Politics and religion on agenda for symposium

MARRY KNIGHTS

Politics and religion will square off once again at "Church and State: Buring the Line," a day-long symposium on the mixing of political and religious issues to be held today in the Pegasus Ballroom.

Nadine Strossen, national president of the American Civil Liberties Union, and Ralph Reed, former executive director of the Christian Coalition, will give the keynote addresses at 7 p.m. in the Pegasus Ballroom of the UCF Student Union and will discuss topics such as the role of religion in politics today.

The symposium is free, to the public, and organized by UCF's Leo Lyb Institute of Politics and Government. The institute is a non-profit organization that promotes civic education for students and other members of the Central Florida community.

Freya represented Central Florida in Congress from 1969 to 2001. Events will start at 9:30 a.m.

Please see C9.

Students angering residents

Homeowners upset by late-night parties and noise from neighbors

VANESSA FERNANDEZ

Regency Park homeowners are fed up with university students and neighbors have had enough.

Dana Shallop is a licensed community association manager for the homeowners associations.

One of the Regency Park properties, Regency Park, which is located off-campus UCF and has home available to students, has been running into many issues with UCF renters.

Problems are as minor as not moving their lawn and as serious as noise.

Please see ASSOCIATION on A6.

Elections off and running for prospective senator candidates

Unusually high number of candidates running unopposed and only one ticket in this year's race

The LIVE ticket features a diverse representation of the student organizations that call UCF home as well as candidates with a strong history of Senate experience.

The LIVE ticket is available to students on the UCF Web site and has been running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

Please see ASSOCIATION on A6.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.

One of the issues, running into many issues with university students.
Pledge of allegiance source of debate

Federal judge rules against 'under God,' Supreme Court may hear the case

TROY MILLER / Staff Reporter

Recently a federal judge in San Francisco ruled that reciting the pledge of allegiance in public schools is unconstitutional.

U.S. District Judge Lawrence O. Reardon found that the inclusion of the words "under God" in the pledge infringes on the rights of the plaintiffs to be "free from a coerced requirement to affirm a specific religious doctrine or belief.

He also said that he was bound to rule as he did by the precedent of the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals.

A national precedent, in accordance with the Ninth Circuit, states that the pledge phrases the "under God" requirement as a governmental requirement that is unduly coercive and unconstitutional. "In light of the facts, there is a significant likelihood, either a likelihood of a substantial risk of genuine separation of church and state," and therefore the court did not have standing and could not vote on the case.

Kantor's ruling has drawn praise and criticism from across the political spectrum, including recently appointed Senate Majority General Albertos-Greci and Florida Gov. George W. Bush, who have come out in support of the ruling.

The issue is one of prayer and religion in the public schools. Kantor said that the pledge is a way to boost patriotism, but it is not a way to boost religious beliefs. Kantor said that the pledge is not a way to boost religious beliefs. Kantor said that the pledge is a way to boost patriotism, but it is not a way to boost religious beliefs.

The case was brought by the ACLU, which has been filing lawsuits to remove the phrase "under God" from the pledge since 2000. The case was filed in 2005 and has been pending since then.

If the case goes on to the Supreme Court, the ACLU says it will appeal to the Supreme Court, which would have the final say on the issue of prayer and religion in the public schools.

The court in question is the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit, which has jurisdiction over the West and parts of the Midwest.

The court's decision in this case is expected to be final and binding on all federal courts within its jurisdiction.
$0 DOWN PAYMENT

2006 NEW JETTA 2.5 Value Edition

LEASE FOR $248

PER MONTH + MONTHLY TAX FOR 48 MONTHS

P/Locks, P/Windows, Tilt, Cruise, Keyless
Remote, CD, And Much, Much More!

New Jetta rated as a “Best
Pick” In Side Impact Test.
— Based On Insurance Institute For Highway Safety Side Impact Test

THE ALL NEW 2006 PASSAT

LEASE FOR $328

PER MONTH + MONTHLY TAX FOR 48 MONTHS

Auto, Air, 6-Disc CD Changer, P/Windows,
P/Locks, Alloy Wheels, Sunroof, Loaded!

2005 NEW BEETLE GL

P/Window, P/Cloth, Tilt, Cruise, ABS, CD,
Keyless Remote and Much More!

LEASE FOR $239

PER MONTH + MONTHLY TAX FOR 48 MONTHS.

Turbo Diesel Available

2005 TOUAREG 4X4

Sound System One, All Power

LEASE FOR $429

PER MONTH + MONTHLY TAX FOR 48 MONTHS.

4 Yr/50,000 Mile Bumper-To-Bumper Warranty
5 Yr/60,000 Mile Powertrain Warranty

SPECIAL CLEARANCE NEW '04 VOLKSWAGENS

SOLD UP TO $6,000 OFF MSRP!

2007 NEW GTI

P/Locks, P/Windows, Tilt, Cruise,
Side Airbags, ABS, Keyless Remote,
Alarm, Alloy Wheels & Much More!

LEASE For $259

PER MONTH + MONTHLY TAX FOR 48 MONTHS

BIG SELECTION!

2006 NEW GOLF GL

P/Window, P/Cloth, Tilt, Cruise, ABS, CD,
Keyless Remote and Much More!

LEASE FOR $235

PER MONTH + MONTHLY TAX FOR 48 MONTHS

Turbo Diesel Available

2005 NEW BEETLE GL CONVERTIBLE

P/Locks, P/Windows, Tilt, Cruise,
Keyless Remote, CD and Much More!

LEASE FOR $289

PER MONTH + MONTHLY TAX FOR 48 MONTHS

Go Topless!

LARGEST SELECTION OF DIESELS IN CENTRAL FLORIDA!

47 Miles Per Gallon!

CENTRAL FLORIDA’S LARGEST VW INVENTORY • CENTRAL FLORIDA’S LARGEST VW INVENTORY

Aristocrat Volkswagen

4175 S. Hwy 17-92
M-F 9-9 SAT 9-8 SUN 11-6 • NEXT TO FLEA WORLD (SANFORD)
407-365-3300

visit our website aristocratvw.com

Drivers wanted:
A Trusted Tradition of Personalized, Comfortable and Affordable Care

UCF Team Dentist serving Athletes, Coaches, Staff and Professors since 1987
State-of-the-Art, Lifetime Dental Excellence
- General Care: Bleaching, Bonding and Porcelain Veneers - Emergencies Accepted
- State-of-the-Art Procedures, Instruments and Techniques
- Professional Team: Caring and Compassionate Staff
- Bridges and Crowns - Mercury-Free Dentistry

Student Identification Card - 10% Discount!

COME TO UCF DENTAL

17630 E. COLONIAL DRIVE ORLANDO
WE CONSIDER IT YOUR DUTY TO CALL
(407) 282-2101
1033 LOCKWOOD BOULEVARD ORLANDO
WE CONSIDER IT YOUR DUTY TO CALL
(407) 977-6464

Convenient Appointments
Before and After Work or School!

BECOME THE LEADER YOU WERE BORN TO BE.
Service-learning backed by professor

New techniques can lead to future job offers and internships

JUSTIN CROSS 9-28-05

UCF professor Melody Bowdon knows something in the lesson plan must have been working right after one of her students landed an internship, and an eventual paying position, through a service-learning based writing course she taught.

The student, Alberto Armenteros, began the service-learning project with fellow classmates by designing computer networking documents for United Central Police of Central Florida. When an IT internship position opened up the same semester, Armenteros applied and was accepted. His work eventually led to a permanent position after graduation.

"I worked there for the rest of the college year, and I thought I had several other job offers at higher paying kinds of places," he decided to take a permanent job at the organization's IT director after he graduated," Bowdon said.

As a service-learning, the teaching method that incorporates civic and community involvement with classroom and academic instruction, becomes a growing trend around college campuses throughout Florida and the rest of the nation. UCF and Bowdon have stepped up to lead the charge.

In her six years at UCF, Bowdon has compiled a long list of media-enhanced students.

"My graduate-student research shows that students have much more time to focus on service learning because the students are taking core courses and have less administrative paperwork," Bowdon said. "Since many of my students come from a business or technical background, it's important for service-learning to have the students write up grant proposals for a local nonprofit business."

For her Literature of AIDS course, Bowdon's students have gotten grants to print and distribute HIV and AIDS informational booklets. In the较好, the students raised money for a local nonprofit business.

"When students have to understand the impact of their writing project," Bowdon said. "They have to remind themselves that they are helping people, too."

For her Literature of AIDS course, Bowdon's students have gotten grants to print and distribute HIV and AIDS informational booklets. In the classroom, the students raised money for a local nonprofit business.

"It's important to start small. There is a tendency to take on too much and become overwhelmed," Bowdon said. "The key is to just get your feet wet and do the beginning and be confident in your project," Bowdon said.

In the upcoming months, Bowdon is also working with organizations on other service-learning projects. She has also written computer manuals and Web sites for local nonprofit businesses and organizations.

Boredom Getting Your Goat?

The Office of Student Involvement

SGA Senate Elections Sept. 26-28

STUDENT GOVERNMENT CONTROLS $10+ MILLION OF STUDENT'S MONEY.

STILL NOT INTERESTED?

Vote at: www.my.ucf.edu

SGA Senate Elections September 26-28

Vote on My UCF

For more info on these here thingees on the calendar and mucho mas, visit OSI online at: www.getinvolved.ucf.edu

Photo by Mark Warden of Mark Warden
Newbies and incumbents prep for mild race

The hiring of a lawyer is an important decision that should not be based solely upon advertisements. This statement does not constitute a guarantee, warranty, or prediction regarding the outcome of your legal matter.

Association asks for veneer when partying

If after three notices the tenant is not removed, signs should be placed on the door of the residence that states that if the tenant does not leave within twenty-four hours the police will be called. Most people will vacate the residence voluntarily if they know that the police will be called. If people refuse to vacate, the landlord or property owner should call the police. The police will then issue an eviction notice. If the tenant still refuses to vacate, the landlord or property owner can file a lawsuit to evict the tenant. The court will issue an order to vacate the residence, and the police will enforce the order.

Genital herpes is an inflammatory disease that causes sores in the genital area. The sores can be painful and may cause burning, itching, or discharge. The sores can spread to other areas of the body, such as the mouth or throat. The disease can be passed from one person to another through sexual contact. Genital herpes is a common disease, and many people are infected with the virus. However, the disease can affect anyone, regardless of age or gender. There is no cure for genital herpes, but there are treatments that can help manage the symptoms. People with genital herpes should take care to avoid spreading the disease to others. The same precautions should be taken when partying or attending social events.
Investigation under way, students left to ask why

Nearby tailgaters crossed under vehicles for cover.

"People starting running," senior Brittany Remsman said. "I didn't know what was going on. All of those cops starting running around with guns.

"People were crying everywhere," Remsman said, adding that there was a cop crying on the ground next to me right after it happened. Some witnesses reported seeing Jenkins fire into the air. Rusty McCormick said.

"In response that up on the back of an undercover ground next to me right where," Resmann said, adding that "there was a cop crying on vehicles for cover.

"Mike Young just came over to the next couple months they'll come to a conclusion as to what happened," Williamson said. eyewitness accounts will have to be verified, especially since so many people in the area may have been intimidated, just after the shooting, "people were throwing bottles and cans," Williamson said. "It was a madhouse." Jenkins likely died almost instantly, said Neal Rodgers, a physician at Orlando Regional Medical Center who was nearby and tried to resuscitate Jenkins with CPR.

"We are far more worse illegal drinking is excessive," Rodgers said. "Illegal drinking is a public issue to curb illegal drinking was excessive.

"Look what happened: They were looking for individuals who were underage drinkers, and a UCF police officer has no business," Rodgers said. "Was it worth it?"

Sunday, UCFPD was reeling from the confusion, who started.

In recent months, he had served as a canine officer for the UCF police and cared deeply about his police dog named Myli, Williamson said.

"It tough," Williamson said. "We had the sheriff officers out here to cover calls for us. It's such a small town department. We consider ourselves brothers and sisters, and they've come to me to react to calls so we can grieve."

Jenkins, a four-year UCFPD veteran, had been working with state officials from the Department of Alcoholic Beverages and Tobacco to crack down on underage drinking.

University President John Hitt told the Orlando Sentinel that UCF would study the program, which sends officers such as Jenkins undercover to stop illegal drinking.

"It took a while of body power to whip out their guns and start shooting — on both parts," UCF alum Amy Ridge said. "You should use a gun as a last resort and that wasn't their last resort.

"There are far more worse problems in the world right now than underage drinking, and I understand they want to keep it regulated," Ridge said after the effort to curb illegal drinking was excessive.

"It's a hot topic, and the public needs to be educated about what the pledge is for, the purpose is just trying to give information on this divisive issue, so that individuals can make up their own mind about where their line between church and state should be."

One recent church and state dispute hinged on whether the phrase "under God" in the Pledge of Allegiance is unconstitutional. Another important dispute in which the phrase of the Earth's origin is acceptable to teach in public schools.

"It's a hot topic, and the public needs to be educated about what the pledge is for, the purpose is just trying to give information on this divisive issue, so that individuals can make up their own mind about where their line between church and state should be."

According to Lanier, pre-registration requests from attendees has been high, symposium attendees can complete walk-in registration before each session on Monday.

The symposium will be held in the Lou Levy Institute of Politics and Government, go to www.uclou.org.

---

Forum's speakers to debate relationship of church and state

With a panel of policymakers who will debate the relationship between religion and government. U.S. Rep. Bill Ether, R-Orlando, and Orange County Mayor Rich Crotty will participate on this panel.

As part of the event, attendees will be able to participate in an open-mike format for the morning speakers, and a moderated format for the evening sessions.

The Lou Levy Institute is co-sponsoring the symposium with the UCF Office of Global Perspectives.

"We looked for individuals who have balanced debate," Lanier, director of the Institute, said, "Our general purpose is just trying to give information on this divisive issue, so that individuals can make up their own mind about where that line between church and state should be."

One recent church and state dispute hinged on whether the phrase "under God" in the Pledge of Allegiance is unconstitutional. Another important dispute in which the phrase of the Earth's origin is acceptable to teach in public schools.

"It's a hot topic, and the public needs to be educated about what the pledge is for, the purpose is just trying to give information on this divisive issue, so that individuals can make up their own mind about where their line between church and state should be."

According to Lanier, pre-registration requests from attendees has been high, symposium attendees can complete walk-in registration before each session on Monday.

The symposium will be held in the Lou Levy Institute of Politics and Government, go to www.uclou.org.

---

---

We Hear My Pen. Not Where's My Pen?---

Wear My Pen, Not Where's My Pen?

Harris Springer
Independent Agent
Representing:
Insurance Consultants of Central Florida
227 S. Orlando Ave., 1st Floor
Winter Park, FL 32789
(407) 740-5337 Ext. 209
Fax (407) 740-8786
email: harris3@icraft.net - website: www.icraft.net

---

INK SPOT USA
INK-LASER-TONER CARTRIDGES

SPRING SPECIAL
HP 45 HP 15 HP 56
or HP 78
ALL UNDER $20.00
with your old cartridge trade in

BRING YOUR EMPTY HP, CANON, EPSON, LEXMARK OR BROTHER CARTRIDGES FOR A REBATE

OPEN MONDAY - FRIDAY 10-7
SATURDAY 9-2
407-679-2330
CORNER OF UNIVERSITY & DEAN IN PUBLIC SHOPPING CENTER

TREMENDOUS SAVINGS, QUALITY & CONVENIENCE!
All inclusive trip to “Hot-Lanta” $100
All inclusive trip to the Everglades $100
All inclusive trip to Music City, U.S.A. $100
All inclusive trip to the birth place of the godfather of soul, James Brown $100
All inclusive trip to Katrina-ravaged New Orleans $100

Spending your Spring Break helping victims of oppression, poverty, illness, and pollution... PRICELESS!

Alternative Spring Break 2006 applications available at www.housing.ucf.edu/asb. Priority application deadline is October 28. For more information, call (407) 882-5465

THE PLACE FOR PAY-AS-YOU-GO WIRELESS

Now $39.99

Key Features:
- Superphonic Ringtones (real music)
- Text messaging
- VirginXtras
- Exclusive access to MTV content

BUY A PHONE—OR—FILL UP HERE

Clubs Paris & Bang! Vodka present

Orlando’s Hottest College and Hospitality Night

BANG TUESDAYS

Orlando’s Hottest College and Hospitality Night

- $5 All You Can Drink for Hospitality Employees
- $5 All You Can Drink for College Students

Bring proof of employment or your college ID and you’ve scored already days and Tuesdays. Plus book your “V” tickets now — bottles of Bang! Vodka are only $100!
Football team captures first win in nearly two years to delight of fans

ANDY VASQUEZ

It took only three hours Saturday night for two years of UCF football misery to become a distant memory. A furious start gave the Knights a 3-0 halftime edge, and, despite some mistakes in the second half, the Knights held on for a historic 23-13 victory over Marshall Saturday night.

The Knights no longer hold the dubious distinction of having the longest losing streak in the country. By winning its first game since October 2001, UCF now leads a share of first place in the East division of Conference USA.

A look back on how the Knights corralled the Thundering Herd

CHRIS HOYLER

Call it "The Win Herd 'Round the World" because the story of UCF getting noticed on national college football shows solely for the losing streak are over.

There are still questions about this Golden Knight team, but for today, just for today, the focus should be on yesterday, not tomorrow and not Louisiana Lafayette.

Let's see how UCF won its first game under George O'Leary.

Soccer teams able to find their scoring stroke in victories

BRIAN MURPHY

The UCF men's soccer team (4-2) got the taste of two tough losses out of its mouth with a win over former A-Sun rival Florida Atlantic (5-5) on Thursday.

UCF Coach brunette said that his squad played "outstanding" soccer in the first 20 minutes, creating chances at will. But, while the Golden Knights had at least three golden opportunities to score in the first 15 minutes, it was the Owls who got on the Board first.

In the 24th minute, senior goalgetter at the University of Florida made a couple of saves diving to his right. But, off a corner kick just a few seconds later, goalscorer senior Diego Maldonado served it into the box where junior Walter Yoder put it over Marshall for the goal.

For the rest of the first half, the Knights couldn't put something together to threaten the Owls. After consecutive 1-0 defeats, UCF was headed back down that road as the game reached halftime and everyone was very frustrated. All the momentum was with FAU.

The Knights came out of the intermission inspired. Every second counts for half time, and UCF senior Renee Irwin set the tone for the Final 45 minutes when he had one of his six shots on the night blocked by goalie Andreas Granstad.

But Granstad couldn't hold off the Knights a couple minutes later. Off a corner kick by senior captain Billy Judin, freshman Mike Matson deflected the serve over Granstad's right shoulder to tie the game at one. The goal by Matson was his second of the season.

Amantha POEKEST

Another streak ended this past weekend. While it wasn't as dramatic as the UCF streak that the UCF football team had, the win for women's soccer against FIU snapped a four-game losing streak. The victory also solidified the claims by Coach Amanda Crosswell that her team is improving.

"This win was huge," Crosswell said. "We played well in some of those losses, but it still doesn't make you feel any better. We needed to get out of that slump and get the monkey off our backs. Getting the win makes us feel like we are back."

Like most of its other games.
Early momentum shift carries Knights to win

Drive of the game... Offer it to the defense, specifically Carrington. Marshall took over with 270 in the down 12-13. On first down, Gino Johnson had the primary pressure on an incompletion. Carrington sacked Skinner on second down and had the primary pressure on fourth down. In the fourth, forcing Skinner to hurry a pass when his receivers had not finished running their deep routes.

Raging call of the game... On third-and-three at the Marshall 6, Chevy decided to throw a jump ball after two running plays. It was a perfect call, as in fourth-strand Marshall extended to catch a perfect pass from Moffett over J.J. Johnson, who at 5-foot-11 could only attempt it to get his hand in Marshall’s face.

Marshall Coach Mark Snyder clearly saw the advantage in this, setting up his defense in a zone to stop the outside run and inside pass. His defensive line was unable to get the pressure to force Moffett into something that was not a perfect pass, and the play was executed perfectly.

Give O’Leary credit, as this was one example in how he out-coached Snyder.

The game was over... It locked read 600 on the scoreboard. After the heart-wrenching losses in Northern Illinois and Akron, games in which the Mountaineers stormed back in the fourth quarter only to fall short and the Ohio loss on the missed extra point in overtime, it was never coming back for Moffett stretched at the 25-yard line and the coaches met at midfield.

Raging the parade... UCF still has major issues winning the ball. While it seemed early on that O’Leary decided on Kevin Smith as the feature back, Darrent Williams ended up on the field just as much in the second half. Smith, however, looks like his heir apparent to Allex Brown, and he’s light second half load could be a case of building up the feedback’s stamina for bigger workloads later in the year.

What means... Looking beyond the cosmetic enjoyment of ending the streak, there is much good that comes from this game. Moffett’s comfort in the pocket was evident, as was his growing comfort in making the right decisions with Miller-Walker. The defensive line is of the best in the conference, which will allow the Pirates to have the advantage back in the fourth quarter.

Tulane vs. SMU

The hospitality of the South was too much for Marshall (1-3) as they stopped Tulane (2-2) from running through the Tulane defense to its first victory of the season.

In the wake of Hurricane Gustave, Tulane was forced to move to the SMU campus in Dallas. Lester Ricard and the rest of the Green Wave were able to effectively pick apart the Bulldog defense.

Ricard completed 22 of 34 passes for 293 yards and two touchdowns. Along with running back Matt Forte, who rushed for 87 yards on 22 carries, the game proved to be one of heart-wrenching finish.

The Green Wave defense swallowed the SMU offense, The Bulldogs turned the ball over 12 yards total throughout the game. The defense did a nice job on the ground. SMU did not have a chance to get anything going, but the play was only interrupted with three of those 12-yard down attempts.

Even with the failure of the Bulldog offense, the game was still close into the fourth quarter at 14-3.

Early in the fourth, the Green Wave were able to convert a 24-yard field goal for a 16-yard lead at the start of the fourth quarter and, 12 seconds later, a 40-yard touchdown pass from Ricard to Demarco Davis finally put the game on ice for the Mountaineers.

East Carolina

NFC East football’s toughest test for the Mountaineers was the one out of the Naval of the South Carolina

The game carried through the tailgating atmosphere of the first half.

The Mountaineers’ defense was second in the fourth quarter and, 12 seconds later, a 40-yard touchdown pass from Ricard to Demarco Davis finally put the game on ice for the Mountaineers.

Home of the Lady Knights

IT’S YOUR HOME COURSE!!!
Volleyball team looks to resume play after hurricane layoff

Hurricane Rita causes postponement of C-USA debut, two other matches

By ROBB JACOBSON
Hunt Valley

In one week, hurricane Rita postponed three volleyball matches.

This past Thursday volleyball matches, two of which were to be played at home and two of the first Conference USA games were postponed due to Hurricane Rita.

The Golden Knights, which had to be rescheduled, include last Thursday against Florida Atlantic University last Friday against William & Mary and Saturday against Marshall University and Sunday's match against Tulane.

The Knights' contest against FAU would have been their first home match of the season. The Knights' match against SMU at 10 a.m. Saturday had been FAU's first-ever C-USA contest. That match was rescheduled to be played in Dallas on Oct. 4.

"It is certainly disappointing in light of the last year, we cancelled tournament after tournament," Coach Colado said, "except we look forward to Southern Miss on Tuesday.

To weather the absence of opportunity, the team started to play scrimmages against each other to stay ready.

"We play against each other," Colado said. "We play a set and see if we have some game-like play.

On Sept. 27, they will host the first home match of the season against the Southern Mississippi Golden Eagles. Opening serve is set for 5:30.

The team will have its first exposure to C-USA against Southern Miss. "We are entering a conference and we have our goals. We are looking to take one game at a time," Colado said.

Historically, Southern Mississippi is 1-0 against the Golden Knights, with the last meeting in 1994. Last year had a conference record of 2-1, finished 28-3 in C-USA and had an overall record of 32-7.

Colado is preparing her team to notice the Golden Knights' big blockers and strong outside hitters. "They are basically overall on athleticism," Colado said. "They are going to give us a headache on the net, of what we allow them. There are going to give us a run for our money."

Saturday at the Knights' football game against Marshall, the volleyball team was outside the Carrier Dome collecting donations for Hurricane Katrina victims.

All proceeds went to the United Way, Coach Colado and Roberta Pelarigo are natives of New Orleans.
O n Saturday, protesters filled all of the nation ranging from Fashion Avenue to Washington, D.C., in present America's singular military presence in Iraq. The only thing missing from the headlines was the response from the current president of the United States.

Dead for six weeks of fifty-six—seven Republicans and a White House giving speeches and weighing in with their ideas on their desire to see our soldiers out of harm's way. There's a movement.

President Bush has been silent on the issues of Hurricane Katrina and in response has been anodyne. The only thing Bush has done is to respond to Hurricane Kat­rina and he now has Hurricane Rita's damage to deal with as well. It's a long list of forgettable mistakes led by a president down on the Middle East.

The troops need to come home because they are sacrifice­ing much more important to the state of Miss­issip­pi. Last in all of the cloth­ing and linens that the Anniston Star is selling out our soldiers' bags, and they needed to be helping us at home. Maybe the pattern will still hold there will be paintings of Mississippi's extra effort.

In the meantime, marching in Washington, D.C. is cer­tainly more important to us than the ridiculous effort of states to move the troops have been made. It's important for protesters to go out, but it's only a way that they can reach us and that we can reach them.

But it falls on deaf ears when the people who need to hear it can't hear it. Even Cloe Kennedy was taken by the Bush orientation removed from the back of his brain. It's a good idea that he didn't care for the people of Iraq, and the insur­rangement would certainly see the develop­ment.

The president has a responsi­bility to be clear on this move he has made, not only for the families of our men but for the people of Iraq. It's a fact of life, a factor in our decision to try to do something noble that so many of us have done and that we have done in this days around the even­tual victory.

The president has a responsi­bility to be clear on this move he has made, not only for the families of our men but for the people of Iraq. It's a fact of life, a factor in our decision to try to do something noble that so many of us have done and that we have done in this days around the even­tual victory.

The president has a responsi­bility to be clear on this move he has made, not only for the families of our men but for the people of Iraq. It's a fact of life, a factor in our decision to try to do something noble that so many of us have done and that we have done in this days around the even­tual victory.

The president has a responsi­bility to be clear on this move he has made, not only for the families of our men but for the people of Iraq. It's a fact of life, a factor in our decision to try to do something noble that so many of us have done and that we have done in this days around the even­tual victory.

The president has a responsi­bility to be clear on this move he has made, not only for the families of our men but for the people of Iraq. It's a fact of life, a factor in our decision to try to do something noble that so many of us have done and that we have done in this days around the even­tual victory.

The president has a responsi­bility to be clear on this move he has made, not only for the families of our men but for the people of Iraq. It's a fact of life, a factor in our decision to try to do something noble that so many of us have done and that we have done in this days around the even­tual victory.

The president has a responsi­bility to be clear on this move he has made, not only for the families of our men but for the people of Iraq. It's a fact of life, a factor in our decision to try to do something noble that so many of us have done and that we have done in this days around the even­tual victory.

The president has a responsi­bility to be clear on this move he has made, not only for the families of our men but for the people of Iraq. It's a fact of life, a factor in our decision to try to do something noble that so many of us have done and that we have done in this days around the even­tual victory.

The president has a responsi­bility to be clear on this move he has made, not only for the families of our men but for the people of Iraq. It's a fact of life, a factor in our decision to try to do something noble that so many of us have done and that we have done in this days around the even­tual victory.

The president has a responsi­bility to be clear on this move he has made, not only for the families of our men but for the people of Iraq. It's a fact of life, a factor in our decision to try to do something noble that so many of us have done and that we have done in this days around the even­tual victory.

The president has a responsi­bility to be clear on this move he has made, not only for the families of our men but for the people of Iraq. It's a fact of life, a factor in our decision to try to do something noble that so many of us have done and that we have done in this days around the even­tual victory.

The president has a responsi­bility to be clear on this move he has made, not only for the families of our men but for the people of Iraq. It's a fact of life, a factor in our decision to try to do something noble that so many of us have done and that we have done in this days around the even­tual victory.

The president has a responsi­bility to be clear on this move he has made, not only for the families of our men but for the people of Iraq. It's a fact of life, a factor in our decision to try to do something noble that so many of us have done and that we have done in this days around the even­tual victory.

The president has a responsi­bility to be clear on this move he has made, not only for the families of our men but for the people of Iraq. It's a fact of life, a factor in our decision to try to do something noble that so many of us have done and that we have done in this days around the even­tual victory.

The president has a responsi­bility to be clear on this move he has made, not only for the families of our men but for the people of Iraq. It's a fact of life, a factor in our decision to try to do something noble that so many of us have done and that we have done in this days around the even­tual victory.

The president has a responsi­bility to be clear on this move he has made, not only for the families of our men but for the people of Iraq. It's a fact of life, a factor in our decision to try to do something noble that so many of us have done and that we have done in this days around the even­tual victory.

The president has a responsi­bility to be clear on this move he has made, not only for the families of our men but for the people of Iraq. It's a fact of life, a factor in our decision to try to do something noble that so many of us have done and that we have done in this days around the even­tual victory.

The president has a responsi­bility to be clear on this move he has made, not only for the families of our men but for the people of Iraq. It's a fact of life, a factor in our decision to try to do something noble that so many of us have done and that we have done in this days around the even­tual victory.

The president has a responsi­bility to be clear on this move he has made, not only for the families of our men but for the people of Iraq. It's a fact of life, a factor in our decision to try to do something noble that so many of us have done and that we have done in this days around the even­tual victory.

The president has a responsi­bility to be clear on this move he has made, not only for the families of our men but for the people of Iraq. It's a fact of life, a factor in our decision to try to do something noble that so many of us have done and that we have done in this days around the even­tual victory.

The president has a responsi­bility to be clear on this move he has made, not only for the families of our men but for the people of Iraq. It's a fact of life, a factor in our decision to try to do something noble that so many of us have done and that we have done in this days around the even­tual victory.

The president has a responsi­bility to be clear on this move he has made, not only for the families of our men but for the people of Iraq. It's a fact of life, a factor in our decision to try to do something noble that so many of us have done and that we have done in this days around the even­tual victory.

The president has a responsi­bility to be clear on this move he has made, not only for the families of our men but for the people of Iraq. It's a fact of life, a factor in our decision to try to do something noble that so many of us have done and that we have done in this days around the even­tual victory.

The president has a responsi­bility to be clear on this move he has made, not only for the families of our men but for the people of Iraq. It's a fact of life, a factor in our decision to try to do something noble that so many of us have done and that we have done in this days around the even­tual victory.

The president has a responsi­bility to be clear on this move he has made, not only for the families of our men but for the people of Iraq. It's a fact of life, a factor in our decision to try to do something noble that so many of us have done and that we have done in this days around the even­tual victory.
Officer’s death leaves nothing for fans to celebrate

It’s easy to speculate. There’s not much that’s difficult about making things up and spreading rumors like wildflowers. That’s all people did at Saturday’s football game when an undermanned UCF police office was short and failed. It was “no fault of this,” or “he said that.” The truth is that a lot of people claimed to have seen a lot of things, but the reality is that someone is dead.

Officer Mario Jenkins was a good guy who was just doing his job. He always did his job. He was a friend to students when students wouldn’t show up, or police officers the first look of respect. He was a good friend to me, and I for one am going to miss him more than any people will ever understand.

I didn’t want to write this column. It’s so hard to write about something when you keep trying to convince yourself it didn’t happen. We won a game, but I lost a friend. It’s not fair, and God knows I’m going to pray every night that I could turn back time.

I wanted to be so happy today. The win was the most euphoric feeling I’ve had in years, and I wasn’t even supposed to be at that game. I was supposed to be down south at a girl’s wedding, a girl who has been like my sister for seven years. I couldn’t make it, and for that I won’t forgive myself. Being being late at a time when a good friend passed away, I don’t know whether I’ll ever be able to forgive myself.

Until Sunday morning, I didn’t have a clue which officer was shot. The problem is that I am friends with so many of them, and I had that nagging feeling. I almost didn’t want to know which officer we lost that night. But the main reason Mario and I had a good relationship was that we liked to talk about UCF football. I did what I could to keep things the way they were, and who the police officers were going to do to people changed the field. I asked one Orlando police officer that same question, and with a smile, he said, “Absolutely nothing.”

Granted, a few were nabbed and called here and there, but we had finally reached something to celebrate, and we did it in style. It makes me miserable to know that Mario couldn’t see it.

In one of my proudest moments, I lay down on the UCF logo on the 50-yard line and the waterworks started building up. I’m not kidding when I say that six grown men joined me.

What a feeling. I hugged more men Saturday than I’d ever like to admit, but it was one of the best feelings of my life.

For everything I’ve devoted to covering UCF football, for every athletic department official who curises me behind my back every week, for every football player who has threatened me for being critical, it was worth it.

These past two years have been miserable, and for once I can smile from ear to ear, and it’s not because of our basketball team.

The problem is that, two days later, I don’t have that feeling. I don’t even know what happened. Plenty of people have stories, and I know what two Orlando police officers told me, but apparently even that was wrong.

I don’t think I want to know what happened. I’d rather spend my time keeping up the hope that it didn’t happen.

Truth be told, I should probably be in the hospital right now for the congestion my brother gave me after the game, but I’m too stubborn. I’m too stubborn to test walk off this two-boo, but I’m even more stubborn when it comes to letting another’s passing go unnoticed.

People need to know the truth because Mario died for no reason. There is no reason that anyone — especially a low enforcement agent — should die as something as harmless as a football game’s tailgate party.

UCHS students constantly brag about how much better our tailgates is than most schools because it’s true: No school tailgates like we do. But at no other school would something so hilarious as this occur.

The fans involved in whatever led up to Mario’s death should feel ashamed. The people who saw it all happen should be comfortable because no one should have to witness this. Most of all, Mario’s friends, family and fellow officers should be embarrassed because no one deserves to have someone so special taken from them.

My heart was full of pride after Saturday’s win. Now my heart is in pieces. I miss my friend.

Ashley Burns can be reached at aburns@orcom.com.
Uncle Al’s All Part-time Jobs are req. PT eve hrs. downtown files, Escape/Walkadoos mail. Need to be in Lake Buena Vista area. Permanent, residential living. Looking for serious own. $500-$100,000++

Part-time Assistant for busy office

ATTENTION STUDENTS!

· Very close to your leave

407-319-4730
407-275-9595

In last yr. Rent· Male In 312 campus. Visit www.Fancy Areas Nearby

• Apartments & Rooms

3/2 furnished house, garage, DEBT-FREE

658-6103

FREE CABLE, Washer & Dryer

For info and listings

http://Nancepropertyinvestments.com

1/4 townhouse w/ walk

Jerome at 305-570-4592

407-832-8160

for a 4/4

Looking for M/F Roommate.

Call Angela & other info 954-240-2057

Available
classifieds@UCFnews.com

954-240-2057

1st mo/free , $515/mo

Mattress

Set $175, etc.

Spring Formations

2x2 or 133

Director of Music

3x000 6?00 11 42000 06?00 (866)742-1373

Are you fed up with your hair?

Any Condition, Fire Damaged,

No experience necessary. We do

the Color, Cuts, Highlights,

Furniture

Branch Dr., and more.

For more info and listings

For info and listings

$239 $239

1-800-867-5018

• Cars, Trucks, Construction, Honda

We have the following.

Laboratory and student availability.

For more info , call

Inquire now about buying

800-222-2877

For the current price.

For the current price.

Knieight & Finch

For Peace of Mind.

For Peace of Mind.

For Peace of Mind.

For Peace of Mind.

For Peace of Mind.

For Peace of Mind.

For Peace of Mind.

For Peace of Mind.

For Peace of Mind.
Your childhood fears don't go away. They just get worse.

Be the first to see your fears come alive, and save up to 50%.

$19.95
Advance Passport Member

$28.00
Advance General Admission

Purchase tickets in advance at buschgardens.com.

For more information, call 1-888-808-5447.

FREAKY PREVIEW
Friday, Sept. 30 and Saturday, Oct. 1
7:30 PM to 1:00 AM

WARNING! Event is too intense for young children. Parental discretion advised.

Offer applies to 2016 Passport guests only. Up to 10 guests per resident. Additional separately purchased tickets are subject to change without notice, and tickets are subject to availability. Howl-O-Scream tickets are valid for one event night only and are non-refundable and non-transferable. No rain checks. No rain dates. No refunds. No exchanges. Parking not included. No costume allowed. ©2016 Busch Entertainment Corporation. All rights reserved.