasing productivity in writing. Glass is currently on a leave of absence from his teaching position.

NEW STYLE FOR LIBRARY PROVES WORTH

The new data collection unit of the FTU library which was installed spring quarter has proven to be accurate and cheaper than the manual entry used before the installation. According to John C. Sandefur, assistant director of university libraries, only one problem has arisen with the machine.

"Some of the ID cards aren't holding up," he said. A different vendor, which is more stable with this difficulty, he said, Sandefur added that students with damaged identification cards could still check out books. However, there are more efficient, keeping a record of each book checked out, the name of persons checking books, and the day the books are due back in the library. Expenses have been cut well, Sandefur said, because the machine is more effective, people, and people didn't like doing the jobs now performed by the unit.

CAMPUS GLANCES

HOLIDAY

There will be no classes on Monday, July 3, according to the vice president for academic affairs.

Dr. C. G. Gambrell

There will be class on Monday, July 3, however, and classes will resume on July 5, after the break.

SNEA-FEA

The Student National Education Association-Florida Education Association (SNEA-FEA) will have its meeting Thursday, July 6, at 5:30 p.m. in GC 115. All members should be in attendance, according to Sally Weatherby, member of the executive committee.

BULLETIN ADDITION

The newly revised Environmental Studies Program is explained in an addition to the University Bulletin, and is now available at the admissions office in the Admissions Building.

The program does not include the previously required senior seminar, which was abolished in accordance with many requests. The new addition, however, does contain one omission. Under the social science category, in Section B, "one of the courses should be Communication 100, for three hour credit.

ERROR

The FTU bookstore was closed Wednesday and Thursday of this week for inventory. Through the overnight announcement, the closing was not made in the Futu're in advance. The Futu're regrets this error.

VC MOVIES

"World Without Sun," a Jacques Cousteau movie, will be showing Wednesday, at 8:30 p.m. on the Village Center Patio, Admission is free.

CORRECTION

A headline in the June 16 issue of the Future erroneously reported that Doug Holmquist would be head coach of FTU basketball. The headline should have read that Holmquist would coach varsity baseball.

SG LEGAL BILL DIES WITH 71-72 BUDGET

During its first meeting of the summer session, the Student Government Senate voted unanimously to override an administrative veto of a bill intended to provide legal council for Student Government use.

Legal work intended to clear the way for the eventual selling of alcoholic beverages on campus is now progressing rapidly. The work was initiated in early February when Student Government passed a resolution calling for the reversal of the present university policy prohibiting the possession or consumption of alcoholic beverages on campus.

Presently there is no Board of Regents rule which prohibits alcohol on campus, and there are several other campuses in the State University System which permit their students to consume intoxicating drinks.

The office of student affairs has requested Dr. John D. Mahaffey, the university attorney, to research the legal complications involved in the reversal of the present university policy and the requisite steps needed to be met in order to obtain a state license for the sale of liquor.

Mahaffey has found that there is an Orange County ordinance stating that alcoholic beverages may not be sold within 1,000 feet of an established school, and that in order to avoid interpretation of FTU as an established school, he is seeking a zoning variance from the Orange County Planning and Zoning Board.

SG President Steven Adamick said that a facility for the beer bus will be located in the vicinity of the Village Center, if and when all the legal complications are solved and a license is procured. He said he hopes that the sale and consumption of beer and wine will become a reality here by fall quarter.

The bill, which calls for a assessment of approximately $2,000, was approved by the senate on the last day of former President Frank Santry's administration, and was vetoed two weeks later by Vice President for Student Affairs W. Rex Brown.

Brown stated that SG does not have the responsibility of proposing legal action against any agency or organization, and that this responsibility lies in the hands of appropriate university offices in consultation with the general legal counsel. Brown added, "Professor (John) Mahaffey (the university's attorney) has advised that the Florida Board of Regents is the correct body to institute a legal suit."

Previous SG officers have arranged with the Office of Student Affairs for the services of Mahaffey as a legal consultant for SG. However, Vice President Brown has stated that Mahaffey's services as a legal consultant are not extended to the general student population.

SG President Steve Adamick replied to Beecol's statement, saying that SG wishes to remedy this situation by eventually forming a legal counseling service open to all FTU students. However, to clear away any red tape involved, he will maintain it will require the services of a lawyer capable of devoting sufficient time to the activity.

Adamick said he feels that hiring legal counsel is required by the nature of the legal complications involved in forming a legal service.

Tuition Hike Rumor Quizzed By Regent

Tuition increase in tuition was quizzed last week by Board of Regents member, Dr. Louis Murray, during his visit to campus. Dr. Murray and Mrs. E. D. Taylor are members of the "Regent-A-Month" program initiated by the board last year.

"We feel that very possibly the tuition increase is justified," said Murray, "$190 per quarter." Murray said tuition has to be tied to the amount of money required to maintain the university, and since the legislature is not presently in session and will not be before fall quarter, tuition is not likely to increase before then. Murray also said that he doesn't know if the legislature increase tuition, and have no immediate plans to do so.

"Tuition will probably go up during the next legislative session," he said, "but this is a guess because no one can second-guess the legislature."
LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

Time, O Time.

We are in the midst of an interesting era of nostalgia. After the advent of the unpleasant '60s, filled with unpopular wars, riots, bombings and all manner of social ills, it seems almost natural to turn back to what we remember as the more peaceful days for our success.

America has worked herself into a frenzy. Today we accept the fact that politicians must be crooked to be effective, and we must own our souls to someone to be happy. We commune quickly, we eat quickly, we work hard, we play hard and we eat little.

This issue we have devoted several pages to a simple photographic essay by Jon Findell and Bill Ferry. The work of these two artists features America's '50s in the '70s. Oviedo, in its simple beauty, is quickly being overwhelmed upon by the force that is the university and its program. Subdivisions, shopping centers and hamburger joints seem to be becoming the new Oviedo.

But it is to the other Oviedo, the quiet, distant, peaceful Oviedo, like so many other small American towns, without the benefit of running water, gas, electricity, street lights on every corner, or more than a two-man police force, that we devote this special insert. Part of that Oviedo is already gone. The rest is soon to follow. So dies a town, as she begins to live.

A Matter Of Opinion

By Gabriel Yanni

Every step toward further liberalization and involvement in matters personal, as presented in other campus publications seems to ushur against the will of the "higher authority." This campus is dreary, and it appears the administration would like it to remain so.

In its striving for better student representation and wider fulfillment of its allocated role, Student Government proposed a bill that would establish a six-member advisory body with functional counseling. Such a bill would have had a great impact on the community life of this campus, and would have entrusted our representatives with more authority to protect our rights and their responsibilities.

But now, a higher authority has decided otherwise. This campus does not need more than one source of legal counseling, and the one presently existing represents the university, SG can, if the occasion is presented with due respect to the time of the university's legal consultant, seek advice from such an office, but the student population cannot. In other words, the students should clear their own mess, and let the university rest in peace to dwell among its own problems and fantasies.

Under the legal counseling bill, Student Government would have had its own source of legal advice, unbiased by what serves the needs of the "administrative clique." Such legal advice would also have served for the study of future students' rights legislation, and with such an adequate legal knowledge, the SG could have avoided the funny boogies emitted every so often from "superiors." Students would have been legally protected and immune to the blind justice that falls down from time to time.

Free counseling for students would have permitted us to avoid the abuses of complicated laws, and with a better understanding of such will, a higher authority has decided otherwise.

CANOE EQUIPMENT

Equipment for the canoes on Lake Claire are now available at the P.E. Building. SG Vice President Lee Constantine said this week.

Paddles, life cushions and keys to unlock the canoes may be checked out for two hours between 10 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. No charge is required, only presentation of an I.D. identification card which will be kept until equipment is returned at the lake on weekends from 2 to 6 p.m.

JAM SESSION

War Zone, a recently formed rock band, will have a jam session tonight from 7 to midnight at the Student Union. All students, faculty and staff are welcome, and admission is free.

Ray Charles To Sing

By Mike Criles

Ray Charles, often considered the "father of soul music," will perform tomorrow night at the Orlando Sports Stadium. Tickets for the 8 p.m. show are available at the Stadium box office for $3, $4 or $5.

Many critics, while recognizing his earlier contributions, have felt that Charles has decreased in effectiveness since leaving Atlantic Records in 1961. His faded ring in country and western music has been considered testimony to this evaluation. A change leveled at him has been that he has lost sight and progressed beyond the sound that made him famous.

With the June release of his latest album, "A Message From the People," Ray Charles appears to be advancing in a new direction. As a professional, he will rely predominantly on his new material in concert tomorrow night. This album represents the most excitingly original music he has recorded in 10 years.

Jon Landau, a record reviewer for the "Rolling Stone," wrote in a review that "Charles is advancing in a new direction, and professional, he will rely predominantly on his new material in concert tomorrow night. This album represents the most excitingly original music he has recorded in 10 years."

"Yesterday," only one other musician has done the song with distinction: Ray Charles. The changes that he made in his tunes on their new album are remarkable. A few of the songs he may reinterpret tomorrow night are: "What They've Done to My Song," "Abraham, Martin and John," and "I Can't Help Myself."

Ray Charles will surprise anyone who has forgotten him. His followers will be at the concert, and I would suggest that anyone even slightly touched by Charles should attend the performance.

Wrestling Lessons Offered By Gergley

If you like wrestling—yet never had the opportunity to learn the finer points of the sport—you now have the chance to get professional instruction from FTU coach Gary Gergley and his staff at the FTU summer wrestling camp.

The sessions, which began this week, will be held Tuesdays and Thursdays, 7 p.m., through August 17 (with the exception of Tuesday, July 4). The camp, held in the FTU Wrestling Dome (behind the pool) is open to all males, regardless of age. No prior experience is necessary.

Gergley, assistant coaches John Ellis and John House, as well as members of the varsity Knight squad will teach all aspects of wrestling—takedown, escapes, reversals, pins and counter.

Although the sessions have already begun, registration will continue through next week. Registration fee is $10 and covers insurance.

HOORIASCOPE

By John the Good, Resident Seer

For August 19, 1714

IF YOU WERE BORN:

This afternoon you will find out that you have been getting your name wrong. Also you have been parting your hair on the wrong side. That’s why it never looks good. The final crushing blow will come early in the evening when you find that you have been using the wrong hand for your entire life, and you’re color-blind.

LIBRA:

Some stacked mama from out of town is gonna give you a real good offer tonight. Take it. It may be the last one this quarter.

THE REST OF THE WORLD:

I owe Libra that, I trust you understand. In fact, I don’t care if you understand or not. Tough, break, kid.

Love and Kisses,
