Charges possible in shooting

Some tailgaters at center of neceli hire attorneys in wake of FDLE investigation

UCF football fans had their first chance Saturday to enjoy the tailgating experience since the fatal shooting of UCF Police Officer Mario Jenkins more than two weeks ago.

Fans also had their first chance to deal with UCF President John Hitt’s tailgating task force’s imposed changes for pre-game Citrus Bowl activities. Last Wednesday, Hitt announced a list of proposed rules from the task force he created less than one week after Jenkins’ death.

SGA President Willie Bentley Jr. spent much of the past two weeks defending students’ rights to tailgate. He argued against limiting the time that people should be allowed to tailgate and stressed that most students are responsible.

McGill Woody, Bentley’s vice president, echoed his sentiments after Saturday’s game and said that Saturday was a perfect example of how students and other fans are capable of being responsible.

"It went very well, and students still had fun," Woody said. "That’s the point of tailgating. There’s no reason that students should feel intimidated, because that’s not why they come out here. The police have to do do, and the students, as fans, have their job to do as well.

Among the changes to the school’s tailgating policy was a ban on beer fridges and outdoor furniture. For the most part, the students and fans at Saturday’s game were indifferent about the changes as some fans admitted they couldn’t tell the difference.

"As long as you have a can and a key, you don’t need a beer fridge," said Kevin HITTLEY, a 16.

SGA, GAMMA hold memorial event for officer killed at UCF football tailgate

KATE HOWELL

More than 300 students, faculty and members of the UCF community gathered Thursday to pay their final respects to a young man in memory of Officer Mario Jenkins, who was killed Sept. 24.

Many came not only out of respect for Jenkins, but also to show their support for the UCF Police Department.

Theater major Ali Yu said she didn’t know Jenkins personally, but when she left a abusive relationship she went to the UCPD for help.

"They walked me to my car and helped me inside," Yu said. "They were very kind. They gave me strength and courage.

In thanks for her help in her time of grief, Yu said she wanted to show support and “pay respects” to the UCPD in her service.

Jenkins, a football player, was shot Sept. 24.

Friends believe Jenkins would not have wanted to be mourned

They dogged the canine unit, which included Jenkins and his canine partner, Marylee. She helped with the investigation and after that “It became one of those things — everyone liking to the canine unit,” she said. “It was like they belonged to us.”

While there is no linkage, between the UCFPD and the UCF community, it is what makes UCF special, Maj. Randy Mingo of the UCFPD said.

“Jenkins is a huge honor for students to be excused by the student body,” he said. “It shows just how great UCF is, how close we are as a community.”

Mingo hailed out the blue glow sticks at the memorial, something police department traditionally do to remember their own.

“The blue represents the blue uniforms we wear with pride,” he said.

Mourners were also given candles.

“I lightened the candles lighting up and filling the entire event,” said Alice Bentley, vice president of the management for the Professional Council, which organized the event, which also featured a chance for UCF community members to get together and think, remember a man who provided them lives, directly and indirectly.

In addition to the officers and the officers affected the Greek community and the “next to UCF” Castle said.

“I think that it is best to reflect on our own lives,” he said. “We must not allowzyme to diminish us from the possibility of adventure and excitement.”

Neghbors upset over car-lined streets

Neighbors upset over car-lined streets.

UCF Police Department and Randy Mingo defend a patch of a Thursday's student memorial service for Officer Mario Jenkins, who was shot and killed last September.

Neill said, “I wish we could have some sort of parking permit that student is allowed to rent for 12 months. We have spent at least 24 months on active duty.

“Jenkins was given three medals as a Marine on active duty with the remainder of his time spent in the reserves.”

“I never possessed the power to enroll one for such a deserved honor,” he said.

The UCFPD will also begin selling ribbon and car-stickers in memory of Jenkins in order to raise enough money to send his widows Valerie Jenkins and some members of the UCFPD to the state and federal law enforcement memorial in this year in Tallahassee and Washington, D.C.

“Mario's name will be carved into the vets,” he said.

Kappa Delta, ZTA hold annual events to raise money for their philanthropies

ASHLEY BURNS Managing Editor

The ladies of the Kappa Delta sorority held their annual KD Shakedown event last Wednesday at the Pegasus Ballroom in the Student Union to benefit the Arnold Palmer Hospital for Women and Children.

The event features a dance competition between many of UCF's fraternities and sororities and awards the efforts of the Top 3 performances for both men and the women. Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity earned the best overall performance, and Sigma Chi finished first in the fraternity dance competition, while Alpha Delta Pi took the top prize for the sororities. Beta Theta Phi and Pi Beta Phi finished in second place and Kappa Sigma and Delta Delta Delta won their respective third place titles.

Kappa Delta hosts the Shakedown event each year, and in conjunction with its other philanthropic event, KD Shamrock, KD raises thousands of dollars for the Arnold Palmer Hospital. KD President Amanda Blakewood said that the amount of money raised from the Shamrock event is still unknown, but she believes it is more than $5000 at this point. Through both events, the KD women expect to raise more than $10,000 for the cause.

Zeta Tau Alpha also held its own philanthropic event, Lip Sync, which is also a dance competition for the fraternities and sororities. ZTA members hold their competition annually as well to raise money for their philanthropy — The Susan Komen Breast Cancer Foundation.

Women's soccer falls to FIU in NCAA first-round rematch

Soccer team now 2-0 in league play

BRIAN MURPHY

After being knocked out of the NCAA Tournament by Southern Florida International University, the UCF women's soccer team finally broke through with an upset win in the first round last year.

In Saturday's playoff match, the Golden Knights took their revenge.

The Golden Knights had their four-game winning streak snapped and suffered their first setback in Conference USA in a 3-1 loss to their in-state rival.

The Knights dropped to 6-8-3 overall and 4-1-2 in Conference USA, while FIU improved to 6-8-3 and moved into second place in C-USA with a 2-0-3 record.

Although UCF entered the match

IT'S ALL ABOUT RESPECT

UCF football team holds C-USA East lead after beating Memphis 38-17

STEVEN MOFFETT

The UCF football team showed once again, for all to see that it knew how to put away an opponent.

Just ask Memphis.

The Golden Knights extended their winning streak to three with a convincing 38-17 win, giving UCF (6-2 overall, 4-0 in Conference USA) its first winning record since 2002 and sole possession of the Conference USA East Division lead.

The victory contrasted with the two previous games, in which UCF took a commanding early lead but let the opposition back in the game late.

"After the last game, we talked about being respected," UCF quarterback Steven Moffett said. "That was the secret of the week respect. I think after this game a lot of people are going to start respecting us.

The Knights have been falling since the beginning of the season about making it to a bowl game. Saturday's win was encouraging to UCF Coach George O'Leary, who won his team on the right track.

"It is a good win," O'Leary said. "It just as we at UCF in the conference, I think we just have to keep moving from here. Our goal has been to win enough to get to a bowl game and that is what we are going to strive to do.

The defense gave Memphis problems the whole game, and for break down, see A11

Knights pick up win after aggressive game against Memphis

CHRIS HOYER

Tell your friends. Have them tell their friends. Have thousands of your friends tell their friends. Let's see how the day the fortune of UAB football turns around.

Michael Smith, who outrushed Williams by 30 yards on 25 carries, was the difference in the Knights' 28-17 victory over Memphis on Friday night.

The 2010 season after two recent games.

Smith's 164-yard effort, which included a 69-yard touchdown catch Saturday. The touchdown, on fourth-and-three, was the decisive blow in the Knights' 28-17 victory.

But the offensive line, which has been inconsistent this season, was a key factor in the win.

The Knights regained the lead in the third quarter, when the defense stopped Memphis on fourth down.

Williams was stopped short of the goal line. The Knights then scored on a 9-yard pass from Kelly Gregg to receiver Brandon Marshall.

The Knights couldn't advance on offense after the turnover, but they forced a punt that gave them an advantage.

The Knights drove down the field again, but were stopped on fourth down at the Memphis 5-yard line. The Knights then punted and gave the ball back to Memphis.

The Golden Eagles drove to the Knights' 30-yard line, but were stopped on fourth down. The Knights took possession and drove down the field for a 9-yard touchdown pass from Kelly Gregg to receiver Brandon Marshall.

The Knights then scored on a 10-yard touchdown pass from Kelly Gregg to receiver Brandon Marshall.

Tailgate not place for protesters

Smith wasting everyone's time

For the first time in almost 20 years, the UCF police have issued a statement of charges and censure. The students have something to be proud of.

They have a team with not only a winning record, but also an actual chance at a championship conference. Unfortunately, the students who take pride in this football program, and the UCF that has taken, is overshadowed by students who possess no class whatever.

At Saturday's game, there were too many students who couldn't grasp the idea of celebrating a football victory.

Very strong Memphis team couldn't grasp the idea of celebrating a football victory.

The overall atmosphere at Saturday's tailgate was one of jubilation. People were happy because they were winning. What did they need to do all weekend was start tailgating and continue it through the game.

The fans found a way to wipe the field after the Knights' win and the Pac-12 Conference.

In the Pac-12 Conference, the Supreme Court is supposed to make decisions that benefit the country. It is supposed to consider the question of the UCF community.

They were happy because their football team won its third game in a row and gave UCF fans something to cheer about.

The fans were happy because they were happy that they were winning.

In the case of the UCF football team, the Supreme Court is supposed to make a decision about the current something.

We are required and encouraged to enhance and continue our training throughout the year. Training never stops, we welcome new recruits and try to see what training I have completed.

For the most part, Saturday's tailgate wasn't hip. People were happy and they needed to do something.

Instead of charging the field, fans didn't have a team with.

If the justices reject the case of this tragedy, that's because he felt threatened and was run out of options to defend his life.

If the justices ever suggest that the justices might have had second thoughts about their ruling.

Why Graduate School?

If you want to enjoy greater job security, make more money, have greater flexibility and more opportunities, then Graduate School is for you. In addition to providing more knowledge and understanding of your discipline, it will allow you additional choices in the job market, increased marketability, more opportunities for advancement, and for some professions it is simply required for what you want to do (for example, psychologists, physical therapists, counselors, and audiologists are all required to have graduate degrees to practice).

The typical person with a graduate degree will earn an average salary of $74,602 per year, compared to $51,206 for an individual with a bachelor's degree, and only $27,916 for someone with a high school diploma. Not only are annual earnings more, but you are also more likely to have greater savings over your career and are more likely to be married to someone who also has higher earnings and savings.

What do you need to pursue graduate education? You need to apply! Graduate programs will evaluate your credentials based upon your overall academic record (grade point average in the last 90 hours of your undergraduate career is typical), test score performance (GRE or GMAT), letters of recommendation from faculty, statement of purpose about why you want to attend Graduate School, your professional experiences, and sometimes a personal interview or portfolio. In addition, many graduate students receive financial support to attend graduate school. Assistantships and fellowships are available from most graduate schools. UCF offers more than 100 master's, doctoral, and certificate programs.

I don't know much about winning, but I know I love it.

Every week my MU2 buddy Bas sends me an instant message to let me know if my columns were good or if they were better off leaving a feedback. If there's no column at all, then he really lets me have it.

Needless to say, Ben wasn't very happy with me this past week. He wasn't alone, either. There are plenty of people who think I just sound pointless opinions writers.

But there are also a few people here and there who appreciate my ridiculously charming wit and non-pragmatic views. They are more than willing to overlook the fact that I write from upset.

Anyway, it's true that it got to me a little, although I tried to keep my cool. I think that in any profession there are better people than me working at the same job, so I have no reason to be upset.

But I was upset. Occasionally I let my emotions get the better of me.

The past two weeks have been pretty nuts and I feel a bit of the wall creativity-wise. I figured a shift of scenery might help.

The last time I checked, there were no more games on our schedule, and while we might have been at the top of the conference, we actually have a huge bull's eye on our backs.

The last time we were at the top of Memphis’ list, we were very far from being considered a threat.

Last time I checked, there were no more games on my list, and while we might have been at the top of the conference, we actually have a huge bull’s eye on our backs.

What's to apologize for?

I told them initially that I would have put better odds on the Golden Eagles winning that game. But when IM Sports doesn't show up to a game. But when IM Sports doesn't show up to a game, it's a phenomenal feeling.

The real test is in this Saturday’s game.

We’re finally winning, but we can’t be satisfied. We’re finally winning, but we can’t be satisfied.
