Over 950 Sign SG Petition

Students Protest Fee Hike

By Glenn Paddock

Over 950 students expressed their opposition to the proposed new fee structure by signing a Students Council prepared petition May 15-17 on the FTU campus.

The petition reads:

"Dear members of the Florida Legislature:

The undersigned students of Florida Technological University, wish to voice our opposition to State Senate Bill 908 and concurrent State House Bill 2059. The problem with these bills is that they would do away with the maximum tuition ceiling. Charging $13.00 per hour, as these bills stipulate, would mean that it would cost $250 to take 20 hours, or $250 to take 23 hours. This does not include the additional $10.00 health fee. This proposal has a number of disadvantages:

1. Abolishing the tuition ceiling removes an incentive to take a heavy load and graduate sooner; thus costing the state more money in the long run.
2. If you are undecided as to your major, removing the possibility of trying courses without paying for them may pressure you to declare a major without adequate experimentation.
3. No tuition ceiling will discourage students from taking enrichment courses. Only those who have money on hand will take additional experimental courses. (It would cost $42 for a four hour course.)
4. People on fixed incomes will be hurt more than the rest.

(Continued on page 2)"

Two black belts from the Orlando Police Department demonstrate fighting techniques of Goju karate as part of Lambda Alpha Pi lambda's Criminal Justice Day. (Photo by Walt Morris)

Two black belts from the Orlando Police Department demonstrate fighting techniques of Goju karate as part of Lambda Alpha Pi Lambda's Criminal Justice Day. (Photo by Walt Morris)

University Presidents Asked To Resign

By Allen M. Cruise

Two student organizations at different state universities recently asked for the resignations of their respective university presidents.

At the Florida State University (FSU), the campus newspaper, "Flambeau," said in a front page editorial that University President Stanley Marshall had brought discredit to FSU because of his alleged padding of enrollment figures to boost budget allocations.

On the campus of the University of South Florida (USF) in Tampa, a student group originally calling themselves the "Dumy Mackey Committee" then the "Caucus for a New University," bought a full-page ad in a local paper in January, sponsored by Lambda Alpha Epsilon fraternity at FSU, it was initiated in order to show students, faculty and the community that today's police agencies are more than the club-swingers of the past. Professionalsism is stressed today. F.J. Doyle, president of the fraternity, explained that criminal justice is divided to the. 7 million dollar budget, that we are professional, that we do have sophisticated equipment and training, that it is not only important to know how to do a (Continued on Page 9)

If "Eye Tanka Week" doesn't make sense and the "SCEUD" can't be found on the FTU campus map, the realization that "Braless Tuesday" is someone's transformation of "Teaco Tuesday" will clear up the mystery on this entryway sign. (Photo by Mike Paddock)

Police Visit FTU

By John Becker

Representatives from local law enforcement agencies gathered at FTU's Village Center Green yesterday to participate in this school's First Criminal Justice Day.

Featured in the day's program were Orange County Sheriff Mel Colman, who spoke on professionalism in law enforcement, demonstrations by the Orlando Police Department's K-9 division, the ODCF's karate training program and exhibits from each agency.

The special day, sponsored by Lambda Alpha Epsilon, the criminal justice fraternity at FTU, was initiated in order to show students, faculty and the community that today's police agencies are more than the club-swingers of the past. Professionalsism is stressed today. F.J. Doyle, president of the fraternity, explained that criminal justice is divided to the 7 million dollar budget, that we are professional, that we do have sophisticated equipment and training, that it is not only important to know how to do a (Continued on Page 9)

Robert Van Ettan (above) cries "who knows" as the owl in Winnie-the-Pooh, the FTU Theatre Department's latest production. The show, now traveling to seven elementary schools, will be presented at FTU June 1 and 2 at 2 p.m. both days. General public admission will be 50 cents for children and $1.50 for adults. FTU students, staff and faculty will be admitted free. (Photo by Mike Berman)
Students Protest Fee Hike

(Continued from Page 1)

“Dirty Way” Proposed To Integrate FAMU

TALLAHASSEE, (AP) — Louie M. Taylor, candidate for education commissioner and recently the state Board of Regents should consider sending a number of African-American students to Florida A&M University to upgrade its public image. Mrs. Taylor told a Capitol news conference, “That would have the effect of forcing whites to go there.”

The state is currently under order from the U.S. Department of Health Education and Welfare to upgrade FAMU and attract more whites to it — or face the prospect of losing more than $90 million in federal education funds.

Mrs. Taylor, a Bristol County school board member, was campaigning for the post now held by Ralph Turlington.

FPCA Service Committee Asks For Student Input

The Food Services Advisory Committee announced at their last meeting that they will hold an open meeting for all interested on: off campus students, Thursday, May 30.

The main purpose for this special meeting is to report on the progress made with the Morrison’s Food Service Corporation and to discuss plans for changes in the full quarter cafeteria services.

Anyone with any complaints or suggestions for further improvements is urged to attend the meeting in the auditorium at 10:00 a.m.

FTU Sewage Plant Wins Best-In-State

FTU’s waste water treatment plant has won a number of the most coveted awards for sanitation in the state and nation; among them the Phillips plantation and the Best-In-State Flag for 1973.

The Phillips is given to the plant that select experts feel makes the best overall job for discharge to streams or land.

The FTU treatment plant entered in competition for the Phillips in 1971, but no awards were given because the competition was not held. However the FTU plant did win the 1972 award, which was the fifth Phillips award given in eleven years, and is now entered in competition for the award for the fourth consecutive time. No other plant has ever won the Phillips more than twice in recent years.

FTU’s plant was placed second in the state for 1972, but won the flag in 1973. No other plant has won the Phillips award and the Best-In-State in immediate succession.

Salt said that additional petition forms would be available at the SG offices if students wished to fill them out and send them in. She suggested that students could start their own petition drives, or write letters to either their own congressmen or to Senator Graham.

Salt explained that SG was making blank letter forms available at SG offices for this purpose. The form says “Dear Senator Graham” and is blank, allowing students to express their opinions in their own words. The reverse side of the form contains Graham’s address and can be folded and mailed with the addition of a stamp.

She added that most of the students contacted “liked it” referring to the petition, and said that “I feel it should have been done a long time ago.”

When asked how she got the idea for the petition, Salt responded that one evening after watching the news, which contained a status report on the tuition bills, she was sitting in the bathtub and decided that, “Maybe I better stop sitting on my can and do something about it!”

After checking about rules and regulations concerning petitions on the FTU campus, she approached Student Council President Lee Constantine.

Constantine offered to help however he could. According to Salt, Constantine drafted the petition and provided all paper and mimeographing.

Salt and four or five other students then collected the signatures for the next three days at the Kiosk and the Village Center from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. each day.

In conclusion, Salt said, “I’m a bit surprised that the other campus’s hasn’t done anything like this. It should be a statewide student movement.”

SG, President-elect Hunter Potts, commented that there were other similar movements in the state. He mentioned that the State Council of Student Body Presidents had adopted a similar position on the tuition bills.

Potts added that the University of South Florida had been distributing information, i.e., names and addresses of legislators, to the students and that Florida State University has been sponsoring a complete legislative lobbying effort in Tallahassee.

Potts expressed the opinion that the petition “badly exposes the leverage the issue by students all across the state.

Learn to land a jet here and you can land one anywhere.

Choosing Your New Home at Seminole Terrace

3 bedroom, 2 bath

Choice of interior & exterior

New Construction

5% DOWN — NO CLOSING COST

If you live at Seminole Terrace, you’re home in 2 minutes.

Nancy Layne

PROFESSIONAL & CAREER APPAREL

Butler Plaza, Casselberry

645 & Howell Branch Rd.

(305) 678-0975

Uniforms & Accessories for Professional Women & Men

Shoes - hose - suppohse

Apparels

Separates

Maternity uniforms & Pant suits

Damski loctands & Tights

Volunteer uniforms

Lah coats

Career apparel

10% DISCOUNT WITH STUDENT ID

For more information, talk to your local Navy Recruiter.

Be Someone Special. Fly Navy.
Florida Legislators Seek To Toughen Drug Laws

By John Thomson

Florida attracts a lot of different people. Apparently frequent among them are drug dealers, the kind whose planes crash into the countryside, scattering tons of marijuana among the palmettos, whose goods are discovered floating down the Suwannee River in the Gulf Stream.

There are so many of these people around, in fact, that the state is considering the nation's main entry point for pot and cocaine. It is estimated that Florida does $600 million import-export pot business. That is bigger than the sugarcane, watermelons, pears, soybean, strawberry, tomato, sweet corn, snap bean, flue-cured tobacco and vegetable industries put together.

That total was for possession, a 50 per cent increase over the previous year. Sixty per cent of the total involved possession of marijuana. While officials are reluctant to project or assume, records in the Office of Drug Abuse indicate that pot remains an increasing drug of choice among the increase. Heroin seems to be in a decline.

These bills awaiting action in the House and Senate seek to "toughen the Florida Comprehensive Drug Abuse and Control Act passed last year, a complex collection of laws which spells out the penalties associated with just about every known narcotic drug. These bills would increase the penalties for most drug violations.

Introduces by Senator Lew Bradley (D-Jacksonville), Senator David McClain (D-Orangeburg), and Rep. George Gruene (D-Jacksonville), they would reinstate felony status for possession of any amount of marijuana. Possession of less than five grams of pot is now a misdemeanor.

While the scope of the proposed changes is too broad to outline briefly, they would, in effect, constitute a slightly watered-down version of the controversial New York State Drug Law, the toughest in the nation. Under the Gruene and Bradley bills, for example, someone who sells, delivers, or possesses with intent to sell or deliver, more than 5 grams of marijuana is guilty of a "marketing felony," one step away from capital punishment and right up there with armed robbery and attempted murder. It is presently a first degree felony to kill "without premeditation." Drug traffic is said to be thriving in New York, reportedly because of the dealers' opportunity for higher profit resulting from increased risks.

Senator Bob Sanders (D-Gainesville) has a bill now in the Ways and Means Committee which would provide for "investigatory commitment of addicts or habitual drug users" to a hospital or rehabilitation center in the same fashion that the insane are now committed--that is, by petition of spouse, parent or guardian. Any next of kin, certifying death of a loved one, or the court, can commit the individual.

The bill which will really draw the line between the civil libertarians and the law-and-order crowd, in the words of a Criminal Justice Committee staff member, would allow the courts warrants to be requested and issued by telephone. It was introduced by Rep. Matt Hattie (R-Brandon).

The Senate Committee on Criminal Justice has introduced a bill, now on the Senate calendar, to make it a first degree misdemeanor to fill a prescription with intent to do either, a "counterfeit" drug. The bill was requested by narcotics agents who were tired of paying $200 an ounce of hard-earned tax money for little bags of sugar.

"Trust walking" (above), is not a new dance step, but a new approach to Speech 101 for Mrs. Frances Johnson's class. The "trust walk" is just one of the exercises used to sensitize students to the subtleties of human communication. Students, after participating in verbal and non-verbal communication, are sometimes asked to make predictions about other's political or religious affiliations or the type of car they may drive as an application of the communication. (Photo by Marvin Clegg)
The problem of who is responsible for entertainment programming has been a source of contention for many years. The Student Service and Activity Fee Committee has attempted to address this issue, but the state legislature has been slow to respond.

President Lee Constantine has addressed the issue in a recent letter. "We don't want to lose the student dormitories," he said, "or that which is rightfully mine." He continued, "I want to take my money-I don't just want you taking my money, I have experienced this rage twice personally, and once as a casual observer. Why must you put a person down for asking, politely, for a refund. Perhaps we are not all as bad as others, distasteful light on one would never consider for the dollar with which you are charged. You must not be open-minded."

The FuTUre

By Mike Hall

An opinion article based on an objectively perceived information presented in a manner designed to persuade you to think like I do.

Somebody has just opened another glorified amusement park in Florida. The problem of who is responsible for entertainment programming has been a source of contention for many years. The Student Service and Activity Fee Committee has attempted to address this issue, but the state legislature has been slow to respond.

President Lee Constantine has addressed the issue in a recent letter. "We don't want to lose the student dormitories," he said, "or that which is rightfully mine." He continued, "I want to take my money-I don't just want you taking my money, I have experienced this rage twice personally, and once as a casual observer. Why must you put a person down for asking, politely, for a refund. Perhaps we are not all as bad as others, distasteful light on one would never consider for the dollar with which you are charged. You must not be open-minded."

The FuTUre

By Mike Hall

An opinion article based on an objectively perceived information presented in a manner designed to persuade you to think like I do.

Somebody has just opened another glorified amusement park in Florida. The problem of who is responsible for entertainment programming has been a source of contention for many years. The Student Service and Activity Fee Committee has attempted to address this issue, but the state legislature has been slow to respond.

President Lee Constantine has addressed the issue in a recent letter. "We don't want to lose the student dormitories," he said, "or that which is rightfully mine." He continued, "I want to take my money-I don't just want you taking my money, I have experienced this rage twice personally, and once as a casual observer. Why must you put a person down for asking, politely, for a refund. Perhaps we are not all as bad as others, distasteful light on one would never consider for the dollar with which you are charged. You must not be open-minded."

The FuTUre

By Mike Hall

An opinion article based on an objectively perceived information presented in a manner designed to persuade you to think like I do.

Somebody has just opened another glorified amusement park in Florida. The problem of who is responsible for entertainment programming has been a source of contention for many years. The Student Service and Activity Fee Committee has attempted to address this issue, but the state legislature has been slow to respond.

President Lee Constantine has addressed the issue in a recent letter. "We don't want to lose the student dormitories," he said, "or that which is rightfully mine." He continued, "I want to take my money-I don't just want you taking my money, I have experienced this rage twice personally, and once as a casual observer. Why must you put a person down for asking, politely, for a refund. Perhaps we are not all as bad as others, distasteful light on one would never consider for the dollar with which you are charged. You must not be open-minded."

The FuTUre

By Mike Hall

An opinion article based on an objectively perceived information presented in a manner designed to persuade you to think like I do.

Somebody has just opened another glorified amusement park in Florida. The problem of who is responsible for entertainment programming has been a source of contention for many years. The Student Service and Activity Fee Committee has attempted to address this issue, but the state legislature has been slow to respond.

President Lee Constantine has addressed the issue in a recent letter. "We don't want to lose the student dormitories," he said, "or that which is rightfully mine." He continued, "I want to take my money-I don't just want you taking my money, I have experienced this rage twice personally, and once as a casual observer. Why must you put a person down for asking, politely, for a refund. Perhaps we are not all as bad as others, distasteful light on one would never consider for the dollar with which you are charged. You must not be open-minded."

The FuTUre

By Mike Hall

An opinion article based on an objectively perceived information presented in a manner designed to persuade you to think like I do.

Somebody has just opened another glorified amusement park in Florida. The problem of who is responsible for entertainment programming has been a source of contention for many years. The Student Service and Activity Fee Committee has attempted to address this issue, but the state legislature has been slow to respond.

President Lee Constantine has addressed the issue in a recent letter. "We don't want to lose the student dormitories," he said, "or that which is rightfully mine." He continued, "I want to take my money-I don't just want you taking my money, I have experienced this rage twice personally, and once as a casual observer. Why must you put a person down for asking, politely, for a refund. Perhaps we are not all as bad as others, distasteful light on one would never consider for the dollar with which you are charged. You must not be open-minded."

The FuTUre

By Mike Hall

An opinion article based on an objectively perceived information presented in a manner designed to persuade you to think like I do.

Somebody has just opened another glorified amusement park in Florida. The problem of who is responsible for entertainment programming has been a source of contention for many years. The Student Service and Activity Fee Committee has attempted to address this issue, but the state legislature has been slow to respond.

President Lee Constantine has addressed the issue in a recent letter. "We don't want to lose the student dormitories," he said, "or that which is rightfully mine." He continued, "I want to take my money-I don't just want you taking my money, I have experienced this rage twice personally, and once as a casual observer. Why must you put a person down for asking, politely, for a refund. Perhaps we are not all as bad as others, distasteful light on one would never consider for the dollar with which you are charged. You must not be open-minded."

The FuTUre

By Mike Hall

An opinion article based on an objectively perceived information presented in a manner designed to persuade you to think like I do.

Somebody has just opened another glorified amusement park in Florida. The problem of who is responsible for entertainment programming has been a source of contention for many years. The Student Service and Activity Fee Committee has attempted to address this issue, but the state legislature has been slow to respond.

President Lee Constantine has addressed the issue in a recent letter. "We don't want to lose the student dormitories," he said, "or that which is rightfully mine." He continued, "I want to take my money-I don't just want you taking my money, I have experienced this rage twice personally, and once as a casual observer. Why must you put a person down for asking, politely, for a refund. Perhaps we are not all as bad as others, distasteful light on one would never consider for the dollar with which you are charged. You must not be open-minded."

The FuTUre

By Mike Hall

An opinion article based on an objectively perceived information presented in a manner designed to persuade you to think like I do.

Somebody has just opened another glorified amusement park in Florida. The problem of who is responsible for entertainment programming has been a source of contention for many years. The Student Service and Activity Fee Committee has attempted to address this issue, but the state legislature has been slow to respond.

President Lee Constantine has addressed the issue in a recent letter. "We don't want to lose the student dormitories," he said, "or that which is rightfully mine." He continued, "I want to take my money-I don't just want you taking my money, I have experienced this rage twice personally, and once as a casual observer. Why must you put a person down for asking, politely, for a refund. Perhaps we are not all as bad as others, distasteful light on one would never consider for the dollar with which you are charged. You must not be open-minded."

The FuTUre

By Mike Hall

An opinion article based on an objectively perceived information presented in a manner designed to persuade you to think like I do.

Somebody has just opened another glorified amusement park in Florida. The problem of who is responsible for entertainment programming has been a source of contention for many years. The Student Service and Activity Fee Committee has attempted to address this issue, but the state legislature has been slow to respond.

President Lee Constantine has addressed the issue in a recent letter. "We don't want to lose the student dormitories," he said, "or that which is rightfully mine." He continued, "I want to take my money-I don't just want you taking my money, I have experienced this rage twice personally, and once as a casual observer. Why must you put a person down for asking, politely, for a refund. Perhaps we are not all as bad as others, distasteful light on one would never consider for the dollar with which you are charged. You must not be open-minded."

The FuTUre

By Mike Hall

An opinion article based on an objectively perceived information presented in a manner designed to persuade you to think like I do.

Somebody has just opened another glorified amusement park in Florida. The problem of who is responsible for entertainment programming has been a source of contention for many years. The Student Service and Activity Fee Committee has attempted to address this issue, but the state legislature has been slow to respond.

President Lee Constantine has addressed the issue in a recent letter. "We don't want to lose the student dormitories," he said, "or that which is rightfully mine." He continued, "I want to take my money-I don't just want you taking my money, I have experienced this rage twice personally, and once as a casual observer. Why must you put a person down for asking, politely, for a refund. Perhaps we are not all as bad as others, distasteful light on one would never consider for the dollar with which you are charged. You must not be open-minded."

The FuTUre

By Mike Hall

An opinion article based on an objectively perceived information presented in a manner designed to persuade you to think like I do.

Somebody has just opened another glorified amusement park in Florida. The problem of who is responsible for entertainment programming has been a source of contention for many years. The Student Service and Activity Fee Committee has attempted to address this issue, but the state legislature has been slow to respond.

President Lee Constantine has addressed the issue in a recent letter. "We don't want to lose the student dormitories," he said, "or that which is rightfully mine." He continued, "I want to take my money-I don't just want you taking my money, I have experienced this rage twice personally, and once as a casual observer. Why must you put a person down for asking, politely, for a refund. Perhaps we are not all as bad as others, distasteful light on one would never consider for the dollar with which you are charged. You must not be open-minded."

The FuTUre

By Mike Hall

An opinion article based on an objectively perceived information presented in a manner designed to persuade you to think like I do.

Somebody has just opened another glorified amusement park in Florida. The problem of who is responsible for entertainment programming has been a source of contention for many years. The Student Service and Activity Fee Committee has attempted to address this issue, but the state legislature has been slow to respond.

President Lee Constantine has addressed the issue in a recent letter. "We don't want to lose the student dormitories," he said, "or that which is rightfully mine." He continued, "I want to take my money-I don't just want you taking my money, I have experienced this rage twice personally, and once as a casual observer. Why must you put a person down for asking, politely, for a refund. Perhaps we are not all as bad as others, distasteful light on one would never consider for the dollar with which you are charged. You must not be open-minded."

The FuTUre

By Mike Hall

An opinion article based on an objectively perceived information presented in a manner designed to persuade you to think like I do.
LETTERS

RA Selection Process Explained

Editor:

We are writing in reference to the letters printed in last Friday’s issue of the FUURé, referring to discrepancies in the Resident Advisor (RA) selection process. The discrepancies were in these letters and we believe a presentation of the facts is in order.

Physics Course Explained

Editor:

Thanks for the article in FUURé of May 17 on the summer Science Fiction course PHYS 491, which has already brought over 20 students in to pick up course syllabus. Since we asked the bookstore for only copies of books for the class, this advance notice on intent to register is helpful for planning.

Dr. Bolemon, however, is dismayed at the photograph chosen to represent a futureist image. He is somewhat apprehensive that readers of FUURé may make the false assumption that PHYS 491 is a science fiction course.

By this time, the possible misinterpretation of one of the sentences in the article, “The Physics Department has no plans to teach this course regularly scheduled offerings just those who are searching for an attractive way to partially fulfill science requirements of their degree,” has been corrected.

Students will thus have the opportunity to compare different points of view. The Physics Department will concentrate on the scientific ideas and physical principles involved by the author of the stories. The English Department will be more concerned with the literary quality and aspects of human behavior revealed in an unorthodox story framework. Contrary to lay opinion, I can only imagine what the diplomas are involved by the author of the stories. The English Department will be more concerned with the literary quality and aspects of human behavior revealed in an unorthodox story framework. Contrary to lay opinion, I can only imagine what the diplomas are.

Grad Notes

Editor:

We’ll write. Here it is graduation time again. We are all wondering what this school was going to do for surprises. Last year it was President Nixon, this year it is the graduation announcements.

I am hoping that when I am interviewed for a job that they don’t ask for proof. With a school that I attended to sell graduation announcements glumly incorrect I can only imagine what the diplomas are going to look like.

If you aren’t one of those who want to do things early, (such as buying graduation announcements), and find out later there corrected announcements), then you are in luck. You are graduating from the right school.

With the careful planning the announcements reflect, I can only hope I am last in receiving my diploma.

Charles A. Hankins

Ed. note: We talked with James H. Liggett, bookstore buyer, who confirmed the fact that graduation announcements sold during the first week of May were grammatically incorrect. These, along with the display sample read “The Faculty and Graduating Class of Florida Technological University A N N O U N C E S t h e a m e n e e d m e n t ” , rather than ANNOUNCE the commencement exercises.

The printing error was pointed out to the bookstore by a student during the first week of sales at which time they were removed.

Liggett said that exchanges would have been made and will still be made to students who wish to replace their grammatically incorrect announcements.

Mary H. Noon, Chairman

Department of Physics

Greek Laments

Editor:

After having read every FUURé this year, I was very disappointed with the last issue, and in particular on the article on Greek Week. The paper didn’t devote nearly enough time to it, or give credit where credit is due — namely to the individual winners of each contest.

"A P.O.哥 Greek"
Steve Hartman

College Court Apartments

Now Leasing

$150 per month NO LEASE
$145 6 months lease
$140 12 months lease
Brand new, spacious 1 bedroom apts.
Pools Tennis Courts
Basketball Courts, Volleyball Courts
Just 1/2 mile south of FTU on Alfaya Trail
CALL 273 - 5610

DR. WILLIAM JERVEY (F.T.U. Dept. of Political Science) will lead a discussion on "The Politics of Tax Reform" at the Friends Meeting House 316 E. Marks St.
In Downtown Orlando, on Sunday, May 26, 1974
Meeting for Worship 10:30 a.m.
Discussion Group 11:30 a.m.
For information call 295-8647 or 843-2631 Sponsored by the Society of Friends (Quakers)
ALL WELCOME!

ATTENTION: F.T.U. STUDENTS

SPORTS and ECONOMY CARS!

ALL MAKES and MODELS!!

Student Discounts

Call DON FRUST

Selling

JIMMY BRYAN

TOYOTA

HIGHWAY 436

& F.T.U. BLVD.

PH. 678-1600
FTU Grad Manages Local Abortion Clinic To Meet Demand

By Terry Carr

“If somebody comes in for an abortion, they would obviously rather not have gotten pregnant in the first place,” said Becki Mast, assistant director of The Ladies Center (TLC). TLC, an Orlando abortion clinic, exists to meet the demand for abortions, as market analysis is appropriate, which will continue to rise as long as birth control methods are imperfect and people are people.

Mast, a 1972 graduate of FTU with a degree in psychology, is chief counselor and manager of the day to day activities of TLC. Curling up in her chair and smoking incessantly, the recently talked of clinic’s founder said: “People are often very, very frightened and uncertain when they come here, and we are still the stigma on abortions of a ‘back room’ thing. They wonder if a doctor does it. They wonder if it’s really legal. They aren’t sure what to expect.”

Mast, 25, is assisted by two other counselors, Perri Sparkman and Julie Yarkendall, in seeking to allay such fears. Patients are counseled before and after the abortion.

“We first of all talk to them to make sure it is what they want,” Mast said. “Then we try and dispel their fears. We tell them of course it’s legal. Of course a doctor does it.”

 Abortions have been legal since January of 1973, the United States Supreme Court then, in effect, invalidated all state anti-abortion laws. Whether or not to terminate a pregnancy was ruled to be a decision between a woman and her doctor—a determination the state can not regulate until the seventh month of pregnancy.

Mast said the abortion at TLC are performed by qualified gynecological specialists assisted by trained registered nurses. She said, “Two doctors from Jacksonville come down on Saturdays. They are on hospital staffs in Jacksonville and are specially trained in the abortion procedure. We also have medical backup from local doctors if there’s an emergency.”

It was necessary to obtain doctors from Jacksonville, according to Mast, because “The local medical community sort of frowns on the procedure. We’re probably afraid of what their colleagues would say.”

Every woman 18 years of age or older is qualified to arrange for their own abortion. Consent of at least one parent or guardian is required for a minor. The husband’s consent is not required for married women, but is “certainly urged,” Mast said.

“Married women that come in without their husband’s knowledge have a much more difficult time emotionally than others,” she added.

On the Saturday of an abortion, a patient can expect to remain approximately four hours at TLC. The abortion procedure begins with the filling out of medical history forms followed by a series of necessary lab tests. Blood tests, urinalysis and tests for syphilis, syphilis and gonorrhea are conducted by the doctors and nurses.

A period of “small group” counseling follows the lab work. Mast explained, “There are usually four women in a group. We talk to them about lab tests and go over their charts. We talk to them about present things to try and put them at ease.

“We explain the procedure and tell them exactly what they can expect. We also talk a great deal about birth control because we don’t ever want to see them again.”

After changing clothes in the “ready room,” the patient moves down the hall to the “procedure room.” Here, the abortion is performed.

TLC uses the “vacuum aspiration method.” Mast described the method as “very, very simple and very, very safe” and said the method can be used only if the pregnancy is “less than three months duration.” The method consists of inserting a small “vacuurette” (plastic tube) in the woman’s uterus and withdrawing the embryo.

Following the operation, the patient is taken to a “recovery room.” Beds are available to rest on, and further counseling is available. According to Mast, a patient’s stay here can vary “depending on how they feel and react to the operation, but they usually average about four hours total stay at the clinic.”

Mast said that most of the women that use TLC’s abortion clinic’s practices as its medical services. (Photo by Mike Padgett)

Two Students Open Predelinquent Home

By Greg Lick

Two FTU Sociology majors, discussing plans for the resident homes they hope to start...

SG Senate Considers Sprinklers & Fee Structure

Two bills were introduced for first reading during the Senate meeting on May 18. Bill 6-64 deals with the adjustment of the water sprinklers on campus so that the sidewalks would not be watered. Bill 6-65 is a resolution opposing the proposed fee structure to enable students to take a maximum number of credit hours at a fixed cost.

services are “18 to 25 years old, are not married, are working girls or girls going to college and are middle class.” Mast emphasized that such categories are not inclusive of the clinic’s patients as many women that go to TLC are married and women that wish to terminate their pregnancy for one reason or another.

Patients at TLC can expect a minimum of “hassle” about their situation. Mast said, “I’m not going to hassle them because they got themselves into a predicament. The very worst I’m going to say is ‘you know you should have used birth control.’ It’s my place to be understanding and reassuring. It’s not my place to hassle them about morality or anything else.”

An abortion at TLC costs $175. Another $25 is charged for the cost of a special shot, required for women whose RH negative blood. TLC performs an average of 15 to 20 operations per week. The clinic is totally dependent on the proceeds from the operations for its functioning.

Mast said TLC has been relatively free of major problems in its two year existence. “Growing pains” and getting the ‘Medicaid flow’ down are indicative of the “many little things” she said need to be overcome. She added, “A lot of people don’t know about us, and that’s a problem. It’s going to take time. It’s very hard to advertise because people are still apprehensive about the words ‘abortion’ or ‘pregnancy termination.’”

Mast said anti-abortion groups have not interfered with TLC’s operations. Such groups as Right to Life and Birthright are “very much” active in this area, she said, “but they haven’t bothered us.”
Brown Says President Needs His Dining Room

Pres Dining Room Questioned

The FTUUv has received inquiries from concerned students that their student activity fee money was paying for the President’s Dining Room, although the room is apparently not available to students. The President’s Dining Room is the white-curtained room in the Village Center (VC) adjacent to the multi-purpose room.

Official campus policy states: Subliminal Cues Discussed

By Marcy Muramatu

Jim Fowler, a veteran on the work study program, has been studying and researching past experiments on the use of subliminal cues.

Subliminal cues have been used to prompt movie-goers to suddenly feel hungry or thirsty right before the intermission. The human eye can register a scene lasting for half a second or less, without the viewer being consciously aware of it. For example, one or two frames of a picture of food or drink could be inserted into a film right before intermission. The “subliminal” seems to trigger a physical response in the viewer—in this case, getting up to buy something from the theatre concession.

Because use of subliminal cues in this context was declared illegal by the Federal Communications Commission, Fowler said that study in this field has not been developed to its full extent.

According to Fowler, the learning process can be simplified by using subliminal cues. A subliminally prepared film, he says, could subconsciously emphasize key points and specific facts, while presenting information the standard way at the same time.

Activity Calendar

VILLAGE CENTER

Movie: What’s Up Doc

Thu. 7:00 p.m. VC211

Music Dept.

Thu. 7:00 p.m. VCAR

RHA

Thu. 5:00 p.m. VC 200

Campus Ministry

Thurs. 1:00 a.m. AD 112

Sociology Club

Thurs. noon LB 240

Student Accounting Society

Thurs. noon CB 216

Professional Medical Society

Fri. 3:00 p.m. MPE

CAMPUS EVENTS

FTU Philharmonic

Sun. 7:00 p.m. VC 166

Economic Advisory Council

Mon. Noon VC Dining Room

Music Dept.

Thu. 7:00 p.m. VCAR

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

Meeting

Tues. 2:00 p.m. VC 200

GRAND OPENING THIS WEEK

A New Shop With A New Look!

Open 9 a.m. - 5 p.m. Mon. - Sat.

Free Pair of Earrings With ANY Purchase

COMPARIS THIS QUITE DUPLEX COMMUNITY WITH NOISY, CROWDED APARTMENTS

RIDGEWOOD IS HOME LIVING

NEW FLEXIBLE LEASES

2 BEDROOM DUPLEXES 160 mo.

PHONE 365 3721

4 Minutes to FTU 1 Minute to Downtown Oviedo
Police Visit FTU Campus

(Continued from page 1)

have trained people that have a great deal of experience," Doyle said.

"Professionalism Through Education" was the topic of Sheriff Coleman's speech.
"Education is the key to professionalism," Coleman said
"We've been talking about professionalism in law enforcement for generations."

Coleman said his department has found itself in the uncomfortable position of desperately wanting to attract college educated young men and women but not always succeeding because the pay structure and benefits have not been attractive and competitive when compared with some of the federal agencies and some of the other law enforcement agencies in other parts of the country.

"We in Florida, police officials, peace officers, people in the criminal justice system, are particularly lucky, and in Orange County more so, Coleman said, because we do have at our disposal such educational institutions as Florida Tech offering programs wherein young people pursue an education in criminal justice,"
Coleman said.

The College of Social Sciences at FTU offers a four year degree program leading to a BA in criminal justice. The program provides three major areas of concentration: law enforcement, corrections and justice administration (courts).
"I think it's a very bright future, indeed," Coleman said.
In looking for some statistics to tell about his particular department, Coleman said that there are approximately 325 departments now and 70 per cent are either college graduates or are currently attending college—two and a half years ago there was only one college graduate on the force.

"We have a deep and abiding faith in the educational process," the sheriff added. He said, in relating education and job, but one needs to know why he or she is doing that job. "It is our goal in the department to eventually have every member of the department possess a baccalaureate degree. We've committed ourselves to that goal."

In addition to the speech by Sheriff Coleman, those attending the program viewed a number of exhibits assembled in the VC area. The sheriff's department helicopter, which opened the day's activities at 10 a.m. when it whirled over the campus and landed near the Village Center, excited the most interest. The chopper is used by the department as a traffic unit enforcing traffic laws and is also used to evacuate an emergency area like a major traffic accident.
It can get the injured to a hospital in a matter of minutes.
Other exhibits included a polygraph (lie detector) which is used as an investigative aid by all agencies. The FTU campus police exhibited their equipment nearly. They have much the same equipment as any law enforcement agency in the area.
Their vehicle displayed emergency equipment such as oxygen and stretcher's and, in addition, video camera investigations were available for inspection.

A fast-paced karate demonstration was given by ODP's Lt. William Liquori and two other trained police officers.
Liquori, in charge of special operations, was assisted by Ed
Johnston, ODP and by Bill
Thomas, WPPD in showing numerous restrictions, take-downs and sparring. All three are third degree black belts.

The day concluded with an arresting demonstration by the ODP's K-9 unit. A large crowd gathered to watch a phenomenal display of jumps and investigative maneuvers by the highly trained dogs. The dogs, German shephards, have a definite role within the law enforcement sub-section of the criminal justice system. They are used as investigative aids to pursue, hold and attack. They are exceptional trackers.
The unit is headed by St. D. A.
O'Dell of the Orlando Police Department. However, a downsour prematurely ended the demonstration sending men and dogs scurrying for cover.

Doyle, who served as coordinator of the program, was satisfied that the program went over well, albeit the abrupt, wet finale. His own aspirations in the criminal justice field include working at the federal level upon graduation from FTU. "I will either do that or try to get into law school," he said.

After spending four years in the military, Air Policeman, Doyle spent five years with the Palm Beach County sheriff's department. "I was with the road patrol driving a squad car for three years. Then for two years I was in the vice squad as a detective sergeant," Doyle said.

He also attended a federal bureau narcotics school and the Dade County Police Academy.

Photos by John Becker
and Walt Morris
What?! The physical condition of FTU students is poor?! That's the most ridiculous thing I ever heard!!

By Heather Henry

The physical condition of the average FTU student is “very poor.” I am impressed with the way the students try to stay in shape, the director of intramurals commented. “The ‘non-participation’ course is in contact with形 are.

Hunter, director of the popular tennis classes at FTU, said that his sport is a “good conditioned,” the instructor commented. “The chemistry of the sport is in contact with Shape.

According to Hunter, Central Floridians keep in better shape than people on Florida’s west coast, for some reason, the “urge” is greater.

Dr. John Powell said, “I wouldn’t say they’re average, I don’t think they’re any better in any better condition than any other student.”

Still, director of intercollegiate athletes, and that college-age students here and everywhere are in a “slower state” of physical fitness than they should be, “We’re just starting to see the value of improvement,” he continued.

When asked whether physical education courses should be mandatory, Powell said no, “The Federal government is not in control. Besides, the Federal regulations don’t drop physical education requirements the University of Florida may add a special one, Florida South have just recently dropped their requirements,” he said.

Powell said that ESPE courses should be required, not “for the sake of just doing it, but instead because it is a requirement of Federal government.”

A big weakness in the program is that it is not popular with legislators. Few in Florida, certainly the state’s colleges and universities are in good physical condition. Powell said that he is in great physical condition.

According to Hunter, Central Floridians keep in better shape than people on Florida’s west coast, for some reason, the “urge” is greater.

Dr. John Powell said, “I wouldn’t say they’re average, I don’t think they’re any better in any better condition than any other student.”

Still, director of intercollegiate athletes, and that college-age students here and everywhere are in a “slower state” of physical fitness than they should be, “We’re just starting to see the value of improvement,” he continued.

When asked whether physical education courses should be mandatory, Powell said no, “The Federal government is not in control. Besides, the Federal regulations don’t drop physical education requirements the University of Florida may add a special one, Florida South have just recently dropped their requirements,” he said.

Powell said that ESPE courses should be required, not “for the sake of just doing it, but instead because it is a requirement of Federal government.”

A big weakness in the program is that it is not popular with legislators. Few in Florida, certainly the state’s colleges and universities are in good physical condition. Powell said that he is in great physical condition.

According to Hunter, Central Floridians keep in better shape than people on Florida’s west coast, for some reason, the “urge” is greater.

Dr. John Powell said, “I wouldn’t say they’re average, I don’t think they’re any better in any better condition than any other student.”

Still, director of intercollegiate athletes, and that college-age students here and everywhere are in a “slower state” of physical fitness than they should be, “We’re just starting to see the value of improvement,” he continued.

When asked whether physical education courses should be mandatory, Powell said no, “The Federal government is not in control. Besides, the Federal regulations don’t drop physical education requirements the University of Florida may add a special one, Florida South have just recently dropped their requirements,” he said.

Powell said that ESPE courses should be required, not “for the sake of just doing it, but instead because it is a requirement of Federal government.”

A big weakness in the program is that it is not popular with legislators. Few in Florida, certainly the state’s colleges and universities are in good physical condition. Powell said that he is in great physical condition.

According to Hunter, Central Floridians keep in better shape than people on Florida’s west coast, for some reason, the “urge” is greater.

Dr. John Powell said, “I wouldn’t say they’re average, I don’t think they’re any better in any better condition than any other student.”

Still, director of intercollegiate athletes, and that college-age students here and everywhere are in a “slower state” of physical fitness than they should be, “We’re just starting to see the value of improvement,” he continued.

When asked whether physical education courses should be mandatory, Powell said no, “The Federal government is not in control. Besides, the Federal regulations don’t drop physical education requirements the University of Florida may add a special one, Florida South have just recently dropped their requirements,” he said.

Powell said that ESPE courses should be required, not “for the sake of just doing it, but instead because it is a requirement of Federal government.”

A big weakness in the program is that it is not popular with legislators. Few in Florida, certainly the state’s colleges and universities are in good physical condition. Powell said that he is in great physical condition.

According to Hunter, Central Floridians keep in better shape than people on Florida’s west coast, for some reason, the “urge” is greater.

Dr. John Powell said, “I wouldn’t say they’re average, I don’t think they’re any better in any better condition than any other student.”

Still, director of intercollegiate athletes, and that college-age students here and everywhere are in a “slower state” of physical fitness than they should be, “We’re just starting to see the value of improvement,” he continued.

When asked whether physical education courses should be mandatory, Powell said no, “The Federal government is not in control. Besides, the Federal regulations don’t drop physical education requirements the University of Florida may add a special one, Florida South have just recently dropped their requirements,” he said.

Powell said that ESPE courses should be required, not “for the sake of just doing it, but instead because it is a requirement of Federal government.”

A big weakness in the program is that it is not popular with legislators. Few in Florida, certainly the state’s colleges and universities are in good physical condition. Powell said that he is in great physical condition.

According to Hunter, Central Floridians keep in better shape than people on Florida’s west coast, for some reason, the “urge” is greater.

Dr. John Powell said, “I wouldn’t say they’re average, I don’t think they’re any better in any better condition than any other student.”

Still, director of intercollegiate athletes, and that college-age students here and everywhere are in a “slower state” of physical fitness than they should be, “We’re just starting to see the value of improvement,” he continued.

When asked whether physical education courses should be mandatory, Powell said no, “The Federal government is not in control. Besides, the Federal regulations don’t drop physical education requirements the University of Florida may add a special one, Florida South have just recently dropped their requirements,” he said.

Powell said that ESPE courses should be required, not “for the sake of just doing it, but instead because it is a requirement of Federal government.”

A big weakness in the program is that it is not popular with legislators. Few in Florida, certainly the state’s colleges and universities are in good physical condition. Powell said that he is in great physical condition.

According to Hunter, Central Floridians keep in better shape than people on Florida’s west coast, for some reason, the “urge” is greater.

Dr. John Powell said, “I wouldn’t say they’re average, I don’t think they’re any better in any better condition than any other student.”

Still, director of intercollegiate athletes, and that college-age students here and everywhere are in a “slower state” of physical fitness than they should be, “We’re just starting to see the value of improvement,” he continued.

When asked whether physical education courses should be mandatory, Powell said no, “The Federal government is not in control. Besides, the Federal regulations don’t drop physical education requirements the University of Florida may add a special one, Florida South have just recently dropped their requirements,” he said.

Powell said that ESPE courses should be required, not “for the sake of just doing it, but instead because it is a requirement of Federal government.”

A big weakness in the program is that it is not popular with legislators. Few in Florida, certainly the state’s colleges and universities are in good physical condition. Powell said that he is in great physical condition.

According to Hunter, Central Floridians keep in better shape than people on Florida’s west coast, for some reason, the “urge” is greater.

Dr. John Powell said, “I wouldn’t say they’re average, I don’t think they’re any better in any better condition than any other student.”

Still, director of intercollegiate athletes, and that college-age students here and everywhere are in a “slower state” of physical fitness than they should be, “We’re just starting to see the value of improvement,” he continued.

When asked whether physical education courses should be mandatory, Powell said no, “The Federal government is not in control. Besides, the Federal regulations don’t drop physical education requirements the University of Florida may add a special one, Florida South have just recently dropped their requirements,” he said.

Powell said that ESPE courses should be required, not “for the sake of just doing it, but instead because it is a requirement of Federal government.”

A big weakness in the program is that it is not popular with legislators. Few in Florida, certainly the state’s colleges and universities are in good physical condition. Powell said that he is in great physical condition.

According to Hunter, Central Floridians keep in better shape than people on Florida’s west coast, for some reason, the “urge” is greater.

Dr. John Powell said, “I wouldn’t say they’re average, I don’t think they’re any better in any better condition than any other student.”

Still, director of intercollegiate athletes, and that college-age students here and everywhere are in a “slower state” of physical fitness than they should be, “We’re just starting to see the value of improvement,” he continued.

When asked whether physical education courses should be mandatory, Powell said no, “The Federal government is not in control. Besides, the Federal regulations don’t drop physical education requirements the University of Florida may add a special one, Florida South have just recently dropped their requirements,” he said.

Powell said that ESPE courses should be required, not “for the sake of just doing it, but instead because it is a requirement of Federal government.”

A big weakness in the program is that it is not popular with legislators. Few in Florida, certainly the state’s colleges and universities are in good physical condition. Powell said that he is in great physical condition.

According to Hunter, Central Floridians keep in better shape than people on Florida’s west coast, for some reason, the “urge” is greater.

Dr. John Powell said, “I wouldn’t say they’re average, I don’t think they’re any better in any better condition than any other student.”

Still, director of intercollegiate athletes, and that college-age students here and everywhere are in a “slower state” of physical fitness than they should be, “We’re just starting to see the value of improvement,” he continued.

When asked whether physical education courses should be mandatory, Powell said no, “The Federal government is not in control. Besides, the Federal regulations don’t drop physical education requirements the University of Florida may add a special one, Florida South have just recently dropped their requirements,” he said.

Powell said that ESPE courses should be required, not “for the sake of just doing it, but instead because it is a requirement of Federal government.”

A big weakness in the program is that it is not popular with legislators. Few in Florida, certainly the state’s colleges and universities are in good physical condition. Powell said that he is in great physical condition.

According to Hunter, Central Floridians keep in better shape than people on Florida’s west coast, for some reason, the “urge” is greater.

Dr. John Powell said, “I wouldn’t say they’re average, I don’t think they’re any better in any better condition than any other student.”

Still, director of intercollegiate athletes, and that college-age students here and everywhere are in a “slower state” of physical fitness than they should be, “We’re just starting to see the value of improvement,” he continued.

When asked whether physical education courses should be mandatory, Powell said no, “The Federal government is not in control. Besides, the Federal regulations don’t drop physical education requirements the University of Florida may add a special one, Florida South have just recently dropped their requirements,” he said.

Powell said that ESPE courses should be required, not “for the sake of just doing it, but instead because it is a requirement of Federal government.”

A big weakness in the program is that it is not popular with legislators. Few in Florida, certainly the state’s colleges and universities are in good physical condition. Powell said that he is in great physical condition.
Auditions Upcoming
For Student Musical

"It's not a small thing," said Dennis Keeler, "I'll be a student project from start to finish."

With Dennis Keeler, recent FTU graduate, talking about The New Musical "Lung Live the King," an award-winning musical based on Mark Twain's "Prince and the Pauper." Auditions for the production will be held May 29 and 30 at 2 p.m. and 7 p.m. All actors, actresses and a production crew is needed. The musical is a comedy with serious moments. The script was written by Dennis Keeler. David Berger, the nation's leading expert on impeachment, and columnist Jack Anderson, as well as Mike Padgett, who directed "Watergate, impeachment, and..."

The Student Senate recently voted by an overwhelming majority to appropriate funds for a universal weight machine, Student Government (SG) Associate professor Jay Stiffler commented on Monday.

"The universal weight machine is a $3,800 exercise device employing weights that 13 people can use simultaneously," Stiffler said. According to the SG, the machine will have a seven-minute time limit. "The equipment will be vacated in the fall when the Humanities and Fine Arts building is completed."

The Senate is also partially funding the construction of an art dome, which will be located in the women's dorms. A total of $3,000 has been raised by the Resident Hall Association, toward the $5,000 cost of the dome. "The rest of the money coming from the Senate."

Prof Injured in Cycle Crash

An FTU physics professor was severely injured in a cycle crash that resulted in internal bleeding and fluid in the lungs as a result of a motorcycle accident last weekend. It was announced Monday that he will return this summer to conduct his lesson in science fiction course.

Associate professor Jay Bolemon, who is still recovering from his injuries, will return to campus in the fall. "He's doing just fine," according to a hospital spokesman, "and will be listed in satisfactory condition early this week."

While he was traveling toward Geneva at about 50 m.p.h., Bolemon's motorcycle hit a chuckhole on the side of the road, throwing Bolemon off the bike and into the grass. "We'll return him this summer," Dennis Keeler said.

Prof Injured in Cycle Crash

An FTU physics professor was severely injured in a cycle crash that resulted in internal bleeding and fluid in the lungs as a result of a motorcycle accident last weekend. It was announced Monday that he will return this summer to conduct his lesson in science fiction course.

Associate professor Jay Bolemon, who is still recovering from his injuries, will return to campus in the fall. "He's doing just fine," according to a hospital spokesman, "and will be listed in satisfactory condition early this week."

While he was traveling toward Geneva at about 50 m.p.h., Bolemon's motorcycle hit a chuckhole on the side of the road, throwing Bolemon off the bike and into the grass. "We'll return him this summer," Dennis Keeler said.

The Student Senate recently voted by an overwhelming majority to appropriate funds for a universal weight machine, Student Government (SG) Associate professor Jay Stiffler commented on Monday.

"The universal weight machine is a $3,800 exercise device employing weights that 13 people can use simultaneously," Stiffler said. According to the SG, the machine will have a seven-minute time limit. "The equipment will be vacated in the fall when the Humanities and Fine Arts building is completed."

The Senate is also partially funding the construction of an art dome, which will be located in the women's dorms. A total of $3,000 has been raised by the Resident Hall Association, toward the $5,000 cost of the dome. "The rest of the money coming from the Senate."

Course On Impeachment Off

During the summer quarter FTU will offer a unique political science course that has already attracted national interest.

The course, PUI 491, The Politics of Impeachment, will be taught by Dr. William H. Jervey from 6 p.m. to 10 p.m. on Tuesdays in AD 147.

Jervey, who originated the idea for the course, said, "There is a great deal of interest concerning impeachment among political science students at this time."

The New York Post has contacted Jervey, Jervey said, and the Orlando Sentinel also indicated they may do an article on the course later in the fall.

According to Jervey, tape recordings from the Reagan Library in California will be used during the course. These recordings will include recorded discussions with Ronald Berger, the nation's leading expert on impeachment, and commentator Jack Anderson, as well as others.

The tapes will also relate to Watergate, impeachment, and..."

The Politics of Impeachment posters appearing around campus will be put up by Jervey, who said of the course, "It's a unique course in an area of great interest and potential."
DeLuca Funds Raised

A car wash is planned for this weekend by the pledge class of Delta Tau Delta fraternity as a fund drive to raise money for upcoming plastic surgery for Gail DeLuca.

"I've been here before and seen better response," Mark Felrath, a representative of Vietnam-era veterans said after lobbying for a bill to have a state college tuition for veterans.

"They say sure, they're for the bill, but as far as getting up and voicing support, we're getting nothing in that respect," he said.

Kaufmann said that they have had a response," DeLuca said. But he said legislators the veterans visited "appear to be saying if there's a sitting, won't the session be over -- and we will have the same as well organized next year.

Arrangements have been made to turn over all of the funds collected to the girl's parents to help pay for the plastic surgery. Kaufmann said that they will have a "good response" and that "people are really helping," referring to the sale of candy.

She identified the five as requests for medical care when needed, a right to telephone calls, no censorship of media and an application for telephone assistance. Officials said the prison was turned over all of the inmates.

According to Kaufmann the president of the pledge class, Barry Garrett, Jr. contacted the girl's parents to see if they could render any assistance.

"It's been proven this quarter that there are no sit-down strikes as mentioned," Eller said.

The FTU undergraduates chapter and Central Florida Alumni Association will be the banquet speaker on Thursday, May 25th, at 5 p.m. for three years ago, reports will be presented by Marc Myers and Kevin Powers. The FTU undergraduates will celebrate the founding of their Chapter.

Jane Newman was awarded for having the highest overall GPA and Farra Dantzler for having the most improved grade.

Local alumnae, collegiate members and their mothers and guests were present for the breakfast and ceremony.

Tri Delta Hold Breakfast

Tri Delta Sorority held their third annual Pansey Breakfast in the new dining rooms recently at the Rio Pines Manor.

The four graduating seniors are San Jo McLeamor, Debbie Smith, Margaret Gray and Becky Taylor. All are education majors. Awards were presented to the outstanding members of Tri Delta. Barbara Daniels was recognized by receiving a halter, air beds, water beds, jewelry, plaques, and other items of value.

Jane Newman was awarded for having the highest overall GPA and Farra Dantzler for having the most improved grade.

Local alumnae, collegiate members and their mothers and guests were present for the breakfast and ceremony.

Summer Bus Service Cancelled

FTU's express bus is definitely cancelled for summer quarter, in order to better serve the FTU community, Jim Eller, coordinator of Energy Conservation, said Tuesday.

"We are going to try to serve the most people," Eller said. "It's been proven this quarter was not a very successful as we had hoped."

Eller cited the easing of the fuel crisis and the success of the carpool system as the reasons. The bus system will resume again in the fall, with possible route changes, stop at Winter Park Mall, and an "ample publicity campaign for next year," Eller said.
No Graduation Speaker

TALLAHASSEE—It's reasonable to assume that the recent rapid changes in American higher education also have brought about marked changes in the composition, activities and attitudes of faculty. For example, when many of these changes became apparent, he said, the Carnegie Commission on Higher Education initiated a collaborative research project with the American Council on Education, College and university faculty at a representative national sample of more than two hundred and four-year institutions were surveyed in the 1968-69 academic year. The 1971 survey, was conducted by the same institutions, and it was done to determine if there were any changes that have taken place.

A poll taken by the FutURe Service, a featured speaker at graduation ceremonies by more than 91. Most of the thirty students polled expressed the idea that a guest speaker is much "a part of graduation."

President McMillan will speak to the graduates this year, which will be the last graduation ceremony with the guest speaker. The university will mark the presentation of FTU’s five thousand undergraduate baccalaureate degree and the five hundredth master’s degree.

Recent Changes in Education

By FSU Sociology Prof

Several states now have open university concepts in their constitution, according to the sponsors, the idea of open university using television as a needed alternative. Florida, with a tradition of external, off-campus, independent and adult education, has rejected the idea and others have proposed paving the remaining road surface and warning sign?

"kill the idea of putting it on the highways," said Dr. Robert Froemke, legislative analyst for the House minority office, and no junior colleges.

The population is not as massed in metropolitan areas as in the United States, and there is an extensive single public school system. An open university using television as a delivery system was logical, he said. In 1971, but there has been legislative interest in the idea for five years.

Based on a study conducted in New York, Froemke said, the number of persons wanting to earn a college program like the open university would be equal to 10 to 15 percent of the current total college enrollment. In Florida, that would amount to 20 to 40 thousand potential students. These students, he added, would typically "feel some kind of alienation" when confronted with traditional education and would often fall into four categories: dissatisfied junior citizens, second career (mostly retired) and military personnel. The open university system does not "reject the open university concept in Florida," he said, but feels it first must be justified as a needed alternative. Florida, he said, has already considered a leader in innovative higher education.

But there is a certain appeal to the open university, said Vice Chancellor Phillip Ashley, "People are looking for something different . . . a way out of a rut or a divorce, . . . a way to have some very special qualifications. First, you must really want to fly; even if you’re never training to fly, you also need a college degree and a sharp mind."

Waiting at the end of your training program are many options for you. By then you’ll be an expert in areas like Jet Navigation and Airborne Control . . . equipment to do whatever you want.

But whatever your specialty, travel will be part of your life. And so will challenge, responsibility and achievement.

If that’s the kind of career you’re looking for, and if you think you’ve got what it takes to be a Naval Flight Officer, see your local Navy recruiter.

Be Someone Special. Fly Navy.

U.S. NAVY RECRUITING STATION
EXEC. BLDG. RM. 205
3520 N. ORANGE AVE.
ORLANDO, FLORIDA 32804
P 904-6290

Be a special kind of Navy Flyer.
Be a Naval Flight Officer.

Whenever a Navy pilot is under electronic control, that plane is in the hands of a Naval Flight Officer, who operates the aircraft in exact accordance with the pilot’s orders. Flight Officer training will need some very special qualifications. First, you must really want to fly; even if you’re never training to fly, you also need a college degree and a sharp mind.

Waiting at the end of your training program are many options for you. By then you’ll be an expert in areas like Jet Navigation and Airborne Control . . . equipment to do whatever you want.

But whatever your specialty, travel will be part of your life. And so will challenge, responsibility and achievement.

If that’s the kind of career you’re looking for, and if you think you’ve got what it takes to be a Naval Flight Officer, see your local Navy recruiter.

Be Someone Special. Fly Navy.
Bill Protects Dorm Residents

By John Thomson, Times-Union Correspondent

TALLAHASSEE—Proving on the far side of a Florida State University Student Government President David Aronofsky, a skeptical House Judiciary Committee voted to "commend the Senate on its wise role down a bill which would ban students from having a job while studying and unfulfilled contracts be presented to the committee, vice-chairman Rep. John Forbes (D-Jacksonville) said after the vote. Aronofsky said $81,000 was being spent at FSU to renovate the dormitory building for a housing project, in order to have a "guest house" for President Stanley to stay in when he is here to talk with students.

Judge the testimony of Florida Circuit Court Judge de Manio, spoke before the committee, expressed the desire to have marijuana laws, de Manio said, "It is unfortunate that someone innocent has to be someone guilty to enforce them and has been proven to be dangerous legislation," according to de Manio. De Manio also said, "We are not looking to make trouble, and do not want to lay it on the grass, but here the nice desire for the people, and the group of people who has to be totally anti-social in order to do it, is to allow them to have more sexual freedom, and do not involve them in the violence, which some people may think are the penalties." De Manio also said, "It is not likely that we can take it through all four days, possibly we could do it through two days, but most students leave by Wednesday," de Manio added, "There is not enough time to make provisions against them, and we must enforce them and have the people not smoke, and not go to prison on marijuana charges.

Fall Meal Plans Added

Two new meal plans will be instated fall quarter for PTU students, according to John B. Williams, director of food and services.

Williams said that the 21-meal plan and the 10-meal plan will be added to the present 15-meal plan. "There will be no price increases, at least through the fall quarter on the 15-meal plan," said Williams, who said the 10-meal plan will be $175, and for the 21-meal plan, $235.00, said Williams. When asked if there was any possibility of the 21-meal plan being cancelled, Williams said, "Not at all, we are looking to anticipate any such thing." Williams said that the reason the plan was added is to allow students to have a move to the snack bar, "and was it not even considered," said Williams. "The reason it won't be cancelled is because we won't do anything we wouldn't be doing anyway," he said, referring to the fact that the snack bar is presently open on the weekends. The 21-meal plan is restricted to lunch and dinner only, said Williams, Monday through Thursday.

At the recent intermonitor meeting in a few students expressed the desire to have their food cards extended past the final examination period.

According to Williams, "It is not likely that we can take it through all four days, possibly we could do it through two days, but most students leave by Wednesday," de Manio added, "There is not enough time to make provisions against them, and we must enforce them and have the people not smoke, and not go to prison on marijuana charges.

Dr. Richard Hulet, Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs of the State university System, told the committee the bill would create an adversary relationship which would tend to hurt students rather than help the student.

Aronofsky said dorm living conditions have already created an adversary relationship. They haven't committed with minimal housing standards.

"What if the student had a complaint?" Hulet said. "Now he can go to the housing director and pound on his desk. But under the Landlord-Tenant Act, you'd have to take it to court."

One committee member asked if passage of the bill would lead to "Booze in the dorms," and coed living. Becker said it would depend on the rental agreement and that the landlord could make prohibitions against such things.

After listening to Smith explain what he claimed were contract violations and has it violated.

Tuition Deferral Explained To Vets

Veterans attending PTU this summer quarter should remember the 60 day tuition deferral is not automatic; it must be applied for. The plan gives veterans the option of deferring their quarterly tuition for sixty days, or in the case of the summer quarter, until August 20. To be eligible for the 60 day deferment, a veteran need merely bring his fee assessment card to the veteran's office in the Administration Building and have it signed by Larry Matthews, coordinator for veterans affairs at PTU, stressed to interested veterans, "If you take it (the deferment plan), be sure to pay on time.

Matthews's concern that veterans pay their deferred tuition on time is due to the fact that the plan was just instituted the last fall quarter, and his office is not currently closely watched by state officials.

TODAY AND TOMORROW NIGHT

8:30 ENAUD

Hey Doc, What's the Doc?!

COLONIAL STYLE DRESSER 3 DRAWERS 150

WANTED

NOW ACCEPTING APPLICATIONS FOR SUMMER JOBS ALL SHIFTS (Open hrs) Experience not necessary:

• Cooks
• Bartenders
• Waiters
• Waitresses
• Dishwashers
• Cashiers

Company benefits, good pay, & excellent working conditions. Apply in person for Mr. HENRY, POSTMASTER

CHANCELLORS RESTAURANT

SUMMER WORK

NOC. offers jobs in all major Fl. cities. Need, aggressive, with car. On job training leads to permanent employment. This is not door to door selling, $500 per month salary, 10% commission plus bonus. Free Janice vacation in Orlando call Mr. Goetz 894-9671 9 a.m. - 4 p.m.
Athletic ‘Awards’ Cup 1974 Year

By Larry McCorkle

As the academic year ends at FTU, so does the athletic year. And as the professors take their students home for summer, some schools FTU’s athletes do attend classes (at least some). So with the close of the year, it’s only right (or, right) and proper to do it again with the PutTwo’s 1974 Athletic Awards. Some may be in jest, some serious, but all deserving.

Without further ado, away we go:

The winner of the “Prince Valiant” Look Alike Award (at least in the eyes of one admirer) goes to basketball player Pete Han. The 6’7 native of Wisconsin with the masculine body and flashing eyes was chosen as one in common—They are winners.

The “Pin and Needles” Award goes to basketball player Armeti Hall, who yearly loses his arm to an unspecified (rumor has it) with no ramifications left in the Rollins’ game.

The winner of the Intramural “Longevity” Award is a four-way tie between Mike Moreau, Greg Fairbanks, Terry Meyers, and Mark Dembo. Fred MaslU deserves honorable mention also as was expected, with many rivals, this quintet of Tokes and Flies -- good ring to that -- and they did. The team concerned citizens have been receiving by the Department prompting a new meeting, for the WFL, as was expected, with many rivals, this quintet of Tokes and Flies -- good ring to that -- and they did. The team

Kappa Sigma first baseman Richard Meyers, who is the recipient of this anonymous team can be scheduled to face LXA in the sport of our choice.

The Florida Blazers! Why Not Porcupines?

After two weeks of intense negotiation with the Florida Intercollegiate Football League’s Virginia Ambassador, Ronnie Louden succeeded last Saturday in buying the franchise and shifting it to Orlando.

Unfortunately, the proposed name of the Florida Blazers was already used by the WFL, California Suns so Louden was faced with the problem of a new name. Without time to run a suitable popular contest, Louden’s associates had to pick a name quickly -- and they did. The team is now the Florida Blizzards. But many Central Floridians have expressed dissatisfaction with the new name Blizzards, for after all, how could you relate to the Blizzards?

Many new suggestions from concerned citizens have been received by the PutTwo Sports Department prompting a new meeting, for the WFL, as was expected, with many rivals, this quintet of Tokes and Flies -- good ring to that -- and they did. The team

Lambdas Chi Alpha claimed its first fraternity championship in an intramural sport since becoming a national fraternity three years ago, downing Two Kappa Epsilon 2-4 in the windup of a double header playoff wednesday.

At the same time, the Cannibals won their second straight independent softball title with a 1-6 whipping of the Kappa Epsilon II and were scheduled to face LXA in a fifth game.

The Florida Blazers! Why Not Porcupines?

After two weeks of intense negotiation with the Florida Intercollegiate Football League’s Virginia Ambassador, Ronnie Louden succeeded last Saturday in buying the franchise and shifting it to Orlando.

Unfortunately, the proposed name of the Florida Blazers was already used by the WFL, California Suns so Louden was faced with the problem of a new name. Without time to run a suitable popular contest, Louden’s associates had to pick a name quickly -- and they did. The team is now the Florida Blizzards. But many Central Floridians have expressed dissatisfaction with the new name Blizzards, for after all, how could you relate to the Blizzards?

Many new suggestions from concerned citizens have been received by the PutTwo Sports Department prompting a new meeting, for the WFL, as was expected, with many rivals, this quintet of Tokes and Flies -- good ring to that -- and they did. The team

Lambdas Chi Alpha claimed its first fraternity championship in an intramural sport since becoming a national fraternity three years ago, downing Two Kappa Epsilon 2-4 in the windup of a double header playoff wednesday.

At the same time, the Cannibals won their second straight independent softball title with a 1-6 whipping of the Kappa Epsilon II and were scheduled to face LXA in a fifth game.

The Florida Blazers! Why Not Porcupines?

After two weeks of intense negotiation with the Florida Intercollegiate Football League’s Virginia Ambassador, Ronnie Louden succeeded last Saturday in buying the franchise and shifting it to Orlando.

Unfortunately, the proposed name of the Florida Blazers was already used by the WFL, California Suns so Louden was faced with the problem of a new name. Without time to run a suitable popular contest, Louden’s associates had to pick a name quickly -- and they did. The team is now the Florida Blizzards. But many Central Floridians have expressed dissatisfaction with the new name Blizzards, for after all, how could you relate to the Blizzards?

Many new suggestions from concerned citizens have been received by the PutTwo Sports Department prompting a new meeting, for the WFL, as was expected, with many rivals, this quintet of Tokes and Flies -- good ring to that -- and they did. The team

Lambdas Chi Alpha claimed its first fraternity championship in an intramural sport since becoming a national fraternity three years ago, downing Two Kappa Epsilon 2-4 in the windup of a double header playoff wednesday.

At the same time, the Cannibals won their second straight independent softball title with a 1-6 whipping of the Kappa Epsilon II and were scheduled to face LXA in a fifth game.
By Joe DeSalvo

For many sports fans, The American Basketball Association is the league known for players who couldn’t make it in the rival National Basketball Association or got kicked out of college before their senior year because they were offered ridiculous sums of money to sign a pro contract.

For this reporter, the ABA is far removed from the days where the New York Nets and the Long Island Ducks called the same old problems.

It was 1967 before the Nets were in their first ABA season. The Nets were in last place in the Eastern Division at 55-29 mark after a shaky start in the Eastern Division at 4-10. For coach Kevin Loughery in his first year as the Nets’ mentor, the Nets’ championship was a complete reversal of what he had the previous year coaching the Philadelphia 76ers in the NBA. Loughery coached the remaining 31 6er’s games and finished 11-20. The average age for the Nets’ starting five is 22.6 years in age.

The Nets’ season started well, but just when things were going right for the Nets, they were offered ridiculous sums of money to sign a pro contract.

Bobby Jones of Memphis State joined Erving and Paulis on the front line with his 6’9 height and a great rebounding ability. In the backcourt, second-yearman Brian Taylor, last year’s ABA’s Rookie of the Year, teamed up with another rookie, John Williamson to give the Nets one of the quickest backcourts in the league.

Not much else can be said about the Doctor. Erving was voted Most Valuable Player, Outstanding Player, and Player of the Year in the ABA in only his third year of pro ball. The 34-year-old giant averaged 27.4 points per game during the season and was among the league’s top performers in five other categories.

He finished third in steals with 190, third in blocked shots with 204, sixth in assists with 5.7 a game, seventh in rebounds with 10.7 a game, and ninth in two-point field goal accuracy with 51.5 percent. During the Stars playoffs, Erving averaged 25.7 ppg.

The Nets didn’t waste any time in signing the Doctor. Erving and Paulis knocked off the Squires in five games and shocked the world with 2-5 games.

It was quite a team for a team that only had three players from last year’s squad.

Today, the New York Nets average over 12,000 fans a game and are now the most respected club in the league. Only a loyal Nets fan, such as myself, would know what it was like for seven years waiting for a ABA championship.

Not much else can be said about the Nets. Things weren’t going right until they had to travel to see a losing team.

The Nets had to travel to see a losing team, and check out our new Travel Board in the hallway.

BABYSITTING & REFERRAL SERVICE

SEARCH FOR DETERMINED, TRUSTWORTHY PERSONS

NEW

MORE

COMPLETE

CARPOOL INFORMATION NOW AVAILABLE!

VILLAGE CENTER COMPLEX

RM 216

BIRTH CONTROL, ABORTION AND V.D. PAMPHLETS

AVAILABLE AT THE

STUDENT GOVERNMENT OFFICES

LOCATED IN THE NEW VILLAGE CENTER COMPLEX

FTU’s Own Nets’ Fan Cheers ABA Champs

GOING MY WAY?

TRAVEL BOARD

TRAVEL BOARD

CAR POOLS

NEW, MORE COMPLETE

CARPOOLS INFORMATION NOW AVAILABLE!

VILLAGE CENTER COMPLEX

RM 216

MOIE SUBSIDY TICKETS

AVAILABLE IN STUDENT GOVERNMENT OFFICE VC 216

FLA STATE THEATRES:

BEACON

COLONY

PLAZA I &

PLAZA II

WOMETCO TWIN:

PARK EAST &

PARK WEST

UNIVERSITY DRIVE-IN

BIRTH CONTROL, ABORTION AND V.D. PAMPHLETS

AVAILABLE AT THE

STUDENT GOVERNMENT OFFICES

LOCATED IN THE NEW VILLAGE CENTER COMPLEX

May 24, 1974-FDTrim-Page 15
one special

* student discount ?

two special

* student leases?

spacious, air –

* conditioned apartments?

* beautiful landscaped grounds ?

* recreational facilities and swimming pools?

All this from $129 PER MONTH!

 ORCHARD TRACE **

1701 Lee Road

Winter Park 644-9121

 PINEOLOCH TRACE APARTMENTS **

525 E. Michigan St.

Orlando 422-1163