Name Change Here Again

By Marvin Cloyd

AFTER LETTING the possible name change for FTU rest this past summer, President Charles Millican reopened discussion on the matter Tuesday in a meeting with various university interest groups.

After nearly two hours of discussion, Millican appointed a special committee to recommend any action that may be taken on the name change.

"The purpose of this committee, according to Chairman William Young, is to try to get effective and general response to the proposal for a name change.

"In order for any survey to be effective, Young said he plans to contact faculty members limited in survey results to assist any organization attempting one.

"Specifying the requirements for surveys, President Millican said, "If any group decides to conduct a survey asking whether or not those responding feel the name should be changed, then that survey must include, for those who respond with a "yes" answer, a requirement that they suggest an alternative. This also applies to any group deciding to recommend that the name be changed."

"Outlining the criteria for new name suggestions, Millican stated, "We must have a name that is acceptable to the majority of the university community; the community at large, including alumni; and the Chancellor, the Board of Regents, and the State Cabinet. From our experience last spring and following personal visits I have had with some members of the Board within the last month, it is crystal clear to me that the following criteria must be met if we again attempt to change the name."

Projected Enrollment Cuts Fees

By Steve Paulson

BECAUSE of a projected drop in full fee-paying students, the budgets for activity and service fees have been severely cut said Dr. Charles Brown, assistant vice president of student affairs.

"The projected number of full fee-paying students is down from 2,090 in 1975-76 to 1,629 in 1976-77. FTU receives $34,50 per each full fee-paying student for the purpose of activities and services."

INCLUDED in these fees are the budgets for student health services, Student Government (SG), Village Union (VC) intramural and publications.

FTU last year received over $50,000 for student activities and services from the state based on a three quarter average of 4,977 full fee-paying students, not counting outside incomes such as advertising. This was down from the projected revenue of 6,000 full fee-paying students and forced severe cutbacks last spring.

"We have to make these projections in March on how many full fee-paying students we'll have for the following school year and if we have fewer students than we think we'll have, we get less money," said Brown.

"If we underestimate the number of students we'll receive funds for we're all right, but if we overestimate we'll have less money than we expected which necessitates cutbacks," Brown added.

This year's projected income, including outside sources of revenue, totaled $592,955 for the Activity and Service Fee Budgets, which meant many of the 17 organizations submitting requests had their budgets trimmed.

Hardest hit was the PROGRASUS yearbook which was discontinued so its $17,000 budget could be diverted. Other organizations suffering from the drop include student health services, which had its request pared from $110,000 to $116,000; SG $1,000; and VC $10,000.

BROWN said the school only gets paid for a three quarter average of full fee-paying students and 40 per cent for summer students. He declined to speculate whether another third Staff salaries are not affected by the budget cutbacks, Brown said, because of the university's commitment to the employee.

which were endorsed in early September by Millican.

Rautenstrauch said Millican made specific the terminology with the word "endorsed" instead of "approved," because as Rautenstrauch put it, to approve something means to just OK it. When the goals were endorsed, Millican said he has promised to work with and for the goals.

THE GOALS had to be approved by the executive council, but Rautenstrauch said neither they nor the president made any major alterations of the goals.

The major topics on the goals are education and research, academic affairs, business affairs and student affairs.

Because of the length of the self-study findings, the entire report could not be reprinted here. However, Dr. Rautenstrauch invites anyone interested to read the report in his office, AD 129.

Beer on Campus Poses No Problem
By Mike Myers

Having beer at school is going to be with.

That was the reaction of some students when it was first announced that beer would be available on campus this fall.

Many people have been of a Club stans at FTU. They anticipated at least some overreactions and disorders conduct on the part of students.

However, this has not been the case. Initial indications are that the absence of beer has very little effect on the behavior of students.

According to Auxiliary Services Director James K. Eller, there have been absolutely no problems regarding the consumption of beer by students.

"They have really been good," Eller said. "We haven't had one incident yet."

Eller, who dispenses much of the beer himself, reported that some people who were not of age had tried to buy it.

"But that's not really a problem because I know most of the regulars," he said. "When you see a new face, I check them out carefully."

The only difficulty encountered so far has been the new item's popularity.

Regulations prohibit the removal of beer from the snack bar and this has resulted in frequent overcrowding. Often it is a task just for a person to make his way through the number of people crammed into the small room.

Finding a vacant seat usually is impossible.

Eller said he is pleased with these conditions. "If it were larger," he explained, "it would be worse."

"Besides, there is no possibility for expansion anyway," Eller added. "We have made use of all of the existing space," he continued.

In answer to complainers, Eller said the snack bar will no longer be closed in the early afternoon but instead it has been officially scheduled to the first week of classes.

A MISUNDERSTANDING last week regarding the granting of credit for the opening of the new snackbar has been clarified. It was originally reported that the opening was cancelled because it had been merely postponed.

According to Vice President for Student Affairs, Dr. Rex Brown, the ceremony was never officially scheduled to the first week of classes. Perkins said it does not compare PWS life to his new college life. His wife and son are also students at FTU.

Perkins said the PWS's take some of the same classes as other students. "We haven't had any trouble, because he feels acceptable. He added everyone has had no trouble, because he feels acceptable.

"College has been something I've been looking forward to," said Mai Perkins.

FTU Offers New Degree

By Jerry Brooks

FTU will be the first university to offer a four-year degree in allied legal service. (ALS) courses. the program will satisfy the need for specialists and paraprofessionals in the legal services field.

Dr. William Young, FTU's chairman of political science and sociology, said with drafting the new program, the number of bar members in Florida is expected to grow from 14,000 to 20,000 by 1975.

This is an indication of the future demand for degree specialists. Members of the Florida bar expressed interest in the program.

The program will have three educations.

It will enable students interested in law to enroll in a weekly course while pursuing a different degree.

It will provide instruction for students who wish to pursue career in the allied legal professions.

Students who are majoring in public administration, future estate or criminal justice will be offered insight into the role and contribution of attorneys.

The allied legal services degree is an extension of activities in areas such as judicial administration which includes corrections, court administration and law enforcement and pre-law courses in political science, history and business administration.

The new legal services program is expected to draw from FTU students, transfers from junior colleges and persons in the Orlando area presently employed by public and private legal agencies and law offices.

Employment opportunities for those graduating with an ALS degree would be in law offices, consumer protection agencies, zoning administration, legal assistance agencies and charter commissions.

According to Young, the ALS program will probably require no more credit courses than the average of 140 credit hours needed to graduate.

Though his programs are currently 129 courses, Perkins is taking all of the courses required of freshmen and sophomores.

Perkins apparently had had little difficulty in adjusting to campus life. He may only difficulty may be cutting girl watching because his family is also on campus.

Perkins said he has not suffered the cultural shock as many PWS's and returning Viet veta, Perkins, a prisoner for six years, said he was brought up to date on current events by new PWS's. The new prisoners lectured on new topics, that included thorough book and movie reviews.

One trend that does not upset Perkins is long hair. When asked why he didn't have shoulder length hair, Perkins replied, "Why not?"

Mrs. Perkins said her biggest problem is keeping her husband's clothes in his closet. Her two college age sons are always taking their father's clothes.

Both Perkins's, a sophomore, claims his father burns the tires off his Mustang. He burns the tires off his Mustang.

Having survived registration and the first week of classes, the quarter, Perkins said he had no trouble, because he feels acceptable. He added everyone has more trouble, because he feels acceptable.

"College has been something I've been looking forward to," said Mai Perkins.

3) the director of housing, 5) resident advisors, 6) the custodial staff.

FTU's Michael Berman recently became the state representative for the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU), a union which provides legal counsel for people maintaining Constitutional rights free of charge to anyone who needs it. Berman, the editor of the ACLU's newsletter, "Student Rights and Responsibilities," believes there are many FTU rules which violate Constitutional rights.

"ACCORDING TO the text, the precise location and boundaries and the number of students involved in a picket line, demonstration, or parade may be limited at the discretion of university officials," he said.

Berman asked.

Berman regards as most unfair those to the privacy of student rooms on campus. He believes students who live on campus might be surprised to know how many persons have access to their rooms without their permission.

Berman believes that the following text rule is reasonable.

"Provided there is reasonable cause to believe there is non-compliance with university regulations, any campus resident's room may be searched without a warrant by authorized university personnel: 1) the president, 3) the dean of men and 4) the director of housing, 5) resident advisors, 6) the custodial staff.

Millican Satisfied

Last summer's speculation that FTU President Charles N. Millican was the prime candidate for the position of the University of Florida was denied after a faculty assembly meeting on Sept. 24.

After the faculty assembly meeting, Millican said reporter that he was "quite satisfied at FTU."

He added, "I am not interested in any university, French, German, journalism, history, English literature, photography, Catholicism, Christianity, Judaism, meal cutting and even in college life. His wife and son Ed are also students at FTU.

Perkins said the PWS's take some of the same classes as other students. "We haven't had any trouble, because he feels acceptable. He added everyone has had no trouble, because he feels acceptable.

Name Change

Editorial

Is FTU’s name change really an impossible dream? Maybe, but the next few weeks or months will determine the immediate future of Florida Technological University (at least as far as the name of the university goes).

Any desire to change the present name will have to be accompanied by "acceptable alternatives." If FTU’s name is altered in any way, it must meet criteria which will be acceptable to the Florida Cabinet, the Board of Regents, the community at large and a majority of the university community.

The criteria which must be met (see story on page 11) to create an "acceptable alternative" name places barrier upon barrier in the way of change. Thus, an almost insurmountable crossword puzzle is created for anyone favoring a new name.

The ad hoc committee appointed by President Milligan will bear the responsibility of assessing any recommendations first hand.

It is quite possible that any attempt to change our university’s name now might well be a complete waste of time. We have to face the fact that in the near future the Status of Florida is bound to win up and institute a uniform method of naming all state universities.

Until a uniform naming system is adopted in Florida; this university will not and should not be judged solely by its name. We, the students, bear the responsibility of placing FTU on the map.

So if we stop to think about the situation at hand and to analyze the limitations placed upon the university by the Regents, the Cabinet, and soon we can reasonably conclude that a name change may not last long! It is probable that until the newer state universities voice their objections to their inaccurate names in unison, no move will be made to revamp the system.

Slight changes are effective ways to promote FTU without changing the name. A greater emphasis on intercollegiate activities will go far in building a reputation beyond our walls.

From within the university, strengthening and maintaining our "Accent on the Individual" and "Accent on Excellence," will further our efforts to bring new students to FTU from all over the nation.

Hidden Thoughts

By William Lee Hidden

It was in a dire moment that I went to see my psychiatrist. How was I to know that I was about to stumble into one of the greatest stories since Avery Corman’s exclusive interview with God. Except I did him one better---I talked with God’s psychiatrist.

When I got to my Psych he was talking to the wall and feeding the wall with his own saliva. As far as I could tell it was the start of another normal session.

"Bill," he said, "I don’t usually break confidence between myself and a patient but I need the type of help a professional couldn’t give. Bill, I hope you will keep this under your hair but I need your help."

When I got to my Psych he was talking to the wall and feeding the wall with his own saliva. As far as I could tell it was the start of another normal session.

"Bill," he said, "I don’t usually break confidence between myself and a patient but I need the type of help a professional couldn’t give. Bill, I hope you will keep this under your hair but I need your help."

"The LORD says, you the one up there? His royal holiness.

Oh come on, Doc, I know you all say the whole world is sick but aren’t you telling me..."

"I’m afraid so," he said, "I may have gone beyond that. He’s very depressed. He feels He has done it all and seen it all before. Did you know He has even guilt into churching? Says the sermons are putting Him to sleep. He says He’s tired of the worry, the working in out of the minds of people’s ears."

"So now He’s decided to stay out in nature," Doc continued, "He feels He has seen priests and ministers and men believe. He only exists under the roof of a church it’s time to put things back in line the way God gave it.

"I should at least be happy to see things shaping up in the current Jesus movement," I added.

"That’s where He’s trouble really began," Doc said. "He was strolling through a park, walking among us as He often does, and He got arrested by a Jesus Freak. Not only that but they put a tail on Him. The first one kept after Him for about three blocks and another one took over and another after that.

"He said no choice but to hop into a men’s room and disappear. What happens but the girl who follows Him in there spats out the word that she saw the coming of Christ. God doesn’t even get the credit and thousands cram into the men’s room."

"I know He’s lost confidence in me because He’s said as much as writing Dear Abby, who didn’t help at all. I really don’t know what to do. I keep praying but He’s upset and won’t talk to me," he finished.

"Maybe he should try praying," I said coldly.

"Is He trying?"

"Doesn’t He believe in a supreme being?" I jokingly asked.

Apparently my shrink didn’t see the humor. Just shut up and he didn’t say a word," he said. "Don’t feed the one with the brown derby, he bites."

Not content to make graduation complicated enough to warrant a four hour ceremony in "Procedures for Graduation," the administration, after the registrar’s office, has added a final, demeaning kick in the pants to the graduates of FTU.

To all of you who are majoring in social welfare, journalism, biology or whatever, I imagine that you would like the degree that you are going to hang in your office, den, etc., to reflect your specialty. Too bad.

To those of you who are putting out the additional effort required to double major, and might have enough justifiable pride to want all those who see your degree to know it, tough.

Please majors: Do you distinguish yourself from medical technology majors? I hope so, because your degrees won’t reflect any distinction.

As of summer quarter ‘73 (as long as I can determine, the procedure being initiated rather quietly), this university now assigns "General" degrees. Diplomas now read: "B.S., College of Natural Sciences," or "B.A., College of Social Sciences," period. You figure your out (it’s not very hard).

Are you double majoring across colleges? You will be permitted to choose one college to appear on your ‘skin. Keep reading, it gets better.

When queried as to the rationale behind this exercise in vanity, one member of the registrar’s staff explained it: "It’s the listing of a major or majors) too much work and there’s too much chances for error because the colleges offer so many majors. Besides, your major appears on your transcript.

How many of you plan to frame your transcript for your wall? We know that four years of a student’s time is not worthy of five additional minutes, if that, of a staff member’s time in the registrar’s office. I submit that man does not live by transcript alone.

Be the subject parking lots or degrees, the policy of this university’s administration is blatantly obvious.

"Accent on the Individual" refers to individuals employed by the administration. We have only assumed that it referred to the individual student.

Deadline Today For SG Senatorial Candidacy

TODAY is the last day for FTU students to declare their candidacy to run as a Student Government (SG) senator.

Students wishing to sign a declaration of candidacy should do so before 4:30 p.m. in VC E-2, or in VC E-2 Monday through Wednesday. No declarations will be accepted after this deadline.

Elections for SG positions in the senate are scheduled Oct. 18 from 6 to 8 p.m. and from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. and on Oct. 19 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the Kiosk, Village Center and Library.

In order to qualify as a SG senator, an applicant must have an overall GPA of 2.0 and be enrolled in the college and class representing when assuming office and be taking a minimum of 9 quarter hrs.

"This year FTU students will have a choice of three polling places, instead of the usual one," said FTU SG President Lee Constance.

FTU's procedure of electing SG senators is unique among state universities in that each student only votes for candidates in his class and college.

Each class college is allocated a specific number of senate seats based on its individual enrollment. This year however, the number of senatorial seats open has not been designated because of the delay in the release of enrollment figures.

"We hope for an anticipated larger voter turnout by having three polling places and by advertising the elections," said Constance.

STUDENTS wishing to cast their votes for the candidates of their choice must present their student identification card at the proper voting places. Any student trying to vote at more than one polling place will be fined accordingly.

Students who will be away from campus on election days may submit a request for an absentee ballot to Commissioner of Elections Thom Costa no later than Monday. All requests must be accompanied by the student's identification card.

"The February-March 1973 issue of Florida Sportman, which O'Keefe is an editor-at-large, includes "March," an article describing the invasion of ornamental aquatic fish in Southern Florida's waters which threatens native bass and bream populations. The in-depth feature required a full week's worth of research, said O'Keefe, of O'Keefe who has been freelancing for two years, will now begin writing for Southern Outdoor's regional hunting and fishing publication.

TM Lectures Start Monday

The first two lessons in transcendental meditation (TM) techniques will be presented four times daily Monday through Wednesday in the Village Center.

The free one-hour lessons will be given by faculty Abbott, an Orlando resident who has spent approximately four years working with TM.

A 24 panel exhibition outlining TM will be on display if it arrives on time. Results of scientific studies on methods of meditation and college professors' reactions to TM are also included.

The purpose of TM is to reach the third stage of being, which Miss Abbott calls "creative intelligence" and describes as neither action nor thought.

Approximately one percent of the nation's college students practice TM. "On the average," Miss Abbott said, "these students find that their grade point averages rise one point as a result of the method."

FTU Students Study In Spain

By Melanie Bowman

The opportunity to earn college credits while spending a summer in Spain is being offered by FTU in a program titled Hispanic Culture and Civilization.

The program, already in its third year, is open to Spanish and non-Spanish majors, whether graduate or undergraduate students. Up to 16 quarter hours credit may be elected from such topics as contemporary Spanish theatre, language and civilization, history and art.

Non-Spanish majors may take elementary or intermediate Spanish, depending on their language background. According to Armando Payas, director of the summer study program, students are usually able to learn the language much more rapidly when taught in the native environment.

Students of anthropology, art, music and related areas are encouraged to conduct independent studies in their fields of interest. Those who plan to do research will be free to travel in Spain in order to carry out their studies.

In order to take advantage of the "two completely different atmospheres...and very different cultures" of northern and southern Spain, the program is divided into two parts. The first portion of the summer is spent north of Madrid, where four weeks of classes are taught at the 400-year-old University of Oviedo. From there students move south to Seville, where classes resume.

The teaching staff is comprised of three professors from the University of Oviedo, a professor from New York and FTU's Dr. Payas. In addition, six Spanish university students will be available as tutors.

Classroom work will be broken up with field trips to various historic and artistic points of interest such as the Cuevas de Atapuerca and the Statues of the Sea. Activities such as romerías, concerts and festivalsواقوا will also be part of the itinerary.

Handicapped FTU Student Gets Commitment From Navy

By Heather Henry

"You could have knocked me over with a feather!" said Peter Wolcott, a FTU sophomore, when he found Elmo R. Zumwalt, Chief of U.S. Naval Operations, came up and spoke to him in the new senate office building hallway.

Wolcott, a political science major, handicapped at birth by cerebral palsy of some motor functions, had approached Zumwalt over a year and a half before while still a high school senior during a military seminar of the "Presidential Classroom for Young Americans" in Washington, D.C.

Zumwalt, who was at that time a five-star admiral and Frey, who helped in the pursuit of his ambition.

Between the time of his chance meeting with Zumwalt and his Friday appointment with him, Wolcott received national radio, television and newspaper coverage. During a 20-minute meeting, Wolcott was told it would be against Congressional regulations to put him in uniform, who was at that time "very encouraging", told Peter about the idea and keep in touch with his office.

During the next year and a half Pete had been corresponding with influential people in the Navy, receiving mostly negative replies.

Congressman Lou Fis. K-Winter Park, was "...very helpful and encouraging" said Wolcott. A regular correspondence was kept between him and Frey.

During his Sept. 9-16 stay in the capital, Pete visited many senators and military personnel who helped in the pursuit of his ambition.

When questioned why he desired military employment, Wolcott said, "...it is my patriotic duty to serve my country in a visible and conspicuous manner."

SG NEWS

STUDENT GOVERNMENT has added a babysitting referral service, VIP car passes to Cape Kennedy and outing equipment to their current student services.

“We’ve added these new projects in accordance to our campaign promises and will continue to create more projects, such as the book exchange and subsidy ticket programs,” said Student Government President Lee Constantine.

FURTHER information is available in VC room 216 or 206, by calling 275-2191 or by contacting SG Director of Community Affairs Susan Carrick.

“The SG babysitting referral service does exactly what it says; we gather names of interested students, find out available hours, price and the age group they would like to sit. Then when we get a call for a babysitter we have the information at our finger tips and are able to refer the caller to a babysitter,” said Susan Carrick.

According to Constantine, this service will be provided in accordance with the Child Care Center. He said he hopes to continue the referral service after the Child Care Center is built, coordinating the two projects.

THE CAMPING equipment now available in the Village Center (VC) is the product of a SG bill passed last spring.

After three quarters of debate, whether money should be allocated for outing equipment, SG Bill 2-20 was passed by an overwhelming majority of the senate.

Students wishing to obtain equipment, which includes an eight-man tent, 10 sleeping bags, six back-packs and other camping equipment, may do so through the VC Game Room by presenting their student identification card.

VIP car passes to the SkyLab IV launch are now available on a limited basis in VC 216.

“We only have about 10 VIP passes left and we will give them to students on a first come first serve basis,” said Constantine.

Another project of SG is the ticket subsidy program. SG is offering tickets to the Suburban University Drive-In, Colony, Beacham and Colonial Rocking Chair theaters at a reduced price of $1 for students and $1.25 for members of the faculty and administration.

TICKETS valued at $5 a book are available to students for $3.50 and faculty and administration for $4 to the Womendoo Theater.

“We hope to get reduced tickets to other area theaters and even to local restaurants,” said SG vice President Hunter Potts.

OKLAHOMA IS OK!

By Fran Elliot

Rodglen and Hummesten may seem hokey, melodramatic, and silly today but in a marvelous old fashioned way.

Their music, lyrics and script always show a touch of genius as in the classic "Oklahoma," now playing at Sebastian's Dinner Theatre. Applauded as one of the composers' early greats, the show should never grow completely outdated as long as romance and humor exist. It is one of the first shows to integrate a true balletic comedy.

The costumes are well done, especially the male costumes as all the colors are bright and colorful, except for the modern belts and bluejeans. With a few more bales of hay to hide the unfinished bottom edge of the backdrop, the set would have been more than just functional.

The musicians were lively and performed well but drowned out the performers during some musical numbers. The choreographed group numbers were by far the outstanding part of the show and with the enthusiastic "Oklahoma" finale made a visit to the theatre worthwhile.

Lynda Laurian as Laurey was an admirably attractive young Oklahoma bride with a lovely voice to match her stage presence.

Soom Riggins as Curly comes on strong vocally, but he could not seem to sustain that needed strength. He lacks the characteristics of a real cowboy of the West.

Patti Hubler and Dan Verne as the wide eyed Ado Annie and her beau Will come across appealingly. But it was very disappointing to hear Patti sing "I can't" instead of "I Cain't Say No."

The entire cast and staff worked hard at producing the feeling and mood necessary for this delightful show and although it is slow at the start, one can not help but wish the entire "population" of "Oklahoma" a successful future.

Connie Foster as Aunt Eller has the right amount of sincerity. Jerry Covington as the villainous Jud Fry has a great voice but appears ill at ease on stage.

However, it was Leonard Cooner in the "ner do well" role of Ali Hakim and Berngango Debor as "Gertie" that grabbed the fancy of the audience.

Sororities Rush

FTU’s four sororities - Alpha Chi Omega, Delta Delta Delta, Tya and Greek Tsi Alpha - have high hopes of increasing their membership during fall rush. The organizations hope to add to their list of community services, scholastic achievements and social progress.

The purpose of fall rush is to acquaint FTU women with sorority life, but rushers are in no way obligated to pledge a sorority.

Fall rush provides an excellent way to meet girls already in sorority and girls who are also going through rush.

“I remember when I went through rush. I loved every minute of the excitement and enthusiasm that fall rush brought,” said Panhellocic President Liz Young.

Though the Four sororities have some identical objectives, each tries to display its particular philosophy during rush. The purpose of fall rush is to acquaint FTU women with sorority life, but rushers are in no way obligated to pledge a sorority.

Fall rush provides an excellent way to meet girls already in sorority and girls who are also going through rush.

“In the final step of rushing, known as bidding, the sorority members extend invitations to those women whom they would like to have join them.”

“We feel we are a vital part of a very active group which has a lot to contribute to university living and still we retain our individuality,” said Miss Young. Other sorority women said the friendships, academic standing and extracurricular activities which go with sorority life are major contributing factors in the selection of a sorority.

Some of the community service activities in which sororities have played a major role include a two-day fund drive for the Florida Symphony Orchestra, which collected more than $3,000, and put the drive over the top, a 20-mile hike for the March of Dimes, visits to St. Luke’s Home in Slavia for “adopted” children, working as runners and tabulators during the annual Central Florida Cerebral Palsy telethon, visits to Simler Correctional Institution for dinner with inmates and working with juveniles and their families.

Learn about brotherhood in Greek sense of the word. “Deciding to rush a fraternity is an important decision, but it is more important to choose one that is right for you,” and Lambda Chi Alpha’s Rush Chairman Joseph Delora.

Recognizing this, FTU’s 10 fraternity plan to acquaint the male population with their philosophies and activities at this weekend’s rush parties.

Tomorrow is the first full day. The 24 members of CHI PHI will host a cookout at their frat house located at 6666 Aristothele at 2:30 p.m. ALPHAL TAU OMEGA will stage its part at the Century 21 club house at 8 p.m. with a live band playing at 9 p.m. An emphasis on “boose, bread and brothelhood” (the three B’s) is supplemented by the ATO bating service at 677-2263.

Seeking to define “brotherhood” for any neophytes, SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON will hold log parties at the SAR House from 6 p.m. until the kegs dry up. This Saturday the brothers have Harpop and “Spring Surprise Punch” for everyone who goes to The Springs Clubhouse between 9 p.m. and 1 a.m.

PS, Campus won’t be deserted! Music by Sandle Bar Musterache and “thirst quenching” refreshments will greet LAMBDA CHI ALPHIA partiers at 8 in the Multi Purpose Room.

When the night’s parties have ended and all have returned to their rooms, SIGMA DELTA THETA will hold a keg party at 10 p.m. in the Deserted! Music by Sandle Bar Musterache and “thirst quenching” refreshments will greet LAMBDA CHI ALPHIA partiers at 8 in the Multi Purpose Room.

The partying will be continued with a two-day fund drive for the Florida Symphony Orchestra, which collected more than $3,000, and put the drive over the top, a 20-mile hike for the March of Dimes, visits to St. Luke’s Home in Slavia for “adopted” children, working as runners and tabulators during the annual Central Florida Cerebral Palsy telethon, visits to Simler Correctional Institution for dinner with inmates and working with juveniles and their families.

Dr. Thomas Borowy is now determining if there is a need for a marriage counseling service at FTU. Through a survey of married students, Borowy hopes to find if there is a need for the service and if people want it.

The Developmental Center also has a complete vocational counseling department, which includes current and future job market projections, tools to determine individual job interests and a complete occupational library.

Borowy, who is also a general counselor at the Developmental Center, said the marriage counseling service is not necessarily concerned with couples in trouble but also provides assistance for those who wish to have a better married life.

Similar programs have had success at other universities says Borowy.

Poll Shows Aikido Choice

A poll taken by the Village Center (VC) to determine what leisure classes to offer revealed that Aikido, a Japanese form of unarmed self-defense, was preferred by most of the students polled.

Other topics selected by students in order of preference were consumer protection, the American Indian, open marriage, dishonesty in government and sexuality.

The majority of students questioned would like to see the VC offer photography classes. Plans are now being formulated for such a class.

Other student choices of leisure classes, in order of preference, were guitar, ceramics, horseshoe, candy making, and tempering and oil painting.

The VC will offer candle making this quarter and ceramics in winter quarter. Registrations for candle classes begins October 22.

The VC board welcomes any and all suggestions from students and invites them to attend committee meetings listed in the activity calendar.

Cornell Goes ‘Outback’

By Weber Ivy

Although they refuse to yield any particular meaning, they do portray Marshman’s personal synthesis of traditional and contemporary art in their combinations of photographic and impressionistic images, canvas and plastic.

Several of the “paintings” are actual double images of the same woman seen first in a monochrome photograph and then brought to life in intense painted colors. Sometimes Marshman’s placement of figures, dots and stripes cleverly thwart's instant perception of a subject whose visual class suddenly snap together into a coherent pattern.

The echoes of impressionism peak in the sequence of fishermen. Going from left to right, the three drawings zoom in on the men and the fish, becoming brighter and more substantial, yet still vaguely defined, with the fish as a focal point of blank paper contained within a suggestive shape.

There are possible references to Marshman’s childhood in the photograph of a boy with a fish, blocked off by pencil drawings of random scenes.

The causes of Marshman's obvious devotion to human subjects and their imaginative treatment remain hidden. For this observer, at least, although the superficial question “What is it?” was usually answered, the deeper question, “What does it mean?” seemed to have no solution.

Until other critics can pit their powers of perception successfully against this calculated puzzle, the Marshman exhibit will stand as an interesting combination of styles, materials and images.

RHA To Fill Posts

THE RESIDENCE HOUSING ASSOCIATION (RHA), a self-governing body which serves as the representative voice of FTU's 400 dormitory residents, is looking for students interested in filling vacancies on the executive and judicial boards.

The RHA, under the leadership of President Elmer Seifert, replaces the once separate Men and Women Housing Associations.

The executive board consists of the president and vice-president, three board members, and three members from the upper and lower classes, who were elected last spring.

One freshwoman and one sophomore will be elected to the board for the next four years. Petitions for freshmen interested in running for a post on the executive board will be available soon.

The judicial board is composed of nine persons appointed by the president and approved by the executive board. Three new openings will be filled through application, with the most qualified people being selected.

The judicial board is a group of professionals who work to uphold the rules of the organization and to ensure that all members follow them. The judicial board is considered an integral part of the RHA and is responsible for enforcing the organization's policies and procedures.

Another problem has been the doors on the girls' dorms. These doors, continually exposed to the elements, have begun to rot and pull away from the frame. New doors are now on order.

A FALL program is now in the planning stage for dorm residents. Some possibilities are A VON PARTIES, MOVIES, and other events. Activities during the day on weekends are also being considered. A newsletter will be published to notify residents of these events.

THE TENTATIVE meeting time is Thursday at 4 p.m. in the B dorm lounge.

Two other executive board positions are also vacant. Vice-President Linda Smart and board member Marie Trudell were unable to secure university housing. According to RHA constitution all members must live on campus, thus requiring the two to resign and leaving two seats unfilled.

Dorm residents may file a petition for the election to either post. The RHA hopes to alleviate the problem by providing bus service on weekends.

Members of the RHA voted September 25 on the visitation policy. The passage of any policy required a two-thirds vote of all residents. The maximum visitation policy was passed by just 20 votes. Approximately 100 members did not cast ballots.

VISITATION hours are now set from 2 p.m. - 11 p.m. Sunday through Thursday and 2 p.m. - 12 p.m. Friday and Saturday.

WFTU-FM In Future

Campus radio station WFTU, 640 on your dormitory dial, is on its way to becoming an FM stereo station.

Although actual FM broadcasting is in the near future, station manager John Weyrick said the first steps have been taken. These steps were filling out required federal forms and paperwork.

Until the big day arrives the key words at WFTU Station personnel will be trained toward professionalism: "Instead of toys and games" said Weyrick.

"They must get used to broadcasting to people they have never met and will never meet. There's an audience potential of a half million people in Orlando," he continued.

WFTU, or WLOF-2 as it is being referred to, will become an "alternate service" oriented to campus life, offering programming not found elsewhere. Already the syndicated Wolfman Jack programs are being aired. When WOLF-2 is not broadcasting WJW-FM is rebroadcast and there is always a signal on 640.

Radio news will also take a different turn with in-depth reporting of the reporting whys and hows of campus events. The special programming stressed News Director Gayle Price, will be aimed at fellow students.

Prince and Weyrick voiced great expectations for the burgeoning WFTU and expressed a hope more students become involved and take advantage of the program.
Soccer Squad Tackles Tampa In Saturday Home Match At 2 p.m.

FTU Defeats Flagler, 4-2, Following JU Loss

By Larry McCorkle

FTU'S SOCCER team seems to be in a 4-2 mix-up. Last Saturday they played a great game but lost. Last Tuesday they played "poorly" and won. Perhaps it sounds a little more feasible when the entire story is told. Jacksonville, ranked 11th in the South, defeated FTU 3-0, while little Flagler of St. Augustine, about as mediocre as you can get, eventually succumbed to a better FTU squad, 4-2.

CHARLIE CAMPBELL

A CROWD of about 200 people including President Charles McCorkle and Assistant Director John Powell witnessed Jacksonville jump off to a 2-0 halftime lead and both goal teams on penalty kicks by Tim Woonen.

Fullback Brey Arndt's attempted tackle was ruled by the referee illegal resulting in a violation and the first penalty shot. Woonen's shot then saw the ball into the left corner of the goal just out of the outstretched hands of FTU goalie Winston Dubose. A handball violation later in the inside the penalty box resulted in another penalty kick and the second score. Dubose finished with 11 saves and earned a place on the Jacksonville coach that he was of all-American caliber. The JU coach also cited FTU's freshman fullback Dom Brown for outstanding play.

After the game, an exuberant Coach Jim Rudy exclaimed, "If JU's No. 11, in the south, we're right behind. "As soon as we start hitting the nets, we'll start rolling," he added.

BESIDES Dubose and Brown, Rudy and Bob Stendman turned in fine performances.

It was a bad day story against Flagler. FTU blew repeated chances at scoring until Dean Andreaus finally faced past the Flagler fullbacks and scored 9:25 into the first half. FTU took the lead.

Chris came early on the fourth goal as a Flagler fullback deflected the ball into his own goal.

BROOKS Ryan and Fred Brosnan accounted for all the Flagler scoring. "We played poorly," was all a disappointed Rudy could say after a game. "We should have scored 8-9 goals."

Goalie Dave Bakal played a good game handling nine saves and allowing only the two goals. FTU next battles the University of Tampa Saturday at 1:30 p.m. to be the initial contest for FTU against Tampa.

FTU Women Set MatchFor Rollins

FTU's women's volleyball team opens up the 1973 season Saturday with the Rollins Invitational at the Rollins Alumni Field House.

Rollins is hosting four other schools besides FTU. Also participating are Jacksonville, Stetson, Florida Southern and Lake City Community College.

The round robin tournament begins Saturday at 9 a.m. and will end at approximately 8 p.m. FTU will play a 10 a.m. match and a 7 p.m. match.

Coach Pam Burke has not picked a starting lineup for FTU, but the top eight girls fit in line for positions on the six-woman team including Judy Hall, Anne Kennedy, Kathy Ing and Marcos Mora.

While basketball and wrestling may have had banner years in recruiting, neither can really compare to the job done by Coach Steve Hargist, incoming Holquist, who has completely changed the face of this year's diamond team.

Whereas Holquist sometimes had difficulty finding qualified names to fill in a lineup card, this year's team is three or four deep at some key positions.

"We're a lot more comfortable this year with the depth we have," said Holquist. "Last year we couldn't really afford to lose anybody because there wasn't anybody else to put in," he continued.

Holquist's new team is making up for the lack of fall ball practice. They consist of six squads which played on Monday.

Valencia has two teams entered. Rollins, Seminole and a group called the Red Caps round out the league. Games are set Monday and Wednesdays at 4 p.m. and Saturday at 11 a.m. at various locations including Tinker Field, Harper-Hampton Field, Valencia and Seminole.

Altogether, 200 FTU is playing in a double elimination tournament with Rollins and two teams from Stetson. Holquist is splitting his squad into two teams to help the team to play in this tournament as well as in the fall league.

One girls out eligible this year but who has a potential star for 397, 5-6, 175 lb. Russ Colberg, a transfer from Northwestern. He was 6-1 overall for 27 years (21 in Big competition).

Other new recruits are as follows.

STEVE HARGIST, a pitcher from Huntington, Long Island, was drafted last Spring by the Cincinnati Reds but decided to play college ball, much to the delight of Holquist. He is a 6-2, 170 pound sophomore.

TOM PARISH, a 6-2, 175 lb. transfer from Valencia, was his team's leading hitter at .325 and can play any infield position.

CRAG BUTLER, was Howard Community College's (CC) leading hitter the last two years is an outstanding defensive outfielder.

STEVE CRUTCHER, a sophomore from Valencia, has hit over .300 the past two seasons batting in the leadoff spot.

TIM SMITH, as infielder from Sarasota, has already earned plunder from Holquist after only one game in the new season. "He's been greatly impressed," said Holquist, "especially since he's only a freshman. He makes all the plays at shortstop."

CARL VINCE GILBERT, a pitcher from Jupiter, is at FTU on a basketball scholarship, could also wind up in a base. D'anne McLean, 5-10, 150lb. Evans High grad is batting for the shortstop position.

LUIS ESCOBAR, a 27-year-old second baseman-outfielder is a native of Colombia and was the most valuable player in the 1973 Pan-American games, hitting two home runs against the United States team. Escobar went to Eastern Kentucky University two years ago and has "surprising power," according to Holquist.

MIKE D'AMICO, a 5-10, 150-lb. freshman from Fort Lauderdale, is an outfield prospect.

CHARLIE HORNE of Winter Park High, 6-0, 195-pounder, will back up Gattis behind the plate.

GREG LANDRUM, a 6-2, 180-pounder from Jupiter, is an outfielder-infielder.

AL BILSON, a 6-2, 185-lb. first baseman from Seminole, is an "outstanding hitter," said Holquist.

WES DARRELL is a pitcher from Redland, Cal., is a prospect at shortstop.

The only catcher expected to return from the '73 team are infielders Dave McLaughlin, Bill Larson and Greg Fosch, and outfielders Ron Beal, Dan Simdeo and Jeff Lewis. String has been designated team captain for the '74 season.

One girls out eligible this year but who has a potential star for 397, 5-6, 175 lb. Russ Colberg, a transfer from Northwestern. He was 6-1 overall for 27 years (21 in Big competition).

Other new recruits are as follows.

STEVE HARGIST, a pitcher from Huntington, Long Island, was drafted last Spring by the Cincinnati Reds but decided to play college ball, much to the delight of Holquist. He is a 6-2, 170 pound sophomore.

TOM PARISH, a 6-2, 175 lb. transfer from Valencia, was his team's leading hitter at .325 and can play any infield position.

CRAG BUTLER, was Howard Community College's (CC) leading hitter the last two years is an outstanding defensive outfielder.

STEVE CRUTCHER, a sophomore from Valencia, has hit over .300 the past two seasons batting in the leadoff spot.

TIM SMITH, as infielder from Sarasota, has already earned plunder from Holquist after only one game in the new season. "He's been greatly impressed," said Holquist, "especially since he's only a freshman. He makes all the plays at shortstop."

CARL VINCE GILBERT, a pitcher from Jupiter, is at FTU on a basketball scholarship, could also wind up in a base. D'anne McLean, 5-10, 150lb. Evans High grad is batting for the shortstop position.

LUIS ESCOBAR, a 27-year-old second baseman-outfielder is a native of Colombia and was the most valuable player in the 1973 Pan-American games, hitting two home runs against the United States team. Escobar went to Eastern Kentucky University two years ago and has "surprising power," according to Holquist.

MIKE D'AMICO, a 5-10, 150-lb. freshman from Fort Lauderdale, is an outfield prospect.

CHARLIE HORNE of Winter Park High, 6-0, 195-pounder, will back up Gattis behind the plate.

GREG LANDRUM, a 6-2, 180-pounder from Jupiter, is an outfielder-infielder.

AL BILSON, a 6-2, 185-lb. first baseman from Seminole, is an "outstanding hitter," said Holquist.

WES DARRELL is a pitcher from Redland, Cal., is a prospect at shortstop.

The only catcher expected to return from the '73 team are infielders Dave McLaughlin, Bill Larson and Greg Fosch, and outfielders Ron Beal, Dan Simdeo and Jeff Lewis. String has been designated team captain for the '74 season.

THE PERENNIAL top two franchises of the fall, the Buffer's and the Bombers, will be there this year again, and so should another which has again defended itself in the lower bracket behind the Tournament Winds men. The former champ has which an outside chance at all the marbles this year, and the newly-christened Alpha Chi Alpha, fraternity titlists three years ago.

On the independent side, the Bills, League leaders in a two-team affair between Faculty-Staff-and-Students and Bombers. However, the Gold League is anybody's guess with three new teams and two out-going returning squads.

ALPHA TAU OMEGA's team, 9-0 and campus champions last year, returns almost entirely intact and reinforced to pick them to repeat. Jim Pickersgill is outstanding passer who can also run with it if he has to, leads the high-scoring offense, and Brian Powers, last year's touchdown king, and Greg Ovel to throw to.

The following is this observer's opinion (with advice from many of the top leaders in the men's fraternity flag football league, independent teams who were covered next week after we get a handle of the first week's action. There are too many new players on independent teams to do a fair assessment on the talent before the season.

Fall Baseball League
Set As 'Proving Ground'

FTU's new look baseball squad lost its opening game in fall league play Monday to Stetson, 6-2, but still ought the junior college team eight run margin over another basemen.

As FTU coach Doug Houston pointed out, the league play is going to be a proving ground for his young players. Winning is a secondary objective at this time.

"I tried to use all the players who would make it to the games Monday," said Holmquist. "By the time the fall league is finished (11-20 games long) I should have a true indication of what we have this year."

For the Knights freshman find Jim Smith rapped out a pair of hits at second baseman Steve Ctncher, a Valence transfer. Ron Bebe got the only extra-base blow down the centerfielder's head leading to the only FTU run. Danny Paine, who ran for Bebe, came in on Craig Butler's sacrifice fly.

One of ATO's few new addittions may turn out to be the star of the receiving corps. Nathan Smith, 5'9" Park High griddler, has excellent speed, and he's a tough butter with broken-field running ability. The defense, led by Fred Mauzy, Larry Johnston and Garett Levesque, is not being burned by a single long pass last year. In the big win over TKE, ATO's defense was directly responsible for two of the Turnover.

This defense, however, probably belong to TKE, 7-1 in 72 and 6-2 only to ATO. 23-13. In the seven wins, TKE didn't allow one single point. Because the offense dominates, the defense may be stronger this time around with the addition of Steve McLaren. The other six starters all return including cornerback, Bob Vanderwater and safety Mike Murdock.

Quarterback Tom Denne, capably backed up by Steve Jackson, will throw to Murdock, Middlelinebacker, Donald Keller in the high-powered offense.

Quarterback John Shinman, probably better than either ATO circuit and this could be the key figure when teams face these two. The strength of the defense is in the pass rush of Howard Walda and Randy Street.

TIME Swimmer of the Meet, and the player who can also run with it, leads the high-scoring offense, and Brian Powers, last year's touchdown king, and Greg Ovel to throw to.

"I'll have to be able to go to my left," he added.

While scoring was Hall's forte, Smith's primary function was rebounding, especially after 6-9 Ed Phitt was lost for the season with a knee injury.

HALL and Smith are the top returnees for Coach Torrey Clark's 1973-1974 basketball team. Dave Hudick passing to Randy Arnett, Smith is more of an extrovert; Hall is the quieter of the two.

"This year I hope to be a better allrounder and more of a floor leader," said Hall. "I hope this will allow students to become more familiar with the team."
