In the past A&S fund were under the control of the A&S Admissions office. Now the funding of activities such as the Florida Student Government, The Crazy and In pertinent部件 according to Hunter Potts, SG President, the funds which total over $600,000 for FTU will be collected by SG in a budget approved by University President Charles Millican. President Millican then has the power to veto particular contracts. However, Millican will not have the power to shift any funds between accounts.

Potts said the biggest question thus far pertains to the $575 per quarter fee. SG is responsible for also expending the funds. What will be required of SG in managing, expenses, such as an expensed purchasing officer, is still unknown.

Increasing salaries was the main reason for adding a health fee service charge to the fee schedule instead of using A&S funds to pay for the health center. However, W. Rex Brown, Assistant Vice President for Student Affairs, said he feels the question is a simple matter of interpretation. Brown said that once the budget is approved by President Millican, the budget will probably be administered through normal university procedures established by state law.

Despite complaints by some organizations, Dr. Ken Lawson, Village Center Director, said their budget has not dropped, but increased slightly. Lawson says he anticipates no problems for future budget negotiations, however, he added, "that depends on who's in office (SG President) at the time."

Still, the VC is not free from financial problems. Due to state legislature admission will be free to students of minority and other on-campus entertainment, which will result in a $10,000 income loss, according to Lawson.

Potts says he has plans for the future concerning budget matters, but contends that greater cooperation is needed between agencies in order to iron out percent problems.

Forensic Science: The Art Of Telling Truths

Fines for overdue books will be back at FTU's library this year. That was the word from Library Director Lynn Walker, who explained that the reinstatement of penalties comes on the heels of an unsuccessful experiment conducted through the 1973-74 term, when the Florida Board of Regents granted permission for the FTU library to discontinue fines to see if fines were really needed to assure the punctual return of volumes to the center. Results showed overdue books were up 25 per cent during the year overall, and up to 50 per cent on any given day.

But Walker indicated Walker, librarians dislike fines as much as students. For the library staff, fines mean extra work, especially bookkeeping. Very little of the fine money goes back to the library, or even to FTU, but rather to the state's general funds to pay state bills. The few cents that do come back to the budget is earmarked for other purposes, and it costs the library in bookwork to continue the penalty system.

New fine rates will be 25 cents per day for regular volumes and 50 cents per hour for reserve materials. Students with outstanding library accounts will not be allowed to register for the next quarter's classes, and lost books will have to be paid for at their full price. Replacing the volumes plus the fines accumulated from the date due.

Flu Shots Available At Health Center

The Health Center has announced that flu vaccines are available free to all students. Faculty and staff will be charged $2 for the shot. Dr. Sloan has requested that persons wishing to be immunized come to the Health Center prior to 9:00 a.m. or after 1:00 p.m. Monday through Friday to avoid the busiest hours. The Health Center will also be opened from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. on the weekends and shots will be available at that time as well.

Where a frenzy of activity is commonplace in preparation for the start of classes this September.

Aided by Seminole County Sheriff John Pohl, Sanford Crime Lab Director Peter Ragland and others who helped get the ear of grant agencies at the federal, state, and local levels, McGee so far has been awarded more than $400,000 in Federal and State Funds for the establishment of the program. Within the four walls of the one-time parachute loft, the first students will find completely equipped facilities on par with some of the finest crime detection centers in the country. An indication of McGee's expertise on science is that grants for his program are required to take nearly two-thirds of the 180 hours needed to get a degree, in science courses.

The FTU Forensic Science program is McGee's project. McGee has traveled coast-to-coast over the past two years, seeking advice and picking brains in leading forensic science laboratories. From his experiences, McGee has developed a unique program with features that are just as new as the Sanford teaching lab.

First of all, the student will have a chance of going one of two ways, concentrating either on criminalistics or civilides. It's probably the last mistake a student would make.

Many of the degree programs now being offered at other colleges are in "criminalistics," and usually fall within sociology or criminology departments. While the FTU program will be associated with the University's criminal justice and allied legal services programs, the emphasis will be on science, pure and not so simple, McGee declared.

There's no guarantee that a graduate with a degree in Forensic Science will be an expert witness. That classification is granted to a court and not a college which is a primary reason why McGee and FTU are stressing the quality of their program. "We don't want to play the numbers game and turn out people not really prepared for the task. Your first mistake as a forensic expert on a witness stand is your last in this profession," McGee emphasized.

Information about the new FTU program is available by contacting McGee at 275-2788, or the Department of Chemistry at Florida Tech, 272-2236.

SO, HOW DO YOU THINK YOU ARE GOING TO LIKE CLASSES?

FTU students should not be asked to pay for other universities' parking facilities. The big colleges would no doubt benefit from this increase, but the size and number of students at FTU does not put FTU on a priority basis.

In addition, it should be of concern as to how the 35 percent reserved parking is to be allocated. If administration, faculty and staff are provided with the first opportunity to buy the decals, students would still pay for parking in FTU where they have always parked. If it is on a first-come, first-served basis, new problems arise concerning needs of certain individuals for close spaces. It can be viewed as a possible establishment of an FTU parking' where who one may know means where one parks.

But now it looks like how big and how represented the university may be means how much it has to pay for parking facilities.

An Open Letter to the FTU Student Body.

I would like to take this opportunity to welcome back returning FTU students. Admissions presented wonderful greetings to our new freshmen and transfer students who are attending classes at FTU for the first time this fall. To enhance your college experience, I strongly urge you to become involved in the many campus activities that are available.

Opportunities for involvement include: over 75 student organizations, fraternities and sororities, athletic, intramural and extramural, Village Center activities, University committees, and Student Government. Within Student Government, there are many positions available, both appointed and elected, including the Student Senate, the executive cabinet, student Judicial System and numerous committees.

Recently, SG serves two functions. First, SG represents all students in matters of student concern and interest both at University and Statewide levels. Secondly, SG provides or requests student services that will not or cannot be provided by other departments of the University. These two functions combine into one overall concern to serve students.

With the recent passage of HB 2962 in the 1974 Florida Legislature, Student Government has assumed much greater responsibility and control for the administration and expenditure of activity and service fee monies. Other new and exciting events have been happening this summer and will continue throughout the year to become a part of this step by Student Government offices in the Village Center Complex.

I would finally like to urge all students who have any questions, complaints, proper suggestions or you just don't know where else to go for an answer, to come by SG offices and we will do our best to see that your question is answered and your problem is resolved. Your problems are our problems and we want to help.

Sincerely,

KATHY DONALDSON

Hallways

By Mike Hall

Welcome to the end of the first week of classes, the first issue of the FTUtre for 1974-75 and my first column for the campus newspaper. Being such an eventful day I suggest everyone head for the snack bar after their last class and have a beer or three. My name is Mike Hall and I write this shaky little column every week in hopes that they will eventually be collected into an anthology, sold at an outrageous price as literature and supplement my university pension checks. I happen to inform someone or stir up little controversy on the side.

By the way, any facts used in "Hallways" (my title, don't you think?) will be verified by the most reliable sources available to me. I do this because I like to crusade for good causes and the last comment you can use in a crusade is good solid facts.

The Air Force Pilot has it made. Air Force ROTC will help you make it.

Letters

Open letter to FTU Football fans:

If of you were away this summer, the World Football League came to town. Orlando came up with the Florida Blazers franchise. Poor attendance and lack of interest in a town with no football tradition have the team on the verge of moving. The Orlando area needs this sort of enterprise if we are ever to be more than a "bus league" town.

Having attended all but one of the home games, I feel that the Blazers are a fine team with a great potential. The whole WFL has potential and is worthy of your support, especially since FTU has no team and more in sight.

By now it may be too late, but if you were not in attendance at the nation's first professional game last night, at least show team officials that they have your support by writing or phoning. Make every effort to attend the last two home games.

If Orlando keeps losing such worthy efforts and old-school bodi ies, pretty soon we can all just sell our cars and sit in rooms, watching everybody else doing something on television.

Editor:

I would like to commend the campus planning committee or whoever on (I am a bit difficult to find, however) a good cause to crusade for. Especially when you need one every week! As a consequence I must often draw upon my innovative genius and command of the English language to create six entertaining columns out of nothing. (Witness what you are now reading.) Let's face it, the most controversial thing to conquer most of you the first week of classes was probably the $50 you had to give to the bookstore so you could catch up on the reading you had already been assigned. I'm sure there are going to be plenty more weeks like this one throughout the quarter. So if any of your ever feel like you've been slipped the shaft by the people in the glass house and you want a crusader to take your case, call 361 or 362 and ask for me. If I'm not there (which is usually the case) leave a message. Who knows, you may give me something to write about and the rest of the FTUtre readers (not one of them) something decent to read.

Here's how.

If you qualify, the Air Force ROTC will provide the flying lessons. It'll be in a small light airplane; but you're started towards the day when you'll solo in an Air Force jet. That's only one of the benefits of the Air Force ROTC. Other than that, it provides academic scholarships that cover full tuition. Plus reimbursement for textbooks. Plus lab fees. Plus $100 a month, tax-free.

Resident Center Library

DID YOU KNOW? Have you heard? Each Resident Center has its own library! Space may be limited and collection incomplete but we offer all the services that the main campus library offers. In the Resident Center Library you will find the entire card catalog on microfiche. This means that if you want to find a book by author, title, or subject, all you do is consult the microfiche, place your book request with the student assistant, and in a few days the book (if it's available) will be checked out to you. We do need your name and social security number. When you're finished with the book, return it to the Resident Center Library and they will be returned to the main campus.

A "Serials Holding List" which lists the magazines the FTU Library has in also in each library. Interlibrary loans are also available to both students and faculty in the Resident Centers. Books or journals not available at FTU can be obtained from other libraries. Obtain the proper forms from Mrs. Elba Grovdahl in the Reference Department of the Main Library.

The Air Force Pilot has it made. Air Force ROTC will help you make it.
Students who have made the same achievement, or have done something of interest to the FTU community, will be featured in this new column. Anyone having information concerning students may submit written stories to the FTU office on or before Monday of each week. This will provide the various colleges an opportunity to inform the FTU community about any students who receive scholarships or who have in some way excelled.

Peter Westcott is going to leave his books at home this fall for a look at the real thing. From September through Christmas, Westcott will be working as a Senior Locator, Chiles in Washington. After being selected from a list of Florida Tech University student candidates for the job, Westcott is a senior at FTU, majoring in political science and history. This opportunity was provided by FTU's Go-Up Education program.

Rick Ballard believes in following some advice given by his dad, and as a result, started working this month as an FTU co-operative education student at Martin Meritiate's Data Center in Orlando. The advice, says Ballard, is to let people know you're around. "He told me to push a little harder, and that's what I did," said the 21-year-old FTU junior. But what makes Ballard's case different is that he was born with cerebral palsy and has been pushing ever since.

Art Education major Mary Reen appeared on the cover of a recent issue of Florida Magazine as a local winner in the Kodak International Newspaper Photography Contest. Mary's black-and-white photograph of a small boy and his cat was one of eight prints selected from 500 entries to receive a local prize. Awarded by the Sentinel Star, Mary's photograph will now be included in international competition for $5,000 in travel and cash prizes.

New Courses

A new evening program offering a master's degree in mechanical science at the FTU office.

The program, which will provide advanced training in the combined areas of math, statistics and computer science, is designed specifically for professionals, with the emphasis on practical application.

The five courses which are offered for fall quarter cover all three areas. Included are advanced calculus, techniques of complex variables, applied probability, scientific applications concepts and software concepts.

The program's purpose is to meet the needs of students who are working in industry and are interested in expanding their knowledge in the field of mechanical science.

The program is designed to be flexible and to accommodate the work schedules of students who are employed full-time.

The cost of tuition and fees for the program is $500, and there is no residency requirement.

For more information, students should contact the office of the Graduate Coordinator, in the FTU office.
Development Center Has Much To Offer

John Bridges

The FTU Development Center has resonated the reality of campus encounter groups in three different areas for the Fall quarter. Formation of the groups is expected to continue for the next two weeks and is free of charge.

Dr. Tom Lowrey will continue his Gestalt Growth group after the great success of one particular group over the fall semester. The Gestalt group will be concerned with interpersonal and self-awareness. Students will analyze themselves, gaining insight into their own feelings and actions, and will be provided with feedback from others in the group regarding their success in relating to them. Dr. Jack McIntire of the Psychology department will co-lead the group.

The two remaining groups will be under the direction of the center's assistant director, Dr. Dee Welton. One group will meet as the "Rational" or "Growth through Reason," and will identify and change submerged beliefs that interfere with the enjoyment of life and personal growth. The second group will be organized as a Career Planning workshop, designed to assist those in need of counseling or additional information regarding their major or future vocational plans. The center's collection of vocational files and tests will be available to these students; an insight will be provided into the feasibility required in the rapidly changing careers of the occupational world.

Students may register for these groups or obtain additional information by visiting the center, located in Residence Dorm C, or by calling 275-2811.

Danforth Scholarship Offered

Inquiries about Fellowships, to be awarded by the Danforth Foundation of St. Louis, Missouri, are now being invited, according to the FTU representative, Dr. Leslie L. Ellis, Associate Vice President and Dean, Graduate Studies and Research.

The Danforth Fellowships are available to all college and university students under 35 years of age, who have serious interest in careers of teaching and/or administration in colleges and universities, and who plan to study for a Ph.D. in any field of study common to the undergraduate liberal arts curriculum in the United States. Applicants may not have undertaken any graduate or professional study beyond the baccalaureate. Persons must be nominated by Dr. Ellis by November 26, 1974. Approximately 100 Fellowships will be awarded nationally next March.

The award is for one year, and is normally renewable until completion of the degree or for a maximum total of four years of graduate study. Fellowships are limited in individual need, but may not exceed $3,200 for single Fellows and $6,400 for married Fellows for the academic year, plus negligible allowances for children and required tuition and fees.

Other fellowships may be held concurrently with a Danforth Fellowship, except for those administered through other programs of the Danforth Foundation. Income from other awards will be taken into consideration in determining supplemenary living expenses if the amount received is less than the Danforth Foundation maximum, and if the Fellow may so elect.

The Danforth Foundation was created in 1927 by the late Mr. and Mrs. William H. Danforth as a philanthropy devoted to giving aid and encouragement to persons, to emphasize the human values that come from a religious and democratic heritage, and to strengthening the essential quality of education.

Services in the areas of vocational counseling, reading and study skills, study habits, and have clinicians available for speech and hearing disorders. In upcoming issues, the FuTUre will provide further information about each of the services offered.

City Manager

City managers from ten (Central Florida) communities met September 5 in Winter Park as a prelude to a pilot program in small city management to be sponsored by Florida Tech University and the International City Management Association (ICMA).

The initial meeting was devoted to orientation and organization of the group, according to Warren (Peter) Knowles, Sanford city manager, who was instrumental in establishing the session along with Dr. William W. Young, FTU chairman of political science. Citrus represented at this meeting at Winter Park's Longford hotel by city managers and their alternates included Sanford, Winter Park, Maitland, Casselberry, Kissimmee, Deland, Leesburg, Green Cove Springs, Clermont and Titusville.

FTU's interest in municipal administration stems from its public administration program, a spin-off of political science. This program has evolved into city management positions in Florida in the short while the program has been in existence, said Dr. Young.
Library Uses New System

"It's your money," is the sign students often see around campus when being cautioned about using University property or supplies to excel, and nothing could hit home harder than being fined with a bill for a lost or damaged book.

Loss of library materials compounded with the fact that FTU's library last year had twice as many books stolen as three years ago - nearly 150 last year, compared with 300 books overall in the last four years - created a need for tighter checkout security.

"Tattle Tape", according to Personnel Services Director Lynn Walker, is designed to eliminate theft of books that range in price up to $150 per volume, some of which can't be replaced, and most of which are the most-wanted books on campus. Manufactured by the Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Company (3M), the system operates through each volume in the library being chemically treated so that it activates an alarm at the checkout counter if not "demagnetized" through proper checkout processing. Once then sensitized upon processing when being returned to the library.

Food Service

As the Fall Quarter begins the cafeteria and snack bar are once more offering their food services. The erector hours for lunch and dinner are Monday through Friday from 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. and 4:30 to 6:30 p.m.

The snack bar operates Monday through Friday from 9:00 a.m. to 10:00 p.m. with breakfast being served between 7:00 a.m. Saturday hours are from 7:00 a.m. to 10:00 p.m. and Sunday 9:00 a.m. to 10:00 p.m.

Library Director Lynn Walker is coupled with a gate that locks in the holder of an unprocessed book, the system has library officials hoping for a big reduction in library theft.

"The main thing I want the students to understand is that this is not an harassment," explains Walker. "I would prefer to have everything free and open, but the loss of books deprives the great majority of students of their use. The security system has been tested and has no effect on heart pacemakers, but may have some effect on hearing aids if not properly tuned.

Library Program has 3 things to offer that other college programs don't.

1. Scholarships.
2. $100 monthly allowance.
3. Flying lessons leading to jet training.

New Orientation

Used For Fall

Some 800 freshmen who strated at FTU this fall were welcomed to campus in a unique summer orientation designed to fully prepare them for the leap into college life.

The four 2-day sessions planned were held July 15-16, 18-19, 22-23, and 25-26. The new students spent two days and one night living on campus.

All received academic advisement, registered for courses, took part in FTU's Student Life program and did planned social activities. A variety of groups on campus were involved in the orientation. Included are: Student Government, the Interfraternity Council and Penhellenic United Campus Ministry and faculty from FTU's six colleges and general studies program.

Each of the 350-member groups were divided into 10-12 students, who in turn had the opportunity to meet personally with faculty advisers, staff, upperclassmen and fellow classmates. During the personalized sessions, the groups also were introduced to faculty of leadership, career choices, goal-setting and other elements calculated to make the transition from high school to college much easier.

A similar program was planned for Transfer students in August.

Enrollment Errors Virtually Eliminated

Chancellor Robert Mautz says he is pleased that the Auditor General had concluded that errors made by the universities in reporting enrollment data were not of such a nature nor of such a magnitude as to indicate deliberate manipulation of material consequence of student enrollment data. The Chancellor made the statement in commenting upon a report of the Auditor General regarding a special audit of enrollment data of the state universities for 1973-74 made at the request of the House Appropriations Committee.

"We have made strenuous efforts to insure the integrity of our enrollment data," Mautz said. "The comments made by the Auditor General reinforce the conclusions drawn by my staff in a special audit conducted by the University System earlier this year."

Mautz said the actions taken and planned by the Board of Regents, in combination with actions by the 1974 Legislature would virtually eliminate any chances for error in reporting university enrollment data for funding purposes.

Real Estate Course

Prospective real estate salesmen who are interested in preparing for the state license exam are invited to enroll in courses to be offered this fall by FTU's Center for Real Estate and Urban Studies. The twice-weekly courses, Principles and Practices, and Real Estate Law, will be six weeks and four weeks in duration, respectively. Five of the six classes offered will be in the evening.

All but one class are being held at FTU's main campus. The exception is one section of Principles and Practices, to be held at FTU's South Orlando Resident Center in Orlando Center Park.

Principles and Practices is required by the Florida Real Estate Commission. The Real Estate Law course is necessary for preparing for the state license examination.

The next starting date for Principles and Practices is October 8. From 2 to 5 p.m. Real Estate Law classes will begin October 8 at 6:30 p.m.

Additional information about the courses may be obtained by contacting the FTU Center for Real Estate and Urban Studies, phone 273-2023.

Creation '74 Planned

Central Floridians are being invited to join students, staff and faculty at Florida Tech University November 12-15 in the annual campus art festival, CREATIONS '74.

The 4-day event, which will be held at FTU’s Village Center green, will feature arts and crafts, both for display and for sale.

A daily feature of CREATIONS '74 will be the appearance of a well-known Performing Artist from the area. Included on November 13, will be Fred McCarthy, syndicated humorist and cartoonist who was the originator of the "Brother Juniper" series.

Pageant Applications Available

Now is the time to enter the Miss Orlando, Pageant, said Mary Finnel, president of the Miss Orlando Scholarship Pageant, in announcing the acceptance of applications. The deadline for applying is today. Applications are available at Camelot Studios in Winter Park. Sue O’Hara, a student at FTU, last year is the reigning Miss Orlando. Five other F.T.U. students qualified for the 1974 Miss Orlando Scholarship Pageant.

To qualify, a young lady must be between the ages of 18 and 26 on the Labor Day holiday, must be a high school graduate by Labor Day and must never have been married.

Talent will be considered in the judging and each contestant should possess some quality of talent, either trained or potential. In discussing the talent qualifications, Mrs. Finnel stressed that the range is varied and that no girl must necessarily be trained in any specific field.

Pageant Director of FTU’s Orlando Scholarship Pageant, Marie Zapp, pointed out that the three major requirements. Each contestant will be judged in evening gown, swimsuit and presentation of her talent.

Adm-Fac News

The new assistant comptroller for FTU is Linda Bontz. Mrs. Bonte was promoted from her position as supervisory accounts payable for Finance and Accounting.

The College of Natural Sciences at Florida Technological University has announced the appointment of two acting department chairmen, effective with the start of this quarter. Dr. Ernest J. Lyle, Jr., will become acting chairman of the Department of Mathematical Sciences, while Dr. David H. Vickers will assume a similar position in the Department of Biological Sciences.

Larry F. Matthews, who formerly was coordinator of FTU’s Veterans Affairs Office, has been appointed Director of School and Community Relations at the University. In his new capacity, Matthews will be responsible for the organization and direction of activities aimed at reaching prospective students with information on FTU’s many academic programs. He also will continue to work closely with community colleges in the state.

Beginning in the issue of the Pitture, a new column designed to inform interested persons of events from the faculty, administration and staff will appear. Items of interest including programs, graduations, athletic engagements or other stories may be submitted to the Pitture office on or before Monday of each week. Please submit written material to ensure the usage of the article.

Student Musical

The Village Center has discussed the possibilities of funding a Student Musical. Dr. Lawson led a discussion of the educational opportunity for a student written play and a decision should be made this fall.

In national competition there is a $500.00 price for a musical.

Last year’s musical of four performances brought in an attendance of 331 and $387.00 in income. The production cost was $275.00 with 38-40 students participating.

WFTU Radio Station Begins Another Year

By Alan Croose

This fall Dave Wright took the helm at WFTU, the radio station of Florida Tech University. According to Wright, more people are still needed in order to build up the staff to a program level. Wright noted that the radio station is designed to fit into General Studies, is offered through the Fine Arts, Social Sciences, Business Administration, and the Beach Resident Center. Wright said that in order to earn necessary credits, he added, the limited exceptions, all of the General Studies courses will be conducted in the evening. Options available cover four general areas: Humanities, Fine Arts, Social Sciences, Education, and Business Administration. Within each area, are a variety of options. Courses in General Studies are not required to have an Associate in Arts degree, however, it is helpful, said FTU spokesman noted. Those without the A.A. may enroll concurrently in their local Community College to earn necessary credits, he added. The unique classes, which will carry no credit, and no charge will meet Thursday evening at the FTU Village Center, starting October 1. Teaching the course will be Mary Green, a member of the FTU staff, who has a sound background in the subject. A graduate of University of South Florida, she currently is working on a master's degree in English at FTU. "The campus station is good experience, and through it you can learn much about the Army's representative is the history, theory and symbolism of the craft which have long been associated with fortune telling. There are several cards we will utilize when teaching the new course, which is being offered as part of FTU's program of improvement-interest classes, may be obtained by contacting the FTU Breved Resident Center, phone (386) 562-8127.

It's already underway, but soccer fans will have their first close look at F.T.U.'s 1974 edition of Knight soccer Monday, September 30 when Coach Jim Rudy's 2-2 charges take on Florida Southern behind the pool at 3:30 p.m.

The Knights have already faced Flagler and Eckerd Colleges in this week beginning, what in Rudy's view, "will be a very tough but good year." His optimism stretches across the outlook of the upcoming year and the 28-year-old one time soccer co. at Douglas College, feels that with a new maturity shown by a still young team, last season's 7-6 record should improve.

"We have the quality to be a winner" he declares. "All it takes is a little hard work, fewer mistakes than the other team, and the ability not to run out of gas.

This year's schedule should find the answer to several questions looming in the back of F.T.U. soccer follower's minds. With opponents like the University of South Florida, 11th in the nation and Howard University, 4th in the nation, D.C.A. NCAA Champs a few seasons ago, as well as Florida International University and Erskine College the 4th and 11th ranked teams south of the Mason Dixon line, the baby foot of a new team is bound to roll regardless.

F.T.U.'s hopes for national recognition will be pinned on several factors, not the least of them the talents of goalscorer Winston DuBoise. Earning state wide recognition for his goal scoring antics during his freshman season last year, DuBoise, a product of Trinity Prep, picked up more pointers during the spring, when he attended tryouts for a national intercollegiate team, and is expected to spark F.T.U.'s bid for honors.

Last season's leading scorers, Dean Andreidis and Charlie Campbell, both juniors, will join DuBoise to form the squad's nucleus.

Rudy has 16 returnees among the 26 players he'll put out this season. He views everyone as a potential starter. Starting Monday's encounter with Florida Southern along with DuBoise, Campbell and Andreidis will be All-East Dan Brown, freshman Dyer from Edgewater High, Tom Smith, Jim Kiddon, Glenn Berns, Bill Bellicone, Mark Johnston and Brey Amin.

Sophomore Bob McMargul, rated as the "hardest worker" on this year's squad, is expected to see his share of action. Other key individuals expected to work their way into play will be Gus Romero, a transfer from Valencie C.C., and high school all-sisters John Brown and Reynolds.

Following two highly successful seasons in 1971 and 1972 the Florida Southern Monks fell off somewhat last year attributed to what Coach Jim Rudy labeled "a transition year.

The Knights just barely eked out a 1-0 win at Lakeland last year evening a 6-2 threatening indication in Southern Florida in 1972. Those six goals still represent the highest point total ever scored against in F.T.U. team.

NEWLY SURFACED COURTS NOW BEFITTING A WINNER!

By Joe Delavlo

The newly organized FTU bowling team, according to David Murphy, is the only team to score high in the nation this past summer.

According to Dr. Lex Wood, coach of the varsity tennis team, "the courts, which are located behind the cafeteria, have an asphalt base with a "color-out"

Wood added the courts are "tough, much improved" but the problems of the cracks on the baselines still remain. Construction to alleviate the problem will begin soon.

The original courts which were very first "caused the team to be embarrassed" when they held a home match. The courts didn't do justice to the team's strategy.

The courts will make the team look better doing good ground strokes. They'll definitely slow down the grounders added.

Wood hopes more care will be taken by the students in the use of the courts because of their deficiency. "Skateboards and cars among other things don't belong on the courts," said Wood.

The new P.T.U. cross-country team started the season last week with a dual meet against Brevard C.C. The phosphate miners were led home by freshman Dean Nogle who finished third in the race with a time of 24:32. Rick Huk, Bob Wolfe and Bob Smith supported Nogle in the four mile run. Despite the encouraging time, Brevard won 18-4. The P.T.U. club coach advisor, Dr. Kenneth Kennedy, pointed out the depth as a weakness of the squad.

All male or female students who are interested in joining the P.T.U. Track and Cross-Country Club are invited to report for training at four p.m. each day by the swimming pool. The first meet will be held Monday, September 23, starting at 3:30. The second meet is scheduled for Oct. 11 against Flagler J.C. Home meet room begins and end at the V.C. circle.
