Mass Transit Group Seeks Express Bus

Armed with computer-analyzed data and meeting the energy crisis head-on, the committee, chaired by Dr. George F. Schrader, is working with both the Tri-County Transit Authority and the State Department of Transportation to establish express bus service to FTU. An implementation date for the program has not been projected.

The computer analysis used by the committee is the result of a survey given to students in October. An implementation date for the program has not been projected. The major objectives of the survey were to determine...
Alumni Get Newsletter

The first issue of an FTU alumni newsletter was mailed to over 4,500 graduates at the end of last quarter.

Christine Thomas, a secretary in the Cooperative Education office, said the idea for the newsletter was conceived as a result of the controversy over the name change and the need for keeping the alumni informed. Thomas said the voice of the alumni group is extremely important and that the graduate newsletter will spur graduates to a continued interest in the university. She said response to the first newsletter was good. Co-editors Christine Thomas and Lorna Chamberlin, 1970 graduates, hope to continue publication quarterly.

At the present time the newsletter is being financed through the office of Student Affairs under the account of Vice President Rex Brown, with no cost to the graduate. Other means of financing the newsletter are now being considered. Graduates who wish to receive the newsletter may be assessed at graduation to entitle all graduates to receive the newsletter and thereby insure its continuance.

The newsletter may be a first step toward an active alumni association, according to Thomas. The Alumni Association was chartered by the state in 1970, but has not been organized.

SG vs. Staff

The Student Affairs staff challenged members of Student Government (SG) to a basketball game, scheduled for 6 p.m. Jan. 16, proceeding the FTU vs. New York Institute of Technology game at the Orlando High gym.

"We're going to get killed," said Constantine, SG president, "but we'll be proud of it." According to a memorandum sent to Constantine by Dr. W. Rex Brown, vice president for student affairs, the challenge will give SG a chance to regain dignity lost when trounced in a softball game during the summer.

The half-time show during the game will be a one-to-one basketball contest between Brown and Manuel Rodriguez, SG staff member.

Pamphlet Reviewed

Student Government's birth control pamphlet is tentatively set for distribution next quarter's pro-registration in early March, according to SG President Lee Constantine.

Final editing of the 12-page manual was done this week by author Constantine and co-author Barry Milneod, a former FTU student.

Constantine said he will send the pamphlet to Vice President for Student Affairs W. Rex Brown in a couple of weeks, so that Brown may read the manual and suggest any alterations in context.

"Vice President Brown will not approve or disapprove the pamphlet," Constantine said, "but just read it over for clarity."
Evaluation Committee Standardizes Form

By Steve Paulson

The two-year-old problem of faculty evaluations could be resolved as early as spring quarter, according to the Committee on Evaluation of Faculty Chairmen Gordon McAlster said Monday.

The committee was appointed by Dr. C.R. Gambrell, vice-president for academic affairs, to develop a standardized form for standardized evaluation of faculty members.

The university has given each department chairman the option of using the standardized form or adopting his own evaluation form.

The newly formed committee has already adopted eight areas which will be included on the standardized evaluation. According to McAlster, the questions were concerned with the professor’s preparation for class, a demonstrated interest in students, and a demonstrated interest in the subject.

McAlster said a prototype questionnaire will be ready for winter quarter, to decide the effectiveness of the measuring instrument. The evaluations will be used on a random sample basis for trial purposes only, and the results of the total evaluation will not be turned over to department chairman. The final draft is planned to be ready for spring quarter, he said.

McAlster said the committee will have to surmount the same obstacles which delayed the Faculty Senate.

“We’re going to have the same problems it did in coming up with a standardized form,” he said. “Hopefully, they will adopt our form or at least some of the questions for their own forms. This is our goal, anyway.”

Vehicle Survey

Brumbaugh explained, "I wanted to kill two birds with one stone. I was hoping to get people talking about the energy crisis at that time, and at the same time, talking about mathematics, which is my primary concern.

Students with auditory perception problems are involved in a taped exercise with the FTU television studio to measure their learning progress over periods of time.

Twelve students, ages 6-12, of PACE School in Orlando were filmed in a normal classroom situation dealing with phonetics in the studio Tuesday morning with the expectation of demonstrating learning programs when the tapes are reviewed in May.

Student Offers Internships

The program provides a training ground for prospective staff members of legislative and executive agencies. It allows students to participate in the real world of government and furthers the research and data gathering capacities of the legislature and legislature.

Applications will be accepted on or before Feb. 1. To obtain applications or information regarding the Legislative Internship Program, contact the Internship Faculty Representative, Dr. Robert E. Hight, at CIS 409, ext. 2656.

Communications between Food Service management and customers is vital. In order to improve our service to our customers; we must hear a means of communicating problems with the management so that they can be investigated and, hopefully, resolved.

In order to better accomplish this, a Food Service Advisory Committee has been formed, basically with resident student members. The committee will meet on regular basis with John R. Williams, director of administrative services, and Bill Boine, cafeteria manager, in order to discuss and solve problems that students feel exist in the Food Service Operations.

Students, please contact one of the members of this committee with questions, problems, suggestions and/or recommendations you have with respect to any aspect of Food Service. Each member will attempt to assist you in the discussion and, hopefully, resolve the matter.

The State University System initiated a program to retrain professors in areas where the university perceives a need. The State has a relatively new university and none of the faculty members are on tenure as of Sept. 1973. Ellis is already in the process of selecting and training professors for the 1974-75 program. He said he believes that at least one faculty member will qualify. Deans of each college have been notified to review their faculties and to notify names of professors who meet the requirements. Nominations for the program must be submitted by date for consideration.

A request for $600,000 to fund next year’s program has not yet been submitted.
As 1974 gets under way, we feel it fitting to outline some of the improvements and goals the FutUre intends to work for during the next few quarters. We believe the university community of these now, and continuing to focus attention on these areas in forthcoming issues, is our intention to act on as a fourth quarter should serve to better this university by seeing answers to problems through regular channels, but not hesitate to use other means if that fails.

FACULTY EVALUATIONS

For as long as the FutUre has existed, students, faculty members, and administration have clamored for an effective and speedily tabulated evaluation form that will cut out the drudgery of other than boosting paperweights. While various groups are working on the perfect solution to please both the faculty and administration, the FutUre intends it to be the very possible to have at least yearly faculty evaluations in every student's hand.

HOUSING

If FTU's campus is more lifeless or apathetic than the average one, you may feel this in particular. With nearly six per cent of PTU students who are making this university their home, it's no wonder few students take time to get involved with projects and issues. We hope to keep the need for more meaning before the eyes of PTU students and administration and state officials.

FOOD SERVICE

Very closely related to student concerns and of concern to commuters also, is the service the FTU cafeteria and Snack Bar have or have not rendered to this university. Although Food Service was plagued by increased prices and decreasing quality in the past, we feel the problem of mismanagement will disappear through the efforts of the new Food Service head.

EXPANDED COVERAGE

Resulting from our emphasis on exchanging FTU news with other universities, the FutUre plans to present to our readers relevant happenings from other campuses and the nation in an effort to bring in fresh ideas and thoughts.

CASE TRANSIT

At a time when the whole nation is reacting (perhaps overreacting in some cases) to the energy crisis, FTU has a chance to set an example in reducing gas consumption. With Student Government and the administration throwing money, time and effort behind car pooling and mass transit, we hope to open an inductive campus for students who dare take it for a spin. Should any student challenge this, we will be commending the faculty and administration for its commendable effort.

NEW YEAR STARTED IN OLD STYLE

Some PTU students and faculty members started the new quarter Jan. 4—thousands of others waited until Jan. 7. While this whole-hearted commitment to the energy crisis, FTU students and others, we're trying to open deserves. Student Government and the administration should accompany any such change. By informing the university community of these actions now, and continuing to focus attention on these areas in forthcoming issues, it is our intention to act on as a fourth quarter should serve to better this university by seeing answers to problems through regular channels, but not hesitate to use other means if that fails.

Happy (?) New Year!

Editor: I would like to take this opportunity to hereby join the friends and family of the PTU TKO organization in a warm salute to the outstanding group of men. Their attributes are far too numerous to list here, but what I would personally like to commend is their ability to escape the scene of the crime, pranks to vandalism and personal property damage. Quite an admirable accomplishment indeed.

Columnist: I claim no affiliation with this fine group; my affiliation is with a man who is involved with another fraternity who believe whole-heartedly in the "Greek traditions." Being an independent, I have only a vague notion of what this means. I do know, however, that the concept of the fraternity system does not include vandalism and property damage.

On New Year's Eve, his car being unoccupied, a TKE member was parked in the lot outside his apartment. A TKE party was in progress in the adjacent apartment. During the course of the evening, a group of slovenly, drunken TKE's were apprehended, get pranks to vandalism and personal property damage by the car owner's roommate. When he and the car's owner returned, the hood was down on the car that the TKO's were back at their party. Wires displaced, nails driven through tires, etc., was an enormous New Year's celebration those TKO's had!

I'm sure the FTU TKO chapter is much too modest to let its national organization know how ingenious it is at holing huts, but I want to do my small part to help TKO get that recognition it deserves.

Happy New Year TKO's!
Inasmuch as the Student Co-Op Council wishes to continue to cooperate with Student Government, we again requesting assistance to obtain small club's request, I believe that you can appreciate the need for organization on campus to be involved in educational as well as related community activities. Therefore, Lee Constantine's purchase of stock in his Junior Achievement company and by SG's increased participation in community-related activities.

Our organization fails to recognize approved student organization with over 250 members who activities benefit all students on campus, does not Constantine Reviews Student Co-Op Dilemma

Editor:

I wish to clear up some misconceptions that might persisit concerning the letter from the FTU Student Co-Op Council.

At that time, after numerous other meetings with Co-Op representatives, I explained to Mr. Haddad the reasons why the Projects and Programs Committee of the Student Senate and the Special Committee for the Allocation of Clubs & Organizations' Account both rejected his club's request for $300 to sponsor the Junior Achievement company. The Projects and Programs Committee, which allocates the Inter-University Programming Account of the Student Government Budget, ruled that the request was not consistent with the Student Statute, which states "COMPANIES WILL NOT BE ALLOWED according to their relative merit, and the number and strength of the clubs, they would benefit. Any programs which are not open to participation by all members of the Student Body will be disallowed." The Committee felt that students of FTU could not properly use the sponsorship of a Junior Achievement organization, and that it would not benefit a substantial number of FTU students.

The Special Committee for the Allocation of Clubs & Organizations Account rejected the request of the Co-Op Council since they ruled that it did not qualify for funds from the Clubs & Organizations Account. Student Statute 5-5 states "money should be spent for the operational aspects of the organization which includes small club projects expressly requested." Since the request for $300 was 10% of the $3,000 budget allocation in the Clubs & Organizations Account and there are over 100 clubs on campus, an allotment of $300 would have been a huge chunk of the total budget.

I do believe that the Projects & Programs Committee of the Student Senate was not expressing or attempting to inform the Student Co-Op Council of their decision. However, I also must admit that I was not very pleased to meet with Mr. Haddad at the Co-Op Council concerning the "misconception" until Fred Haddad's letter.

At the meeting of Dec. 19, I informed Fred that the only way to remove a Student Government for this project would be to go through the Unallocated Account of the Senate. I also informed him that it was not a dislike of the Co-Op Council, but of their request that caused rejection. Any project which did not violate the Statutes, as this one did, would have a good chance of passage. I suggested that he seek other avenues, such as money for projects, for the needed funds.
Characterizations Enhance Appeal Of 'Journey's End' Performance

By Weber Ivy

Last Dec. 7, I saw the FTU production of "Journey's End," a play by R.C. Sherriff about a company of English soldiers in World War I who are waiting in their dugout for an attack by Germans encamped a mere 70 yards away.

"Journey's End" draws its strength from its fine balance of characters, and most of the FTU actors were happily suited to their roles. Bill Griffiths had the demanding lead role of Captain Stanhope, the company commander. I was impressed by his handling of Stanhope's wild mood changes and the way he was able to simultaneously project his strengths and weaknesses.

Osborne, the company's second commander played by Jim Kerlin, offset Stanhope's personality with a quieter and perhaps stronger kind of "grace under pressure.

Scott Buxton, as Second Lieutenant Raleigh, also gave us a believable character in his portrayal of the new, inexperienced young soldier who practically worshipped Raleigh's portrayal of the new, inexperienced young soldier who was able to simultaneously project his strengths and weaknesses.

I did have some reservations about the pacing, which dragged at times, especially at the beginning. John Gilmore, as Captain Hardy, had an irritating habit of reading his lines instead of speaking them and grasping their content. I missed some lines due to the actors failure to show courage and anger to Stanhope when the play called for it.

Hibbert, played by Randy Fountain, was the least admirable of the characters, but playwright Sherriff resisted the temptation to write him off as a simple case of cowardice, uncomplicated by redeeming traits. Fountain seemed to know this, and portrayed Hibbert in a way that stirred compassion rather than contempt.

Ivy, the executive officer Osborne, (Jim Kerlin), left, lends encouragement to Captain Stanhope (Bill Griffiths) during Act I of "Journey's End", presented last quarter by the University Theater.

SUS Fringe Benefits

Suggestions for improving the State University System (SUS) position on fringe benefits were discussed at a recent meeting in Tallahassee of the Faculty Salary Study Committee and SUS staff members. According to Dr. George Bedes, SUS personnel and family relations director, fringe benefits for SUS faculty members, administrative and professional personnel are among the lowest in the nation.

Director of Personnel Services, J. Thomas Simmons, represented FTU at the meeting.

CAREERS AT THE NATIONAL SECURITY AGENCY:

Because of the nature and scope of the National Security Agency's mission, we can offer job challenge and career opportunities that are impossible to match.

At NSA, we are responsible for designing and developing secure inviolable communications and EDP systems to transmit, receive and analyze much of our nation's most vital information. The advancing technologies applied in this work are such that they will frequently take you beyond the known and accepted boundaries of knowledge. Consequently, your imagination and resourcefulness are essential qualifications for success.

The Career Scene at NSA. Engineers will find work which is performed nowhere else. Devices and systems are constantly being developed which are the most advanced in the world. As an Agency engineer, you will carry out research, design, development, testing and evaluation of sophisticated, large-scale, computer-automated simulation and EDP systems.

You may also participate in related studies of electromagnetic propagation, upper atmosphere phenomena, and solid state devices using the latest equipment for advanced research within NSA's fully instrumented laboratories.

Mathematicians define, formulate and solve complex communications-related problems. Statistical mathematics, matrix algebra, and computer-related analysis are but a few of the topics applied by Agency mathematicians.

Opportunities for contributions in computer science and theoretical research are also offered.

Computer Scientists participate in systems analysis and systems programming related to advanced scientific and operational applications. Software design and development is included, as well as support in hardware design, development and modification.

Starting salaries are based on education and experience, and increase as you assume additional responsibility. Further, you will enjoy the varied career benefits and other advantages of Federal employment without the necessity of Civil Service certification.

Check with your Placement Office for further information about NSA, or write to Chief, College Relations Branch, whether the Paulists Directory, Ft. George G. Meade, Md. 20755, Attn: M321. An equal opportunity employer, U.S. F. NATIONAL SECURITY AGENCY.

Holiday Season Not Too Merry for FTU

By Fred Cay

For about an hour last Saturday afternoon it looked as though FTU would have that long-anticipated first win over arch-rival University of Florida. However, the world was turned upside down when the final three matches resulted in a win as exciting as a 27-15 decision at the FTU Village Center that wasn’t too easy in fact.

"We looked good most of the way," commented a disappointed Coach Gergley, "but finally lost the match.

"But we lost those last two and that was the whole thing." FTU held a 13-lead after only four matches and still was only tied at 15 going into the deciding final two matches. Henry Jackson, Florida 190-pounder, pinned Randy Jessee at 7:38 of the scheduled eight-minute and thirteen-second match. Mike Stroudhank pinned FTU 126-pounder, Bing Chen. Both pins, of course, counted six points resulting in the final 12-point margin.

"The score really didn’t indicate the type of match it was," Gergley pointed out. "Florida’s tough, tough, can’t say we shouldn’t be in the top 20 of Division 1. They’ll win the Southeastern conference, too. They’ve already beaten Auburn by a big score (35-9) and Auburn was last year’s SRC champs."

Florida coach Keith Tennant was quick to agree with Gergley on the true nature of the match.

"It was just like when we came down here last year and beat them (14 points). They said they had everything going their way up to 150-pounds. They haven’t beaten us yet but they come close every time."

Tennant also insisted that this was "one of my best teams," and expressed admiration at the way they fought back.

"Coach Gergley’s really made giant strides in just last three years, though," he continued. "Our program itself is only five years old so we’re trying to build our matches with FTU into a good rivalry."

FTU’s biggest break undoubtedly came at 142 pounds when Florida’s Bob Davis suffered an injured knee and had to default the match to Bing Chen. That six-point win gave FTU its important leading 13-3 margin.

Best individual performances for FTU were turned in by Buzz Elmore (134-pounder) and Lisemion and 134-pound Pat Belotte.

Florida had previously defeated Murphy in the Georgia Wrestling Federation event, took second as the Knights dominated the board.

Tennant also admitted that though he had lost to twice in the Georgia Open, he had lost to twice in the Georgia Open.

The loss was only the first for the Knights in five matches but FTU will get its opportunity for revenge on Jan. 22 when the Gators again visit the FTU Village Center for a dual meet.

***

The Knights’ last two dual meet victories came at the expense of the University of Tennessee at Chattanooga, 25-14, and Georgia Tech, 25-14. Those matches were on the weekend of Dec. 7 and the close of the fall season. FTU then participated in the Georgia Tech Invitational in Atlanta Dec. 14-15 and the Sunshine Open Invitational with a partial squad Dec. 27-29.

Murphy, Elmore got his mates off and rolling with a 4:03 pin over Matt Bell and Murphy whipsed Joe Ramos, 5-2.

Assistant coach John Rouse, who wrestled in the Sunshine Open since it was a United States Wrestling Federation event, took second as a heavyweight.

Swim Club

Drive Starts

All FTU students interested in forming a swim and dive club are asked to sign up at one of several locations-801 810 VCR or PE Office. Forms will then be given out and should be filled out and returned before Jan. 18. At that time, a meeting of all those interested will be scheduled to discuss the most of the sport facilities.

Additional questions should be directed to Tom Harmon at ext. 2429 or 2401.
Big IM Sports Week Set

By Fred Gay

Undoubtedly the most active intramural sports week of the year starts Monday with men’s basketball and women’s speedball. The IM directors set for men’s independent basketball and women’s speedball as well as men’s handball doubles.

Steadman was one free throw contest will be held Thursday and coed bowling is set for Saturday, Jan. 18. And believe it or not, women’s flag football has one last hurrah. women’s soccer is having a big week with the championship playoff between GDI and Tri-Delta which couldn’t have happened last year. Being handicapped, Steadman, at 5-8 and mid-fielder with exceptional soccer skills in all areas. His greatest attribute is fantastic endurance.

Sigma Chi Faces Crucial Cage Tests

SIGMA CHI無 Router

Bob Steadman, FITU’s all time leader in virtually every soccer category, received probably the “greatest honor ever awarded to an FTU athlete” as he was picked to play in the Senior Bowl Soccer Tournament played last Saturday in the Ybori Tennis Hall.

Sigma Chi’s coach, Jim Rudy said that Steadman, who took up soccer as an afterthought instead of football, is probably the “best soccer player to come out of the Orlando-Winter Park area.”

The Winter Park native was the first player substituted in the game at the 15-minute mark. And he remained on the field until the very end. Broadly, the whole team of which he was a member dominated the game (29 shots to 11), but lost 1-0. But Steadman made his mark from the very moment he entered the game as he immediately responded with an acrobatic flying header which sailed the ball thirty yards downfield.

“I was particularly pleased with the way he ran to the open spaces,” said Rudy. “Many times his teammates missed him, but the average spectator wouldn’t have noticed it.”

Many of the athletes came into the game with all-academic credentials, but according to Rudy Steadman impressed many people including coaches and even some of the seniors of national teams with the way he played.

One fan raving of Steadman at the Team Ball was FITU President Charles Millican.

Chris Polkowski, a Sentinel Star reporter who has covered many soccer games, was impressed with Steadman and role him even with most of the players on the field. Polkowski also noted that Steadman and the Rollins’ goalie Ted Marsh, also from Winter Park, are two Floridians that may go to the pro draft.

Steadman, who recently graduated from FTU, is now currently working as a YMCA director and has visions of making Orlando the next “St. Louis” soccer-wise with the instruction of fundamentals to the younger set.

Women’s Tennis Sets Meeting

Women interested in trying out for FITU’s extramural tennis team are urged to attend an organizational meeting Tuesday at 11 a.m. in VC 206.

Sally Bondurant, the new women’s tennis coach, was introduced at that time and the schedule of events for the season was announced.

The team already has seven women but more are needed. Florida Southern, Tampa, South Florida and the Rollins JV are included on the first-year schedule. The season begins Feb. 10.

Chris Polkowski, an AAU business professor, will be director of the tournaments.

More Men Wanted For FTU Golf

All FTU students interested in trying out for the men’s extramural golf team are urged to attend a organizational meeting Tuesday at 11 a.m. in VC 206.

Unless 12 people attend the meeting, the future of golf at FTU could be in jeopardy. Some of last year’s players have expressed interest, but more are needed to field a team. If there is an encouraging turnout at Tuesday’s meeting, a new coach will be introduced to the prospective players.

In addition, the schedule of matches will be presented as well as qualifying procedures.

The Winter Springs Country Club is the scheduled site of this year’s home schedule. The Winter Springs Country Club will be held in conjunction with the Lonnie Miller Invitational at Sugar Mill, Rollins, St. Leo and Florida Southern. The possibility of FTU sponsoring its own tournament at the season’s end.

Tournaments FTU is already entered in are the Rollins Invitational at Broad Eagle, and the Embassy-Biddle Invitational at Sugar Mill. Unless the club can afford to pay the entrance fee, the team will withdraw.

FTU will be looking to continue their winning ways when they host the Florida Association AAU Weightlifting Championships at the FTU Assembly Room. The teams will be the second to be hosted by FTU.

In the Florida AAU Class II and III Championships, Catharine entered 11 lifters in seven events of the eight weight classes.

In the 123 lb. class, William Borchert took first place with a 270 total. In the 168 lb. class, Donald Figueroa took first with a 320 total. In the 220 lb. class, Raymond Becht took second with 330 total. In the 220 lb. class, Robert Poff won second with 330 total. Two other FIU lifters, Jeff Williams and Dave Brown, totaled 315 and 310 respectively in the same class. The additional six lifters were not competitive in the FTU but were members of the Catharine’s team.

He comes on stage . . . and he's big, and shy, and a little awkward. You know from the program notes that he's a Van Cliburn bronze medalist . . . appeared with the Cincinnati Symphony . . . did a command performance in Washington for senators, congressmen . . . but frankly, you don't know what to expect. Now his drummer and bass player enter and take their positions . . . . The funny thing is, even though they haven't done anything yet, you know something beyond the ordinary is moving up there on that stage. You've had this feeling before, watching Mark Spitz or Bobby Fischer, or even Van Cliburn himself . . . . There's an electric split-second as he sits with his hands poised above the keys, and then there's nothing but the music. Nothing! It's like big clusters of black notes flung off the stage at you. Long strings of arpeggios come whirling out of the air and wrap themselves around your ears.

This night, he opens with a medley from 'Fiddler on the Roof,' and you can't believe that three are making all that music. Thunderous applause . . . the first round of applause in a night that's going to see fifteen minutes added to the concert by the audience's enthusiasm . . . . He goes from high-pitched rock that literally takes the audience apart at the seams to a beautiful, almost classical version of 'Shenandoah.' The audience is breathless. Now he's into an entirely new realm of music and you hear Gershwin's 'Rhapsody in Blue' as you never have before . . . . It's a well-planned concert; he's saved the best for last. In a finale explosion, that piano . . . that giant grand piano . . . is shuddering under the force of those hands like a piece of plywood . . . . And then it's over. And all around you people are standing and yelling and cheering and suddenly you're on your feet, too, and for the first time you find yourself really believing those program notes you read at the beginning of the concert . . . believing that Mac Frampton is the most exciting concert artist on the American Stage today. And maybe you've never heard his name before. But now you've been there. And you're a believer.'
