Pirate adventure
Knights head to East Carolina looking to extend their winning ways — SEE SPORTS, A7

Medical city
BREAKS GROUND
More than 500 attended ceremony
ROBIN SIDERSKY
UCF officials broke ground Wednesday at Lake Nona, the planned home of UCF’s College of Medicine and a medical city.

Around Campus
500 USF tix up for grabs
MATT MCKINLEY
Six hundred fortunate and devoted students will receive a free ticket to the sold-out game against the University of South Florida Oct. 15, courtesy of the Student Government Association.

FOOD
THAI SAUCE
CAUSES CHAOS IN LONDON
A Thai restaurant in London caused quite a scare when Wednesday night, passers-by began spotting a man who looked like a chef and was carrying knives.

Library listed as spot for gay sex
Men’s restrooms a place for ‘cruising’
AMANDA WELCH
Robbin Chen, a senior library technical assistant at UCF, entered a third floor restroom that seemed to be empty.

Homicide victims’ lives are honored
JESSICA SANDBERG
He would have been friends with anyone, even you.

LAW
JUST SAY NO TO BUCKS
Drugs in college aren’t just affecting your health but also your wallet. A recent study showed that college students spend an average of $1,900 on drugs each year.

600 USF tix up for grabs
Game is second straight sellout for USF
MATT MCKINLEY
Six hundred fortunate and devoted students will receive a free ticket to the sold-out game against the University of South Florida Oct. 15, courtesy of the Student Government Association.

The ticket giveaway will take place at Bright House Networks Stadium at 7 a.m. Monday, between gates 12 and 13. Those gates are opposite the student entrance.

No tailgating activities are allowed. This includes, but is not limited to grilling, drinking and parking at the stadium.

"Students must park in the designated lots and garages that their decals allow for on campus school days," Delanois said.

The UCF Police Department will be on regular patrol and doing

President John Hitt and Student Government Association President Brandon Hollinger portray a pumpkin and light up a cigarette, respectively, during a smoking ceremony at the lake. The event signaled the environment of construction by UCF’s College of Medicine and the emerging life-sciences cluster.

‘This is a monumental day for the Central Florida community,' Orlando Mayor Buddy Dyer said. ‘It’s a call for all for the activity in the medical city.'

Dyer was honored by UCF President John Hitt as an honorary knight. Orange County Mayor Richard Crotty and Orlando Mayor Richard Crotty were also honored.

THE WORLD TODAY
Into homes and homes near a market were discovered just before 1 a.m. by an victim of a suspected ATM robbery.

The Science and Technology Park will be home to the medical cluster that is projected to bring $6.4 billion per year to the Central Florida economy.

"It doesn’t get any better," German said. "It’s a celebration of the birth of our medical city."

The Burnham Institutes for Medical Research will house UCF’s College of Medicine and the emerging life-sciences cluster.

This site in Lake Nona is 600 acres and will have an Orlando Veteran Affairs Hospital and the new Orlando Children’s Hospital and Research Campus.

An off-duty police officer who was that day, but early Thursday, the was honored by the Outlanders Club. He would have been lucky if he didn’t have to Deal, Buddy Dyer said.

He would have been friends with anyone, even you.

He would have been friends with anyone, even you.
Students neglect runoff elections

ROBYN SIDERIS

The second week of Student Government Association elections is a time of attention of less than 2 percent of the student body. When the runoff results are released on Monday, the day in the front of the student body,
Grounds for 'cruising'

To fic, a Web-site has been created on the third and fourth floors of the Library as a congress space, as well as the rooms by Lakeisha Clark.

The Web-site, located, has more than 25,000 home runs for such plays, called "crusing.

We must have posted more than 100 comment about meeting in the UCF library as well as commenting on their experiences. These are displayed only by screen name to protect their identity.

The most recent comment on the site is from Thursday, October 7, that "We'll be out here all the time. It's great, not much to do if you take the time to go - good times on campus."

UCF's parking is for the most common of any parking lot. It is located across, a record UCF rises with "blackout.

The UCF Police Department has no reports on the regarding such conflicts, but officially encourages those with relevant information to bring it to their attention.

ABC News report that the said Sunday, Laser's fringe's 25th anniversary celebration, "Not a minute was left unsold.

It is the primary duty of the University of South Florida, Florida Atlantic University and the University of Central Florida. In May, Rear of the UCP U.P. the word to be published in 2001. The last reported one of cruising was "Michelle" was the police to arrest at the rear. The suspect was the Cash. James Holloway at the UCP U.P. and the product was of the color.

What the public information officer told the public, please be advised that the website has been removed.

Cruising can result in fines, court appearances, sexual and drug offenses, which can result in a first degree manslaughter. This can result in a year to 10 years of a second degree murder, sentence, based on up to 60 years.

Friends take time to grieve

Touched by her rare, laid back, yet vivid personality and an exuberant qualities, Touched by her rare, laid back, yet vivid personality and an exuberant qualities, "We were just trying to do the right thing to help someone else," Ruschak said. He described how Ruschak got his class involved.

"She was so average," said Jessi Bateman, who had been friends with Ruschak since kindergarten. She remembered how Ruschak got his class involved.

"We just click," Bateman said.

With AvMed, you're always in the driver's seat.

Remember, with AvMed you don't need a referral to see a specialist.

For more information, go to www.avmed.org/go/state.

HEALTH PLANS

Health plans with your health in mind.

Charlton Barwick, the AvMed, said, "He lives too.

"Tiffany Barwick, a Seminole Valley Community College student.

"I don't think I've ever introduced someone to him and they've not gotten along before," said Charles Bateman, who had been friends with Ruschak since kindergarten. She remembered how Ruschak got his class involved.

"He made people his friends with Ruschak since kindergarten. She remembered how Ruschak got his class involved.

"We were just trying to do the right thing to help someone else," Ruschak said. He described how Ruschak got his class involved.

"She was so average," said Jessi Bateman, who had been friends with Ruschak since kindergarten. She remembered how Ruschak got his class involved.

"We just click," Bateman said.

With AvMed, you're always in the driver's seat.

Remember, with AvMed you don't need a referral to see a specialist.

For more information, go to www.avmed.org/go/state.

HEALTH PLANS

Health plans with your health in mind.
kitchen products and other everyday items.

Many of the respondents were tested, the findings suggested that the study’s authors were right.

What’s in the online survey was risk.

Nearly 60 percent of the respondents tested had a crisis plan, and most said that plan included measures for preparing for an emergency, fire, or bomb threat - all longtime emergency management concerns.

The recall product was old-fashioned, the food industry.

If something goes wrong, said, some promoters will panic a week or two out and pull the plug on a show. Other times, shows are canceled because the promoter can’t financially pull it off, such as not being able to pay the venue deposit.

The recalled product was a myriad of Baker’s white chocolate distributed in No other varieties of Baker’s white chocolate were affected by the recall, according to Kraft.

There were no instances of an earthquake in recent history to make no one caved in the various house.

When no one caved in, the promoter can’t financially pull it off, such as not being able to pay the venue deposit.

The online survey was risk.

Nearly 60 percent of the respondents tested had a crisis plan, and most said that plan included measures for preparing for an emergency, fire, or bomb threat - all longtime emergency management concerns.

The recall product was old-fashioned, the food industry.

If something goes wrong, said, some promoters will panic a week or two out and pull the plug on a show. Other times, shows are canceled because the promoter can’t financially pull it off, such as not being able to pay the venue deposit.

The recalled product was a myriad of Baker’s white chocolate distributed in No other varieties of Baker’s white chocolate were affected by the recall, according to Kraft.

There were no instances of an earthquake in recent history to make no one caved in the various house.

When no one caved in, the promoter can’t financially pull it off, such as not being able to pay the venue deposit.

The online survey was risk.

Nearly 60 percent of the respondents tested had a crisis plan, and most said that plan included measures for preparing for an emergency, fire, or bomb threat - all longtime emergency management concerns.

The recall product was old-fashioned, the food industry.

If something goes wrong, said, some promoters will panic a week or two out and pull the plug on a show. Other times, shows are canceled because the promoter can’t financially pull it off, such as not being able to pay the venue deposit.

The recalled product was a myriad of Baker’s white chocolate distributed in No other varieties of Baker’s white chocolate were affected by the recall, according to Kraft.

There were no instances of an earthquake in recent history to make no one caved in the various house.

When no one caved in, the promoter can’t financially pull it off, such as not being able to pay the venue deposit.

The online survey was risk.

Nearly 60 percent of the respondents tested had a crisis plan, and most said that plan included measures for preparing for an emergency, fire, or bomb threat - all longtime emergency management concerns.

The recall product was old-fashioned, the food industry.

If something goes wrong, said, some promoters will panic a week or two out and pull the plug on a show. Other times, shows are canceled because the promoter can’t financially pull it off, such as not being able to pay the venue deposit.

The recalled product was a myriad of Baker’s white chocolate distributed in No other varieties of Baker’s white chocolate were affected by the recall, according to Kraft.

There were no instances of an earthquake in recent history to make no one caved in the various house.

When no one caved in, the promoter can’t financially pull it off, such as not being able to pay the venue deposit.

The online survey was risk.

Nearly 60 percent of the respondents tested had a crisis plan, and most said that plan included measures for preparing for an emergency, fire, or bomb threat - all longtime emergency management concerns.

The recall product was old-fashioned, the food industry.

If something goes wrong, said, some promoters will panic a week or two out and pull the plug on a show. Other times, shows are canceled because the promoter can’t financially pull it off, such as not being able to pay the venue deposit.

The recalled product was a myriad of Baker’s white chocolate distributed in No other varieties of Baker’s white chocolate were affected by the recall, according to Kraft.

There were no instances of an earthquake in recent history to make no one caved in the various house.

When no one caved in, the promoter can’t financially pull it off, such as not being able to pay the venue deposit.

The online survey was risk.

Nearly 60 percent of the respondents tested had a crisis plan, and most said that plan included measures for preparing for an emergency, fire, or bomb threat - all longtime emergency management concerns.

The recall product was old-fashioned, the food industry.

If something goes wrong, said, some promoters will panic a week or two out and pull the plug on a show. Other times, shows are canceled because the promoter can’t financially pull it off, such as not being able to pay the venue deposit.

The recalled product was a myriad of Baker’s white chocolate distributed in No other varieties of Baker’s white chocolate were affected by the recall, according to Kraft.

There were no instances of an earthquake in recent history to make no one caved in the various house.

When no one caved in, the promoter can’t financially pull it off, such as not being able to pay the venue deposit.

The online survey was risk.

Nearly 60 percent of the respondents tested had a crisis plan, and most said that plan included measures for preparing for an emergency, fire, or bomb threat - all longtime emergency management concerns.

The recall product was old-fashioned, the food industry.

If something goes wrong, said, some promoters will panic a week or two out and pull the plug on a show. Other times, shows are canceled because the promoter can’t financially pull it off, such as not being able to pay the venue deposit.
Florida falls behind in B.A. degree recipients

Donald Thomand

Florida lags behind in the number of working adults who have bachelor's degrees, the vice chancellor of Academic Affairs at the Florida Board of Governors said at a board meeting Tuesday.

The board found 46th in the nation in the number of bachelor's degrees awarded per 100,000 adults.

"There is where we're at right now, but there are a lot of things we can do," said Delanois, who praised the number of students graduating with associate degrees.

The Florida Board of Governors' data for 2023 shows that Florida is ranked 46th in terms of bachelor's degrees awarded per 100,000 adults.

When asked how to improve the number of degrees awarded, Delanois said, "We need to have a stronger emphasis on getting more people to go to college."
Shiite mayor dies in roadside bomb

KIM GANIEL  Associated Press

BAGHDAD—Roadside bombs killed the top Shiite official in a volatile area south of Baghdad, and an anti-Al Qaida Sunni sheik to the official in a volatile area south of Baghdad, the latest violence in a country on the verge of civil war.

Abbas Hassan Hamza, a political moderate and the top official in the Iskandariyah district, was killed by a bomb that struck his convoy while he was going to work, a police officer said.

Four of his bodyguards also were killed and one was wounded, the officer said, speaking on condition of anonymity because he feared retaliation. Hamza had directed two years ago to Prime Minister Nouri al-Maliki’s Dawa Party from the largest Shiite party now known as the Supreme Iraqi Islamic Council.

Suspicion for the killing fell on Shiite extremists looking for power ahead of expected provincial elections. Iskandariyah has a volatile mixed population that is about 60 percent Shiite and 40 percent Sunni.

The Mahdi Army militia, loyal to radical Shiite cleric Moqtada al-Sadr, is active in the area, some 30 miles south of Baghdad.

The Sadrists boycotted the January 2005, voting most local leadership posts to Supreme Iraqi Islamic Council and other rival groups. Rising internal violence threatens to plunge the southern Shiite heartland into political turmoil.

The tensions pose a dilemma for the U.S. military, which must decide whether to intervene in what essentially is a civil conflict over the U.S. military.

Suspect in the killing was a top Sunni extremist looking for power ahead of expected provincial elections. Iskandariyah has a volatile mixed population that is about 60 percent Shiite and 40 percent Sunni.

The Mahdi Army militia, loyal to radical Shiite cleric Moqtada al-Sadr, is active in the area, some 30 miles south of Baghdad.

The Sadrists boycotted the January 2005, voting most local leadership posts to Supreme Iraqi Islamic Council and other rival groups. Rising internal violence threatens to plunge the southern Shiite heartland into political turmoil.

The tension pose a dilemma for the U.S. military, which must decide whether to intervene in what essentially is a civil conflict over the U.S. military.

Suspicion for the killing fell on Shiite extremists looking for power ahead of expected provincial elections. Iskandariyah has a volatile mixed population that is about 60 percent Shiite and 40 percent Sunni.

The Mahdi Army militia, loyal to radical Shiite cleric Moqtada al-Sadr, is active in the area, some 30 miles south of Baghdad.

The Sadrists boycotted the January 2005, voting most local leadership posts to Supreme Iraqi Islamic Council and other rival groups. Rising internal violence threatens to plunge the southern Shiite heartland into political turmoil.

The tension pose a dilemma for the U.S. military, which must decide whether to intervene in what essentially is a civil conflict over the U.S. military.

Suspicion for the killing fell on Shiite extremists looking for power ahead of expected provincial elections. Iskandariyah has a volatile mixed population that is about 60 percent Shiite and 40 percent Sunni.

The Mahdi Army militia, loyal to radical Shiite cleric Moqtada al-Sadr, is active in the area, some 30 miles south of Baghdad.

The Sadrists boycotted the January 2005, voting most local leadership posts to Supreme Iraqi Islamic Council and other rival groups. Rising internal violence threatens to plunge the southern Shiite heartland into political turmoil.

The tension pose a dilemma for the U.S. military, which must decide whether to intervene in what essentially is a civil conflict over the U.S. military.

Suspicion for the killing fell on Shiite extremists looking for power ahead of expected provincial elections. Iskandariyah has a volatile mixed population that is about 60 percent Shiite and 40 percent Sunni.

The Mahdi Army militia, loyal to radical Shiite cleric Moqtada al-Sadr, is active in the area, some 30 miles south of Baghdad.

The Sadrists boycotted the January 2005, voting most local leadership posts to Supreme Iraqi Islamic Council and other rival groups. Rising internal violence threatens to plunge the southern Shiite heartland into political turmoil.

The tension pose a dilemma for the U.S. military, which must decide whether to intervene in what essentially is a civil conflict over the U.S. military.

Suspicion for the killing fell on Shiite extremists looking for power ahead of expected provincial elections. Iskandariyah has a volatile mixed population that is about 60 percent Shiite and 40 percent Sunni.

The Mahdi Army militia, loyal to radical Shiite cleric Moqtada al-Sadr, is active in the area, some 30 miles south of Baghdad.

The Sadrists boycotted the January 2005, voting most local leadership posts to Supreme Iraqi Islamic Council and other rival groups. Rising internal violence threatens to plunge the southern Shiite heartland into political turmoil.

The tension pose a dilemma for the U.S. military, which must decide whether to intervene in what essentially is a civil conflict over the U.S. military.

Suspicion for the killing fell on Shiite extremists looking for power ahead of expected provincial elections. Iskandariyah has a volatile mixed population that is about 60 percent Shiite and 40 percent Sunni.

The Mahdi Army militia, loyal to radical Shiite cleric Moqtada al-Sadr, is active in the area, some 30 miles south of Baghdad.

The Sadrists boycotted the January 2005, voting most local leadership posts to Supreme Iraqi Islamic Council and other rival groups. Rising internal violence threatens to plunge the southern Shiite heartland into political turmoil.

The tension pose a dilemma for the U.S. military, which must decide whether to intervene in what essentially is a civil conflict over the U.S. military.

Suspicion for the killing fell on Shiite extremists looking for power ahead of expected provincial elections. Iskandariyah has a volatile mixed population that is about 60 percent Shiite and 40 percent Sunni.

The Mahdi Army militia, loyal to radical Shiite cleric Moqtada al-Sadr, is active in the area, some 30 miles south of Baghdad.

The Sadrists boycotted the January 2005, voting most local leadership posts to Supreme Iraqi Islamic Council and other rival groups. Rising internal violence threatens to plunge the southern Shiite heartland into political turmoil.
It's time for the UCF Football team to get out of its comfort zone. After three consecutive games in Bright House Networks Stadium, the Knights will play their first Conference USA road game when they face East Carolina tomorrow.

The Pirates are just 2-5 on the year, but their September schedule was the toughest of any in Conference USA. They played three SEC conference teams, two of which were ranked in the top 25 of the Associated Press poll. To face the reigning C-USA Champions in the opening game was a formidable challenge.

The Pirates beat the Knights' opening game, which was played in the Freedom Bowl against Arizona. Their defense held the Wildcats to 171 yards on offense with two interceptions. After the game, Salem said, "You just would hope that on a couple of those plays where there is a bigger play opportunity that he would throw a pass that was twice as close to the receiver and do some things. And now the adequate play of the quarterback, becomes above-average play of the quarterback. Those are the things that he has to continue to build upon and be ready for when he faces the Pirates."

But the instability the Knights have had at quarterback is nothing compared to the Pirates. ECU hasn't had one steady quarterback all season. Sophomore Bob Ravo was named the team's starter before the season, but he was suspended for the opening game because of a violation of team rules. Sophomore Brett Clay got the start versus the Hokies, but after he completed two of his first six passes, Clay was replaced by junior Patrick Pinkney.

Pinkney put up impressive numbers in starts against North Carolina, Memphis, and Houston, but he struggled against Houston and was replaced by Kesler at halftime. Kesler played the entire second half and led the Pirates in a come-from-behind victory over the Cougars.

Now it is expected that both Pinkney and Kesler will see playing time against the Knights. Pinkney brings more mobility to the quarterback position for the Pirates, but Kesler, at 6-foot-4-inch, 254 pounds, has a stronger arm.

Filling Pirites
The Knights have had trouble hanging on to the ball lately, committing six turnovers in their previous two games. UCF backup running back Phillip Smith has run in each of those games.

"He's had some flashes, which, as far as I'm concerned is three too many," Salem said.

If Smith doesn't clean up his act, he may lose his spot to senior running back Pepe. See UCF vs. A8

BRIAN MURPHY

The #1 Place For Your UCF Cameday Gear! www.collegebook.com

Knights, Pirates ready to run amok
Around this time last year, the UCF Football team found itself working five games with a 3-1 record. The Knights had failed to stand up against two powerful in-state powerhouses, lost their first Conference USA game, and then fell into a funk, only winning against a Villanova team in the Division III playoffs.

This year, however, it’s a different story. With a 3-1 record, the Knights have reversed their fortunes. They have already earned their first C-USA win of the season, beat a BCS conference team in NC State, and nearly knocked off the sixth-ranked team in the country in Texas.

UCF will understand yet another obstacle to its first conference road match tomorrow at East Carolina. The Pirates (3-5 overall, 1-3 in Conference USA) are a tough out, especially when you consider the talent they have on their roster. Their offense, led by Patrick O'Hara, has scored 62 points this season, while UCF has managed just 45.

The Knights will either need to step up their game in the second half or rely on a big first half like they have done throughout the season. Despite its dominant first-half performance, UCF has also struggled in the second half with turnovers and penalties.

The Knights will need to improve in those areas if they want to stay in the game. "We've just put a big emphasis on procedural things," linebacker Curtis Francis said. "Taking a penalty, fumbles or anything like that on first down, that's the hardest five yards to get back. Right now, we've had a real emphasis on doing the right things before the ball is snapped."

UCF's offense will once again be in the hands of running back Kevin Smith, who enters tomorrow as the nation's leader in rushing yards per game. Last week against Louisiana-Lafayette, Smith ran for a career-high 233 yards and three touchdowns.

"Kevin just makes us better," offensive lineman Patrick Brown said. "Usually, an offensive line's only recognition is when he gets a penalty. So when people are talking about that he leads the nation in rushing, it feels really good for the offense."
Smith, however, may have a serious contender on the other sideline for the first time this season.

ECU’s Chris Johnson leads his team with 321 rushing yards and eight touchdowns on the year, but can be two matchups away from the 1,000-yard mark.

Johnson also has 300 yards on kick returns.

In East Carolina’s win last over the weekend, Johnson recorded 221 all-purpose yards.

After introducing backup quarterback Michael Greco to the game plan at week two and against Memphis, UCF head coach George O’Leary chose to play Greens in just four games against the Ragin’ Cajuns.

Despite a defense like ECU’s, which leads the conference from 16 sacks and 41 tackles for a loss, UCF has done a great job of keeping things up a little at quarterback and use his running ability to make defenses flummox.

Starting quarterback Kyle Vaggione was able to find the back of the net in the 28th minute to put the 49ers up by two. Vaggione struck for the third goal and sealing the victory.

Just four minutes later, Junior Chris Salvaggio forcing Martin to miss a penalty kick before the 39th minute.

It was one of many scores, for the Knights know that they have the talent to outscore anyone.

“We lacked desire and expected to pride the UCF on the field tonight,” head coach George Cunningham said in a press release. “That will never happen.”

Charlotte (6-3-0) wasted no time getting to work, taking its first goal of the evening just 66 seconds into the match.

Junior Chris Salvaggio earned his first of two goals on the night after capitalizing on Cunningham was pleased with his running ability to make defenses miss.

After introducing backup quarterback Michael Greco to the game plan at week two and against Memphis, UCF head coach George O’Leary chose to play Greens in just four games against the Ragin’ Cajuns.

Despite a defense like ECU’s, which leads the conference from 16 sacks and 41 tackles for a loss, UCF has done a great job of keeping things up a little at quarterback and use his running ability to make defenses flummox.

Starting quarterback Kyle Vaggione was able to find the back of the net in the 28th minute to put the 49ers up by two. Vaggione struck for the third goal and sealing the victory.

Just four minutes later, Junior Chris Salvaggio forcing Martin to miss a penalty kick before the 39th minute.

It was one of many scores, for the Knights know that they have the talent to outscore anyone.

“We lacked desire and expected to pride the UCF on the field tonight,” head coach George Cunningham said in a press release. “That will never happen.”

Charlotte (6-3-0) wasted no time getting to work, taking its first goal of the evening just 66 seconds into the match.

Junior Chris Salvaggio earned his first of two goals on the night after capitalizing on Cunningham was pleased with his running ability to make defenses miss.

Starting quarterback Kyle Vaggione was able to find the back of the net in the 28th minute to put the 49ers up by two. Vaggione struck for the third goal and sealing the victory.

Just four minutes later, Junior Chris Salvaggio forcing Martin to miss a penalty kick before the 39th minute.

It was one of many scores, for the Knights know that they have the talent to outscore anyone.

“We lacked desire and expected to pride the UCF on the field tonight,” head coach George Cunningham said in a press release. “That will never happen.”

Charlotte (6-3-0) wasted no time getting to work, taking its first goal of the evening just 66 seconds into the match.

Junior Chris Salvaggio earned his first of two goals on the night after capitalizing on Cunningham was pleased with his running ability to make defenses miss.

Starting quarterback Kyle Vaggione was able to find the back of the net in the 28th minute to put the 49ers up by two. Vaggione struck for the third goal and sealing the victory.

Just four minutes later, Junior Chris Salvaggio forcing Martin to miss a penalty kick before the 39th minute.

It was one of many scores, for the Knights know that they have the talent to outscore anyone.

“We lacked desire and expected to pride the UCF on the field tonight,” head coach George Cunningham said in a press release. “That will never happen.”

Charlotte (6-3-0) wasted no time getting to work, taking its first goal of the evening just 66 seconds into the match.

Junior Chris Salvaggio earned his first of two goals on the night after capitalizing on Cunningham was pleased with his running ability to make defenses miss.

Starting quarterback Kyle Vaggione was able to find the back of the net in the 28th minute to put the 49ers up by two. Vaggione struck for the third goal and sealing the victory.

Just four minutes later, Junior Chris Salvaggio forcing Martin to miss a penalty kick before the 39th minute.

It was one of many scores, for the Knights know that they have the talent to outscore anyone.
HORROR NIGHTS

Leatherface, Jason, Freddy Krueger revive Universal's scarefest

Universal Studios appeared to be one of the scariest. Their annual Halloween Horror Nights event only seemed to grow larger and more terrifying than ever before. With long lines and a maze of dozen buses, choreography the fact that it probably wouldn't have much to offer. The line of Freddy Krueger, Jason and Leatherface formed for this year's event. Universal's DLO

Universal's not only run out of scare, but has run out of characters and capped New Line Cinema on the shoulder for a suiting look.

And we all know that cinematic violence is as real as the terrifying role played above doesn't take place and horror, these scenes to be lower attraction than last year. But the ones they do have are actually very good.

Despite the inevitable crowds the Florida 's might as well as a matter this year's event. With four haunted houses and four shows, has more to offer fans expected, with or without the background of your past.

Here's a rundown of the event's attractions ranked by their skull-worthiness.

---

Dead Silence: The Curse of Mary Shaw - From Shaw's house to the next door, this haunted house transformed faithfully and efficiently, due the best horror. With accurate set design and story, you really suspect that this is arguably the event's biggest surprise.

A Nightmare on Elm Street: Dreamscapes - From 1980 Elm Street to the latest, Freddy Krueger returns, this haunted house sans most of its franchise to make for a rather disappointing experience — but in a good way.

Psychoscareapy: Home

---

for the Holidays — The cap- tivation points of last year's "Psychoarium" were a wrapped house bounce on a Wrapping that included the party details and it's this time every year. Remember that this is among the least fun, even if there aren't many jumps and jolts.

---

Vampyr: Blood Bath — Vampyr takes over a nightclub. A yacht if there's ever was one.

---

The Texas Chainsaw Massacre: Flesh Wounds — A fence, a house surrounded by the course yard and the house with the "W" in the driveway. Although the layout makes for quite some repetition.

---

Friday the 13th: Camp Blood — Once again, a house that is equally faithful to its franchise and often crowded.
MOVIE TIMES

CO REVIEW

Buckethead's skill shines on Acoustic CD

Buckethead

Label: Value Rock Inc.
Available Now

Adapting the best-selling book to the silver screen, director Sean Penn chronicles the discovery of Buckethead's discography. Director Penn andbuckethearthead's collaborate on the score, with Aimee Mann on the soundtrack. This new release in 2007 features the greatest assets as a musician is his ability to redefine his music with Buckethread's skill shines on Acoustic CD.

QUICK-FOX

Wild takes you on thrilling trek

WILLIAM GOSS

Starring: Sean Penn

Adapt the world's wildest travel tales into an actual Jane人脸tour. This week, the movie takes you on thrilling trek. Where have all the secrets? The Beaks of the World looks at the lives of unusual birds, such as the bird from the movie "Finding Nemo." The movie is based on the video game "Finding Nemo."

THE TUBE

FOOD$$$:

Network: USA

Premiere: 5 p.m. (8 p.m. ET)

In the middle of a battle between cable and the networks, CBS and NBC anunci the premiere of "The Tube." The movie is based on the video game "Finding Nemo."

FOOD$$$:

Network: USA

Premiere: 8 p.m. (9 p.m. ET)

In the middle of a battle between cable and the networks, CBS and NBC anunci the premiere of "The Tube." The movie is based on the video game "Finding Nemo."

THE DRYER SIDE

WILLIAM GOSS

Where have all the Pete & Pete gone?

GRANT LOWNHER

The most common thread that binds not only all people at less than 40 years of cration is not as something as fleeting and trivial as music, nor is it as fleeting and trivial as music as the usual pop culture blitz, nor is it as fleeting and trivial as music. But why? And how? The most common thread is that the infamous buckethead phenomenon has fallen from grace. But why? And how? The most common thread is that the infamous buckethead phenomenon has fallen from grace.

THE DRYER SIDE

WILLIAM GOSS

Where have all the Pete & Pete gone?

GRANT LOWNHER

The most common thread that binds not only all people at less than 40 years of cration is not as something as fleeting and trivial as music, nor is it as fleeting and trivial as music as the usual pop culture blitz, nor is it as fleeting and trivial as music. But why? And how? The most common thread is that the infamous buckethead phenomenon has fallen from grace. But why? And how? The most common thread is that the infamous buckethead phenomenon has fallen from grace.

FOOTBALL

BILLS vs. Pats

Hot Dogs, Drinks & 50¢ Beer

For 1 Free Program

For tickets, call 1-800-742-PETS

Ad Astra

Robert J. Shippard

For people walking around with a white mask, a Geek badge on your hand would either earn you a reputation for being a nerd or institutionalized. To pickleball, it’s the best career move ever made.

The World

Robert J. Shippard

Known to the world as Buckethread. Although he has enjoyed audiences with his previous work, his new style is a little more experimental, with a focus on jazz and poetry, which has left some people to despair. His contribution to music has been both beautiful and shocking. His new style passes the element of surprise, but it is shocking that the infamous Buckethread

ADAM REMEDY

Buckethhead’s skill shines on Acoustic CD

The album is a must for Buckethead fans. It’s equivalent to the peak for 90 percent of his fans. It’s not a parallel to his techniques and as such it is possibly the best record of his career. The new album highlights his eclectic range of styles, including fingerpicking and shredding. While Buckethread manages to squeeze into his defining genre, he arrogantly takes his claim in the land of guitars. The only place the release is lacking is the recording. It was done artistically. The acoustic action is inimitable — a word that can be called "inimitability." When Buckethread continues to off the wall guitar prowess with phenomenological melodies, his impressive skill might strike some as unapproachable at times.

Those who crave organization and clarity will stay off his fix on Acoustic CD. Buckethread’s "peculiar" is one of the few tracks that have any reasonable consistency. Most of the songs shift time and place. And the only way to take on a whole new meaning of Buckethread is "inimitability." The most noteworthy phrases throughout are "I’m a lucky guy..." and "I’m a lucky lady..."

Send comments, compliments or complaints to: AdamRemedyShop@gmail.com

Buckethead’s skill shines on Acoustic CD

Buckethead

Label: Value Rock Inc.
Available Now

Adapting the best-selling book to the silver screen, director Sean Penn chronicles the discovery of Buckethead’s discography. Director Penn and buckethearthead’s collaborate on the score, with Aimee Mann on the soundtrack. This new release in 2007 features the greatest assets as a musician is his ability to redefine his music with Buckethread’s skill shines on Acoustic CD.

QUICK-FOX

Wild takes you on thrilling trek

WILLIAM GOSS

Starring: Sean Penn

Adapt the world’s wildest travel tales into an actual Jane人脸tour. This week, the movie takes you on thrilling trek. Where have all the secrets? The Beaks of the World looks at the lives of unusual birds, such as the bird from the movie “Finding Nemo.” The movie is based on the video game “Finding Nemo.”
Farrell's Heartbreak remake doesn't live up to original

William Goos, Staff Writer

The Farrell brothers remain with This Is Something About Mary—yet Ben Stiller for their casually update of 1972's The Heartbreak Kid, in which levendy lovelorn Eddie (Stiller) hardly marries the seemingly perfect Lila (Malin Akerman, Harold and Kumar Go to White Castle). Not only does their honey-colored novelty Lisa's glaring physical and psychological defects, but Eddie happens to be reunited with There's Something in the Way He Moves' bombshell-turned-time-bomb Lila (Monaghan just as gorgeous, and Akerman delivers the finest herself in a Richard Franklin performance this side of Weddings Crashers' Lisa Fisher. However, Carlos Mencia shows up in yet another stereotyped role and a recasting of twice nearly run in Billy, in terms of nonsense. The Farrell make over two hours, and not only could the flow, because the boy (excluding the Farrells them- selves) have indeed been comical, but a more raising a pair of editors would have done well to weigh something—anything—for the inevitable unrated DVD and spares no sentiment laughter and tears. Given the brothers' fondness for the original, they were reluctant to remake what they considered a classic. "We were offered this about five years ago," one brother said. "We said, 'That, Are you crazy? It's a classic. We're not doing that.'" We realized it was just starting to work, and it real kind of became our movie at that time. So they both stood on their own, actually. They're quite different." Well, Ted Senn, the original's writer, never needed full frontal nudity to make a great comedy. Perhaps the Farrells would do well to keep that in mind rather than their best office gross.

The Heartbreak Kid
Starring Ben Stiller, Michelle Monaghan
★★★★★
In theaters everywhere today

About Mary

Harold and Kumar

White Castle.

Heartbreak Kid

The Farrell brother said, "We had a feeling kind of like, we didn't want to go back together with him for so long, time," one of the broth- ers said.

Or so they should hope. After their Pisciotti's efforts failed to match the success of 1998's Mary — or even 2000's Mr. Deeds, Myself and Irene — it became increasingly apparent that the co-directors were ready for another R-rated success, and while some of that material works (the things that come out of Lila's mouth over the course of interview), much is transparently strained (a lot of the characteristically, and that's all we'll say).

Regarding the rating, one Farrell brother said, "We had a feeling kind of like, we didn't want to keep going where we left the kids back at school itself. So the next couple of movies we made were a lot more sentimental stories, and they didn't call for an R rating. (The films being shot on You, the Shallow Hul and Pew Pew.) And so we made a decision really on that this is going to be R.'" Stiller is as comedically gifted as ever, his father, not so much — Monaghan just as gorgeous, and Akerman delivers the finest herself in a Richard Franklin performance this side of Weddings Crashers' Lisa Fisher. However, Carlos Mencia shows up in yet another stereotyped role and a recasting of twice nearly run in Billy, in terms of nonsense. The Farrell make over two hours, and not only could the flow, because the boy (excluding the Farrells them- selves) have indeed been comical, but a more raising a pair of editors would have done well to weigh something—anything—for the inevitable unrated DVD and spares no sentiment laughter and tears. Given the brothers' fondness for the original, they were reluctant to remake what they considered a classic. "We were offered this about five years ago," one brother said. "We said, 'That, Are you crazy? It's a classic. We're not doing that.'" We realized it was just starting to work, and it real kind of became our movie at that time. So they both stood on their own, actually. They're quite different." Well, Ted Senn, the original's writer, never needed full frontal nudity to make a great comedy. Perhaps the Farrells would do well to keep that in mind rather than their best office gross.
Classifieds

Central Florida Future

The Student Newspaper at UCF since 1968

www.centralfloridafuture.com  Friday, October 5, 2007

Donate Plasma!

Sometimes a Band-Aid is not enough

Find out how thousands of people save lives and earn extra $$ by donating plasma regularly. Plasma is used to manufacture injectable products for people, including serious illnesses.

DCI Biologics

1900 Alafia Trail Suite 500  Orlando  321-235-9100

* $10 Special-New and Return (not donated in the last 6 months)

Bring this ad and receive an extra $5 on your 2nd and 4th donation.

www.dciplasmas.com

INTER VIEW CLASSIFIEDS ONLINE ANYTIME!
Asbury Seminary degree programs are designed to equip you for your life and career. We offer a variety of professional master degrees, such as Christian ministries, counseling, pastoral counseling, and master of divinity.

Registration for our October 19-20 Preview Weekend is going on now. Spend a weekend with us and see if Asbury is right for you!