In a special student Senate meeting held Tuesday, Oct. 8, a bill concerning Senate apportionment for the 1974-75 year was passed.

The bill provides that the Senate will be apportioned at 40 for the regular session. Each class for the seven colleges has one representative with the exception of freshmen and seniors. The Senate has been the senior business administration, freshman natural sciences, and graduate education, which each have two representatives.

Five other bills were presented for first reading and concerns the allocation of funds to the FTU Track Club A bill concerning the registration of clubs and organizations. Bill 7-3, and the Student Government approval of the 1974-75 fiscal budget. Bill 7-4 were also presented. Two additional bills, 7-5 and 7-6 concern regulations pertaining to student assistance bills.

In addition to legislative action President Potts commented on various things in which SG is presently involved. Potts stated that enrollment for this fall is up from last fall. He said that last year's fall enrollment was 7100 and was up to 4000. This he added was not including continuing education students which would place the total figure at approximately 9000. Potts commented that unexpected increase in enrollment would mean more money from Activity and Service Fees. This extra money, he said would be unbudgeted and it would therefore be up to the Senate to deal with it during the year.

Potts also spoke about the informal session in which he and Vice President Rex Brown participated on Oct. 3 in the Knowl. The intention of this Potts said was to provide more visibility for the administration and members at SG. Potts said that he hoped it would evolve into something a regular basis.

Potts informed the Senate that the Residents Association had passed a resolution on to him concerning alcohol in the dorms. Potts stated that he had passed the resolution on to Vice President Brown.

Potts brought the Senate up to date on the details of the changing of the withdrawal policy. Potts said that the bill had been passed on to the vice president of Academic Affairs. If it then goes to the Faculty Senate Instruction Committee which Potts said in holding the bill until they have researched it further.

Debate Team Enters Contest

The FTU Debate Team, coached by Jeff Butler, returned with a third place trophy from the Middle Tennessee State University (MTSU) Tournament, October 6.

Doing the best FTU has done since attending the MTSU Tournament, Eddie Foster, Loyd Vinson, Pat Jerome, Rick Blomquist, Tom Marnado, and Dave Larkin, all varsity debaters, were at least one-half of their rounds.

Pat Jerome and Dave Larkin were selected in the "top ten" speakers from a field of 160 debaters. FTU's team of Eddie Foster and Pat Larkin placed third in the tournament after defeating teams from the University of Kentucky, Esmory University of Alabama and others.

At the three-day-long tournament, the FTU team competed against 19 teams for over 38 colleges and universities, including University of Alabama, Emory University, Notre Dame, Ohio State, and Vanderbilt University.

Butler stated, "As good as our teams have been in the past, this marks the strongest beginning FTU Debate Team have ever had and we look forward to a successful year.

FTU was able to make the trip to Middle Tennessee by economizing. Whereas many Florida teams flew, the FTU team drove 13 hours in a small station wagon complete with luggage and evidence files. Eddie Foster commented, "It got uncomfortable at times but it was worth it."

Next week, FTU Debaters will travel to the Stepon and University of Kentucky tournaments.

Blue-eyed Students Sought

by Alan M. Cruise

Wanted: Students with blue eyes for research project.

Bob Langlotz, a civil engineer who has returned to school to get a degree in anthropology, gathers data in his spare time on people with blue eyes.

Langlotz says he intends to find out the eye color of all persons responding to any research questionnaires since approximately 1800 A.D. Langlotz theorizes that people with blue eyes tend to be more interested in certain areas. For instance, people having different eye colors.

Worthy noted in the area of sports that baseball outfielders and hatters with dark eyes were superior because these two activities were "re-active." He found that "well-abled" activities such as hitting golf balls and throwing touchdown football passes were better accomplished by athletes with light eyes.

Langlotz says one thing that initially aroused his curiosity was the high number of Nobel prize winners with blue eyes. Langlotz says many things initially aroused his curiosity were the high number of Nobel prize winners with blue eyes. Thus far, Langlotz says his research has been gathered from biographies and paintings of noted people, but says a group could help him intensify his efforts.

People could play an active role in this organization, or simply sit in on discussions," says Langlotz. Langlotz says his research deals strictly with information gathered in technical fields and not with artistic pursuits.

Langlotz quickly dismisses any association with Hitler's theory being inventive does not mean one is superior but simply that thought processes differ.

According to Langlotz, 10 percent of the world's population is made up of people with blue eyes. This, he says, is a very small number. A majority of Nobel prize winners in technical fields have blue eyes.

Grant Awarded To Study Deaf
Cameron E. Pyle

Dr. Phillip M. Tell, Associate Professor of Psychology at FTU, has been awarded a research grant totaling $21,750 by the Institute of Neurological Disease and Stroke, a branch of the National Institute of Health to facilitate a two year study into how deaf think.

The second purpose will be to increase the membership rolls of this fast-growing faculty organization.

Volunteer faculty members from several Florida Universities will be on campus for the three day period to assist the FTU recruitment team. The effort will be culminated October 16, with an address by Dr. Helen James, State Vice-President of the U.F.P.

James, an Associate Professor of Special Education, at the University of West Florida, is an internationally known personality in her field, having attended and presented papers at conferences all over the world. James has been an active member in educator's organizations for over twenty-five years. James is the author of a widely known textbook on individualized reading and many articles which have appeared in professional journals. James is currently devoting herself to the organization and development of the United Faculty of Florida.

James' brief address is titled "Some Thoughts on Collective Bargaining in Universities.

James will speak at 3 p.m. October 16, in the Conference Room, fourth floor of the Library Building. The meeting is open to all interested persons.

Liverpool Group

The Village Center will sponsor a concert to be held at 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday, October 16 on the Village Center Green. The concert will be free to students with an FTU identification card and faculty and staff holding an Activity card. Tickets will be available at the general public at a cost of $2.00.

Spotlighting the evening will be a group known as Liverpool which recreates the era of Beatlemania through their performance of "The History of British Rock." They perform their set through the presentation of only Beatle music and finish up wearing costumes from the Sergeant Pepper album. In fact, the group is entirely Canadian and has only recently begun their United States tour. The concert which is scheduled to last until midnight will get under way with a band called Mad Mountain Mime who have toured with such noted groups as the Nitty Gritty Dirt Band and the Earl Scruggs Review.

UFF Seeks Bargaining Authority

The United Faculty of Florida will conduct an intensive recruitment drive on the FTU campus over the three day period of October 15, 16, and 17.

The purposes of the effort are two-fold. The immediate purpose is to secure signatures on "Authorization For Representation" cards. These cards will permit a statewide election to take place on the nine State University System campuses on the collective bargaining issue.

The second purpose will be to increase the membership rolls of this fast-growing faculty organization.

Volunteer faculty members from several Florida Universities will be on campus for the three day period to assist the FTU recruitment team. The effort will be culminated October 16, with an address by Dr. Helen James, State Vice-President of the U.F.P.

Medical Students Study Abroad

By Alan M. Crouse

Over 500 American college students will leave the country during the next year to study at medical schools in Europe. These pre-medical students will join more than 400 Americans now enrolled in medical schools abroad.

More Americans now are opting to study abroad than in recent years. Medical careers have become more desirable than ever before, and, at the same time, competition has stiffened for admission to the limited number of American medical schools.

Once admitted to a medical school, it is extremely difficult for any student to survive. Moreover, expense is even more rigorous for the young American who must wind his way through the often complex bureaucratic process of applying to foreign medical schools, then must learn to read, write and speak the language of the country, and develop a knowledge of medical terminology.

One way of surmounting these obstacles is to enlist the aid of an experienced professional organization such as the Institute of International Medical Education. Provisionally chartered by the Regents of the University of the State of New York, the Institute has as its principal purpose to assist qualified American pre-medical students who wish to study medicine abroad, but who also conduct a continuing medical education program, including master’s programs in the administration of hospitals, nursing homes, ambulatory and health services.

The Institute of International Medical Education not only assists qualified American students who wish to study medicine abroad, but also conducts a continuing medical education program, including master’s programs in the administration of hospitals, nursing homes, ambulatory and health services.

The programs of greatest interest to the U.S. pre-medical student consist of an intensive 12-week course in foreign medical schools, culture and medical orientation courses designed to enable the student to successfully meet the challenge of a new and different environment, as well as assistance with the complex applications and procedures of European medical schools.

As a result of its programs with the Alliance for Franco-American Graduate Studies and the Ital-American Medical Education Foundation, the Institute has been able to help over 300 American men and women gain admission to medical schools in France and Italy.

Increased government and private insurance programs are available to nearly all physicians in the United States. With the limited enrollment in European medical schools, almost half the doctors employed by hospitals in this country are graduates of foreign medical colleges.

The FTU chapter of the Association for Computer Machinery will be having its first meeting of the year at Lake Claire today. It will start at 12 noon and continue until 4 p.m. All members and interested people are welcome. There will be beer and food offered.

Editorial

Last year, $21,000 was available in the Concession Fund. This fund was accumulated from Sands Vending Company, Coca Cola, Southern Bell and the post office for rental space on a percentage of the profits for vending machines, phones and the post office located on campus.

For many years, this Concession Fund has then been used by the President of FTU as well as all state university heads. Some of the uses of this fund include donations to student scholarship funds, a percentage per student back to the BOR, funds for the Resident Hall Association, entertainment such as the President’s ball and flowers for funerals.

The President has this fund at his discretion for use as he sees fit. An example of one item - The Christmas Event (President’s ball and a student party) cost $1,779. The President’s actual official entertainment expenses for the year exceeded the budgeted $8,500. Dr. Millican had at his discretion a figure of $8,500 in the budget budgeted toward entertainment. Because the Florida Technological University Foundation Incorporation came through to aid the president in expenses, it was not necessary for the president to spend much of the money that had been budgeted in the Concession Fund for his entertainment expenses.

Some students would undoubtedly say that the President has no right to the money from the Concession Fund. As it is now, this is the only way aside from the Foundation that he is able to pay for entertainment. A student might further ask what kind of entertainment expenses a president would have.

College presidents are required to do all different types of entertainment. There is definitely a social aspect to being the president of any college. In Dr. Millican’s case, he must provide coffee and pastries for BOR meetings on campus, as well as having a Christmas Ball for the faculty members. This is part of his job, and is expected of him by laws of social etiquette.

It is unfair to assume that the President is arbitrarily spending money for entertainment. No alcoholic beverage is ever purchased with this money. No expense except to spend at his discretion?

The fund itself may be questionable. Should a president used by the President of any college? In Dr. Millican’s case, he must provide coffee and pastries for BOR meetings on campus, as well as having a Christmas Ball for the faculty members. This is part of his job, and is expected of him by laws of social etiquette.

It is unfair to assume that the President is arbitrarily spending money for entertainment. No alcoholic beverage is ever purchased with this money. No expense except to spend at his discretion? It is fortunate that Dr. Millican has seen fit to use this money for scholarships as well as balls.

Maybe a better alternative would be for the university to allocate a certain amount of money to cover the expenses that his president might incur. Until this is done, it is her accomplished, the president must have some means of meeting his obligations.

"The old FTU rumor."

That's what a friend of mine calls it. You know what I'm talking about if you're ever tried to get some information out of anyone connected with the administration. You call up and talk to a secretary who puts you on hold for 15 minutes. When the administrator (or whatever) finally answers he tells you he doesn't know anything because it's not his job and maybe you had better talk to someone else, etc. This is mildly annoying but to be expected, I suppose, in any bureaucracy worthy of that nile. There are instances, however, when passing the buck could have more serious consequences. Like if you happen to be the campus police, for example. An incident which occurred last Saturday night will illustrate my point. A drunk student was in her room by herself when someone knocked on the suite door. Thinking it was one of her suitmates' boyfriends she automatically yelled for them to come in. The door opened and two "strange-looking guys" walked in leaving two equally strange looking, I'm sure, guys standing out by the door. They came directly into her room and asked for a light and then hung around making the student quite nervous. When they finally left, the student tried to call a friend who wasn't at home. She then called the campus police who told her to call the Resident Aid (RA) on duty. So she called the R.A. and he, in turn, called the campus police. Ten minutes later (and half an hour after the first call to the campus police) two officers showed up at the student's room. They asked her some questions and told her that she should have had her door locked and (get this) that she should have called the campus police before the R.A. (As they explained it) her the time that she took to call the R.A. and him have him call the campus police would have allowed the four in question to get away. In fact, they had seen four guys drive away as they arrived.

Now, this particular incident isn't really serious. The student wasn't threatened. But it was a potentially serious situation in that these four characters could have gone to another girl's room and raped her by the time the campus police arrived. Why the confusion as to who is supposed to help students when and with whose permission?

In the rule book which the campus police follow there is an ordinance listed under "Encroachment on Dormitory Territory" which states that an officer must have permission of a an R.A. before he can enter the dorm except in an emergency situation. Now again, the previous example was not an emergency situation. But it could have been! And then I get taken up by going through the R.A. to get to the campus police could have been crucial!

As of my writing this, John Smith, director of the campus police is drafting a memo to supercede the aforementioned ordinance. The new version would allow police officers to answer directly any calls from dorm students and notify an R.A. after their arrival on the scene. This is, I'm sure, a move in the right direction. It must be approved by the BOR, however, before it can be put into effect.

I knew enrollment was up, but I had no idea...
Clapton Disk Disappointment

RECORD REVIEWS NO. 1
By Ike Harrison

ROJO Records 50480

After a three year lag from the music scene, "463 Ocean Boulevard" is somewhat of a disappointment from what might be considered the world's best guitarist.

That's not to say that Eric Clapton's latest release is bad, only an underachievement by a master.

Clapton plays well throughout the album, but the absence of long guitar solos where he stood out at his best. Instead, the album is filled with a lot of George Terry's rhythms.

Twice he does shine momentarily on slide guitar, in "Baby We Lived" and "Mainline Florida." Where Clapton has stepped back as a guitarist, he's moved forward as a vocalist. His voice seems to contain a tone of confidence not present in the past, an unassuming Clapton.

As always, the gentleness and innocence of Clapton are present on this album. This is especially prevalent in the love song, "Me, Myself and I." The meaning of love and togetherness is a theme that he teams up with Yvonne Elliman, and they sing "Picnic With Me."

A few fewer numbers include "Motherless Children" and a remake of a group version of "Willy and the Wild One."

"463 Ocean Boulevard" should do well commercially, thanks to a single from the album called "I Shot the Sheriff" and the fact that there are so many devoted Clapton fans around that he'd have anything he recorded.

The album lacks the greatness that still looP from being remembered along with Clapton's other noted works.

BIRDGE OF SIGNificance
RECORD REVIEW NO. 2
Chrysalis Records GHR 1057

Not often enough, the record charts plot a unique sound which stands out in the middle of the present mass of sameness.

Recently, from the three man group, Robin Trower, provided the sound through solidly crafted guitar riffs.

Robin Trower, lead guitarist, has been referred to as the "white Jimi Hendrix," and Trower admits that he is trying to continue where Hendrix left off.

The album starts off with "Day of the Eagle," a cut that shows the competency in Trower's backup with a moving beat led by drummer Reggie Bickers.

James Dewar serves a double role as bassist, and displays a distinct commanding voice as lead vocalist.

Trower really shows his stuff in the title cut from the album, slowly stretching his wailing notes to blend with the wailing lyrics of Dewar and developing the song through variations of guitar leads.

Trower's second album, "Standing Room Only," offers equal pay and equal promotion opportunities.

The meaningful lyrics combine with the superb musical ability to make the album an engaging experience.

Two side contains excellent selections, including "Lady Love," with Trower really cooking on some extended guitar solos, and "Little Bit of Sym­pathy."

SANTANA'S GREATEST HITS
RECORD REVIEW NO. 3
Colombia Records FC 10590

After seven successful albums, the time has come to release the traditional "greatest hits" album, containing cuts from Santana's first three albums. Cuts off of Santana's first album included "Santana" in both "Evil Ways," "Jingo," and "Persuasion."

Selections from his third album entitled "Santana II" are "Everything's Coming Up Way" and "Everybody's Everything."

This album represents a fine collection of the early development of a very accomplished guitarist, Carlos Santana.

Cadet First Lt. Susan Mundy of the AFROTC was awarded the scholarship for an entrance to The United States Military Academy.

The prize winner is a native of Virginia, and stands out as Commandant of her squad and was also selected as the number one Cadet in her Flight.

First Lt. Mundy is a junior majoring in Interdisciplinary Therapy and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Mundy, 1711 Hastings Street, Orlando.

Mundy is a graduate of Maynard Evans high school. Opportunities for women in the Air Force, according to Major Whisenant, are growing. They are offered equal pay and equal promotion opportunities.

Mundy hopes the Air Force will become even more a part of the time she graduates. Mundy wants to be a pilot, but knows since the AF will not put a woman in a combat area.

This is the third year of AFRoTC at the University of Florida, and Major Whisenant says it is still growing, seeding one more year to stabilize. Last year 80 students were enrolled, and presently there are 112 enrolled.

Whisenant already has 36 locations for next year.

The detachment at FTU is larger than that of the University of Michigan, Notre Dame, Duke and North Carolina.

Whisenant says there are good opportunities for the increased interest in the AFRoTC such as tight

HRFA Adds Ortmayer

A talented addition to the College of Humanities and Fine Arts this fall is Dr. Roger Ortmayer.

Dr. Ortmayer edited the award winning magazine Motive from 1950 to 1960. The avant-garde magazine won numerous awards for its design, layout and editorial content.

Commissioned by the American Guild of Organists, in 1970, Ortmayer produced a multi­media 106 voice musical entitled “Bless This World.” The musical runs one hour and 29 minutes and utilizes three projectors, a rock group, brass, jazz and a soloist.

Dr. Ortmayer has also written numerous scripts and scenarios for regular network television, including a play entitled “The Shepherdess” presented in 1962. Another television drama, “The Word It,” was produced in 1964.

MURAMATSU

The recently formed FTU Press is off and rolling, according to its director, Roland A. Browne. The FTU Press is operated by the university for scholarly work and "is intended to provide an outlet for scholarly work and material which would probably not be published otherwise," Browne said.

"Regulations of the Board of Regents maintain the State University System (SUS) Presses," Browne continued. "Selected manuscripts and other publishing projects are forwarded for publishing to the central SUS Press, or the Publication Unit, at the University of Florida in Gainesville."

"Every state university is authorized to fund projects to cover the operating expenses at the Publication Unit, based on the number of research positions at that university," Browne said.

The FTU Press is controlled by an editorial committee, consisting of the director, assuming a non-voting position, one member selected from each of the colleges of the university and one representative each from the university library, the Office of Business Affairs, and the Office of Student Affairs. "This committee," said Browne, "is the decision-making group; it decides what material is suitable for publication appropriate to the function of a university press, as distinguished from a trade press."

The editorial committee will accept books, monographs, and complete manuscripts for consideration, but because operation is on a limited budget, the scheduling of evaluation and publication will be determined at set intervals. Determination will be made by weighing such factors as intrinsic worth, potential sales and returns, probable costs and availability of funds.

The publication of two books is currently underway. Authored by Browne, "Holy Jerusalem Voyage," is an annotated translation of a 14th century French manuscript. Dr. Henry Whittaker, of the Biological Science department of FTU, has submitted a book titled "Mosses of the Society Islands."

In addition, Browne added, the editorial committee has recently decided to publish the collected poems of David Powne, of the FTU Press.

In addition, Browne added, the editorial committee has recently decided to publish the collected poems of David Powne, of the FTU English department. Browne speculated that the FTU Press will "continue to grow rapidly if sufficient funding is provided and if we are not in league with us, too, white-collar scholarly or artistic merit."

Emergency Loan Hit Hard

FTU's Emergency Loan Fund was hit the hardest over this fall, when an estimated $30,000 was loaned to students. The amount exhausted available funds and was the result of 224 loans processed for $55,000 on average. Last year emergency loans totaled approximately $55,000 on average. Baldwin explained that the increased amount and number of participants was brought on by the present economic climate, student problems with summer employment, last minute admissions and registrations, late availability of other financial aid and the new higher rates. The emergency loan program is a one-quarter loan, carrying a 2 percent service charge and is available to full-time students for the amount of student fees.

Faculty Member Dies

Mr. Leonard Cutcher of the College of Business Administration's Accountancy Department died at his home on October 5. Mr. Cutcher had been suffering for over a year with cancer. He first joined the FTU faculty in September of 1972. This past summer, he made a one-hour tape for use in the curriculum of a new English course entitled "Death and Dying," giving the thoughts and impressions of one who was terminally ill.

Services were held Thursday at the Arlington National Cemetery in Washington, D.C.

Tax Preparation Offered

Training in income tax preparation for personal use or for profit will be offered in a ten week evening course to begin October 28 at FTU. Classes each Monday and Thursday from 7 to 9 p.m. will qualify graduates to assist taxpayers with their returns. In light of the ever-changing tax regulations and forms, the course also will provide the opportunity for fulltime or parttime work for those who complete the 60 hours of instruction.

In addition, top graduates of the FTU course will have the option of interviewing for positions with H&R Block, Inc., the nationally-known tax preparation firm. There are no restrictions on applicants for the course, and no prior experience in accounting or related fields is required.

The $75 tuition for the course will include textbooks, materials and other supplies. Class size will be limited. Further information may be obtained by contacting FTU's Office of Continuing Education, phone 275-2123.

Alcohol In Dorms?

By Paula Wiser

"FTU is the only school in the Florida state university system which does not allow some kind of alcohol on campus," said Sharon Esposito, president of AFROTC (Army ROTC). However the RHA is taking action to change this situation.

Last week at the Inter-Dorm Council meeting, President Dorin's VC Slate, the residents present voted in favor of a policy permitting alcohol in the dorms. Now the policy has to go through various channels for consideration. First the policy will get a letter of recommendation from Hesperian Hall. Then Esposito will take the policy and letter of recommendation to Dr. W. Rex Brown, Vice-President for Student Affairs, for discussion.

The final decision will come from Dr. Brown and President Milliman. "The only comment that I've heard about the policy from the administration is a recommendation from Dr. Brown for a course or seminar to be offered to inform about alcoholism," said Esposito. "Already Dean McQuilkin is in the process of planning an alcoholism seminar."

The proposed policy was written by Jesse McLeod with help from Leo Goff. Information used in the policy was taken from the RHA referendum vote last spring and from policies at other state universities in Florida. "The Council feels real optimistic about this proposal after last year's defeat of the alcohol issue," said Esposito. "And after last year's acceptance the entire policy will be available for publication in the future."

The Village Center (VC) Board and planning committees have begun the quarter's programming with three major events... a concert on October 16, Pegasus Pubs Three times this quarter, Creations '74 (art festival), cartoonist and humorist Fred Mctarby (creator of "Brother Juniper" comic strip), Karate lessons, Tour classes exhibits, dances (Sept. 27 and Nov. 4) and many more.

These activities are planned and implemented by students who volunteer many hours of time to give the FTU students campus cultural, recreational and social activities.

Ideas that students would like to see implemented on this campus should be given to any of the VC Directors or call Double-Whistley or Kathy Cavanna at 275-3816.

Dorm Meeting

ARE YOU GETTING YOUR MONEY'S WORTH? CAN YOU AFFORD ANOTHER RAISE IN CAMPUS FOOD SERVICE COSTS? HOW LONG CAN FOOD SERVICE OPERATE ON AN OVERALL DEFICIT OF $24,634? CAN OUR PRESENT FOOD SERVICE BE IMPROVED - HOW?

Questions like these will be asked and answered at a special Inter-Dorm Council meeting Tuesday, October 18, at 7 p.m. The purpose of the meeting is to discuss the present price hike and a tentative raise in the present price hike and a tentative raise in the Spring Quarter meal plans. Other food service related problems are to be reviewed also.

All dorms students are urged to attend this meeting to voice complaints, opinions, and suggestions. A large number in attendance is required to make the plans happen or accomplishments.

Retraction

The $23,034 figure in the third paragraph of last week's article concerning food price increases was erroneously attributed to the deficit for the four-month summer period. The figure was in actuality the deficit for fiscal year 1974.

VC To Offer Karate

The Village Center (VC) will be offering karate lessons beginning October 10 and running through December 5. The karate lessons are free to all FTU students, faculty and staff, and will be conducted in the VC Assembly Room and the VC Multi-Purpose Room from 6 p.m. to 7 p.m.

The karate instructor will be Patrick Rodgers. For further information call 275-8861.

Don't let the price of a college education stop you.

The price of a college education is skyrocketing. Fortunately the Air Force has done something to catch up with it. For the first time, the Air Force ROTC Scholarships include the 2-year program, for both men and women. If you can qualify, the Air Force will pay for the remainder of your college education. Not only do AFROTC 2-year college scholarships cover full tuition, but reimbursement for textbooks, lab and incidental fees, as well as a tax-free monthly allowance of $100.

To cash in on all this just apply, qualify, and enroll in the Air Force ROTC at Major Bennett E. Whisnant, Tel. (305) 275-2564, Suite 300, Administration Bldg., Florida Technological University, Orlando, Florida.

It's a great way to finish your college education in the money, and build a future where the sky's no limit... as an officer in the Air Force.

Mike McClain, Freshman, Humanities and Fine Arts

1) I enjoy representing my friends and associates. My experience in government and desire to serve enables me to improve the educational value of college life for both the commuter and housing students of FTU.
2) I propose construction of a parking lot.
3) Designation of a specific parking lot for housing students.
4) Disclosure principle applied to student government budget and transactions.
5) I think the SG should regulate and govern any and all campus activities and interests pending on approval by the University President, excluding activities of University Security.

Bryan D. Beemer, Freshman, Natural Sciences

1) I want to be a part of FTU now and in the future. I want to help build the reputation of FTU.
2) I want to make sure that all students receive benefits and are fulfilled to the utmost of the senate’s ability.
3) I do not think I know last SG policy toward the fees. I plan to see that they are in the interest of all students.

Julia Victoria Martin, Freshman, Natural Sciences

1) Being new at FTU, I wanted to be involved in its activities. I know some people in the Senate, and from their discussions about what went on, I was convinced it would be worthwhile.
2) My individual priorities are for the students. If someone has a special suggestion or idea, he or she should come to me, if elected, or any other senator of our choice.
3) It is definitely changing. The Student Government has an increased responsibility with the control of Activity and Service Fees. These responsibilities are very important to the students and they should have a voice in it.

Gene Calvin Parker, Freshman, Natural Sciences

1) I feel a need for involvement in student activities. Working with student problems and activities I am growing in FTU and my own future. The time is now and we should use it.
2) a. Push for more student activities on and off campus.
   b. Get people involved.
3) Assume more responsibility for students enjoying the life at FTU.

James Frederick Holmes, Freshman, Social Sciences

1) In past years, attendance was often low, and apparently many of the past senators have not been interested in serving the students. I believe the current Senate has both the enthusiasm and interest.
2) SG should investigate the food service program here. The University of Middle Tennessee offers free $1 on an all-you-can-eat buffet. If they can do it, can’t we?
3) I think so.
4) The SG should maintain direct and exclusive control over the A&SS funds and should strive to ensure that the student body reaps as many benefits as possible from the A&SS funds.

John Kirstein, Freshman, Social Sciences

1) I feel I can do a service to all students. I have had past experience in high school.
2) To fulfill the betterment of the university and students.
3) No response.

Joseph Lee Richardson, Freshman, Social Sciences

1) I have represented students before very well. Students in both school and city government, and I have been able to accomplish many things elsewhere that I feel may benefit FTU.
2) a. Parking - revamped existing lots and pavo new parking areas.
   b. Get people involved in their student government.
3) Increased Village Center services.
4) As the SG assumes new duties and responsibilities, it will affect each one of us more... the SG’s responsibility to each individual at FTU for representation, service, and help should be their major goal.

Marc Rose, Freshman, Social Sciences

1) I was surprised at the lack of activities planned for new students here. In a situation like this where the majority of students live off campus, activities should be planned with this in mind.
2) If elected, I will voice my radical opinions in hope for a change that I’m sure is long overdue in that department.
3) I believe the senate is changing. But slowly. The planned student activities are way behind the times. With the right voices in office, these changes can be sped up, and updated.

Warren "Don" Charles Delay, Sophomore, Humanities and Fine Arts

1) I’m crazy about people. When I say I’m interested in working with people and for people I’m greatly understating. I just enjoy life a lot more when I can help to make someone else’s more active.
2) I plan to show that being a government body can indeed show forth a "leadership" which all large groups desperately need. The students at FTU have the capability to really make activities successful.
3) There has been a great deal of control over the SG holding these fees, but I believe that a central organization must soon take charge to use them for the betterment of campus activities.

Richard C. Mattson, Sophomore, Humanities and Fine Arts

2) I can do the best job for the College students. In addition, I have served with the Student Government at Central Michigan University, and have enjoyed working with it.
3) I would like to see more control given to the students in financing curriculum.
4) Naturally, I feel this gives the students and their representatives the ability to finance bigger and better programs.

Larry K. French, Sophomore, Natural Sciences

1) Today, there are gripes about government's failure to represent the average person. I want to become a part of the system and make it work the way it should. So I am running.
2) I plan to be a "watchdog" and do what I can to help those of us represent, to try to reach some point of view in legislation.
3) You have me there. Like many students here I haven’t really got an informative opinion on this matter. It is important.

Michael Inderhees, Junior, Business Administration

1) Many students display total apathy towards SG. This, I believe, is a product of who we have who represented us. We need someone who will reflect the concerns of the students.
2) My priorities, though not for all action, are to further close the gaps between SG and students, resulting in both being more influential in the happenings of our university.
3) I, Student Government must govern through support, senators being but an extension of the students of their college...policing of random NAPA to determine how parts of the blanketed, mandatory fees should be distributed is necessary.

Grace J. Carson, Junior Business Administration

1) There has always been a place for a person like myself on all campuses. I have been a part of that voice for many years and I wish to continue my activities doing so as a senator.
2) There are no individual priorities, only work as a whole, whether it be judicial, legislative, or executive.
3) The role of the SG is changing in that many of its members are from various fields which gives it a broader scope on the actual happenings and wants of the students...

Timothy W. Carroll, Senior, Business Administration

1) I am running for re-election this year in an effort to represent any college through an active role in Student Government. It is important that we have senators that want to work...
2) My priorities are those that benefit the students. The resident students and commuters alike should be given a chance in what is being done with the money they pay each quarter.
3) With the new control of Activity and Service Fees, the Village Center and the Student Government are forced to work in co-operation rather than opposition. This should allow for better on-campus programs for the students.

William F. Feger, Senior, Business Administration

1) I would like to leave for those who follow me a university that is a little better, a little more responsive in the needs of the student than the university I found when I arrived.
2) First priority should be placed on developing a system of programing with clear distinct levels of equal, desirable level for all students. Many students receive little benefit from their $34.00 per quarter activity fee.

Are FTU Students Losing Interest in Sex?

By Kerry Faunce

When the psychology department first opened a seminar in human sexuality for the 1974 winter quarter, over 250 students enrolled. The spring quarter opened with a somewhat reduced enrollment of only 100. Is it possible, with a dwindling fall roster of 40, that FTU students are losing interest in sex?

According to Dr. Margaret Thomas, one of the sex education instructors, it is more likely that the "curiosity" associated with the opening of the course has worn off.

According to Dr. Margaret Thomas, one of the sex education instructors, it is more likely that the "curiosity" associated with the opening of the course has worn off.

According to Dr. Margaret Thomas, one of the sex education instructors, it is more likely that the "curiosity" associated with the opening of the course has worn off.

Students expecting to land an easy "A" in a "pushover" class will probably be slightly disappointed as the course lacks erotic instructional films or vivid demonstrations and does not include a lab session. The sessions, open to anyone wishing to enroll, are primarily designed to give students a thorough knowledge of the human reproductive system and related patterns and problems in sexual behavior.

The course is broken into three sections. The first section, taught by Dr. Thomas, deals with biological functions, anatomy, hormones, conception, contraception, VD, and psychology. Following the biological studies, Dr. Randy Fisher covers such topics as sexual behavior, attitudes, laws, and pornography, wrapping up the quarter, Dr. Ron Drabman discusses clinical therapy involving sex problems and their treatment.

Students enrolled in the course generally felt it was a good offering. Some thought it should be included as a freshman environmental studies requirement. It helps guys understand girls and girls understand guys better," commented one FTU coed.

Suggested improvements in curriculum included adding more films and guest speakers, and possibly limiting the size of the class.

First offered last winter as a seminar in sexual psychology, PSY 335 is now a permanent addition entitled HUMAN SEXUALITY. Although it will not be offered this winter, the class is expected to be available for the 1975 spring quarter.

FTU Offers Tarot Course

by Arla Filko

"There are no bad cards in Tarot, only people's misinterpretation of them," explains Mary Greer, FTU staff member and current instructor of a weekly non-credit class devoted to the history, theory and symbology of the cards.

The Tuesday evening classes, sponsored by the Village Center (VC), will be held October 8 through December 9 from 8 p.m. to 9 p.m. in VC 214.

Tarot (pronounced Tare-oh) cards were the basis of the earliest form of playing cards in the American West.

In use since the 14th century, the deck consists of 78 cards -- 22 cards form the Major Arcana and 56 form the Minor Arcana. The original four suits were developed into the four suits used today but the only card presently in use from the Major Arcana is the Joker. The common playing cards used today were derived from the Minor Arcana dropping the knight to leave a deck of 52.

Long associated with fortune telling, Tarot cards offer psychological exploration and spiritual development as well. "The cards speak to you like dreams," replied Ms. Greer when asked of the uses of Tarot. "They also stimulate mental creativity, serve as a mode of expression for the subconscious and are helpful in meditation."

VC To Present
"Creations '74"

For four days, the Village Center green will be holding "Creations '74", the first art festival at FTU to extend invitations to the surrounding Orlando community as well as students, faculty, and staff. VC officials predict a big success.

The interests will range from paintings to sewing and knitting. Also included in the program will be drawings, graphics, photography, candlemaking, featherwork, ceramics, batik, paper flowers, paint-making, and silkscreening. These arts and crafts will be on display and for sale from November 12 to 15.

As an added attraction, well-known artists, including syndicated humorist Fred McCarthy (originator of the "Brother Juniper" series) will be making appearances to climax the unique festivities.

Those interested in showing or selling their work should contact Debbie Wheatley VC Program Director, phone 275-2832.

The entry fee for exhibits is $5.00. This charge includes exhibition rights for one to four days and table rental. The hours will be from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. daily.

Reflecting Pond Cleaning Problem

FTU's reflecting pond requires cleaning every four to six weeks at a cost of $200, according to Richard V. Neuhaus, assistant director of the physical plant.

Neuhaus said the reason for frequent cleaning is due to a buildup of algae, which occurs anytime untreated water is contained and exposed to light. The water in the swimming pool, for example, is treated, but the water is also checked daily.

According to Neuhaus, the physical plant tried using algicides in the reflecting pond, but abandoned the practice because of minimal effectiveness. Storm drains have since been installed around the pond to prevent debris from being carried into the pond during heavy rains. When the pond is cleaned it must be drained, scrubbed manually and rinsed.

Neuhaus said most of the $200 cost goes for man hours.

Educational Ass'n To Hold Meeting

The FTU Student Education Association, also known as Phi Delta Pi, will hold an organizational meeting for the 1974-75 school year on Tuesday, October 15 at 12 noon in GCB 228.

The club is open to all education majors as well as interested students who are interested in improving existing conditions within the educational system.

The membership fee for the club is $6 per year and included in the benefits is $200,000 of professional liability insurance.

According to Debbie Sammons, a club spokesman, "This year offers many opportunities to affect our communities and ourselves."

Sammons mentioned several activities which the club plans for the coming year including research and public information concerning the upcoming Orange County School Board elections, improvements in the FTU education curriculum, guest speakers on current problems in the education field.

Sammons stressed that the club is open to all interested persons and that the club would be what the members made it.

Here's how.

The Air Force Pilot has it made. Air Force ROTC will help you make it.

If you qualify, the Air Force ROTC will provide the flying lessons. It'll be in a small light airplane; but — you're started towards the day when you'll solo in an Air Force jet.

That's only one of the benefits of the Air Force ROTC Program. Consider all this:

Scholarships that cover full tuition. Plus reimbursement for textbooks. Plus lab and incidental fees.

Plus $100 a month, tax-free.

10th Ranked Erskine Blanks Knights, 4-0

by Peter Hans

In the first soccer meeting between Erskine College and FTU, it was FTU who found themselves in a 4-0 score Saturday. As coach Jim John later commented, "We had a goal early we would have had the momentum to carry us through the rest of the game. It seems as though we're always reaching, but can never quite come up with the big win when we need it!"

From the opening face-off and after a hard shot on goal, Erskine, FTU had a good opportunity to score when Mark Johnston took a hard shot that was handled poorly by the goalie but cleared by the defense. It missed by inches. Just one of the good chances FTU had missed that afternoon. As a matter of fact, FTU out shot the Flying Fleet from South Carolina by a margin of 25-20 and Van Taylor, outsaved FTU's goals as Earnston DeBose. Taylor is the all-American goalkeeper from New Jersey for Erskine who did well in his thirteenth year as the Knights' custodian. The team had already begun regular practice this fall in preparing itself for spring. "We have not played some of our opponents," Holmgren feels. "But we've held our own." The time has come for practices to become more frequent as the Knights prepare for their season.

Madden took a Gus Romero pass but was stopped by a good save by Taylor. Missing this chance seemed to take the wind out of the Knight's sails.

The early play of the Knights was marked by sharp passing and complete control of the middle field. But the problem seemed to be that FTU had no serious scoring threat once inside the 30 yard mark.

Erskine had a couple of shots on goal later in the half by Larry Kendrick who used some slick moves and his quick feet to outmaneuvre the defense but each time DeBose made the save.

At the other end the field FTU was pounding away at the Florida MBA, who found out in hard fought first half where it looked like it was going to be close but not the action. Right until the final horn FTU continued to fight as witnessed by Holmgren's parting shot and flaring tempers of members of both teams. This really was enjoyed by the remainder of the 258 fans who turned out for the game, some of whom left during a small rain shower that fell shortly after the final game.

Thursday the Knights played Florida International University who have already beaten Erskine 1-0 in a self-goal, and then Saturday in reaching but can never quite come up with the big win when we need it!

The next volleyball game is a key one for Valencia who has already beaten Erskine 1-0 and came out of the Knight's sails.

Baseball's Now Working for Spring

by Joe Desalvo

"Pitching and defense will be our strengths for this year's team. Overall, we are greatly improved," says Holmgren. "Those are the optimistic words of FTU baseball coach Doug Holmgren as he heads into his third year as the team's mentor. The team has already begun regular practice this fall in preparing itself for next spring. When the Knights will try to make it three winning seasons in a row, a feat which Holmgren feels the team can achieve or "will be a lot more difficult." Holmgren feels pitching will be the key this season's success. The staff will be strengthened with the addition of four junior college transfers in Sam Wise and Perry Pryor. Holmgren feels Wise could turn out to be "the pitcher" on the team, although he was an outfielder for Valdosta CC last season.

Holmgren is delighted about the addition of powerhitter Tom Brounce, a new addition from Valencia who brings to FTU a .398 batting average.

Holmgren pointed out the significance of "physically we're not ready," said Holmgren in describing his team so far this fall. "It'll be another two weeks before it's all put together." "There is a total of 42 players out for this year's team which has already begun playing fall league contests. The Knights will have a tough schedule next spring with Eckerd College, "the class team of Florida" included. Also slated are Jacksonville, Rollins and Miami, which will play two games in Orlando Holmgren declares. "The team will be competitive with the talent and the schedule both improving."

By Linda Mitchell

To the determined youths of "Bump, Set, Kill!" F.T.U.'s Extramural Women's Volleyball Team upset Stetson, Jacksonville University, and Florida Southern to capture last Saturday's double elimination tournament title.

It all started in hard fought action against the tough Stetson Hatters. Even though F.T.U. had some great players by spikers Kitty Log and Anne Kennedy, the Knights lost both games, 16-14 and 15-9 losing the first match.

But the team gathered their spirit and came back to win the second match against Florida Southern 15-6 in the first game and then skinked them, 15-6, in the third game. In the third and very crucial match, F.T.U. eliminated Jacksonville 15-5 and 15-10, putting the fighting Knights into a three-way tie for first place.

After a toss of the coin to see who would play off first. Coach Pam Burke gave encouragement to her team from the sidelines. They again showed Jacksonville who was being by beating them, 15-11. That left one last opponent that needed finishing off the Stetson Hatters.

In the start of the final playoff game it seemed like Stetson might be taking the upper hand, though, charging off with a 4-1 lead. But sheer determination and great serving by Chris Breck

Hill from PTU, behind, gave them a lead the Hatters never broke. Thus F.T.U. beat Stetson, 15-6, and came home with the tournament title.

The next volleyball game is scheduled for Saturday, October 17 at 10 a.m. Thursday, October 17, facing University of South Florida in an away match. Don't miss it! You wouldn't believe how good these girls are!"

TKE Nips ATO, LXA Shines 19-0

Defending Champions Tau Kappa Epsilon used a ball hungry defensive secondary and a pair of Steve Jackson touchdown passes to turn back third ranked Alpha Phi Omega 19-6. TKE's 12-0, the Bunglers managed to stumble their way to a 19-7 win over the Mafia and Air Force DOTS clipped Faculty Staff 18-6.

In the biggest game of the day, TKE thwarted several ATO scoring drives picking off Joe Hart aerials, three of which found their way into the hands of freshman safety Mickey Grindstaff. Hart got ATO on the scoreboard first with a 45 yard scoring drive early in the first half. Running back Kevin Powers on a 15 yard pass and out pattern in the end zone after completing two key passes to Powers on the way there. However, TKE's Jackson, hitting on 19 of 26 passes found wide receiver Joe Lucci all night. Lucci later teamed up with receiver Joe Lucci for their first TD and later, Ed Rainey came up with two scores, both on running plays.

Faculty Staff, having two touchdowns called back, ended Al Lloyd and Ben Thomas both danced their way past would be flag grabbers after catching passes for the Black Student Union's two TD's, while their defense blanked a punishing God's Squad offense.

In the other shut out recorded in independent play, the Individuals put on the 'Brokers Union fire, but as one Smoker said, "We're hot as fire, until we're not," well the fire just wasn't there Tuesday.

LXA, 5-3 last season, is fielding a team with many new faces who will make them a solid contender. New receivers in Guy Mauro and Joe Lucci along with veteran Randy Blankenship should make QB John Himman a lot more enjoyable. If LXA wants to land on top, they'll have to break their habit of losing the most game.

ATO who lost to TKE 19-14 last season, putting them in second place, will feel the absence of Jim Pietkiewicz, last year's No. 1 QB in the league. In his place is Joe Hart who can throw the ball but not with the brilliance of his predecessor. Ace receiver Kevin Powers will get a good work out with speedster Mike Smith. The bomb threat. ATO's defense will be much stronger overall when the last week comes around, it'll be Tau Kappa Epsilon, Lambda Chi Alpha and Alpha Phi Omega battling it out for the title.

Last year. TKE took all the marbles with a perfect 7-0 record not including their championship victory over the Independent League Champions the Beulah Bombers. This season, TKE will basically be the same with quarterback Steve Jackson throwing to top receiver Larry McCorkle. Experience among the squad is the key to TKE's success and should give them the edge over the rest. TKE converted the extra point attempt to make it 7-4. LXA's Dave Hudick figured in the scoring twice, once teaming up with receiver Joe Lucci for their first TD and later, taking a John Himman pass in the end zone for another, as the Green Machine handed SAE their only shut out of the first round of games in Greek competition.

FXV's Phil Merrich threw three TD's one to Pete Beckman and the other to Chuck Patrick while Ed Rainey came up with two scores, both on running plays.

The way things are going in the football season, it's very unsafe for a sportswriter to predict any contest much less predict the outcome of the entire season. But I shall try to do my best in analyzing this fall's intramural mass flag-football season.

The year's fraternity league will be much stronger overall with more freshmen and new faces to their rosters. But when the last week comes around, it'll be Tau Kappa Epsilon, Lambda Chi Alpha and Alpha Phi Omega battling it out for the title.

With deadline rapidly approaching and pen in hand, I curiously try to dig something up out of the inner recesses of my brain to say about the Santana Golden Earring concert, held last Friday night in Orlando's Sports Stadium. I have to think twice about the first place.

I’ve been out of town for a week ever since I got back from Colorado this summer, and gas money would have to come from a rapidly dwindling checking account.

But I’ve never seen Santana in concert before and promoter Peter Trehan was kind enough to supply my photographer and me.

So, I went in my VW, fully supplied with 50 cents worth of cigarettes, a dollar’s worth of gas, and my ager to make waves in that fairyland of music journalism. It was fully involved in this fantasy until I reached I realized my pad and pen.

Looking for a parking place is usually nothing but a mad scramble for the Sports Stadium, but I had to be particularly selective since I didn’t want to head back to the VW battery.

There’s a crazy convenient place along the road to the west from the Sand’s Club 50 cents worth of dirt.

Once inside, I milled about the rows of that growing crowd dodging fiddles and looking for my photo gun. I thought about our strategy together. (There were some good shots of Golden Earring I didn’t want him to miss.) But after being unable to find him I settled back and waited for the show to begin.

It wasn’t long before the house cut and Golden Earring set the stage ready to treat the full house to a menu of Dutch rock (Golden Earring is the only other Dutch band besides Focus in recent years able to cash in on the gigantic American listening market).

Beginning to the States after their highly successful American tour last summer, Golden Earring started off their set with 50 cents worth of vocals and fancy footwork.

“Dadar Love,” the song that gained them so much notoriety in the U.S. came up next and the minutes long song about truckers left some time for a Cesar Zuiderwijk drum solo and a Bass Gertjes bass solo that sent them crashing to the center of the stage.

Cranking up the end of the song fans finally understood there was an explosion and Zuiderwijk threw his drum kit into the drain. This was a very effective visual stunt and it prompted the audience to demand their encore. They came back on and did the name of their latest album, “Singles, couples?”

It was unfortunate that they didn’t have their out of practice setup they had planned to bring along on their tour. The number of audios in the Sports Stadium would have been enhanced greatly, but his sax and flute playing the bassline Santana.

Cesar Zuiderwijk had a contrast to Golden Earring and quite an enjoyable one.

Carlos Santana has gone through a number of changes in the past few years. His religious interests and his association with John McLaughlin of the Mahavishnu Orchestra have turned out a more refined San­tana-one of grace and eloquence.

Carlos started off his set with sixty seconds of silent prayer, of course the Orlando crowd couldn’t wait to get to it so Carlos meditated and the crowd made noise and then proceeded with a cut from his latest album “Welcome.” From the onset Santana remained quietly unobtrusive and guided by the musicians with subtle authority, Santana’s musical flair and unique playing style masmainly with his arrangements. The musicianship of his fellow band members and not so much on his own style of guitar work as he is more popularly renowned for.

The group did, on occasion, do some more popular Santana numbers (such as “Oye Como Va” and “Magic Woman”), but the majesty of their set consisted of Afro-Latin Jazz.

Tempo at times might have seemed a little slow and anticipatory as evidenced by the guitarists and Roman candles the audience had going, but for the better part of the night the majority of people enjoyed the music.

The gigantic reflecting mirror that was set up behind the stage was especially appealing and gave the audience an interesting perspective of the performing musicians.

At the end of their set the band came back for an encore and that wound up another night of good music at the Sports Stadium.

After checking out the big mirror behind the stage (I was curious as to how they could get a large part of glass into the ball) I wondered back to my car to prepare myself for the Istanbul traffic. I one came to expect at the Sports Stadium. Luckily my car was secured and reached Highway 50 in a record forty minutes.

There is a new feature in this section of the paper—Concert Listings. Valid dates and locations of upcoming concerts in the Central Florida area and surrounding areas.
