SAE gets the boot from board

After flying in from Illinois to announce its decision on campus, Sigma Alpha Epsilon headquarters said Wednesday that the UCF chapter of SAE will be "suspended indefinitely" as a result of an alleged hazing incident on Oct. 26. We have closed the chapter at UCF, and this takes effect immediately," said Brandon Weghorst, director of communications for SAE headquarters.

The incident resulted in three SAE members being rushed to Florida Hospital East. They were released the same night.

The approximately 90 active members of SAE will lose their rights of membership until graduation. From that on, they may petition to be considered茎生.

"We're just as shocked as everyone else — it goes against everything we stood for," Weghorst said.

The members of SAE were notified of their suspension status just before the press conference via a letter from Thomas Gedrose, the executive director of SAE.

"We plan to make an example of this chapter by revoking membership from a large number of brothers," Weghorst said. "Having will

Speculation that the annual Drag Show, sponsored by the Student Union and the Council of Student Organizations, will be canceled is unfounded, according to the Student Union. "Drag show is going to happen," said Dan O'Brien, the Student Union's director of communications. "We have the dates and the venue secured."

The event, which features drag performers from the Gay Men's Chorus of Central Florida, is sponsored by the Student Union and the Council of Student Organizations. It is open to the general public, as a fundraiser for the Student Union's Gender Resource Center.

The contest consists of three parts: a costume contest, a talent portion and a beauty pageant. The top 10 contestants will be announced at the event, and the winner will be crowned during the beauty pageant.

Budget cuts turn 2-year school into fundraising king

COURTNEY SUTTON
Staff Writer

With a new stadium, construction center and medical school on the horizon, Valencia College is known for its ability to raise funds. However, one local community college may be giving the university a run for its money.

Valencia Community College was recently declared by the Chronicle of Higher Education to be one of the wealthiest two-year schools in the U.S., a credit to its fundraising. Selecting money from private-individuals and corporations is typically a practice reserved for large universities and private colleges.

But due to state budget cuts and the growth of the student population, Valencia has had to change its tactics to increase fundraising.

The contest will be held on Monday, Feb. 11, from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the Student Union. The event will be open to the public.

Forget Dalmatians — the Thursday auction hosted by the Student Government Association and Activity and Service Fee Business Office will feature 101 bicycles.

The auction, which typically averages around 100 items, more than 100 people, will start at 11 a.m. in the Student Union and will last about three hours. The proceeds will go toward the Student Union's First Year Program, SAE and the Student Union's Recreational Center.

Police Department collects bikes left behind on campus and donates them to SGA to be sold. Available bikes vary widely in quality and price, with older husky bikes selling for as little as $10 and aluminum-frame or trick bikes selling for over $60. Only cash will be accepted.

In addition to the standard offerings, this year's auction will also feature 12 Schwinn Spinner Elite exercise bikes, straight from the Recreation Center. The sale of 12 bikes will go toward the purchase of new workout equipment for the Student Union. In addition, $100 general-admission tickets for the Valentine's Day Dinner Dance will be sold, with proceeds going toward the purchase of dinner dance necessities.

Tickets will be sold on the second floor of the Student Union starting Jan. 11 through 14. The sale starts at 11 a.m. and will end at 5 p.m.

...fundraising efforts. It just so happens that the school is extremely good at it. While many community colleges struggle to provide on average a level of competitive with four-year schools, Valencia's technology and programs that are not far behind their counterparts at those institutions. "At Valencia, the classes are well taught and the teachers seemed to care a lot more than the teachers in some other UC's," UCF senior Susan Sherwood said. However, Sherwood said that she didn't like that Valencia seemed to be a lot more of a high school than a college.

Valencia's resources are com:

Valencia student Tom Helton and his brother, Anthony, a UCF student, were also surprised to learn that Valencia has the top community college enrollment in the state. "Valencia doesn't seem like anything special," Anthony Samelson said. However, Valencia student Eric Scott didn't agree that the improvements were every:

...thing they were cracked up to be. "Valencia's kind of seems like the 4th grade," Scott said. "I liked attending both schools, but each one has its own advantages."

At UCF orientation they say that you can do whatever you want. Sherwood says that the problem is actually having a lot of requirements. "I'm not sure if it's a lot of requirements or if they just don't care," Sherwood said. "I use their online catalog."

According to Valencia community freshman and CEO Geraldine Gallagher, the school's degree is on par with a major at a four-year school and that students have more active fundraising solicitation necessary. She said that the majority of the fundraising at Valencia goes to pay for scholarships, which is why one student would not be able to attend school.

"Valencia is an open-door college," Gallagher said. "That way students are able to juggle taking their courses with part-time jobs and the opportunity cost of time away from their paid employment."

loses, it could cost the university hundreds of thou­sands of dollars in legal fees. Pike has filed at least five lawsuits against the university, including for loss of rent and thousands of dollars in legal fees.

In the case of SAE, which is a national organization, one of the key questions is what's the limit to theschool's liability.

The university was awarded more than $200,000 in judgment on hearing charges when Pike's mace was accidentally thrown at one of the university's employees.

Although SAE was charged with violation of a university policy, the university has no liability.

This is the third time SAE has had an SAE incident. It's the third time we've had an SAE incident," Gray said.

The University Police Department investigates all incidents of vandalism.

There are 215 chapters of SAE on national campuses, and the university's investigation will be conducted by the university's police department.

Most recently, the SAE chapter at the Case Western Reserve University in Cleveland, Ohio, had its charter revoked.

Study abroad programs explored

Study abroad fair to showcase 16 programs located in 8 countries

MATT MCKENZIE
Corresponding Writer

Don't be surprised to find the Pegasus Ballroom transformed into an airport on Wednesday. The Office of International Studies is hosting its annual study abroad fair, Take Off With Study Abroad, from 6 to 9 p.m. Wednesday.

"There will be a welcome sign at the entrance showing all the different study abroad programs that will signify the departure screens of an airport," said Maureen Waked, OS study abroad advisor.

Following that will be tables roped off with security tape to represent the security check- point of an airport. A ticket booth with clips of tickets that resemble actual tickets describing the programs will be given out, Waked said.

The fair, also open to non-UCF students, will offer programs from at least eight different countries.

All the programs take place near universities except for the wine and wine program in France, which takes place over spring break.

Spain will have two language programs, one being intensive. Italy will have both a culture and cuisine and a culture and civilization program. Ireland will have a modern history program. Costa Rica will have four social justice programs. The University of Costa Rica also has study abroad programs located in the East and Southeast Asia.

The fair will be one-stop shopping for those who want to study abroad. There will be representatives from the Student Financial Aid and Student Service Center present to provide information for students interested in these programs.

"Also, for the first time ever, the office of the Seminole County Clerk of the Court will be participating in the fair to answer questions and accepting new passport applications," Waked said. "We're hoping to alleviate the last-minute stress that comes with passports and travel abroad. Besides, the passport is good for 10 years, so why not get it now?"

However, they will not provide passport services.

According to the OS abroad fair will have a tent to provide proof of citizenship, proof of identification, and photos on white or off-white background. These photos must be taken by an authorized person (a standard person at Walgreens, Kmart, or Wal-mart) and a social security num-

The UCF Bookstore will have a booth from its Media, William Wilson Moorey, OS program assistant, said. "A slideshow of pictures from actual student experiences abroad will be shown on the big screen.

Two student travel organization representatives from the Study Abroad, Students and Conflict, will be represented.

Students will also have tables with study abroad information. Aurora, FUAU, and USF will have information regarding their study abroad programs.

There are many scholarships provided for students wishing to participate in OS's and the Barry University Honors College administra- tion center for OSU's scholarships. Two examples of non-profit scholarships are OSU's scholarships. Two examples of non-profit scholarships will be provided at the fair at the Free- man AIA and National Security Education Program Scholarships.

The Freeman AIA Scholarship is intended for those with Japanese language and cultural backgrounds who intend to study the languages and cultures less commonly taught at U.S. institutions and that are critical to U.S. national security. Scholarships of $10,000 will be awarded.

Notably, there will be a scavenger hunt that will incorporate interaction with all the tables, Waked said to.

Programs resembling passports will be provided for those who come. If students have their passports, they'll use their passports to get into the airport on Wednesday.

Knights prove they won’t quit with victory over Memphis

CHRIS HOFLER

The UCF Golden Knights finally stepped up when it mattered most, putting together a late scoring drive and a defensive stop to earn their third win of the season, 26-24 over Memphis on Saturday evening.

The Knights were playing for pride and it showed, coming back to win in the fourth quarter despite losing several leads. They won’t earn a bowl berth, but they have a chance to build momentum for 2007 in their final two games. Here’s a breakdown of the Knights first win in over a month.

UCF won...

The rallying quote: “It’s a good win. Anytime you win on the road, it is a good win. We made it exciting,” I’ll tell you that, it was a good solid game. Obviously, both teams made plays. We made more one more play than they did. It’s a good win. It’s a conference win. I’m happy for the kids.” — UCF head coach George O’Leary.

Going into the first half it looked like the game is pushing it, but it was one drive, and UCF won because they finally came up with an open-field tackle. The Knights and Tigers traded haymakers in the 4th quarter, with Memphis hitting a 29-yard touchdown pass from Martin Hanford to Devin Calhoun with 10:40 remaining to take the Knights lead. But the drive stalled at the UCF 35 as Memphis failed to convert a fourth-and-7 situation, sending the Knights to their eight straight loss.

Moffett remains in the East Division cellar and is the only team without a conference win - CUSA play. Moffett, who in recent weeks had been relegated to backup behind Kyle Israel, played the entire game and played confidently after completing his first nine passes, leading to UCF’s early 14-0 lead. His 199 yards were just short of his career-high of 202 against Akron in 2004.

Rocky Ross and Mike Walker were the top receivers on the night, both catching six passes — Ross for 115 yards and Walker for 106.

Moﬀett’s two TDs give UCF 26-24 win

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — Steven Moffett threw for 309 yards and two touchdowns and Michael Torres kicked three second-half field goals to lead UCF to a 26-24 victory over Memphis on Saturday.

Torres kicked the game-winning, 38-yard field goal with just over three minutes remaining as the Golden Knights (3-7, 2-4 Conference USA) snapped a 4-game losing streak.

Memphis quarterback Matt Blanchard completed 26 of 40 passes for 273 yards and three touchdowns.

The teams were tied 18-18 at the half after blond Jenkins’ career-long-40 yard field goal for Memphis with seconds left.

It marked the first time since the third game of the season at East Carolina that Memphis hadn’t trailed at the half.

The first half was an offensive show with both quarterbacks going long completion streaks to engineer scoring drives.

At one point Hankins completed eight straight for Memphis, and Moffett started the game connecting on his first nine passes for 136 yards. That helped UCF move up to its standard of scoring fast with two touchdowns on its first two possessions.

Both scoring drives were under four minutes. The Knights entered the game with only four of their 19 touchdowns drives on the board lasting longer than four minutes.

Both quarterbacks completed over 60 percent. Moffett threw touchdowns passes. The first from 29 yards to Ross, the other for 3 yards to Shane Smith and an easy 4-yard for the Knights.

Game Notes

Steven Moffett starts:

Senior Steven Moffett started for the first time since Oct. 15 and played his first complete game since the Sept. 20 loss to Southern Mississippi. Head coach George O’Leary said that Moffett’s impressive performance in the week’s practice earned him the start.

Walker, Memphis Ranger:

With his two catches on the opening drive, wide receiver Mike Walker has caught a pass in 26 straight games. He has caught a game, which gives him 169 for his career, good for fourth in UCF career receptions.

Torres ties record:

Fluoride Richard Torres tied a UCF record with four field goals in the game. Matt Prater was the last to accomplish the feat, doing so against UAB on Nov. 12, 2005.

BCS still has its right; humans don’t

I love the Bowl Championship Series’ current system for determining the No. 1 team in college football.

It gives us the excitement of the two traditional rivalries we love, as well as the thrilling rivalry in the SEC.

Each year, there are moments when it was one of the best football seasons ever.

The new BCS playoff, though, is a system that simply works better.

On the other hand, I love that it is a game played by human beings.

I’ve never seen a better performance in college football than Chris Hoyler’s.

It seems to me to be a game played by humans, and humans don’t have it in them to be perfect.

U.S. democracy: a thing of beauty

I t's the wake of the Midterm Melodrama, as some have called it. The voters spoke and their voices have altered America's political landscape.

We were unhappy with the way things were going, so we elected a new President Bush. We were unhappy with the way things were going, so we elected a new President Bush. Bush did not win a mandate to change the Republican Party. Bush did not win a mandate to change the Republican Party. But Bush did win a mandate to change the Republican Party.

This is something to be proud of. This mandate gave new power to the Republicans in government.

And Donald Rumsfeld, the man who was doing a "great job" of a job in Iraq, resigned from office in the wake of widespread criticism and ongoing criticism of his work. But Bush was kept in power by an estimated 592 percent last midterm.

President Bush has plowed through a major in biology at Cornell, for the first time in 12 years, three post-September 11 events that have worked to the advantage of the Republicans in Congress.

But Bush does have a mandate to change the Republican Party. Bush does have a mandate to change the Republican Party. But Bush does have a mandate to change the Republican Party.

So long SAE and good riddance

The iconic gold lion outside the Sigma Alpha Epsilon building was gone, at least for now. Of course, the SAE national headquarters closed the frat house after a series of news articles tioned the fraternity's house, removed the house from the SAE chapter from UF and suspended it from the fraternity and anger that results from such a life, we look at the world, we look at the world, we look at the world.

Most people would agree that the war is over, but it is not. Most people would agree that the war is over, but it is not. Most people would agree that the war is over, but it is not.

But Bush has taken the unimaginable step of choosing someone who has been actively criticized the war and has plans to stop the war.

Maybe now someone in the White House will have the guts to stand up to Bush and tell him how he is doing.

Gates, who spent 27 years in China and may have turned out in higher places,

Domino's replacement, Robert Gates, is a Bush family friend.

This is something to be proud of. This mandate gave new power to the Republicans in government.
In case the whole superstar thing doesn’t work out.
