In a special student Senate meeting field Tuesday, Oct. 8, a bill concerning Senate apportionment for the 1974-75 year was passed.

The bill provides that the Senate will be apportioned at 40 for the regular session. Each class for the seven colleges has one representative with the exception of freshmen and senior social sciences, freshmen and senior business administration, freshmen natural sciences, and graduate education which each have two representatives.

Five other bills were presented for first reading and concerned the allocation of funds to the FTU Track Club. A bill concerning the registration of clubs and organizations. Bill 7-3, and the Student Government approval of the 1974-75 fiscal budget. Bill 7-4 were also presented. Two additional bills, 7-5 and 7-6 concern the addition of voting bills.

In addition to legislative action President Potts commented on various things in which SG is presently involved. Potts stated that enrollment for this fall is up from last fall. He said that last year's fall enrollment was 7100 and was up to 4500. This he added was not including continuing education students which would place the total figure at approximately 9000. Potts commented that unexpected increase in enrollment will mean more money from Activity and Service Fees. For this extra money, he said would be unbudgeted and it would therefore be up to the Senate to deal with it during the year. Potts also spoke about the informal session in which he and Vice President Rex Brown participated on Oct. 3 in the Nash. The intention of this Potts said was to provide more visibility for the administration and members at SG. Potts said that he hoped it would evolve into something a regular basis.

Potts informed the Senate that the Residents Association had passed a resolution on to him concerning alcohol in the dorms. Potts stated that he had passed the resolution on to Vice President Brown.

Potts brought the Senate up to date on the latest details of the changing of the withdrawal policy. Potts said that the bill had been passed on to the vice president of Academic Affairs. If it then to the Faculty Senate Instruction Committee which Potts said is holding the bill until they have researched it further.

Debate Team Enters Contest

The FTU Debate Team, coached by Jeff Butler, returned with a third place trophy from the Middle Tennessee State University (MTSU) Tournament, October 6.

Doing the best FTU has done since attending the MTSU Tournament, Eddie Foster, Larry Vinson, Pat Jerome, Dick Moonquist, Tom Marniko, and Dave Larkin, all varsity debaters, were at least one-half of their rounds.

Pat Jerome and Dave Larkin were selected in the "top ten" speakers from a field of 150 debaters. FTU's team of Eddie Foster, Pat Jerome, and Dave Larkin placed third in the tournament after defeating teams from the University of Kentucky, Emory University of Alabama and others.

At the three-day-long tournament, the FTU squad competed against 78 teams for over 35 colleges and universities, including University of Alabama, Emory University, Notre Dame, Ohio State, and Vanderbilt University.

Butler stated, "As good as our teams have been in the past, this marks the strongest beginning FTU Debate Team has ever had and we look forward to a successful year!"

Next week, FTU Debaters will travel to the Stetson and University of Kentucky tournaments.

Blue-eyed Students Sought

by Alan M. Cruise

Wanted: Students with blue eyes for research project.

Bob Langlotz, a civil engineer who has returned to school to get a degree in anthropology, gathers data in his spare time on people with blue eyes.

Langlotz says he intends to find out the eye color of all persons responding to a large advertisement since approximately 1800 A.D. Langlotz theorizes that people with blue eyes tend to be more inventive. His reason for wanting to contact students is that he is interested in the eye color of famous inventors, if they exercise more control over their activities while species with dark eyes are more "reactive," meaning they react faster and better to situations.

Worthy noted in the area of sports that baseball outfielders and batters with dark eyes were superior because those two activities were "reactive." He found that "self-paced" activities such as hitting golf balls and throwing touchdown football passes are better accomplished by athletes with light eyes.

Langlotz says one thing that initially aroused his curiosity was the high number of Nobel prize winners who are blue-eyed. According to Langlotz, 10 percent of the world's population is made up of people with blue eyes. Most of the majority of Nobel prize winners in technical fields have blue eyes. Thus far, Langlotz says his studies have been gathered from biographies and paintings of noted people, but says a group could help him intensify his efforts. Interested persons can contact Bob Langlotz in care of Box 26592 on campus.

William "Jeffery" Smith, Freshman, General Studies

"I would like to become involved in representing student opinions and suggestions involving improvements necessary for the welfare of the students. Furthermore, I would promote co-operation between students, faculty, and the administration.

2) My priorities will deal with what benefits the students, an increase in 3D-sponsored activities, health and parking fees, why and where does the money go? Lower rates for students on the East-West Expressway.

3) The acquisition by the SG of the control of Activity and Service Fees has enabled the students to realize that the SG is run for students, by students, and usually in the students' best interests.

1) Why are you running for SG Senate?

2) What are your individual priorities for legislative action in the Senate?

3) How do you believe the role of SG is changing or should be changed with the acquisition of control of Activity and Service Fees?

Eighteen of the candidates replied, and here are the responses:

Grant Awarded To Study Deaf
Cameron E. Pyle

Dr. Phillip M. Tell, Associate Professor of Psychology at FTU, has been awarded a research grant totaling $21,750 by the National Institute of Neurological Disease and Stroke, a branch of the National Institutes of Health to conduct research from June 1972 to May 1973 in connection with a previous research grant totaling $23,750.

The second purpose will be to determine whether the variables affecting short-term recall in normal hearing also do so in the deaf.

The purposes of the efforts are twofold. The immediate purpose is to secure signatures on "Authorization For Representation" cards. These cards will permit a statewide election to take place on the important issue of providing a college campus for the deaf in St. Augustine. Tell indicates that fingerspelling is entirely new in the field of deafness.

The United Faculty of Florida will conduct an intensive recruitment drive on the FTU campus over the three day period of October 15, 16, and 17.

These cards will permit a statewide election to take place on the issue of providing a statewide college campus for the deaf in St. Augustine. Tell indicates that fingerspelling is entirely new in the field of deafness.

The second purpose will be to increase the membership rolls of the growing faculty organization.

Volunteer faculty members from several Florida Universities will be on campus for the three day period to assist the FTU recruitment team. The effort will be culminated October 16, with an address by Dr. Helen James, State Vice-President of the U.F.F.

James, an Associate Professor of Special Education, at the University of West Florida, is an internationally known personality in her field, having attended and presented papers at conferences all over the world. James has been an active member in educator's organizations for over twenty-five years. James is the author of a widely known textbook on individualized reading and many articles which have appeared in professional journals. James is currently devoting herself to the organization and development of the United Faculty of Florida.

James brief address is titled "Some Thoughts on Collective Bargaining in Universities". James will speak at 5 p.m. October 16, in the Conference Room, fourth floor of the Library Building. The meeting is open to all interested persons.

Medical Students Study Abroad

By Alan M. Crone

Over 500 American college students will leave the country during the next year to study at medical schools in Europe. These pre-medical students will join more than 400 Americans now enrolled in medical schools abroad.

More Americans now are opting to study abroad than in recent years. Medical careers have become more desirable than ever before, and, at the same time, competition has stiffened for admission to medical schools in France and Italy.

The programs of greatest interest to the U.S. pre-medical student consist of an intensive 12-week period to learn medical terminology. The programs are designed to enable the student to successfully meet the challenge of a new and different environment, as well as assistance with the complex applications and procedures of European medical schools.

As a result of its programs with the European Medical Education Foundation, the Institute of International Medical Education and private insurance programs are one of several reasons for the continuing shortage of physicians in the United States. With the limited enrollment in American medical schools, almost half the doctors employed by hospitals in this country are graduates of foreign medical colleges.

Increased government and private insurance programs are one of several reasons for the continuing shortage of physicians in the United States. With the limited enrollment in American medical schools, almost half the doctors employed by hospitals in this country are graduates of foreign medical colleges.

The Institute of International Medical Education, a nonprofit organization, is working to solve this problem and produces a closer collaboration between the American and European medical communities.

Editorial

Last year, $21,000 was available in the Concession Fund. This fund was accumulated from Sands Vending Company, Coca Cola, Southern Bell and the post office for rental space on a percentage of the profits for vending machines, phones and the post office located on campus.

For many years, this Concession Fund has then been used by the President of FTU as well as all state university heads. Some of the uses of this fund include donations to student scholarship funds, a percentage per student back to the BOR, funds for the Resident Hall Association, entertainment such as the President's ball and flowers for funerals.

The President has this fund at his discretion for use as he sees fit. An example of one item - The Christmas Event (President's ball and a student party) cost $1,779. The President's actual official entertaining expenses for the year excluding the ball were $8,500. Dr. Millican had at his discretion a figure of $8,500 in the budget budgeted toward entertainment. Because the Florida Technological University Foundation Incorporation came through to aid the president in expenses, it was not necessary for the president to spend much of the money that had been budgeted in the Concession Fund for his entertainment expenses.

Some students would undoubtedly say that the President has no right to the money from the Concession Fund. As it is now, this is the only way aside from the Foundation that he is able to pay for entertainment. A student might further ask what kind of entertainment expenses a president would have.

College presidents are required to do all different types of entertainment. There is definitely a social aspect to being the president of any college. In Dr. Millican's case, he must provide coffee and pastry for BOR meetings on campus, as well as having a Christmas Ball for the faculty members. This is part of his job, and is expected of him by laws of social etiquette.

It is unfair to assume that the President is arbitrarily spending money for entertainment. No alcoholic beverage is ever purchased with this money. No expense except spending money for entertainment. No alcoholic beverage is ever properly documented is ever paid for from the fund. It is fortunate that Dr. Millican had at his discretion a figure of $8,500 to cover the expenses that its president might incur. Until this is done, it is her ever accomplished, the president must have some means of meeting his obligations.

I KNEW ENROLLMENT WAS UP, BUT I HAD NO IDEA...

Clapton Disk Disappointment

RECORD REVIEWS NO. 1

By the Harrison

RSO Records 50480

After a three year lag from the music scene, "461 Ocean Boulevard" is somewhat of a disappointment from what might be considered the world's best guitarist.

That's not to say that Eric Clapton's latest release is bad, only an underachievement by a master.

Clapton plays well throughout the album, which is filled with a large number of long guitar solos where he stood out at his best. Instead, the album is filled with a lot of preoccupied guitar work directed more towards the audience. Besides an excellent guitarist, this album lacks the greatness of his past, un-assured Clapton.

The debut album of the three man group, "Robin Trower Really Shows His Stuff in the Title Cut from the Album," contained cuts from the title cut from the album, which is the meaning of "Santana's Greatest Hits." The meaningful lyrics combine with the musical solos to make the album an engaging experience.

Trower really shows his stuff in the title cut from the album, slowly wistful, his voice seems to contain a tone of intimacy of Clapton are present in the album.

Cuts off of Santana's first album, "Evil Ways," "Jingo" and "Persuasion." The album represents a fine collection of the early development of a very accomplished guitarist, Carlos Santana.

PRE - LAW DAY

Alan M. Crose

Wednesday, October 16, will be the date of FTU's Pre-Law Day. The multi-purpose room of the Village Center will be the scene of public presentations from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. by representatives of five AF bases while visiting AFROTC Week. There are 112 enrolled.

For further information contact Dr. Roger Handberg, LR 226.
RHA Elections Postponed

Only one person submitted a petition to run for office even though there were six representative posts and the office of vice president open.

"I know there are people interested in RHA, but they are afraid they won't be able to invest the time they think RHA needs," explained Esposito. "There is so much we want to do but can't unless people help. RHA wants to adopt an alcohol policy in the dorms; improve food service; reserve a parking area for residents; and provide a variety of social activities. We can accomplish these and more if everyone would support RHA."

Petitions will be available through Tuesday from Dave McKissick or the RA on duty in D-dorm lounge. If enough people run for office, elections will be held October 16th. Otherwise, the positions will remain empty until Spring Quarter elections.

HRFA Adds Ortmayer

ART PROFESSOR

A talented addition to the College of Humanities and Fine Arts this fall is Dr. Roger Ortmayer.

Dr. Ortmayer edited the award winning magazine Motive from 1959 to 1960. The avant-garde magazine won numerous awards for its design, layout and editorial content.

Commissioned by the American Guild of Organists in 1970, Ortmayer produced a multimedia 168 voice musical entitled "Bless This World." The musical runs one hour and 20 minutes and utilizes three projectors, a rock group, brass, jazz and a narrator.

Dr. Ortmayer has also written numerous scripts and scenarios for regular network television, including a play entitled "The Shepherdess" presented in 1952. Another television drama, "The Word Is," was produced in 1964.

Pat Strange

An FTU student has held one of her photographs selected for entry in a national photo contest, according to Steven D. Leff, chairman of the FTU art department.

Mary Rees, an Art Education major, will be eligible for $5,000 in cash and prizes in the Kodak International Newspaper Photography Contest. Miss Rees' black and white photo of a small boy and a filly was one of eight selected from 5,000 entries to the Sentinel Star.

Recently, Miss Rees, with other contest winners, was on the cover of Florida Magazine.
Med. & Morality

The rights of patient and doctor under changing social policies will be explored in a five-part series to be presented early next year by FTU with the aid of a $19,000 grant from the Florida Science Foundation last April for the Humanities.

This year's sessions will feature two opposing speakers who will be given equal time to state their positions, and a moderator who will offer insights on ethical and human implications of both positions.

Six students devised three alternative modes of transportation for FTU as a result of a federal grant.

Express buses for Titusville and Poinciana Park as well as shuttle buses for high density areas, such as Winter Park, Maitland and Oviedo, have been discussed.

An extensive car pooling system in which students are located living within a half mile radius of each other, expanded to a maximum of four miles to locate a suitable rider or driver are planned.

The results will officially be presented to NSF from Dec. 36 through the 29th in Washington D.C. by Allan Duguid.

The recently formed FTU Press is off and rolling, according to its director, Roland A. Browne.

The FTU Press is operated by the university for publication of the collected works of the Rights of the Patient and Doctor Right to Private Practice, Human Rights and Human Morality, recently appointed acting director of the new office of Communications Department, was appointed as a result of the decision-making group; it decides on materials suitable for publication appropriate to the function of a university press, as distinguished from a trade press.

The editorial committee will accept books, monographs, and completed manuscript projects for consideration, but because operating expenses is a limited budget, the scheduling of evaluation and publication will be determined at set intervals. Determination will be made by weighing such factors as intrinsic worth, potential sales and returns, probable costs and availability of funds.

The publication of two books is currently underway. Authorized by Browne, "Holy Jerusalem Voyage," is an annotated translation of a 14th century French manuscript. Dr. Henry Wilttner, of the Biological Science department of FTU, has submitted a book titled "Moses of the Society Islands."

In addition, Browne added, the editorial committee has recently decided to publish the collected poems of David Foster, of the English department.

Scheinkopf's work for future...
Emergency Loan Hit Hard

FTU's Emergency Loan Fund was hit the hardest over this fall, when an estimated $30,000 was loaned to students.

The amount exhausted available funds and was the result of 258 loans processed for the fall quarter.

Last year emergency loans totaled approximately $20,000 on budget to be available to students.

Director of Financial Aid Donald Baldwin said he thought the increased amount and number of participants was brought on by the present economic climate, student problems with summer employment, last minute admissions, and registrations late availability of other financial aid and the higher interest rates.

The emergency loan program is a one quarter loan, carrying a 2 percent service charge and is available to full-time students for the amount of student fees.

Baldwin explained that the amount exhausted were the highlights of the nationally-known loan program in which a rebate of funds is available to students.

Faculty Member Dies

Mr. Leonard Cutcher of the College of Business Administration's Accounting Department died at his home on October 3.

Mr. Cutcher had been suffering for over a year with cancer. He first joined the FTU faculty in September of 1973. This past summer, he made a one-hour tape for use in the curriculum of a new English course entitled "Death and Dying," giving the thoughts and impressions of one who was terminally ill.

Services were held Thursday at the Arlington National Cemetery in Washington, D.C.

Tax Preparation Offered

Training in income tax preparation for personal use or for profit will be offered in a ten week evening course to begin October 28 at FTU.

Classes each Monday and Thursday from 7 to 9 p.m. will qualify graduates to assist taxpayers with their returns. In light of the over-changing tax regulations and forms, the course also will provide the opportunity for fulltime or parttime work for those who complete the 60 hours of instruction.

In addition, top graduates of the FTU course will have the option of interviewing for positions with H&R Block, Inc., the nationally-known tax preparation firm. There are restrictions on applicants for the course, and no prior experience in accounting or related fields is required.

The $75 tuition for the course will include textbooks, materials and other supplies. Class size will be limited. Further information may be obtained by contacting FTU's Office of Continuing Education, phone 275-2123.

Alcohol In Dorms?

By Paula Wisor

"FTU is the only school in the Florida state university system which does not allow some kind of alcohol in the dorms," said Sharon Esposito, president of the Residence Hall Association (RHA). While the policy has to go through various channels for consideration, the residents present voted in favor of a policy permitting alcohol in the dorms.

The final decision will come from Dr. Brown and President Milliman. "The only comment that I've heard about the policy from the administration is a recommendation from Dr. Brown for a course or seminar to be offered to inform about alcoholism," said Esposito. "Already Dean McQuilkin is in the process of planning an alcoholism seminar." The proposed policy was written by Jesse McLeod with help from Lee Goff. Information used in the policy was taken from the RHA referendum vote last years' defeat of the alcohol issue," said Esposito. "And after its acceptance the entire policy will be available for publication in the future.

3) No response.

Joseph Lee Richardson, Freshman, Social Sciences

1) I have represented students before by volunteering for the student body and have been able to affect things that I feel need to happen.
2) Increased Village Center Services.
3) As the SG assumes new duties and responsibilities, it will affect each one of us more... the SG's responsibility to each individual at FTU for representation, services, and help should be their major goal.

Marc Rose, Freshman, Social Sciences

1) I was surprised at the lack of activities planned for new students here. In a situation like this where the majority of students live off campus, activities should be planned with this in mind.
2) If elected, I would voice my radical opinions in hope for a change that I'm sure is long overdue.
3) I believe the SG is changing, but slowly. The planned student activities are way behind the times. With the right voices in office, these changes can be sped up, and updated.

Warren "Don" Charles Delay, Sophomore, Humanities and Fine Arts

1) I'm crazy about people. When I say I'm interested in working with people and for people I'm truly understanding. I just enjoy life a lot more when I can help to make someone else's more active.
2) I plan to show that being a government body can indeed show forth a "leadership" which all large groups desperately need. The students at FTU have the capability to really make activities successful.
3) There has been a great deal of controversy over the SG holding these fees, but I believe that a central organization must exist towards using them for the betterment of campus activities.

Richard C. Mattson, Sophomore, Humanities and Fine Arts

1) I feel I can do the best job for the College of Humanities. I have, I have served with the Student Government at Central Michigan University, and have enjoyed working with it.
2) I would like to see more control given to the students in financial matters.
3) Naturally, I feel this gives the students and their representatives the ability to finance bigger and better programs.

Larry K. French, Sophomore, Natural Sciences

1) Today, there are obvious concerns about government's failure to represent the average person. I want to become a part of the system and make the work the way it should. So, I'm running.
2) I plan to be a "watchdog", and do what I can to represent those I represent, trying to convey their point of view in legislation.
3) You have me there. Like many students here, I haven't really got an informative opinion on this matter. It is important.

Michael Inderwieser, Junior, Business Administration

1) Many students display total apathy towards student government. This, I believe, is a product of who we have been and what we have done. We need someone who will reflect the thoughts and concerns of the students.
2) My priorities, though not to imply action, are one to further close the gaps between SG and students, resulting in both being more influential in the happenings of our university.
3) Student Government must govern through support, senators being but an extension of the students of their college... polling of random students to determine how parts of the blanket... mandatory fees should be distributed is necessary.

Bruce J. Cannon, Junior, Business Administration

1) There has always been a place for the government in all campaigns. I have been a part of that voice for many years and I wish to continue my activities doing so as a senator.
2) There are no individual priorities, only work as a whole, whether it be judicial, legislative, or executive.
3) The role of the SG is changing in that many of its members are from various fields which gives it a broader scope on the actual happenings and wants of the students...

Timothy W. Carroll, Senior, Business Administration

1) I am running for re-election this year in an effort to represent my college through an active role in Student Government. It is important that we have senators that want to work...
2) My priorities are those that benefit the students. The resident students and commuters alike should be given a say in what is being done and the money they pay each quarter.
3) With the new control of Activity and Service Fees, the Village Center and the Student Government are forced to work in co-operation rather than opposition. This should allow for better on-campus programs for the students.

William F. Feger, Senior, Business Administration

1) I would like to leave for those who follow me a university that is a little better, a little more responsive to the needs of the student than the university I found when I arrived.
2) First priority should be placed on developing a system of program funding which gives eligible fees to all students. Many students receive little benefit from their $34.00 per quarter activity fee.
3) The power of the purse should help transform SG into a true government. It is a step in the evolution of the University student as a first class citizen.

David Parache, Senior, Engineering

1) To provide students with adequate representation in SG and make students aware of what is going on in SG.
2) a. Improved commuter services.
3) b. Adequate provision for bicycles.
4) c. Intelligent spending.
5) This will make student government a real governing body instead of the facade model it has been in the past.

Leonard Sly, Sophomore, Humanities and Fine Arts

1) You can't be elected unless you run. It looks good on your resume.
2) Investigate Milligan's study fund.
3) No response.

Are FTU Students Losing Interest in Sex?

By Kerry Faunce

When the psychology department first opened a seminar in human sexuality for the 1975 winter quarter, over 250 students enrolled. The spring quarter opened with a somewh at reduced enrollment of only 100. Is it possible, with a dwindling fall roster of 40, that FTU students are losing interest in sex?

According to Dr. Margaret Thomas, one of the sex education instructors, it is more likely that the "curiosity" associated with the opening of the course has worn off.

According to Dr. Margaret Thomas, one of the sex education instructors, it is more likely that the "curiosity" associated with the opening of the course has worn off.

Students expecting to land an easy "A" in a "pushover" class will probably be slightly disappointed as the course lacks erotic instructional films or vivid demonstrations and does not include a lab session. The sessions, open to anyone wishing to enroll, are primarily designed to give students a thorough knowledge of the human reproductive system and related patterns and problems in sexual behavior.

The course is broken into three sections. The first section, taught by Dr. Thomas, deals with biological functions, anatomy, hormones, conception, contraception, VD, and psychology. Following the biological studies, Dr. Randy Fisher covers such topics as sexual behavior, attitudes, laws, and pornography, wrapping up the quarter.

Ron Drabman discusses clinical therapy involving sex problems and their treatment.

Students enrolled in the course generally felt it was a good offering. Some thought it should be included as a freshman environmental studies requirement. It helps guys understand girls and girls understand guys better," commented one FTU coed.

Suggested improvements in the curriculum included adding more films and guest speakers, and possibly limiting the size of the class.

First offered last winter as a seminar in sexual psychology, PSY 335 is now a permanent addition entitled HUMAN SEXUALITY. Although it will not be offered this winter, the class is expected to be available for the 1975 spring quarter.

VC To Present “Creations ‘74”

For four days, the Village Center green will be holding “Creations ’74,” the first art festival at FTU to extend invitations to the surrounding Orlando community as well as students, faculty, and staff. VC officials predict a big success.

The interests will range from paintings to sewing and knitting. Also included in the program will be drawings, graphics, monotype, candlemaking, featherwork, ceramics, batik, paper flowers, paint-making, and silkscreening.

The arts and crafts will be on display and for sale from November 12 to 15. As an added attraction, well-known artists, including syndicated humorist Fred McCarthy (originator of the “Brother Juniper” series) will be making appearances to climax the unique festivities.

Those interested in showing or selling their work should contact Debbie Wheatley VC Program Director, phone 275-2612.

The entry fee for exhibits is $5.00. This charge includes exhibition rights for one to four days and table rental. The hours will be from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. daily.

Reflecting Pond Cleaning Problem

FTU’s reflecting pond requires cleaning every four to six weeks at a cost of $200, according to Richard V. Neuhaus, assistant director of the physical plant.

Neuhaus said the reason for frequent cleaning is due to a buildup of algae, which occurs anytime untreated water is contained and exposed to light. The water in the swimming pool, for example, is treated, but the water is also checked daily.

According to Neuhaus, the physical plant tried using algicides in the reflecting pond, but abandoned the practice because of minimal effectiveness.

Storm drains have since been installed around the pond to prevent debris from being carried into the pond during heavy rains.

When the pond is cleaned it must be drained, scrubbed manually and rinsed. Neuhaus said most of the $200 cost goes for man hours.

Educational Ass’n To Hold Meeting

The FTU Student Education Association, also known as Phi Delta Pi, will hold an organizational meeting for the 1974-75 school year on Tuesday, October 15 at 12 noon in GCB 228.

The club is open to all education majors as well as interested students who are interested in improving existing conditions within the educational system.

The membership fee for the club is $6 per year and included in the benefits is $200,000 of professional liability insurance.

According to Debbie Sammons, a club spokesman, “This year offers many opportunities to affect our communities and ourselves.”

Sammons mentioned several activities which the club plans for the coming year including research and public information concerning the upcoming Orange County School Board elections, improvements in the FTU education curriculum, guest speakers on current problems in the education field.

Sammons stressed that the club is open to all interested persons and that the club would be what the members made it.

PUT IT ALL TOGETHER IN AIR FORCE ROTC
10th Ranked Erskine Blanks Knights, 4-0

by Pete Hains

In the first soccer meeting between Erskine College and FTU, it was FTU who found themselves on the short end of a 4-0 score Saturday. As coach Jim Holmquist later explained, "when we had gotten a goal early we would have had the momentum to carry us through the rest of the way. It seems as though we're always reaching but can never quite come up with the big goal when we need it!"

From the opening face-off and after a half hour against Erskine, FTU had a good opportunity to score when Jack Johnston took a hard shot that was handled poorly by the goalie but cleared by the defense. It missed by inches. Just one of the good chances FTU had and missed that afternoon. As a matter of fact, FTU out shot the Flying Fleet from South Carolina by a margin of 9-2. Van Taylor out shot FTU goalie Einon DeBois 12-4. Taylor is the All-American goalkeeper from New Jersey for Erskine who did not practice Saturday in an attempt to rest him for the next game. Holmquist felt that he handled at least four shots on goal poorly. His defensive mates helped him out and with the Knights accuracy slightly off, it made it a little bit easier for him, or else it might have been a different story.

FTU dominated the first half of play. This was when most of the Knight's scoring opportunities came. Taking sharp passes from Charlie Campbell and Tony Smith on different occasions from Andrinus missed early twice. Then it was Walt Cordell who shot wide of the net. The early play of the Knights was marked by sharp passing and complete control of the middle field. But the problem seemed to be that FTU had no serious scoring threat once inside the 30 yard mark.

Erskine had a couple of shots on goal later in the half by Larry Kendrick who used some slick moves and his quick feet to out maneuver the defense but each time DeBois made the save.

At the other end of the field FTU was pounding away at the goal in the form of shots mostly by Smith,CORDell and Dean Brown. Luck and some good defense by the Fleet stopped the Knights from scoring.

It looked like it was going to be a scoreless first half dominated by defense when suddenly freshman Mike Ortel-Vallita scored for Erskine shortly before halftime. It was a clean shot coming out of the left side that made it past DeBois who was screened out by a convoy of defensive players. It proved to be the only score Erskine would really need.

In the second half it was Erskine who had the early chances and they took advantage of them, as one would expect of a team that is currently ranked 10th in the South. All-NAIA defenseman Bert Passos started the scoring to make it 2-0. Then FTU's Jim Madden took a Gus Romero pass but was stopped by a good save by Taylor. Missing this chance seemed to take most of the wind out of the Knight's sails.

The early point was the key for this season's success. As coach Holmquist feels pitching will be the key for this season's success. The staff will be strengthened with the addition of four junior college transfers in Sam Wise and Perry Pryor. Holmquist feels Wise could turn out to be "the pitcher" on the team, although he was an outfielder for Valencia CC last season.

Holmquist is delighted about the addition of powerhouse Tom Bronco, a new addition from Florida International University, who comes to Erskine College and Fortune Township who feel they could turn out to be "the pitcher" on the team, although he was an outfielder for Valencia CC last season.

Holmquist pointed out the significance of the pitching. "It's a chance to evaluate the players and to teach them my strategy so they will be familiar with them when they become the starting ace." He added that in the fall season academics can take preference over practicing.

"Physically we're not ready," said Holmquist in describing his team so far this fall. "It'll be another two weeks before it's all put together." There is a total of 42 players out for this year's team which has already begun playing fall league contests.

The Knights will have a tough schedule next spring with Eckerd College, "the class team of Florida" involved. Also slated are Jacksonville, Rollins and Miami, which will play two games in Orlando. Holmquist declares, "The team will be competitive with the talent and the schedule both improving."
Defending Champions Tau Kappa Epsilon used a ball hungry defensive secondary and a pair of Steve Jackson touchdown passes to turn back third ranked Alpha Sigma Alpha easily 26-6 and Chi Phi used a well balanced scoring attack to ease past Kappa Sigma 34-0.

Three individuals, a group of three together who didn't know each other until three days prior to the start of the season, had to be found to come up with the big play. (Photo by Mike Padgett).

The way things are going this season in the football world, it's very unsafe for a sportswriter to try and predict any contest much less predict the outcome of the entire season. But I shall try to do my best in analyzing this fall's intramural mass football season.

The year's fraternity league will be much stronger overall with a half dozen freshmen adding new men to their rosters. But when the last week comes around, it'll be Tau Kappa Epsilon, Lambda Chi Alpha and Alpha Tau Omega battling it out for the title.

Last year, TKE took all the marbles with a perfect 7-0 record not including their championship victory over the Independent League Champs the Beulah Knights. This season, TKE will basically be the same with quarterback Steve Jackson throwing to top receiver Larry McCorckle. Experience among the squad is the key to TKE's success and should give them the edge over the rest. TKE converted the extra point attempt to make it 7-6. LXA's Dave Hedgeki figured in the scoring twice, once teaming up with receiver Joe Lucci for their first TD and later, taking a John Hinman pass in the end zone for another, as the Green Machine handled SASR to only shut out of the first round of games in Greek competition.

FX's Phil Merritt throws two TD's one to Pete Heckmann and the other to Chuck Patrick while Ed Royally came up with two scores, both on running plays.

By Joe DeSalvo

"De Salvo Poll" Rates Flag Football Entries

LXA, 5-3 last season, is fielding a team with many new faces who will make them a solid contender. New receivers in Guy Mauro and Joe Lucci along with veteran Randy Blankenship should make QB John Hinman's job a lot more enjoyable. If LXA wants to land on top, they'll have to break their habit of losing the most games.

TKE who lost to TKE 19-14 last year, putting them in second place, will feel the absence of Jim Pietkiewicz, last year's No. 1 QB in the league. In his place is Joe Hart who can throw the ball but not with the brilliance of his predecessor. Ace receiver Kevin Powers will get a good work out with speedster Nate Smith the bomb threat. ATO's defense is what they make all their teams work for.

As for the remaining six Greek teams, look for Sigma Chi to make a lot of noise and I pick them as a dark horse to capture the league championship. It'll be a matter of how many games Chi Phi, Delta Tau Delta, SAE, Kappa Sigma, and Pi Phi can put in the win column.

FSU, which has been divided Black and Gold, the division champions will be decided by how well they know their fellow teammates. For many teams, in the past, prac­ tices come on day one of the game. The Gold Division includes the Mafia, Bunglers, Gold's Squad, Black Student Union, Phi Kappa Alpha, Fratco I and Faculty Staff and Students. The Black Division will compose of the Smokers Union, Individuals, TKEII, SOMF (Sons of Mother and Father maybe?) and LXA II.

Now the worst part of this assignment, predicting the outcome for each league. If you disagree with the following poll, please let us know at the Hotline office and I'll make sure I don't cross your path.

Falling into the season, the Swimmers from Central Florida and the Space Coast, we should make the transition from club to inter­collegiate competition very smoothly," Brooks said.

Brooks added that with the new emphasis on women in athletics today, the Swim Club offers an opportunity to introduce females to try their hand at swimming competition.

"The campus pool is heated and Dr. Harper said this factor has lured several swimmers to FTU from the north to work out for the Olympics."

Sportswriter Joe DeSalvo has given us his personal ap­praisal of the now in progress Men's Intramural Flag Football season.

It is rumored that Howard Cosell once said, "One Man's opinion is worth more than ten men's weight in gold." Doesn't say a lot but then we don't guarantee this will either.

Cool Swimmers

Although fall breezes may be upon us and the temperature may have dropped a few degrees, the FTU Swim Club is hard at the task of preparing for the upcoming season despite the seasonal change.

The Swim Club, which was orga­nized last spring, presently has a roster of 20 members on a team that hopes to make the transition from club to inter­collegiate level competition. In its initial season last spring, the team competed in the in­dependent intramural league and captured the league cham­pionship.

Club sponsor Dr. Tom Harrow, reports that two meets have been scheduled and they are trying to set up three more. The confirmed dates are October 15 at the South Florida on November 3, with FSU on February 14.

President of the club, Ted Brooks, has high hopes for the club's future. "Drawing from students who are on campus and from in­coming high school swimmers from Central Florida and the Space Coast, we should make the transition from club to inter­collegiate competition very smoothly," Brooks said.

Brooks added that with the new emphasis on women in athletics today, the Swim Club offers an opportunity to introduce females to try their hand at swimming competition.

"The campus pool is heated and Dr. Harper said this factor has lured several swimmers to FTU from the north to work out for the Olympics."

Although all affiliated with the club are predicting a good season, the club still can use members. An invitation is ex­tended to all former swimmers and divers who are interested in competing once more. The intramural swim pool during practice hours, 4:30-6:30 daily.

"The student body will get its first chance to see the club in action on November 16, when the team is to divide by the Black. Gold inter squad meet.

Santana

With deadline rapidly apecert held last Friday night in Orlando's Sports Stadium.

As I thought to twice about

I've been around broad

But I've never seen Santana

in concert. So when the pro-

So, I went in my VW, fully supplied with 50 cents worth
