Violations jeopardize SGA senator’s seat

Natalie Zfat

The student dubbed Mr. UCF 2006 may not be taking his crown home. Gaston Blanchet, current Mr. UCF and former Student Government Association inductee, was charged Thursday by the SGA Elections Commission with a major violation for not registering a campaign material in the Business Administration Building with the first submitted written permission from the building’s manager.

When this third minor violation occurs, Blanchet could be removed himself one major violation — an infraction that sends a senator for review to the Judicial Council for review.

Although it is not certain that the Judicial Council will impeach Blanchet, Sen. Kristen Kushman speculates that the council could do so at the next meeting, which is scheduled for Oct. 29, Administration Building with the approval from the building’s manager.

UCF considers new HIV test method

Health Services looks to adopt CDC’s suggestions on testing

JOHANNA STEWART

Getting tested for HIV will be more routine if officials have their way.

The Center for Disease Control and Prevention made suggestions last month on HIV testing in a report regulating who should be tested, how screening should be administered, and how counseling and consent should not be requirements for getting tested.

UCF Health Services said it is careful when it comes to jumping into action and applying the new suggested testing procedures.

"We really can’t change policies until a law is changed, so that’s probably a couple years off," said Peter Maisel, the coordinator for education and training at the Responsible Education and Action for Campus Health office. "At the same time we certainly can move in the direction in terms of what the CDC intended, even before a law is revised.

The CDC suggests that the ages of those testing should range from 13-64, all patients seeking treatment on STI’s should be screened at each visit for HIV, and all patients seeking treatment on STI should be screened at each visit. A person with possible occupational exposures to body fluids should be tested, and consent should be incorporated into general medical consent.

Student tutors get week of recognition from UCF

Laurie Comery

National Tutoring Week is Oct. 9 through Oct. 15, and the Student Academic Resource Center plans on letting its tutors know how valuable they are to UCF.

Peer tutors and Supplemental Instruction leaders will join in the national celebration on and off campus.

Over 95 undergraduate students on the UCF staff will work together this week to acquaint students with the benefits of the organization and have a little fun along the way.

"It’s free tutoring," SARC Academic Services’ office said. It’s helpful to increase your grade and you don’t have to spend money on a private tutor. Students can get their specific questions answered, and some general education classes even give credit for it.

Gaston Blanchet has been charged with three violations:

- Not registering a campaign e-mail and the Elections Commission
- Not including the date and name of the approving elections commissioner on the letter of the e-mail
- Displaying campaign material in the Business Administration Building without written approval from the building’s manager.
A new religion that started up one year ago called the Church of the Flying Spaghetti Monster has arrived at UCF and students are joining in on it.

The Church of the Flying Spaghetti Monster, also known as the Pastafarian movement, is based on the belief that a flying spaghetti monster is above everyone and touches them with his noodle appendages, said Matty Denton, a digital media major.

"It brings joy and harmony to all people," Denton said.

Denton is one of many Pastafarians, as they call themselves, preaching the word of this new church.

The church was started in May 2005 when Bobby Henderson, a 24-year-old physics graduate, wrote a letter to the Sigma Tau Delta English Honor Society with an idea: "400-500 p.m. in Communications Building Room 305.

Current members, new members and all interested are invited to join and learn to accepted in joining are welcome to attend.

Food, bowling for SARC tutors’ week

Food, bowling for SARC tutors’ week

“Goodie Bag Day” Tutors and SI leaders will receive treats in their mailboxes. Throughout the week there will be drawings for prizes such as a Vice President’s reserved parking spot and the grand prize, a flash drive.

“Tutored-students will have a chance to fill out thank-you cards for each tutoring session. At the end of the week, the cards will be dispersed to the tutors’ mailboxes along with a message of thanks from top administrators.”

Coordinator Ana Mack said gratitude is one of the most important aspects of the week.

“The feedback from the students, the thank-you cards, knowing that they are being appreciated, these are all big benefits to them,” she said. “It makes our tutors become more productive and more confident.”

Mack and Torres唐朝 tutor leaders why they do what they do, few will say it’s because of the money. She said.

Biology major Heidi White, SI, said she considers helping other people satisfying.

“You can just see when the light bulb clicks on,” White said.

For White, working with SARC over the past four years has helped her truly grasp her study concepts.

“I really needed a foundation in biology,” she said. “Tutoring really helped me learn I didn’t understand until I tutored here.”

White hopes to get the word out to her fellow students that there is actually help out there. She will be sitting at a booth outside of the Student Union on Wednesday and Thursday, posting out flyers and explaining SARC’s purpose on campus.

The tutors and SI leaders will also have a chance to get together for tutor training sessions twice during the week. Past training topics have included building a resume and interviewing techniques. Mack said the tutors will meet with the SI leaders as a group to discuss specific strategies to enhance their tutoring.

“Tutors get to see each other every day,” she said. “But SI leaders only come back to the SARC lab to check their mailboxes. This is one of the few opportunities they have to get together.”

The week ends with an appreciation reception, which the associate vice president and the vice president of Student Development and Enrollment Services will attend. The SARC officials will offer a few words of recognition to the tutors and refreshments will be served.

“Our want is to make sure the administrators know who they are,” Mack said. “We want the tutors to know they have those references.”

By the close of National Tutoring Week, SARC will have spread its message to the UCF community in hopes of enhancing the popularity of its programs and tutors.

Tutor like White just want to get her SI name out there.

“We want people to know that they can get help — and that it’s free,” she said.

New senator put in hot seat

Senior Health Sciences Administration Council members, who have the power to decide who is appointed to the student government, are deciding who the next SGA senator will be for the current term. Nurse Sheyla Nieves, a junior from the University of Florida, along with student-x, a sophomore from UCF, have been appointed as candidates for the seat. Senior health sciences administration Council member and appointed senator Blanche Blanchet said she also had a candidate for the seat, but she has not received any applications from other candidates.

The report said that in 2006 approximately 45 percent of U.S. adults surveyed said that HIV testing should be treated the same as screening for any other disease, without special procedures such as written permission from the patient.

"I think that most people probably didn't expect it outside of the political science major though," Mastroianni said. "I don't think the doctors are going to say, 'oh by the way, you know, you're going to get an HIV test.' I mean, it's going to be a really different reaction than it would have gotten even 15 or 20 years ago." Mastroianni said. At the same time, he said, there are certainly still some stigma attached to HIV disease.

"Most people accept recommended HIV testing when it is offered routinely to everyone, without a risk assessment."

"If I'm not supposed to send the message in the first place, how can I be charged again, for not including the name?" he said. The double jeopardy, Mastroianni said, is SGAs way of formally kicking him out so they can elect people they're friends with.

"I think it's a desperate and pathetic attempt to kick me out because SGA wants to bring their friends into office," he said. "All I did was send out an e-mail."

"As for his seat? Blanchet said the judicial Council allows him to keep it, he'll stay in office and "work toward fighting the corruption in SGA."

"And if I'm dismissed, I can appeal it," he said. "Regardless of what happens, I'm just saddened by the whole system.

and the abolition of required written consent before being tested.

Mastroianni thinks it's "going to be important to make it clear that people who are raising objections to those guidelines have concerns that testing would become so "stigmatized that people wouldn't feel they have a choice in the matter."

"The statutes are confusing, hard to find, poorly written and can be interpreted many ways," he said.

Protesters wash ‘blood’ off in Reflecting Pond

According to the letter, food services corporation Aramark supplies students enjoying "Real Food on Campus" with low-quality food that is harmful to the immune system. "I didn’t know anything about Aramark," philosophy and psychology double major Chris Cornell said. "I just know they charge my debit card. I’ll join the (real) buy. I have to cash five first to buy Aramark food.

The letter continued, “As students who pay tuition and fees, who consume products of the University of Central Florida, we continue to protest this institution just as faculty members, administrators, groundskeepers, and UCF’s unethical donors do.”

The letter also stated that UCF’s dependency on Coca-Cola funding fuels the continued global water shortages, cancer, and environmental damage induced by toxic waste. It suggests the replacement of these "unethical" companies with local businesses.

Aerospace engineering major Thomas Spalding said he disagrees with the Coke monopoly, but thinks there is little that can be done because of the company’s massive spending power. “I don’t think local businesses could support the school,” Spalding said. “That could supply food and such, but businesses like Coca-Cola could fund so much more. I work over in Research Park and if Coca-Cola wants to give us loads of money, we can conduct pure research.

To finish their protest, SDS members wanted to wash the symbolic "blood" from their hands in the Reflecting Pond in front of Millican Hall and march back to the front of the Student Union, chanting “Students, not soldiers.

Let us wash our hands together, President Hitt,” the letter concluded, "and plan for an Orlando that isn’t run by a group of people who make peace impossible.

Scandal threatens Republican rule

He did too little to protect a page from Florida, the Florida Republican who resigned late, 29 after the discovery of his sexual misconduct, which is a federal crime, federal and local police.

Peterson, who heads the Republican Policy Committee, sought to make the case that his office has acted properly, that they acted aggressively, and that his department of the office’s websites, including the websites, asked that, and they are.

The scandal has gained momentum because of political forest funerals before the November election with the Republican majority in the House and Senate in jeopardy.

Local product Lukas growing into one of C-USA's best

VICTOR ANDERSON

Whenever she steps on the court, people notice her vertical leap as she soars up. Heads turn and mouths open in awe as she powers her way up to the rim. She's someone to be feared on the court. But her successes are not limited to basketball. She's also excelling on the volleyball court, becoming one of the top players in the conference.

Lukas, a junior outside hitter for the University of Central Florida (UCF) Knights, is making people stop and turn their heads. Her senior year at UCF, Lukas has had a standout season. She's not only leading her team in kills and service aces, but she's also making an impact off the court. Whether it's facing Florida teams or other opponents, her senior year at UCF has been a memorable one. Lukas has made a name for herself as a vocal leader and a role model.

UCF's home field, UCF Arena, was filled with fans cheering on the Knights. The 5-foot-9 freshman from Winter Springs, Florida, has been a revelation for the Knights. Her senior year has been a story of perseverance and determination.

UCF's most recent victory over Memphis came in the 29th minute of the first half. Lukas led the team with 11 kills and seven service aces. Her performance helped UCF secure a 3-0 victory over the Tigers.

Lukas was named to the All-Conference and All-Academic teams this season. She's also a member of the Golden Knights' volleyball hall of fame. Her success on the court is a testament to her hard work and dedication. She's a true example of what it means to be a student-athlete.

Men off to strong start in C-USA

HERB SELLERS

For weeks the UCF men's soccer team has been trying to get something across to everybody. Despite heading into last week with a 2-4-2 record, the Golden Knights wanted people to know they were a good team. Fortunately for the Knights, they were able to prove it in a big way, as they went on to blank No. 27 Memphis 1-0 Wednesday in the American Athletic Conference opener.

The Knights ended Saturday's contest against the UAB Blazers in a tie at one apiece. "I think it's (the win) big," head coach Brett Krivis said. "It's what we've been saying, I think they (Memphis) are an excellent team, but I've always said, I think we're a good team. We needed this win against a good team to kind of show ourselves and show everybody else." Wednesday's game was also the first home game for the Knights in nearly a month.

HOUSTON — Jerry Babbs' 4-yard touchdown pass to tight end Kevin Hollow with 10:17 remaining lifted Louisiana-Lafayette to a 26-21 victory against Houston on Saturday night.

The Ragin' Cajuns (3-2), who fell behind 21-0 early in the second quarter, battled back to tie the score with a two-point conversion that consumed 6:46, and Babb capped the winning drive with a 4-yard run.

The Cougars (4-2) dropped their second straight game, falling to 1-2 in C-USA play.

The first two plays after the long break didn't go Lafayette's way. Kolb fumbled and Houston's Trent Allen intercepted a pass by Klinger, and his 58-yard pass to Jeron Battle set up the Cajuns' first touchdown. A 28-yard field goal by Drew Edmiston closed the half.

UAB 35, Memphis 29

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — Corey White ran for 120 yards on 28 carries and scored three touchdowns to lead UAB to a 35-29 victory over Memphis.

White's 5-yard touchdown run last night in the third quarter proved to be the game-winning points for UAB (6-3, 2-0 C-USA).

Memphis quarterback John Hackinlee completed 22 of 33 passes for 303 yards and three touchdowns for Memphis (1-4, 0-2). Ryan Scott and Duke Collman each caught a touchdown pass for the Tigers.

DAB has beaten Memphis seven times in a row and was the winner in the inaugural "Battle of the Bones." As the final seconds ticked off, UAB players gathered around the trophy, a 100-pound bronze rack of ribs.

The two teams combined for almost 800 yards of total offense and the tone was set on the first play from scrimmage. Hackinlee threw a pass down the left sideline to Scott, who grabbed it near midfield and raced into the end zone for an 82-yard touchdown.

UAB responded with an 11-yard drive, capped by White's 5-yard touchdown run. A 28-yard field goal by Matt Reagan put Memphis in front at the end of the first quarter.

"This was a great win for us," coach Donnie Jones said. "We knew they would come out and play a hard ball in a game that you probably would find the back of the net. We were able to win possession of it, get Bogg in behind and there you go. Kolb was big."

AUBURN, Ala. — Darren McFadden ran for 145 yards and added 104 yards receiving as Arkansas pulled off the biggest upset of the season by a major state school with a 25-0 victory over No. 2 Auburn.

McFadden also broke a 63-year-old run and later added a 1-yard touchdown run over the left side as Arkansas (5-1, 3-0 Southeastern Conference) won its first SEC victory in 10 years.

The Tigers (5-1, 2-1) have already suffered two SEC losses, snaring wins over Florida and Louisiana State on site defense. The Razorbacks were the ones making most of the SEC plays.

The 15-point underdogs succeeded on five tries, including once by Jason White and two fourth-down conversions on fourth-and-9 from the Arkansas 26 for 155 yards.

GAINESVILLE, Fla. — Tim Tebow threw two touchdown passes, including one on a play that could have come from baseball coach Billy Donovan's playbook, and ran for a score to coope rate the Gators' 23-12 victory over LSU.

Tebow improved to 6-0 for the first time since 1996, the year he was a senior in high school, and extended its winning streak against the Tigers. The Gators (4-0 SEC) have won five straight games and nine in a row at home.

Knights tie Blazers, now 1-1 in Conference USA

However, Memphis' Kevi Walton would send the ball hurt out over the crossbar.

A strong UCF defense held the Memphis offense in check, handing the Tigers just their second shutout of the season.

"I think they did what we asked them to do, and that's huge," Walton said.

The Knights finished the night with a 1-0-1 advantage in shots.

With five saves on the night, sophomore goalkeeper Marcos Reinos recorded his third shutout of the season for the Knights.

Memphis goalkeeper Tyler Strom had nine saves on the night for the Tigers.

Sophomore Jake Howard led the Knights with six shots and two shots on goal.

White scored on an 11-yard run to put Memphis to within 35-29 late in the third quarter. But a 28-yard field goal by Jason Snelling made it 35-32.

Tigers' 23. Four plays later, B.J. Don Fractious had an interception by Kevin Sanders to give UAB a 21-17 lead at halftime.

For a half, this looked like a signature win for second-year coach Skip Holtz. The Pirates managed to find the back of the net on an assist from Derick Brickell.

But a 63-yard field goal by Reagin and a 25-yard touchdown pass with 10:21 left in the half by Williams drove UAB into scoring position. And with eight seconds left in the half, and UAB's Willie Edwards with a pass at the Memphis two and Edwards dragged a defender into the end zone for a 27-yard touchdown as time expired, giving UAB a 27-3 lead at halftime.

A 28-yard field goal by Reagin and a 25-yard touchdown pass from Hankins to Carlos Williams. The Cavaliers got a spark offensively, piling 47 points to the Blazers' two. But a 28-yard field goal by Jason Snelling made it 35-32.

"I think you're seeing the evolution of a young team," Walton said.

"I think we played well and we lost that game. Now we play well and we find a way to win," Walton said.

The Knights carried a 1-0-1 lead into halftime, with eight shots and two shots on goal.

The score remained the same for almost the entire second half, until the Blazerrs finally got on the board with 58 minutes of action. UAB's Jerson Montoro managed to find the back of the net on an assist from Derick Brickell.

Just before intermission, the Blazerrs rallied to their lead to two as freshman Jesus Jimenez converted on a 1-0-1 advantage in shots.

The Blazerrs scored on a 27-yard field goal by Reagin and a 25-yard touchdown pass with 10:21 left in the half by Williams.

The Blazerrs stayed in front with eight shots and two shots on goal.

The Knights will then head home Saturday when they take on the No. 11 Wildcats. The game is scheduled for 3 p.m.

The Pirates' 208-yard rushing total was highlighted by incumbent starting running back tandem that rotated its way through the Wildcats defense.

Almost a minute later, the Knights took the tie away from both teams and saw the game with a 29-21 advantage in shots.

Determined to score on a 1-0-1 lead in the second half, the Blue Devils' number one East Carolina's four-rush- ing touchdown drives moved past the Pirates 9-0 in the first minute.

The Knights tied the game with a 29-21 advantage in shots.

The Wildcats have a tough week ahead as they travel to Kentucky Wednesday when they are set to take on conference rival the No. 11 Wildcats. The game is scheduled for 3 p.m.

Pirates get upset win over Virginia

The Wildcats had three saves on the night.

The Knights will then head home Saturday when they take on the No. 11 Wildcats. The game is scheduled for 3 p.m. the Blazerrs and the Knights had nine corner kicks in the match, with all of UAB's coming in the second half of play.

The two teams took the tie away from both teams and saw the game with a 29-21 advantage in shots.

The Wildcats will then head home Saturday when they take on the No. 11 Wildcats. The game is scheduled for 3 p.m.

Pirates get upset win over Virginia

The Pirates even got a 2-yard making score from punter Ryan Dougherty on a fake field goal with 2:57 left to seal the win.

Jason Studding ran for 163 yards and a touchdown for the Cavaliers (2-0).

For a half, this looked like a signature win for second-year coach Skip Holtz. The Pirates completely outplayed the Cavaliers and moved on to 6-1-1 in conference.

All that came despite missing Allen and Johnson. Holtz raised Allen's cut on Saturday morning due to an ankle injury he suffered against West Virginia two weeks ago, while Johnson had been ruled out with a toe injury all week.

Arming teachers won’t end shootings

A

A for the end of school shootings in the past two years, at least one state official is calling for arming teachers in the classroom.

Wisconsin State Rep. Frank Lasee wants to have gunarmed teachers, principals and other faculty. He said it would help prevent kids from bringing weapons to school and protect them if a gunman should attempt to enter the building.

“With the mass shootings at schools and colleges, we’re in a bind. We must make our schools safe for all,” Lasee said on the floor of the Assembly. “That’s why a bill I’ve been pushing for is so important.”

Lasee’s bill, which has been passed by the Assembly and signed by the governor, allows school districts to hire armed security guards for their schools.

The measure is supported by many parents and educators but criticized by others who say it could lead to more violence and conflict in schools.

Opinions

The Student Newspaper at UCF since 1968

The mình elections are coming up, and I've been told that someone is going to say that half of the students at UCF don’t know much about the candidates, they may very well be the most important electorate in the next decade.

I thus that there will be plenty of people who disagree with me and question my knowledge of the American political system, but before you start making these angry letem, let me explain myself.

The reason why there has been so much conservative legislation in the past six years is not really because of President Bush, but because of the Republican control of both houses of Congress. Bush’s veto stamp has never been used, as a few months ago, and he’s pretty much let half of every piece of legislation pass without touching it.

Now, how does this work in the upcoming election? There is this strong backlash against conservative Republicans, and the Democrats stand a good chance of gaining a large amount of seats if they can get their act together and operate cohesively.

Democrats can control the congressional houses for the last two years of Bush’s presidency, and that will only happen if the dominant party shows how much support it has for the issues that are important to voters. But the number of seats that the Democrats are likely to win depends on the outcome of the election in November, which means that the Democratic campaign must be well-organized and well-funded.

The other side of the story is that the Republicans are the most mobilized. Right now, that is the case. Republicans have been very successful in bringing in new voters and getting people to the polls.

Therefore, if you want change, do us this: vote for the Democratic ticket this year. If you want change, do us this: vote for the Democratic ticket this year.
