SGA Senate approves $50,000 for another student party

Republicans also get $4,000 to invite ex-wrestler as speaker

HEINRICH DE VRIES

The SGA Senate said OK Thursday to an $85,000 request to make2004 Golden Knights football games more exciting by bringing in a former WWF wrestler to serve as a referee. Marcus Ford, a former SGA Senate member, said he would bring in a wrestler to "enliven" the games.

"It’s a way to attract students to come to games," he said.

The Senate also struck down the final two resolutions opposing the Patriot Act, and allowing a former SGA senator to become a member of the organization. The second resolution, which would have allowed the former SGA senator to serve for one year before becoming a member of the organization, was stricken.

"That’s a job for us," said Supervisor of Student Government Logan, director of the Students’ Women’s Program, who will affect everyone. Logan and colleague Erin Williams have been advising the Senate on family violence. "We’ve been hearing from . . . women who have been victims of sexual assault or violence." Logan wants to know: "Is this a change in the number of women who have been victims of sexual violence?"

"We’ve been hearing from a lot of women who have been victims of rape or attempted rape. Every day four women in this country are raped as a result of domestic violence." Logan and colleagues have been writing a resolution to bring to the Senate to make rape a crime.

When Sen. Rachel Olander asked what the Senate should do if other student groups came forth and asked for funding from that same account, she was told by President Pro Tempore Michael Pascucci that only $11,000 had been contributed to the account and that it still held a couple thousand dollars after the latest transfer of money.

So, as a resolution is being drafted asking the Senate for another account to the speakers, Logan said she’s going through the requesting stages that might arise.

"This is a celebration of achievement and service rather than a Greek-letter (colleca-tion)," Gould said.

The event, which would take place April 24, is the event being held at Wet 'n Wild for all students, and a concert featuring a yet-untitled natural act. To pay for the concert and other small ones throughout the week, the $50,000 was taken from the SGA speakers fund.

President's Award is traditionally presented at this event, and when Sen. Rachel Olander asked what the Senate should do if other student groups came forth and asked for funding from that same account, she was told by President Pro Tempore Michael Pascucci that only $11,000 had been contributed to the account and that it still held a couple thousand dollars after the latest transfer of money.

A new HIV test has led health workers in North Carolina to identify what is so far the first outbreak of the infection among college students.

The test, which can identify the infection much earlier than current testing methods, is not yet approved by the Food and Drug Administration, but only one new case has been identified so far out of the 17,000 students tested in that state.

In the North Carolina study, 48 male college students aged 18 to 30 were found to carry HIV, the human immunodeficiency virus, in testing conducted between Jan. 1, 2002, and Dec. 31, 2003. The men were enrolled at 17 of the state's 18 public universities.

The students were taking a test, which is based on a technique known as polymerase chain reaction. The PCR method has been used since 1999 by the nation's blood banks to detect and identify cases of HIV-infected blood. However, it has never been used as a means of identifying the HIV-infected individuals.

"We can now screen large quantities of DNA samples in one time," said Dr. Lisa Highmore, clinical instructor of infectious diseases at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill.

HIV antibodies can be identified in the PCR test in 10 days to 14 days after infection, said Dr. Philip Chen, medical director of Cogentiscope Laboratories in Central Florida. By contrast, a more widely used test detects HIV antibodies that can be identified in 30 days to six months after infection to reveal detectable levels.

Most of the 84 students included in the North Carolina study had tested negative using the standard antibody test.

Three UCF Beta Lambdas turned to Tuskegee University in Tuscaloosa Feb. 9 and 10 for a three-day screen look at government, Christopher Vo, of West Palm Beach; Patricia IX, of Miami; and Kermit Latchuch joined others from across Florida to discuss with state officials, including Lt. Gov. Nancy A. Cregg, and state Sen. Quincy Kauba, on issues of education and government. The students, 10th through 12th graders, are sons and daughters of the Tuskegee Institute, which was founded by Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. in 1946.

Don't let apathy spoil round two

In last year's SGA presidential elections, five states were considered as battlegrounds. Candidates Brian Kile of Tallahassee and SCA President Brian Dugas led the pack with more than 281 votes each as of the writing of this column.

The two were through in a runoff, tied to the presidency, by a margin of just 26 votes. That runoff campaign was usually brutal, generating an attention about the impact of the race.

Leeona Pryor, who was on this year's student ticket, confirmed that they are calmed down over the game looks to be fair.

Today between the two top candidates, and the people who voted, I can say that there are those involved psychologically stable? And those involved psychologically unstable? The issue of gay marriage is an emotional one.

Disgraced judge gets Bush's blessing

The Bush administration announced Saturday that it would be providing $50,000 to judge Isaac Brock Okun, whose decision to refuse to enforce federal law in the Ten Commandments case was overturned in a Supreme Court case involving a Ten Commandments statue.

The Bush administration, which is a partner in the Ten Commandments case, has vowed to appeal the decision. Bush decided to get in the way of the Ten Commandments case.

The bottom line is that Bush didn't get in the way of the Ten Commandments case.

Sources say the president is now in favor of the Ten Commandments case. Bush decided to get in the way of the Ten Commandments case.

The Bible is the truth.

God's existence.

God's existence is a fact and is falsifiable, morally repugnant and harmful. "God doesn't exist," Reader Views, Feb. 16, then 95.5 per cent of the world would be wrong.

I would like anyone to try and prove to me that God is not real. Just because you cannot prove something's existence does not mean it is fictitious.

Ask anyone if love is real, and no one will deny its existence. But ask them to prove it, and they are at a loss for words. It is the same concept with God. Christians do not need something greater than Christ for salvation. There are basically three teachings of the Bible.

1. God is the creator of the world and the movie to Late Knights.

2. God's existence is proven by the existence of the universe. Why? Because they work! And before you so rudely single out the Bible and singling us out from the world, remember we exist.

3. Christians in this degree. And before you so rudely single out the Bible and singling us out from the world, remember we exist.

The existence of Christianity, you should not be insulted. If anyone wants to enroll me as an all-consuming Fire by mail.com, I will gladly explain to you these fallacies. Also, the Bible is considered by most scholars to be a more reliable history text than almost any other book. We consider Homer's Iliad and Odyssey to be reputable sources of history, yet only two original texts have ever been found.

Did you know that over 20,000 original texts of the Bible have been uncovered? The Bible is not "full of errors, contradictions and absurdities." It is full of history and truth.

More Catholic bashing.

Once again, it seems as though your editors want to take shots at the Catholic Church. "Catholic Church, Public Policies: No Change," Reader Views, Feb. 16.

The story says that 4,000 priests resigned child molesters. I can see no evidence on every one of those priests. As a Catholic, I admit that many priests resided children and committed terrible crimes. It is a horrible scandal, and it must be addressed right now.

How many of these cases are actually not real? How many people in America hate the church and would love a chance to put a black cloud over their lives by claiming abuse by a priest.

The fact is that the percentage of priests that actually have been found is small compared to the number of priests throughout the world. We work incredibly hard to get your trust.

Having grown up in a Catholic Church, I can claim that every priest I've met has been totally dedicated to his faith and wouldn't even think about molesting any child. This is the case for the majority of priests in America. However, most editors choose to leave out the dedicated service and joy that most priests contribute, simply because their readers rather not change their views. By demonizing priests and the church, you are demonstrating the overwhelming majority who follow their faith closely every single day.

Knights and CAB Cinema presented late Knights and the movie to Late Knights. The Campus Activities Board and Late Knights are two agencies in the Office of Student Involvement that co-produce often. This past weekend, for example, CAB Comedy and Variety presented Tom Deluca at Late Knights and CAB Cinema presented Catch Me If You Can. Around Campus, Feb. 16, the Future mentioned that Late Knights is welcoming back Tom Deluca and also showing the movie to Late Knights. Although this is true, it is important to mention that the Campus Activities Board is bringing both Tom Deluca and the movie to Late Knights.

Many Christian religious leaders have the same basic teachings of the Bible. They agree. And the movie to Late Knights.

Ain't it strange?

One poor decision and everything goes to hell

Friday was a really tough day for me. I was watching television with my good friend and we noticed something unusual about theaska California baseball team. In one of our conversations, I mentioned a few things that stood out to me. “You know, Speraw is a known figure in the coaching world.” My friend agreed. “Yeah, he’s a very good coach. One of the reasons I think he’s so successful is because he knows how to get the most out of his players.”

I was surprised by the decision made by the UCF baseball team last week. They were playing against Mercer, and Mercer came in as the underdog. However, UCF was struggling through some tough times and needed a win. The team had started the season off strong, but then things took a turn for the worse. They were facing a critical moment in the game, and I thought it was a great opportunity for the team to turn things around.

As the game went on, it became clear that Mercer was not going to take the easy way out. They played hard, and they fought back. It was a game where both teams were trying to win, and it was a game where every play counted. The team needed to make a decision, and I thought it was a great moment for them to come together and make a strategic play.

I was really impressed by the way the team responded. They fought back, and they came out on top. It was a great moment for the team, and it showed that they were capable of overcoming adversity. I think it was a great lesson for them, and it gave me hope for the rest of the season.

I decided to call my friends and share my thoughts. “You know, I think this is a great moment for the team. They showed that they can overcome adversity, and they can fight back.” My friends were impressed, and they agreed with me.

I think it’s important to support our teams and to be there for them. I think it’s a great moment for the team, and it’s a great moment for the fans. I think it’s a great moment for the entire community.

I’m looking forward to seeing what the rest of the season holds. I’m excited to see what the team can do, and I’m excited to see what the fans can do. I think it’s a great moment for the team, and I think it’s a great moment for the fans. I think it’s a great moment for the entire community.

Three teams win half-court basketball titles

The first Schmidt doubles tournament, a free-for-all competition in which teams comprised of five players each, composed of faculty, students, alumni and visiting faculty, met to determine the champion. Each team consisted of five faculty and student players. The tournament was held in the Student Union Ballroom, where spectators were encouraged to cheer. The event was aimed at bringing in more students to the university and promoting the value of university life.

Three teams won the half-court basketball titles:

- Alpha Kappa Psi, with a score of 15 points
- Phi Gamma Delta, with 20 points
- Pi Kappa Phi, with 25 points

Each team played each other once, and the team with the highest total score was the winner. Alpha Kappa Psi emerged as the champion with 15 points, followed by Phi Gamma Delta with 20 points and Pi Kappa Phi with 25 points.

In the women's division, the last leg of the 2013 season, the women's tennis team played against the men's tennis team on the court's second weekend. The women's team has had a successful season, and the upcoming week's matches will mark the end of the regular season.

The Knights look to finally take a handle on the season's competition in the upcoming week's matches. The team's goal is to establish a rhythm and maintain a strong performance throughout the remainder of the season.

Crimson Tide serves loss to men

The UCF men's tennis team was defeated by the Alabama Crimson Tide on Sunday, giving the Crimson Tide the upper hand in the series. The match was held in the University Tennis Center, where the men's team had previously won two out of the three doubles matches.

The Crimson Tide took the first set, winning 6-1, and then went on to win the second set 6-3. The UCF men's tennis team had a strong performance, but ultimately fell short in the competition.

The Knights look to adjust and adapt to new challenges in the upcoming matches, aiming to improve their performance and increase their chances of winning.

Finals, in the third spot, Pamela Fernandez and Maga Hunter dominated FAU's Kristina Brodersen and Veronika Backoff 6-1, 6-2. Single player was also heavily controlled by the Knights as five of the six matches won. Golden Knights victories.

The potatoes were a little bit better than the potatoes that we had in the third quarter, and we had their fans in a frenzy. That is no such a great job and I would like to thank our fans for their support.

The Knights resume play Thursday at the UCF tennis complex, where the final score was 6-3. The Knights played well, but fell short in the final set, leaving the Knights with a 3-2 record in the A-Sun.

The Knights look to finally establish a rhythm in the season's competition in the upcoming week's matches. The team's goal is to increase their confidence and maintain a strong performance throughout the rest of the season.
Baseball ruins Utah road trip

UCF continued its winning ways against Utah, but couldn't pull off the sweep as the Knights took two out of three games from the visiting Utes.

"The first two games for me went for naught because if you can't sweep a series like this you're in trouble," UCF baseball Coach Jerry Bergman said.

UCF exploded for a season-high 13 runs, scoring 11 in an 11-1 rout of Utah Friday night.

"Outstanding pitching performance from our pitchers," Bergman said of Friday night's display from the mound.

Senior Matt Fox pitched five scoreless innings to improve his season record to 2-0. Pitchers Brian Brooks and Taylor Meier continued their shutout efforts with 2-0 records.

Fox said.

"I was looking for some指挥 out of the bullpen, lead­ for the loss. The lack of hitting some of the shots normally hit. When we keep teams out of the infield and keep them off the bases, we have a chance to stop them.

It was the second time this season that the conference newcomer was able to knock off the league leader back on Jan. 15. Lipscomb topped Georgia State 87-79, ending the Panthers' 15-game A-Sun Conference winning streak.

"I think without a doubt that we have the best post players in the conference," said Hudson. "Boys have a problem trying to guard because they can't take away both the post and the outside.

"Our defense was solid, our guards were playing well. We were able to get the lead back and pull away," Hudson said.

UCF managed a narrow 7-6 victory over Stetson in the season that's part of Fighting for the loss. The lack of hitting some of the shots normally hit. When we keep teams out of the infield and keep them off the bases, we have a chance to stop them.
