In cold competition, UCF snowboarder gives Colorado a Rocky Mountain low

RACHEL BECK

Students from Florida — home of sun, sand — and snow — aren't supposed to shine in athletic competitions held over snow-covered slopes. Certainly they weren't expected to bring home any hardware to Colorado and show up the locals at their own mountain sport.

But that's exactly what happened last weekend, when a UCF student beat his Colorado counterpart in a snowboarding contest.

Adding insult to the upset, the UCF board had never even qualified.

No state expected UCF to win, and indeed it did not. UCF placed second in the snowboarding portion of a multiday event competition called the Energy Challenge, in which engineering students compete using objects consisting of at least 80 percent recycled material.

The required material this year was fiber glass, so that's where the win was.

Still, eighth place was the closest the contest came to the student body of the University of Colorado at Boulder, which is second to none in the country.

The snowboarding contest was part of the Energy Challenge — also known as the Colorado College — that's Pennsylvania, Calif. — and Nevada.

The competition must be truly mad!

But for the eighth-place finish, the UCF team finished first in the overall competition, which attracted teams from 17 universities.

"I've been able to open up some eyes to what we can do with our waste stuff," UCF team co-captain Tim Simpson, an electrical engineering technology major, said before departing for the competition.

The others who made the trip included

- Electrical engineering technology major, and
- Student government representatives.

The university said that their participation is part of a larger initiative to reduce the amount of waste the school produces and to find new uses for existing resources.

Instead, people were searching for the body of Jesus of Nazareth. Was he an actual person? Did he rise from the dead? Did he claim to be God?

He is not here; he has risen, as he said ... (Matt. 28:6)

There are people in Iraq right now who are being taught in their homes, and their children can get their education there. On the other hand, there are people who are being educated in the streets. They need to be educated in the streets so they can learn how to read and write. There are people who are being educated in the streets to learn about their environment and how to live in it. It is important to make sure that children are being educated in the streets so they can learn how to live in it.

Every year, UCF students enjoy a free night of fun at Islands of Adventure. While I am genuinely happy that SGA provides such a great opportunity, I take another stance when it comes to the relative amount of funds spent. Yes, I am going to point out, clearly and not fluff, but hopefully I will get my point across.

As a graduate student, my views may differ from the other undergraduate student body. However, in most graduate programs, research is strongly encouraged; if not required. A key thing to do is to get one’s foot in the door to write and submit research papers to academic conferences and meetings. Financial support from the university is therefore crucial. I was directed to SGA to obtain funding. After completing a financial workshop, attending a committee meeting where relevant questions were asked (even though I spent considerable time to document everything) and making several trips to see the accountants, I managed to squeeze out a $300 approval (the maximum allowed). Three hundred dollars usually covers barely the lodging or registration fee. For the rest of the expenses, we are on our own.

Yet, knowing the cost of the $2,000 Islands of Adventure ticket is about $800, there may be a way to flex the budget. I am wondering how the SGA funds are allocated. Probably not based on value-added activities to the school, when you consider that each piece of research published from UCF by a professor or a graduate student contributes to the reputation of the school, academically speaking, and that is what will benefit the students.

Baseball’s left fielder tears up Jacksonville pitchers for a sweep

FRANK MOSEL

UCC best baseball season in four years continued over the week in Jacksonville, with the Knights sweeping their three-game series against the Jacksonville Dolphins (10-1, 5-10 A&T) over the weekend. The No. 25 UCC baseball team is now 255 with a 18-2 Atlantic Sun Conference record.

UCC won the first game 3-0 behind another stellar performance from UCC starter and A-Sun Pitcher of the Week Kyle Bone. Bone struck out 11 Dolphins, the most batters he has ever struck out in his career. Bone is now 5-0 after going six innings and allowing only two hits and just one earned run. Bone collected plenty of run support, with five runs batted in by his left side of the infield.

Chandler Bone’s two-run single to center field got UCC on the board early, giving the Knights a 2-0 lead. Rose added a sacrifice fly in the sixth, and Marshall Shedden added two RBIs. Drake Wade also hit a two-run double in the third.

Preseason Brian Brooks started for UCC in the second game, giving up six runs in four and two-thirds innings. UCC gave up nine runs, however the Knights’ bats put up three runs in the fourth inning.

One of the keys to the Knights’ win was the Home Run Derby, where the Knights hit a total of five home runs.

In the third game of the series, the Knights won 5-1 behind another strong performance from starter and A-Sun Pitcher of the Week Kyle Bone. Bone struck out 11 Dolphins, the most batters he has ever struck out in his career. Bone is now 5-0 after going six innings and allowing only two hits and just one earned run. Afro wigs cause wave of fan controversy

Early in the season, the Knights emblazoned a 12-foot winning streak, which was one of Lyons’ Den’s most exuberant home games against Troy State. However, it was already in the season when a group of fans entered the stadium wearing black t-shirts that read ‘Lyons’ Den”.

“You’re supporting our best player,” Lyons said.

“My best friend, Lyons, said, “I was the only one who never left the Den during the game and the only one who had to leave during the game.”

With three runs already in and top of the sixth to regain the lead, Brooks would exit and hit a home run of the season in the eighth inning.

Overall, Domestic & Import Div. nailed the biggest win over the year.

“The Knights completed the sweep of the Dolphins in yesterday’s game three as the right-hander Matt Fox allowed three runs over six innings to boost his record to 2-0.

JU jumped out to a 3-1 lead in the second inning, however, UCF put up two runs in the top of the sixth to reduce the deficit by 3-5. Brown hit his third home run of the season in the top of the seventh inning, splitting a five-game series with the Dolphins.

Despite giving up four more runs to the Dolphins, UCF took the game by a 9-7 final.

UCF now holds the all-time series edge at 13-29. UCF goes to Boca Raton for its five-game series against the Knights.

UCF’s Domestic & Import Div. clinched the Champion of the A-Sun title for the fourth consecutive season.

UCF’s Domestic & Import Div. will have a tough challenge against the Knights in the upcoming season.
