"The death penalty has been a contentious issue for many years, and one prominent expert says it's just wrong—it's on its way out the door. The defense of the death penalty is in tatters," Hugo Bedos said.

Bedos, professor emeritus of philosophy at UCF, is a leading scholar and vocal opponent of the death penalty who has spent decades studying the moral and legal issues of capital punishment. On Monday, he shared his thoughts and research with UCF students and faculty at the Alfred University. The event was part of a series sponsored by the Center for Justice.

"I am an 'ethicist humanist,'" Bedos said. "It's a philosophical approach to the issues rather than going into specific details of the legal system." To make his point, Bedos introduced some statistics from the 1990s. He noted those numbers to point out a large gap between the average amount of homicides each year and the number of people who actually received the death penalty for committing those crimes.

On average, he said, there were about 10,000 homicides per year in the U.S., but only 1,000 resulted in an arrest. Of that 1,000, a few resulted in a death sentence, and even less were actually put to death.

"This is unquestionably the most controversial part of the death penalty..." Bedos said.

Hypnotist Tom DeLuca fuels his show with the creativity of volunteers.

TITUS GILLISPE

Hypnotized volunteers who battled they were spies and body-shaking contest­ ers fixed the stage Thursday night in the Pegasus Ballroom as Comedy & Variety presented the evening with Hypnotist Tom DeLuca.

DeLuca's routine utilized the imagina­tion and creativity of his volunteers. By putting them into a relaxed state, free of the pressures surrounding proper social consciousness, they were able to overcome natural inhibitions.

"They just do things, and you don't feel anything," said hypnotist volunteer Ambrose Mills. "I don't know how to explain it. It's like you are not completely there."

DeLuca's talent have been witnessed by a wide audience. He performs hypnosis routines on college campuses across the United States. The investors paid as much as $750,000 for each to be set up in body-building businesses that would enable them to get a visa, the criminal complaint said.

Notes can’t fix all course questions

When you're on your own risk,

Morrison-Shefter said the conse cern stems from the possibility of inaccurate information in the notes, and then students would be "paying tuition to take the class and then paying money for materials that are obviously wrong.

So if using these note packets doesn’t violate the Golden Rule, why do some professors still have a problem with them?

According to Morrison-Shefter, the clause in the Golden Rule that prohibits selling class notes still does apply. Furthermore, some professors are still concerned about the violation of intellectual property rights and copyright protections.

Elderly driver crashes into DMV building injuring at least 11

FREEFIELD, N.J. — An 80-year-old woman crashed her car into a downtown Free­field building Wednesday, injuring 11 people, police said.

Seven people were transported to area hospitals, Flori­da Highway Patrol Sgt. Mark Wysoczynski said. The injuries were not life threatening.

The office was open for business when the crash occurred, the state’s depart­ment of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles Wednesday reported.

Corinne M. Smith, of Boca Raton, drove her 1999 Mer­cury Grand Marquis into a covered area in front of the building, but did not attempt to damage the structure, Fire Depart­ment Chief Gary Forsman said.

Man found not guilty of making malicious threats to judges

JACKSONVILLE — Juens accused of threatening two judges he alleged were less than honest about his child custo­dial battle, no threat to kill or injure them or their fam­i­lies.

The six-day jury deliber­ation ended two hours before fund­ing Patrick-Cabell not guilty of two counts of making threats.

Case 12-41, of St. Lucie, FLA, was arrested in March 2009 on a 24-count felony indictment for making and sending tele­pho­ne and e-mail death threats to three judges in their court­room.

Two Koreans to resume high-level talks after nuclear deal

SEOUL, South Korea — The two Koreans will hold high-level talks later this month, officials said Thursday, in the first face­to-face meeting of high-level delegations in such industries as con­struction.

North Korea’s top envoy to six­nation talks on his coun­try’s nuclear program also said Pyongyang is ready to talk to other countries on the disarmament agreement, which was reach­ed earlier this week, Japan’s Kyodo News agency reported.

The Cabinet-level talks between the two Koreas will be held in Pyongyang from Feb. 17 to March 2, according to a joint statement adopted at a lower-level conference in the North Korean border city of Dandong.

South and North Korea have held high-level talks since 2000, but they have failed to resume for about three years amid stalled negotiations.

Green Wave drowns Knights

Men's basketball drops to 18-7

UFOC essentially scored all the positive things it had done since the loss to Memphis on Jan. 31, blowing a double-digit lead on the road. And that's all there was to it.

Saturday's win over Marshall in the 64-6 Conference USA game, 103-91.

David Gronen, the team's leading scorer entering the game, had three fouls in the first half and was rendered a non-factor with just two points. But he scored the final six points for Tulane in the second half, and his finish off a pass from Daniel Puckett gave the Green Wave their first lead of the second half at 90-88.

"The Knights showed flashes of life after that, answering Tulane's 12-2 run to take a 57-56 lead," UCF head coach Kirk Spurgeon said after the game. "But they were hampered when guard Mike O'Donnell was forced to sit for a minute after rolling his right ankle and Pope and Jermaine Taylor picked up their fourth fouls, leaving them on the bench during crucial moments."

"We get in foul trouble with Lewis of Jermaine's. Don't get us out of touch with that one of our opposite teams."

20 points help Magic win over the Portland Trail Blazers.

OCTLAO — In his latest NBA season, Dwight Howard is pulling up strong numbers that place him in good company.

Howard captured the last game before his first All-Star appearance with 20 points and 16 rebounds on Feb. 12-12 shooting in Orlando 103-91 win Wednesday over the Portland Trail Blazers. He hit him in 8 percent field goal mark over the last five games, 90 points (16 percent) in his last four games against to lead the Portland Trail Blazers (23) and lead two points, and the Trail Blazers front court that Spurgeon praised after Saturday's win over Marshall.

"It's nice to have our new addition, and he's very solid as their three starting batters. We got a pair of Marshall turnovers and a 3-pointer by Brian Epps to win the Thundering Herd lead to 98-60. A double figure three-point attempt by Jermaine Taylor was knocked down out of the basket to preserve the win for the Thundering Herd.

Bye Bye Orlando Magic fans got 21 points and six assists for a 52-39 win.

"Still a great game," the 39-year-old Howard said. "I just keep playing my game." Spurgeon took a shot of a recent game with 28 points for Oregon. Darius Millican added a career-high 21 points and eight rebounds, and Kamari Murphy had 15 points and a season-high seven assists.

The win kept the Magic (27-50) one game over .500 heading into the All-Star break, and capped Portland's four-game East Coast road trip at 32. Orlando took control in the second quarter, finishing the first half on an 18-4 run for a 50-27 lead.

On Saturday, sophomore Randal has thrown four shutout innings in TCU's win over Creighton, on 93 pitches. He, assigned to the Elizabethan of the second game in the series, was credited with the win over TCU.

While the Terrapins plan to use the same three starting pitchers from last weekend's series, the Knights rotation is still developing.

The Knights and Terrapins will meet for the first time on Friday. Due to cold temperatures that have been at -10 degrees for Friday's game, the weather will be much colder. The Knights had a 10-2 win over the Owls in the opening games against Florida International and UAB.

Although he finished with a 2-3 record, Houck was outstanding in his four innings of work on Wednesday night. He was named the ACC Player of the Week.

If you've got a fever, and the only prescription is more cowbell, the new album from The Showdown is your long-awaited and long-sought-after medicine.

Their new release, "Teens Come My Way," rocks on a Southern twist with subtle stages of cowbell in most of the songs. Tempatations Come My Way is compelling, taking the downfalls experienced by the band members and turning them into a tale of redemption. Guitar solo piano grand leaders from track to track, forming elements of mainstream rock with Christian influence.

Although Billy Joel is almost 60 years old, you would never have believed it after witnessing him in action at his Amway Arena concert Saturday.

Dancing around the stage that has made him a fan of his age, he introduced himself to the concert, turned on the piano and sang, "Well, I heard that my concerts are the place to come for the young and old. I think we should have a bust-out with some of the best and biggest hits in the world."

He also made a mildly obscene joke about his baldness and called for the audience to come up and give him their money. He then continued his attack on the remnants of the band's fans, saying, "The only prescription is more cowbell, and that's what I've got."

He continued his attack on the remnants of the band's fans, saying, "The only prescription is more cowbell, and that's what I've got."

From AF

Should Win: As terrific as Duchov and Windemere were, Keaton really does deserve it. With "Take a wild ride!"

Piano Man" appealed to young and old alike

From AF

"Piano Man" is a self-penned convention

The Showdown mixes metal, singable lyrics

From AF

The Showdown's music has been described as the brutal, but honest voice for youth. Their reputation is also backed by the fact that they're not only played on the radio, but also covered on TV. The album's lyrics are singable and catchy, making it a hit with the younger generation. The Showdown's music is characterised by its modern, heavy and catchy sound. The album has been well-received by critics and fans alike. "Piano Man" was named as one of the best songs of the year, and it became an instant classic. The album was released on February 20, 2007, and it has already sold over 500,000 copies worldwide. The Showdown's music has been praised for its ability to connect with young audiences in a way that few other bands can.
