The Faculty Senate approved a resolution recommending the abolition of the quarter system in favor of a modified semester plan in addition to two other resolutions in a meeting held Tuesday.

One of the reasons cited for the recommendation was Florida's lack of a common academic calendar at all levels of education.

The senate resolution states 98,000 students are presently enrolled in state supported institutions under the quarter system (nine senior institutions and two community colleges).

AT THE same time, 26 state supported community and junior colleges, under the semester system, have a cumulative enrollment of 110,000 students.

Dr. R. Phillip Taylor, chairman of the Faculty Senate, said, "I hope students realize that they will have to go to school for one week less under a modified semester plan than under the quarter system."

The main purpose for this recommendation is to make known to a state-wide task force working on a uniform academic calendar the feelings of the FTU faculty.

Taylor cited a survey conducted for the American Association of Collegiate Registrars and Admission Officers in which a nation-wide trend was found toward the adoption of a modified semester plan.

The senator also said only two registration periods would be required yearly, saving FTU approximately 80,000 in addition to a savings on books for students since they would only have to be bought twice instead of three times a year.

The specific Faculty Senate recommendation calls for a modified semester plan consisting of two 16 week semesters and a 12 week summer session divided into two six weeks terms.

Last year, a majority of FTU students polled at a referendum preferred the quarter system over a change to a modified semester plan.

The Faculty Senate also approved, on recommendation of the Steering Committee, a resolution to poll the faculty on FTU's name change.

The resolution called for polling of the name on three choices for a name change in addition to a choice to keep the name and a fourth category for those wanting to specify another name.

After discussion, the resolution was passed by a margin of one vote.

The senate resolution states Florida's recommendation was included in 71,000 resolutions approved in a meeting held Wednesday on the American Association of Collegiate Registrars and Admission Officers in which a nation-wide trend was found toward the adoption of a modified semester plan.

Elections for Student Government (SG) offices in the senate will be held Thursday, Oct. 18 and 19, at the Kiosk, Village Center and Library.

Students will be able to vote between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. both days, and 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. on Thursday. Tabulation of the results will begin at 4:30 p.m. Friday, and the results should be available by 6 p.m.

Constantine. The final clearance will probably come by next week, said Constantine.

The candidates will be holding a "Meet the Candidates" forum next week on the Village Green or the VC Assembly Room, in case of inclement weather. Candidates will be available for a question and answer session at that time.

Students are reminded to present their student ID cards when casting their vote.

The following is a list of the colleges and their candidates:

Tabulation of the results will begin at 4:30 p.m. Friday, and the results should be available by 6 p.m., said SG Election Commissioner Thom Costa.

The results will not be final, however, until each candidate turns in an expense account and is certified by SG President Lee Constantine. The final clearance will probably come by next week, said Constantine.

"FITU's procedure of electing SG senators is unique among state universities, as each student only votes for candidates in his own class and college," said Constantine.

Each class and college is allowed a specific number of senate seats based on its individual enrollment. This year there are 40 and 47 potential seats open. To date there are 47 tentative candidates, who are subject to review and clearance concerning their qualifications for office.

FTU Debate Team Wins Consistently

The debate team prepares for tournaments by doing constant research on a topic chosen for the entire year. Research begins in the summer. The topic is tournaments by doing constant research throughout the entire year. Research begins in the summer. The topic is tournaments by doing constant research. FTU has now entered the State Debate Championship, defeating teams from around the state, including the University of Florida and Florida State University.

Florida universities and colleges formed a union two years ago to foster an intercollegiate debate within the state and to sponsor a state-wide tournament. So far FTU has been the only active state champion. John Butler, FTU debate coach, said, "There is a great deal of physical competition available at FTU. In addition, debate offers an opportunity to improve your oral skills." Butler added, "Debate helps the reputation of FTU throughout the Southeast and the nation." The FTU squad has accumulated a long and impressive list of victories. FTU has topped Harvard, MIT, Notre Dame, Houston, Alabama, Ohio State, LSU, Wake Forest, Duke and others in intercollegiate competition.

Collective Bargaining Imminent For Profs

Richard Hixon, director of higher education for the Florida Education Association (FEA), told FTU professors that collective bargaining for university teachers is imminent. Hixon spoke to Oct. 3 to members of the FTU chapter of the American Association of University Professors.

"A union without the right to strike is no union," Hixon, who predicted the Florida Supreme Court will rule in favor of collective bargaining, said. "Collective bargaining will grant the right to strike." Within two years, professors in the State University System will have the right to negotiate with the Board of Regents on matters of salary, teaching conditions, procedures and fringe benefits.

"The professor at FTU will have to accept collective bargaining," Hixon, "We're no longer a question of whether you want it or not."

A recent questionnaire revealed 30 per cent of FTU professors favor collective bargaining, compared to 70 per cent nationally.

After Hixon's talk, the group heard from Robert Blume, vice president of the Florida chapter of the Florida Higher Education Association; Amado Nasario of the Seminole Higher Education Association; and John Goree, president of the FEA, who urged unity among all members of the teaching profession.

Placement Center Offers Aids

Approximately 50 employees, both local and national, have scheduled on-campus interviews for graduating students and alumni for this fall quarter.

In order for the Placement Center to provide the necessary placement credentials, resumes and recommendations, it is important to register with the center approximately three quarters prior to graduation.

The 1974 college placement annuals are available in the center. Seniors who have completed their placement interviews are requested to obtain their copies in the Administration Building room 235.
Editorial

FTU Sheeplunks Require Revision

IN THE PAST, it was common practice to acknowledge a student's major area at the completions of his studies by the colleges of Social Science, Education and Natural Sciences. These colleges comprised the majority of students graduating from FTU. The student's major area of study was placed on the diploma next to his earned degree.

This was a means by which students were lastingly reminded that the "Accent on the Individual" motto was not just words on paper.

It has been brought to the attention of this newspaper that the previous habit is dying and dissuaded with what one student called a "degree in vagueness."

THE ELIMINATION of majors being listed on diplomas was resolved by the Dean's Council. Whether any student input was sought is unknown. The news media, at least from this campus, was not invited to attend the meetings or made aware of the outcome.

It seems that this policy change was an effort to "hurry up and be done" with the process of inordinately complexing Cost. was not THE major factor for the policy change but rather because it would be easier to make the lettering on the diploma.

It is the hope of this news paper that students will take notice of this issue and resolve to do something about it by letting their feelings be known to this paper and to the president of this university.

DR. LEALAND JACKSON, assistant vice president of Academic Affairs, said that if petitions were signed, he would bring the matter before the Council again.

We appeal to President Millican to intervene in this matter on behalf of the students. In last week's editorial we expressed the view that recognition of FTU's reputation could be enhanced, perhaps not by a new name, but by maintaining and strengthening our "Accent on the Individual" and "...On Excellent Education."

A DIPLOMA is a small reflection of four years of hard work and service. It should and it does reflect the university's attitude toward the student.

It is our duty as students that the FTU motto "Accent on the Individual" is more than a Catchy phrase aimed at recruiting new students.

WELL HERE I am dreaming of Pequot University again. My goal is a strange campus.

And the strange part isn't the gardners with the badges nor the "Ladies who Lunch." It's the people on the campus.

They are cliqueish, clannish and cold.

You wake up to reality and a nightmare really hits you -- this is reality! The unfriendliness is right here and now. I'm not the first to observe this catastrophe either.

ATTENDANTS from the University of Florida, Florida State University and the University of South Florida, as well as from many community colleges, have noticed that the majority of students at FTU are cliquish, cliannish and cold.

The main source of the problem is obvious -- there is no university community at FTU. The resident population here is so small it only adds another clique to this overstocked fishpond.

Because this is more a "community" college than most institutions labeled in this category, FTU college life (sports, student government, clubs, activities, etc.), according to Dr. Richard Tucker, a professor of psychology, "merely impinges on the student's own environment. The distance to the campus for the average commuter prevents many from participating in the college atmosphere."

While at most universities the fraternities and sororities tend to accent the college spirit, at FTU they are a top contender for a clique group and merely detract from the college atmosphere.

It does not take a genius to see that getting into a Greek house (I was with an Elk's lodge in the back). Frat parties can be cliqueish, but it was the only display of honest friendship and expense.

Tryouts To Be Held

The FTU Theatre will hold tryouts for its second production of the season, R. C. Sherriff’s “Journey’s End,” on Oct. 22 and 23 in AD 110, according to director David Maya. Specific times for the auditions are 4-6 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. on Monday, Oct. 22, and 9:30-10:30 p.m. Oct. 23.

“Everybody’s welcome,” Maya said, "whether they have experience or not." Eleven men are needed for this World War I melodrama.

“Journey’s End” has been a phenomenal success since its opening in 1929. Hailed as one of the greatest war plays ever written, it has been performed all over the world.

Most recently revived in London in 1972, it was called a “play of almost overwhelming power,” and a “gripping portrait of brave men at war” by the Daily Mail. The London Times regarded this play as a “work of growing intensity and tension as its characters await with stolid courage a German attack on their dugout in the trenches of France.”

Production dates for “Journey’s End” are Dec. 6-8 in the University Theatre.

RUDOLF N. PERUF

Hard-to-open doors are another source of trouble.

“Actually, it’s a problem of air conditioning,” said Peruf, explaining that doors must be strong enough to stay closed against the pressure of air conditioning. A solution may be found when locksmiths examine the possibility of loosening the tension while allowing doors to remain closed against the internal pressure.

When asked about similar problems at other universities, Peruf replied he had never heard of any such complaints at the monthly meetings of physical plant directors; "but," he added, "I had planned to bring up the subject at this month’s meeting."

No one knows just how long it will take to complete the planned improvements, but as Neuhaus concluded, "There are no overnight miracles, but we’re chipping away at it."

Safety belts, when you think about it, it’s a nice way to say I love you.

FTU Enrollment Figures Grow

Final registration lists, distributed to FTU professors last Friday, indicate an increased enrollment of 1,000 students over last year. The figures were released by the Office of Academic Affairs.

Headcount figures show enrollment at 14,410, including employees and students who have not paid their fees. The projected number of full-time fee-paying students is down from 6,080 last year to 3,128.

Coleman Visits FTU

Orange County Sheriff Mel Coleman and Director of the Orange County Correctional Institution, Col. James Shoultz, visited Dr. Charles M. Unkor's criminalology class last week.

In his talk to the class, Coleman said his main problem was "cliffing" a rural law enforcement agency.

"About 65 per cent of the population of Orange County live in unincorporated areas," said Coleman. "If our presence is felt, we can deter crime," he continued.

During a question and answer period that followed, Coleman said a federally funded co-op program for part-time work was available to full-time college students interested in corrections or law enforcement.

Shoultz told the class his problem was working in a facility built at a time when jailers thought in medieval terms and built the physical plant for overall maximum security.

Shoultz said the jail was never designed to be a scenario for corrections and the many programs such as high school classes, library and vocational rehabilitation are difficult to present in such an institution.

Shoultz said there is a separate internship in corrections for six weeks in the summer for 12 credit hours.

The enrollment figures show 1,814 men and 2,596 women enrolled for fall quarter.

Enrollment figures show that the College of Education with 1,826 students, followed closely by the College of Business Administration, with 1,626 students.

Enrollment at 7,100, including women enrolled for fall quarter.

The figures were released by the Academic Affairs.

The enrollment figures distributed to employes and students who have not paid their fees.

Students interested in corrections or law enforcement are difficult to present in such an institution.

FTU students are invited to make the BACK DOOR their entertainment night spot. Monday is "Guys and Dolls Night"; ladies for the girls will be served for $5.95. Cast Chosen
For Classic

The FTU Theatre recently announced the cast for its first production of the season. Appearing in William Gibson's modern classic "The Miracle Worker" will be BarbaraJean Bonn as Annie Sullivan, Carol Wilde as the Young Helen Keller, Bill Griffin as Captain Keller, Donna Perlovolk as his wife and Denise Long as Aunt Ev.

Others in the cast include Gracie Muller, Larry Turner and Donna Medley, Director Fran Johnson said, "I'm pleased with this cast more than I can tell you. There was a large turnout for auditions, the choirs were more difficult than ever, and I know we've got the best.

Dr. David Mays, director of the University Theatre, announced, "The Miracle Worker" will open at the Science Auditorium on Nov. 1 for a three-night run. "It's a great choice for a season opener," Mays added. "The Miracle Worker" has been considered a classic since its opening in 1959. It has humor, pathos, compassion and real dramatic power."

Tickets for the performances will go on sale Wednesday, Oct. 31, at the theatre department. The play is free to all FTU students and tickets may be obtained by presentation of an ID card.

Time Flies From Fall Registration

The 24-hour clock used by students at registration time has been missing since the morning of Sept. 20, according to the Registrar's Office. Isaac Knight, director of records and registration, would like the clock returned by Dec. 5.

If the clock is not returned by then, a new clock will be ordered. And that, Knight said, means students will not have a 24-hour clock to conveniently verify their registration time next quarter.

The $38 clock is 15 inches wide. Its face is shielded by a magnifying glass cover so the time can be read from as far away as 30 feet, Knight said.

“Whoever took it, lock it from the students,” Chapman said.

Both men agree the return of the clock will in no way affect the school record of those involved in its theft. The Registrar’s Office is not interested in who took the clock, only in its return.

If you know where the clock is, call the FTU office at 275-2865.

Aikido Offered

In response to student requests for a speaker on Aikido, the Village Center will present a lecture-demonstration on the art by FTU student Jerald Brown at 11 a.m. Tuesday, Oct. 16, on the VC patio.

Brown, who will also instruct Aikido classes beginning Oct. 22, has studied this newest of the Japanese martial arts for five years.

"If you're attacked," he continued, "you use your own mental strength and the other man's hostility against him. Mental, not physical, strength is what counts, making Aikido ideal for people of any age or sex."

CROCE SPECIAL

A thirty minute color special entitled "A Tribute To Jim Croce" will be broadcast this Sunday at 6:30 p.m. on Channel 24, WMFE-TV. The program will be rebroadcast the following Monday at 10:30 p.m.

The half-hour special, produced by WTTW of Chicago, was filmed only about a week before Jim Croce's death. The special is a live performance by the rock star in an informal nightclub setting. Jim Croce and members from his back-up band, who are also seen in the special, were killed recently when their small airplane crashed.

Also this Sunday at 7:30 p.m., Channel 24 begins the first of the "One of a Kind" series by the Public Broadcasting Service.

CAMPUS CARNIVAL

A carnival will be sponsored by Delta Sigma Pi and Phi Chi Theta, two campus business fraternities Wednesday. The carnival will run from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. and will be located between the Engineering Building and Village Center.

COMPUTERIZATION OF FINANCIAL AID

Computerization of student financial aid applications, processing and accounting will result in better service to the students by allowing instant evaluation of available financial aid funds, said Joseph Gomez, FTU comptroller.

Computerization will probably not meet original deadlines because of current priorities, Gomez added.

Each state university is developing computerization techniques in a given area to facilitate administrative and management functions.

After successful trial and completion, each computerized technique will be modified and adopted by the other state universities.

FTU is assigned development of computerized techniques for handling financial aid applications, processing and accounting.

SKYWATCH

The Physics Society will host a skywatch to observe stars and planets Monday and Wednesday at 8 p.m., weather permitting.

CIVILIAN VOLUNTEER SECURITY PROGRAM

Members of local law enforcement agencies met last week to discuss the establishment of a volunteer civilian security program. The purpose of the program is to provide additional security in the area, help reduce crime, and provide a positive community influence. The agencies are currently recruiting volunteers and will conduct a training program to prepare them for the responsibilities of the volunteer security officers.

ANNUAL FALL EXHIBITION

The annual fall exhibition of works by local artists will open on October 15 at the City Arts Center, located on the bluff overlooking the river. The exhibition will feature a wide variety of paintings, sculptures, and photographs, all created by artists from our region. The works will be displayed for two weeks, with a reception on the opening night at 7 p.m. The exhibition is free and open to the public, and the center will be open extended hours during the exhibition period.

FTU Riddles Tampa, 6-0
By Larry McCorkle
"WE'RE playing the way we've supposed to," they were the words from FTU head coach, Jim Rudin, after his team returned the University of Tampa, 6-0, last Saturday for their second straight win.

Excellent passingいった combinations fused FTU shooters through the porous Tampa defense resulting in an amazing 44 shots on goal.

"WE PALTED near Duvivier hall in the first half," said Rudin. Indeed, FTU scored four of their six goals and missed about four or five other close chances.

"Everyone is going to score," said the coach who used all 27 players. Toward the end of the game, Rudy switched his defensive team to defense and vice versa. Still, Bill Hughes, a defensive fulback, managed a goal just before the end of the game.

The first goal came on a Bob Steadman kick from an excellent pass from Tom Barber. Dave Andreadis scored his second goal of the season with an assist from Mark Johnson.

The third goal came on a kick by Charlie (Booey-Booem) Campbell from a rebound from a Dean Andreadis switch with Tom Barber, Bob Steadman and Dennis Jessen.

RUDY is very high on the team," said Johnson. "He's helping us develop a style of play," said Rudy. "He keeps the ball moving." The game was the third straight win for Tampa, and could clinch the championship.

WALDO WILLIAMS was one of the most sought after high school football players in the state during the 1971 season. His Friday night performances had college scouts falling over each other in efforts to recruit him.

He was recognized by the Orlando Sentinel as the area's outstanding player and achieved All-American honors in 1972. He is one of the most exceptional players in the university's history.

However, the decision was marred by various circumstances -- including a season-ending injury. He was again approached by a professional football team, but the offer was turned down. Instead, he decided to concentrate on his football career.

The first team that won the Maryland Junior College Invitational Tournament last year was Kappa Alpha. That team included several040-4000

F&S, Bombers Vie In Week's Top Independent Game

Contenders ATO LXA Battle Monday scheduled for 5 p.m.

THE DECIDING factor in the game will be the offensive line. Waldo is a great athlete and has size, speed and strength. He is as quick as a kitten and can run over defenders. He has excellent vision and can change direction quickly. He is also a great blocker and can deliver a hard block to his opponent.

But without the familiar team, it was like trying to fill a hole in an airplane crash. As he settled the cross, he found a place to rest supplies to the area's stock." The result was a 25-10 defeat.

But with the familiar "21" nailing night field, the Bucs had trouble playing. 400 ball all year.

And the Bucs won the pennant.

Back in Spring training in April, I went to the Pirates' training camp. It was a new experience for me. I found myself sitting in an open field.

I said my goodbyes to Waldo and walked away. I knew he would be missed. I knew he was a part of something special. I knew he would be missed.

He was one of the greatest athletes to ever play baseball. He was a true team player and always put the team first. He was a role model for everyone.

And so were the Pirates.

Oh, they didn't know it. They approached spring training with the purpose of dedicating the season to Waldo. After all, they did not have a lineup of hitters resembling the N.Y. Mets and the Chicago Cubs. "We have thrown Murder Row," they said.

But they were wrong. They were wrong.

They were wrong. They were wrong.

They were wrong. They were wrong.

They were wrong. They were wrong.

They were wrong. They were wrong.
