FTU Hosts BOR Meeting

By Dana Eagles

The Board of Regents of the State University System meeting at FTU's Village Center Monday threw out further consideration of a proposal by the panel's finance committee to eliminate the lower division at FTU and the University of South Florida at Tampa as a cost-cutting measure.

The decision came on a wave of widespread criticism from faculty, parents, community leaders and other university politicians both from within the two universities and around the state.

The capacity crowds and demonstrations to protest the proposed action predicted by the University of Florida and the University of West Florida revealed his intention to cancel the lower division at FTU, which caused widespread concern among students, faculty and administrators.

Williams cited several factors which prompted the decision. "We are mainly dissatisfied with the type of contract more than anything else. Basically, it's a no-win proposition. The contract calls for the University to provide service to the student any ten meals during the week. A fifteen-meal plan, and a 20-meal plan, offering a variety of specials to a much greater extent than is currently being done. I think that the FTU food service will improve greatly as a result of the change benefiting not only the resident students but the entire University community."

Williams indicated that apparently there are several companies interested in bidding on the FTU operation. He also pointed out that until the formal bid opening, many of these companies would be conducting surveys and talking to various students and University officials.

Sharon Esposito, President of the Residence Hall Association, whose organization has been spearheading an effort to improve dining services since December of 1973 explained that the change was "not something that happened overnight," in that it was the "final culmination of trying to fix what we had."

The RHA will apparently push for service on weekends, and during the summer quarters.

Among the proposals, included in a ten-meal plan, which would buy the student any ten meals during the week, a fifteen-meal plan, and a 20-meal plan, offering a brunch on Sunday.

Meal Plan Possibly Cancelled

After six years of operation, John Williams, Director of Administrative Services, revealed his intention to cancel the University's food contract with Mission, Inc, at the close of the spring quarter this year.

Williams cited several factors which prompted the decision. "We are mainly dissatisfied with the type of contract more than anything else. Basically, it's a no-win proposition. The contract calls for the University to provide service to the student any ten meals during the week. VA Offers Increased Assistance

By John Bridges

Some 1,948 FTU students are now receiving increased educational assistance through the VA Office of Veterans Affairs.

Ken Kennedy, of the FTU office, said that the total figure of FTU veterans was increased for all types of VA assistance available. Last December, rates increased went into effect, retroactive to September 1, 1974. The increases boosted rates, for Chapter 24 and 31 eligibles enrolled in pursuit of a degree, up 22.7 per cent. Rates for other forms of VA assistance were increased 12.2 per cent.

According to Kennedy, other important aspects of the increase included increased education, vocational training, and assistance to educational loans and refresher training.

Under the new rates, tutorial benefits have increased from $50 to $100, the overall maximum from $450 to $720. Tutorial assistance is specifically identified as a service to be provided as needed to Chapter 31 veterans. Educational loans are now available to those pursuing a degree, who have been unable to secure sufficient funds through other Federal loan programs.

The VA will make direct loans up to a maximum of $600 per academic year.

Veterans discharged after January, 1955, with 30 months of entitlement may be provided up to 6 months of additional benefits for use in pursuing an undergraduate degree.

Veterans may be provided up to 6 months of educational assistance for refresher training to update their skills and bring them into line with recent technological advances.

Educational benefits for all VA claimants have been increased in length from 36 to 45 months in addition to the increased rates.

BOB Chairman Marshall Criser brought the crowd to order several times during the meeting, accepting the vested interest of those attending, but urging patience in order to "get all the facts.

Criser opened the session calling the assertions one-faced proposal but a multifaceted problem" and said that the Regents were not to determine "panaceas, but solutions for the times."

He then asked if the brief television lighting stationed at either side of the assembly room could be turned off in the interest of the student community. There was no response, and the board approved the plan to reduce spending for the fiscal year to an adjusted level of 2.6 percent, after a poll of several university presidents requested by Regent Chester Ferguson, including FTU President Charles Millican.

In addition, Mautz reported, State Education Commissioner Ralph Fargnoli advised the SU to make a further cut of ten million dollars from the 1974-75 budget in place for the upcoming fiscal year. The board approved a priority list seizing $78 million from next year's projected request.

The question was called to vote on elimination of the lower division as a viable proposal after only one speaker commented.

The vote was five for and two against, with Regents Harris and Kippler voting to keep the measure intact as a proposal. Harris, concerned with the
DELTA TAU DELTA

Delta Tau would like to thank Delta Brother Gary Anderson and all of his hard working assistants for making last week's Homecoming such a great suc­cess.

Everyone hopes it becomes a strong annual event worthy of our strong basketball team – CONGRATULATIONS!

Congratulations are also in order for Mike Walters, who led Delta Tau to victory in the Mr. Legs contest.

This week marked the instal­lation of new Delt officers and the arrival of Keith Siner, a Field Counselor from their national.

TEES

Homecoming brought with it many hours for Tees. Three sisters, Angela Rueger, Linda Stoot and Lisa Wos are candidates in the Basketball Sweetheart competition. Tees were proud to have Startzman.

TKE would like to congratulate Mike Douglas and Dave Miller for entering the brotherhood of TKE.

This week TKE Culture Week included the selling of singing stalls of new Delt officers and a visit to the Medic for making last week's car wash for the Housing Fund.

Last week TKE raised $30 in a car wash for the Housing Fund.

This weekend is TKE Culture Week. All last week TKE raised $30 in a car wash for the Housing Fund.

SING MACHI

The Sigs welcome the visit of Assistant Executive Secretary, Roger Bingham to the Eta Pi Chapter, on February 15.

February 1 and 11, the fraternity will be selling tickets to the Valentine Day celebration at Disney World in the Village Center. The profits received will go into the Fraternity Row Housing Fund.

Welcome to new pledges Tony Elwell, Tyler Hayes, Rich Vasmir, Randy Levine and Rob Sturtzmann.

Last week in sports, SX I held up its perfect record in wins over PKA, 65-26 and DTD, 72-31. SX II had only one game last week, which they lost to the Individuals, 11-4.

Remember - only four more weeks till the Bathbub Regatta, March 8 at Lake Fairview.

LAMDA CHI ALPHA

The Beta Eta chapter of Lambda Chi Alpha is proud to announce the initiation of its new brothers to bring the total initiations here at PTSI to 124.

The elections were held two weeks ago, with brother Dave Hudick winning as new High Alpha.

The chapter is also happy to announce the celebration of Lambda Chi Alpha's Founders' Day. The brothers are all going to New Orleans to Beach to spend the weekend, with festivities includ­ing a banquet.

Astrology Classes To Begin

Richard Stewart Bell, an Orlando-based astrologer, studies the phenomenon as a science. As a teacher, writer and lecturer, Bell offers his courses in Orlando to clear away the myths and mysticism concerning astrology, and presents the facts in the interested public. The facts, he says, Bell speaks for himself.

Bell's column, "Dear Astrologer," begins this week in the Focus.

In the past decade, scientific research has supported astrology, an ancient science that has been used as a tool for forecasting both the personal lives and the future of people. Bell, who has immersed himself for the past seven years, Bell next week will begin a series of classes in Orlando to clear away the myths and mysticism concerning astrology, and present the facts to the interested public.

The popular astrology columns in newspapers around the world plus the renaissance in astrology has made the study fashionable. In intellectual circles in Europe and the U.S., astrology is a popular subject for conversation. "What's your sign?" is perhaps the most often heard question at many parties. Everyone knows what sign of the Zodiac they belong to, and in addition to knowing their "sun sign," many know their "moon sign" and "ascending sign."

Astrology was used by Carl Jung, a Swiss psychiatrist, who contributed the terms "introvert" and "extrovert" to our modern vocabularies. In his practice, it is a standard procedure to find the horoscope of the client to pinpoint physiological complexes and then to apply the psycho-analytic technique to resolve the conflicts explained by the horoscope.

Comparison of horoscopes shows how people will get along together, says Bell and the wise couple who have marriage plans would make a sound move in having their respective horoscopes compared to see their endurance and long-range compatibility.

Bell, whose wife graduated from Purdue University has discovered that planets and their configurations to genetics and animals seem to be controlled by "external forces" termed "cosmic forces." The sun and moon.

Studies at the University of Miami have shown that during certain planetary configurations, admissions to hospitals increase and that man human excitability is accentuated, resulting in higher crime rates and abnormal behavior.

Dr. J. Edson Andrews of Tallahassee states that more post-operative bleeding occurs from the new moon in the third quarter. The Record Corporation of America (RCA) studies planetary configurations to predict severe electro-magnetic storms.

This evidence and more has been compiled by Richard Bell, who plans to use it in what he hopes will be a successful series of class sessions to try to convince a sometimes skeptical public that astrology is for real.

The class which begins February 13, is now open for registration by contacting Larry Werts at 631-2837.

EDITORIAL

By Dana Eagles

Hindsight is always 20-20, but I find it almost incredible that the public did not reject the false proposal of the Board of Regents to abandon the continued growth of FTU by removing half its members, and when the news leaked, it had some possibly well-meaning Regents sacrificing under their conference table for cover. There are still unanswered questions, such as whether or not anyone in high places took the notion seriously in the first place. Without that knowledge, however, the community retaliated as if the idea itself was a death certificate for FTU's lower division, and the defense was in Battle of Britain proportions. The Regents' secretary stated he had never seen such a reaction in his entire career; Marshall Criser's report on the times wanting a place on the calendar.

But the dismaying thing about Monday's fiscal was not the proposal itself, but an ill-conceived and superficial answer: the Regents themselves, although their comments and actions were at least politically unevolved and managerially inept, but the underlying refusal by those who should have been concerned rather than volatile about concerns as to whether or not there will be a first place. Without that cooperation working together to resolve this problem and for the fine way in which everyone conducted themselves at the meeting. As one of you so aptly stated in a communication to me last week, the faculty can get back to the business of teaching and the students to the matter of learning.

Charles N. Millican
President

PSST! HEY KID, WANNA BUY THE ANSWER TO NUMBER TEN?

Millican's Letter

To: The University Community

Now that the question of eliminating freshmen and sophomores at FTU and USF has been laid to rest by the vote of the Florida Board of Regents yesterday, we want to express our appreciation to the entire FTU faculty, staff, and students for the excellent cooperation in running a system of state universities with inflation, recession, an economy-motivated funding system, and a budget cut far below the figure that existed before things really got bad.

Just as disconcerting is the attitude projected by some that the state owed the average citizen a higher education by virtue of his citizenship, while the tuition paid by the consumer is an almost miniscule portion of the total expense. In brief, the public university student is not in the greatest bargaining position to demand anything except what is guaranteed to him by law, and should place some respect in executive body that is underwriting his future.

As other administrators were making arrogant complaints and demands about the difficulties imposed, FTU's President Millican told the board he would do his best to work under the conditions and somehow we would make it through. He was not about to waste time wishing the problems were not there. Of course there will be hardships. There is much to do and very little money. But we are convinced that the Board is interested in the overall picture of making it through the low revenue period, though they are vulnerable to error. If you're tired of hearing about biting the bullet, try this one:

The organization of a Florida Student Lobby is in the "formative stages," according to Student Government (SG) President Hunter Potts. Even though students have been working in lobbying efforts, we still have been fairly successful. We could be so much more effective if an organized lobby was put together," said Potts.

The purpose of the organization will be to lobby for legislation in the best interest of Florida students. It is hoped that this will provide the Florida Legislature with vital information to help meet the needs of students and to benefit the state education system as a whole. Much of the lobbying efforts in the state legislature.

"Student lobbies in other states have been very successful," Potts said.

The Florida Student Lobby, which has been in the working for nine months, will hopefully be in operation by early March for the state legislative session in April.

There are nine state universities, and numerous junior colleges. The state has private colleges and institutions located throughout the state. Membership in the lobby is on a whim size and three states.

Any institution of higher education in Florida may be a member. Any member will be eligible for a position on the Board of Directors.

Sponsoring members will be required to meet the equivalent of five hours of student annual activity, according to their full enrollment. A full member will be open to any school or other organization of students, and they will pay a set rate of five dollars annually.

Subscribing members will not be eligible for positions on the Board of Directors. Any student of member or citizen in Florida may join the lobby as a supporting member at a rate of ten dollars annually.

Qualified subscribers will be eligible to lobby for the position of the Board of Directors.

The Florida Student Lobby Board of Directors will consist of ten persons elected annually from the sponsoring member or member of the SG presidents or designates. Any will serve as a director.

An office will be established in Tallahassee for the three months during the legislative session, with full-time positions of managing director, assistant director and clerical work in operation.

"These employees will act as the coordinating backbone of the lobby," said Potts.

They will collect and prepare information to send to SG presidents of member schools.

"We are now seeking applicants for the various positions," said Potts. Any interested individual does not value qualified for the position of the SG office for further information.

The state lobby can be a tremendous asset to the student body, with direct and indirect benefits with regard to such things as Board of Regents' effort, tuition changes, and available monies for loans and grants," said Potts.

SG Council Created

A council of university and college student governments has been created, as it was in the purpo se "to strengthen student government and to foster the role in the governmental system of the state of Florida and to foster the role of the views of student government.

Officially known as the State Council of Student Governments of Florida, the organization was formed January 21 in Tallahassee, chaired by Robert Michael Jordan, with Jan Pietryzk as executive director.

The council lists as its major goals the promotion of educational training and participation in student government and the economic and industrial development of the state through college and business cooperation.

Main proposals for action for the newly-created board include the establishment of the Florida Student Lobby, establishment of a state headquarters in Tallahassee, and a state center for student journalism.

Jordan stated, "This council will be a Florida first in terms of equalizing the Florida state legislature in independence and effectiveness on the student government level."

Dr. Goldstein Holds National Recognition

By Vicki Blanchfield

Follow ing an impressive industrial engineering career and outstanding instruction in the College of Engineering at FTU, Dr. Ernst M. Goldstein has received recognition in the 1974-75 edition of "Outstanding Educators of America." Goldstein was born in Berlin, Germany and earned his Ph.D. chemistry from the Technological University at Berlin.

The professor added, "Enjoy teaching here very much. I have met many very nice students and faculty members. There is very close cooperation here between professors.

Students have twice honored Goldstein by voting him the "Outstanding Professor" in the College of Engineering in 1969 and 1971.

He stated his opinion concerning the proposed solar energy program, "It is definitely an extremely important program, but rather long-range. Many crucial problems still remain unsolved. "Nuclear energy is a more short-range program for which promises more immediate results."

Goldstein expressed particular interest in the potential of geothermal energy. "This type of energy has great appeal to me," he explained, "There are steam wells in the U.S. that once were only minor attractions. This stream that rises out of the earth is now being used for driving turbines and making energy.

He optimistically said, "This is a very useful way to get more energy in this country without burning oil."

In addition to his academic career, Goldstein has many publications to his credit and two books on nickel-cobalt separation, which resulted from his work with the government. This discovery has great industrial importance.

The professor is very community-minded too, and has repeatedly accepted speaking engagement invitations from civic organizations. He is also a meteor consultant for the Orlando area.

Goldstein is the recipient of the Presidential Award of the American Society for Metals, "because I was very active in this group and I developed several lecture series for it."

Goldstein is presently the Chairman of the Educational Committee of the Central Florida Chapter of the organization.

Other achievements include membership in several professional societies: the New York Academy of Science and the Smithsonian Institute.

The Goldsteins have two children, a son, who is presently a geologist in Texas, and a daughter who graduated from FTU and is now employed by the University of Colorado.

He arrived in this country with his family in 1948, after holding positions in Germany, Turkey and National China.

Following primarily research positions with metal fabricating companies in New Jersey, Goldstein joined the Materials Engineering Department of Martin Marietta's Orlando Division in 1962. He was later promoted to acting manager of the newly formed Materials Research Development of that company.

Dear Astrologer

By Richard Stewart Stein

Last Quarter - New Moon

(Editors' Note: Mr. Bell, a professional astrologer, joins our staff this week as a special columnist. This column will be syndicated and begin appearing in March. Read Mr. Bell's views on the zodiac on page 3 of this week's FTU.)

In the last quarter of the lunar cycle, people tend to relax, dream and postpone major activities. On the other hand, this is the time to take stock of the 11th, this all changes and everyone feels the unexpected. This week is favorable for Gemini, Leo, Leo, Sagittarius, and Aries.

Taurus, Scorpio, Capricorn and Cancer are in a stage of adjustment and are environmental circumstances.

Virgo and Pisces are highlighted for their natural turning points to their lives that will turn out better for them in the long run.

General Forecast:

Friends: Friends and associates hold the key to the solution to some of your problems. Help is offered if you ask. Outdoors, February 9.

Opportunities: Helping your will be won.

Taurus: Career and your place in the world is under some stress. Buy a plant and grow slowly but surely. Plans may need to be revamped. Progress on the 27th will be a time for affairs in the 11th.

Good news to make plans and creative ideas are favored. Friends are a source of good ideas. Best days are the 9th-11th. Leprechaun good for Gemini, Cancer. For the moon children this week, you can expect the usual need for freedom and independence on the 7th-9th when other people can be troublesome for you. After the 10th all looks well. Attend to those security problems you have been having. Best days are 12th-14th.

Leo: This is a turning point in your affairs. The bottom part of your chart is not so favorable. There is only one way to go and that is up, so go. Best days are 10 and 11th.

Virgo: Analyze and realize that action is what you chiefly need now. The time for being is here, and you can help others with your ideas. You're lucky that Mars favors you so that your energy level will be on the rise. Best days are 9th-10th.

Libra: Creative cycle is high. Do something original and reap the rewards of the imaginative approach. Some conflict in surroundings, however you will overcome these problems. Good days are 9th-11th.

Scorpio: Home and family matters are stressed. Look at security matters and be careful that all is O.K. Best days are 12th and 13th. Social involvements can come your way.

Sagittarius: Your mind is restless and friends and associates the proper outlet for your energies. Money matters need more work. You have a natural tendency to have close calls that can keep you hopping.

Capricorn: Family problems and some irritations need to be put aside so that you can focus on career matters. Discipline yourself to stay within your limitations. Proper attitude is the key.

Aquarius: The spotlight is on you. Put your best foot forward and you will find things going your way. Best day is 9th-10th. Friends will be in good spirits or you will improve them.

Pisces: Things that you have done in the past come home to roost this next week. The time is not to attend to any matters on which you have procrastinated.

Dr. Goldstein for four and a half years before transferring to Martin's Denver Division, where he worked as Senior Research Scientist in the high temperature materials field for one year.

On the basis of his engineering knowledge and outstanding qualifications, Goldstein was offered an Associate Professorship at FTU in 1966, with the College of Engineering. Two years later, he was promoted to the rank of Professor.

Goldstein explained why he accepted FTU's offer, "I thought that sharing my industrial experience could be useful to the younger generation.

His teaching capacity here at FTU this quarter include three courses: Oceanography and Outer Space, Physical Geography and Structure and Properties of Materials, although he stated that, "By education I am a chemist.

He was selected as one of the outstanding teachers for his efforts to improve the educational program for students in the state he served.

He taught at Valencia and Florida State Colleges for five years and is currently a professor in the College of Engineering.

The FTU tennis team got an overhand win over ATO last Sunday afternoon as the men's tennis team humiliated hosting FTU, 20-2.

The loss was the first in five matches for the Knights who saw their four game winning streak broken when they got beat.

The fact that All-American Patrick Byrd defeated his namesake would have. Fists flew in the fracas, which quickly sent the ball past midfield and they ruffled our hair. kicked our shirts. ruffled our hair. kicked our shirts. pushed us back and people fell. Then came the fracas, which quickly sent the ball past midfield and they ruffled our hair. kicked our shirts. ruffled our hair. kicked our shirts. pushed us back and people fell.

Bruce Johnson, who detected the outbreak and that if the game turned ugly, was a miracle in Word's words, on DeSouza's 6-4, 7-6 win over Lucky, who helped the FTU men's tennis team reach the No. 1 doubles for the 6-4 Knights who were definitely a skilled side against Willie Davis and Daryl Byrd.

In Gill Graham and Doug Hull's case, it was a matter of only one point away from victory. After losing the first set 6-4, the two came back with a vengeance in the next set as Graham quickly won the middle set against Willie Davis and Daryl Byrd.

The day's action began on a heart-breaking note as Lucky dropped a tough one to Davis 3-6,7-5,6-4 in a match that lasted over two hours. Lucky, who hit some incredible shots at the No. 1 doubles, was dominated by his second wind along with Tom Hammons as he lost 3-2 in the 158-pound match. The loss was disappointing with what resulted.

"I was truly looking forward to the game," said Graham, "because it could have been a good experience for me against a top doubles team. It was a shame the way the outcome turned out. We were a very aggressive team and I feel we could take and I feel justified regrets with what transpired."

Rudy said he was not disappointed with the way things went for both teams but they ran it for everyone concerned. You wouldn't normally expect that type of play during an in-season match as the two teams were still working on their mid-season form.

"We simply took all the abuse we could take and I feel justified with the way things went for both teams but they ran it for everyone concerned. You wouldn't normally expect that type of thing to be avoided, that's what, said Graham."

Rudy stated that FTU had taken control of the game before the outbreak and that if the game had continued he and the Knights would have been victorious.

"They were definitely a skilled team but they were inferior to us," said Graham. "They couldn't get the ball past midfield and they only took one shot on goal. We had four shots on goal and were moving the ball very well."

The 6-4 Knights were definitely a skilled team against Willie Davis and Daryl Byrd.

For the parents, the loss was not a devastating one. Coach Rudy expressed similar feelings, saying that when they let someone in the game, they can control the game before the outbreak and that if the game had continued he and the Knights would have been victorious.

As the old saying goes, "Home is where the heart is." In the FTU basketball team's case, it's "Home is where the victories are.

The Knights continued their reign on Wednesday by defeating cross-town rival Rollins. The final score was 71-69,FTU's biggest lead of the game coming at 46-34.

The game started out in a see-saw battle as the biggest lead for FTU was six points, 12-6, in the first half. While Florida behind 6-7 Eddie Hand, 12 points, rounded back to take the lead for a brief time 32-31 with just under three minutes remaining in the first stanza. However, the Knights quickly regained control, scoring seven points in a row to maintain their lead, 39-32.

The only thorn in FTU's side was Hands, who shot a frigid 35 percent.

The only point that Hands did not contribute to was his free throw after a free throw attempt by Belotte, who missed his last shot. However, Hands was able to maintain his momentum in the second half, scoring 11 of FTU's final 20 points.

The FTU basketball team gained a measure of revenge Saturday evening as the Knights topped cross-town rival Rollins for the first time ever, 71-69. If revenge is as sweet as some say, then the win had to be a tasty treat for Coach Torchy Clark's charges. In all three previous meetings, the Knights came up on the short end of the scoreboard, twice losing by slim margins.

On a night that saw the Tars hold the state's leading scorer Bennie Shaw to 16 points, the Knights looked to freshman Jerry Prather for their firepower. And sure enough, he did: hit in the bigger Mississippi native poured in a game-high 30 points while grabbing 11 rebounds, also tops for the contest.

The Tars actually sealed their own fate with turnovers in the final minute. Holding a slim 74-71 lead Rollins' Marcus Wilson was tripled-teamed at mid-court. His pass was tipped by Willy Belette, Shaw came up with the loose ball, drove past Wilson, and layed the ball in to give FTU a 77-74 lead.

Two more Rollins miscues coupled with four pressure-packed free throws by Carl Lingelbach and Prather put the contest out of reach.

Prather and Shaw got offensive advantages from Bill Dorin, who chipped in 13 markers. Belette, slowed by an ankle injury, pulled down nine rebounds with Corso contributing seven as the Knights now 16-1 dominated the boards in the second half.

Bruce Howard led all Tars scorers with 22 points. Foul-plagued Gary Parsons added 17 off the bench as the Tars watched their season record slip to 9-6.

This weekend the Knights take to the road, a place where their success has been limited this season. Tonight they travel to Tallahassee to face the always-powerful Rattlers of Florida A&M. Saturday night FTU crosses the border to face a strong Georgia Southern team.

SUMMER 20
Library Exhibits Missing

Of the last four exhibitions held in the library lobby, articles have disappeared from two and vandalism has occurred in a third, according to Tony Logan, director of instructional media.

From the student exhibition in the Fall, a glass sculpture belonging to John White was stolen. An 83 x 18 black and white print of a hunting scene was taken from the exhibit entitled Early Photographic Images and Imaging Equipment. This exhibit is held each Fall quarter, because the History of Photography course is always taught during that time.

During the last showing of the Fall, the flunk collection, articles priced at $20 disappeared. These articles are actually priceless.

Missing are two large wall hangings described as "tie dye on velvet" and one grouping of four color photos in a single frame.

Dorothy Kannin, instructional media, is responsible for arranging for the exhibits and displaying them. She said, "FTU has a good reputation established. People want to exhibit here."

Logan added, "The practice is becoming more regular with each exhibit. Art circles are a close knit group. If word gets around that FTU is a ripoff, they will no longer want to place their exhibits here."

Logan also said that if articles continue to disappear, the insurance rates will increase. It might become necessary to discontinue the practice of art exhibits in the library lobby.

Logan said he would appreciate any information anyone might have about the missing objects.

Parking Violators Recieve Protection

The "parking violations appeal board" may be a reality before June.

FTU Student Government (SG) Attorney General David Boone is working on the rough draft for the proposed board and hopes to present it to the FTU Senate soon.

"It's important to get safe guards so that everyone is protected," said Boone. "The board should be open to students, faculty and staff."

Tickets for parking violations have been raised from $2 to $15. The raise was to conform with the Florida Uniform Disposition of Traffic Infractions Act.

The new law was passed by the State Legislature last session and requires state universities to raise parking fines to the higher level.

Boone said he believes the board is needed, because it would be familiar with the problems on campus.

Boone said a violation could be appealed to the Orlando Municipal Court if the board was created. However, if you understand it, you subject yourself to a higher fine if you appeal to a municipal court.

Boone said two problems are hindering the work on the board. "One is if the board could legally encompass all the university and two is the school is losing scholarship money because of the fine."

John Smith, director of the campus police, said the only courtesy citations were given the first four weeks of the quarter.

Smith said the Board of Regents agreed to use the old fine schedule if the fine is paid within seven days.

The campus police have given about 2,400 courtesy citations this quarter.
