Employees Have Voice In Working Conditions

By Cameron Pyle

This is the third year of operations for the FTU Staff Advisory Board, whose activities maintain a vital communications link between career service employees and the university administration.

Of primary concern to the council is the welfare of career employees and they regularly entertain suggestions and questions regarding such things as worker benefits and general working conditions, prior to making their recommendations to administration officials.

In council elections held last April, R. N. Peruf and Dr. D. Potts, two former students, were named this year's chairman.

The remaining nine members of the Council are elected from among Student, Business, and Academic Affairs - three offices from each branch.

Those selected were: Bill Adelson and Pete Arnett of Computer Services; Budd Mann of Physical Plant Maintenance; Ralph Wettstein; WC Cantorial Supervisor; Ron Neher of Student Placement Services; Carlene Boyd, Secretary of Public Information; Sonia Cinceco of the Registrar's Office; J. C. Kinsey of the Library; and Carleen Boyd, Secretary of Sciences.

Acting as liaison between the Council and the Student Senate is John P. Goree, Vice-President for Business Affairs.

In past years, the council has discussed such varied concerns as elimination of active on-campus safety procedures, lowering the quarterly charge of parking decals for employees and pay increases, to keep pace with the rising cost of living.

The Council maintains a Career Service Newsletter and periodically hosts social functions, like its Annual Staff Awards Dinner, which was organized to honor and give official recognition to praiseworthy individuals among their ranks.

According to Johnson, more recent developments within the Council have been the establishment of a Safety Committee and the obtaining of administrative approval for the placement of micro-wave ovens in the library lounge and Power Plant.

The ever-appealing people's opportunity to cook and robust food brought from their homes were requested especially because of the somewhat prohibitive cost of prepared foods at FTU, which is another story in itself.

Meetings of the Staff Council are held in the Library Conference Room every other Thursday at one o'clock.

Johnson stated that interested individuals are welcome to attend.

Advisory Board Meets

By Deborah Whaley

The Publications Advisory Board (PAB) met this week to adopt a formal constitution for the PAB, a basic step in its organizational development.

The members of the PAB were appointed by Dr. Grasty last spring.

Dr. Grasty said that the forming of the PAB was an attempt to provide students with a place to express and influence their opinions on the FTU future.

An important point discussed at the meeting was how the editor is to be selected. In the past the editor was trained by the outgoing editor and confirmed by Dr. Grasty and President Milliken.

In the future, students desiring to be editor will submit an application to an elections committee. Requirements concerning grade experience and length of time at FTU must be met before an applicant can apply.

The editor is responsible for the editorial content of the paper. The advisor, also an editor, is responsible for the FTU editorial page.

An important point discussed at the meeting was the need to improve the total operation of the PAB. For example, the process of selecting an editor is too slow and needs to be streamlined.

The PAB is hoping to continue its work this year and to bring in an experienced editor. The Council is very much interested in a continuation of the PAB and hopes to see a better organized student newspaper this year.

Elections Commission Invalidates Elections

By John Bridges

The problems concerning the election began last Friday when a sent candidate Bob Glenfield "concluded the election over the absence of 31 absentee ballots for Co-op students.

According to Hunter Potts, SG President, the problem was the result of a tardy absentee ballot request.

The Co-op students were invalidated by the Senate over the election of 31 absentee ballots for Co-op students.

Jeff Cepuran, commissioner of elections, said that he had received 41 of the 48 candidates' reports as of Tuesday and that unless they were received by Wednesday, those candidates would not be permitted to run.

"Voters," he said, "will be filled by appointment."
Mrs. Robert Poole, right, and Mrs. Ed McCarter, president and treasurer, respectively, of the Greater Orlando Kappa Delta Alumnae Assn., present Dr. William K. Grasty, FTU Vice President for Community Relations, with a check for $125 for the purchase of a portable microfiche reader to be made available to students who are handicapped in their mobility. Students receiving the reader also will receive from the FTU Library a complete set of library listings on microfiche which will be updated every quarter of the year. The reader will be assigned to a student as long as he is enrolled at FTU, permitting him to select reading material from his home. (FTU Office: Photo.)

Navy Recruits Student For Nuclear Program
By Dana Eagles

The trend toward reducing use of fossil fuels to power energy plants, especially those on board U.S. Navy vessels, may be providing new opportunities for college seniors interested in the field of nuclear energy.

According to Washington's Navy Recruitment Command, the Nuclear Propulsion Officer Candidate (Collegiate) Program NUPOC has come about as an effort to recruit more undergraduates at the college level than has been possible in the professional world's zero-draft environment.

NUPOC, the graduate-level program, has had difficulty competing with inducements from major industries, and thus has initiated the collegiate extension in hopes of recruiting college seniors as possible nuclear scientists in the military world.

The program which was begun in January, limits enrollment to 150 young men per fiscal year. Only seniors from non-NOTC colleges are eligible. Candidates who must be between 18 and 26, at the time of commissioning, are eligible for interviewing no earlier than the summer preceding their senior year in school.

All candidates must have successfully completed 30 semester-hours or 90-quarter hours and be within ten months of graduation when ordered to active duty. Required subjects include at least one year of integral calculus and one year of physics.

Those selected by the Director of the Division of Naval Reactors will be enlisted in the Naval Reserve and will attend a short indoctrination course in Washington, D.C.

Upon completion of the course, they will be ordered to the Naval Reserve location nearest their home for duty purposes while they complete their college education, receiving full "E-3" pay and allowances, which are subject to the restriction of a maximum of two dependents, unless waivers are granted for cases such as child support or alimony from previous marriages.

Candidates are also subject to physical requirements of the "Unrestricted Line."

After graduation, candidates are immediately assigned to the first available Officers' Candidate School class at Newport, Newport News, Va.

I really don't feel like doing anything. It's the weather. I know I'm suffering from spring fever in early fall. It's a bad time to test this way because I've got exams to study for and cartoons to draw and a column to write. Maybe I just don't do the column. I have a bell of a time finding things to write about anyway. Nobody calls me at any hot time.

The real of the staff is having the same problem. Our news editor has to dig to find stories to assign to our crack reporters. The photo editor sends photographers chasing after parachutists and wet cats. And our editor can't seem to get information from or appointments with people in the glass building. "Kathy who? oh, you dear.

Well, I think I can set you up to see him two weeks from this Thursday. Will that be too late?" But generally there just isn't anything going on.

I've been bothering people all day in an attempt to get some ideas. One reporter told me that the school has been given a statue to put in the middle of the "feeling" pond. He didn't know exactly what it was a statue of, however. So we sat around trying to decide what it would be most appropriate. We finally agreed upon a fat cherub, balanced on the toes of one foot, spouting water from puckered lips. But there really wasn't a story in that.

Another reporter suggested that I do a column on some of the lecherous (well, one in particular, actually) professors we have on campus. Yet I probably will do something of that sort in the future, but I will have to wait until I have the time to do a little investigating.

Kathy (our editor) told me there is going to be a 10 per cent hike in the price of something. I forget what. I guess I don't remember because I'm really not surprised at a 10 per cent hike in the price of anything. Besides, I've already done a column about 10 per cent hikes.

That's about the extent of what is happening. But just you watch, the minute I turn this in to be proofread and set in type there will be a massive streak through the third floor of the administration building. Hey...that's an idea.

We Need Some Policy

By Dana Eagles

Pardon-plagued Gerald Ford and his troops of economy-plagued advisors have at last revealed the long-awaited plan to restore order to fiscal chaos, hold unemployment at its present level and plan to restore order to fiscal chaos, hold unemployment at its present level (I'm talking here of the deficit). With the aid of the savings and loan industry, he has set his sights on the old American adage: "I don't want to raise my standards, I just want to lower your standards." It became apparent to many that Ford wasn't shooting to kill, but that the poison dart had backfired and was heading directly for Middle America. Those returning to the scene of the crime were disappointed by the news that there is going to be a massive streak through the third floor of the administration building.
Vegetarianism Suggested

We have matured, radically and perhaps irreversibly, past instant trust and easy answers. Yet the economic situation has also progressed past debate and past theory. We must try some policy now. Later will be the time for pointing fingers. Two hundreds and ten million doctors all trying to nurse the same nauseous economy will produce no workable program.

If we fail to effect a more-than-casual, more-than-academic interest in the grim economic horizon, we may endue: 1990's-style victory gardens, central air-side chat with Jerry Ford, and the modern depression environment New Times envisions as "bread lines at McDonald's".

We Need

While Ford may have deserved criticism directed at his insidious &quot;Whip Inflation Now&quot; club campaign (send two boxtops; no stamps, please) it is precisely this sort of rampant cynicism that makes the problem of inflation-ridden goods and services unsolvable one. At a time when we are a 14,000 member group with no paid employees. If you can help as a vegetarian organizer, or if you are interested in free information on the ethics, ecology, or health of meatlessness, write Box 5424

STUDENTS!

Editor:
The practice of eating animals is causing suffering and death to animals, to us through meat-related disease, to the Planet through the accumulation of insecticides, and to the twenty million who will starve to death this year.

Vegetarians Leonardo Da Vinci, Leo Tolstoy, G. H. Show, Francis of Assisi, Gandhi, Thoreau, and millions of others have refrained from eating meat because it is an innocent slaughtered animal, unjustly raised only to be butchered and eaten. Ethical vegetarians believe that the eating of meat violates reverence for life, nonviolence, and the spark of soul in everything that creeps and crawls.

Every pound of meat represents twenty-one pounds of grain and grass fed to the animal. Cows, pigs, and sheep are protein factories in reverse. Henry Kissinger, Edward Kennedy, Hubert Humphrey, The New York Times, The Washington Post, and churches everywhere are asking Americans to cut down on meat out of the concept of feed the hungry. The world has only twenty-seven days of grain stored.

The American Cancer Society has labeled meat the No. one cause of intestinal cancer. The American Heart Association has linked animal fat to America's soaring rate of cardiovascular disease, since meat-eaters' heartbeats are 72 per minute on average, while vegetarians are 70. Vegetarians get life insurance who are old enough to understand that only twenty-seven days of grain stored.

The crux of Ford's proposal, a five percent surcharge, has been rejected, and we face the possibility that our post-Watergate lethargy of government officialdom has made the citizens and most of an authority on economics than the economist, a better military man than the soldier, a better legislator than the senator, simply by virtue of the fact that he put them there. While economic inanity was dangerous, the loss of our political virginity has made us arrogant and curiously disin­terested. The sad, but inevitable, and inevitable attitude has crept in that when selecting from a field of buffoons or buffoons, one jerk is as good as another.

Things that can be done. The Student Government should better-stand out what the students want; not by the old suggestion box routine, but by getting out and talking to some students! Most of them won't know what they want, but at least they will know the Student Government is alive and well at FTU. I urge them not to just sit around and hope the students will come to them. I wonder how many students actually know who their representative is.

Sincerely,

Robert L. Smithers

Give Your Future A Whole New Direction U.S. ARMY

Where's your future headed for the next couple of years? Will it lead you into a drab, unfulfilling job you've always wanted to do? Or will it be in Europe, working and living in places most people just read about? If the answer is &quot;no way&quot; to either of these questions here's something you might be interested in knowing. Under the Army's two-year travel or training program, you can have your choice of over 400 jobs or an initial assignment to Europe of a job of the Army's choice. In some cases you could wind up getting both - the job and the traveling. Tell it over with your local Army representative SIG Tom Dale. 006-641. Your future could take on a whole new direction.

FTU Republicans Elect New President

By John Bridges

FTU College Republicans have elected Bob Vienna president of the organization for the upcoming year.

Previously succeeded Monte Shoemaker, who served as interim president through the summer.

Also elected to office were John Kelley, vice president and Susan Karrick, correspondence secretary.

The new president said the organization's purpose is to get students "involved" to help the Republican party and localead candidates and inform voters in general.

Vienna added that the last figures he saw indicated 27 percent of registered voters were Republican and that there is "no better time for young Republicans to assert themselves."

The Republicans hold regular weekly meetings and members are open to students with the only charge being $1 per year.

The FTU Republicans this past weekend hosted the Florida College Republication Federation Executive Board and Committee meetings.

Co-Op Program Provides Benefits

by Marcy Muramatsu

The Cooperative Education (Co-Op) program at FTU is a balanced, educational program enabling the student to "blend theory with practice."

Students participating in the program combine periods of study with periods of on-the-job training in positions that relate as closely as possible to his studies and interests.

The Co-Op program at FTU is directed by T. P. Ted Rowe, with Frank Simmons acting as assistant project director.

Simmons said, "We have students all over the United States. Currently, about 250 students from FTU are connected with our program." Since its beginnings in the fall of 1969, Simmons continued, "the Co-Op program has grossed over $1 million."

Salaries are set by the individual companies and concerns cooperating. The financial assistance which results can be of great help to the expenses of a college education--it is often these funds which makes the education possible.

The Co-Op program benefits both the student and to the employer. Students gain on the job experience, personal and professional growth, a wider job choice and better salary offers upon graduation.

Developmental Center Offers Counseling

By John Bridges

"We don't care about anything that anybody walks in with,"

That is the way Dr. Tom Borowy described the scope of the personal counseling services of the FTU Developmental Center.

The center has handled a wide variety of problems in the past, ranging from students trying to stop smoking and having problems overeating, to drug problems and potential suicides.

Dr. Dan Walton said a good portion of his work comes from students who have made "unreasonable demands" of themselves, or have had hard relationship difficulties. He added that the two counselors and the center's director, Dr. Tucker, try to "work them down" the individual and help in solution of the problem.

Marriage counseling or "people counseling" makes up about half of Dr. Borowy's counseling work.

Dr. Borowy explained that of last year, about 3,300 of FTU's 7,100 students were married--a high proportion--and that the average age of FTU students was approximately three years higher than the average university. The result is problems that are "personal and age-related.

Both counselors said that the center's orientation is toward a "humanistic" approach rather than clinical. This means the emphasis is more "in time" with the college population and is on the individual's "growing" and the solution of his problems, rather than categorization of the individual and "treating" or "curing."

The center's records are completely confidential. That confidentiality cannot be challenged by the university administration.

Dr. Borowy said that he has often been asked things like, "Will this go on my university record?" or "Will the dean find out if I talk about dope?" The answer is no.

Dr. Borowy emphasized further that the center dealing mental center is a "student service" and that he personally sees the center as a "place to explore anything you want."

To gain more information on this aspect of the center's services, phone the center at 225-2811 or stop by room 116, Residence Dorm C.

Engineering Designated "Professional School"

By Paula Wiser

The College of Engineering has been designated as the "professional school" on campus.

President Millican has approved a new plan that is to immediately implement the professional school concept in the College of Engineering, initiating two changes.

First, it requires a change in the concept and philosophy of the college.

"There's a need for more competent people to serve our society effectively," Dr. Millican said, "so the College of Engineering recognizes this need by altering the stress and emphasis of its program," said Dr. Millican.

Robert Kersten, Dean of the College of Engineering, said the second change of the plan requires added faculty qualifications.

The new requirements include professional engineering status and maintains maintainance of competence through education and professional activities.

Already 80 percent of the faculty has achieved registered engineer status. The professors say they have a two year period in which to become licensed. After that time those who still have not become licensed engineers will not be dismissed but will be given another title besides professor.

Flu Shot Offered

By Pat Strange

Have you had your flu shot? Safety and Health officer James K. Eller, FTU medical director Dr. Stoner are concerned about the number of students who have not taken advantage of the flu shots which they have already paid for. Faculty and staff members should also take advantage of the vaccine available at the Health Center. The cost to them is $2. When obtained from a private doctor, the cost can be as high as $10.

After the vaccine is administered, it sometimes takes weeks before an individual becomes immune. As the flu season is not far away, said Eller, the shots should be taken as soon as possible.

Eller said students are taking a big chance if they do not get the shots. With the flu you can easily lose two weeks of classes, which would put you so far behind, you could never catch up.

Eller said, "Suppose a senior who is to graduate this quarter should get the flu and have to drop out of classes because of time lost. He might have a job waiting for him at $150 per week. If he loses 10 weeks (one quarter) that's $1,500 he's lost."

The best time to get the shots is between one p.m. and 11 p.m.

- Gaudnek Show

Dr. Walter Gaudnek, associate professor with Humanities and Fine Arts, currently has a show at the Lockhaven Art Center. The exhibit is free and open to the public.

Lockhaven's hours are from ten A.M. to five P.M. Tuesday through Saturday and from two P.M. to five P.M. on Sundays. The museum is closed on Mondays. The exhibit will run through Nov. third.

Gaudnek expressed the opinion that his paintings express the cosmic rhythms of a profound Spiritualism Primitivism. The inspiration for his work, he says, comes solely from meditation.

The paintings evoke a sense of simplification of technique and formal immediacy.

Gaudnek has taught religious symbolism, art theory and criticism, history of art, painting and drawing at FTU since 1970. He has lectured and had his work exhibited throughout the U.S. and Europe.

PUT IT ALL TOGETHER IN AIR FORCE ROTC
By the Harrison

It's sure good to be back in the south again.

Now that I'm fond of the weirdness that this part of the states will attract, and do not care for the hot and humid weather. It's the fact that the south supports the leading sounds in music today that brings this area its recognition. From Elvis through the Allman Brothers, the south has been seen as a major influence on music eras. Many new Top 40 reflect this new rising influence.

An Anthology Vol. 11

There's no way I could write an un-biased review on the works of Duane Allman, I pretend to.

There has never been a more dynamic, involving guitarist. From his early days at Daytona Beach with the Allman Brothers Band's "Eat a Peach," Duane was always recognized as a superior in his field.

Duane shines through as a maestro on furious lead riffs as well as his wailing slide solo. The album includes a lot of great blues with Allen Franklin, Otis Rush and Wilson Pickett's "Born To Be Wild."

Duane handles vocals on two cuts from the double album, (I wasn't exactly his specialty) and there are four songs with all of the Brothers: "Midnight Rider," "Dimples," (one of Duane's vocals), "Leave My B.B. At Home" and "Done Somebody Wrong" off of their classic live album, "Fillmore East.

On October 29, 1973, Duane picked up his guitar and was headed to a track that had turned him in front of a truck. He died three hours later in emergency surgery. The band hold together behind the genius of Duane, influenced Dicky Betts and are still connected by Duane's influence in the southern tradition.

Feats Don't Fail Me Now

Little Feat

Warner Brothers 83274

The second album of the rock and roll band is an excellent conglomeration of songs. "Little Feat" should be accepted readily as their debut album of importance.

The simple, southern lyrics of the group brings out its mellowness, but can still really move in such cuts as "Rock and Roll Doctor."

Bill Payne continues to set the pace in dynamic piano runs. The album is filled with brilliantly arranged percussion by Sam Clayton and a leader among bass players, Ken Gradney.

The second side of the LP includes the title cut and chances for Richie Havens to come through on drum solos. The album remains simple, presenting a collection of some good, lazy listening music, and some moving country rock.

Record Reviews

"Watermelonos" starts off with a furious exchange of lead guitar, then develops into solos of alternating slide guitar and piano.

"Me and my ole lady ain't gotten along" if things don't get better, I'll soon be on the road.

The side finishes with an involving "Travelin' Shoes," a fine mix of simple lyrics leading into long developing guitar runs. The title cut opens with a spiritual sing along and is followed by "Good Lookin'," an old Hank Williams tune cracked up a few steps.

The side finishes with "Can't Hold Myself In Line," a Merle Haggard tractor.

"I'm going fishin', Hook, sinker and Line. I'm going fishin' just to ease my mind.

The band gets real country on "Fishin'" and a heartbreak-ballad, "Can't go back."

The musically sound group rounded out with bassist Michael (Fly) Brooks, Phil Lesh on piano and Don Holzman on drums, who is extremely musical with appearances by Charley Bell, Toy Caldwell, Sky Stone, Stefan Lessard, Mickey Hart and numerous others on horn and rood arrangements.

Pink Floyd Reviewed

By Mike Cerni

Pink Floyd is a unique group of musicians. Their style is hardly defined and the majority of their music has no actual cohesive element. It is more of a reflection of man's primal instincts and modes.

We do not labor ourselves with the more traditional process of music making, but then again we can not be classified as jazz artists. Their music is in what the “over 40” generation might label “acid rock”.

Instead of turning sound into music, they take sound and turn it into emotion. (Or no se, depending on which generation you belong to.)

In concert, Pink Floyd has to be experienced to be realized. Their tour of the United States last year following the release of their highly successful (and still very popular) album, “Dark Side of the Moon”, left even the most veteran of concert goers in a wide-eyed stupor.

Their quadrophonic speaker arrangement and the artful use of it, combined with their talent and ingenious use of synthesizers, sound effects and lights, made their “21 hour one of the most talked about in recent years.

If they could do what they did on stage, just think what they could do with a full length motion picture.

Well, even the greatest artists have their limitations, and Pink Floyd, I'm afraid to say, has theirs. Pink Floyd is the type of group one goes to hear instead of to see. They don't labor themselves with can did shots of the stars and the majority of their music is stereo only. I'm sure Pink Floyd is not short of money-back guarantee.

If you belong to.)

Videotape Made By Cutcher

By Marcy Muramatsu

What thoughts run through the mind of a dying man? Laurence Wyatt, who teaches the English course “Death and Dying” at FTU recorded a one-hour videotape this summer of the thoughts and emotions of terminally ill faculty member Leonard Cutcher.

Cutcher, of the College of Business Administration’s Accountancy Department, died Oct. 5 of cancer of the throat and lungs.

Wyatt said he and Cutcher met as a result of a call from one of Cutcher’s colleagues. Cutcher had heard about the “Death and Dying” class and in essence “put himself at my disposal,” Wyatt said. As for the history, Cutcher underwent an annual physical, and complained of a sore throat, Wyatt said. He was referred to a specialist, who informed him that he had inoperable cancer of the throat and lungs. He was told that he had a maximum of 18 months to live.

“Even his first reaction was not one of escape,” Wyatt continued. “He immediately began to put his affairs in order. He took care of everything—the insurance, even his own funeral arrangements.

He was fully ready to die—then realized that maybe he was pushing it a little, Wyatt said. Although he knew death was inevitable, he began struggling to stretch the time span. The only thing he gave up was mowing the lawn.

“He continued to be intellectually vigorous,” said Wyatt. “I was most impressed by his honesty. He didn’t deny what was happening—he was an exceptional man.”

Wyatt also emphasized Cutcher’s great sense of humor. Cutcher said some people were embarrassed when confronted by the knowledge of his death, but Wyatt said he even joked about it to out people at ease.

“Cutcher loved teaching—he always wanted to help students in any way he could. That’s why he wanted to make the tape,” Wyatt explained. “The only stipulation he made under was that it would never be used commercially.”

The tape which has not been shown publicly yet will soon be viewed by Wyatt’s “Death and Dying” class.

Wyatt said Cutcher answered all the questions put to him honestly and openly. Cutcher said he did not believe in life after death, and wasn’t afraid of what lay ahead.

“I believe he wasn’t afraid, because of the way he answered the questions,” Wyatt said. “In reference to Cutcher’s sense of humor, Wyatt said, ‘If I didn’t use the tape only for academic use, Cutcher swore he’d be back to haunt me.’”

Navy Recruits

All candidates who are approved for the program are enlisted in the Reserve for six years.

Any who drop out for other than physical reasons may complete two years in an enlisted status. Those who complete NUPOC (C) are required to spend three years in active duty.

Recruiters admit the NUPOC (C) is highly selective, with only 100 applicants being selected nationwide each year. But, say Navy representatives, the opportunities are “terrible” if one can make the grade.

The Navy Information Team, which can provide additional information concerning NUPOC (C) and other military opportunities for college students, will return to the FTU campus, Tuesday, November 12, through Friday, November 15, from nine A.M. to four P.M. in the Engineering Building.

Rhode Island for nineteen weeks. Graduation from OCS gives the candidate commission status. Twenty-four weeks of training at the Nuclear Power School and 26 weeks at a Training Unit follow, and those who are approved for submarine duty may attend an additional five weeks of Submarine School at New London, Conn., or Pearl Harbor.

YOLK TROUPE

FTU—A one-hour program of Eastern European folklore and court dances, dating back to medieval times will be presented Oct. 28 at Florida Tech University’s Village Center.

Founded in 1961, the group gained international recognition after winning first prize at the 1965 World Folk Festival in Moscow. The FTU program will be known as FRULA, the folk spectacular features an ensemble of 40 Yugoslav dancers, acrobats, singers and instrumentists.

Voltage Increase Caused By Storm

Aria Filko

Electrical storms were the cause of a sharp voltage increase in several buildings on campus, the weekend of September 30-31.

Florida Power and Light Company was notified of the trouble and all dorms and buildings have been double checked, according to George Rendulic, Superintendent of Maintenance.

Each building on campus is equipped with a transformer that adjusts voltage and during the course of the storm high frequency vibrations set in loosening the adjustor.

Normal voltage on campus is between 117 and 125 volts. “We have run a voltage check on all dorms and buildings,” explained Rendulic. “The dorms are now running between 125 and 120 volts, which is perfect.”

“This is the first time it has ever happened on campus,” Rendulic said.

Between 80 to 100 incandescent light bulbs were lost and it is rumored that one television in “D” dorm was damaged.

“This incident could have caused the TV damage,” admitted Rendulic, adding that a pre-existing defect in the set could have caused it to blow as well.

The following is a letter to Hunter Pat, Sr. President of the Fletcher Union Commission, from the Futu Elections Commission forwarded to the Futu

Dear Hunter,

We the Elections Commission would like to explain to you and the students of Futu our reasons for retaking to certify the Fall election results. We have carefully examined the operation of the election, and have discovered numerous problem areas. In our judgment the election did not meet the standards which the students can rightfully expect.

The statutory violations have already been outlined in our official report. But certain other areas, while not clear violations of the election statutes, were important causes of the problems encountered. The Elections Commission was not instituted until late in the organization of the election. This made it nearly impossible to follow the schedule called for by that statute. Those named to the commission were all members of the Student Government cabinet. They were involved in other Student Government activities, and found it difficult to keep close watch over the election procedures.

Some, before learning of their appointment to the commission had been actively involved in promoting individual candidates. Finally, the statute was being used for the first time and there was a lack of uniform understanding of its meaning.

We would like to make it very clear that we have found no evidence that these violations were premeditated. They were simply errors made in a good faith effort to operate an election under difficult circumstances. In the light of this we would like to recommend improvements in procedure which will produce a more legitimate election. A new Elections Commission should be created including some individuals not currently involved in Student Government. All statutory provisions should be enforced to the letter. Voting should be moved to a location more heavily trafficked by students. In the future, the Student Senate should amend its statutes to avoid misund
Winless Week For FTU Soccer

Knights Lose To FIU; Tie Georgia Tech

by Pete Haas

FTU met Florida International University last Thursday afternoon here in another hard fought and fast soccer game. The dramatics of FTU came into the game rated fifth in the South and found the Knights to be worthy opponents on this day. There was no humiliation in the Knight's loss by the score of 3-1. After a shaky first half, FTU regained its poise and played the highly ranked Sunblazers on equal terms the rest of the way.

It was FTU who controlled the tempo of the game for the first ten minutes but then FTU came on and showed their power. After good scoring chances were missed by both teams and some excellent goalkeeping by both goalies, it was FIU who drew first. A shot by Trakoon was deflected wide but Trakoon assisted on the last two goals and the half ended 3-0, FTU.

FTU opened hard in the second half again but could not connect. Charlie Campbell, Tony Smith, Gus Romo and Reynolds Lyles continuously fired shot after shot but just couldn't get it past the FTU goalie Winston DuBose. The second of three goalies FTU was to use that day. At the other end of the field DuBose was playing up to his All State form and thwarting the FTU offense.

Then it finally came. After a penalty on FTU inside the goal area, FTU was awarded a direct kick. Campbell was given the shot, one on one with the goalie, and he beat the goalie to the low right side for FTU's first score in two games against powerful nationally recognized soccer teams.

But for now he's happy to be the Flying Boleto on the FTU soccer team.

By Pat Murray

Although they outplayed the outsiders their powerful opponent from Georgia Tech Sunday afternoon, the FTU soccer team had to settle for a 1-1 tie.

Hampered by intermittent rain falls and the rough house, sometimes unsportsmanlike play of the visitors, the Knights still dominated play and lost the Yellow Jackets 1-0.

FTU scored first in the opening half, when Gus Romo took a head pass from Charlie Campbell and booted the ball by Tech goalie Eddie Perez for a 1-0 lead.

The rain started although it wasn't heavy or long lasting, the rain was just enough to make the field slick and cause many slips and falls before the afternoon was over.

Midway through the second half, Tech's Mario Canoberti and FTU's Bill Balance got tangled up in front of the Knight goal and the ball trickled by goalie Winston DuBose to knot the score at 1-1.

The Knights kept steady pressure on the Yellow Jacket goal in the second half, evidenced by the 12 saves recorded by the Tech goalie, but were unable to push any points through.

In the late going frustration began to take its toll and tempers began to flare. The pushing, punching, arm elbow throwing resulted in two Georgia Tech players, Horacio Gochica and Mario Morales, being ejected from the game.

The tie left FTU's season record at 3-3-1. Tech's ledger now stands at 9-6-3.

The Knight's next home game is Saturday at 10 a.m., when they take on Covenant of Tennessee.

“Flying Boleto” Guards The Net

By Pat Murray

If you happen to pass by the soccer field some afternoon and view a fine FTU varsity soccer team, you will see the goalie Winston DuBose. He is the goalie for the FTU soccer team and one of the key to the Knights' hopes to have a successful season this year.

With the flair and finesse that he plays the sport, one might think that DuBose has been playing the game for a decade. He actually got Started just four years ago in a physical education class at Trinity Prep.

"We were going up a game in P.E.,” DuBose remembers “and there were only two of us left without a position. I decided to be the goalie and that's how it all got started."

"A goalie has to practice a bit differently from the rest of the team. From his P.E. class experiment he got an offer from the Trinity coach to come out to the school team. DuBose made the squad as a junior and logged quite a bit of playing time when the starting goalie became injured.

His senior year at Trinity he had an outstanding season and was lured to FTU by soccer coach Jim Rudy. During his freshman year here he garnered state-wide honors and accepted an offer for an Olympic team try-out.

DuBose attributes a great portion of his success to the fine coaching of Rudy, the hustling play of all his teammates, the guidance of the Lord, and a lot of time spent training on the team.” DuBose related. "Since I'm the only one on the team who may touch the ball with my hands I spend a great deal of time catching, throwing and blocking."

NUMBER ONE FAN — FTU Director of Athletics Dr. John Powell, right, presents first of new FTU Booster licenses to University President Charles N. Millican. The Boosters, formed of varsity supporters from campus and community, plan a number of events to help fund team sports at FTU, and are actively seeking new members for the organization. FTU varsity teams - basketball, wrestling, tennis and baseball - have never had a losing season.

Soccer League.

If you're out by the soccer field this fall, take in his act. It's far from a circus.

LXA Finally Beats ATO

By Joe DeSalo

It took Lambda Chi Alpha four years to defeat Alpha Tau Omega in Flag-football but it couldn’t have come at a better time. LXA routed the usually tough ATO squad 27-7 last Wednesday, Oct. 9, to stay tied with Tau Kappa Epsilon for first place in the Fraternity League. LXA and TKE went into yesterday’s action tied for the lead at 3-4.

In other Wednesday action, Delta Alpha Epsilon topped Pi Kappa Alpha.

It was a crucial ballgame for both ATO and LXA, each is fighting for the Greek League Title. But at the end it was LXA’s brilliant defensive goal line stand along with some clutch offensive plays to end their long drought of winning a “must” game.

LXA quarterback John Hinman, had one of his best performances as he threw three touchdown passes with Joe DeSalo grabbing two of them. Throughout the entire game, LXA continued to hit the open man to lead them down field. The turning point of the game was LXA’s Jay Rockers’ 16 yard TD after intercepting a Joe Hart pass in LXA’s end zone in the first half, giving them an early 13-0 lead.

LXA’s defense on four occasions stopped the potent ATO offense deep in LXA territory. Only a late first half Nate Smith TD saved ATO from being whitewashed.

A first half TD by DTD’s Bob Crotty stood up as DTD shocked Chi Phi 7-0. It was DTD’s first victory in three years. TKE, behind QB Steve Jackson’s three touchdowns passes including two of them to Kevin Riley in the second half enabled TKE to shutout KS 26-0.

John Kirkpatrick’s second half TD gave SAE a 14-7 victory over PKA.

In the Independent League action Monday, TKE II got by SOMP 6-1. In an offensive battle, the Bunglars came from behind to tie Faculty Staff and Students 16-15 after trailing 13-7 at the half. Rex Riepe scored two TD’s for FS&S.

In a low scoring contest, Black Student Union protected a Ray Thomas TD in the first half to silence the Mafia 7-0.

On Tuesday, SAE became LXA’s third victim as they were handed a 17-12 scrapping. The offensive attack for LXA was led by Q’s John Hinman and Dave Hudick throwing three and four TDs respectively. Joe Luceri was the big gun catching three while Guy Mauro picked up a pair.

ATO got their first win of the season as they over powered KS 46-7. QB Joe Hart had a field day completing seven TD passes including three of them to reliable Kevin Powers.

After a scoreless defensive battle in the first half, Sigma Chi took charge behind QB Phil Merrick after the intermission to hand upset minded Chi Phi a 29-12 loss. After a scoreless defensive battle in the first half, Sigma Chi took charge behind QB Phil Merrick after the intermission to hand upset minded Chi Phi a 29-12 loss. Gary VanHoose hauled in two TDs for Sigma Chi while Chi Phi QB Steve Kudrulich threw one and ran 40 yards for another.

TKE continued their winning ways stopping DTD 19-0. Joe Cirrabo scored two TDs to aid the TKE effort.
