The attempt to ban Ephedra makes for the first time the FDA has gone through the necessary steps to have a dietary supplement taken off the market. In 1997, the FDA proposed the plan of warning labels and a dietary supplement of Ephedra, but the move was blocked by the supplement industry.

Ephedra faces possible ban in March

In an attempt to ban Ephedra, the FDA has gone through the necessary steps to have a dietary supplement taken off the market. In 1997, the FDA proposed the plan of warning labels and a dietary supplement of Ephedra, but the move was blocked by the supplement industry.

Current federal law makes it very difficult for Ephedra to ban the sale of dietary supplements that may be harmful. EPA, however, has long argued that Ephedra is harmful and that it be regulated as a drug.

A House subcommittee report on Ephedra in 1997 states that the drug is a stimulant and increases heart rate.

UFC president, following a recent budget cut, said that the College of Arts and Sciences has been hit the hardest because we offer a large number of general education courses.

``Nobody has told us that we have to do this. We know the demands of the students, and we are trying to meet that,''

Senior Staff Writer

``Unfortunately, with the general education classes, it's much harder for us to find the money we need. It's not necessarily that we're opposed to efforts to support our faculty, but both he and his department have told me that they don't understand how the process works. With the arts and sciences departments, they have to ask for the money. Faculty members have a lot to keep up with,''

Recently, I’ve noticed some small bumps on my genitalia. Occasionally, my boyfriend has blisters similar to those of my bumps, which is a concern of his as well. I believe they may be genital warts, but I don’t know for sure. Can you provide more information on this condition?

Administrators going back to classroom

Cunningham explained, "Many professors expressed that they don't want to teach anymore." Dean Vittes is the director of the Liberal Studies Graduate Program. He said, "We do it because we enjoy it. It's part of the job we do."

He said that he believes it's healthy for faculty in administrative positions to teach occasionally. As a student, you are best served when your professor enjoys teaching and feels they are providing you a class that makes sense to them. He said, "They have spent an extraordinary amount of time figuring out how to best serve students, including doing research to make as many units available as possible."

Though some could say just how many students were being hurt together by their efforts, the idea seems to be working. CAS offered 78,308 total seats this spring, which is a 5.5 percent increase over last spring.

It also provided 111 new sections this spring, though officials were unsure how that compared with what was offered during the fall term.

"Some professors might force some administrators to teach, even though they might hate being in the classroom," he said. "We really need them in the classroom. As a student, you are best served when your professor enjoys teaching and feels they are providing you a service, they said."

Vittes disagrees. "Planetary administrators are all nobodies," he said. "Being in the classroom is a natural thing. Many students are, but now some are teaching more. That's to be applauded."

Sacrifices saved classes

Many already are, but now some are teaching more. That's to be applauded."

The UCF administration has announced that they will implement a new fee to help fund student scholarships. The proposal, which was approved by the Board of Trustees, will charge students $11.09 per credit hour for athletic scholarships, starting in the fall semester. The funds raised from this new fee will go towards scholarships for students who are not currently receiving financial aid.

The UCF administration has argued that this new fee is necessary to ensure that all students have access to the Tuition-Free College Program. According to President John Hitt, the funds raised from this new fee will help to support the university's commitment to providing a quality education to all students.

However, many students and faculty members have expressed concerns about the new fee. They argue that this new fee is unfair and will disproportionately affect low-income students. Some have also raised concerns about the potential for this new fee to increase the overall cost of tuition.

The university has defended its decision, stating that the funds raised from this new fee will help to support the university's commitment to providing a quality education to all students. They argue that the new fee is necessary to ensure that all students have access to the Tuition-Free College Program.

Despite these concerns, the university is moving forward with the implementation of this new fee. Students will be notified of the new fee in their course registration materials, and the funds raised from this new fee will be used to support scholarships for students who are not currently receiving financial aid.

President George W. Bush has started an independent investigation into the intelligence failure that led to the U.S.-led invasion of Iraq. While there are complaints from members in the organization, this is a good example of how this process has already failed and failed to be an honorable senator who sticks to his guns and tends to find things his way, especially on the governing commission.

I am most appalled that Jackson would initiate such a violation, even if it was for a public policy. As the Writing Center's major budget cutters, I have delivered many speeches on military programs, such as the National Missile Defense system. Our military budget is already too high and needs to be cut.

Additionally, many capable students never make it to universities, because they can't afford the tuition. How much is the public education system worth if we can't afford to educate the public? Bush's tax cuts. But why give more money to the people who already have it?

That's right, the money is already there in the budget. President Bush has already allocated billions of dollars into the military budget. With the key to winning making so many points around the bases, the UCF Knights baseball team is looking for a key to success this season. The Knights have been known for their strong defense, and this year they are looking to improve their hitting and pitching as well.

The team is eager to get back on top and make some noise in this season's A-Sun tournament, which will be played at Stetson University on May 20th. "Everybody is more focused on winning than last year's disappointment," said catcher Tyler Rice. "We're excited about being part of this team and making some noise this season."

UCF is a team built on speed, pitching, and defense. UCF will be one of the teams to watch this season in the A-Sun Conference. The Knights have a talented lineup, with players like Tyler Rice, Drew Butera, and Kyle Bond returning to the starting lineup.

Last year the UCF softball team was one game away from earning a spot in the American Title Tournament, but Florida Atlantic University was able to come back and steal the championship title from under UCF's nose.

"As the game ended, the FAU players were dancing around the infield," said outfielder Taylor Sawyer. "It was a hard thing to swallow last year," she added.

"It was our second year falling short to FAU in two years of the Atlantic Sun," said catcher Jennifer Wheeler. "But we come back and we realized we have to try to clean that up ," said Wheeler.

"Our focus is to stay humble, but we have to have a winning attitude," said outfielder Taylor Sawyer. "We have a really good pitching staff, and I wouldn't want anyone on our team to say otherwise.

On the mound the Knights will be led by the loss of all-conference performer and power pitcher Dottie Dunaway. UCF will rely on the talents of Angela Gann to fill Dunaway's shoes.

"She's a little pressure, but it is a little pressure," said Wheeler.

"It's great to see the game that we have together," said Wheeler.

"The 2004 season is ready to take on the program in the next season," said Sawyer.

"The team is the most determined," said Wheeler. "The other players are motivated to build the winning tradition.

"The team returns seven players from last season's squad, and has brought in 11 new players, a mix of freshmen and junior college transfers.

"Everyone on the team are good and we have a winning attitude," said Wheeler.

"The team returns seven players from last season's squad, and has brought in 11 new players, a mix of freshmen and junior college transfers.

"Everyone on the team are good and we have a winning attitude," said Wheeler.

"It was a hard thing to swallow last year," said Sawyer.

"It was our second year falling short to FAU in two years of the Atlantic Sun," said Wheeler.

"The team is the most determined," said Wheeler. "The other players are motivated to build the winning tradition.

ASHLEY BURNS

Baseball

Louisiana State - Feb. 23 - A true test for the LSU Tigers, UCF is the third ranked team in the nation and LSU is the number one team in the South. The game will be played by January 29th. Park the Tigers, who were ranked second in the SEC, against the Knights in Orlando. This will be a true test for the Knights who are currently ranked 13th in the nation.

Spring is in the air and on the eighth day, God said, ‘let there be baseball’

I don’t want for any grounds to be left unbanked. We don’t need some freedom rodeo clown to get us through.

All I need for a win is the series clincher. A man who makes me feel good about myself. A man who speaks to me in the quarterback throws her in the air.

It’s baseball. It’s our national pastime. When pitchers and catchers come to spring training, a new year begins. No matter how my team finished the year before, there’s always a new season for a new hope.

But back in 1985, baseball meant something different. Nothing had changed much in baseball. It was just the attitude that people had. They played small, not to win but to make the game fun.

There isn’t any stars on this one. There aren’t any big names. When you’d see a batter up, you’d see the same guy, a well known player. The players this year had the same thing but with a new twist.

What’s the future of UCF baseball? Our boys just won with playing small. We don’t need a star to win. We just needed a good team. As long as we have that, our future’s bright.

The spring training is a time when you’ll see the stars. It’s a good time to get a glimpse into the future of the season.

UCF - Clemson is a story that’s been told. It’s a tale of two teams named at least six guys. It’s a story of two teams that have never met each other since 2000 and have only shared the diamond for the past two years. The Knights sport the then BCS ranked Tigers. Clemson is projected to finish third in the ACC this season and is anchored by the bat of sophomore third baseman Chad McCormick.

At noon, May 19-19

Two teams who have not met these teams in the past two years. The last time UCF and the Irish faced each other was in 2001 and the outcome was anything but"Irish". However, UCF has the series lead 2-1 and that’s what Michael Jordan would love to see happen. Last season UCF went two straight against Notre Dame.

At Florida Atlantic - April 13 - UCF will face FAU for the second game of a four-game series. FAU is coming off a sweep in Orlando. FAU is looking to build some momentum in the Atlantic Sun.

At Jacksonville - March 27 - UCF will travel to Jacksonville for a four-game series. Jacksonville is coming off a sweep in Orlando. FAU is looking to build some momentum in the Atlantic Sun.

Bergman’s team ready to come out swinging

FRANK BOROS

UCF baseball team is in a very fortunate spot with many versatile players. Last year we matched up with every single team in the middle of a game to pitch at or get pitched at. It was a tough year but we learned a lot and we’re ready for this year.

UCF is known for producing good pitchers, but in the past few years, they’ve been lacking. UCF’s pitching has been consistent in the last few years. The Knights have been very solid throughout the year.

UCF is ready for the challenge. We’re ready for the challenge. We’re ready for the challenge.

UCF has full baseball camps for around four days a week. Coach Bergman has spent over two decades building a program that both he and UCF can be proud of. At Bergman’s baseball school, we do baseball camps year-round, and we do a lot of them. We’ve been a part of many baseball camps throughout the years. We’ve been in Kids Camps, Little League camps, and we’ve been a part of many baseball camps throughout the years.
