Students at the University of Florida have sued their administration and their state government after being told that online voting for student elections is unconstitutional.

In this year’s voting, the Florida state government administration this year’s University of Florida administration was told that online voting for student elections is unconstitutional.

The court denied the petition and stated that online voting is unconstitutional under both federal and state law. The University of Florida administration will publish an opinion against the online voting petition in February.

“UCF was concerned that the technical security of the voting system provides against easy accessible as logging into the university’s network. The court also cited the threat of increased double voting as a reason for uncannily.

The third annual Knight-Walk for Babies was held Sunday in front of the Butler Pond and Millikan Hall to benefit March of Dimes.

March of Dimes, an organization that formerly focused on helping premature babies, is now looking to improve the lives of all babies.

“Our mission has changed. Our focus this year is on making sure every baby is born healthy and strong,” said Jenny Williams, community director for the UCF March of Dimes Central Florida Division.

Williams said that the Knight-Walk help raise money to prevent premature births, defects and infant fatalities.

More than 100 walkers at Knight-Walk helped raise more than $80000 for March of Dimes this year. Knight-Walk raised $80000 during the first two walks in 2006 and 2007. Williams said the March of Dimes Central Florida Division has raised more than $2 million in total.

The money raised is used to support campaigns for all people and also to help fund the annual March of Dimes conference.

Funderais collects more than $5K in cash, supplies

Oh, the weather outside is frightful. Will Winser said as he took his seat above the dunk tank.

He sat there shivering in a wind chill of 43 degrees at a large crowd of Greeks and other students gathered to participate in Delta Upsilon's Dunk A DU fundraiser last Wednesday.

Participants got three chances to dunk house brothers for a cost of $1. This was the first event in DU's week-long campaign to raise money for the Boys & Girls Clubs of America. More than 500 in cash and supplies was raised from DU's efforts, said Brad Bailey, DU vice president of philanthropy.

"DU has an international partnership with the Boys & Girls Clubs," Bailey said, "and for us, this is our most successful fundraiser.

Events also included the collection of sports and athletic equipment and DU's slate night, called Lip Service.

"It's cold, but it's all worth it," Winser said. "I think the cold weather is actually drawing more attention."

That sentiment was echoed by John McCann, who had collected more than $400 by 1 p.m. on Wednesday afternoon.

"The water is warmer than us," McCann said.

"These guys definitely want to get dunked, and people want to see it," Winser said. "This is the first year DU organized such a fundraiser, but it was a huge success. We hope to do it again."

Winser said efforts at the dunk tank alone brought in more than $400. The events also raised more than $1000 in supplies and more than $400 from the sale of T-shirts, which were printed to promote the event. The remainder of the $4000 collected came from DU's other philanthropic events.

Monthly through the month's final event, the slate comedy show Lip Service, which was held in the Delta Upsilon Ballroom. Guests included attendees as they entered selling raffle tickets for each item in a first printing session, gift cards and a pre-printed list at the Alpha Delta Pi, Kappa Alpha Theta and Zeta Tau Alpha chapter, whoActivation."
The Center for Disease Control and Prevention states that nearly sixty million people are infected with tuberculosis worldwide, and each year, almost two million people die from the infection. In 2007, there were 1,008 cases of tuberculosis in Florida. In 2007, Perez watched the news reports of Andrew Speaker, who was quarantined while the nano science study was being conducted. He said, "We believe that it's possible to identify the bacteria and the antibiotic that is effective in treating the infection."

Nanotechnology in Medicine

Nanotechnology has the potential to revolutionize medicine by allowing for more precise and effective treatments. For example, nanorobots could be programmed to deliver drugs directly to the site of infection or to monitor the body for early signs of disease.

Bacteria are so widespread that it is possible to find them in almost any environment, from the human body to the ocean floor. They are incredibly small, measuring only a few nanometers in diameter, which is a billionth of a meter. Bacteria have a wide range of environmental and nutritive requirements.

Methods of Study

Researchers use various methods to study bacteria, including cultivation, which involves growing bacteria in a controlled environment, and molecular techniques, which allow for the analysis of bacterial DNA. These methods help scientists understand the behavior of bacteria and develop new treatments for bacterial infections.

Conclusion

Nanotechnology offers promise for the development of new treatments for bacterial infections, but more research is needed to fully realize its potential. As our understanding of bacteria and their interactions with the human body continues to grow, we can expect to see new and innovative approaches to treating these ancient organisms.

Student court says online voting is unconstitutional

The UF Supreme Court, in their recent ruling, denied a petition for online voting, stating it was unconstitutional.

"We have examined the legal arguments presented by the student petitioners, and we find that the petition does not meet the constitutional requirements," the court stated.

"The issues raised in the petition, such as the convenience of online voting, have been addressed in previous rulings. We have determined that online voting is not a feasible option for our campus."
Event raises more than $8,000 for March of Dimes

The original birth date is this month, and instead of asking for presents on her birthday party this past weekend, she asked for donations to walk in KnightWalk.

When asked why they wanted to walk in KnightWalk, all of the runners were at the March of Dimes.

Not everybody felt this way about the March of Dimes' fundraising. Ten protesters from the Animal Rights Foundation of Florida were present, holding signs by the sidewalk and registering to participate.

The March of Dimes has received backlash from fans regarding the March of Dimes press release for the KnightWalk event. UCF fans have been petitioned to boycott the March of Dimes for its sponsorship of the event.

CONFERENCE USA WOMEN'S CHAMPIONSHIP

GETTING SET
12th seed UCF starts tourney

RYAN BASS
Sports Writer

Even though the UCF Women's Basketball team will be seeded No. 12 in Thursday's Conference USA Championship opening round, head coach John Williams knows that every team will be as even as possible when the season begins, with a record of 0-0.

"Everybody wants to get to March," Williams said. "When that time comes, anything can happen. It's a whole different season. Nobody has any wins or losses. We're excited about it.

Coming off one of their best games of the season against Memphis on Saturday, the Knights (16-12 overall, 9-5 in Conference USA) will look to build off any momentum they received from their 65-49 victory heading into their matchup with the fifth-seeded Southern Miss Lady Eagles on Thursday with tip-off set for 5:30 p.m.

"This time of the season is very exciting and the postseason is something that our young team has never experienced," Williams said. "We are excited about another opportunity to play Southern Miss. We know that they are a physical and athletic team, and it's going to be important that we match our intensity for 40 minutes."

Southern Miss (17-12 overall, 8-8 in Conference USA) averages 72.7 points per contest and grab 41.4 rebounds a game. The Senior For the Eagles is Pauline Lim. Lim, who averages 16.5 points and 10.0 rebounds per game, led the Golden Eagles in transition, she can shoot the three-point, and averaged 24.5 points per game during the regular season.

Pauline Lim is a very versatile player who can play in transition, she can shoot the three-point, and averaged 24.5 points per game during the regular season.

The Knights are coming off a tough loss to SMU on Saturday, but they are looking to rebound with a strong performance in their conference opener.

UCF's Janielle Dodds, who averages 12.0 points per game, will be their key scorer. Dodds has been leading the Knights in scoring and rebounding with 11.6 boards a game. She will be the key to the 12th-seeded Southern Miss Lady Eagles in the first round of the Conference USA Tournament at the New UCF Arena.

UCF guard Taylor Moore has been on a tear over the last two weeks. Moore began leading the Knights (12-7 over, 7-5 in Conference USA) with 15 points and 11 rebounds in a win over Memphis on Saturday, the second round of the Conference USA Tournament at the New UCF Arena.

KNIGHTS prep for Houston

BRIAN MURPHY

The UCF Men's Basketball team has experienced some success in recent years, but they have struggled to make it past the first round of the NCAA Tournament. The Knights (12-7 overall, 7-5 in Conference USA) have experienced some tough losses this season, but they have a chance to make a statement against Marshall (14-11 overall, 5-7 in Conference USA) in the second round of the Conference USA Tournament.

The UCF - Marshall game will tip off at 1:00 p.m. on Saturday, March 12 at the New UCF Arena, with the winner moving on to the Conference USA Championship.

"We know that we are not as good as them, but we have the potential to crash that game," Williams said. "We have the desire and the hunger to do that."

UCF will take on Marshall in the second round of the Conference USA Tournament, with a chance to advance to the conference championship.

The Knights will be looking to continue their strong play from the first round, where they defeated Southern Miss in overtime.

"We have the experience and the talent to make a run in the conference tournament," Williams said. "We have the tools to do it, and we have the confidence to do it."
Softball drops Vermont again but falls to Terps in title matchup

BY MELISSA RETTER

The UCF softball team narrowly missed becoming Atlantic Sun Conference champions Sunday, as it lost its final game 1-0 to Maryland. The loss came after the Knights (40-4) dropped Vermont 5-2 for the second time in the tournament to advance to the title game.

But the Knights lost the championship by one run from the Terps in the bottom of the sixth inning.

O'Donnell said the Terps were the better team in the game for the most part, but he believes his team may have been a little tired towards the end.

"We had a tough game and we got a little bit of our edge taken out of us," O'Donnell said. "They’re a good team."
We hope when we say that NASA should not rush to space that there is something we're talking about.

Our STANCE

On Monday and Tuesday, Students for Life at UCF brought the Gannett Act (Abortion Speech) to UCF's main campus. The intention of the demonstration was to let people know the truth about abortion by showing people what abortion really is. It is only one of the many demonstrations of pro-life or anti-choice that have been proposed or presented by various religious groups or groups from other religious backgrounds, too. Our intention is not to make you feel that what has been brought to light is a decision that has been owned by the Air Force and the military.

So that NASA should not rush to space is the same question because of the lack of details and the public place. Sure, you can see it on television, but what are the chances that it will give some serious thought to what we're talking about.
