Wrong-minded in CSU area

A group of students from the Turkish community are looking for Dewayn Townsend Row, 26, "Turks. As a non-Turk, I don't think we should be going into the CSU area when August and is the beginning of the fall semester. I know if you know the whereabouts, you can easily find them, and that's only going to make Citrus Line at 828-4520 if you ever want to hear more about this."

Minority enrollment rises in state universities

A growing number of minority students are attending Florida universities, according to a recent South Florida Commission on Higher Education study. Minority make up the largest percentage of the state's population, and the percentage is expected to increase. This growing is in line with national trends in university enrollment. The One-Florida Initiative was enacted in 1999, with an emphasis on raising minority enrollment in the state university system. One Florida projected to double the number of minority students by 2010. This year the bill passed and is expected to continue this trend.

When University of Minnesota students decided it was time to Print week for a place to live for the first year and save money by renting, instead of buying, a new kitchen, a spacious bed-room, office furniture, and having a good underground parking. And, after a $100 per month parking fee, the decisions, including the service of facilities with dorms round them, was the default answer. A dorm residence hall.
Intramural referees under fire

ATTIC CASS

The fall semester is in full swing and sports are back. This means that athletes are preparing to begin the season and coaches are gearing up for games. With the return of sports, there has been an increase in the number of intramural referees and staff who are responsible for officiating games. This has led to some controversy and frustration among athletes and the referees themselves. The issue of refereeing has been a topic of discussion among athletes and coaches, with some feeling that they are not being treated fairly or with respect. The referees, on the other hand, feel that they are not being given the recognition and respect they deserve for their work. The intramural program is in the process of addressing these issues and working to improve the refereeing experience for everyone involved. This includes providing more training and support for referees and making changes to the rules and procedures to better meet the needs of the athletes and the program. In order to make the sport more enjoyable for everyone, it is important to have good referees who are able to make fair and accurate calls on the field. This can help to ensure that the games are fair and that each team has an equal chance to win. Ultimately, it is the responsibility of the referees to make sure that the games are played fairly and that the athletes have a good experience. The referees are also expected to follow the rules and procedures of the program, which can sometimes lead to disagreements or conflicts with athletes or coaches. The program is working to address these issues and make changes to improve the refereeing experience for everyone involved. UCF hopes to halt sweep by Syracuse Orangemen

HOLD THE BROOM!

The Knights need to keep the momentum rolling to win in Rutgers and either in South Florida or against Temple to bring their season to a close.

UCF's defense has been solid all year, but the offense can be inconsistent. The Knights need to play better in the second half of the season, and they need to play better against Big East teams.

Men's soccer continues streak

Women's soccer shut out for first time this season

Saint Leo Spain defeated the women's soccer team 1-0 on Saturday. The team was shut out for the first time this season.

UCF looks to improve their record in the Big East Conference this season.

Volleyball coach seeks 100th victory

Hattie Dunning, assistant coach at UCF, is seeking her 100th victory. She is leading the Knights to their first season in the Big East Conference.

The Knights hope to continue their streak of success in the conference.

Frenzied fans get chance to coach teams

VANESSA PATRESE
Staff Reporters

Most people will never own a professional football team. Most people won't get the chance to own an NFL team. But that hasn't stopped hundreds of amateurs from living the dream every weekend.

Throughout the country, fans watch the fantasy football season. Fans who are too busy to watch the real thing, or who aren't a part of the NFL, fill their weekends with the game they love. Each week, fans can see the fantasy teams of their favorite coaches play, and they can see the fantasy teams of their favorite players play. It's a great way to stay connected to the game you love, even when you can't watch the real thing.

Fantasy football is a fun and exciting way to stay connected to the game you love. It's a great way to stay connected to the game you love, even when you can't watch the real thing.

"Fantasy football gives you a chance to be part of the game. Not only part of it, but also in control of it."
Students catch fantasy football fever

Fantasy football is a popular way for sports fans to participate in the game by creating a virtual team of real players. The rules and scoring system vary, but the basic idea is to select players from the National Football League (NFL) and earn points based on their actual performance. The team with the most points at the end of the season wins.

In this particular article, the author discusses the popularity of fantasy football and provides tips and strategies for players. They emphasize the importance of understanding the rules and making informed decisions when selecting players. The author also highlights the social aspect of fantasy football, suggesting that it can be a way to connect with friends and fellow fans.

The article includes a section on how to start a fantasy football league, detailing the process of recruiting players, setting up the league rules, and distributing the league fees. It also provides advice on drafting strategies, such as targeting popular players early in the draft or waiting to pick them later to ensure lower costs. The author stresses the importance of flexibility and adaptability, as teams will need to adjust their strategies based on how players perform throughout the season.

Overall, the article serves as a comprehensive guide for those interested in participating in fantasy football, offering both practical advice and insights into the culture and community surrounding the game.
Opinion

Open the door, President Hitt

Terry was a remarkable figure for the student body, as President, John Hitt is the person who had something to say. People, students, faculty, staff, they all knew him and had a relationship with him. He truly was a great leader. So when he announced that he would retire, it was a big hit for the university.

It is a sentiment that many people shared. The last time I talked to Terry, he was very enthusiastic about the future of the university. He was looking forward to the day when the students would be able to fully participate in the decision-making process.

I cannot speak for everyone, but I can say that many of us are looking forward to the day when we can have a dialogue with the new president. We want to be able to share our ideas and concerns with him, and we hope that he will listen.

I am confident that President Hitt will be able to do this. He has a strong track record of engaging with students and faculty, and he is well-respected by the community.

Discomforting symbols don’t belong

President Hitt, it makes sense to have a clean and welcoming atmosphere in the classroom. We have a clear statement of what our university stands for, and it is important that we live up to those values. I think that the American flag is a symbol of imperialism and colonialism, and it does not belong in our classrooms.

I believe that this is a good move, and I support it. I think that it is important for us to be able to have a safe and welcoming environment for all students, regardless of their political beliefs.

Cops going too far for safety

The administration needs to keep a close eye on the safety of our students. We cannot afford to take any risks, especially when it comes to issues like this. I hope that President Hitt will be able to work with the police department to find a solution that is fair to everyone.

Rebuff of FCC rules could save airwaves

I believe that the FCC needs to take a step back and reevaluate its rules. We should not be forcing the public to give up its airwaves for the benefit of a few wealthy media companies.

Bigotry from pro-separatist source

It is important that we stand up to bigotry and discrimination. We cannot let hate speech go unanswered.

Bash to blame for peace troubles

It is unfortunate that the Bash has caused so many problems. I hope that we can find a way to work together and find a solution that is fair to everyone.
