BURST PIPE IN ROOF DAMAGES LIBRARY

Tiffany Palmu Staff Writer

A burst water pipe in the UCF main campus library prompted the building to be evacuated, damaged more than a thousand books, according to library and Physical Plant employees. Library employees opened the facility on the morning of Oct. 22 notified water cascading down the fourth and fifth floors, according to Frank Allen, associate director of administrative services.

The water was coming from the penthouse, an area on the roof. Water damage affected the third, fourth and fifth floors. Two staff computers were damaged, and about 1,500 books were destroyed, including severalarts and desks of new books on the fifth floor.

The age of the building was the main factor, Physical Plant Building Manager Richard Paradise said. "It was probably the age of the pipe," Paradise said. "The building was built in 1964."

Allen said that UCF Physical Plant was notified immediately, and both library and Physical Plant employees worked together to assess the damage and begin the cleanup. Employees from the library and the

GEORGE W. BUSH STATEMENT

George W. Bush, President

Addressed at the end of a five-day tour of Latin America this week, Bush said that his visit to the region offered an opportunity to strengthen the bonds of democracy and free enterprise, and to pursue our common interest in a safer and more secure world.

The president said that the visit also offered a chance to reflect on the progress made since the September 11 attacks and to reaffirm our commitment to seizing the opportunity for peace and prosperity that the attacks presented.

"We have a long way to go," Bush said.

"It will take time," he added.

The president also said that the visit was an opportunity to emphasize the importance of the partnership between the United States and our Hemisphere.

"We must work together," Bush said.

"We must work together to achieve our common objectives," he added.

The president also spoke about the importance of education and economic growth and development in the region.

"We must work together to achieve our common objectives," he added. "We must work together to achieve our common objectives."
The event will feature several political and candidates who will be available to work with students and answer questions. Food will also be available. For more information, e-mail Annie Ware at boroak@ucf.edu.

The Memory Mall at 8 p.m. will be the site of Annie Ware's interview with Rana. The event this year will be sponsored by the United Student Government Association (SGA) and student/alumni Jake Sanders and Michelle De Leon.

The International Services Office (ISO) will have refreshments in hopes of promoting an awareness of current events and international issues. ISO students will be available to take portraits of individual classes designed to introduce students to cultures from all over the world. These portraits will be accompanied by refreshments provided by the recreation and wellness center.

Speaker argues for alliance in dealing with North Korea

Barak spoke at a Democratic society organized a "gap-ta," which included more than 30 students standing quickly in the middle of Randy's speech, their mouths gagged by cloth and paper signs raised high overhead, then walking out.

When administration told to cut off a questioner who accused Israel of terrorism, Barak, no stranger to criticism, encouraged officials to let him speak.

He punctuated the importance of events in Iran, Egypt, North Korea, Lebanon and Syria, and the lessons to be learned from them.

He argued for an alliance with world powers China and Russia in dealing with North Korea, the weekly's newest nuclear power.

"Only the Chinese can block Kim Jong Il... Kim Jong II must be blocked," Barak said, adding that only a strong and collective effort, led by the U.S., would be successful.

Barak also spoke of his personal experiences, such as a rescue mission he led on an air force helicopter in the Gulf War.

"It's still hard for a lot of freshmen to come in as a freshman and know exactly what they want to major in and not change their mind."

— Mark Allen Poisel, Adult Education Program Director

Does UCF Stand For 'U Can't Finish?'

The number of Friday classes has increased, but few Saturday classes have been added to the number of faculty available for me," Peterlin said. "I'm teaching specialty classes and the number of faculty available for me." Peterlin said.

"I don't have a lot of students that do that because it's pretty contrived, you've got to take these classes this fall," Poisel said. "Sometimes students don't want that. They want to have their choice." If offered a GUT program when she was a freshman, Peterlin said, she would have seriously considered it. "I'm in grad school," she said. "I absolutely love having my schedule planned out for me." Peterlin said. "I don't have to worry about fighting for classes. It's all set. I'm done." The state Department of Education also promotes "acceleration mechanisms" within the education system.

The initiation of Advanced Placement and International Baccalaureate programs as well as Dual Enrollment and Early Admissions programs within Florida public high schools allow students to earn a four-year degree more quickly.

Although about two-thirds of UCF freshmen come in with some forms of accelerated credits, Poisel said he wasn't sure it was affecting graduation rates. "What we find is that students get here and some of them still want to stay four years even though they could graduate in three, or they change their mind," Poisel said. Some students gain credits that don't help toward graduation but might help them take lighter class loads each semester or take fewer summer classes, he said.

"The graduation rate is in large part up to students themselves," Poisel said. Those students who do graduate in four years in high school know what they want to study and take above-average class loads each semester but might help them take lighter class loads each semester and earn extra credits, Poisel said. "I wasn't done with all the music credits," he said. "It's still pretty regimented; it's pretty hard for a lot of students to change their minds," he said.

National group honors UCF agency for intern, co-ops, service learning

The National Society for Experiential Education named UCF's Experiential Learning department as program of the year this month.

Sheri Dreshler, director of the program, said that the honor was a testament to the hard work of the department and the students who participate in the program.

"We are very proud of the work that we do," Dreshler said. "This recognition is a reflection of the commitment of our students and faculty to providing meaningful and valuable learning experiences.

Dreshler noted that the program has had a significant impact on the careers of its participants. "Many of our students have gone on to successful careers in their fields," she said. "We are very proud of the work that we do."
Houston scores 20 straight points in win over UCF

BRIAN MURPHY

On Saturday, UCF's offense held up their end of the deal against the Houston Cougars. They put up a season-high 390 yards. They ran the ball for 240 yards. They controlled the clock and owned time of possession, which helped to keep Houston quarterback Kevin Kolb on the sidelines.

But in the end, none of these statistics really mattered. It was just another loss. It was another week of moral victories of "what if?" Here is how it happened...

UCF lost because....

Again, it was the poor play from the defense. Kolb tallied for over 300 yards, but most of that came after the catch.

Even through the Knights lost cornerback Josh Burnett on injury on the first drive of the game, Kolb did not burn UCF's defense like many thought he would.

Instead, it was Houston's running back duo of Anthony Alridge and Jackie Battle that won the game.

The Cougars' running offense came into the game ranked sixth in Conference USA, averaging 170 yards per game. Addippe and Battle combined for 261 yards on the ground on 29 carries.

Also, the Knights' defense allowed three touchdowns drives of at least 90 yards in the second half, having outstanding 3:40 in the final 30 minutes.

"We just didn't stop them at all, and it's disconcerting," UCF head coach George O'Leary said.

But the offense deserves some blame as well. Even with all those

Bowl hopes all but gone after another blowout loss

KEY PERFORMERS
HOUSTON COUGARS: Will Gage: 17 tackles, 1 interception
Kevin Kolb: 22-34 passing for 365 yards
Anthony Addippe: 1 catch, 119 yards
Mike Walker: 6 catches, 119 yards

UCF GOLDEN KNIGHTS: Dru Welsh: 3 tackles, 1 sack
Kevin Smith: 31 rushes, 163 yards, 3 touchdowns
Mike Walker: 6 catches, 119 yards

Houston's Biren J. Phillips, left, celebrates his 52-yard touchdown catch in the third quarter of Saturday's 51-31 Cougars win over UCF. The touchdown was the longest offensive play of the game for either team and gave Houston a 31-24 lead.

The UCF Football team put together their best sustained offensive performance of the season, but numerous fourth quarter defensive breakdowns wiped it all out in a 51-31 loss to Houston on Saturday in front of 15,352 at Robertson Stadium.

With the win, Houston (6-3, 4-1 Conference USA) became bowl eligible. The Knights (6-4, 1-3) have lost their third consecutive game and sixth in their last seven. UCF is 8-6 in its last nine games against Division I-A opponents dating back to 2005.

Kevin Smith scored three rushing touchdowns, carrying the ball 31 times for 131 yards to lead the Knight's offense, which again flipped quarterbacks with junior Kyle Israel starting and senior Steven Moffett seeing plenty of playing time.

The Cougars jumped out to a 10-0 lead on a 29-yard field goal by Ben Bell and a 52-yard touchdown pass from senior quarterback Kevin Kolb to wide receiver Biren J. Phillips.

Kolb avoided pressure and rolled out to his left on the play, giving his plenty of time to get behind cornerback Emory Allen, who was caught flat-footed as Biren streaked down the left sideline for the score.

Moffett entered the game to begin the running UCF drive and showed fantastic composure, completing three of his four attempts, the only incompletion coming on a drop by junior Betziel Gomez. All three passes, which went to three different receivers, were good for first downs.

Smith did the rest of the work to cap the 52-yard drive, carrying on five consecutive plays before punching it in from the O'Leary makes millions to coach, belittle fans

There's really nothing that can be said about Saturday's loss, so I'll begin by mentioning his name, and beyond any questionable coach's behavior, believe me when I say that O'Leary has done some things in 17 conference title: a game. It continually turned to adversity. Because we all bring something to any bowl game. The Atlantic Coast Conference continues to pump out classic game after classic game. This week, Ole Miss put up its best effort of the season but came up short against No. 5 Auburn and No. 7 Florida. Still, a bowl is a bowl and No. 2 Georgia. The UF-UGA game could be UCF's uneventful string of good luck with its SEC name of the day or two, and ran through the arch for the second time.

No. 2 Georgia. The UF-UCF game could be UCF's uneventful string of good luck with its SEC name of the day or two, and ran through the arch for the second time.

The support isn't the Florida peninsula was supposed to be underwater by now.

The world has not changed significantly in the past five years. Meanwhile, I'll be stocking water for my boat, not expecting the world to end in the next 24 hours. This is not the season for doomsday prepping. The world is not going to end at the end of the world. There is no doubt that the world can be a perfect place, but the world has not changed greatly in recent years. Yes, a lot of people around the world are still poor, but the world is not the same as it was even a few years ago. The only thing that is changing is the way we are looking at the world today.

“We could have gone anywhere. We chose Florida International University.”

Jennifer Cyr, Illinois, received a fellowship to pursue Latin American and Caribbean Studies.

Maja Rastin, Finland, is studying entrepreneurship on a Kauflinan Dissertation Fellowship.

Casandra Roache, New York, is pursuing Public Health.

Florida International University’s innovative graduate programs are designed to prepare you for the demands of today’s dynamic, global workplace. The internationally renowned professors at FIU are passionate about challenging you and making sure you succeed. We graduate people who will change the world. Our professors see the potential in each student and make the most of it.

Florida International University’s School of Business offers more than 120 degree programs at the master’s and doctoral levels ranging from creative writing, business and education to the sciences, engineering and health professions. FIU ranks among the top 20 best values in public higher education in the country, according to Kiplinger’s Personal Finance magazine’s 2006 survey.
