Time running out to settle Spring grade dispute

Student says e-mail gave professor no right to drop grade 5 points

THOMAS HOEFER
Staff Writer

A UCF student who says his professor unjustly lowered his grade for an e-mail he didn't write is poised to file a lawsuit as classmates may be running out of time on his grade appeal.

Legal studies major Jared Andersen, a U.S. Army veteran, said his instructorSkip Conroy's quizzes are flawed?'' he asked his classmates via e-mail. "I don't know if I'm overreacting. I would appreciate it if anyone would share thoughts on the matter.''

One of these students forwarded the e-mail to Conroy, who, Andersen says, took five points off his final grade due to inappropriately condescending, which turned his B+ (87 points) into a B- (82 points).

To the end of the semester, Andersen says, he e-mailed his classmates through his e-commumity account and asked whether they were as unhappy with the quizzes as the questions were taken.

"Does anyone else feel that Dr. Conroy's quizzes are flawed?'' he asked his classmates via e-mail. "I don't know if I'm overreacting. I would appreciate it if anyone would share thoughts on the matter.''

Owned and operated by UCF students and alumni, Wackadoo's employs between 40 and 60 students on campus. The first Wackadoo's restaurant was established at UCF in 1999, and now there are five of them around the country. Wackadoo's is always looking for new locations and is interested in expanding its franchise.

Hundreds of laboratory mice the school said were held in rooms with unusual temperatures and rats died when a power failure occurred because of a renovation project, so there was no backup, university officials said.

When power was restored, the mice were found in an area that was very cold, said one researcher.

"Temperature ranges went from the 80s in a couple of rooms to as low as 10° in one room," Knies said.

About 21 projects involving research into epilepsy, bipolar depression, cancer and cardiovascular disease were affected, Knies said. Some researchers had been work­ing on their projects for years, he said.

Friend of dead student charged with felony heroin possession

ATHENS, Ga. - A student who parted with the University of Georgia freshman who died of an alcohol and drug overdose will be charged with felony heroin possession, authorities said.

Mike A. Daniel, 19, a senior majoring in chemistry, is accused of entering the Roanoke Jail instead of simply giving them a cita­tion.

Last spring, UGA administrators approved new penal­ties for students who violate the university's drug and alcohol policies.
Students who receive more than one violation in a year are suspected of simply giving them a cita­tion.

One dead, dozens infected after Legionnaires' disease

Salt Lake City — There was no certain Legionnaires' disease definite in the Boise College dormitory where one person died and dozen or more were infected with the disease.

An 82-year-old woman had died from Legionnaires' disease, the school is considering installing a sprinkler system.

"We're in the process now of investigating all the options of what will work with the systems we already have in place," she said.

A total of 144 people were notified to two hospitals without signs of infections, nausea, dizziness and shakiness.

A 29-year-old man was found dead in the dorm, but medical professionals had not determined the cause of death.

About 100 of the guests came from across the University of Utah, with a handful from North Carolina and Pennsylvania, visitor, to attend a Power in the Right Livelihoods Award conference.

Thirty-seven students were interviewed by someone who had

Walking into the Grub & Brew is almost like going into Wackadoo's. The restaurant also has an assortment of nephews that will certainly make you feel at home. However, the music is not always comparable to the atmosphere. The DJ is not always on top of his game, and sometimes the music can be a bit distracting.

Most students always have their driving license and the freedom of driving around. However, they also have a lot of problems with the UCF Police. There is a limit of two beer cans per customer at Wackadoo's. You can still have a beer, but they always try to make you pay for it.

Students can also enjoy a beer while playing pool or play a game of Trivial Pursuit. Wackadoo's also has a variety of snacks, such as hot dogs and hamburgers. It's really cool to have a boss that's watching over you, and you can have a beer and some snacks without any problems.
Team's effort partly to redeem hurt reputation

OVERVIEW: BREAST CANCER STATISTICS

- 40,970 women will die of invasive breast cancer in 2006. About 212,920 women will be diagnosed.
- 1 in 8 is the chance that an American woman will have breast cancer at some point in her life.
- 1 in 33 is the chance patients have of dying of breast cancer. That number’s 1 in 8 for those with metastatic disease.

Joyce and Rodriguez said that the team was suspended because of a massive hotel party that the team held earlier this year while traveling to a tournament in Georgia. Nobody was hurt at the party, but there was considerable damage to the hotel rooms.

“We like partying but we want to be responsible,” team member Matthew Vaccaro said. “So we’re trying to make a better name for ourselves by giving back to the community.”

The fundraiser was, in part, a response to the team’s suspension.

“The fundraiser was, in part, an attempt to better the team’s image,” Joyce said.

“We’re not trying to exploit the girls,” said Michael Rodriguez, the team’s chief public affairs correspondent. “We’re just collaborating.”

Byars fills new position for Speraw's Knights

Byars promoted from volunteer assistant to director of basketball operations

BRYAN MURPHY
Sports Editor

An offseason of change for the men’s basketball team continued on Tuesday when Coach Kirk Speraw announced that Micah Byars has been hired to fill the new position, director of basketball operations.

Byars brings seven years of experience in the college ranks. In this new role, he will assist with film editing and exchange, scheduling, travel coordination and other administrative duties. Byars will also assist with on-campus recruiting and will help keep track of the team’s academic progress.

"Micah is a hard-working, organized person who will fill a key role in our program as the director of basketball operations," Speraw said in a press release. "With the dynamic demands that coaches have, the job of director of basketball operations is an important position within a program.

"Micah is familiar with our program and knows the demands of the job. I think he will be a tremendous asset as a member of our staff."

Byars spent the 2005-06 season with the Golden Knights as a volunteer assistant administrator. Before joining the Knights, he spent two seasons as an assistant coach at Chipola Junior College in Marianna, Fla. With Byars on the staff, the Indians won the NCAA Region VIII Championship in 2004-05. They finished fourth in the nation that season and sixth in the previous season. Byars worked directly with Chipola’s post players, while assisting with film exchange, recruiting and scheduling.

Fast facts on Micah Byars

- Byars has seven years of experience coaching in college. Prior to Chipola, 2005-06 was his first year working with Kirk Speraw and UCF.
- Byars previously was an assistant administrator at the University of New Orleans.
- Byars is also a volunteer assistant to director of basketball operations at professional basketball organizations.

From 2003-05, Byars worked as an administrative assistant on the University of Arkansas men’s basketball staff. Before that, he was an assistant coach for two seasons at Virginia Commonwealth University in Glendale, FL.

Byars grew up in Florida and began his coaching career in his hometown at E.C. Yancey High School. In 2001-02, he served as the head coach of both the freshmen boys’ basketball team and the football team.

"I am excited to be joining the staff in this new capacity," Byars said in a press release. "I am looking forward to the opportunity to help keep track of the team's academic progress and the entire staff and feel that I can help the team in this role.

BUCKING BRONCOS OUT TO BUST-UP BCS

New coach is the only major change for Boise State; Nebraska is the favorite in Big 12 North

CHRIS HOFLER
Sports Editor

After revealing teams 50-25 over the past two weeks, the Preseason gives you teams 26-31, including a couple of traditional powerhouse and a potential Bowl Championship Series buster.

24. Texas Tech
Projected Record: 10-2-0 (2 losses to Texas, Oklahoma)

Why they are here: Mike Leach’s Red Raiders got more talented every year; now they have the hunger of a heart-breaking Cotton Bowl loss (the ugliest field goal ever converted) pushing them. With Texas coming to their house this season, the Red Raiders have a chance to stun the nation and head into their No. 1 showdown with Oklahoma St. 25. Boise State Projected Record: 11-1 (1 win, Champions, lost to Utah)

Why they are here: Everyone’s favorite blue-chip bully gets two of its three toughest games at home this season. The ESPN-networked contest against Oregon St. (Sept. 7) and Fresno St. (Nov. 1)

Byars adds to staff with Peters

New coach comes to Orlando with ties to rival USF

BRYAN MURPHY
Sports Editor

For the past ten years, Bryan Peters has helped the Stetson and South Florida baseball teams. Now, UCF Coach Bergman hopes that Peters can improve another Florida team.

Peters was named assistant coach for the Golden Knights on Monday. Peters will serve as the Knights’ hitting instructor, and will work with the infielders. Bergman also said that former hitting coach, Donnie Walske will now become UCF’s director of baseball operations.

"This coaching opportunity at UCF is one I’ve as excited as I’ve been in a long time," Peters said in a press release. "The staff here at UCF is as good as it gets.

Peters spent last season as an assistant coach at Stetson. His duties with the Hatters included first base coach, as well as working with the outfielders. Peters’ into year with Stetson was a successful one as the Hatters captured the Atlantic Sun Conference Championship.

"This coaching opportunity at UCF has me as excited as I have been in a long time."

Prior to Stetson, Peters spent nine years as an assistant coach and two years as a player at USF. While there, Peters was a Bull recruiting coordinator and hitting instructor. He also worked with the team’s defense, base running and catching. As a coach, Peters guided the Bulls to the NCAA Tournament in 1997, 2001 and 2002.

Stetson is an experienced coach who has worked in Conference USA, the Atlantic Sun, the Southern Conference and the NCAA Regional openings. For this reason, Peters was also a very versatile player, starting time in the infield, outfield and on

Tobacco industry shouldn’t pay people for getting cancer

In July 2000, the tobacco industry was punished with $206 billion in fines and forced to sell itself to pay for damages from 1934 onward in the so-called Eli代办 Court in San Francisco. It was the largest lawsuit in US history.

Almost two weeks ago, the Florida Supreme Court threw out a tobacco-compensation bill, leaving it to the legislature's House and Senate to find a compromise.

As a result, the court ruled that the tobacco industry cannot afford anything for coming down with cancer by smoking cigarettes. As much as the US tobacco industry has been purported to be, the tobacco industry has found out about the highly effective and efficient cigarette, and in the eyes of the court, it comes to us in the form of compensation.

According to the court, it is impossible to get a basic idea of the dangers of nicotine and the other 5,000 chemicals contained in a cigarette, for anyone who has stated that smoking is the cause of cancer.

Ruling does more than state that smoking is a cause of cancer. It means that two things of the same sex cannot marry, and that only one of the two can marry and that those couples are considered to be second-class citizens. It means that there may be ways to derive pluripotent, embryonic human cells without destroying embryos. The web is not the way to go, according to the court. The web is the way to go, according to the court. The web is the way to go, according to the court.

On this basis, the court feels that the tobacco industry should not pay people for getting cancer.

Gay marriage banned in 18 states; others may bandwagon

The fight for the legalization of gay marriage was bad Friday when the 8th Circuit Court of Appeals upheld a lower-court ruling that same-sex marriage cannot be legally recognized.

Same-sex couples in that state are barred from marrying by the state’s constitution, and the court said that the right to marry is a fundamental right that all citizens, including same-sex couples, are entitled to have.

This ruling means more than state that marriage is a fundamental right. It means that same-sex couples are recognized as second-class citizens.

But Nebraska isn’t the only state trying to limit the rights of its gay citizens. Eight states have similar laws, including Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee, and Texas, for example.

In 23 states, some Americans are treated differently because of who they are. In 26 states, some Americans are kept from receiving benefits that married couples can receive, and in 38 states, all couples, including same-sex couples, are viewed as less valuable than heterosexual couples.

One state with such prohibitions is Missouri, which has a constitutional amendment that prohibits same-sex marriage.

The 135,000 gay and lesbian couples in Missouri are treated as second-class citizens.

Discrimination against sexual orientation leans to this country's losing time of sexual orientation and religious freedom, and as citizens, all Americans have the right to get equal protection under the law.

Marriage should be the same for everyone, whether they are married by a priest, a judge, or a civil servant. Everyone should be able to get married and have the same legal rights as heterosexual couples. This is a basic human right, and it should be respected.

For every smoker who drops the habit, tobacco companies might be able to make millions of people every year. It is a difficult topic to discuss, and it is a difficult topic to discuss. However, there is a third option that should not be ignored while the stem cell issue continues to churn in the public consciousness.

The third bill to come up in Senate, the one that encourages the vigorous pursuit of a method of producing the same kind of cells, but without destroying embryos. Recent scientific reports suggest that there may be ways to derive pluripotent cells that don't require destruction of embryos. The web is the way to go, according to the court.

The web is not the way to go, according to the court. The web is the way to go, according to the court.

There's no singling that this week's front page debate of stem cell research will have far-reaching consequences on the state of US medical research and for the politics of the 2006 and 2008 elections.

However, before anyone can assess where the country is going on this controversial issue, one must take a look back.

The year is 2000. The US House of Representatives passed stem cell legislation by a margin of 235 to 194, with 50 Republicans voting with the minority party to kill the House's Democratic bill, which would have expanded the availability of embryonic stem cells that are not required to destroy human embryos. The bill would have expanded the availability of embryonic stem cells that would require destruction of embryos for research.

The web is not the way to go, according to the court. The web is the way to go, according to the court.

The web is the way to go, according to the court.
