INSIDE DISNEYLAND

Like Alice stepping Through the Looking Glass, to step through the portals of DISNEYLAND will be like entering another world. Within a few steps the visitor will find himself in a small mid-Western town at the turn of the century.

THE RAILROAD STATION, situated at the main entrance to DISNEYLAND, is recommended as a starting point for the visitor. Here, you may board a 1/3 scale train pulled by a 12 ton steam engine, six feet high.

THE RAILROAD TRAIN, with its beautifully appointed coaches, takes you on a skyline tour around DISNEYLAND, where you will see from your window MAIN STREET, TRUE LIFE ADVENTURELAND, The WORLD OF TOMORROW, LILLIPUTIAN LAND, FANTASY LAND, RECREATION PARK, FRONTIER COUNTRY, TREASURE ISLAND, the home of the MICKEY MOUSE CLUB, and HOLIDAYLAND and back to CIVIC CENTER.

At the start of Main Street is CIVIC CENTER, with its Town Hall, Fire Station, Police Station and the old Opera House, which houses the broadcasting theatre for the WALT DISNEY TELEVISION SHOW. From Civic Center you can take a horse-drawn street car up Main Street or hire a surrey and driver.

MAIN STREET

MAIN STREET has the nostalgic quality that makes it everybody's hometown. It is Main Street, U.S.A. Three blocks long, it is the main shopping district of DISNEYLAND. It has a bank and a newspaper office, and the little ice cream parlor with the marble-topped tables and wire-backed chairs. There is a penny arcade and a Nickelodeon where you can see old time movies.

On the corner is the great DISNEYLAND EMPORIUM where you can buy almost anything and everything unusual. Clothes, cowboy boots, toys, records, books, ceramics, old fashioned candies, jaw-breakers and licorice whips. Toys from all over the world. Gifts for the person who has 'everything'. Or you can get the big mail-order catalogue and purchase by mail.

The MAIL-ORDER CATALOGUE will picture everything for sale in the Emporium or at any place in DISNEYLAND. If you want a real pony and cart or a miniature donkey thirty inches high you'll find it in the catalogue. Or if you want the latest Disney book or toy you can order by mail and the gift will arrive wrapped in a special Disneyland paper, bearing the postmark DISNEYLAND, CALIFORNIA - direct from the Disneyland U.S. Post Office.
You'll find quaint little restaurants on Main Street with family style cooking, and a bakery shop where Johnny can watch the baker write his name in icing on his birthday cake. Down one of the side streets is The Little Church Around the Corner. Nearby you will see the Mayor's House... a boarding house for guests and a Little Old Red School House... Continuing along Main Street past the intriguing shops, you arrive at the Hub.

THE HUB

THE HUB is the cross roads of the world of DISNEYLAND. Straight ahead lies FANTASY LAND, to your left is FRONTIER COUNTRY, The World of Yesterday - end to your right is The WORLD OF TOMORROW. But between these central spokes of the wheel are other exciting avenues of adventure.

TRUE-LIFE ADVENTURELAND

TRUE-LIFE ADVENTURELAND is entered through a beautiful botanical garden of tropical flora and fauna. Here you can see magnificently plumed birds and fantastic fish from all over the world, and which may be purchased and shipped anywhere in the U.S. if you so desire.

If you wish refreshments that are in keeping with your surroundings, there are fresh pineapple sticks, crisp coconuts meats and exotic fruit punches made from fresh tropical fruits.

A river borders the edge of TRUE-LIFE ADVENTURELAND, where you embark in a colorful Explorer's Boat with a native guide for a cruise down the River of Romance. As you glide through the Everglades, past birds and animals living in their natural habitat...alligators lurk along the banks, and otters and turtles play in the water about you. Monkeys chatter in the orchid-flowered trees.

THE WORLD OF TOMORROW

This is the home of the exciting WORLD OF TOMORROW TELEVISION SHOW.

A MOVING SIDEWALK carries you effortlessly into the World of Tomorrow where the fascinating exhibits of the miracles of science and industry are displayed. The theme for the World of Tomorrow is the factual and scientific exposition of Things to Come.
Participating in this are the Industries such as: Transportation, Rubber, Steel, Chemical, Electrical, Oil, Mining, Agriculture and Foods.

Among the exhibits, that will change from time to time, are The Mechanical Brain...A Diving Bell...Monorail Train...The Little Parkway system where children drive scale model motor cars over a modern freeway...Models of an atomic submarine, a Flying Saucer...The Magic House of Tomorrow, with mechanical features that obey the command of your voice like a Genie. You say 'Please' and the door opens, a polite 'Thank you' will close it.

There are shops for the scientific toys, chemical sets and model kits. Here the imaginative boy will find a space helmet to suit his needs for inter-planetary travel.

And if you are hungry, conveyor-belts will carry your food through the electronic cooking device of Tomorrow where you will see it cooked instantly to your liking.

When you enter the gigantic ROCKET SPACE SHIP to the Moon, and are safety-belted to your seat, the trip through 'space' will be scientifically correct. The roaring ride through the universe will depict the exploding stars, constellations, planets and comets exactly as charted, and be no less thrilling for being authentic.

LILLIPUTIAN LAND

A Land of Little Things.... A miniature Americana village inhabited by mechanical people nine inches high who sing and dance and talk to you as you peek through the windows of their tiny shops and homes.

In LILLIPUTIAN LAND there is an Erie Canal barge that takes you through the famous canals of the world, where you visit the scenic wonders of the world in miniature.

Here, a little diamond-stack locomotive engine 17 inches high steams into the tiny railroad station. You sit on top of the Pullman coaches like Gulliver, and the little 9 inch engineer pulls back the throttle taking you on the biggest little-ride in the land.

And for the little people who have little appetites - you can get miniature ice-cream cones, or the world's smallest hot-dog on a tiny bun in LILLIPUTIAN LAND.
FANTASY LAND

FANTASY LAND is a wonderful land of fairy tales come true within the walls and grounds of a present medieval castle whose towers loom seventy feet in the air. In the middle of the Castle grounds stands a magnificent carousel in the theme of King Arthur and his Knights.

In this land of fantasy we find the settings from the fairy tales.

RIDE-THROUGH SNOW WHITE'S adventures in the Seven Dwarfs mining car... through the diamond mines - the enchanted forest - past the cottage of the Seven Dwarfs relating Snow White's adventures.

WALK-THROUGH the wonderful experiences of ALICE IN WONDERLAND, as the White Rabbit takes you down the rabbit-hole, through the maze of doors, the Rabbit's house, past The Singing Flowers, Dodo Rock, the Mad Hatter's Tea Party, climaxing in the courtroom of the Queen of Hearts.

FLY-THROUGH the air with PETER PAN, over London... past Big Ben clock... beyond the second star to the right for Never-Never Land. Fly over Captain Hook's ship... the Indian encampment... the Crocodile... Mermaid Lagoon... Through Skull Rock...

PINOCCHIO SQUARE... with Geppetto's clock shop... Stromboli's Puppet Show, a miniature traveling carnival....

RECREATION LAND

A Leisure Land - a shady park set aside for reservations by clubs, schools or other groups for picnics and special outings. A catering service supplies special foods or lunch-in-a-basket.

There is a little old-fashioned bandstand and a pavilion for dancing and entertainment and an area for games.

FRONTIER COUNTRY

...Where the STAGECOACH meets the TRAIN and the RIVERBOAT for its trip down the river to New Orleans.

Along FRONTIER STREET is a Harness Shop and a Blacksmith Shop, Livery Stable, Assayer's office, Sheriff's Office and the jail. You can get real western food at the Chuck Wagon, and cowboy clothes, six-shooters or a silver-mounted saddle for your horse or pony at the General Store.

There is a shooting gallery, the Wells Fargo Express office and an old fashioned saloon with the longest little bar in the world serving root-beer Western style.

Ride shotgun on the STAGE COACHES... past GRANNY'S FARM, a practical working farm operated with real live miniature horses, cows, oxen and donkeys... through the pine forest, fording streams into Indian country and through the Painted Desert.

Carry the mail on the PONY EXPRESS RIDE around the little track... and take a MULE PACK RIDE with an old prospector for a guide through the colorful mother-lode country of the pioneer days.

At the end of Frontier Street is the boatlanding for the RIVERBOAT RIDE. The old stern-wheeler takes you downstream on a nostalgic cruise past the romantic river towns, Tom Sawyer's birthplace, and the old Southern plantations.

MICKEY MOUSE CLUB

Mickey Mouse, the best known personality in the world has his MICKEY MOUSE CLUB headquarters in DISNEYLAND. Located on Treasure Island, in the middle of the river, a fantastic hollow tree and treehouse serves as the Club meeting place. The hollow tree is several stories high, with interesting rooms and lookout spots for club members. There is a Pirate cove and buried treasure on the Island... and direct from this location the Club presents THE MICKEY MOUSE CLUB TELEVISION SHOW.

HOLIDAY LAND

HOLIDAYLAND is a showplace of SPECIAL ATTRACTIONS that change with the seasons. Its theme is as current as the calendar. Its decorations, entertainment or exhibits follow the flowers in SPRING with the Flower Festival... the Mardi Gras and special Easter activities. Mother's Day... St. Valentine's Day... Poy Scout week...

SUMMER brings the Fourth of July... and Circus Time... with a Circus Parade down Main Street... and under the big top, a one-ring circus with special acts from all over the world.

FALL ushers in the Harvest Festival... Hallowe'en.... Girl Scout week... Thanksgiving...

And WINTER with its ice skating rink, sleigh rides and Bob-Sled Hill with real snow... and Christmas Tree Lane that leads to Santa's home at the North Pole.

DISNEYLAND will be the essence of America as we know it... the nostalgia of the past, with exciting glimpses into the future.

It will give meaning to the pleasure of the children --- and pleasure to the experience of adults....

It will focus a new interest upon Southern California through the mediums of television and other exploitation...

It will be a place for California to be at home, to bring its guests, to demonstrate its faith in the future...

And, mostly, as stated at the beginning - it will be a place for people to find happiness and knowledge.

The Purpose of this book is to ESTABLISH APPROVED TERMINOLOGY, FACTS, AND INFORMATION ABOUT DISNEYLAND, and is primarily designed for TRAINING PURPOSES.

At the opening of the Park, Walt Disney pointed out that Disneyland would never be completed, and the record certainly shows that it is a continually growing adventure, as is this booklet.

Walt Disney productions has been a multi-headed business since its inception in 1938 when several Disney enterprises, including comic strips, merchandising licensing and movie cartoon production, were consolidated.

Today, it is a myriad of integrated world-wide ventures, of which Disneyland is a small part. The chart and the following excerpts from an article in the January 4, 1958 issue of "The Wall Street Journal" will illustrate this point.

"The Disneys and their 1,500 employees are more than movie monguls, of course. They're television entertainers and educators, comic strip creators, master merchandisers and operators of Disneyland, a unique amusement park that vies with U. S. national parks in popularity. And somewhere along the line they've even gotten into such unlikely activities as orange growing and perfume making."

The article states further, "Integration is the key word around here; we don't do anything in one line without giving a thought to its likely profitability in our other lines, says Roy Disney.

To see what Roy means, consider "Sleeping Beauty", a cartoon epic currently in the WDP works. This 70-or-so-minute film already three years in the making, won't hit theatre screens until Christmas of 1958. But the fairy tale is already paying off for Disney.

For example, at Disneyland, basic artwork from the film has been transformed into colorfully-animated dioramas complete with trick photography to make them come "alive". Children and adults line up for the 10-minute walk through the "Sleeping Beauty" attraction.

Another Disney department, merchandising licensing, also has gone to work on Sleeping Beauty, lining up toy makers, garment producers and others interested in making articles based on Sleeping Beauty characters. Disney actually doesn't make any of this merchandise; but it will collect 5% in royalties from the wholesale price of each item, with a usual guaranteed minimum of $5,000 per year per product, or line, payable in advance."

To further illustrate our point, the article tells about Sleeping Beauty's build-up treatment on the publishing front with various versions pouring into the nation's bookstores, using Disney characters and artwork, and the plans for special adaptations of the story for TV viewing followed by WDP's phonograph record division spewing forth platters based on music from the film, and about six weeks before the movie is released, the Studio's comic strip artists will launch the Sleeping Beauty story in Disney's own syndicated newspaper cartoon strip, the widely circulated Treasury of Classic Tales.

THE WALT DISNEY ORGANIZATION
The article continues, "But Sleeping Beauty won't fade away after the movie's showing. The cycle will run through again in much the same fashion in country after country until nearly every moppet in the free world has had the chance of seeing the movie and buying a doll, reading a book, following a comic strip and hearing a tune based on Sleeping Beauty. Even then there will still be life - and profits - left in Sleeping Beauty. Seven years after her screen debut, Sleeping Beauty, in the form of a re-issued film, again will make the rounds of the world's Theaters.

Master negatives of Sleeping Beauty will be kept along with all other Disney films in a specially built, two story concrete "vault" at the Disney Studios. In this valuable vault inventory are some 17 cartoon features; 11 full-length live-action features; 4 full-length "true-life" pictures; and nearly 500 short subjects, mostly cartoons and travel pictures from Disney's People and Places series.

In addition to its theatrical features, Disney's yearly film output also includes about five cartoons and five shorts for its People and Places series. Then there's the output for television, which currently calls for 26 hour-long shows yearly for the weekly Disneyland program, 130 half-hour sequences for the daily Mickey Mouse Club program and 39 half-hour shows for the weekly Zorro adventure episodes. Disney produces and owns these programs. The shows are sold to ABC television network which in turn sells them to sponsors.

Walt Disney productions' 16mm rental division helped launch Disneyland park in 1955 and also, within the last decade, Disney has organized its own music division to publish sheet music and records, its own teen-age magazine to promote Disney activities and a parts-making department to supply and maintain Disneyland Park.

The use of one Disney product to exploit others reaches a high degree of efficiency in television. Seldom nowadays is a Disney theatrical product released without a substantial buildup on the Disneyland TV program. Television also has given a big boost to Disney's merchandise-licensing activities.

While nowhere near the income-developer of its TV sibling, WDP's music division also demonstrates the "team spirit" of Disney enterprises. Most of its tunes come straight from Disney films. In taking on non-Disney products, WDP's music subsidiary is pursuing the same strategy as another Disney offshoot, the Buena Vista Film Distributing Co., set up in 1954 to take over distribution of Disney movies in the U. S. from RKO Radio Pictures, Inc. Buena Vista will distribute several films made by independent producers, and music rights to most of these films will be reserved for the Disney music enterprises.
Disney activities are as globe-girdling as those of almost any U. S. industrial company. Its cartoon characters, for instance, are licensed in 31 nations. Disney also uses the built-in exploitation features of its products to boost profits of its foreign operations.

Disney characters have been put to work in educational films for a wide variety of companies and organizations, and even the government, in safety films and advertising, from auto painting to mattresses."

Our own Disneyland park brings in profits from fun-seekers who spend money on rides and admissions, food, drink and merchandise. Disneyland has even led WDP into growing oranges on property not yet used by the ever-expanding park and into brewing a perfume to be sold at the Art Corners.

"Disneyland collects advertising fees from about 65 companies who use the park to publicize their wares, and collects rent from those who lease space in the Park to sell their wares."
WALT DISNEY ORGANIZATION

DISNEYLAND, INC.

Disneyland is part of the Disney organization. Our headquarters are in Burbank, California; locally, Disneyland is operated by a committee called the Park Operations Committee which is made up of the Disneyland Division Directors. (See chart on next page.)

ABOUT DISNEYLAND PERSONNEL

1. From 1,500 to 3,500 Disneylanders working on 73 different payrolls, representing 106 crafts, trades and professions are employed in the Park.

   Summer (Peak Season) Approximately 3,500 including lessee personnel.

   Winter (Off Season) Approximately 1,500 including lessee personnel.

2. It takes a crew of over 300 men - carpenters, craftsmen, artists and artisans, painters, electricians, janitors and gardeners, to keep Disneyland spotless and in perfect operating order at all times.

3. 48 Security Officers and 6 Firemen are employed on a full-time basis at Disneyland with others on call to protect the Park, its employees and its guests.

ABOUT STUDIO PERSONNEL

In addition to the Disneyland, Inc. employees, you will probably run into many members of the Disney Team from the Walt Disney Studios. You will meet artists, designers, and other specialists who will be here on particular assignments.

Members of WED Enterprises, Inc. and Walt Disney Productions have done all of the creative and design work in Disneyland.

ABOUT LESSEES

The Disney Team is much larger than just the Disney organizations. In addition, we have over sixty-eight other firms playing a vital part in our team effort to bring happiness to our guests.

Some are small, specialized individual operators; some are huge companies such as Swift & Co. - the Bank of America - United Paramount Theaters (which you hear as UPT) - Carnation - Richfield - General Dynamics - Crane - and many others.
WALT DISNEY BIOGRAPHY

A creative genius who has the capacity to make his dreams come true, Walt Disney has made his biggest one a reality. He envisioned a Magic Kingdom of entertainment for people of all ages that would become a source of joy and inspiration to everyone who came to see it.

The result is Disneyland, a $30,000,000 wonderland in Anaheim, California, dedicated to happiness and knowledge—a land where fantasy and imagination are companions with history, and a concrete visualization of the future is not out of place. This wide range of imaginative reality is in keeping with the Disney scope of activities and is typical of the man himself.

When he came to Hollywood in 1923, Walt Disney's assets consisted of $40,000 in cash and a boundless imagination. He and his brother, Roy, a partner in all Walt's ventures, including Disneyland, managed to borrow enough money from an uncle to set up a cartoon studio back of a real estate office. Later—much later—he was dealing in millions to set up Disneyland, his grandest venture in public entertainment.

The creator of Mickey Mouse and founder of Disneyland was born in Chicago, Dec. 5, 1901. His father was Elias Disney, Irish-Canadian, and his mother, Flora Call Disney, was of German-American descent. He has three brothers and a sister. He went to public school in Chicago and Kansas City and attended art school in Chicago. He is married to the former Lillian Bounds of Idaho. They have two daughters—Diane Marie and Sharon Mae. Diane Marie is married to former S.C. football star, Ron Miller. The Millers are parents of a young son, Christopher Disney Miller, and two daughters, Joanna Sharon Miller, and Tamara Diane Miller. Sharon was married this year (1959) to Robert B. Brown, an interior designer.

Both Walt and his wife enjoy moving pictures and in his Holmby Hills home he has complete projection equipment and runs pictures three and four nights a week.

Walt is also one of the nation's most ardent railroading fans. His interest in this diversion ranges from miniature equipment to scale model operation on track laid around his Holmby Hills estate. Railroading elements often are incorporated in his pictures, and three 5/8 scale locomotives, pulling six cars each, are in daily operation at Disneyland as the Santa Fe & Disneyland Railroad. The third train, an excursion special, has been added to take visitors through Disneyland's 306-feet long diorama of the Grand Canyon.

In business, Walter Elias Disney has been a life-long partner with his elder brother, Roy, President of Walt Disney Productions.
When the Disney brothers first set up shop, Walt's proficiency as an artist and self-taught animator was the basis of the undertaking - the founding of an institution which today is housed in a multi-million dollar studio in Burbank, California.

Plans for Walt's 160 acre "Magic Kingdom" in Anaheim, California, first appeared on paper as far back as 1932.

The opening of this wonderland on July 18, 1955, marked the pinnacle of a life-long dream for its creator. He has described it as "a fabulous playground --- something of a fair, a city from the Arabian Nights, a metropolis of the future, a show place of magic and loving facts, but above all, a place for people to find happiness and knowledge."
DISNEYLAND
PARTICULARS
PLANNING

In Early planning stages of Disneyland, it was necessary to make a complete study in order that decisions on location could be made.

1. It was decided that it should be near Los Angeles, but just where or how near was decided after extensive study and research.

2. Some of the many things taken into consideration were:
   a. Population trends, freeway patterns, environmental characteristics (such as, summer and winter temperatures, smog, etc.), zoning, and tax rates.
   b. Land was disqualified in which there was: Intensive improvement and build-up, producing oil wells, and oil leases, poor topographic features, municipal parks, golf courses, airports and land under government control.
   c. Available blocks of land had to meet severe criteria: of size, desirability of neighborhood, price, utilities availability, topography and accessibility.

3. Finally, Disneyland management purchased the tract that ranked first, 160 acres near Anaheim, adjoining the Santa Ana Freeway, about twenty minutes driving time from metropolitan Los Angeles.

NOTE: Additional purchases of land have been made since 1954, and some adjacent land is leased by Disneyland, Inc.

DESIGN AND MOTIF

Disneyland was designed by WED Enterprises, Inc. under the personal supervision of Walt Disney.

Disneyland is so designed that an actual walking distance of one-and-one-quarter (1½) miles takes you through the park.

Each of the (5) realms of Disneyland have been designed with a motif of the era which it represents.

1. Town Square & Main Street U.S.A.
   A re-creation of a small American town at the turn of the century, approximately 1910.
   The Plaza - At the end of Main Street is a hub, or plaza, from which all lands evolve.
Design and Motif (Cont'd)

2. Adventureland

The motif is that of the tropical regions of the world with jungle rivers and bazaars.

3. Frontierland

The period is approximately 1790 to 1876 and represents America's frontiers, from Revolutionary days to the great Southwest settlement. Frontierland includes 8 areas, or eras of American history:

- Stockade Area - Entrance Stockade is composite design of 1790 log stockade.

  All logging material was brought from Lake Arrowhead and assembled by Oregon loggers.

- Rainbow Caverns Area - The Town is built in miniature with forced perspective on the side of Rainbow Mountain, and is designed with the flavor of a mining town of the Mother-lode country of the period.

- Mexican Area - Is designed with the motif of the Southwest of over 100 years ago.

- New Orleans Area - The motif is that of New Orleans of the period up to the Civil War.

- Tom Sawyer's Island - A romantic interpretation of the Tom Sawyer story

- Magnolia Park - Consists of a shaded area with a bandstand and seats much like that of towns of that period

- Fowler's Harbor - Represents a shanty town that may have been found on the Rivers of America during this period. It is the site of the building of both the Mark Twain and the Columbia, and is named for Rear Admiral, Joe Fowler, USN, Ret., who was in charge of the construction.

- Indian Village - Is a composite of an American Indian encampment on the Western plains of over 100 years ago.
DISNEYLAND PARTICULARS

DESIGN AND MOTIF (Cont'd)

4. Fantasyland

The time of Fantasyland is Storybook Time - from the days of King Arthur practically up to the present.

5. Tomorrowland

The period is in the year 1986. This is the year when Halley's Comet is due to return.

A giant TIMEX clock gives world time, and is a landmark at the entrance to the land.

CONSTRUCTION

1. Scale

The only thing in Disneyland that is built on the 5/8 scale is the Santa Fe & Disneyland Railroad. It is pretty well assumed, however, that the entire Park is built on a 5/8 scale - but this is NOT TRUE. For instance:

a. The lower buildings are about 9/10ths, second floor is 8/10ths, and third floor is about 7/10ths.

b. The Mark Twain River boat is an authentic scale of the old Mark Twain Riverboat.

c. The Autopia cars are 5/8 scale version of the modern sports car.

2. Original Construction

Original construction was begun July 17, 1954 - completed July 17, 1955.

a. Cost - $17,000,000

b. Attractions - 22 major attractions

3. Additional Construction

Walt Disney has said, "Disneyland will never be completed," and each year since 1955, new attractions have been added.

a. Cost to Date - Over $30,000,000

b. Attractions - 47 major attractions in 1959
CONSTRUCTION (Cont'd)

4. The Berm

Disneyland is encircled by an earth wall called, the "Berm."

Walt Disney's purpose is to make Disneyland a place separate from the world of today.

5. What Things Are Made At The Studio?

a. All animals, animated and non-animated
b. Super-Structure of the Mark Twain
c. All vehicles: Stage Coaches, Buckboards, Surreys, Horse-drawn Streetcars, etc.
d. All railroad cars and re-building of engines.
e. All art work, posters, etc.
f. Dark rides are made and tested at the Studio.

6. Lighting Fixtures

a. All fixtures are placed in correct motif.
b. Many are authentic antiques. (Main Street gas lights were taken from actual use from Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Los Angeles.)
ACREAGE

1. Amusement Area
   Covers sixty-five (65) acres

2. Holidayland
   Covers nine (9) acres

3. Parking Lot
   Covers one-hundred-five (105) acres
   Has capacity of 9,000 cars, 50 buses and one helicopter at one time.
   Is the largest in Orange County and one of the largest in the country.

4. Pony Farm
   Covers ten (10) acres

5. Nursery
   Covers a little over two (2) acres

6. Additional Acreage
   a. In Citrus - a total of 65 acres (all but 20 acres are owned by Disneyland)
   b. Unused - 5 acres owned by Disneyland - 20 acres leased by Disneyland

ENTRANCES

1. Main Gate and Ticket Booths
   a. There is only one Guest Entrance - it is located at the South end of the Park, facing the Parking Lot.
   b. Security Gate (Main Entrance)
   c. Pass-out exits (Main Entrance) are situated at the East & West sides of the Main Entrance - Guests may have their hands stamped for re-entry.

2. Service Entrances

PETRIFIED TREE

from the Pike Petrified Forest, Colorado Diameter 7 ft 6 inches
Weight 5 tons
Estimated height of original tree 200 ft.

55 to 70 million years ago this huge petrified tree was part of a sub-tropical forest in what is now Colorado — said by scientists to have been of the redwood or sequoia species.

During some prehistoric era, a cataclysmic upheaval caused silica-laden water to overspread the living forest — wood cells were changed during the course of time to sandstone — opals were formed within the tree itself.

FLAGS

There are many flags flown in Disneyland - atop buildings, flag poles and many of Disneyland's boats. There are American flags of today and flags of our nation's historical growth, and flags of other countries. There are also Mickey Mouse flags and the official Disneyland flag.

There are only two (2) 49-star flags in Disneyland:

1. Center of Town Square - Retreat is observed at sun-down every day the park is open. Music is provided by the Disneyland Band.

2. Center of the Court of Honor at the entrance to Tomorrowland.

1. Main Street

   All flags on Main Street have 45 stars in keeping with the turn-of-the-century era. Located atop:

   a. Main Street Santa Fe & Disneyland Railroad Station
   b. City Hall
   c. Emporium
   d. Swift's Market
   e. Carefree Corner

2. Adventureland

DISNEYLAND FLEET

Heading the Disneyland Fleet of over 90 ships, boats and submarines, is Rear Admiral Joe Fowler, USN (Ret.), Vice President of Disneyland, and Director of Construction and Maintenance Division.

All ships and boats in Disneyland EXCEPT the Motor Boats, which are guided through a controlled channel, and the Keel boats, war Canoes, and Tom Sawyer Rafts are operated on guide rails.

On one day in the month of August, 1958, Disneyland's visitors took a total of 5,600 boat trips on the Park's nine (9) water rides.

1. Columbia

Official dedication - June 14, 1958

Is a 3-masted, full-rigged sailing vessel, and with the exception of a few necessary deviations, the ship has been copied after the original armed merchant vessel, "Columbia" which was the first sailing vessel carrying the United States flag to circumnavigate the globe.

The original "Columbia" was constructed in Plymouth, Massachusetts in 1787, and was owned and operated by New England Merchants.

a. Powered by submarine batteries and operates alternately with the Mark Twain Steam Boat on a guide rail 2,450 ft. long on the Rivers of America.

b. Capacity 275 passengers

c. Design

1) Original blueprints designed by Raymond E. Wallace of Palos Verdes. Research from the book "Voyages of the Columbia" and a 1½" steel engraving of the ship were the basis of his blueprints.

d. Construction

1) HULL was built by Todd Shipyards; MAINMAST required special lathe and was made by Cliff Wavel; BLOCKS, DEAD-EYES, and OTHER SPECIAL RIGGING was made by Bagby's Wire Rope & Splicing Service.

2) Completion of Ship's carpentry, assembly and painting was done at the park by Disneyland personnel under the direction of Joe Fowler (In Fowler's Harbor - Frontierland)

3) Dimensions - Overall 92 Ft.; Bowsprit 45 Ft.; Mainmast 84 Ft.; Beam 26 Ft. 6 Inches.

2. Mark Twain Steamboat

Launched on July 17, 1955

Is an authentic reproduction (1/4 SCALE) of the old Mark Twain River Boat which operated on the Mississippi River.

a. Powered by twin steam engines which operate stern wheel (the boiler uses diesel fuel), and operates alternately with the Columbia on a guide rail 2,450 Ft. long on the Rivers of America.

b. Capacity 300 to 350 passengers

c. Construction

1) SUPERSTRUCTURE was built at Walt Disney Studios; Hull was built at Todd Shipyards; Entire boat was assembled and completed at Disneyland under the direction of Joe Fowler (In Fowler's Harbor - Frontierland)

2) Dimensions - Overall length 105 ft.; Height (Keel to Pilot House) 28 ft.; Draft 2 ft. 3 inches; Beam 26 ft. 6 inches; Displacement 125 tons.

DISNEYLAND WATERWAYS

Disneyland has nine (9) water rides operating on six (6) man-made rivers and lagoons (including Glacier Lakes on the Matterhorn). All of the various rivers and waterways except two are joined together forming a continuous flowing gravitational water system. The high point of the system is in Fantasyland and the low point is in the Rivers of America in Frontierland. From Frontierland the water is pumped underground back up to Fantasyland. The two exceptions are the Submarine voyage and Matterhorn Mountain water systems. They are independent circulating filtered water systems with an operation similar to a swimming pool. These waterways represent a total of over 22,000,000 gallons of water.

1. Jungle Rivers (Adventureland)

   Operating on this waterway are ten (10) Jungle River explorer's boats

   a. The waterway represents the tropical jungle rivers of the world and includes rapids and a huge water fall (Schweitzer Falls).

   b. Is landscaped with dense tropical plantings and "populated" with animated jungle animals and natives; crocodiles; Hippos; Water Buffalos; a Python; a Gorilla; and Elephant; A Giraffe; Lion, and Head Hunters.

   c. Sound effects - are tape recordings of actual sounds (Twenty-four in all)

   d. Dimensions - length 1,640 ft.; Depth 5 ft.; Width Average 30 ft.

   e. Contains 3,000,000 gallons of water, and has gunite bottom.

   f. Maintenance - Is periodically drained and cleaned

   Defrosters set on rafts in the "Jungle" are necessary during winter nights in order to protect the River's tender tropical plantings.

   Maintenance of the under-water animated animals requires regular inspection and repair by Disneyland "frogmen."

2. Rivers of America (Frontierland)

Operating on this waterway are five (5) water rides (The Mark Twain and the Columbia, 2 Keel Boats, 4 Rafts, and 6 War Canoes). It is the busiest waterway in Disneyland.

a. The waterway represents the Mississippi and the Missouri Rivers of the 1840's and circles Tom Sawyer's Island.

b. Is landscaped with trees and shrubs typical of the Mississippi River region and includes a typical old shanty town at Fowler's Harbor which marks the spot where both the Columbia and the Mark Twain were built, and serves as dry dock for the two craft.

c. Dimensions - length is short of one mile; depth is 5 ft.; width 100 ft. average.

d. Is stocked with small fish - Glue Gills, Perch, etc.

e. Contains 9,000,000 gallons of water, and has clay bottom.

f. Maintenance - requires periodic draining to be cleaned.

3. Storybookland Canal (Fantasyland)

Operating on this waterway are twelve (12) storybookland Canal boats.

a. The waterway takes you through a land of make-believe in miniature, representing in detail, stories from Walt's full length cartoon hits, and each setting has appropriate musical background (on tape)

b. Is landscaped in the same scale as the settings (1 inch to the ft.)

c. Dimensions - length 1,000 ft.; Width 25 ft.; Depth 4 ft.

d. Contains 1,000,000 gallons of water, and is gunite bottom.

e. Maintenance - requires periodic cleaning.

4. Motor Boat Waterway (Fantasyland)

Operating on this waterway are forty (40) motor boats.

a. The waterway consists of a series of rapids and rough water containing many huge boulders.

b. Dimensions - Length 1,800 ft.; Width 30 ft.; Depth 4 ft.

c. Contains 1,000,000 gallons of water and is gunite bottom.

d. Maintenance - requires periodic cleaning.

5. Submarine Lagoon (Tomorrowland)

Operating in this waterway are 8 submarines which operate on a guide rail 1,500 ft. long.

a. The waterway consists of a lagoon which connects with an "underground" river and is entered through a huge waterfall.

b. The "Underground" river is actually a steel and concrete building covered with earth and landscaped. The building contains specially built undersea life and ruins such as:

1) Sunken ships and animated salvage divers.

2) Animated moray eel, squid, rare deep water fish, a sea serpent and a mermaid.

3) An underwater earthquake and "firery" lava in the lost Continent of Atlantis.

c. Dimensions - (Lagoon): Length 750 ft.; Width 140 ft.; Depth 10 ft.

d. Dimensions - (Underground River): Length 800 ft.; Depth 10 ft.; Width 70 ft.

e. Contains 9,000,000 gallons of filtered water and is completely gunited.

f. Water in Lagoon and Underground River is completely separate from all other waterways and is filtered so that all underwater scenes are clearly visible.

6. Matterhorn Waterway

There are four (4) water ways made up of Glacier lakes and water falls.

a. Contains 40,000 gallons of filtered water.

DISNEYLAND RAILWAYS

Enlarging a hobby that began as a table top "O" guage railway, progressing to a larger backyard plaything to four 15-ton operations is not a thing most men would attempt. With Walt Disney, however, it was the natural thing to do.

Walt Disney sometimes sits at the throttle of the E. P. Ripley to take the train on its trip around the Park.

Disneyland has four 5/8 scale steam locomotives operating on the Santa Fe and Disneyland tracks surrounding the Park, two sleek Monorail trains of the future, two Western Mining trains, and two Casey Jr. trains. Total footage of railroad track in Disneyland is 14,189 feet.

1. Santa Fe & Disneyland Railroad (Main Line)

WED Enterprises, Inc., a division of Walt Disney Productions, owns and operates all of the Santa Fe & Disneyland trains, and has about 70 "WED" payrollees working as engine crews and ticket sellers. Additional railroad crews and personnel are made up of Disneyland, Inc. personnel from our Operations Division.

The Santa Fe & Disneyland Main Line comprises a mile-and-one-quarter of 36 inch guage railroad and 9,000 feet of trackage (including sidings) circling the Park. The Railroad is operated according to a standard book of rules.

a. Locomotives

There are four (4) 5/8 scale, 15 ton, steam locomotives (1890-1910) in Disneyland's rolling stock.

#1-C.K. Holliday

Named for the founder of the Santa Fe Railroad.

Type - 4-4-0 (4 front wheels, 4 drivers, no trailing truck)

Construction

SKETCHES, PATTERNS and other DETAIL work was done at the Walt Disney Studios; FABRICATION (wheels, frames, boiler and other like parts) were constructed by outside contractors; Final ASSEMBLY at Disneyland by Round House crew (insulation on boiler, sand domes and steam domes); CAB and STACK were made at the Studio.

#3-Fred Gurley

Named for the Chairman of the Board of the Santa Fe Railroad in 1958.

Type - 2-4-4-T (2 front wheels, 4 drivers, 4 wheels on the trailing truck, and tender is part of the engine.

Construction

ENGINE is a rebuilt engine originally manufactured by the Baldwin Co. in 1894 for a New Orleans Plantation owner. Rebuilding was done under the direction of Roger Broggie.

Engine was located for Disneyland by Jerry Best, Vice President of the Railroad and Locomotive Historical Society, and had been hauling sugar cane on the Lafourete Raceland & Longport Railway in Louisiana.

#4-Ernest S. Marsh

Named for the President of Santa Fe Railroad (1959).

Type - 2-4-0 (2 front wheels, 4 drivers and no trailing truck.)

b. Trains

There are three (3) trains in Disneyland's rolling stock which are pulled by the four (4) engines.

1) Passenger Train

a) Is authentic reproduction of train of this era with the wooden type cars (steel under-frames for safety)

b) Capacity - 300

c) Is made up of the following:

- Wells Fargo Express & Baggage #101
- Navajo Chief #102
- Colorado Rockies #103
- Land of Pueblos #104
- Painted Desert #105
- Grand Canyon (observ. car) #106

2) Holiday Special

a) Is authentic reproduction of train of this era with wooden type cars (steel framing for safety)

b) Capacity - 300

c) Is made up of the following:

- 3 cattle cars #301, #302, #303
- 2 gondolas #401 and #402
- Caboose #501

d) Cars were designed by WED Enterprises, Inc. and constructed at WDP.
3) Excursion Train

a) Designed especially to carry passengers through the Grand Canyon Diorama, and is patterned after the Narragansett Cars which carried passengers on excursions in the Eastern United States around the turn of the Century.

b) Capacity - 300

c) Is made of the following:

5 cars (Open Narragansett)

d) Cars were designed by WED Enterprises and constructed at Walt Disney Studios.

2. Rainbow Mountain Mining & Exploration Co.
(Mine Ride-Frontierland)

This railroad with its open ore cars takes passengers on a trip through the Painted Desert and mother-lode country of the old West, through Rainbow Caverns with its multi-colored fountains and falls.

a. Powered by 530 amp electric batteries

b. Capacity - 64

c. Construction

Designed and built at Walt Disney Studios

3. Casey Jr. Railroad (Fantasyland)

A little train that takes you over rivers, trestles and bridges and climbs mountains in Storybook Land.

a. Powered by Gasoline driven engines.

b. There are two (2) trains each consisting of:

   Engine; 1 Calliope; 2 animal cars; 2 Chariots; 1 Caboose

c. Designed and built at Walt Disney Studios.
4. Disneyland-Alweg Monorail (Tomorrowland)

Sleek Monorail trains of the future patterned after those now in use in Germany. Trip takes you over lagoons, the Autopia Freeways, and circles the 1/100 scale "Matterhorn Mountain."

a. Powered by two (2) 55 HP electric motors and operates on a single rail 3,800 ft. long; Maximum speed 20 mph.

b. Capacity - 86 per train

c. Scale is approximately 3/4 full sized trains

d. There are two trains with 3 cars each

e. Construction

Steel & Aluminum trains - Concrete beamways

DESIGNED by - WED, Inc. - Basic design of train, beamway and Piers by Alweg Co. of Cologne West Germany.

BUILT by - Studio

5. Disneyland Round House

Disneyland's Round House is probably the only square or oblong "Round House" in the world, and is located in the service area off West Street.

a. Serves as garage for the four (4) steam locomotives of the Santa Fe & Disneyland Main Line Railroad.

b. This is where the boilers are steamed up every morning, and after the day's run, the machine shop crews begin their daily inspection, cleaning, lubrication, and repair if necessary, on all of Disneyland's rolling stock.

c. Not more than 30 minutes in lost operation time on the trains since the Park opened.
DISNEYLAND PARTICULARS

DISNEYLAND LIVESTOCK AND WILD LIFE

1. Livestock

a. Disneyland operates a 10 acre Pony Farm where 200 head of livestock are quartered (horses, mules and ponies).

b. The ages of the animals range from 3 yrs to 16 yrs. (average age 10 years).

c. Disneyland horses punch time cards - no horse, mule or pony is allowed to work over 4 hours a day or more than 6 days a week, and each is signed "in" and "out" by the timekeeper.

d. Two kinds of horseshoes are used on Disneyland stock:
   1) Iron shoes - for the horses and mules on unpaved areas in Frontierland.
   2) Rubber Shoes - for the horses and ponies on paved areas of Main Street.

e. All animals and their quarters are inspected regularly by officers of the SPCA.

f. Livestock handlers - 74 livestock handlers are required to maintain the Disneyland stock during peak season (34 drivers and 40 harness cleaners and stablemen).

g. Feed Requirements - Over a ton (25 bales) of hay, 1/2 ton of alfalfa and mollasses, and 400 lbs. rolled barley are consumed daily during peak seasons.

2. Wildlife

Most of the wild life at Disneyland is not "wild" nor is it "live", but the results of the combined efforts and talents of studio artists and are "life like" reproductions of real animals. However, some of Disneyland animal life IS real.

a. Wild Geese and Ducks

Wild geese, mallards, and other birds around the island and mainland in Frontierland migrated here, and the white ducks on the Rivers of America were raised by Disneyland.

b. Swans

The white, and the black swans residing in the moat around the Fantasyland Castle were a gift from the Hollywood Turf Club.

c. Fish

Many small fish are planted in the Rivers of America (Blue Gill, Perch, etc.) so that Disneyland's "small fry" anglers may have the chance to really catch fish from the Island's dock.

d. Other Animals

Other animals such Moose, Elk, Bear, Coyote and Wild Cat on the banks of the Rivers of America, and the Hippos, Water Buffalo, Python, Elephant, Giraffe and Gorilla in the Jungle Rivers area are all faithful reproductions of wild life and are animated for added realism.

The wild life of the Grand Canyon Diorama are real specimens of Wild Turkey, Mountain Lions, Skunks, Porcupine, Desert Mountain Sheep, and the Golden Eagle.
DISNEYLAND LANDSCAPING

With rare exception, all of Disneyland's plants were purchased in Los Angeles, Orange, San Bernadino and San Diego Counties. However, nearly every corner of the world is represented, and every type of plant obtainable has been utilized wherever possible within the area they best represent, and in perfect scale with that area.

1. Types of Plants
   a. Plants of the Nile River of Africa, the Amazon of South America are used in Adventureland's Jungle.
   b. Plants native to the Mississippi River region of North America are used in areas in Frontierland.

2. Scale
   a. The Disneyland's plants are chosen to fit the scale of the area in which they are used:

      Example: The scale of the Storybookland area is 1 inch to the foot - and so the plants, as well as their leaves and flowers, even the blades of grasses are as fine as can be obtained.

3. Disneyland Nursery
   a. The nursery contains 2 acres next to the Pony Farm on Winston Road.
   b. Grows a total of over 100,000,000 individual plants.
   c. Approximately 100,000 annuals, 5,000 perennials, 2,000 bulbs and 20 pounds of seed were grown in one year for use in the Park.
   d. In one year, 73,500 pounds of high analysis plant foods are used.
   e. In preparation of soil and nursery work, 15,000 cubic feet of wood shavings are used in one year.
4. Watering Systems

a. To water all the Park planting areas in any one day requires the operation of approximately 225 automatic and manual valves, plus considerable hand watering.

5. Other landscaping functions

a. Camouflage of animation, screening of service areas, crowd controls, erosion control and frost control.

1) Frost Control - during the night hours of the winter months, the Nursery personnel set up rafts on the Jungles Rivers with frost machines to protect the tender tropical plants used in that area.
HOLIDAYLAND

Unique addition to Disneyland presents diversified types of attractions, shows and exhibits and arrangements for group activities - ranging from company picnics and outings, dances, and other special events.

1. Facilities
   a. Nine acres of completely fenced-in, landscaped grounds.
   b. Private entrance to Disneyland.
   c. World's largest candy-striped circus tent.
   d. Reserved parking area at regular Disneyland fee (25¢)
   e. Newest, specially designed and exclusive children's playground equipment
   f. Regulation softball diamond, horseshoe pits, and volleyball court (Equipment supplied by Holidayland)
   g. Complete food and catering services.
   h. Tables and benches for seating 2,400 people at one time, all shaded or under the "Big Top"
   i. Complete first-aid facilities, staffed by Holidayland.
   j. Picnic planning services
   k. Dance floor and stage inside "Big Top"
   l. Complete public address system.
   m. Disneyland entertainment available.
   n. Protection of Disneyland Security Officers

2. Reservations

WHY INSTANT FACTS?

Do you know the answer to these questions? ............

The largest attendance we have had in one day?

What time the fireworks display occurs?

Where the "People to People Salute to Mexico is located?

Maybe you don't know the answers, but our guests expect you to answer these and many more questions.

This is the reason for "Instant Facts". Our guests are all inquisitive and they all have different interests.

Mother wants to know the "brand name for a piece of china."

Father wants to know the "number of square feet of asphalt."

The children want to know "where they can get balloons."

So when the guests pop the question, pop the answer right back, or as soon as you can find it in the pages of "Instant Facts".

THE CASTING CENTER STAFF

TOMORROWLAND
The time of this area is 1986, when Halley's Comet is due to return.

TOPIARY GARDEN
Seen only from the Santa Fe & Disneyland Railway, our garden features plants grown and trimmed in the shape of animals. Starts with an artist rendering of the desired animal. The Landscaping Staff proceeds to build a metal framework on which to tie the main portion of the young plant. Adding lighter wire to give detail to the figure, the natural chemistry of the plant will make it grow to fullness on and around the wire design.

TOURS
For those who have never been to Disneyland this is the way to see the park. Our expert guides, versed in many languages, point out the most important parts of Disneyland.

TRAILERS
Situated around Disneyland are many trailer parks.

WARDROBE
Our Wardrobe Department furnishes every costume, authentic as possible, which is worn in the park. There are anywhere from 500 to 600 different costumes in our Wardrobe Department.

WATERWAYS
We have 9 water rides operating on 6 man-made rivers and lagoons (including Glacier Lakes on the Matterhorn.) All of the various rivers and waterways except 2 are joined together forming a continuous flowing gravitational water system. The high point of the system is in Fantasyland and the low point is in the Rivers of America in Frontierland. From Frontierland the water is pumped underground back up to Fantasyland. The two exceptions are the Submarine Voyage and the Matterhorn water system. They are independent circulation filtered water systems with an operation similar to a swimming pool. These waterways represent a total of over 22,000,000 gallons of water.

WELCH'S GRAPE JUICE ARBOR
Located in Fantasyland next to the Fantasyland Theatre. This stand serves Welch's products.

WHEELEDCARRIERS
May be rented at the Stroller shop near the entrance. Rental is for a day.

WILDLIFE
Most of the wildlife at Disneyland is not wild nor is it live; but the results of the combined efforts and talents of studio artists are "life-like" reproductions of real animals. However, some of the Disneyland animal life is real. Wild geese, mallards and other birds around the island and the mainland in Frontierland migrated here; and the white ducks on the Rivers of America were raised by Disneyland. The white and black swans residing in the moat around the Fantasyland castle were a gift from the Hollywood Turf Club. Many small fish are planted in the Rivers of America, so that Disneyland's small fry anglers may have the chance to really catch fish from the Island's dock.

WISHING WELL
All proceeds from this wishing well go to the variety club. The figures of Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs are made of Italian Marble. Snow White can be heard singing with an echo coming from the Well.

Z

ZOCALO, FL
A typical open air Mexican Market Place as in the early days of the Aztecs when the focal point was the market place, or El Zocalo. All roads led to the El Zocalo. People from miles around brought baskets, pottery, glass and other wares to sell. During the development of the Great Southwest, before the Gadsen Purchase, and down through the years, the custom of El Zocalo has been preserved. It features authentic Mexican merchandise.
