Book Mutilation Costly To Library

By Pat Strange

During the months of June and July of this year, the reference librarians were privy to a number of mutilations to two expensive books and 21 magazines and periodicals.

In addition, according to L.W. Tucker, director of the library, all of the October issues of The College Court Apartments complex have been ripped at.

This is an easy normandy used by students in elementary education.

Another book, the Art of Walt Disney, cost $45, is missing 10 pages and the last 50 pages. Over $250 has been spent on binding in which to hold magazines and periodicals that have been ripped at. If this happens, there is an opportunity for theft.

Also, it has been necessary to purchase microfilm copies of some journals.

These copies make the reproduction for easier and less expensive.

Whereas necessary to order replacements a long wait is involved.

The cost of the labor alone of ordering one replacement issue in this last instance was $15 over.

Tucker added that two pump motors had been ripped at, but county inspectors rejected this.

Tucker guessed the identity of this individual by saying, "I doubt if we ever get 40 hours work for management and tenants, even though there is a contract for this service," he added.

Another former resident complained about his work arrangement whereby he would have to go to the center for maintenance for his pay for his rent. The resident said he was often asked to work up to 40 hours a week.

Crockett guessed the identity of this individual and said shortly after he was hired, the man passed a bad check in Coca Cola Field. Crockett said the individual also moved out without a chance and volunteered to work overtime because he had no other place to go. Crockett said the individual also moved out without notice after keeping some rent payments collected from another resident.

The librarian did not pursue this individual by saying, "I don't think we ever got through work out of him. I come by and ask him to grab a shovel. I'd come back in a couple hours and he'd be gone.

Several present residents complained that the swimming pool had been closed constantly. Crockett said the pool construction had been contracted for, but county inspectors rejected the pool because of improper electrical wiring, closing the pool for two weeks.

Crockett added that two pump motors had burned out in the last two weeks causing the pool to be closed for broken motors.

Mrs. Marjorie Potting, an employee of the Crockett Agency who calls herself a "go-between" for management and tenants, said, "No one feels worse about it than we do.

Developmental Center Offers Testing

By John Bridges

Throughout this fall quarter, the FTU has carried a series of articles on the FTU Developmental Center. In almost all of the series examined, some form of testing is utilized.

The existence testing program is coordinated by Dr. David Crockett, the center's director.

Dr. Tucker said that the center uses around 125 different tests. Of course no student would take them all.

The tests are used in many areas and are often inter-related, resulting in a student's taking a combination, or a series.

Dr. Tucker said there was no "set package" but that a series of tests depend upon the individual.

In addition, the center offers both the GRE and the GEB preparatory test, aptitude examinations for those in law and dentistry and a medical college admission exam.

All exams are free except for the Miller Analogies Test, which is often required. The fee here is $1.

Also, I must conclude a student who would do this just doesn't care about his fellow man. Then, a lot of people don't realize the damage they are doing, he explained.

"In addition to costing the taxpayer a lot of money," Walker said, "this mutilation could go undetected until it becomes too expensive to replace the item."

The only way the librarians know when something like this has happened is when a student who is looking for material reports something missing.

Florida Statute 501.22 states: Whoever willingly, maliciously, and intentionally injures or damages any real or personal property belonging to another, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor of the first degree, if the damage to such property does not exceed the amount of $200.

If the damage exceeds the amount of $200, the person shall be guilty of a felony of the third degree.

The penalty provided for a misdemeanor of the first degree in the state of Florida, is imprisonment in the county jail for a term not to exceed one year or a fine not exceeding $1,000 or both.

The penalty for a felony of the third degree is a term of imprisonment in the state prison not to exceed five years, or a fine not to exceed $5,000, or both.

Walker said, "I'll catch them if I can. If they'll certainly bring this on themselves and I will have them prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law.

Librarians are keeping a record of the items reported mutilated or missing in an attempt to pinpoint particular areas or titles.

Students should report missing pages or tears to the librarian so they can be replaced.

Proclamation

In a previous issue of the FTU, it was reported that tuition fees for winter quarter will be due before classes begin.

Joseph Gomez, University Comptroller, said that since the regulations concerning payment of fees is at present permissive, it is his intention not to make final registration fee payments due until Friday, Jan. 18, one week after the beginning of classes.

Gomez indicates that all students registered at Ad\vance or Regular Registration who have not paid their fees by this date are subject to a $25 late fee.

For purposes of further clarification, it should be noted that all students registered at Late Registration will be charged the $25 late registration fee.
Student Directing 'Hedda'

By Alan Cruise

Emotionally, she stares through dark glasses at the actors struggling with freshly memorized lines.

"This is their first time without the script, so it’s really don’t expect them to know their lines," said Julie Sargis, the first student to direct a major theater production at FTU.

The Theater Department selected Sargis, who chose "Hedda Gabler," a classic about a woman torn between marriage and work. Sargis said her main reason for wanting to do "Hedda Gabler" was her relationship with the author, whose subtle works readily lend themselves to individual interpretation.

Also, after working on a production of "Hedda" at Rollins College, Sargis said she was able to identify with the lead character. Sargis, a former student at Rollins, said she came to FTU two years ago because of finances and the desire to enter a more career-oriented field.

But after studying elementary education for a short time, Sargis was back in college. Sargis, who hopes to study theater on the graduate level, outlined the tasks of a First, a producer. Casting, which Sargis said was her most difficult job because of the abundance of qualified actors at FTU, must be accomplished before moving into the stage for blocking and rehearsing.

Rather than dictate interpretation, Sargis said discussions with the cast had been helpful in the treatment of certain characters.

Sargis said her training has been in the area of production, being the stage manager for several productions.

"It helped me in directing because the stage manager is an authoritative figure," Sargis said. She originally thought discipline might be a problem. "I was in 'Grains of Sand' a series of student-produced, one-act plays."

A "photo" beer commercial which erupts into a brawl.

A "Mouth Appeal" ad in which a man kisses his girlfriend by the new combination mouthwash and toothpaste.

A "Babe and Ray" toy doll commercial that introduces Ray's secretary and an affair which results in divorce proceedings.

And a gourmet cooking show, "Soup TV Dishes." All are well written and produced.

The two funniest pieces in the film are a "Wide World of Sports" visit to the "19th West German Sex Games," during which a gold medalist couples compete, instant replays include bud­dies, and a second documentary, a wild look at the "Channel One Evening News."

The news parody is the high point of the film. This segment satirizes the ever-present industrial advertising, showing off a new polyester "Brown S." At the conclusion of the piece, a TV newsreader is unable to get off camera when the show ends.

The movie ends with 46 minutes and during that time it has its great moment but the humor is very select in appeal. Readers of "National Lampoon" magazine will probably feel that "Groove Tube" is great, while others may find it a bit too stong, or simply gross. Viewer beware.

"Let your fingers do it," is a take-off on the yellow pages ad nearby.
Winter Quarter Registration Scheduled

Advance, Regular, Late Registration and Add-Drop for Winter quarter will be conducted in the Village Center Assembly Room.

Appointment times for registration are posted in the Administration Building and the library.

Non-degree students registering on special registration forms do not receive appointments and must register at Late Registration.

Appointment and canceling will be December 24 for all eligible Undergraduate, Graduate and Post Baccalaureate students who were enrolled Fall Quarter 1974-75.

A machine printed Appointment and Trial Schedule is required for admission to Registration.

Appointments are based on GPA by class for the end of the most recently completed FTQ quarter.

ADVANCE REGISTRATION TIMES

December 3, Tuesday
5:00 pm-8:00 pm All eligible Graduate and Post Baccalaureate students by appointment.

December 4, Wednesday

It took a few years but it looks like some people are waking up. They are wiping the goofy stains off their eyes and parachuting out of their minds. They are beginning to see that there are people who don't necessarily think or act like they do and that they aren't necessarily some kind of perverts because of it. For example, did you know that William F. Buckley now supports the decriminalization of marijuana? Weird, huh?

Premarital cohabitation no longer surprises anyone (even though it is still illegal in a lot of states). And now that the Sentinel Blue runs "Debonnet" and stories from the "Rolling Stone," you would think that the last bastion of conservatism had been breached. Not so, however. For amongst this growing enlightenment there persists a state university system in which young adults are forced to abide by the moral idiocies of our older and more conservative generation. Am I griping about that again? Yes, but it's not going to get easier.

Yes, friends, welcome to the state of Florida where the double standard is a way of life. Here we are studying Thurie, Locke and Jefferson and learning individual freedom and dignity. Yet, if you live in the dorms you can't have your girlfriend or boyfriend in before 2 a.m. If a friend drops by you can't offer him a nice cold beer for two reasons: 1) beer is not allowed in the dorms because it does not contribute to the "living-learning environment" that the dorms are supposed to be and 2) refrigerators are also verboten because people might keep food in them that might be cooked and cooking is illegal too. So much for individual freedom and dignity.

And to add insult to injury, our parents in Leuco don't give us any credit for having learned much at this institution of higher learning. For in answer to students questions about these ridiculous restrictions, they have prepared a standard list of unorthodox or very much沃hich very largely consists of the bovine fevers which they are. The "living-learning environment" euphemism that you use in reference to the dorms is a good example of this.

But maybe, just maybe, the enlightenment I spoke of earlier will some day soon infiltrate the Board of Regents and then it will find its way down to the individual administrations. I say this because I met with the chancellor designate of the BOG last week along with some other students and he indicated that he foresees some changes in store as far as validation was concerned. Gosh! Do you think we might get another hour each night?

Pegasus Pub Held

By Deborah White

Student entertainment, a show for a door prize and a videotape of the school and arts concert were featured at the Pegasus Pub last Friday evening.

Over 200 people attended the Pegasus Pub last Friday night, according to Mike Ryan, Chairman of the Village Center Popular Entertainment Committee.

It was the first time a Pegasus Pub was held in the cafeteria. In the past, Pub meetings were held in the sheet hive. The increase in attendance was a move to the cafeteria more professional journalists, convention as a regional landmark in journalism and news recognized during the Professional Chapter and have marked more than the Central Florida Chapter, drawing, too.

There were few problems at the Pub. There was an excess of spillage of beer on the floor and cigarettes, were dropped everywhere except in the ashtrays. Some people just don't care," Ryan said.

Ryan also said several candles were stolen from the Pub. He said the candles and balalaikas were used to add atmosphere, but the budget is very tight. The Entertainment Committee cannot afford to replace the candles that were stolen.

Several members of the committee volunteered to help clean up at the end of the evening to help clean the cafeteria, but no one showed up.

Several more members of the committee had to help clean up the cafeteria before it was time for the video tape broadcast.

One more Pegasus Pub will be held this quarter and six more will be held during the academic year.

SDX To Honor Space Center

Kennedy Space Center will be honored by the Society of Professional Journalists Delta Chi (SDX) as an historic site commemorating the historic Regan 3 convention in Orlando next spring.

The regional convention, scheduled for April 3, will be hosted by the Central Florida Professional Chapter and coordinated by the Florida Times-Union University Campus Chapter.

The space center will be recognized during the Orlando convention as a regional landmark in journalism, according to the SDX announcement.

The convention will be held in the cafeteria, with the ceremonial presentation of a plaque.

Since 1942, SDX has marked its presence in journalism, and since 1960, local social events such as the Central Florida Chapter, has listed more than 35 sites of local significance in journalism.

The approximately 230 student and professional journalists from the East of Florida, Georgia, Alabama, South Carolina and part of Tennessee are expected at the spring SDX conference.

The Chapter of SDX was represented at the recent不佳小会议 by Mary Anna Jackson, chapter advisor and news editor for the Student Star special sections department, and Mary Wheatley, FTU chapter chairman.

"Photojournalism," presented Pulitzer Prize winner, Brian Lovett, and "Professional panel presented with the casual opinion of Norbert von Hoffman of the Washington Post.

The Society of Professional Journalists, Sigma Delta Chi was founded in 1906 at DePauw University and has grown from a group of 10 men to the world's largest and most respected organization of newspapermen.

Since its founding, 62,000 persons have been listed as members of SDX and current Active Membership is 20,000 persons, or about 10 percent of the current membership.

VC Jobs Open

Applications are now being accepted through December 27, 1974 for the position of the Village Center Board of Directors.

The West Board of Directors is interested in making the FTU academic community, including the student body, staff members, the two staff members and the three alumni members.

A FTU student is eligible to apply for the position which is held for one year, from April 1975 to April 1976.

These student positions open now, however, will be filled later in February 1975.

The term can be reappointed.

Responsibilities of a board member include making policies, setting up and supervising the organization of departments and committees.

Students interested in these positions may obtain applications at the VC main desk.
Voter Turnout Worst in FTU History

By John Bridges

Two weeks ago the results of the SG senate elections were announced. Of the total voters eligible, only 15 percent took the time to vote. The turnout was the worst in FTU's history.

In the week following the campus elections, just 40 percent of the nation's eligible voters turned out to vote against their better judgment. The media informed the public that the figures represented the apathetic campus elections, just a negative reflection of the system.

The turnout should have read registration procedures in the political system is slipping. The system. The numbers were based on eligible voters, only 60 percent of those eligible in Orange County are registered. The turnout should have read 30 percent of eligible voters.

Do these figures indicate the political system is slipping? That voters no longer care? Is a trend in the offing that will jeopardize the future of government, and perhaps, the student population at FTU in apathetic and meaningless institutions?

These and other questions were posed to four political science instructors by the PTU. The instructors were Dr. Melvin Jones, Marilyn Whiser, Mark Stern and Stuart Lilie.

Dr. Jones said from the apathy it is clear that people were disgusted with the political system. The alienation is so deep that people do not feel voters saying, "I've had it," Jones said.

"Issues are the key, according to Jones. He feels the turnout issue is not of major concern saying, "If they had a reason, or something to gain, they would turn out." Dr. Jones also directed his attention to the most dangerous thing now in the economy. The economy rather than voter turnout will hurt the political system."

Dr. Stern agreed, "Voters are turned-off when politics are meaningless." Activity and political participation have been decreasing in the United States as detrimental to the system.

"The registration laws in this country are the tongue of all western democracies," Dr. Stern said. "The burden is on the individual to avail himself of the opportunity to vote."

Both instructors favored the installation of "postcard registration" an automatic registration system, or door-to-door solicitation of voters.

Lilie said that the apathy and disillusionment with politics was not as great as believed. He added that poor turnout leaves little chance of candidates to appeal in middle classes.

"The poor and minorities traditionally have a smaller turnout," Lilie said. The result, according to Lilie, is often the election of candidates that are insensitive to the needs of the poor and the minorities.

In addition to registration, Lilie suggested reforms including simplified ballots and an improvement of the information received by voters. Newspapers, civic groups, and political parties "could all do a better job," in getting information to voters, Lilie said.

"A portion (of voters)," Whiser said, "wants whether or not the political system will be able to deal effectively with their personal concerns."

If a decline in turnout developed "the legitimacy of the political system would be in question," stated Whiser. "Public opinion of government lacks of trust in many of society's institutions, including governmental institution. Most voters are not very politically aware, but they have a general feeling of what they like and don't like.

"Turning their attention to the FTU campus and elections, the four instructors agreed that students have little interest in campus elections.

"They just aren't serious about student government," Jones said.

Lilie assumes most students feel campus government "doesn't effect them." According to Lilie, they have no identity with campus government, do not know how it works or even how it spends their money.

Based on her contact with four other campuses, Whiser said that campus elections at community schools attract less attention than on residential campuses.

"SG organizations have often also directed their programs primarily towards on-campus students," Dr. Whiser added.

Whiser also felt the scheduling of elections in the fall quarter hurts turnout. Combining the fall and spring elections might generate more interest, Dr. Whiser said.

Stern said voter apathy might be compared with turnouts at other campus events. He characterized the campus as "bland," saying that programs lacked controversial elements and asked, "How do we make the campus meaningful at a commuter school?"

Village Center director Dr. Ken Lawson maintains that in terms of the past years, attendance hit all-time lows last year.

According to the director's figures, campus movies are averaging 200 people per day while last year the average was 100 per day. The "Welcome Dance" this quarter drew 405 compared to 300 averaged all dances in the past. Of course, enrollment has been increasing also.

"We haven't had the funds to have any more 'controversial' speakers here," Lawson said.

Despite increasing enrollment, the yearly VC programming budget has been cut from $8,500 in 1973, to $2,000 this year. Another $8,000 may be made available with SG approval.

Lawson said the annual budget for concerts was $2,000 and $1,500 for speakers, which is about what a nationally known speaker commands for a single appearance.

"We do like to come up with the current issues," Lawson said.

According to university policy, the center must present both sides of controversial issues and programs.

Science Fiction Course Offered

By Cameron Pyle

In recent years, the literary field of science fiction has finally ceased a certain amount of self-deserved respectability. However, its influence on the intellectual world is as yet unmeasured. For those students who are interested in science fiction as its own sake rather than in the literary merits, the Physics Department is again offering PHYS 091, an Introduction to Science Fiction, for the winter quarter.

This provides a groundwork for raising many provocative questions not normally covered in average astronomy or physics classes.

Physics 091 will be taught by Dr. Jay S. Boltom. Boltom said that the course grew out of his own interest in science fiction and the expressed interest of many of his students. Boltom said that he feels that his course is "more interesting to the students and gets to the most important and exciting topics in the field of science more quickly."

One of the reasons that science fiction has become an acceptable forum for scientific concepts is the fact that many of the prominent authors in the field, most notably men like Frank Herbert and Dr. Isaac Asimov, are scientists themselves and reflect a reasonable amount of accurate scientific description in their writings.

The genre of science fiction is wide open to new ideas and speculations and is basically limited only by the writer's imagination.

"I went on to suggest that maybe friendships and sororities could create a building complex."

Concerning the issue of visitation, Potts stressed that open visitation means accepting students as adults. They should be given the same privileges as non-residents.

York agreed and felt the board of regents would probably agree if several problems could be resolved.

York asked how the Title IX would affect fraternities and intramurals. York said it would not prohibit them, but would exert pressure on universities as far as discipline of programs more numerous.

"We need to do more for women's athletic programs," he stressed.

The course of on campus activities in Greek, interpreted SIG vice-president Jim Davis. "The funds and the housing are the problems."

"There is a distinct possibility that there might be a state or federal stimulation of building programs," stated York.

He went on to suggest that maybe fraternities and sororities could create a building complex.

Concerning the issue of visitation, Potts stressed that open visitation means accepting students as adults. They should be given the same privileges as non-residents.

York agreed and felt the board of regents would probably agree if several problems could be resolved.

"I would prefer that visitation and alcohol privileges be left up to the individual campus," he said.

In addition, any Greek organization entering five auton will compete for an overall trophy.

Although team individuals may place in an overall class, team scores will be computed to determine placing.

Registration begins at 11 a.m. and the first event starts at noon. The entry fee of $3 covers both driver and navigator. The general public is invited to attend.
GLAMOUR SEEK S YOUNG WOMEN

FTU students are invited to participate in GLAMOUR's Magazine's Top Ten College Contest for 1975. Young women from colleges and universities throughout the country will compete in GLAMOUR's search for ten outstanding students.

A panel of GLAMOUR editors will select the twenty outstanding women from their solid records of achievement in academic work and/or in extracurricular activities on campus or in the community. The Top Ten College Winners of 1975 will be invited to New York to meet the GLAMOUR staff and will receive a $500 cash prize. Anyone who is interested in entering the search should contact Mrs. Carol Wilson, Dean of Women for more information.

The deadline for submitting an application to GLAMOUR is February 15, 1975.

YOUNG WOMEN

PELAGUS PILOTS

The Pegasus Pilots, the FTU Flying Club, participated in the Southeastern regional competition of the National Intercollegiate Pilot Association (NIPA), sponsored by Emery Buddle University last weekend.

The winner of the overall competition, Emery Buddle, won the right to represent the Southeast in national competition in September.

Dave Trimble, Gary Huggins and Hurley Jones, members of the Pegasus Pilots, along with Herb Long, advisor to the club, took third place in the Southeast power off competition.

Dances are a main source of income for the club, which cuts operating expenses after cutting off the engines.

The Pegasus Pilots will be featured in the College Concert and Sound symphony.

The music for this occasion is provided by a grant from the Music Performance Trust Funds (Kenneth E. Bailey, Trustee), a public service organization created and financed by the American Federation of Musicians.

BASICKALLY BAROQUE

The FTU Music Department's faculty ensemble, "Baroquely," will open its new season with a presentation in the Engineering Auditorium, which will also feature the local debut of a newly formed group at the university, Lynmood Broer.

The 8:30 p.m. program, which is open to the public and also charged, will begin the season for the ensemble's fall hurrah that is being played over 20 concerts in 1974-75. Members include: Patricia Steinberg, (oboe), Sabinia Maccione, (bassoon), Roger J. Lee, (string bass), and Gary Wolf (piano).

Baroquely, an outstanding performer on the trumpet, who has appeared with the Dallas and Fort Worth Symphonies, conducted the ensemble and was an assistant and jazz band leader at FTU in addition to teaching brass.

The Nov. 20 program will include: Trio Sonatas by Telemann, Buse, and Haydn, plus a contemporary work by the German composer, Gerhard Maurer. Broer will join in Telemann's Concerto in D major for Trumpet, Oboe, Violin and Continuo.

COMMUNITY ORCHESTRA

The Florida Technological University Community Orchestra under the direction of Robert L. Harrison will present its initial concert on November 24, at 8:00 p.m. in the Village Center Assembly Room FTU. There will be no admission charge.

The program will include: music by Beethoven, Haydn, and Mozart.

The 59 orchestra members are students taking part in the FTU band. (The annual competition for students to jobs available through the Co-op program.)

Co-op Day Designated

FTU President Charles Franklin announced today this week, officially designating it as Co-op Day. According to T.P. "Ted" Ruliff, Cooperative Education director, the purpose of the declaration of Co-op Day is to have more people become aware of the program.

Ruliff demonstrated the fact that "students can learn something outside the classroom." Ruliff said.

Students taking part in the program combine periods of study with periods of on-the-job training in positions relating to his studies and interests.

Students receive a stipend while sending students out in their major field of study and they are able to use this experience later on.

In addition too the valuable experience the student gathers college credit will be awarded by the college to which he is assigned. Ruliff continued.

Today, Co-op representatives will be requesting that professors devote five minutes of class time, so students can become aware of the right class to jobs available through Co-op Day.

FTU students are invited to participate in GLAMOUR's Magazine's Top Ten College Contest for 1975.

SG Gets A & SF Surplus

With enrollment at FTU increasing by close to 1,000 students, the Activity and Service Fee (AASF) has placed a surplus amount of funds in the hands of the FTU Student Government, according to Hunter Potts, SG President.

Under a law recently passed in the Florida Legislature, $2.27 is allocated from each quart or hour for which a student is enrolled.

This amount is placed directly under control of the student government.

Potts said the surplus has not yet been determined to the exact dollar, but does represent a figure higher than SG budget had expected.

Potts said the additional funds were to be applied to areas that had suffered cutbacks in their programming and to campus services after the basic operating expenses were covered.

At the top of the allocation list is an additional $13,000 needed to begin day-care center construction. This project has been awaiting funds for some time, Potts indicated.

There are also plans to allocate additional monies to the Village Center for their programs and for intramural and extramural athletics, particularly "women's extramurals," Potts said.

Most multiple section examinations will be scheduled on Tuesday, December 10, 5:45 p.m., Wednesday, December 11 and Thursday, December 12, 11-12:56 p.m.

Dorm Rules Broken

Two resident students at FTU were found guilty by the RHA Judicial Board for violating dorm regulations. The RHA Judicial Board met on Thursday, November 4, at seven p.m. with the two students accused of the dorm violations.

The first case involved a resident student who exploded a firecracker from his dorm room window.

No damage was incurred. However, the disturbance alarmed the Resident Advisor (RA) who then pressed charges.

At the hearing, the student pleaded guilty to the charge and as a result the RHA Judicial Board implemented that a letter of reprimand be sent to him, his parents and maintained in his student record for one full quarter, upon the approval of the Dean of Men, Paul McQuillen.

The other student was charged with a violation of the dormitory rules. He had three males and three females in his room after visitation hours.

An anonymous phone call complaining of too much noise in the accused room instigated the investigation.

The RA then went to the accused room where he found the group socializing.

The student accepted the charges and received from the RHA Board pending approval from the Dean of Men a letter of reprimand and a verbal warning.

The notion that Orlando and surrounding areas constitute a very backward, conservative setting is no longer an issue that warrants debate. Tampa finds it conclusive to hold up two concerts a night while Lakeland is reaping the profits of its own concert center, much like the one that was defeated by the "Star valuers of our "progressive area."

Netters Open Year With JV Tie

By Joe De Salvo

Mother Nature spoiled football teams' opportunity to win their first dual match of the fall, and thus spoil the hopes of the Jacksonsville Knights. The Knights and the host Elgin Purple Raiders tied 6-6 in overtime because of darkness.

The score of 4-0 for Elgin, and 6-0 for Jacksonville, was tied when Elgin defeated Jacksonville for the first time in 22 years. In the first half, the Knights were out of bounds with 10:05 remaining in the game, and Jacksonville's only easy time was against Pip Dinkelman 62, 63 Nale South, at No. 3, gave Elgin an early lead at 1:30 with a 3-0 victory over Jacksonville's Mike Deveau.

LXA Tops Gold For 'Flag' Crown

By Joe De Salvo

In what had to be the most dramatic and captivating season opener for the two undefeated teams ever played on the Elgin athletic field, Lambda Chi Alpha defeated Lambda Alpha Gold 2-1 in a thrilling overtime.

Both teams went into the game with unblemished regular season records. LXA claimed the Fraternity League Title with a perfect 8-0 record; Lambda Alpha Gold had a 7-1 record. LXA's big win was their 12-6 win over the Bunglars enabling LXA to win the championship game.

LXA quarterback Dave Hudick took advantage of the passes including Jim Rudolph's 2-5-1 perfect performance by straightening the Gold's big win was their 12-6 win over the Bunglars enabling LXA to win the championship game.

Knights Capture Classic

By Pat Murray

Utilizing a stubborn defense and a high-pressure offense the FTU soccer team outclassed host Stetson 4-1 and Jacksonville University 2-1 to win the Hatter Classic.

"It was a pleasure to see how the Knights worked their way through the tournament," said Gergley. "They have a good team spirit and enjoy the atmosphere of winning. Knights always do something nationally. Twice this year."

There have been national champions of both types," explained Gergley. "The state title is the most important. But Murphy is probably FTU's best."

There may be some who overrate the state team. But Murphy and Sherman have been working hard all season. They have a great chemistry.

Pat Murphy is the quarterback of the team. He has a strong arm and can throw the ball accurately. Murphy is a great leader and a great runner. He has a lot of experience. I was really happy with the way he performed.

Sherman, now a senior, is a very good receiver. He can make great catches and is a good blocker. He also has good speed.

Alphabetically at putting together a winning record against the Knights' killer schedule. Murphy is surprisingly reluctant to talk in individual games. "Wrestling is really a team sport. It all depends on the team's effort. Murphy is a good leader and a good person. He has a lot of talent."

"Scotty is the flashier type who usually counts on a starting lineup. Murphy is probably the most overconfident. I don't necessarily count on a starting lineup. Murphy is probably too."

Murphy is probably the best dual-meet winner at 126 pounds, national and Southern Open at Chattanooga, Tenn. a year ago. Both represented FTU now both have well-established dual-meet records.

Scotty is the flashier type who usually counts on a starting lineup. Murphy is probably the most overconfident. I don't necessarily count on a starting lineup. Murphy is probably too.
