Knights, UKC's beloved mascot, was lifted high in the air as hundreds of students danced the Hillel at the Alumni Center on Saturday. The Fairwinds Ballroom was decorated to its best, with black and gold balloons for the Bar Mitzvah celebration experience at UCF. The Red Knights planned to offer no problem catering to more than 100 people who attended in semi-formal attire, and master of ceremo­nies Julian Feidtcar­ried the event while the disc jockey spun the vinyl that kept the dance floor moving.

500 parking passes will be given away

Matt Mckeeley

As expected, the 8,500 stu­dent lottery tickets sold to the home opener against Texas on Saturday will have been given away.

Students who regis­tered by the extended, dead­line of Thursday at 11:59 p.m. and received tickets, said Joe Horstein, assistant director with the athletics department.

Only 520 students regis­tered for the lottery, Horstein said.

The remaining tick­ets were given to student staff members in the athletics department.

“This was around the number of students I anticipated to regis­ter for,” Horstein said.

Brandon Delano, the ath­letics and facilities coordina­tor for the Student Govern­ment Association, said the student turnout for the lottery may have been a result of aWeb­site testing that caused an hour delay for students to regis­ter.

“There could have been a num­ber of reasons for the low turn­out,” Delano said.

FIEA students say it's good to be bad

RICHARD BILBAO

A team of students at UCF’s Florida Interactive Entertainment Academy have completed a game where players can take on the role of a supervillain.

The game, titled “RICHARD BILBAO,” is set in a world where the supervillain is the protagonist. In the game, players can use their powers to defeat heroes and take over the city. The game is available for download on the FIEA’s website.

“Being a supervillain is a lot of fun,” said one of the students who worked on the game. “It’s nice to have the power to control the world.”

The game was created by a team of students led by Professor Thomas Carnagey. The team worked for several months to develop the game and was funded by a grant from the U.S. Department of Education.

“I think this is a great opportunity for our students to learn about game development,” said Professor Carnagey. “They get to work on a project from start to finish and see the end result.”

The game is available for free download on the FIEA’s website. Students can also purchase a physical copy for $25.

SHERRY DEL LA TORRE

A group of students at UCF’s Florida Interactive Entertainment Academy have completed a game that simulates a real-life experience.

The game, titled “SHERRY DEL LA TORRE,” is set in a time when a student is attending college. In the game, players must navigate the challenges of college life, including balancing academics, social activities, and personal relationships.

“I think this is a great opportunity for our students to learn about game development,” said Professor Carnagey. “They get to work on a project from start to finish and see the end result.”

The game is available for free download on the FIEA’s website. Students can also purchase a physical copy for $25.

UCF could be next to adopt differential tuition

Laurie Paulus

Recent budget cuts and money problems are leaving Florida's universities with a view of difficult times ahead and a lot of unanswered questions.

UCF restricted enrollment to 200 levels and cut funding to meet budgetary needs...but other Florida universities made different adjustments.

Next year, Florida, Florida State and South Florida universities will introduce a differential tuition plan where students will pay up to 60 percent more for college.

This plan was not adopted at UCF—but President John Hitt said it's a possibility at the Faculty Senate meeting.

"We voted not to do that yet," Hitt said. "We worked very hard to get that done..." One reason UCF has not implemented differential tuition yet is because students would have to pay extra money some universities aren't making.

"That's the extra money some students would have to pay," said John Hitt, president of university relations.

The funding from the state is allocated to academic colleges, faculty and staff costs and non-salary costs such as operational expenses.

"That if we don't get it, we can't spend it," Neighbor said. "We basically decide what the priorities are. That's a hard call."

At the Faculty Senate meeting, Hitt spoke of 6 to 8 percent cuts for Florida public universities, not just this year, but also in the year to come.

The rumor was untrue. As the page turned on the dance floor, the ninth candle, providing the largest dance floor to light the ninth candle, was popped. The UCF mascot, honored the evening said it all. - Staff

Celebration honors UCF organizations

"Merry Christmas," said the executive board, and we wanted to come out and support them because we are so proud," O'Shaughnessy said.

"This is a great opportunity for the students to come out and celebrate the pride we have in being Jewish." Welt added.

όOur dream is to keep each major and program as affordable as possible," Neighbor said. "We're all in attendance...dancing and games are set."

The atmosphere, the decorations, seeing all these students here is amazing," Welt said.

"pay off the Stadium that would be issued along with the e-mail notification to lottery winners.

The name was unannounced. As part of the negotiations, the athletics department sent to students a notice saying they need for entrance to the UCF Athletic Center, the name of your said UCF ID card.

As the page turned on the opening of the lottery, the Reserve Presidents and the directors also want to confirm the status of each student, the letter regarding your ticket, tickets to the Scholarship, and will be made available to students through an electronic lottery王爷短消息.

"I hope they can win," Neighbor said. "We're all in attendance...dancing and games are set.

Hitt said that the process of the Pegasus Model, put together by several employees, doesn't include the Academic Affairs office and the Board of Trustees. The University Budget Office is in the middle of the process.

"All we do is develop it, based on the Board of Governing and the Legislative," said Vanessa Fortier, finance of the University Budget Office. Per year, UCF will continue to keep such major and provide tuition at the same price. If tuition increases for students, it will Increase for every student.

Neighbor said that if UCF does follow the trend of differential tuition, other universities will most likely follow. At the Faculty Senate meeting, Hitt said that the colleges would probably be Florida International University and Florida Atlantic University. Before UCF is on the list of possible differential tuition participants, the plan will have to be altered, Hitt said.

"If UCF supports it," Hitt said, "there should be a process more fair, transparent and equitable."

Knights sweep UCF Invitational, junior Jenny Heppert is named tourney MVP and the team is now the owner of its longest winning streak in four seasons.

The UCF Women’s Soccer team finished off the UCF Invitational with a flurry of goals and a 11-0 shutout. The Knights ran up three goals in the first half, 2-1 Friday.

The head coach of the Aggies attempted to persuade the officials to allow the teams to take the field, but it didn't work. "They tried to get us to play the game, and we try not to do other team's favor what we do," said Heppert. "Serna wasn't the only Knight who filled up the box score. Erin Campbell, Nicole Breugemeyer and Jenny Heppert all recorded double-doubles against Montana.

The defensive struggles played with the Knights as UNLV had several opportunities to score early in the second half, including a shot that sailed just over the crossbar. But the Knights took the lead in the 58th minute when UNLV's goalkeeper couldn't stop a shot from Begley, George, Thomas and Whidden was named the All-Tournament Team.

UCF allowed just three shots in the first half but gave it up twice as many in the second, something Cromwell said could be attributed to tired legs. "We started dropping off a bit," Cromwell said. "Sometimes they get tired, and they don't want to get caught forward and they don't want to give the space up behind them sometimes, so they hang back a little bit." The Gamecocks managed a plus-2 goal differential in the second half, including a shot that was a handful for South Carolina defender in the Knights' 2-1 win Friday night. Thomas had the game-winning goal in the 58th minute when UNLV's goalkeeper couldn't stop a shot from Begley, George, Thomas and Whidden was named the All-Tournament Team.

The Knights took care of business on the opening day of the tournament Thursday as they defeated North Florida in the afternoon match 3-1. The opening two sets were close, with the Knights winning 30-23, 30-23 and dropping the third set 30-20. The central set was 30-26, 30-12, 18-30 and 30-26 before sweeping Florida Atlantic in the nightcap 3-0 (30-23, 30-29 and 30-23).

CFU totalled 26 service aces on the day, with Petrasic registering eight against EKU, the second-most in a single match in school history.

"I was talking to the coaches before (the match) and I just thought about every little thing that they didn't do," said Petrasic, who also had 10 digs in the match. "I thought, 'What do I need to do to improve on what I actually did?'

The Knights will renew the I-4 rivalry this weekend when they travel to South Florida to take on the Bulls in the opening match of the 11th-Beat Measures Invitational on Thursday.

The Bulls have won five straight matches coming into the tournament. They are led by Marcella Campobasso, who has 159 kills and 39 service aces so far this season. She is jut dynamic and did a great job all weekend," Colado said.

UCF claims title at New Mexico Invitational

ZACH PARDUE
Contributing Writer

The UCF Men’s Soccer team won the overall title by taking both of its matches in the Nike/TUCN Plumber and Utility Invitational over the weekend in Albuquerque, N.M.

“The Knights (2-0-0) defeated defending Big East Champion Cincinnati in dramatic fashion Friday by a score of 2-1. Sunday, they wrapped up the title by beating Loyola Marymount University 1-0.

Midfielder Ryan Rosshandel headed the deciding goal of Friday’s contest with less than a minute remaining in regulation after forward James Cunningham sent a free kick in from the right side.

Everyone played as a unit, both on the attack and defensively,” UCF freshman goalkeeper Sean Johnson said. “They were able to use our entire bench effectively.” Cunningham said. “Every player that came in off the bench had a positive impact on the game. It was a total team effort.”

The victory had a huge impact on the Knights, who, like the Bearcats, were searching for their first win of the season.

“Already, you can see that our confidence has skyrocketed,” Rosshandel said. “We defeated the Big East champions.”

UCF’s first goal was scored by Johnson, the Knights’ rookie, six minutes into the action as he converted a cross from Midfielder Ryan Roushandel’s two goals of the match, the first of Johnson’s collegiate career.

‘We were able to use our entire bench effectively,’ Cunningham said. ‘Every player that came in off the bench had a positive impact on the game. It was a total team effort.’

Johnson, the Knights’ rookie goalkeeper, continued to play well, making seven saves in the match — including two crucial ones that came in the final minutes of the contest. The shutout was the first of Johnson’s collegiate career.

‘Sean was able to maintain control in the box and make the saves,’ Cunningham said. ‘He did exactly what we expected him to do.’

Rosshandel, Georgeff, Johnson and freshman Oscar Pascioni were named to the all-tournament team.

Rosshandel led the team with eight shots, including four that were put on goal. He scored two goals Friday. Cunningham said Rosshandel’s three shots and one shot on goal in the weekend’s competitions. He also had an assist in Friday’s win.

‘We were able to use Mike in a variety of ways on the field,’ Cunningham said in a press release. ‘We picked up the ball in the middle and made the pass to Mike for a nice goal.’

IT'S NOT JUST ABOUT BEING FRIENDS ON A GOOD DAY. A GUY CAN ALWAYS BE NICE WHEN THINGS ARE GOING HIS WAY. NOPE, IT'S WHEN THE S#!T HITS THE FAN, LIKE WHEN YOUR BUDDY NOT ONLY SLEEPS WITH YOUR GIRLFRIEND BUT THEY HAVE A THREESOME WITH A STRIPPER NAMED SUNNY, THAT YOU REALLY HAVE TO DIG IN AND FIND OUT HOW HARD YOU CAN HIT HIM WITHOUT ACTUALLY KILLING HIM. YEAH, IN PHILADELPHIA, THAT'S JUST HOW WE ROLL.
